TO SUPPLY OUR GREATEST NEED

JAMES W. ZACHRISON

Department of Theology, Colombia-Venezuela Union College

Ministers in the Colombia-Venezuela Union must be prepared to take salvation's story to many different peoples living in varied situations. Most of our ministerial graduates have no opportunity to work with older experienced pastors or evangelists as part of their preparation, but must go directly into a district with two or three churches and as many as twenty companies. To meet this challenge, the Colombia-Venezuela Union College endeavors to make its ministerial course as practical as possible.

Early in the 1965 school year, the ministerial students of the graduating class were divided into two sections for a ten-day training trip. One group, directed by the writer, went to the eastern plains of Colombia, known as the "llanos." They spent the first week end in Bogota, the capital of the country and headquarters of the Upper Magdalena Conference. There the students took the preaching services in modern city churches, and they also spent several hours studying conference and mission organization with the leaders of that field.

They left Bogota in a Douglas DC-3 and crossed the Andes Range that separates the city from the llanos. After spending the night in the picturesque old town of Villavicencio, nestled at the foot of the great Andes Range, they continued their trip by truck, driving several hours into the great plains. When they reached the very end of the road, they boarded a river launch which took them to El Campo, the new Seventh-day Adventist school situated on the banks of the Upia River.

During the week which the students spent at the school they conducted meetings each morning and evening with good attendance by the people who live in surrounding villages. Every morning the students went out in the speedboat to hold meetings in one of the pueblos (villages) along the river bank. Some of the villages had never before heard an Adventist sermon. Upon arriving at a town, the students went from house to house inviting the people to a general meeting. Even mayors and police inspectors attended on occasion.

The eastern plains of Colombia constitute a vast unentered territory, and the students who participated in this trip gained a new vision of the work that must be done before Jesus can return.

The other group, led by Miguel Angel Lopez, associate professor of Bible, went to Bucaramanga, a city once famous for its persecution of Adventists. Today there are three churches in that city. Evangelistic efforts were held simultaneously in those churches with the students rotating among them each night. In the course of the week some 200 visits were made, and sixty-nine Bible studies were given.

This year the students also conducted a short effort in the Central church in Medellin, the second largest city of Colombia and home of the College. Meetings were held three nights a week and during the Sabbath morning service. A ten-minute Bible class, illustrated in black light, was given before the sermon, and it was interesting to see the people arrive carrying large Bibles of the type used by the Catholic Church. Teachers and students took turns preaching, making the announcements, and carrying the other responsibilities. Sabbath afternoons were dedicated to visiting the more than thirty interested persons, many of whom made their decisions to keep the Sabbath.

Our ministerial students come from varied backgrounds. Florentino Quintero, for example, was once a layman in a town called La Bricha. During the days of great persecution, he was put in jail three times. The police would come down out of the mountains, surround the house where he was giving studies, and then take everyone to jail. Domingo Mioli, on the other hand, came from Italy to work in an oil company in Venezuela. One Sabbath afternoon, as he was walking down the street in Maracaibo, he heard singing, and looking in an open door, he found a branch Sabbath school in session. He was invited in, returned week after week, and finally became a baptized member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Although our needs are many in Colombia-Venezuela, our greatest need is that of workers—workers to pastor the churches and companies already formed, workers to instruct and organize groups which laymen are raising up, workers to go to the many unentered corners of our vast field. To provide those workers the youth must be trained.

Venezuela has long needed a secondary school where her young people can receive the kind of preparation a future worker needs in his formative years, one which will awaken in his heart such a love for God and lost mankind that he will consecrate his life to service. Your offering this Thirteenth Sabbath will help to build an adequate boarding academy in Venezuela.

When you consider the large number of future ministers that may come from that school, and the hundreds of people who will be won to their Saviour through them, we are sure you will be willing to sacrifice that these needs may be supplied.

Pathfinder and MV Officers' Training Course for Montana, Idaho and Upper Columbia

A ten-hour Pathfinder Officers' training course, and a ten-hour Leadership course will be run concurrently at Walla Walla College over the weekend of January 21 to 23 for all Pathfinder and MV elected officers and counselors, and for any needing these requirements for their Master Guide completion in Montana, Idaho and Upper Columbia Conference. Any who are interested in youth work but with no specific offices at this time are also invited to attend.

There will be no charge for the course. Meals may be purchased in the College cafeteria, and accommodations may be had either in some of the local motels, or at a lesser charge in the homes of some of the Seventh-day Adventist folk in College Place. An application for this training course should be made to the MV Department of your local conference office.

An Extraordinary Report

Surprise! Excitement!—These are the words to describe our reaction at the Union Conference office to this report. Today's report sets a new Ingathering record for the Northwest. Congratulations to Alaska and Washington on their '66 victory!

A real record-smashing report came from Oregon, with Alaska, Idaho and Montana joining the parade to establish new records of Ingathering attainment. Surely God is pleased to see the churches respond to the great challenge of missions.

Our aim is to pass the $400,000 mark this year. Be sure to make the last call and gather the fragments. Let us have a great finish!

Where could a Seventh-day Adventist spend his money more wisely and more profitably than in the propagation of the truth of God for this time. As a people we are using many available methods to accomplish the task that Jesus has assigned to His church. One of the most effective of these means for proclaiming the message of a soon returning Lord is through the medium of the television program, Faith for Today.

On February 12, the annual offering for this wonderful telecast will be received in all Seventh-day Adventist churches. The offering for that date will be used to further the ministry of Faith for Today through the telecast and the Bible Correspondence Course. This is a tremendous evangelistic effort. It is attested to by such facts that during the past twelve months, 1,520 persons have been baptized into the faith.

We are further informed that 100,000 current names of viewers and students are to be found in the files of the office. Indeed this is a most successful evangelistic campaign. When we realize that many of these converts to the faith would never have attended services in one of our churches, or in an evangelistic hall, it adds to the importance of this ministry. They will view a TV program in the privacy of their homes, where the message finds entrance into the heart, and thus seeds of truth are sown. Following this many of the viewers apply for the attractive and informative Bible Correspondence Course. Often a minister or some church worker among the laity makes visits to these homes. The result—souls are born into the Kingdom.

It is thrilling to know that Faith for Today is viewed on some 236 station outlets. Fifty-one stations have been added in the past year. It is hoped that many more will be added in the next twelve months.

The Faith for Today Bible Course is being revised and made even more attractive and colorful than at the present time. It is believed by the brethren that this will lead to a 50 percent increase in the number who will finish the course and graduate. The ultimate result—more baptisms.

It is also of great interest to know that Faith for Today is the oldest religious TV program on the air. In 1965 it celebrated its fifteenth anniversary. Governors, senators, ministers, teachers, and folks, young and old, from all walks of life, have written in expressing their appreciation for the effective ministry that Faith for Today is carrying on.

It is time that God's people dedicate fully their talents of time and money, and other gifts that God has given, to the task of finishing the proclamation of the everlasting gospel to all mankind.

While opportunities are still before us, let us not allow these doors to shut. Rather let us pry open additional doors and do a greater work.

When the offering is received on Sabbath, February 12, let us each resolve that we will do more than ever before. The times demand it. Souls are waiting to be gathered in.

Let us all join hands in prayer and in work to this end. God bless us all.

NEEDED: Your Help in Strengthening Faith For Today Decision Meetings!

February 12, 1966, will be a significant day in the history of Seventh-day Adventist evangelism. At that time the Faith for Today offering will be taken.

Decision meetings such as those conducted in Washington, D. C., where 125 individuals requested baptism and that in Western Canada have proved a great blessing. Your help is needed in making more of these meetings possible.

Last year every four hours one individual was baptized as a result of the Faith for Today ministry. It is hoped this figure will move up to one individual being baptized every two hours as a result of what the telecast is doing.

If every church member would double the offering he gave last year for the Faith for Today evangelistic endeavor, scores of new stations could be added to those presently carrying the telecast so that every part of North America could be reached and many additional Faith for Today decision meetings could be conducted.

Thank you so much for planning now to give liberally, Sabbath, February 12. Join thousands of fellow church members around the world in making this a special day of prayer for the Faith for Today ministry.

N. C. Wilson, president of the Michigan Conference, and W. M. Buckman, Home Missionary Secretary, discuss launching of the Michigan mass Bible School enrollment day, which took place recently in the Michigan Conference. Michigan church members took more than 100,000 of the folders to give to friends and neighbors. Comments Elder Buckman: "We feel that every friend and neighbor should be given an invitation to enroll in the Faith for Today Bible course. Our mass enrollment day in Michigan is a step in this direction. We hope to follow it up with further contacts."

Faith For Today Evangelism Conducted in Western Canada

The church membership of Swift Current, Canada, will likely be doubled as a result of Faith for Today's decision meetings there conducted by Pastor Gordon Dalrymple. The day before the Faith for Today series began the small company in the community was organized into a church of twenty members. This number will be growing rapidly during the next few months.

Thirty-three decisions for baptism were made, another forty pledged to keep all of God's commandments and more than 400 interest names were spearheaded in a two-week series that highlighted current events in the light of Bible prophecy.

Attendance night after night saw many more non-church members than church members attending with a ratio of as many as seven non-church members to one church member at some services.

An outstanding feature of the meetings was the discovery of tremendous interest built up by the Faith for Today telecast in this western rural area. Eighty-five percent of those attending the meetings indicated that they had viewed Faith for Today at one time or another. More than sixty percent watch Faith for Today weekly.

Associated with Elder Dalrymple in the evangelistic venture were Lloyd Janzen, pastor of the church who served as coordinator of the campaign, and Elmer Koronko, in charge of music.

Meetings were marked by excellent attendance throughout. Pastor Lloyd Janzen is conducting the follow-up phase of the series every Sunday night. He will continue to highlight Bible prophecies and major Scripture doctrines.

Additional baptismal services will be conducted through the winter months and on into spring as a result of the evangelistic series.

Commented one of those attending who took his stand: "I have always enjoyed the Faith for Today telecasts. I am glad this decision series was conducted in Western Canada as it led me to make my decision for Christ. I only wish a series of this kind could be conducted every year or even more frequently."

Church members co-operated to the utmost by inviting friends to attend, helping with advertising and mailing of handbills and attending each evening.

Anthony Kaytor, president of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference, made the series possible and was present for services several evenings.

GORDON DALRYMPLE

Hospital Holds Institute

Forty pastors, teachers, and administrators attended the eleventh annual Mental Health Institute, held recently at Harding Hospital, Worthington, Ohio.

The purpose of the meeting, according to Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., director of medical education at the hospital, was to provide help for pastors with perplexing problems they face with parishioners.

Institutes have been held annually at Harding Hospital since 1955 and more than 300 pastors have attended the sessions. One of the recurring requests has been for an opportunity to delve deeper into common problems.

To meet this need this year's institute emphasized problems submitted by the members in attendance. Following discussion of the problems, Christian psychiatrists gave their opinions. A staff of 25 joined those in attendance for discussions that proved stimulating and informative.

"We are not interested in making psychiatrists out of those in attendance," said Dr. Harding, in commenting on the meetings. "Rather, we want to acquaint the pastors and teachers with sources of help."

Among those attending from the North Pacific Union were M. S. Culver, Walla Walla College; Kelvin Hartnell, Portland Sanitarium and hospital.

"The Last Act"

People everywhere are actors in a drama that is rushing toward completion. In rapid succession the actors pass from scenes of crime, hatred, bloodshed, war, earthquakes, tornadoes, and famine to scenes of religious apostasy, moral laxity, and religious regimentation.

Regarding the latter, our generation has witnessed repeated attempts to stifle conscience and enforce religious conformity. To be sure, the prevailing ecumenical spirit and the Roman Pontiff's recent visit to New York City should hasten the last act.

What is the last act? What happens when it bursts upon the world? And what is our duty before it takes place?

The answer to the foregoing question is found in the Testimonies, volume 7, page 141. We read:

"The substitution of the laws of men for the law of God, the exaltation, by merely human authority, of Sunday in place of the Bible Sabbath, is the last act in the drama. When this substitution becomes universal, God will reveal Himself. He will arise in His majesty to shake terribly the earth. He will come out of His place to punish the inhabitants of the world for their iniquity, and the earth shall disclose her blood and shall no more cover her slain.

"The great conflict that Satan created in the heavenly courts is soon, very soon, to be forever decided. Soon all the inhabitants of the earth will have taken sides, either for or against the government of heaven. Now, as never before, Satan is exercising his deceiving power to mislead and to destroy every unguarded soul. We are called upon to arouse the people to prepare for the great issues before them. We must give warning to those who are standing on the very brink of ruin. God's people are to put forth every power in combating Satan's falsehoods and pulling down his strongholds. To every human being in the wide world who will give heed, we are to make plain the principles at stake in the great controversy—principles upon which hangs the eternal destiny of the soul."

On Sabbath, January 22, each Seventh-day Adventist will be given an opportunity to assist in implementing the counsel given us of God. Besides personally subscribing to the Liberty magazine, each church member will be called upon to support liberally the offering received on that particular Sabbath. The offering insures the mailing of the Liberty magazine to influential persons in the cities, counties, and states of the nation. Let us bestir ourselves and send 700,000 Liberty subscriptions to the men in authority before the last act of the great controversy breaks upon the world.

No Stuffing Here

I believe it was H. L. Hastings, author of Will the Old Book Stand, who said something to this effect: "When you read a novel you read a little at the first to see who the hero of the book is, then skip over toward the back to see who was married and who was hung, for most of the rest is only sawdust put in for stuffing anyhow."

Unfortunately this is true of a number of books. There is too much sawdust sprinkled through the pages. I am happy to tell you of a striking exception that has just come from the press.

After reading Alice Princess I can assure everyone, young and old, that there is no "stuffing" here. From the first chapter to the last, it sparkles with anecdotes and experiences from the life of the author, Alice Princess Siwundhla. I have read most of our books on mission life in far-off places, and can testify this is one of the best.

Most of us have seen and heard

Staff and students in attendance at the 11th Annual Mental Health Institute held recently at Harding Hospital, Worthington, Ohio.

Josephine Cunningham Edwards, but few of us perhaps knew her late husband, Lowell A. Edwards. The book Alice Princess tells many things about this dedicated man, as well as his well-known companion, Josephine.

All in all, I believe this is the best book of its kind to come from the press since The Seventh-Day by Booten Herndon. I can heartily recommend it for young or old. You have my written guarantee—"There is no stuff- ing here."

Attention: Adventist youth of Draft Age

This is again to alert Adventist youth of draft age that a very important weekend of instruction is planned at Upper Columbia Academy the weekend of February 11-13. The Union Conference and local MV departments are sponsoring this program.

In view of the exceedingly serious world situation, it is of the utmost importance that our young men who face the draft be properly informed concerning the special problems facing Seventh-day Adventist young men in this situation?

Young men who attend should plan to arrive Friday afternoon to register at the boys' dormitory. Bring your own sleeping bags. A charge of $4 will be made for the meals of the weekend, beginning Friday evening and closing Sunday noon.

More Moscow Meanderings

As the year of 1965 comes to an end, we here in Moscow like to think it has been a year of real improvement in this area.

We have acquired four new families in our church. Our new pastor, Elder F. Douglas Horton, has come with his lovely wife from Elsinore, California. Although he has been ill since his arrival, Elder Horton has been most active in the Ingathering and building programs and we do appreciate it. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson came to us from Napa, California. Mr. Anderson is working for our Moscow newspaper, the Idahonian. Mrs. Anderson is active in Dorcas and primary Sabbath school work, while Mr. Anderson is organizing a church choir for us. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cook have moved here with their two children, Mike and Debbie. Mr. Cook is an estimator for a construction company and Mrs. Cook is already helping in Sabbath school and the Home and School. Mr. and Mrs. Kent Johnson and Kim and Kevin are our newest newcomers to Moscow, moving here from Salmon, Idaho. Mr. Johnson is working for the State of Idaho as a vocational rehabilitation counsellor, and Mrs. Johnson has been out helping with our Ingathering. Mrs. Johnson is the niece of our Conference Lay Activities Director, Elder Leon Cornforth. We are happy to have all these new folks with us and know they will be a blessing to our little church.

Our school gym already has brought us a lot of happiness. The roof is being put on at this time and soon the children will be able to play in there out of the mud and snow. We are still building in great faith and it is taking a lot of it, but the Lord is truly blessing in this project.

The Troy and Moscow schools have consolidated this past year and Troy has even brought a new school bus. The banker laughed when they gave their bid, feeling it was ridiculously low, but the Lord intervened and it was the winning bid, so there are no longer transportation problems.

Our Investment this year was almost unbelievable. With a church of less than 100 members, we raised over $1,005. Our Investment last year was just over $700. There were many and varied projects which is always the case, but every one was blessed of God and, of course, many thanks go to our Investment leader, Sister Connie Schoepflin.

At the time of this writing which is December 14, we have reached our Ingathering goal. So many of our elderly people are not able to get out, but we have had the faithful few and are happy for the victory.

Our Pathfinders went out Halloween night and gathered in over 200 cans of food. Two little non-SDA girls went with us and how they enjoyed it! The one little girl has even been helping with the Ingathering. She attended Camp MiVoden last summer and is very interested in the message.

Dr. P. D. Spechko is building a nursing home in Moscow which is scheduled for completion in April. We feel confident that this will help our church growth. We are happy for the ten-grade school we have to offer, plus the fact that Moscow is truly a beautiful place.

Yes, 1965 has been a good year here in Moscow. We trust that 1966 will be even better.

OREGON

Another Banner Year

All church reports received to date indicate that 1965 will be another banner year for the Oregon Conference. The returns for the month of December are eagerly anticipated. If the last month of the year will come up to December of a year ago, there will be abundant reason for gratitude to the Lord and to our faithful people.

We are earnestly hoping for a good net increase in church membership. Thus far the baptisms have been encouraging. Were it not for the heavy losses by death, apostasy, and missing, the annual membership report would be most cheering news. As it is, the hundreds of accessions to church membership are almost completely duplicated by the losses that so stubbornly persist year after year.

December is square-up-month with the Lord in tithe and offering. So far in 1965 there has been a steady monthly tithe increase. If the month of December proves out as it has for the past few years, the tithe increase for the year over the amount received in 1964 will be in the neighborhood of $250,000. The Lord has abundantly blessed His faithful people in our Conference during the year that is now passing into history. Let us make certain that God's work will be supported and advanced commensurate with the blessings received.

As the accomplishments of the year 1965 pass in review before us, we are amazed at the reports. It is not possible to present statistical facts until all reports for the year have been tabulated. However, there are some very tangible items, particularly in the area of new construction work, that can be noted now.

New Church Buildings. Seaside and Camas have completed Phase I respectively of their new churches. Prineville and Sutherlin have each completed their sanctuaries, the total projects soon to be dedicated. The new Woodland church was dedicated on May 15. Forest Grove began to worship in their beautiful new building on Sabbath, May 22. Dedication will soon take place. St. Johns church is now in the final stage of completion.

Conference Academies. The beautiful, spacious Columbia Academy cafeteria has been completed and is now in use. Fourteen new rooms were added to the girls' dormitory, and the Home Economics building was moved to a new location and completely remodeled—all at Columbia Academy.

The Milo Academy gymnasium was brought up to standard by the addition of shower rooms and other essentials.

Portland Union Academy was completed during the past year with the addition of the gymnasium, music conservatory, home economics classrooms, and school cafeteria.

Laurelwood Industries at Laurelwood Academy has been greatly improved. Upon invitation of the Oregon Conference, Harris Pine Mills has accepted the operation of Laurelcraft. The industry is being greatly expanded by Harris Pine Mills. The Lord is richly blessing this operation.

Church Schools. New classrooms of varying numbers have been added to the schools of the following churches: Coos Bay, Hood View, McMinnville, Rogue River Jr. Academy, Salem (Livingstone School), and Vancouver.

Let us thank God for all these and many other wonderful accomplishments in the Oregon Conference by the grace of God during the past year. As we conclude another banner year we appeal to all of our dear people to unite with the leaders of the Conference in renewed dedication for yet greater blessings to be manifest in God's work in the New Year into which we are entering.

"This Is What I Want"

For many weeks Mrs. Lorraine Nolette had been watching the TV Bible Class. The explanations of Bible truth sounded so reasonable and right that she found herself responding in her heart with the sentiment, "This is what I want." She felt a desire to know more about the organization which sponsored the program, but she hesitated to take the initiative in making a contact.

A sudden need for medical attention resulted in a rush visit to the Emergency Department of the Portland Sanitarium and Hospital. The visit was extended into an overnight stay for Mrs. Nolette. It was Friday evening and over the little speaker at her pillow came the soothing strains of Christian music. Soon after awakening the next morning she heard voices singing in the distance. "It sounded like angels singing," she said. Curious to know who was singing she slipped out of bed and peeked down the corridor. The music came from a group of nurses.

"What kind of a hospital is this?" she later asked a nurse who came to her bedside. Up until this time, the name Seventh-day Adventist had meant very little to Mrs. Nolette. She readily accepted the offer of literature that she might learn more. She was introduced to Miss Mary Neufeld of the hospital's chaplaincy staff. A sweet friendship developed between the two and studies followed.

When Elder C. J. Ritchie, Oregon Conference Home Missionary Secretary, held a series of evangelistic meetings in the Mt. Tabor church during the month of September, Mrs. Nolette was invited to attend. She was thrilled to learn that these meetings and the TV Bible Class and the Portland Sanitarium, all of which meant so much to her, were all a part of the same organization. Feeling that she had found that which her heart desired, Mrs. Nolette responded to the invitation to follow Jesus all the way.

On November 20 she was baptized by Elder F. W. Avery. She is happy in her new-found faith. Among her activities as a volunteer worker at the Portland Sanitarium is the pleasant task of keeping the literature displays filled with pieces of literature that may bring to others the hope which she now has found.

Many others viewing the TV Bible Class need a personal contact to bring them into fellowship with the people who sponsor the program. Perhaps God will use you to make such a contact. You can help by telling your neighbors and friends about this weekly Bible study on TV. You can help by volunteering to deliver a Bible and lessons requested by someone in your town. You can help by taking a white Bible and the current lessons and inviting someone who lives near you to become a part of the largest television Bible class in the Northwest.

Yes, you can help, but best of all, the TV Bible Class can help you to experience the greatest thrill in this life—the thrill of winning a soul to Jesus.

Milo Academy Holds Open House

Early last month Milo Academy played host for its first Community Open House.

Tours guided by student groups began in the new brick Administration Building. Several classrooms on the lower floor are not yet completed; however, the main floor has been finished and provides attractive functional classrooms. The library and administrative offices are also on this floor.

The gymnasium and its recent additions were also on the agenda for the visitors. The new showers and dressing rooms were added last spring.

Guides showed their groups through both dormitories where each of the rooms was on display.

A Loma Linda Foods display in the cafeteria gave away free samples and

Gratitude to the Laity

We cannot overlook the enthusiastic support of the laity of the Washington Conference in the eight and a half months of public evangelism. Robert Delafield and I, together with our wives, have been assured many times that our members held up our hands while we preached our message in different cities of western Washington. This is a heartfelt thanks for their support.

We have already held campaigns in Oak Harbor, Volunteer Park, Enumclaw, Snohomish and Everett as well as a shorter effort of two weeks in Marysville. How true it is that the evangelist alone cannot do much for the Lord's work, much less ever finish it. Neither can the layman. Nevertheless, a combination of the two will eventually bring God's cause to full fruition, terminating in the return of our Lord.

In every place we ended with as many in attendance as when we started and in several places with many more than on the opening night. Bob Delafield's golden powerful voice attracts old and young to each program and sets the stage for the lectures.

At least 70 souls have been added to the churches because God's Spirit accompanied our meetings during 1965. After the holidays we will launch out again; this time in Morton with January 15 the opening night. On March 12 we start at Port Townsend. The Morton campaign will be held in the new SDA church and in Port Townsend we expect to be in the town theater. We go every night of the week except Mondays. Please keep these dates and places in mind to remind your friends and relatives who may be residing in these areas.

Quilt Maker Is Honored

Mrs. Georgia Rupert presented a corsage to Mrs. Gippe for her amazing production of quilts for the Welfare Center.

Sabbath, December 4, the Snohomish church honored Mrs. Otille Gippe, 215 Avenue "A," for her remarkable record of supplying quilts for the Snohomish Health and Welfare Center.

Since the opening of the center a little over five years ago, Mrs. Gippe has made the greater portion of the 133 pieces of bedding given away. The unusable wool articles received at the Center are sent to Seattle to be made into reprocessed wool bats at a cost to the Center. Mrs. Gippe has made it her goal to make and sell at her home enough quilts to meet the cost of the bats, yarn, etc., needed. No record of the number of quilts sold has been kept, but with the treasurer's incomplete record, it is estimated that she made more than 300 quilts.

When the Center first opened, four or five quilts would be given out on Wednesday, the day the Center was open. In order to replenish the supply, Mrs. Gippe would work early and late so by the next Wednesday there would be quilts to meet the demand. She has said many times, "I just can't think of children sleeping cold."

In appreciation of her dedication and work, a short program was given preceding the church worship service recently, and she was presented with an orchid corsage.

Auburn Academy Wins Accreditation; Seniors, Juniors Elect Officers

◆ After intensive preparation, Auburn Academy has been fully accredited with the Northwest Accreditation Association.

Membership in the Association was voted in early December at a meeting in Spokane. To belong to the Association, the academy had to demonstrate that it maintains a good learning environment, high educational standards for its students, and high qualifications for its teachers.

The academy's plant and instructional program were evaluated by Association representatives and denominational educators last spring. This fall the teaching staff and operational methods were evaluated.

Of eighteen new schools applying for accreditation in Spokane, Auburn was one of only six that were fully accredited. Over 700 public and private schools in the Northwest are members of the Association.

◆ Auburn Academy seniors and juniors chose officers in organizational meetings Thursday evening, December 16.

The Auburn Academy Junior Class is under the leadership of Dave Rhynard, president, and Aileen Mitchell, vice-president.

Juniors elected Dave Rhynard, president; Aileen Mitchell, vice-president; John Rasmussen, spiritual vice-president; Brenda Barnhart, secretary; Zita Tadej, treasurer; Jim Stephens, sergeant-at-arms.

Upper Columbia Academy Choraliers in Winter Concert

Nearly one thousand people converged on Upper Columbia Academy for the annual winter concert of the Upper Columbia Academy Choraliers on Saturday night, December 11.

The Choraliers, directed by Mr. Lynn Wickham, is a select group of youth from the school trained and disciplined to near perfection in their musical performances.

The first half of the program laid emphasis especially on musical selections from the great masters, including

The Upper Columbia Academy Choraliers presenting the final selection of their winter concert, Saturday night, December 11.

Fifth French Suite, by Bach, and a group of Liebeslieder Waltzes by Brahms.

The last half of the program was a bit lighter and the highlights included excerpts from H. M. S. Pinafore by Gilbert and Sullivan and Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious, by Sherman. The last three numbers were done with the accompaniment of three of the students on their guitars.

Among the guests who attended this concert were several Roman Catholic priests from a nearby educational institution who expressed appreciation and delight, not only with the program, but with the splendid quality of students at Upper Columbia Academy.

School Newspaper at Toppenish, Washington

The church school at Toppenish, Washington, is one of the smaller schools in the Upper Columbia Conference, but this group has a special project not shared by many of its sister institutions.

Although the enrollment is only twelve, they have been publishing a school newspaper. This newspaper, with the enchanting name, Whispering Tepees (because it is near an Indian reservation), is published monthly. It contains news stories involving the school and its activities, and also some poems, and drawings or cartoons by the students. It is a very creative project and the issues published thus far have been well received.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Haley are the teachers.

MONTANA

Mount Ellis Academy News

◆ MV Weekend was held December 10 and 11 with services conducted almost entirely by the students.

Senior Dave Gordon, student body president, spoke for vespers Friday evening on the subject, "The Greatest Love Story Ever Told," declaring, "God's love is great and merciful. Everyone may have this love because God is no respecter of persons."

After discussing the humble everyday life of Jesus, Junior Dick Peterson, first speaker for church Sabbath morning, remarked, "We are to be like Jesus who set an example for us."

"Seventh-day Adventists are to be watchmen and light-bearers to the world. It is a work of solemn import. As Christ set an example for us to follow, we are to set examples for others to follow," challenged Junior Don Wiest, the second speaker.

For the Missionary Volunteer meeting Sabbath afternoon, a number of students took part in six short skits depicting various problems of young people today. Following this presentation, Dean Charles Stevens summoned six adults from the audience—Mr. Dale Davis, Mr. Leo Finkbinder, Mr. Robert Allaway, Mr. Frank King, Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, and Elder Ernest Schaak—and asked them for their observations on how the problems in the skits were handled.

Messages in song during the three meetings were vocal solos: Marie Vance, "Does Jesus Care?", for vespers; Ray Hooker, "This Is The Story of Jesus," for church; and Gayle Garver, "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow," for MV.

Christmas Music at MEA

Under the direction of Mrs. Lowell Nelson, choir, voice, piano, and organ instructor, the annual Christmas candlelight concert was held Friday evening, December 17, in the chapel.

The 43-voice choir presented most of the numbers which included, "Ye Servants of God," "Danish Christmas Round," "Fum, Fum, Fum," "Send Forth Thy Spirit," "Hear My Prayer," "He Came Here for Me," "Christmas Roundelay," and "With a Voice of Singing."

As the choir members marched in to begin the program, and as they left at the close, carrying lighted candles, they sang familiar carols.

"I Wonder As I Wander" and "Deep Within the Stable Mary Sweetly Sings" were presented by the Dynamics, a 24-member choral group first organized four years ago.

Four numbers, "Away in a Manger," "When Christmas Morn Is Dawning" (accompanied on the flute obligato by Mr. Maurice Crandall, band and instrument instructor), "A Christmas Folk Song," and "Do You Hear What I Hear?" (accompanied on the snare drum by Lonnie Dorgan) were sung by the girls' chorus, made up of the girls in choir.

A vocal solo, "O Holy Night," was sung by Mrs. Nelson.

Mr. Lowell Nelson, registrar and history and government teacher, was the moderator for the program, while Kathy Gildersleeve accompanied at the piano. Judy Jenkins and Kathy Way were the candlelighters.

The Gallatin Valley church school, under the direction of the teachers, Mrs. W. Dale Peterson and Miss Vivian Larson, presented a Christmas program in the academy chapel Monday evening, December 20, which included poems, group musical numbers, instrumental pieces, and skits.

Claude Barnett

a summer "Conference on Relativity in Undergraduate Physics for College Teachers," according to word received by President William H. Shephard from the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Claude Barnett, professor of physics and chairman of the physics department, has been named director of the Conference in Kretschmar Hall June 20 to July 8, 1966. The program is especially designed for college and junior college teachers who need further training in the concepts and teaching of relativity.

There have already been three summer three-week conferences on relativity in college physics. The first was a late summer conference at Cornell University in 1963. Dr. Barnett was one of the discussion leaders at this first conference. The following two were early summer conferences at Arlington State College, Arlington, Texas, in 1964 and 1965.

This year the site of the proposed conference was moved to the West Coast area and the date made later primarily to facilitate the attendance of those teachers in the far western part of the United States. The suggested number of participants is set at 40 to allow for effective lecture discussion.

In planning the program much use will be made of materials and ideas learned in previous conferences. While some broad planning is now beginning, says Dr. Barnett, the detailed planning will be carried out during the week immediately preceding the Conference. At that time all the staff will be on the WWC campus to devote full time to the planning.

Outstanding physicists in the field of relativity will make up the staff.

Kretschmar Hall, which houses physics, mathematics, and engineering departments on the WWC campus, is being made available for exclusive use for the Conference.
