

Bring Up The Reserves

Military leaders recognize the value of reserve troops. In sports competition the reserve bench is as important as the regular team. Whenever battle-worn veterans slow down or become disheartened, the injection of reserves revives both spirit and determination.

God's church is locked in a titanic struggle with evil.

Raging from the beginning of time, the bitter conflict approaches its climactic hour as the dragon makes "war with the remnant . . . which keeps the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ." As the struggle intensifies, God calls his reserve troops into action, so that they, along with the veterans, may carry on to a glorious and decisive victory.

Who are the reserves? In a larger sense the youth of the Christian church are God's reserves for this tremendous hour. God has no one else to turn to when seeking replacements for fallen warriors.

Years ago the servant of God made the following statement: "The burden bearers among us are falling in death. . . . With the deepest concern the question may be asked, Who will fill their place? To whom are to be committed the vital interests of the church when the present standard-bearers fall? We cannot but look anxiously upon the youth of today as those who must take up these burdens, and upon whom the responsibilities must fall."—Gospel Workers, p. 68. (Italics supplied.)

Never, never before have the armies of God needed youthful reserves as they do today. Oh, if only each church, pastor, and church officer could see in youth a tremendous potential for the advancement of the gospel. When they do, youthful zeal and talent will be marshalled under the banner of Christ; for not only are youth preserved to the church, but the sluggish energies of older members are stirred into activity.

In order that pastors and church leaders might have a positive program around which to rally their youth, the General Conference Missionary Volunteer Department launched a project for 1964 called MV TARGET 3000. This calls for the Missionary Volunteers of North America to achieve a goal of 3000 baptisms this year.

Adventist youth will realize this goal by uniting their efforts, under the leadership of union and local conference departmental secretaries, in one of the mightiest soul-winning efforts attempted in North America. Many young people will participate in Voice of Youth Evangelistic campaigns, others will conduct Bible studies through the Fireside Operation series, still others will initiate Branch Sabbath schools, while many more will join Friendship Teams in connection with evangelistic campaigns conducted by their pastors. Without question, this worthy endeavor deserves the encouragement and support of all church members.

Rapidly the controversy between Christ and Satan moves towards its momentous climax. Each soldier of Christ needs to stand in his place and battle valiantly for the Lord. Even more, the time has come for youthful reserves to step into the ranks of battle, for "With such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world!" —Education, p. 271.

The battle waxes stronger. The moment of victory is almost here. Fresh

SEMI-FINAL REPORT

Congratulations to the Washington Conference on breaking all past records in Ingathering to reach a new mark of attainment—$80,028.99. We rejoice with the leaders and members in this achievement!

Every conference in our union has the distinction of reaching new record highs in the 1964 campaign. This report is the semi-final report—a final report showing the grand totals will be issued later.

Souls will be won to Christ as a final result of these faithful labors.

A Good 1963 Sabbath School Mission Offering Report

Congratulations to all the conferences in the North Pacific Union! Every field showed a gain in Sabbath School mission offerings during 1963. We want to express appreciation from the Sabbath School Department to each and every Sabbath School and individual member who helped to make this excellent report possible. You will note that almost one million, one hundred thousand dollars was given by our faithful Sabbath School members through their weekly, Thirteenth Sabbath, Thank Offerings and Investment representing a gain over 1962 of almost $56,000. On the part of many of our dear Sabbath School members this represents real self-denial and sacrifice, and in the case of the Investment offering a lot of planning and effort.

May we point out some outstanding achievements in these offerings? Montana made the largest percent of increase and came within $.007 of reaching the General Conference quota on a per capita basis. Alaska's report is outstanding. Look at the total gains for Oregon and Upper Columbia. Oregon went over the per capita quota set by the General Conference for the first time, and Upper Columbia increased its already high per capita and now stand at $.586. We doubt if any other large conference in North America will reach similar per capitās in 1963. The accompanying record of Sabbath School offerings is outstanding.

Sabbath School members love to give to missions. They are never satisfied with past achievements. Under God, we are confident every Sabbath School and each individual member will definitely plan to do even greater things in 1964 to advance the mission program through their gifts. There is no such thing in the Sabbath School as "status quo" or "business as usual." Let us all attempt far greater things for God and His work in 1964.

Elder Baughman Becomes Editor at Christian Record Braille Foundation

Elder B. Y. Baughman is the editor of five Braille magazines, one large print magazine and one tape magazine at the Christian Record Braille Foundation, the denomination's headquarters for its missionary program in behalf of visually impaired people.

Having served as a literature evangelist during depression years in the Midwest, then as publishing or home missionary secretary in the Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado and Kansas Conferences, and lay evangelism secretary and Bible School director of the Kansas Conference, he returned to Colorado and pastored ten churches over a period of years. Most recently he was church development secretary and director of the wills and trusts of the Colorado Conference.

Always with a deep love for God's Word and the writings of the Spirit of Prophecy, Elder Baughman developed a pleasant and unique manner of expression. Sighted people have appreciated his devotion to the cause. Now blind children and adults will feel the warmth of sincere friendliness and personal interest as Brother Baughman feeds their souls through these many magazines which serve all age levels of people in seventy-seven countries. Partnership With God

Some most interesting figures have just come to my desk. During the first ten years of the Sabbath School Investment plan it netted to the General Conference $520,890. During the last eight years the Sabbath School Investment alone totaled $5,508,311.

When we consider that during 1963 the Upper Columbia Sabbath Schools turned into the mission treasury $64,231.73, it is an indication of the big part that the members in Upper Columbia have contributed to the staggering total that has been such a big factor in advancing the cause.

The Investment plan not only furnishes this tremendous amount of money to the cause, but our people get a great inspiration and blessing out of dedicating something to the Lord, then watching it increase after we take God into partnership with us. Early in the year is the right and best time to plan for our Investment project and think of what could be done if every member would participate. "In unity there is strength." May God bless your project for 1964.

Camp Meeting Date

Many of our people are already planning for their summer's program and naturally one of the big events during the summer months is the annual camp meeting. This year it will be held as usual at College Place, June 11-20.

As yet we do not know who our guest speakers will be, but we are quite sure that the Governor of Washington will visit our camp meeting and be on the program. Of all times we all need every spiritual help we can get and I would invite everyone to begin now to plan to attend camp meeting.

Pastors Train Laymen for Operation Orion

The pastors of Upper Columbia Conference have been busy throughout the month of January organizing and training their laymen for the Conference program, "Operation Orion." Many have completed their training and the Elder Kenneth Fleck, pastor, and Elder William V. Clements, Conference Sabbath School secretary, conducting Operation Orion training course for the Moses Lake and Othello laymen.

Sabbath School classes are now working in their designated areas. A number of the pastors contacted the office regarding "Operation Orion" and they reported that the laymen have accepted the program with enthusiasm.

We are thankful for the work that has been done by our dedicated laymen in the past and we appeal to each one to accept the responsibilities of this program and to unite with the pastor, officers, and teachers as we press forward to finish the work.

"The work of God in this earth can never be finished until the men and women comprising our church membership rally to the work, and unite their efforts with those of ministers and church officers."—Testimonies, Vol. 9, p. 117.

As the pastors, officers, teachers and laymen move forward in unity to bring this message of salvation to those in their communities, we can expect the Spirit of God to be poured out with great power.

"The great outpouring of the Spirit of God, which lightens the whole earth with His glory, will not come until we have an enlightened people, that know by experience what it means to be laborers together with God. When we have entire, wholehearted consecration to the service of Christ, God will recognize the fact by an outpouring of His Spirit without measure; but this will not be while the largest portion of the church are not laborers together with God."—C.S., p. 253.

May God bless us with His Spirit as we labor in unity to finish the work in this Conference.

Well over a million Bible Correspondence applications have been received by Faith for Today since its inception. Recognizing this stupendous fact should encourage each one of us to give liberally on February 8 when the annual Faith for Today offering is to be taken in the churches of North America.

The Upper Columbia Conference has had a good record in the past of supporting our denominational television program. I like to think of the television medium, broadcasting our Faith for Today program, in the light of Revelation 14 where it depicts the first angel flying in the midst of heaven having the everlasting gospel.

Just last Sunday as I viewed Faith for Today and heard Pastor Fagal bring out the Sabbath truth forcefully and beautifully I was so happy that I, along with you, could have a part in making this possible. Remember this: In one year over 1800 souls were won through this medium. Won't you plan for an even larger contribution this year to support this work than you did last year? Truly this is laying up treasures in heaven where moth and rust doth not corrupt and thieves cannot steal.

The church members of Upper Columbia Conference exceeded their Investment goal of $60,000 by $4,231.73. This gave them an increase of $6,536.16 over the amount raised last year. It also amounts to an average of $5.85 per member.

We wish to thank each one who had a part in this Investment program and especially those leaders who worked so hard to make the program succeed in their church. Many miracles were performed this year in Upper Columbia Conference as the church members took God into partnership on their Investment projects. We wish to congratulate the church with the highest per capita, which was Endicott with $38.34 per member. Following are the churches which raised more than the Conference average of $5.85 per member.

We wish to encourage each member of the Upper Columbia Conference to take God into partnership on an Investment project this year and as they do, we are sure that God will richly bless them, for God has promised:

Legacies and Wills

I am sure that our people in Upper Columbia have read the recent announcement from Elder Bunker, our conference president, in regard to legacies and wills. A number of our people have been guided in the disposition of their properties, etc., and are now able to enjoy that inward peace that comes in knowing that proper plans for the future have been made.

Due to the increased desire upon the part of our people for counsel in these matters the conference executive committee has placed this responsibility upon my shoulders. I will now be devoting my entire time to this important phase of God's program.

We must never forget that we are stewards of the Lord's goods and that some day each of us must give an account of our stewardship. It is essential that preparation for the future life be made while one is still able to do it himself.

It is my desire to counsel with you in these matters and you may feel free to request my help. You may write to the office for an appointment to be held in the privacy of your own home or in our office here at headquarters.

With proper counsel and guidance in these matters, one is often able to save considerable sums of money for loved ones and the cause of God as well. Please feel free to direct your desire for information or for an appointment to

Thirteenth Sabbath Offering

The Sabbath School members of the Upper Columbia Conference responded to the appeal for mission work in the African Division by giving $19,860 on the Thirteenth Sabbath.

A number of our Sabbath School superintendents promoted the Thirteenth Sabbath offering with the use of little Christmas stockings which were given to the members, and then on the Thirteenth Sabbath, the members came forward with their gifts in the stockings and hung them on a Christmas tree. Brother "Happy" Smith of Sunnyside was one of these who promoted the Christmas stocking and as a result, his Sabbath School had a splendid increase over the previous Thirteenth Sabbath. The College Place church, which is one of our largest Sabbath Schools, also used this idea and as a result, they raised $2,550.65. We wish to thank our Sabbath School members who have been so faithful in their offerings and each Sabbath School officer who has worked tirelessly to make his Sabbath School succeed. Following is a list of the churches who

Reference Library Project

"Mrs. Hamren, do you have Volume 7 of the Bible Commentaries? My report is due the first period in the morning. Tonight is boys' library night, and I haven't had a free period all day to get to the library."

"I'm terribly sorry," replied the dean, "but I just don't have the Commentaries."

Many situations such as this have arisen during the past year. Naturally, neither can our dean be expected to maintain a reference library for the girls.

Having realized our great need for the Bible Commentaries and many other reference books, the ladies of Amie de Coeur voted to promote the installment of such in the girls' dorm. The proceeds from the annual girls' club program will be applied to this worthy project.

This year, Amie de Coeur is featuring Curtis Nagel, well known lecturer and photographer. Widely known as one of the world's most travelled men, as well as a pioneer of theatrical color motion pictures, Curtis Nagel, who will present his film titled: "Portraits of Scandinavia," brings to the screen the perfection in color, composition, continuity and human-interest which only years of experience plus the eye of an artist can obtain. In the early 1920's Mr. Nagel was associated with Technicolor at its pioneer plant in Boston, Mass. One of the motion picture's youngest producers at that time, he made over 40 Technicolor Color Classics and Color Symphonies which set a new standard of pictures in the country. His outstanding film, "The Toyshop," won the highest praise and honors ever given a "short" subject—including the Photoplay medal of that year. Later he was co-producer with F. W. Murnau of "Tabu"—an epic film of the South Seas which won the Academy Award, the greatest honor which can be bestowed upon a film in the motion picture industry. Urged by friends and travel enthusiasts to expand the length of his pictures for full length showings, was a natural lead into the film-lecture field.

Friends, parents, and relatives, we want to invite each one of you to come and enjoy Curtis Nagel and his outstanding "Portraits of Scandinavia," February 22, at Upper Columbia Academy. See the accompanying advertisement printed in this issue of the GLEANER as to details.

OREGON

We Are Specially Privileged in Oregon

The message is on television and radio. In this way thousands are contacted who otherwise might never hear the message. But ours is a very special privilege. Because our churches did so well in the Faith for Today offering a year ago and because some of our church schools took as a special project, advancing the message through Faith for Today, Faith for Today is sponsoring four outlets in the Oregon Conference:

KOIN Channel 6	Portland	10:30 a.m.
KEZI Channel 9	Eugene	3:30 p.m.
KBES Channel 5	Medford	10:15 a.m.
KOTI Channel 2	Klamath Falls	10:15 a.m.

You will notice that these outlets virtually cover our entire conference, and I know that people are viewing this program, enrolling in the Faith for Today Bible school, and interests are developing everywhere. I am sure you join me in the earnest desire to see that Faith for Today continues to cover the Oregon Conference for another year.

This will only be possible as we respond with a very liberal offering on February 8. Please go prepared, on Sabbath morning of this day, with a special gift for the annual Faith for Today offering. It is only once each year that these national programs of ours are helped through a church offering, so it is vitally important that we try to raise our average of a dollar per member to keep the message entering multiplied thousands of homes for another twelve months.

But our vision must be broader and our hearts larger. We want to keep Faith for Today on the 206 other stations now releasing this wonderful program and, of course, wouldn't it be wonderful if it were 250, but this requires additional funds.

Faith for Today, last year, had 1,500 people accept the truth through their ministry. It will soon be 3,000 to 5,000 a year as the latter rain descends and blesses this seed sown.

Let us all have a large part in proclaiming the message through Faith for Today. Remember the date is February 8 and the offering for the day—Faith for Today.

Nutrition School is Held

A school of nutrition was held recently in the Springfield-Eugene Welfare Center located in Eugene. Mrs. C. E. Kendle of Scio, a former director of food service at Laurelwood Academy, instructed an average 65 interested "cooks," including gentlemen, during the week.

Mrs. Kendle taught not only how to prepare more tastefully the familiar foods but also some new ones, adding various sprouts. On the final evening, family night, she gave tips for those who must prepare lunches.

Each evening three door prizes were

Stamps Needed for Projector

Say, what are you doing with all those Gold Bond stamps? How about putting them to use for Christian education?

Hood River students, under the guidance of Principal Delmer Smith, have arranged with the redemption company to exchange stamps or validated covers for a much-needed projector. If you, too, are in need of the stamps, redeem the books; then ask that the back cover be validated. Even such covers or donation certificates from your dealer can help the school project. Of course, stamp-filled books are worth more. And those few loose stamps you have around the house need to be put to use!

Send your stamps, covers, and/or certificates to Principal D. Delmer Smith, 922 4th St., Hood River, Oregon.

Much needed new furniture is being purchased to fulfill a great need, but downstairs at times pants are being ripped or a coat torn by a nail or rough place. The folks are saving and each family agreed to contribute two books of stamps for new chairs.

There does not seem to be enough and to obtain the eventual goal faster we would like to invite all friends with a tender spot for Filer to help the boys and girls get the needed Sabbath School furniture. The leaders say they hate to have visitors for fear something unfortunate will happen to their clothes. Please send books or loose stamps to Seventh-day Adventist Church, Box G, Filer, Idaho. Thank you.

A WARNING

Inquiries are reaching us concerning a chain letter—Government Bond sale. We want it distinctly understood that this in no way is being supported by the Conference or our institutions, and is not at all in harmony with the principles of strict integrity which should characterize Seventh-day Adventist Christians.

N. R. Dower, President

Appeals from little missionaries such as these from Hood River resulted in one of the largest Thirteenth Sabbath offerings for the Oregon Conference. The 1963 Christmas offering to build homes for native African workers amounted to $24,243.56. The "missionaries" are Phillip Miller, Sheryl Mapes, Mary Miller, Marybeth Winston, and Buzzy Seeley.

Ballard Evangelistic Meetings

"Turn your eyes upon Jesus, Look full in His wonderful face and the things of earth will grow strangely dim, in the light of His glory and grace."

This was the theme song and the experience of our membership and others who attended the Christ Our Hope evangelistic meetings held in the Ballard Seventh-day Adventist church every night beginning October 26 through November 17, 1963.

Our people rallied in a marvelous way to the support of the meetings. The opening night found the church filled with members and visitors alike. The enthusiasm grew as the meetings progressed.

During the series a Tobacco Clinic was conducted with the able assistance of Doctor Lloyd Silver. Seventeen enslaved individuals grasped the extended hand of God and were delivered from this evil habit. These victories proved a tremendous blessing to the entire congregation attending the meetings, as well as to those directly involved.

We also enjoyed the fellowship and services of Elder Stanley Hiten and his able Bible instructor, Brother Gene Tucker. It was a genuine pleasure and privilege to be associated with these men in such a definite way as we labored together with the team for the salvation of souls.

To date, as a result of the meetings, we have added 15 precious souls to our membership at Ballard, and the

Walla Walla College

Missions Emphasis Week

Missions Emphasis Week on the Walla Walla College campus will have as guest speaker Elder Duane Johnson, Washington, D.C., associate secretary of the General Conference since 1960.

Public appearances to which area residents are invited include: the Sabbath morning worship service, February 8; MV meeting, Friday, 7:30 p.m., February 7; and the college assembly Wednesday at 9:30 a.m., February 5.

An emphasis on world-wide missions has, of course, always been a significant part of WWC's educational program. Elder Johnson's visit will provide an opportunity for personal interviews with those interested in overseas appointments as well as an opportunity for all church members to receive the inspiration of missions messages.

A graduate of PUC in 1940, Elder Johnson and his bride went to Burma shortly thereafter. They spent twenty years in Southern Asia. During a furlough year, Elder Johnson received the master of arts degree from Fresno State College. His current assignment includes travel and mission recruiting for Europe and South Africa.

Chromatography Course

Dr. Carl T. Jones, chairman of the department of chemistry, is in Los Angeles attending a three-day gas chromatography course sponsored by the Department of Chemistry, Engineering Extension, and Physical Sciences Extension, University of California, Los Angeles.

The intensive three-day basic course on the Los Angeles campus of the university includes lectures and laboratories with ample opportunity for questions and special help on individual problems. Many representatives of industry as well as those from educational institutions are attending, says Dr. Jones.

New gas chromatography equipment arrived during the Christmas vacation, and new techniques learned during this gas chromatography course will be applied in Advanced Analytical Chemistry, according to Dr. Jones.

Senior Class Organization

Three of the six officers of the Walla Walla College 152-member senior class are pre-medical students already accepted for study at Loma Linda University, School of Medicine, next fall.

Warren Willey, Mohall, North Dakota, a chemistry major, is class president. Anita Lenz, foods and nutrition major, College Place, is secretary; and Russel Thomsen from Centralia, Washington, is class chaplain.

Vice president is Caroline Rasmussen, Cheney, Washington, a home economics major. Phil Harris, a business major from Fairfield, Montana, is treasurer. Sergeant at arms is John Fackenthall, a zoology major and the only married student among the officers.

Chosen as class sponsor was Loren Dickinson, instructor in speech and manager of the college FM radio station, KGTS.

Official recognition of the senior class will come Monday forenoon, February 17, in Columbia Auditorium at 9:20. Speaker for this event will be President Eugene Chaffe of the Boise Junior College and president of the Higher Commission, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.

Loan Fund Is Initiated

In memory of the late Dr. Fabian A. Meier, former officers of Omicron Pi Sigma, men's residence hall club, have initiated a Fabian A. Meier Student Loan Fund.

Sponsors are Arthur White, assistant professor of economics; Fred Bennett, instructor in engineering; and two graduate students, both of whom have spent several years in denominational work. They are Tom Stafford and Wesley Shultz.

Current OPS men are supporting the project, having placed $700 from the club treasury in the fund. Total amount currently on hand is about $1,000, say the sponsors.

Former Sittner Hall men may wish to contribute to the loan fund in memory of their former dean of men who was later academic dean at WWC. Contributions should be addressed to the Fabian A. Meier Loan Fund, Walla Walla College. Administration of the funds will be by the regular student loan committee on the campus. Students will receive financial help repayable at 3 per cent interest.

Faith for Today

How fortunate those of us are who read this issue of the GLEANER! Fortunate in what way?

In many. First and foremost, that we are still among the living, that we have accepted the Lord's last message, and that we are privileged to live in our fair land.

These special blessings that we are enjoying bring to us an opportunity that some have enjoyed in the past but will never be privileged to experience again. We must carry added burdens to compensate for those who have fallen asleep.

What is this opportunity that we enjoy now? To consider the continued support of God's work. On February 8, there will be the offering for Faith for Today. Think of it! This program is being aired over 213 stations, the largest number in its history. The Bible Correspondence School enrollment is at an all-time high; 1500 have been baptized in one year, who have been greatly influenced by the Faith for Today program. This growth and development presents a need for added financial support of the work. One quarter of a million dollars is needed in the offering on February 8. Let us arise to our privilege and give liberally that this tree of the Lord's planting may continue to flourish.

Ballard Evangelistic Meetings

Central church has added six. Others are studying and preparing for baptism in the near future. We can only say, "Praise be to God from Whom all blessings flow."

As one realizes the tremendous changes that have been made in the lives of these dear people it engenders courage for the future. The power of God has no limits.

On behalf of the Ballard church, I want to thank the members of the Christ Our Hope Evangelistic Team for their unselfish ministry and their untiring efforts which did so much for our people.

My prayer is that the revival that has begun as a result of these meetings will live on in our hearts until the work on earth is completed.
