

THE KOREA STORY—HOW IT HAPPENED

By C. K. SHIN

President, Middle West Korean Mission

(Above) The greatly overtaxed Korean Publishing House. This building will be doubled in size through your generous Thirteenth Sabbath offering.

(Center) Pastor and Mrs. Lee were won through reading a "Great Controversy" in Japanese. He is now president of the Southeast Korean Mission.

For many years the work of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Korea was identified largely with North Korea. For it was there that it had its beginning and it was there, with a very few exceptions, that our schools, medical work, our publishing house and even our churches were located. Many of our people earnestly prayed for the expansion of our work below the 38th Parallel and they wondered what would have to happen before we could catch a vision of the Advent message in all of Korea. From time to time an earnest student would come down from the North determined to start church work in the South, but while a measure of success in certain places was realized, never did the work there go forward in a strong way.

Then came the second World War, and in 1945 nearly all the Japanese were sent back to Japan. The 38th Parallel was then set up as a dividing line through Korea with the Communists on the North and the Rhee government established in the South. While these negotiations were under way, hundreds of our members fled to the South, only a few remaining in the North. The Korean Union Mission then established its new headquarters in Seoul where it remains today. The college, the Seoul Sanitarium, the Korean Publishing House and other institutions followed as funds and workers were available. Now there could be no communication between the North and the South, so if there was to be any work of Seventh-day Adventists in Korea it would have to be in the South where it had been impossible to get our people to go in times of peace.

During the Japanese occupation before the war the Korean Union produced very little literature. The chief book published at that time was The Great Controversy in the Japanese language, and these were produced in such small editions that the price was prohibitive for any but the wealthy Japanese-speaking people in the country. When the Japanese were deported their goods were largely confiscated, and these high-priced books found their way into second-hand stores. The hardship and privation during the war caused a wave of religious awakening to sweep over the liberated peoples of Korea. Bibles and religious books were in great demand. Many earnest Christians of other faiths began combing the shops for books which would help them to understand the Bible. Second-hand copies of The Great Controversy, selling now at prices the masses could afford, were bought up by these seekers after truth, and as a result many prominent Presbyterians, Methodists and others accepted the Adventist faith. Among these was Pastor Y. C. Lee, now president of the Southeast Mission in Korea. After purchasing one of these cheap books and learning of Jesus' soon return, he with his family accepted the message and dedicated their lives to its proclamation.

The work in the Seoul area spread and developed rapidly, but another problem arose. People just did not want to go out to the islands and distant points on the mainland of Korea. Now when one thought of our work in Korea he thought in terms of Seoul and the Central Mission. Again some of our earnest believers began to pray that God would give the rank and file of our members the burden and vision of a finished work in all of Korea. What would it ever take to shake them loose from the Seoul area?

Then it came—the war of 1950. The Communist army swept down across the 38th Parallel and our members were compelled to flee before it. Farther and farther south, out into the islands, away up into the mountains and into the villages and hamlets they fled for their lives. What had not been done in times of peace was once again accomplished through war and hardship. Thank God that He pushed us out to find His dear ones in the far places!

The work grew and became strong, but now we were faced with another problem. How were we going to preach the gospel to every village and town of Korea? True, the people had been dispersed, but still we did not have enough workers to carry the message to all these places. Earnest prayers went up. Much study was given to the problem, and out of the prayer and study evolved a plan for finishing the work in Korea. Lay men and women would be prepared to work as self-supporting ministers, evangelists and Bible instructors. Truly this is a plan born of God, and today we are enjoying a revival in Korea such as we have never known. The laymen come together in large groups to study the Bible and evangelistic methods. After a week to ten days of intensive study, practice and prayer they go out in teams of four to do evangelism. Recently in the Middle East Mission alone there were twenty such teams operating. Each team operates according to specific plans with the work of each member designated. The whole church stands behind these lay workers through prayer and encouragement as they go out and hold spearhead meetings. At the close of these meetings other church members assume the burden of teaching the Bible study groups formed. Intensive work is done in these groups for ten days to two weeks. An ordained minister then goes in and binds off the interest and makes final preparations for baptism.

This coordinated program where the laity works hand in hand with the regular mission workers is resulting in not only a great and rapid increase of our membership in Korea, but in churches that are aglow with the Spirit of Christ.

And so Korea is enjoying a wonderful awakening. We believe that God had His hand over those few expensive volumes of The Great Controversy until the soil was ready for the precious seed of truth contained in them.

Today the masses of Korea are becoming more and more a reading people. The enemy of souls sees to it that they have plenty of material to read which leads to destruction. To us comes the challenge of furnishing them with an abundant supply of the seeds of the kingdom of God. This can be realized only when the present printing facilities have been greatly augmented. Our publishing house machinery hums from Sunday morning until Friday afternoon, often with time out only for oiling and necessary repairs. But even so, it is impossible to meet the demands made by the colporteurs and churches for truth-filled literature.

God is leading His work, and He will impress you to remember the needs of hungry souls in Korea this 13th Sabbath. We plead with you, do not turn a deaf ear when the Spirit speaks

2,000 Baptisms

We rejoice and praise God for the wonderful way His blessings are resting upon Missionary Volunteers in their program of MV TARGET 3000. Reports indicate that we have now passed the two-thirds mark with more than 2,000 baptisms from our evangelistic projects.

Victory is now in sight. We are certain to reach the 3,000 mark with the help of pastors and the backing of parents in our effort to commit every youth to some type of youth evangelism this year.

Tens of thousands of our youth are engaged in Voice of Youth, Operation Fireside, Friendship Teams, or MV Branch Sabbath Schools. At times we are tempted to rest in such achievements until we take a closer look and discover that there are still hundreds of churches in the North American Division that have not yet shared in the blessings of this program.

We should ever keep in mind that the results of this youth evangelism are two-fold—to win some 3,000 souls to the Lord this year and to save our own youth. We see so many young people perishing right within our own church for the lack of participating with Christ in soul-winning. It is a fact that we must share or perish. This is the urgency for harnessing every youth within the church into a year-round program of sharing their faith with others.

Young people, let your conference leadership get you started at once in a Voice of Youth, Operation Fireside, Friendship Team, or an MV Branch Sabbath School. Let us save our youth in a program that will also finish the work.

Of first concern to every loyal Seventh-day Adventist is bringing Christ to the unsaved in every part of the world. Our Sabbath School members, who so faithfully give of their means through the Sabbath School mission offerings, will rejoice with us at the good news contained in a cablegram from Elder C. A. Williams, president of the Korean Union Mission, sent to the Far Eastern Division president. Here is a copy of that cablegram:

This is our opportunity to help Korea, while those doors are open for the story of the gospel. After we had started writing this article, the morning mail brought another special appeal, in the form of a cable message, from the president of the Far Eastern Division and the Sabbath School secretary of that division, which reads as follows:

You will note this second message stresses "unprecedented day of opportunity" and also "open doors threatening to close," right on the very theme we felt impressed to feature in this article before this second message reached us.

Yes, brethren and sisters in our Sabbath Schools, this is our opportunity and let us each do our very best in the 13th Sabbath missions offering on Sabbath, September 26. God forbid that any of us will be found doing less than our best at this time of opportunity.

The Price of Growth

Big boys getting bigger often have trouble with sleeves and trousers too short. Growing girls used to put on long dresses and change the position of their long heavy braids. Adjustments had to be made. Happy the day when the clothes fit the boy and the girl.

Earlier residents returning to a village now grown into a city have difficulty finding their way about. New industries, new markets, new objectives and patterns, new workers, new leaders, have brought growth and changed the old skyline.

Skilled technicians working with computers and electronic microscopes have been exploring the universe of theoretical and applied science and have opened gateways into new realms that keep expanding and beckoning as the researcher advances. The results are astounding.

To hesitate long or to ignore the pressure for expansion and development means that soon the new world of the space age will be unknown to those who thought they could keep up without study. Such thinkers can hardly have leadership in a time when change of thought and patterns comes upon them.

One need not be an astronaut nor a moon dweller to be conscious of growth in thought as well as in industry but without growth his ideas can become musty and so far out of date that they have value only as curiosities. He can be as odd as a very old model car that was not too useful when new and runs only with much coaxing and merely to satisfy antiquarians.

Education is not something to be placed on a gilded shelf, even though it is taken down occasionally and dusted for temporary display. The college degree of even a decade ago is no assurance that its holder can compete in today's exploding knowledge without freshening the fountain. The job he prepared for ten years ago may be facing the discard.

Growth in these times is too complex to reduce its essentials to a phrase or two but the attitude and the aptitude of the grower are important. If he determines not to be negative but an active learner, his prospects of being counted among the alert, informed leaders of his group are good. To strive, to wrestle, to conquer are requisites of success.

Even the largest and oldest of the trees put forth new growth every year. That means there is vitality and survival. It means also that there are open avenues to the food values that sustain growth. When growth stops at the tips of the branches it is evidence that something is wrong. New sources and supplies of sustaining strength and development are needed. Fortunate is the person as well as the tree that can find these and continue his growth and service. To neglect them will in time stop growth with all that it implies in men as it does in trees.

ASI Convention Fellowship

Our ASI Enterprise people like to get together! The occasion for doing this is the regularly-called convention for our self-supporting institutions.

Surely by this time you have heard about the coming ASI Western Convention to be held in Linda Hall of the Hill Church at Loma Linda during October 7-10, 1964. We have endeavored to give this meeting good publicity.

Are you coming? Have you started to pack your bags? In a few days from now many happy ASI people will be enjoying a trip to California. We hope you will be among them!

You know there is a special blessing to be received in fellowship with other ASI members and workers. You go to the convention. There you talk together, laugh together, sing together, and pray together. This is known as "fellowship"!

What is the benefit of attending such a meeting? You receive valuable information. You learn "how" your institution can make an impact for the gospel. Personally you return home physically and spiritually renewed to give better service to God and humanity.

It will be a pleasure to see you at the Loma Linda meeting. Plan now to attend!

THE BABY NEEDS IT

"Come here to Mother, you darling!" Marian Graham held out her arms, and two-year-old Frankie climbed upon her lap to be fondled and rocked.

Marian's Aunt Celia regarded the scene with amusement, recalling the past. "Aren't you the same mother who didn't rock babies or fuss over them?" she asked laughingly.

"The very same," replied Marian. "I was almost austere with Dotty and Jim, wasn't I?"

"No holding, no rocking, no picking them up when they cried. You weren't going to spoil your babies, nor were you going to let your Aunt Celia spoil them when she visited you!"

Marian kissed Frankie's curly head. "I still think it's important for babies and older children to eat and sleep and do other things on schedule. But I decided loving them was also important."

"You don't mean," asked Aunt Celia, "that you didn't love Jim and Dotty as much as you do Frankie?"

"Of course I did, but I'm afraid I was so busy with schedules and child psychology I didn't show it. In fact, some child psychologists were saying then that you shouldn't be demonstrative with your children—that it caused some kind of complex. They said you should not sympathize when your child tumbled down and hurt his knee, for fear of making him soft.

"Fortunately, Jim's and Dotty's daddy didn't pay much attention to such ideas, and he'd be so glad to see the children when he came home from work that he'd romp with them. One day I realized they seemed to enjoy their daddy a lot more than they did me—in fact to like him better. Then I knew I was making the same mistake my mother had made—only for a different reason. I wasn't telling them nor showing them that I loved them."

Aunt Celia nodded. "Your mother wasn't the demonstrative type."

Marian smiled. "I think it sprang from that stern New England ancestry she was so proud of. Anyway, she made little show of affection even to her children. The first time I remember her kissing me was when, at fifteen, I went on a trip. I do recall, though, when I was eight or ten asking, 'Did you ever kiss me, Mother?' and she said, 'Oh, yes, when you were a baby!' I would have given anything if she had kissed me then, like mothers in story books did.

"There were times when deep in my heart I used to wonder, 'Does my mother really love me?' Mother would have been amazed. She assumed children should know that of course their parents loved them. She worked early and late making our clothes, cooking, washing, and ironing for us. I didn't appreciate it when I was small, but when I was grown I valued all that she had done. Children take those things for granted, as their right—they don't see the love back of them unless it is expressed in words. If only my mother had been just a little demonstrative at times—had let me know that she loved me!"

Aunt Celia nodded. "I suppose many of us had the same experience. I'm glad your children are profiting by yours."

"Oh, yes. Jim is getting too big for lap-holding, but he still likes good-night kisses. And the other day, when Frankie pinched his finger in the door, Dotty kissed him, and called, 'It's all right, Mother. I put some love on it.'"

Aunt Celia smiled and said, "Well, we could certainly use a lot more love in the world, and we should start supplying our own families."

"Every Church in the Land"

A letter from E. J. Royer, pastor of the Camino church in California, commenting on Wednesday night classes in the study of the Prophetic Guidance Course, is typical of the enthusiasm registered by our churches throughout America:

"The past six months has been one of the most blessed periods in the history of the Camino church, for it was during this time that approximately one-half of the membership enrolled in and completed the outstanding course in Prophetic Guidance and the Life and Work of Ellen G. White. Week by week, through snow or rain, over one hundred individuals, including many children, came to the midweek service held in the youth chapel to participate in the studies that have been so carefully prepared on the gift of prophecy in the remnant church.

"It was with deep regret that this particular series should come to an end, for no other course of studies ever held in the church generated such interest and enthusiasm and faith in God's leading hand. Again and again all of us were reminded of how God has directed and is directing in the affairs of His church and of how He will continue to guide, even unto the end.

"The Camino church wishes to recommend most highly that every church in the land that makes up God's waiting throng take this series of lessons as soon as possible. If ever there was a time when our faith should be anchored firmly in the Testimonies of His Spirit, it is now."

Literally scores of Adventist churches have undertaken this Prophetic Guidance study and found it to be exactly as Elder Royer expresses. Pastors, local elders, and laymen may participate in this class study. There are 24 lessons in all. No charge is made for the lessons. Each student is charged $1.00 for the textbook. A briefing sheet explaining the procedure will be supplied to all pastors and local elders who write to the White Estate, General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Takoma Park, Washington, D.C. 20012.

"Listen, Em, I'll tell you a secret. I believe we are really going to make a machine that flies. You'll see," said Orville.

Young Emerson Chadwick was fascinated by the thought. Imagine, soaring through the blue, blue sky, free as a bird, higher and higher . . . And Orville was right, too. Before very long he and his brother Wilbur had constructed America's very first flying machine, right in their own bicycle shop.

But Em had his own set of problems by that time. His foremost concern was how to save enough money from his meager newspaper business so he could run away from his cousin Lem. The cruel brutality of life in Lem's house was the only concept of home that Em had ever known. So he collected precious nickels and dimes in his little tin box, and just when it was almost full enough to suit him, it mysteriously disappeared.

Alcoholism on the Increase

Washington, D.C.,—"If we are serious about solving the problems of alcohol in our society, we turn the forces of our society loose against the glamorization of the drinking act," an authority on alcoholism stated recently.

Dr. Winton H. Beaven, director of the Washington Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism, told students at the ninth annual session that neither laws, education, rehabilitation, nor science have dented the increase of alcoholism in the United States.

"We tried Prohibition which took alcohol from the man," he told students attending the two-week institute at American University. "We would now take the man from the alcohol. But we shall not solve the problem of alcohol in society in this fashion."

With all that has been done to treat the alcoholic, he said, as of 1963 not 1 percent of the alcoholics in the U.S. has been helped by any treatment whatsoever. "We have not begun to touch the the fringes of the problem," he stated.

Dr. Beaven said the cost to industry in America is estimated at ten billion dollars every year. He said the rate of fatal accidents is two times greater among alcoholic than nonalcoholic employees both on and off the job.

Pointing out that laws never solve problems, but people do, Dr. Beaven recommended a harsher legal code for drinking drivers, promotion of mental health education in school and home, an increase in the moral teaching of the churches, a curbing of alcoholic beverage advertising, and deglamorization of the entire drinking act in our society.

The Washington Institute is sponsored by the National Committee for the Prevention of Alcoholism. The National Committee conducts two institutes on alcoholism each summer in the U.S., one on the West Coast and the Washington Institute on the East Coast.

Twin Falls Vacation Bible School

An outstanding Vacation Bible School was held in the Twin Falls church from July 6 to July 16 with 114 children in attendance, 48 from non-S.D.A. homes. Many precious seeds were sown by the willing workers under the direction of Mrs. H. R. Hughes. Elder Phillip Lemon thrilled the boys and girls each morning with a continued story about Africa.

The kindergarten division was under the direction of Mrs. Jack Theitten, the primary, Miss Donna Anderson, and the junior division, Mrs. H. R. Hughes.

The children were very enthusiastic about their crafts this year. The primary children made pictures, vases, planters and plaques under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Hughes, Mrs. Harold Drake and Mrs. Ray Tilley. The juniors made driftwood flower arrangements, bird cages from clothes-hangers sprayed and decorated with flowers, and what-not shelves under the direction of Mrs. Willard Clark, Mrs. Wilson Abbott, and Mrs. Robert Curl.

Some of the results of the children's work during Vacation Bible School was evidenced in the closing program as the primary boys and girls dressed in costumes characterizing some of the outstanding men of the Bible. Songs the children had learned were sung enthusiastically to a record attendance of parents and friends.

As the parents passed into the room where the crafts were attractively displayed, they were amazed at the work the children had done.

An invitation was extended to those above 9 years of age to join the Pathfinder Club, and an active follow-up program is being planned.

The seeds have been planted. Who knows how many will bear fruit? Jesus said, "A little child shall lead them." Vacation Bible Schools do pay!

OREGON

Doctors' and Ministers' Council

The second Doctors' and Ministers' Council of the Oregon Conference was held at Big Lake Youth Camp, August 27 to 30. The attendance averaged over three hundred and peaked at about four hundred on Sabbath.

We were greatly favored in having as guest speakers: Dr. Harold Shryock of Loma Linda University; Dr. W. M. Landeen, president of La Sierra College; Elder F. D. Nichol, editor of Review and Herald; and Dr. William H. Shephard, president of Walla Walla College.

The message and instruction given by these speakers were of unusual high quality, and greatly appreciated by every one present.

Dr. W. A. Thierfelder, of Forest Grove, Oregon, showed pictures of his recent visit to Ecuador, South America. A year ago at our Council Dr. E. E. Rippey challenged his colleagues with the need of relieving some of our mission doctors. Dr. Thierfelder responded to this appeal and gave three months of his time and strength in serving as relief doctor at our mission hospital in Quito, Ecuador. Dr. Rippey and his wife are now in Quito, Ecuador, giving full time to mission service. We thank God for our consecrated doctors who are happy to serve their Lord in the great needy places of earth.

Senior Citizens Retirement Home

On August 9, 1963, ground breaking ceremonies were held for The Village Senior Citizens Retirement Home, located at 18001 S.E. Powell Blvd., Portland, Oregon. November 10-17, 1963, was open house at The Village with opening ceremonies November 14, when Governor Mark Hatfield of Oregon cut the ribbon and gave the address of the day. From then on to the present there has been much activity as residents have been moving in and getting settled in their apartments. In the nine months since the formal opening ceremonies, 105 of the 120 apartments are taken, leaving about 15 yet available.

The Village offers four different size apartments, all at ground level. Each apartment has a complete kitchen, but residents can also be served by the cafeteria, which is open daily for any who wish to take meals there. While the retirement residence is not officially connected with the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, the development is endorsed by many prominent S.D.A. officials and laymen of the Northwest. The Village, which is a member of the Association of Self-supporting Institutions, is sponsored by the North Pacific Homes, Inc., a group of S.D.A. laymen. Residency is open to persons of all faiths, but certain standards are required. Those who use tobacco and liquor are not admitted.

Religious activities are a very important part of the weekly program. An organized Seventh-day Adventist church conducts Sabbath School and preaching service each Sabbath. There is also a community Christian fellowship meeting each Sunday evening and a community prayer meeting each Wednesday night. All these religious services are conducted in the beautiful chapel on the grounds. The church bell rings for all these services, calling any who desire to come and worship together. There is also a Bible class conducted by Elder J. W. Rowland which meets each week for special studies.

The social activities are varied. Travelogues, musical programs, and a monthly birthday party for all who have birthdays during the month are given in the recreation hall adjoining the cafeteria dining room. Occasionally chartered bus trips are planned at reasonable prices to places of interest. One trip was to Mt. Hood and Timberline Lodge; another was to the beach.

A well-equipped health center of 14 beds is located on the grounds with a nurse available 24 hours a day and a doctor on call night and day. The doctor also has office hours twice a week at the health center and residents may avail themselves of this service as desired. There is also a group medical insurance plan that is very liberal

Half-Century of Sabbath School Blessings

Member Honored for 50 Active Years in Church

At a special service following Sabbath School on August 8, Mrs. J. E. Hudson was honored upon the 50th anniversary of her membership in the Baker S.D.A. church.

She, with 16 others, was taken into the church through baptism by Elder Charles Rittenhouse on Sabbath, August 8, 1914. One of the others baptized that Sabbath was Mrs. Fred Tollensdorf, a loyal member of the Boise church. These two fine Christian ladies have a near-perfect record of Sabbath School and church attendance and daily Bible study through the Sabbath School.

Mrs. Hudson spoke of the blessings that had been hers through the past half-century and urged faithfulness in daily lesson study and Sabbath School and church attendance upon the congregation.

in the service offered at reasonable rates.

Space for vegetable and flower gardens is available for those who wish. Just now there is some rivalry as to who can grow the largest tomato. Many get enjoyment from their private flower beds by their apartments.

A Dorcas society has been operating effectively for several months and many quilts and other articles have been passed on to the needy.

The Village affords a comfortable living quarters in a rural environment at reasonable prices, yet with all the services desirable, such as fire and police protection, telephone, accessible shopping facilities, and bus service at the door of the lobby, to the city of Portland or Gresham. We invite any who may be interested to write for detailed information, or better yet, come and visit The Village. Address all inquiries to The Village, 18001 S.E. Powell Blvd., Portland, Oregon 97236.

V. T. ARMSTRONG

The Strattons

Elder and Mrs. Stratton and their three children, Yvonne, Mark, and Aletha, have written us that they are now fully settled in their Tacoma Park home and busy with their work at Columbia Union College, Washington, D. C. Looking westward from the nation's capitol the Strattons find their warmth for the people of the Oregon Conference rekindled and sustained.

The movements of Conference workers in the Oregon Conference, particularly during the summer months, are so numerous and rapid that it is difficult for all the information to reach our people as quickly as one could wish. The Strattons received their call to Columbia Union College some weeks before our Gladstone camp meeting. They very graciously planned their departure from Oregon to come after our camp meeting.

This made it possible for us to have Elder Stratton's services as chairman of our Camp Meeting Locating Committee. We greatly appreciated his help in this regard. He rendered outstanding service in this heavy assignment for a number of years.

The Strattons worked in the Oregon Conference from the time they left college. Their many friends greatly miss them, and will continue to keep them in their fond memories.

UPPER COLUMBIA

Orion Lay Congress Awaits You

A final word to the constituency of the Upper Columbia Conference is in order regarding the Orion Lay Congress in the Spokane Coliseum, September 25 and 26. We not only invite but strongly urge every member to be present. I am convinced the program which is planned will be most helpful to everyone who is desirous of becoming or remaining active in the life of the church. The inspiration from Elder Coon's message and the instruction during the workshop in the afternoon will be most helpful I am sure.

Eugene E. Golay, in his book, Lay Visitation Evangelism states, "The Twentieth Century must be the century of the laymen if we are to reach men outside the church for Christ. We must go where the people are. The need of the hour is for every Christian to be an evangelist. The preacher alone cannot reach enough persons." Jesus said, "Ye are my witnesses." Those of us who know Christ personally are responsible for the sharing of that knowledge with others. This is our commission. The Orion Lay Congress has been planned to inspire, instruct and encourage. You will miss a great deal if you do not attend.

Come with your lunch or meal ticket prepared to stay the entire day. The Congress will terminate at 5:00 p.m. leaving ample time for you to return to your homes Saturday evening.

R. C. REMBOLDT

Leadership Workshop Feature Of Orion Lay Congress

Our church membership all realize that great work needs to be done in warning our neighbors and friends of the soon coming Jesus. We long to do our part. Our greatest need is a demonstration of how our talents individually will fit into the Lord's pattern for soul-winning in these trying days. Even as a minister, I look forward to meeting with my fellow workers in order that I might share the inspiration of their methods for soul-winning. Combining these methods with my personal work adds to the fruitfulness of my endeavors. In the same way, our lay people and our young people need to meet to hear of the plans used by various groups and see demonstrations of actual methods of different types of lay endeavors.

The Orion Lay Congress in the Spokane Coliseum, September 25 and 26, will feature workshops in which demonstrations will be given and materials distributed on "How to move forward as a united church this fall and winter." By seeing these demonstrations, and by sharing in the inspiration, we will be able to return to our churches and youth societies, and place into operation one of the strongest programs we have had in sharing "The Faith of Jesus."

Another vital feature of the Congress will be the fellowship of believers who are bound for the City of God, and this fellowship, too, will prove a blessing to our rededication to meet with these friends where we will never part again.

Campout at Priest Lake

Stop! Listen!—"And He walks with me, and He talks with me, and He tells me I am His own!"—What is this beautiful music we hear floating through the air up here in this mountain retreat on this warm Sabbath morning? The Spokane Outdoor Club is having their annual weekend campout at Indian Creek State Park on Priest Lake and have gathered in a sanctuary under the trees for Sabbath School and church. When the attendance count was taken 120 persons were present.

Enid Langbehn led out as our Sabbath School superintendent and Elder Leonard Ayers from Vancouver, Washington, brought us the lesson study and impressed us anew with the importance of building firm Christian homes in which to train our children. For our special music for church service, Bruce Twing sang of the wonderful day when we will be able to talk everything over with our Lord in person, followed by a thrilling story of an Oregon girl's experience with spiritualistic manifestations told by Elder John Todorovich from La Mesa, California.

The afternoon was spent exploring Nature's trails by the more adventure-some, and resting and fellowship by others. The Sabbath hours were ended as they had begun on Friday night with a vespers service around the campfire, adding rich blessings to all as we

Sunday was filled with varied outdoor activities, swimming and water skiing being the main order of the day, although a few had an eye to the pleasures of huckleberry pie and scattered through the woods gathering these luscious berries.

Camp Meeting Tapes

I am sure that those who have already ordered camp meeting tapes have been wondering why their orders have not arrived. This is to advise that the supplier who prepares these tapes is having labor troubles and has not been able to produce them as yet. I called today, September 8, and the latest advice is that it will be at least three weeks before we can expect to receive them. You can be sure that we will ship your tapes just as soon as we can get them. Kindly be patient and we will do our best, but at present we are forced to wait until we can get stock.

Weddings

Mary Daniels of Gooding, Idaho, and Norman Boepple of Twin Falls, Idaho, were united in holy wedlock on the evening of Sunday, August 16, in the Twin Falls Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder Leon Cornforth of Spokane, Washington. This new family plan to establish their home in Twin Falls upon Christian principles.

On June 21 Miss Phila-Mae Sharlene Streifling and Mr. Melvin Gene Krause exchanged wedding vows in the First Baptist church in McMinnville, Oregon. May God bless these young people as they seek to further their education.

Miss Carleta Mohr became the bride of Donald L. Bender in the Shaffer, Kansas, church on July 19. Pastor Harold L. Hampton performed the ceremony. The bride had attended Walla Walla College and later was employed at the Pacific Press branch in Portland, Oregon. The couple are making their home in Loma Linda, California. We wish for them a wonderful Christian home.

On June 7 a candlelight service was held at the Hopewell Seventh-day Adventist church in which Miss Carol Joyce Stephens and Mr. Charles Keightley were principals. Mr. and Mrs. Keightley are making their home in the Hopewell district. May God add His blessing to this new home in the Hopewell community.

Constance Marie Wilson and Christopher Franklin Boskind exchanged wedding vows in the Roseburg church June 9. Connie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, graduated from Walla Walla College School of Nursing in 1963, while the groom received a degree in business this spring. They are making their home at Cape Kennedy, Florida, where the groom is employed. L. E. Russell, their former academy principal, officiated.

Linda Annette Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Archer, and Thomas Eugene Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Tucker, Sr., were married in the Medford church June 7. Graduates of Milo Academy, Linda and Tom asked their former principal, L. E. Russell, to perform the ceremony. May the Lord bless this home established in Arizona.

On August 30, at a family gathering, the marriage of Mrs. Mamie Griffin to Mr. Ray Collins was witnessed. The sacred vows were taken in an outside enclosure which reminded us of the Garden of Eden where the first marriage took place. Elder F. E. Stratton officiated. We are confident that this new home in College Place, Washington, will be a place where angels will love to visit.

The marriage of Phyllis Marie Morton to William E. Lugenbeal took place June 28 in the Westminster Presbyterian Church at Yakima, Washington. Elder B. J. Boundey of Sunnyside officiated in the afternoon ceremony. The couple are making their home at Frederick, Maryland, while he is stationed at Ft. Deterick in the U. S. Army.

On Sunday afternoon, August 23, the Riverview Seventh-day Adventist church at Pasco, Washington, was the setting of a lovely wedding ceremony as Pauline Dutcher and Donald Daniel exchanged sacred vows. Elder Howard A. Welklin officiated at the service. Many friends of the happy couple were present to wish them happiness and divine guidance as they establish their home in Sacramento, California.

On Sunday, August 16, Nancy Ruuska and Dale Von Bergen were united in marriage in the new Aberdeen-Hoquiam church. Elder Vernon E. Berry officiated. We trust the Heavenly Father will richly bless this newly-founded Christian home, as these young people dedicate themselves to the cause of Adventist Christian education. They will be teaching this year at Oroville, Washington.

Sharon Jones of Jerome, Idaho, and Elery Albertson of Portland, Oregon, were united in marriage on July 5 in the Twin Falls, Idaho, Seventh-day Adventist church. The couple met while attending Walla Walla College and are presently living in Portland where Elery is continuing his education. The ceremony was read by Gary B. Patterson. We pray the blessing of God upon this new home.

Craig Sohm Willis of Mountain View, California, and Glenda La Von Santee were united in marriage in the Seventh-day Adventist church at Grants Pass, Oregon, on Sunday evening, August 23. A few days after the wedding the newly weds proceeded to Andrews University to attend the S.D.A. Theological Seminary in preparation for ministerial internship in the Oregon Conference. H. L. Rudy, president of the Oregon Conference, officiated.

Auburn Academy

Auburn Academy has been included in the educational plans of 366 students for the 1964-1965 school year.

Coming from many areas of the world but primarily from western Washington, the students represent the following class divisions: freshmen, 48; sophomores, 71; juniors, 117; seniors, 129; and post graduate, 1. The large senior class probably will break a denominational record for number of graduates set by Auburn Academy's 121-member senior class in 1963.

With 20 students attending from out of the United States, the Academy campus will radiate a somewhat cosmopolitan atmosphere. Canadian accents will be heard among the 16 students from that country. Three students from Thailand and one from Honduras should make the study of geography more meaningful to Auburn Academy scholars.

The State of Washington with 313 students has contributed the bulk of the enrollment. Other states are represented as follows: Alaska, 13; California, 4; Colorado, 1; Oregon, 8; Idaho, 6; and Texas, 1.

Three families have sent three students each: Doug, Duane, and Toni Clark; Ralph, Robert and Randy Gore; and Monty, Marilyn, and Doug McCoy.

Teachers and students alike may have some "double" trouble as they attempt to identify individuals in the five sets of twins. They are Carol and Lois Aimes, Doug and Duane Clark, Linda and Larry Johnson, Rita and Zita Tadej, and Karyl and Karyn Whitney.

As late registrants join the happy young people at Auburn Academy, the total enrollment for the year may well surpass previous records. Such

The Tabernacle church in Portland was the scene of a lovely wedding, where Sandra Lee Smith was joined in marriage to Harold E. (Bud) Campbell, Jr., August 30. May the Lord bless these young people as they set up their new home in harmony with His plans. Chaplain L. E. Russell of the Portland Sanitarium officiated.

The Spokane Central Seventh-day Adventist church was the scene of an impressive wedding service on the evening of August 20, uniting James J. Osborne and Roberta G. Hargrave in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Osborne will make their home in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, where Mr. Osborne is employed. The ceremony was performed by Elder Wayne L. Massengill. May the Lord add a blessing to their new home.

Marlene Payne and David Schoepflin were united in marriage the evening of August 30 in the Caldwell, Idaho, Seventh-day Adventist church. They are establishing their home in College Place where Dave will continue his studies in theology in preparation for the gospel ministry. The officiant was Elder Gary B. Patterson, cousin of the groom.

Miss Jean Gingrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gingrich of Portland, Oregon, and Richard Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coleman of Djakarta, Indonesia, were united in marriage August 23 in the lovely setting of the Portland Mt. Tabor church. The groom's cousin, Elder Preston Smith, officiated. May the Lord's rich blessing rest on the Colemans as they make their home at College Place where Richard will continue his education.

The candlelit Conard Hall Chapel of Walla Walla College was the setting for the beautiful wedding of Earlene Rose Parmele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parmele, Pendleton, and J. Robert Wohlers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wohlers, College Place. The vows were exchanged on Sunday afternoon, August 30. Performing the service was Elder Joseph N. Barnes. The couple will make their home in Loma Linda, California, where Robert will begin his first year of dentistry.

Marilee McCoy of Hollister, California, and Clark Brame of Seattle, Washington, were joined in holy wedlock August 25, in the Ridgcrest Baptist Church in Seattle, Washington. Marilee was a summer school graduate of Walla Walla College while Clark is in his second year of medicine at Loma Linda University. The young couple will be living in Loma Linda, California. May the Lord abundantly bless these two as they unite their lives in dedication to Him.

James Stewart and Pauline Cullinan, both of Cashmere, Washington, were united in marriage on the afternoon of August 16 in the new Cashmere Seventh-day Adventist church. Pastor Don L. Bauer officiated. As they make their new home in Cashmere, may God's blessings rest upon them.

Opening Week Appointments

A detailed program of registration and orientation week released by Dr. H. L. Rasmussen, academic dean, reveals ample time for the important "first things"—spiritual and academic.

All freshmen arrive Sunday, September 20, and attend an evening convocation in the College church from 7 until 8 o'clock. Other freshman orientation or convocation sessions convene Monday, 7:30 a.m.; Tuesday, 7:30 a.m.; and Wednesday, 4:30 p.m.

All others except freshmen may register on Sunday beginning at 8:30 a.m. Total registration is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, with the traditional "Meet the Faculty" set for Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

Specific tests will be given as follows: secretarial science in the department from 9 a.m. until noon on Tuesday; music aptitude in the Music Hall, 9 a.m. to noon; transfer students will take aptitude tests in the Alaskan Room, 9 a.m. until noon. Tuesday evening's recreation under the sponsorship of the ASWWC will begin at 7:30.

All classes begin Wednesday for the fall quarter.

KGTS to Resume Broadcasting

Resumption of broadcasting on WWC's educational FM station, KGTS, is announced for Thursday, October 1, by Loren Dickinson, instructor in speech and radio.

Tentatively set for 4 to 10 p.m. Sunday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Sabbaths, the hours will be filled with good music, coverage of church services, and educational and esthetic programs.

The fine tradition of radio, public service begun last year will be continued with most of last year's pioneer staff on duty, says Mr. Dickinson. Augmenting the staff will be transfer and other students with assignments still to be made.

Chuck Kirkpatrick, junior history major from Bozeman, Montana, is program director; Ken Hart, junior biology major, Roseburg, is director of technical services; and Diane Swetnam, sophomore elementary education major, is in charge of traffic.

"Collegian" Subscriptions

Subscriptions to The Collegian, weekly student newspaper of Walla Walla College, for the 1964-65 school year may be obtained by sending two dollars ($2) to The Collegian, Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington, states Ken Hart, circulation manager. (See subscription blank below.)

Hart has set October 23, 1964, as the deadline for subscriptions.

"We believe that Seventh-day Adventists of the North Pacific Union are deeply interested in Walla Walla College," says Chuck Scriven, editor of The Collegian. "The student newspaper is meant for friends of WWC as well as for students. A weekly paper containing stories as well as pictures will tell what is happening at the College."

"Review and Herald" Special

The November 12 issue of the Review will be a special issue, in that it will devote a number of pages:

1. To those who have been Adventists

Statistical Secretary
General Conference SDA

6840 Eastern Ave. NW
Washington, D.C. 20012

and have fallen away, and to non-Adventists who are well acquainted with our doctrines but who have failed to join us. What a great company! An article by H. M. S. Richards will appeal to all these to be baptized without delay. There will also be an article showing the great and rapid growth of the Movement over a century. All this carries out in part a 1960 Autumn Council action.

2. To the whole SDA membership to make all things right with God and man before the year ends. This includes an appeal to remove all misunderstandings with other members. Also, to be sure that delinquent tithe and pledges are squared up before the year ends. There will also be the first of a series on tithing.

Of course, there will also be a number of pages devoted to the regular departments of the Review, especially mission reports.

We believe that each church will wish to order enough copies so every nonsubscribing Adventist may receive one. Second, to order enough to send a copy to each one who has apostatized, and to those non-Adventists who know our truth well but are yet undecided. The names of such people can be obtained by asking the members to bring in all the names they can, plus names that the church clerk may have.

The price is eight cents per copy on all orders of 100 or more (on small orders 15 cents straight). Order through your Book and Bible House. Simply ask for the November 12 Review.

Please note: All orders should be in the hands of the Review in Washington, D.C., by October 20. You will therefore wish to act at once.
