Ministerial Secretary Is Chosen For the North Pacific Union

The North Pacific Union Conference Committee a few weeks ago invited Elder Kenneth J. Mittleider to assume a new and different role in the union conference. For a number of years we have been experimenting with a Ministerial Secretary on the union level and we have found that much good can be done to encourage evangelism on the part of all our workers through this arrangement.

We have invited Elder Mittleider to become the Ministerial Secretary of the union. For many years Elder Mittleider and his family have engaged in public evangelism. He is qualified to fill this post and his duties will be as follows:

1. To work with the local conference evangelistic teams and coordinate evangelistic ideas.
2. To hold evangelistic institutes with our younger ministers, helping them in their soul-winning activities.
3. To conduct training programs in actual evangelistic programs throughout the union.
4. To foster a spirit of evangelism throughout the field by training courses, promotion of new evangelistic ideas, and the publicizing of outstanding evangelistic events.

Kenneth J. Mittleider family.

5. He will be the coordinator of evangelistic plans which the union is developing for the utilizing of every evangelistic potential within the departments. This plan has been enthusiastically received by the presidents of our conferences and we believe that there are greater days ahead for the evangelization of the people in the great Northwest.

Faith for Today Field Evangelism

Pastor W. A. Fagal and the Faith for Today Quartet will conduct a reaping evangelistic series at the Sligo Seventh-day Adventist Church in Washington, D.C., this fall from September 25 to October 9. The intensive two-week campaign will highlight fundamentals of the everlasting gospel and will include several appeals for surrender to Christ. It marks the beginning of a great new Faith for Today evangelistic thrust throughout North America.

This series is part of an overall Faith for Today field evangelistic program, which will involve close cooperation with pastors and evangelists conducting TV reaping meetings and a limited number of spearhead evangelistic campaigns to be conducted by Faith for Today staff members. Associated with Pastor Fagal in the Washington, D.C., endeavor will be Elder William Loveless, pastor of the Sligo church.

This fall from mid-September to mid-October, two Faith for Today spearhead meetings in Canada's Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference will be conducted by Elder Gordon F. Dalrymple, editor of Faith for Today publications and director of the Bible School. Spearhead meetings will be conducted at Prince Albert and Swift Current. Giving overall direction to the project will be Elder A. W. Kaytor, Conference president.

G. Dalrymple

Featuring a new concept in Seventh-day Adventist evangelism, the various Faith for Today spearhead series will cover main points of Adventist doctrine and will be designed to reap interest developed up to the time of the meetings. A prime source of interests, of course, will be the many viewers of Faith for Today and Bible course students in these areas.

Another objective of the meetings will be to develop an interest in those unacquainted with basic Bible doctrines. Pastor W. A. Fagal, director of Faith for Today, is in overall charge of Faith for Today reaping evangelism. Associated actively with Elder Dalrymple in his series will be Pastors Pastor W. A. Fagal, director of the Faith for Today telecast, confers with Elder William Loveless, pastor of the Sligo, Washington, D. The Sligo series will mark the beginning of a strong new Faith for Today evangelistic thrust designed to harvest interests developed by the telecast and Bible school.

A feature of several of the Faith for Today evangelistic series will be organization of the church for mass distribution of Bible course enrollment leaflets. A plan will be outlined in which the church will work cooperatively during months following the spearhead to blanket the entire area four times with Bible course enrollment leaflets.

In the spring of 1966 the Faith for Today reaping team will conduct a series of meetings in Manchester, New Hampshire, a city of 60,000 population with only 60 Seventh-day Adventists. The Faith for Today Quartet will be featured during the Manchester series, which Elder Dalrymple will conduct. And Faith for Today films in color will also be shown during the series.

Throughout North America interest has been expressed by evangelists and pastors seeking to conduct Faith for Today reaping meetings. An entire kit of materials is now in preparation at Faith for Today offices featuring

The Faith for Today quartet will be associated with TV reaping evangelism in the future where possible. Members will not be present in person for the Canadian series, which is scheduled for the fall of 1965, but will be on hand for the Manchester meetings in the spring of 1966. However, a telecast featuring them in a special presentation, as well as other color presentations of the TV group, will be shown in the Canadian series. Quartet members are: (left to right) Don Siebenlist, bass; Jim Ripley, baritone; Larry Fillingham, second tenor; Stan Schleenbaker, first tenor; Van Knauss, organist.

Information Wanted Immediately

If you have relatives or friends or know of individuals interested in the Seventh-day Adventist message in the Sligo, Washington, D. "Spadework" Pays Off In Souls Won

An increasing number of our evangelists in North America are discovering

a powerful new preliminary tool in the Voice of Prophecy Daily Broadcast. When released for about a year prior to the opening of an evangelistic campaign, the Daily Broadcast radio programs awaken hundreds of interests and break down barriers of prejudice long before the meetings begin. In almost every instance where these broadcasts have been followed up by a crusade, the number of enthusiastic new interests has exceeded the church's ability to gather them in!

Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr. recently concluded a three-week Voice of Prophecy Evangelistic Crusade in Albuquerque, New Mexico. During an interview after he returned to the Voice of Prophecy headquarters office, he displayed a list of nearly 400 names handed to him just before he left Albuquerque.

"This is only the beginning," he said. "And these are not just names! These are first-rate interests—people wanting to be visited, desiring Bible studies, needing a church to join! But our pastor in Albuquerque does not have the staff necessary to visit all these wonderful families during these critical weeks just ahead!"

Though 40 persons were baptized before the evangelistic series ended, 90 more are attending baptismal classes, and still others a Bible-marking class being carried on by Pastor Kenneth Cox.

When asked the secret of such an enthusiastic response to the Voice of Prophecy Radio Crusade, Pastor Richards, Jr. credited the "seed-sowing" to the Daily Broadcast carried on for the preceding 14 months over Station KGGM in Albuquerque. "Why, I'd never again think of going into a town on a cold start," he emphasized. "But a lot of credit must go to the fine pre-campaign groundwork done by Pastor Cox and the members of the Albuquerque Seventh-day Adventist church. Throughout the year, 15 billboards advertised the Daily Broadcast, to increase the number of listeners; and another 15 were added to announce the meetings. A survey was conducted by the church members, who visited more than 20,000 homes; quarter-page and half-page ads were run in the newspaper; and both TV and radio stations made 'spot' announcements.

"When the King's Heralds came to assist for two weeks, an airplane pulling a banner flew over the city to announce their appearance! Several radio and television interviews were arranged, which gave the quartet opportunities to sing and to explain the purpose of the meetings being held in the Civic Auditorium, The King's Heralds also helped with the intensive visitation program from early morning until the meetings began in the evenings.

"Each Sunday, all Crusade members visited various churches of other denominations, to become acquainted with ministers and people. By this friendly gesture, and by inviting the pastors to attend and to offer prayer at our Crusade meetings, we generally found them willing to cooperate in the public work we were doing for Christ."

After telling about a number of families who had made decisions for Christ and our message, Pastor Richards looked at the long list of families he held in his hand, and said: "Who knows how many more stories like these will be found right here in this list of people who need to be visited by one of our ministers or workers! It looks as if visitation is our weakest link in these crusades. We had twelve cars going out every day, but we still did not have enough. We know the Daily Broadcast can sow seed, but we seem to underestimate God's working power every time! In the future we must be prepared for many more interests than we believe possible; for it is only when we get into the homes that decisions are really made for the Lord."

It requires dedicated teamwork to make each Voice of Prophecy Radio Crusade a success. But with the devoted assistance of the church members, along with the Crusade staff and the Daily Broadcast radio messages, the interest of tens of thousands can be aroused and turned toward the truth of God. These methods create an unbeatable combination for Christ!

Have you considered the Voice of Prophecy Daily Broadcast for your area?

Shall I Enlist?

Shall I enlist? Shall I wait for the draft? Or shall I speed up my draft?

These questions are going through the minds of thousands of young men here in the United States as they read the current international news and try to plan for their own future.

There are pressures that push at them from all sides, especially the pressure of what "everyone is doing." Seventh-day Adventist youth need to give sober thought to this field before coming to a decision.

From the experience of many years the Seventh-day Adventist Church counsels its young men not to voluntarily enlist, but to fulfill military obligations through the draft. The reasons for counseling our young men not to voluntarily enlist are logical and follow the counsel of the military forces. An important exception to this counsel involves the physician or dentist who has a military obligation. Owing to the manner in which a physician or a dentist is involved in command responsibilities in the military service, he cannot be used satisfactorily as a draftee, therefore the church counsels such men to seek a commission in order to fulfill their military obligations.

The Seventh-day Adventist observes the Sabbath as a day of rest quite differently from the normal manner in which Sunday is observed. After many years of experience with Sabbath observers, the military forces have concluded that personnel who observe the Sabbath after the manner of Seventh-day Adventists are of limited use. Thus there are regulations prohibiting the voluntary enlistment of those who have a limitation on duty to which they can be assigned on a twenty-four hour day, seven days a week. Those already in the military service who are limited in the duty to which they can be assigned on the Sabbath cannot re-enlist or extend their period of enlistment.

This Sabbath observance does not keep a man from being drafted, especially under the 1-A-O classification. Ample provision is made for the observance of the Sabbath for the period of military obligation. Beyond that period of time questions are being raised in greater number with each passing year as to whether or not the Sabbath observer may remain in military service. In this the military forces are doing what any prudent businessman would do, in that they are picking personnel who have no limitations in working on the job they are to do.

In addition, the Seventh-day Adventist Church teaches its members that they should not take human life, or in other words, that they should be non-combatants. Through many years and many wars the noncombatant principle has been recognized by United States law. Beginning in the War Between the States and continuing to the present time the limitations of a conscientious belief that prevents a person from taking human life has been honored. Such a person may not voluntarily enlist or seek a commission. The only exceptions are that a chaplain may get a commission as a noncombatant under certain circumstances; and the professional man, especially those with a military obligation under the draft, may get a commission in a medical department of the military forces (except in the Veterinary Corps).

These practical problems are the basis for the church's historic counsel that its members not voluntarily enlist. The various branches of the military forces join in this counsel to Seventh-day Adventists.

The Congress of the United States has made provision for those with conscientious limitations as to the taking of life but who are willing to take their share of the military responsibilities in the upholding of our national existence. This is done through the draft in the 1-A-O (noncombatant) classification. Many thousands of Seventh-day Adventists have served their country with honor, gallantry, courage, and distinction in this way. These men hold their heads high with their fellows after completing their obligated military duties. They are a strength to the church.

For the youth of the Seventh-day Adventist Church the way is clear—he will serve as a 1-A-O. If he wishes for reasons of his own to get his obligated military duty over at a time of his own choice rather than to wait for the draft, this can be done. He merely asks his local draft board to advance his name to the top of the draft list, being certain that he is classified 1-A-O. This may be done at the age of 17 with parents' or guardians' consent.

Further questions regarding military service should be directed to the local conference MV secretary or directly to the National Service Organization section of the MV Department of the General Conference.

The Accident That Needn't Have Happened

Case History—Failure to Yield

Driver X was turning onto the highway from a side road. While he was in the middle of his turn he saw a car rapidly approaching. He was unable to turn fast enough and the oncoming car could not avoid him. Driver X suffered a broken leg and multiple cuts and bruises. The other driver suffered head injuries, and both cars were badly damaged in the collision.

Failure to yield the right of way caused over 2,000,000 accidents and contributed to over 5,500 traffic deaths last year.

YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT! Even if you have the right of way, look twice at intersections—the other driver may not be so careful. Use extra caution when pulling out of side roads and driveways. If your view is obstructed, proceed into the intersection slowly.

SAFE DRIVING WILL NEVER CAUSE AN ACCIDENT.

New Church in Wrangell

A choice downtown location for the projected new church in Wrangell, Alaska, was recently purchased by Keith and Mildred Bloom, of Bloom Logging Company, and donated to the Alaska Mission.

Wrangell's old church building was located on a part of the public school playground and when the church deteriorated for lack of care, the property was incorporated into the school grounds. There has been no church in Wrangell since.

While there have been very few members in Wrangell over the years, recently the church family shows signs of growing. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cummings have been holding Sabbath school in their home these past two years, and recently have been joined by others. Also, the Hiebert Logging Company, which has been located on nearby Vank Island for many years, has given consideration to moving their camp to Wrangell.

The Bloom family, who incidentally operated a church school this past year in their camp for the four children of school age, have long made this little fishing and lumbering village their headquarters for supplies and mail. Their interest in the growth of the work there has been amply demonstrated in their gift of this land.

The Japanese operate a sizable spruce mill in Wrangell, a new $4,000,000 lumber mill has just recently opened, and with the interest that has recently been shown in making Wrangell an access port into northwestern British Columbia, the village has almost taken on a boom-town appearance. It is likely that other members will move into the area. We trust that the Lord will lead in the reestablishment of the work here and that the small light which has shown so faithfully will soon be seen afar.

Big Week

Once each year in the month of April or May we have what is known as Big Week all over North America. This is a week when everyone goes all out to accomplish something extra special. This includes the publishing leaders. On May 21 the colporteurs of Idaho enthusiastically cast off into the unknown. By May 28, seven days later, things were really shaping up. The group had delivered over $4,000 worth of our good books and magazines. This is almost twice as much as was delivered last year on Big Week.

Several prizes were offered for different accomplishments. Virgil Woodruff of Payette had the highest deliveries and won two of the prizes. There

MV-Pathfinder Investitures And Camporee

The Junior Missionary Volunteers and Pathfinders have had a major role in the youth activities of the Idaho Conference this spring.

Investitures have been completed in our fourteen elementary schools and nearly everyone was invested. Teachers, parents, and Pathfinder leaders are to be commended for the fine work that has been done, and the spirit of co-operation that has pervaded in helping our youth finish their requirements. Wonderful programs were presented by each school exhibiting various phases of the work that was engaged in by each club.

When the last insignia has been presented, we will have invested some 350 boys and girls, and over 850 honors will have been awarded; but, the greatest asset to our church are the characters that have been enriched and lives that have been molded and touched by our Christian leaders. These youth are the future leaders of our cause.

A concluding feature of our investitures was the Junior Camp film that was presented. It not only fascinated each youngster, but also inspired him to be present at our camp this summer.

A special feature of our camping program this summer is the Inter- or Non-Denominational Camp we are conducting for boys ages 9 to 12, in addition to the two camps to be conducted for our youth. This is our way of not only helping these boys spiritually, but also a way of saying "Thank you" to our communities for their co-operation in our Ingathering program, as well as other church activities in their areas.

A Teacher's Reward

Teachers are made happy by evidences of spiritual and mental growth in the youth they serve.

Perhaps one of the more rewarding moments in a school year is the occasion when selected students "take charge" of a class, of a department or care for many of the administrative tasks of the school for a few hours on a given day. The idea of a "youth day" in city administration or within a school is not new but it will be of interest to patrons to know how Gem State Academy students responded to special responsibility on May 19, 1965.

Impromptu faculty band at Gem State Academy.

Carefully laid plans by the regular staff and the Associate Students Body officers were implemented and the school was "student" operated for a day!

The regular schedule of studies and work proceeded with only typical minor problems, and a real lesson in shared responsibility was learned by the group. Typical of the student-teacher reactions during the evening worship period, set aside to honor the regular staff, were statements such as these, "How much better we understand a teacher's job now!" and "I'm glad to turn this task back. It's really hard work!"

A succinct statement made on one other such day sums up the purpose of the experience nicely. It went something like this as the "Principal of the Day" turned over his keys: "I'm grateful for the opportunity to better understand the decisions on the 'other side of the desk!'" Insights like these will help youth adjust more successfully and quickly to adult responsibilities.

The accompanying illustration shows the impromptu faculty band.

Principal

Jerome District

The great need of the world is for spiritual quality in men, for depth and altitude of soul, for wealth of inward life, out of which special deeds shall come, like a brook from the mountains, with power. There is no power in man worth developing that is not anchored and controlled by a superior wisdom. Thank God for a people that are anchored on the fundamentals of Christ. All hail to that great conquering host that have answered the voice of a calling God, and gone out to bless the world. How rich and full and glorified life becomes!

The Jerome district has been blessed with three churches and there is a hidden, divine force in the consecrated life of these churches. They are answering the call from the Master.

Since Christ is the door, they are the door-keepers, to open or close it for others. Since He is the light of the world, they are the bearers of that light to the end of the earth. In one of the churches there are nine young people in the academy and college preparing to carry the light to the ends of the world. Since Christ is the bread of life, they are to break it to feed those who hunger. If He is the truth, they are the truth-bearers, the interpretation of the truth. If Christ is the bright and morning star, these good people help brush aside the clouds that veil His beauty from the world, that humanity may see and live forever. Oh, glorious truth that we are an indispensable part of the great plan and program of the Father.

We find that those who live on the mountain have longer days than those who live in the valley. Certain it is that the God-lighted life has a longer day—an endless day. Why will we grope on the plains below, when it is given us to bask in the sunshine of His love? We in the Jerome district have made up our minds to live on the mountain top of life, and "lift up your heads O ye gates; and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in." We invite you to live this longer fuller day with us, and enjoy Christian fellowship, to know truth, to feel love, to master self, to appreciate goodness, to achieve heart victories, to conquer wrong, to know soul grandeur, to live the abundant life.

Music Featured at Gem State Academy

Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic may not know that Gem State Academy has a touring orchestra, but the Adventist people in eastern Oregon, Utah, Idaho, and Nevada know about the group because the academy orchestra and band have recently finished a special tour program through these states. The home-coming concert took place commencement week-end, and a mass-band and mass-orchestra concert was held May 27 in Boise at the Junior Academy which featured the GSA band and orchestra, Gem State Grade School (Caldwell), Eagle Grade School, and Boise Junior Academy band and orchestra.

Next year promises even better prospects for these groups. Those interested in string instruments will find Gem State ready to offer instruction in this area. For those advanced performers in cello, violin, and viola we have two excellent teachers on the staff of the College of Idaho who have been teaching our academy students. Mr. Cerveny, the violinist, was for years concertmaster of the Pittsburgh Symphony, and Mrs. Cockram, cellist, was first chair cellist of the San Francisco Symphony. Both have recently soloed with the Boise Philharmonic. Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCoy will continue to offer beginning instruction in strings and also maintain a full program of instruction in band instruments, piano, and organ. To those who are eager to begin or continue in the field of musical composition and are interested in a college music major, Mr. McCoy teaches a music theory course five days a week as a regular academic course. The course includes harmonic and rhythmic dictation, sight-singing, 4-part writing, music history, score analysis and orchestration. This course is especially designed for the more advanced music student. Those who desire a more thorough background in music fundamentals and a rich listening program with music history combined will find the Music Survey class to fill that need.

We in the Music Department are eager to start the 1965-66 season and hope to see you among our many students next year.

Union Treasurer Ordained At Camp Meeting

In the reverent setting of the Walla Walla College Church, Luther Crooker, Portland, treasurer of the North Pacific Union Conference, was ordained to the gospel ministry at the beginning of the Sabbath on Friday evening, June 11.

More than 2,000 church members listened as Willis Hackett, North Pacific Union president, pronounced the charge. "O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; quire at thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul." Ezekiel 33:7-9.

R. C. Remboldt, president of the Upper Columbia Conference, spoke the words of welcome as Elder Crooker joined the ministerial fellowship of the Advent movement. The ordination prayer was offered by F. D. Nichol Washington, D.C., editor of the Review and Herald.

Luther Crooker graduated from Walla Walla College in 1961. He was employed for a number of years by the government with the Internal Revenue Service prior to service in the Oregon Conference where he was assistant treasurer for four years. He later gave five years of service as the treasurer of the Upper Columbia Conference before being called to his present position in 1962.

MV Investitures

What a thrill young people receive every spring as they are awarded the insignias for advancement in the MV Classes. In our spring investitures we were able to give these MV Class pins to nearly 1300 young people from the Busy Bee Class to Master Guide. Besides all of these insignias, thousands of the MV honors and book club certificates have helped to keep the Missionary Volunteer enrichment program before our youth, while at the same time they are the golden cords for keeping their interest high in the MV objective.

Many of our Adventist families have found in the pursuit of the various MV Classes and Honors an opportunity for working closely with their young people. This has afforded an opportunity for nature study and craft skill advancement which can only help to bind the lives of these young people to the hearts of their parents.

Our Moscow investiture certainly proves this point. The MV meeting was literally filled with Master Guides in neckerchiefs and honor sashes. This added much color to the investiture service. Dr. Omar H. Drury and his wife, both Master Guides, helped to

We thank the many teachers of our Conference who not only promoted this program throughout the school year, but were instrumental in reaching 100 percent investiture for their school rooms. The help of the Pathfinder Clubs to achieve this record was greatly appreciated. To all who helped encourage the young people through MV Classes, thanks.

Ground-Breaking for the New Yakima Church

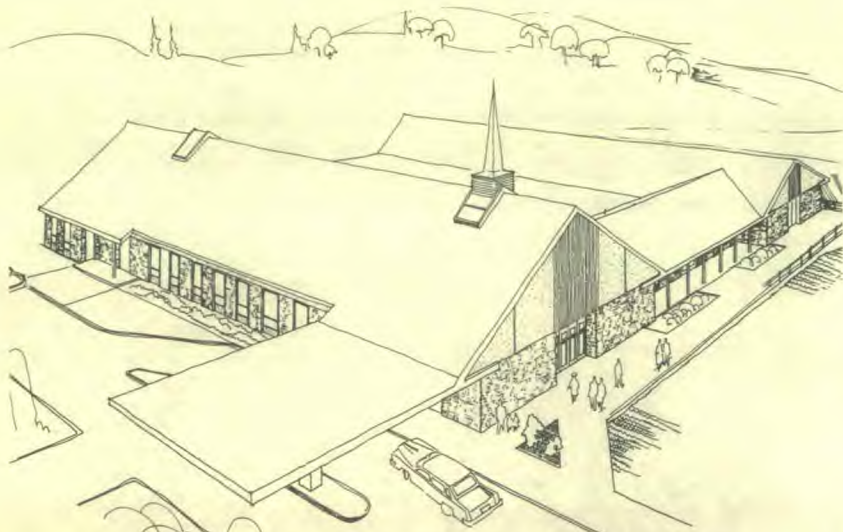

Wednesday, June 2, was a happy day in the lives of the Yakima congregation. Ground was broken on North 35th Avenue for their new church. The building, which will cover an area of about 160 X 160 feet is located on a lovely 7½ acre piece of land overlooking the city of Yakima.

The new church will seat approximately 650 in the sanctuary. Provisions have been made for adequate facilities for the Sabbath school and youth departments as well as senior Sabbath school class rooms. The construction will consist of laminated A beams with blocks and Colorado rock veneer. The cost of the project is estimated at $150,000 with a combined value of over $200,000. During the construction period the congregation is meeting in the Central Lutheran Church, corner of W. Yakima and Chestnut. The new building is to be occupied in the summer of 1966.

Upper Columbia Academy Graduates Ninety-Four

The forty-fourth annual commencement exercises of Upper Columbia Academy occurred on the week end of June 4-6, 1965. In actuality, this was the twentieth graduation on the campus of Upper Columbia Academy, the twenty-four previous commencements being held at Yakima Valley Academy, the forerunner of this school. This forty-fourth commencement service saw 94 young people receive their diplomas. Of these, 16 students were graduated with honors, indicating that these 16 young people named below earned a grade point average of 3.5 or more during their four years of secondary school attendance:

Upper Columbia Academy is indeed grateful for the very splendid gift that the Class of 1965 left to this school. The class undertook a major project in remodeling the front of the academy chapel. The finished product today is one of beauty and does much to create an atmosphere of worship. The renovation included installation of lighted ceiling, a remodeled platform, a new pulpit and new rostrum furniture, planters, paneled walls, and the finished touch of a deep red carpet. The school is indeed grateful to the Class of 1965 for this outstanding gift.

Amie de Couer

Amie de Couer, the girls' club of Upper Columbia Academy, has just finished another wonderful year under the leadership of Presidents Marlene Johnson and Charlene Rubendall.

Elaine Spechko

I would like to tell each of you girls a few of the things we do in the girls' club. We emphasize the spiritual, cultural, and social aspects of each girl. We have guest speakers, spiritual and cultural programs, and refreshments occasionally.

Of course, the biggest events of the girls' club are the girls' club program and the banquet. I am sure you remember "Music From the Four Winds," this year's girls' club program. Next year we are planning something new and different. It will be held early in the year.

Each year we have a club project. This year we redecorated part of our parlor, and we need you to help us decide on a project for the coming year.

As this next school year's first semester girls' club president, I am looking forward to meeting each of you, and to seeing another year of cooperation and enthusiasm.

Wanted—Friendliness

As I was leaving the 1965 camp meeting in the College church in College Place one night, I overheard someone say, "There were five thousand people here tonight, and not one person spoke to me."

I happened to be fortunate to have been asked to be an usher this year, and I had a wonderful time. I found people warm, interested in me, and very friendly. This past month I ran across a formula that is foolproof when it comes to getting people to speak. It was written by our favorite author, and I would love to pass it on to anyone who might be interested. It will get everyone to say hello, and works wonderfully well.

Not only will it work at camp meeting, but in church, and in our work, and in our daily walk in life. The formula is quite a simple one—just two words: "Speak first."

Gladstone Camp Meeting Program

This is the year for the biennial session of the Oregon Conference to be held. The opening meeting of the business session is set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 14, 1965. All delegates from the churches should be present at the first meeting, Wednesday evening, to be seated and participate in the business organization and committee assignments that all conference business will be completed by 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 15. There are many important reports to be rendered, and many committees will need to work expeditiously during this brief period of time. Therefore, we urge that all delegates plan to be present at the opening meeting of the session.

Beginning with the song service at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, July 15, the first camp meeting service will be held in the main pavilion. Elder W. J. Hackett, president of the North Pacific Union Conference, will be the speaker. On the following day, Friday, at 7:00 a.m., H. L. Rudy will give his opening camp meeting sermon, introducing the theme for this great annual gathering.

Every camp meeting day will be packed with a variety of good things for both adults and children. The daily forenoon Bible Study Hour will begin on Friday, July 16. The studies will be new and entirely different from any heretofore given. A baptismal class will be conducted by Elder George Knowles and his committee. The evening meetings are planned to be of interest to both our members and others. Please feel free to invite your neighbors, relatives and friends to the evening services.

There will be General Conference speakers with us throughout the camp meeting, including Elders R. A. Anderson, E. W. Dunbar, Dr. T. R. Flaiz and others. Elder W. J. Hackett will give a number of sermons, including several evening addresses. At 3:00 p.m. Monday, July 19, Governor Mark Hatfield will address our Gladstone audience. He has not met with us for several years, and we are happy to have him speak to our assembly this year. He is very much interested in the work of Seventh-day Adventists. He is especially grateful for the outstanding Welfare Program we are sustaining in the Oregon Conference. Let us plan early to hear his message.

There will be an ordination service on the first Friday evening when six of our young men will be ordained to the work of the gospel ministry. This will be one of the great highlights of camp meeting.

Space will not permit to mention more about the Gladstone camp meeting program. All we can do is to invite you to come and enjoy another great annual feast of refreshing from the presence of the Lord.

Camp Meeting Music

Music plays one of the most important parts in a convocation, especially for a religious meeting. Let us thank God for "the singing church."

"As the children of Israel, journeying through the wilderness, cheered their way by the music of sacred song, so God bids His children today gladden their pilgrim life."

The church of the living God that is willing to keep His commandments and are preparing to meet their God will keep singing their hopes in times like these. Music has "power to banish the gloom and forebodings that destroy courage and weakening effort."

Beloved, be of good courage. Keep singing and come to camp meeting at Gladstone, July 15 to 24. Again we ask you to be sure to bring your Church Hymnal. We will use this book for most of our congregational singing.

Elder Jack Just, choir director at Portland Union Academy, will be in charge of our camp meeting choir, and Brother Don Latsha, band director of Columbia Academy, will be in charge of all instrumental numbers.

"Let the voices be lifted in songs of praise and devotion. Call to your aid, if practicable, instrumental music and let the glorious harmony ascend to God, an acceptable offering."

May we have your attendance at camp meeting with music in your soul. Then you may receive all the good things presented to you in the light of God's Word.

Milo Camp Meeting

Milo Academy was a busy place, with graduates leaving after their exercises on Sunday. Then Monday afternoon two trucks loaded with supplies for the Book and Bible House display arrived. Tuesday and Wednesday were spent unpacking and setting up the books, Bibles, etc., that were located in the boys' dormitory. This has proved to be a very bright and inviting place for our good literature. Thursday took on the atmosphere of camp meeting as the folks began arriving. The next few days were full of activity. People poured in and out of the Bible House loaded with supplies for themselves and items they felt would be of help for that neighbor or friend.

During the three days of the camp about $4,500 worth of supplies moved out into the southern Oregon field. It will bear fruit, we have been promised. If you missed this wonderful camp at Milo, be sure to plan on being present next year. One thing the Bible House staff, and I am sure those who were shopping, greatly appreciated, was the abundance of room. We will look for you next year at Milo.

Auburn Evangelism

Sabbath evening, June 12, was a high day for our believers in Auburn, Washington, as Elder W. C. Risley, pastor of the Auburn City church, and Elder Robert Skinner, pastor of the Renton-Kent district, participated in baptizing more candidates following the Rentfro Evangelistic Crusade which was conducted in the Auburn Seventh-day Adventist church, March 27 through May 22. Fifty precious souls have been baptized thus far, with two further baptisms planned for July 3 and 31.

We want to thank in particular Elder William Risley for his helpful support and encouragement during our campaign; Edythe Cain, our faithful Bible instructor; Pastor Clyde Praye; and the wonderful church members who brought much encouragement to our hearts by their attendance and financial help.

A five-night baptismal class, conducted by Evangelist R. A. Rentfro, continued after the close of the meetings. Elder W. C. Risley (with hand raised) is pictured baptizing Brother Leonard Obert—whose father, mother, and sister preceded him in an earlier baptism during the crusade. Pastor Skinner is shown baptizing a young man, Charles Jensen, who has heard

"SCHOOL OF PROPHETIC GUIDANCE"

Instructor: Doctor D. E. Rebok

Textbooks: "Believe His Prophets"—D. E. Rebok
"Treasure Chest"

Other Materials: Voice of Prophecy Lessons—Full Prophetic Guidance Course
Loose Leaf Folder and Lessons
Diploma and Graduation Exercise

This course is being offered at camp meeting only. The school will begin Friday afternoon the 9th, and will continue each afternoon through the 17th. All materials will be supplied to those who take the course, and the total cost, including the two textbooks, to each family will be $2.50.

Never before has such an opportunity been given to our people. We hope that a thousand or more will enroll and attend each class. In addition to the daily lesson taught by Doctor Rebok, there will be group meetings in which the lessons of the Prophetic Guidance Course will be taught by one of our ministers, and help will be given in filling out the lessons.

We urge all who possibly can do so to plan to take full advantage of this outstanding program and thus become familiar with the priceless prophetic gift which God has bestowed upon His Church.

Progress at Rainier Valley

A baptism of eleven precious souls followed a twenty-four week series of evangelistic meetings held in the Rainier Valley SDA church by the writer, assisted by Mrs. Lyman and the members of the church. Rainier Valley church is located in the south portion of Seattle at 4704 S. Mead Street. The church is currently gathering funds for the purpose of building a new and much needed place of worship on a splendid lot that has already been paid for. The membership is to be highly commended for the dedicated and sacrificial manner in which it has arisen to the needs of the Lord's good work. All phases of the work are onward at Rainier Valley.

Have You Read Your WILL Recently?

Most people who have been wise enough to prepare a will file it away and forget about it. Circumstances change, beneficiaries die and many times the death of the testator reveals a will that is outdated or does not represent the intent of the deceased at this time.

The sad fact is that seven out of eight Americans die without making a will. The disposition of the estate has to be processed according to state law and not according to the desire of the individual.

Members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church who gratefully acknowledge the blessing of Providence on their lives believe that faithful stewardship will lead them to arrange for at least a part of their possessions to be given to the work of God.

Few realize the fact that substantial expense is involved in probate costs as well as State Inheritance and Federal Estate tax.

The wise Christian will want to plan for these eventualities so as to accomplish the maximum good for the Lord's work as well as children and other beneficiaries.

The Conference Corporation has acquired information and experience which can be of value to all. Elders E. K. Mooers and L. A. Skinner are counseling our members in this field. Your request for information will be promptly answered. The address is Box 1585, Seattle, Washington 98103.

Green Lake Church On the Move

On Wednesday, June 16, preparations began at the Green Lake church in Seattle for the erection of a new $75,000 educational addition to the church. A house occupied the site; but it took a giant bulldozer little more than thirty minutes to bring the house down and reduce it to splinters.

The new building has been planned under the leadership of Building Committee Chairman, Paul A. Johnson, M.D., and will be constructed by contractor, Lee Mitchell, who is also Chairman of the Board of Deacons. Four Sabbath school departments, a library and administrative offices will be housed.

It is with real anticipation that we look forward to seeing several years of planning and sacrificing come to fruition in this splendid new structure. It will enable Green Lake to better serve the Lord as it serves His children.

A Rug for the Boys

I wish you could see what the boys have done to their parlor! There were hours and hours spent by a group of boys who believed it could be done. Previously it was a very bare, unattractive place. The walls and ceiling were transformed. A divider was built which has given color and shape. The old couch and chair from the girls' parlor were recovered. I had enough stamp books to get a Danish modern chair for them.

Now we need a nice rug to complete the picture. To get one that will not only be beautiful but serviceable, we should have ninety books. So many of you were so generous to send stamp books and loose stamps for the beautiful piano for the girls' dormitory. I am sure you want to help on this new venture. It would be wonderful if this could be done by the time students return for another school year at Mt. Ellis Academy.

We can use Gold Bond, Gold Strike, S&H Green stamps, or money for a pad.

If we all work together, we can do it in three months.

If you attend the Montana camp meeting, be sure to visit the boys' dormitory parlor and the girls' dormitory parlor and see what your help has done. The youth will never forget it. May I hear from you soon?

Livingston's Vacation Bible School

Our Vacation Bible School opened June 11 with 32 children in attendance. Mrs. George Roemer and Mrs. Hazel Johnson taught the kindergarten boys and girls the wonderful story of creation. Mrs. Jespersen and Mrs. Pete Watt taught the primary classes and Mrs. Dean Peterson, the juniors. Della Verne Jespersen was our pianist. Diana Roemer and Reneé Schaak assisted the teachers and craft leader, Mrs. Ernest Schaak, with preparing of pellon place mats for the children to make during the VBS. Each child made a mat for each member of his family. On the mats were pictures of birds or animals, children praying and prayer verses. These made interesting and attractive craft and the children enjoyed making them.

The closing program was Sabbath, June 12, at 10:00 a.m. with all of the children taking part. Many of the parents were in attendance also.

Of the 32 children present, 20 were from non-Adventist homes. We were very happy for this as there were four other churches in town holding Vacation Bible Schools at the same time.

International Institute Attended by Student

Fedeke Gemechu, Ethiopia, junior pre-medical student at Walla Walla College, has been selected by regional and national committees of the Institute of International Education, New York, N.Y., to participate in a special summer program of Training Opportunities for Youth Leadership.

The program is being conducted at the University of Pittsburgh, June 28 to August 20, by the Regional Council for International Education. Mr. Gemechu is among 20 selected to attend the African Leadership Workshop for Africans currently studying in American universities and colleges.

Mr. Gemechu, who will graduate from WWC in June, 1966, plans to complete the study of medicine and to specialize in public health before returning to his homeland. At the University of Pittsburgh he will be assigned to an internship related to his special interest, public health.

Weddings

Marvin T. Miler and Anita Carolyn Miller were united in marriage in a lovely wedding on March 28 at the Vancouver Seventh-day Adventist church. This young couple are making their home in Vancouver and we ask the Lord's blessing as they work with the church to help finish the work in that area. Elder Estel D. C. Richardson officiated.

The marriage of Gabrielle April Schoenfeld of Lewiston, Idaho, to George Stewart Kirkendall of Oakville, Washington, was solemnized in the Spokane Central church on Sunday, May 30. The vows were read by Elder A. J. Reisig. Mr. Kirkendall is serving in the army and will soon transfer to Germany. We wish God's blessing upon this new home.

In a lovely candlelight service in the Milton Seventh-day Adventist church on April 11 Arlene Bernice Newman became the bride of Lawrence Edward Wright. Their pastor, Pastor Estel Richardson, performed the ceremony. They are establishing a new Christian home in Goldendale, Washington.

Dianna Durrent, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo St. Clair, and James Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Davidson, were united in marriage on May 30. The wedding, performed by Elder Estel Richardson, took place in a beautiful garden setting at the St. Clair home. This new home will be in Beaverton, Oregon, and we ask the Lord to guide and bless them in their life together.

On Sunday afternoon, June 13, William Neves of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Patricia Jones of Myrtle Point, Oregon, were united in marriage at a lovely wedding in the Mt. Tabor church in Portland. Elder Ira D. Follett officiated. The happy pair will make their home in Portland where the groom is employed in the printing department of United Medical Laboratory. The bride is a licensed practical nurse employed at the Portland Sanitarium. May heaven's choicest blessings attend this new home always.

Richard Merrill Ruder and Sharon Kay Anderson were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in a lovely wedding on the afternoon of June 6 at the Linwood Seventh-day Adventist church in Spokane, Washington. They are making their home in Spokane where the groom is employed. May God's blessings be with this new home. Elder L. J. Meidinger officiated.

Paulette June Giarde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Giarde of College Place, Wash., and Thomas Glen Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Tucker of Milton-Freewater, Oregon, were joined in holy wedlock on June 6 during a candlelight service read by Pastor Estel D. C. Richardson in the Village Seventh-day Adventist church. Both of these young people have attended Walla Walla Valley Academy and will establish their home in the Weston, Oregon, area.

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hutson, of College Place, was the scene of a lovely ceremony during which Marilyn Hutson Calhoun and Gerald Ray Reisinger were united in marriage by Pastor Estel D. C. Richardson. We pray that the Lord will bless this union and their service to Him as they make their home in the College Place area.

Walla Walla College

Business Manager Arrives

W. E. Anderson

A graduate of Andrews University, with a Master of Arts degree from the University of Southern California, Mr. Anderson is not only an experienced businessman, but also a college teacher and departmental administrator.

Early in his career he served as dean of men and later as principal of a school in Shanghai before China fell in 1941.

At La Sierra Academy in southern California, Mr. Anderson headed the business administration department from 1943-48, and was the school's business manager from 1948-59. He now comes to WWC from a position as business manager of Pacific Union College, Angwin, California, where he has been since 1959.

Mr. Anderson succeeds A. W. Spoo, business manager at WWC since 1952. Mr. Spoo goes to southern California as manager of the Loma Linda University Foundation and vice-president of the corporation.

Education Department Head

Dr. J. V. Peters, whose experience includes teaching and administration on elementary, secondary and college levels, was announced this week as associate professor of education and chairman of the department at Walla Walla College by President William H. Shephard.

J. V. Peters

Principal of Gem State Academy at Caldwell, Idaho, Doctor Peters was for three years assistant professor of education at WWC in charge of teacher training on the secondary level.

A graduate of Minnesota Teachers College with a master of arts degree in education from the University of Idaho, Dr. Peters received the Ed.D. degree from Montana State University in 1962. He began his educational career by teaching elementary school in Minnesota, and was successively principal of a junior academy, dean of boys, and principal of three secondary schools, the last being Upper Columbia Academy, Spangle, Washington; and president of Southwestern Junior College in Texas.

Announcement of Miss Lois Teel, critic teacher at Rogers Elementary School since 1947, as assistant professor of education in charge of elementary teacher training completes the college faculty for 1965-66, says President Shephard.

Lois Teel

For several summers Miss Teel regularly has been in charge of the demonstration school in which summer session teachers have taken directed teaching. This summer she is continuing in that role.

A graduate of Andrews University, Miss Teel holds the master of education degree from University of Oregon. She began teaching in rural Nebraska and has taught in the South and the West. At WWC she has specialized in teaching primary grades.

Faculty Attend Conventions

Dr. Melvin K. West, fellow of the American Guild of Organists and chairman of the music department of WWC, attended the Northwest Regional Convention of the AGO, Portland, Oregon, recently, where he was named regional chairman for a two-year term. Announcement of the honor, which is an appointment by the national council of AGO, came at the convention banquet.

Professor E. F. Cross, chairman of the department of engineering, is in Chicago attending the American Society for Engineering Education convention June 16 to 25.

Three Walla Walla College scientists were among the 150 attending the sixth International Conference on Radiocarbon 14 and Tritium Dating at Washington State University June 7 to 11.

Dr. R. H. Brown, Dr. Claude Barnett, physicists, and Dr. Carl T. Jones, chemist, attended the conference sponsored jointly by WSU, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, NSF, and the Wenner-Gren Foundation.

Guest Professor for Workshop

Prof. William G. Gnaedinger, director of the Audio-Visual Center at Washington State University, is announced as guest professor for the two-week Workshop in Instructional Media, July 26 to August 6, at Walla Walla College.

This workshop substitutes for the previously announced Methods of Audio-visual Education.

This workshop will involve the study of contemporary instructional media and their implications and applications to curricular development, says Doctor Stahlnecker, director of the workshop. Teachers on all levels of education, elementary through college, will find the information interesting and useful.

Daily schedule will call for lecture and discussion from 8:30 a.m. until noon, and laboratory and study periods afternoons and evenings.

Doctor Stahlnecker will handle the information on programmed learning and on educational television.

Others assisting Doctor Stahlnecker are: Dr. Calvin Trautwein, chairman of the department of industrial education at WWC, lecture on the uses and production of educational slides correlated with sound; and Lewis Canaday, associate professor in industrial education, to chairman the area of graphics.

A wide selection of modern instructional materials and equipment will be on display and available for use by students in attendance at the workshop.

Advanced Degrees Conferred On Alumni

Alumni of Walla Walla College receiving degrees from Loma Linda University numbered 19.

Doctor of Medicine degrees were conferred on Edward John Castner, Rowland Dean Dietrich, Lynn Franklin Greenlee, David Dee Hollenbeck, Frank Harmon McNiel, and Roy Martin Rusch.

WWC graduates who received Doctor of Dental Surgery degrees in June commencement exercises were Ivan Eugene Holm, Jr., Lawrence Gunnar Johanson, David Flaiz Kaylor, Ted Dorland McDow, Walter Barclay Seibly, and Richard Irl Staley, Jr.
