North Pacific Union Water Safety Instructors Course

The North Pacific Union MV Department will conduct a water safety instructors' training course at Walla Walla College during the week of March 13 to 17 for anyone currently holding a senior lifesaving certificate and wishing to receive Red Cross certification in pool and water-front management. Applicants for this course should be eighteen years of age.

If there are those who have at one time held senior Red Cross lifesaving cards, or who are skilled in lifesaving procedures, it may be possible to put a limited number through the senior lifesaving course during the early part of the week. However, anyone coming with the intention of receiving both his senior Red Cross lifesaving and his WSI during this week should be in good shape physically and also in practice in the water and have a fair knowledge of the current lifesaving techniques.

There will be no charge for the course other than $1.00 for registration fee for materials and whatever expense the individuals will be put to for finding their own room and board.

Those interested should contact their local MV secretary to apply.

Significant Suggestive Statements

In 1905, the messenger of the Lord wrote: "There will be many converts from among the Jews, and these converts will aid in preparing the way of the Lord, and making straight in the desert a highway for our God. Converted Jews are to have an important part to act in the great preparations to be made in the future to receive Christ, our Prince."—Evangelism, p. 579.

Did you notice the expression "many converts from among the Jews;" and that they were "to have an important part to act in the great preparation?"

Are there any tangible evidences available today showing that Jews are accepting full salvation through Jesus Christ? The reader is left to decide this issue. During 1965, however, over one thousand Israelites enrolled in the Bible Correspondence Course for Jews and almost half of the enrollees finished the course and received certificates. The high percentage of students who completed the course is indicative of the fact that Jews are interested in the word of God. Surely, the Bible lessons are accomplishing their God given task, for the promise reads: "So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I send it."

In a special manner, however, the truth is to be presented to the Jews during these latter days in an attractive 32-page journal published quarterly, known as the Israelite. The plan for 1966 is for each Adventist family to avail themselves of this highly informative journal, study its pages in order to learn how better to present the truth to our Jewish friends, and then to subscribe to Israelite for one year for their Jewish acquaintances in order to present the truth to them. The journal can be ordered through your church missionary secretary or through your local Book and Bible House for only $1.00 per year. Plan to have your subscriptions cared for by the middle of March.

On Sabbath, March 19, a special offering will be taken in all the churches of North America, and the funds will help to send additional copies of Israelite to Jews living in large cities. Your thoughtful participation is greatly appreciated.

Story Hour Launched in Juneau

"Let those who desire to work for God begin at home, in their own household, in their neighborhood, among their friends. Here they will find a favorable missionary field. This home missionary work is a test, revealing their ability or inability for service in a wider field."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 428.

With this straight testimony from the pen of inspiration and sensing the urgent need for Child Evangelism in these last days, the Juneau Sabbath school, under the capable supervision of Dr. E. Stanley Ray, superintendent, is launching a new community service in this area. Sponsored by the women of the Sabbath school, a Story Hour has been started in several different neighborhoods in preparation for Vacation Bible School which will be conducted later in the summer. Because of the varied backgrounds of the children, some from Catholic homes and those of other denominations and others from atheistic families, it was felt that no undue publicity should be given to this program at the present time which might hinder its effectiveness. Mothers personally visited homes in their own neighborhoods, inviting the children individually and the response has been truly gratifying. Starting on Sabbath afternoon, February 5, and continuing each week, from 35 to 40 children from non-Adventist homes, in addition to those of members, have been in attendance in the various locations. Four locations have been designated for Sabbath afternoon and one for Sunday morning and an enthusiastic interest has been manifested in each neighborhood. Children have been telling their friends about the Story Hour and inviting them to attend.

For the Lemon Creek area, the program has been carried on at the home of Mrs. Paul Lutts; for Douglas, North Douglas and West Juneau, at the home of Mrs. Stanley Ray, and for the Juneau area proper, at three different locations, at the homes of Mrs. Lloyd Garnick, Walter Austin and Fortuna Odell.

Many hours of careful preparation have gone into this program to render it both interesting and constructive to the children. Songs, flannel graphs, pictures and other illustrations are being used very effectively. Three categories of stories are being presented each week during the hour—one nature, one character building and one well-known Bible story. Every effort is being carried out to make the Story Hour so appealing that a genuine interest in a wholesome way of life and a respect and admiration for God's word may be instilled in these young hearts, that in turn may strike a responsive chord in their own homes.

Story tellers include Mrs. Bill Evans, Mrs. Stanley Ray, Mrs. Fortuna Odell, Mrs. Kenneth Widstrand and Mrs. Paul Lutts. Alternates will also take part on occasion.

Juneau, Alaska's capital city, is a rapidly growing community and Sabbath school enrollment of non-Adventists has also been on the increase. The children's divisions are almost bursting at the seams and it is earnestly hoped that this new endeavor for expansion may result in many new members for all divisions. Juneau members earnestly solicit the prayers of sister churches in this vast Northland, that a mighty work may be accomplished in 1966.

Mount Ellis Academy

◆ Student-conducted week of devotion meetings were featured February 6-12 with morning and evening studies on the theme, "Footsteps of the Master." Elder Donald M. Wilson, pastor of the Bozeman church, assisted the students as guest speaker and counselor.

Speakers and their subjects included Steve Schultz, "In His Steps;" Orval Hardin, "In the Wilderness;" Jackie Slack, "At Cana;" Ray King, "With the Betrayer;" Lois Larson, "In Pilate's Hall;" Jim Dexter, "At Calvary;" Rex Davis, "At the Tomb," delivered at the eleven o'clock hour Sabbath, February 12.

◆ School board members met on campus and discussed plans for the coming year at the annual school audit Friday morning, February 4. A board-teacher fellowship dinner was held in the dining room of the academy the preceding evening, following which an inspection-tour of the school-operated Bear Canyon ski tow was conducted by Principal Clyde W. Smith, secretary of the Board.

◆ "Once involved with the law, that record will follow you for the rest of your life," declared Robert W. Evans, FBI agent, at the special meeting in the assembly hall Monday morning, February 7.

Mr. Evans, who is in charge of the FBI headquarters in Butte, talked about the Federal Bureau of Investigation and showed a film on the functions of the organization and the training of its men, after which he answered questions raised by students and teachers. ◆ Elder Ed Webb, North Pacific Union Conference Missionary Volunteer secretary, and Elder Ernest Schaak, Montana Conference MV secretary, visited the academy Friday through Sunday, February 4 to 6, representing the National Service Organization, which takes the place of the recently dissolved Medical Cadet Corps, and offered counsel to Adventist boys facing induction by means of lectures, films, and open-forum periods.

◆ "Little Peeks," Gallatin Valley church school's version of the Mount Ellis Peeks, the academy's school paper, under the editorship of Tyrone Ramsey, was published December 17 by the eighth-grade editorial staff.

The issue, a one-page mimeographed copy is, according to Mrs. W. Dale Peterson, upper-room teacher, to keep parents and students informed on school events and to give students practice in English composition and writing.

◆ Theta Tau Beta, the girls' club, entertained The Mountaineers, the boys' club, and faculty and staff members at a Valentine banquet, "An Evening in the Land of Hearts," Sunday evening, February 13. A program followed the dinner.

◆ Pastor Clark Welch, staff counselor at Hedges' Dormitory, Montana State University, Bozeman, was the speaker for the junior-sponsored Missionary Volunteer meeting Sabbath afternoon, February 12. Having arranged previous to the meeting to have mere acquaintances seated next to one another, the speaker conducted an experiment in having one partner talk while the other listened, and then reversing the arrangement. After the experiment Pastor Welch urged his hearers to express themselves and to become interested in others while maintaining honesty with oneself.

◆ Honor roll members for the first semester include 8 all A's, 21 A's and B's, and 15 B-average, Registrar Lowell Nelson announces.

All A's: Rosalie Crookes, Rae Depner, Glenn and Linda Greenwalt, Ray King, Lois Larson, Dick Peterson, and Sally Pratt.

Lay Evangelism in Pocatello

Revival meetings for the church members began in the Pocatello Seventh-day Adventist church on February 12, launching the greatest laymen evangelistic thrust in the history of the district. Following the revival meetings, which ended February 26, a door-to-door survey will be made of the entire city in an endeavor to enroll as many as possible in one of the Bible Correspondence courses: Faith for Today, Voice of Prophecy or Twentieth Century. If only one home in twenty enrolls, enrollments will surpass the 700 mark.

Directors of the program are Kenneth Dunton, home missionary leader, and Donald Nelson, assistant leader. The church membership has been divided into ten bands, with every member, active or inactive, placed in one of these bands. Each band has a territory and the entire city will be covered. The band leaders are Marvin Anderson, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Jon Bell, Mrs. Lena Carson, Mrs. Josephine Dayley, Mrs. Ethel Goins, Donald Nelson, Charles Reeser, Elder L. W. Shaw, and Mrs. Jessie Smith.

After the survey has been completed, a systematic follow-up program is planned. Regular contact will be maintained with each person who has enrolled in a Bible correspondence course, and assistance will be offered in completing the first lessons. A paperback book will be left every couple of weeks to supplement the correspondence lessons.

The Missionary Volunteer Society, under the direction of Mrs. Rose Reeser, is planning a School of Lay Evangelism. Classes in methods, Bible doctrines, denominational history and the art of obtaining decisions will be conducted on Friday evenings and two-thirds of the active membership is already enrolled. The students will endeavor to engage neighbors and interested people in personal Bible studies, preparing them for baptism.

The entire program will be climaxed by a Seminary Field School of Evangelism in July when Elders Bruce Johnston, Don Jacobsen and E. C. Banks, together with twenty ministerial students, hold a major evangelistic crusade in Pocatello. With the large interest list already developed by Charles Reeser, area colporteur, plus interests from Signs of the Times, Voice of Prophecy, Faith for Today, the correspondence schools, etc., and the interests which will be developed through this lay endeavor, it is hoped that 2,000 good interest names can be given to the evangelistic field school in early July. God is already blessing this enterprise as nearly 100 per cent participation has already been achieved among the active members.

Draftees! Attention!

"NOW HEAR THIS!"

If you are a potential draftee for service, to God and Country, you undoubtedly have some questions in your mind and heart that need clarification. If you do, you should plan now to attend a briefing session which will be held at Gem State Academy on March 13, beginning at 8 a.m. in the Chapel.

Your denomination is anxious to help you face your military obligations with the least amount of problems to you, to our country, and to our denomination.

Elder Ed H. Webb, the North Pacific Union Conference National Service Director, will be with us for the entire day to help answer your questions in regard to conscience, ground combatancy, summer MCC Camps, religion in the military, draft vs. enlistment, Sabbath observance in the military, military orientation, functions of the Selective Service, or any other subjects you may want to discuss.

Draft quotas are on the increase and many of you will be subject to call after school closes, so plan now to attend this meeting.

No charge will be made for this meeting except for the meals you may desire at the academy cafeteria. Wives are welcome. We plan to dismiss when all questions are answered.

Please let us know by return mail if you are coming. We would also appreciate your questions, in writing, in advance. No applications are necessary since this is only a one-day session; but, we do need to know how many to expect for meals.

Parent Visits Gem State Academy

I wish each parent and church member in the Idaho Conference could have been with me as a guest on the academy campus the weekend of February 5. Something happened that changed the attitude and thinking of the entire student body and everyone present.

The Student Week of Prayer had been in progress during the week and everyone had received a spiritual blessing from the topics presented by the student speakers. Dennis Sellers was the speaker for the Friday evening meeting. He deviated from his prepared talk and told about his life before he came to Gem State Academy this year, about the life he had led as a high school student, the temptations he had indulged in, and the final blow when his parents forced him to go to the Academy.

After many weeks of bitterness, his heart began to change until he finally gave his heart to the Lord. He pleaded with the other students to do likewise. "Do not be afraid someone will laugh at you," he said, "I don't care who laughs at me anymore. I want to follow my Lord and serve Him the rest of my life. This can be a new school. Won't you give your heart to the Lord tonight?"

The students began to come forward as the call was made, each in turn speaking before the microphone, dedicating their hearts and lives to Christ. The impact was tremendous! Students found themselves saying things they never dreamed they would say. The Lord was in their midst and working on their hearts. At 9:30 an attempt was made to close the meeting, but Elder Ringering was impressed to suggest that an invitation be extended to those who wished to remain. The meeting continued. The Holy Spirit was pleading with the hearts of the young people.

Deep in the soul of each youth a struggle was going on for right or wrong until right triumphed and he came forward to accept Christ as his Saviour. Students encouraged one another and pled with each other to accept Christ. Many testified two or three times. One youth asked for special prayer for his grandmother. He had just received word that she was expected to live only two hours. She was still living the next morning. The meeting continued until 11:30 and many met in prayer bands in their respective dormitories afterward to pray and encourage one another.

As Sabbath school convened the next morning the student superintendent, Bill Dodge, said, "Welcome to our new Gem State Academy Sabbath school this morning. It changed a great deal last night."

I gained a new insight into the spiritual aspects of student life at our Academy and it will be a memory I shall always cherish. No sacrifice is too great to see that our young people are placed in Christian schools. I count it a real privilege to have shared this wonderful evening with our students and faculty at Gem State Academy.

From the Sidewalk To the Living Room

The Tacoma 23rd Street MV Society in doing follow-up work on their sidewalk evangelism project, has moved from the cold wintry streets into the warm living rooms of potential members of the remnant church.

Of the nearly 300 contacts made on the sidewalks of Tacoma by our youth, many young people, along with their parents, have been introduced to our Voice of Prophecy Bible Studies. Our follow-up work consists of simply going to these homes and asking if they received their lessons, if they are studying them, and if they need any help. In this way new contacts are being made, other members of the family are being signed up and many have expressed a real interest in the studies.

Surely the Lord will reward the humble efforts of our young people by bringing forth a rich harvest from this number of contacts. We solicit your prayers to this end.

Wilderness Travel Education

The pussy willows have been out for several weeks. The Stellar Jays are here again. Buds are starting to form on a number of trees; the camellias are in bloom. New animals are born almost every day at the zoo.

These are signs that spring is just around the corner. Likewise it is nearing the time when people want to get out in the great outdoors. Recently twenty-five people donned warm clothing and equipped with cameras, light packs and snowshoes ventured out in the wonderful world of whiteness. It reminded me of Isaiah 1:18, "though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow." What a wonderful promise, and what is whiter than snow?

The trees, usually green, were covered with this same white mantle and beautiful to behold in their new unsoiled parkas. Do you know what came to my mind as I was thinking about that trip a day or so later? Though the trees are heavily laden with snow I have never heard one of them murmur or complain about its burden. Every tree seemed content to carry its load. We humans oftentimes are prone to complain about our burdens but this burden was a beauty to behold.

Some birds were present and carried on a cheery conversation making it even more wonderful. A raven came by to take a look at us and wish us a "good day." These creatures seemed not to have the problems we human creatures have. Many of us are not able to get around as well as they, especially when we stray a little from the beaten track.

Some people go wrong even on well travelled roads and trails. Almost every week we hear of some who failed to return at the time planned. Some just leave the trail and it necessitates sending out a rescue team, or someone slips and falls and needs help to get out. I have seen, on numerous occasions, on just ordinary hiking trips or snow parties, individuals inadequately dressed or equipped for the event. Because of this and due to a number of inquiries, the Outdoor Club is again offering a combination Wilderness Travel and Mountain Climbing Course. Most of the information given applies equally to both areas. One need not go mountain climbing because he takes the course. He may use it in his own travels. Safety will be stressed in such subjects as navigation, sleeping and eating, bare essentials, time, elements, etc.

This course will be offered in several places and you may choose any one you wish. Auburn, Seattle, Issaquah, Monroe, Enumclaw and Tacoma were listed in last week's GLENER. Check with your MV leader, Outdoor Club president, or pastor for dates. If you are fourteen years of age or older you may apply. This information is useful at teen-camp also; and remember we need to be trained in a well balanced way, heart, mind and body. Do not forget that we have no membership in the Outdoor Club as such. Membership is free. Small fees are charged when taking the Wilderness Travel Course. Become a member by joining any of the outings. Come along and have a good time in this togetherness.

A Soul-winning Work

"My brethren and sisters, remember that one day you will stand before the Lord of all the earth, to give an account of the deeds done in the body. Then your work will appear as it really is. The vineyard is large, and the Lord is calling for laborers. Do not allow anything to keep you from the work of soul saving. The canvassing work is a most successful way of saving souls. Will you not try it?"—Review and Herald, June 2, 1903.

The publishing secretary is happy to report to you that during the month of January the literature evangelists of the Upper Columbia Conference delivered over $10,000 worth of our truth-filled literature. Not only did the Lord bless in sales, but also five souls were baptized and another soul was reported baptized in the first week of February. For these blessings we give the Lord all the glory and praise. The canvassing work is ordained of God and it is a most successful way of winning souls. When we stand before the judgment throne of God, let us be ready to give a good report in soul saving.

If the Holy Spirit is calling you to the literature ministry, write to the office of the publishing secretary for full details in soul saving through the printed page.

Medical Ministry in Upper Columbia

Wenatchee chapter of the Life and Health Forum presented "Hearts, Sweethearts, and Husbands," a program on heart disease, in the Lincoln School Auditorium on Thursday evening, February 3. The guest speakers were Robert J. Hoxsey, M.D., and Fred E. Radloff, M.D., both internists from Wenatchee. The welcome was given by Elder William Clements, Medical Secretary of the Upper Columbia Conference; Dr. Lloyd Smith was program chairman; Dr. Robert E. Bolton was moderator of the question and answer period, and Elder Philip Welklin, president of the local chapter of the Life and Health Forum, announced the "Living in Balance" weight reduction program which started on February 10, and also the Five-day Program to Stop Smoking which will begin March 6. The program was well attended and enthusiastically received.

One hundred forty turned out for the first of our four Weight Reduction Program meetings which are being conducted each Thursday evening in the beautiful new P.U.D. building in East Wenatchee. A number have requested the Five-day Program to Stop Smoking, which will start Sunday evening, March 6.

On Monday, February 7, Dr. Walter Hart, Dr. Francis Thiel, and the staff of the Fairfield Clinic, conducted a diabetes screening program in the Worley, Idaho, high school. was great curiosity as to what use would be made out of the fruit.

During the worship period five servicemen were honored by the group, (four of them from Spokane), Larry Knauff, Alvy Aronson, Loren Clark, Jr., Gerald Belcher, and Major Earl T. Lee.

Each young person was asked to write a few lines of encouragement to the above men. These letters, along with five boxes of fresh and dried fruit, which had been brought to the social, have been sent to these Seventh-day Adventist servicemen.

At the conclusion of the worship, an Associated MV rally was announced for February 26.

The Youth Pastor states that plans are being made to conduct one "Social to Save" each month in the interest of our youth.

National Service Organization Weekend at Upper Columbia Academy

Approximately one hundred seventy-five young men assembled on the campus of Upper Columbia Academy, February 11-13, for special instruction regarding how a Seventh-day Adventist youth can face the challenge of the draft in accordance with his religious convictions.

On Friday evening, Elder Paul Gordon of Upper Columbia Academy spoke to the youth on the subject of conscience and its claims upon the individual.

Early Sabbath morning and on Sabbath afternoon and Saturday night, Elder Ed H. Webb, MV Secretary for the North Pacific Union, presented valuable information on the Seventh-day Adventist position of non-combatancy, and gave detailed instruction relative to draft questionnaires, classifications, and military life. Saturday night the army film, "True Glory," was shown.

On Sabbath morning Elder Charles G. Edwards, MV Secretary of the Upper Columbia Conference, presented the unique position of Seventh-day Adventists in the matter of Sabbath observance and its claims upon the individual.

The youth were eager in asking questions, and many expressed heartfelt appreciation for the instruction and inspiration given.

Spokane Youth Have Social to Save

Saturday night, February 12, Spokane Youth Pastor Will Degeraty introduced to the Spokane youth a "Social to Save." Ninety youth were in attendance at the social which was held at the Darigold Social Hall. These socials have been designed for MV youth of ages 15-30.

The theme for this social was "The Patriotic Heart." Posters and advertisements carried the patriotic theme.

When all the youth had convened, the blessing of the Lord was asked on the evening's activities. Youth became better acquainted through a mixer game. Relays were used under the titles, "George Washington's Wonderland" and "Abraham Lincoln's Abode."

Each MV youth was asked to bring a piece of his favorite fruit. There

Regional Public Relations Workshops In Upper Columbia

On February 14-16, three regional Public Relations workshops were held in the Upper Columbia Conference under the direction of Elder Charles G. Edwards, Upper Columbia PR Secretary, Elder B. M. Preston, North Pacific Union PR Secretary, and Elder E. W. Tarr, General Conference PR Secretary. Many PR secretaries of local churches and pastors attended the meetings. They are pictured from top to bottom: Wenatchee Regional Group, Spokane Regional Group, Pasco Regional Group. The loyal, devoted service of the PR secretaries is greatly appreciated.

Evangelistic Crusade in Grandview

January 29 marked the opening night of the "It is Written" evangelistic series being conducted in the church at Grandview, Washington. Elder W. H. Ward, pastor of the church, is leading out in the meetings, assisted by Conference Singing Evangelist J. N. Brown, and Union Singing Evangelist Sunny Liu.

The meetings are being held on four nights each week, and a large attendance of both members and visitors has encouraged the evangelistic team. The prayers of our people are solicited for the success of this venture.

Church Development In Brewster

Enthusiastic plans for building a new church in Brewster keynoted the fellowship dinner held at the Community Church annex Sunday night, January 30.

Members of the congregation applauded decisions which have been voted by the board for a 3-year fundraising plan with the anticipated building in 1969.

Pastor Don Copsey, church development secretary of the Upper Columbia Conference, revealed that a generous and sacrificial pledge program was underway. He noted that an earlier building date is possible in correlation with a faster accumulation of funds.

Dr. Harold Lamberton, general chairman of the program, recalled various stages of growth of the local Adventist church and reflected on the days when his brothers, sisters, mother and father made up the entire membership of the little congregation. Currently the church membership is approximately 100.

Other speakers for the evening were Dr. Harold Stout, Initial Gifts Chairman; Dr. Fred Schnibbe, Teams Chairman; and Pastor Don Bauer. Dr. Warren Ottman, Special Gifts Chairman, and Team Captains, Dr. Robert Baker, Wilmer Wysong, and Stanley Johnson, gave brief impromptu messages of support for the program.

In a fitting February theme of red and white, the main centerpiece bore the Biblical question, "Lovest Thou Me?" Hearts intertwined above the plaque and white tapers rose from red-ribboned holders. Red tapers were lighted at the other tables where white and red hearts also formed attractive conversation pieces. Mrs. Robert Baker was arrangements chairman, Mrs. Charles Hutchison was in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Fred Schnibbe served as hostess chairman.

The intensive phase of the church development program is now completed with a total of $54,000 committed greatly exceeding the $40,000 objective that was set by the church. In the next few days we expect to go beyond the $60,000 mark, for which we are all very thankful. We are also happy to report that our $6,400 academy goal is now assured.

The Brewster church was united on every decision relative to the program and gave enthusiastic support. The members are now united in a systematic and sacrificial plan of giving which is proving to be a blessing to all. The Lord has blessed beyond all expectations.

Academy Band Tours

The Upper Columbia Academy Concert Band began its series of winter tours with a sacred concert in Endicott, January 15, and traveled to Lewiston for the evening secular concert. Each church gave the band a warm welcome and a meal the band members will long remember.

Friday evening, January 28, saw the band at Moses Lake for an evening sacred concert. Early the next morning the group traveled to Wenatchee for church. An afternoon sacred program was given in the beautiful Wenatchee church and the evening secular concert was given at a local school auditorium to an overflow crowd.

On Sabbath, February 19, the band performed in Hermiston and Pasco and the following week gave their annual home concert at the U.C.A. auditorium following the annual alumni basketball game.

The band starts its evening program with a section portraying the events of the Civil War. Featured in this section is the "American Civil War Fantasy" by Jerry Bilik. Selections by the brass sextet, classic and flamenco guitar selections by Dan Myers come later, and the program closes with a long time favorite, Ferde Grofe's, "On the Trail."

The band wishes to thank the many people who have extended the hospitality of their homes to the band members, making their trips so enjoyable.

Academy Class Organizations

By the time this article goes to press the students and staff of Upper Columbia Academy will have recognized the senior class in the Recognition Day activities, Wednesday, February 23. The guest speaker, Dr. George Thompson, physician and educator from Clarkston, Washington, addressed the class on the subject of "The Three R's of Education."

While speaking of recognition, the academy wishes to acknowledge the two upper classes which have been organized for some time. The basis for class organization is the second six-weeks' grades. These come out at Thanksgiving time and enable the classes to organize at the beginning of December. Chosen to lead the senior class this year is Mark Rockwell, a student of four years' residence in this school from Sunnyside, Washington. Mark has demonstrated his leadership ability as the first semester Associated Student Body president and promoter of the $25,000 campaign for the purchase of a new school bus. His enthusiasm and leadership have been primary factors contributing to the more than $20,000 raised to date. With confidence that the job will be completed we have placed an order for the new bus that is due for delivery not later than May 10.

Assisting Mark as vice president is another student who has spent all four years on this campus, Lee Ann Reiber of Troy, Idaho. The other senior class officers include: secretary, Karen Reiber, Newport, Washington; treasurer, Mici Walter from Colfax, Washington; chaplain, Jim Edwards of Spokane, Washington; sergeant at arms, Fred Mechling, Orofino, Idaho; chorister, Dianna Magnuson of Endicott, Washington; pianist, Jim Klein of Clarkston, Washington; organist, Gail Cafferky, Spokane, Washington.

In a boarding school such as this it is unusual for the two top officers of a class to come from the same home town. In the case of the junior class, the president, Dick Thorp, and the vice president, Judy Cole, are both residents of Moses Lake, Washington. Other supporting officers of the junior class are: secretary, Charla Freeman of College Place, Washington; treasurer, Mike Lorren from Pendleton, Oregon; chaplain, John Hissey from Pendleton, Oregon; sergeant at arms, Carl Garver of College Place, Washington; pianist, Kathy Todorovich of Spokane, Washington; organist, Cherie Beddoe of Pasco, Washington; and chorister, Greg Smith of Sunnyside, Washington.

The members of the junior and senior classes are to be congratulated on the selection of a fine group of officers to lead the activities of the upper classes.

Industrial Arts Students Build Campers

Upper Columbia Academy is proud of its Industrial Arts training program. In every aspect we have tried to make this as practical as possible, teaching those who enroll the ability to use their hands and to employ them in a practical way. The picture accompanying this article shows the first of three campers which the Advanced Woodwork Class is building during the course of this school year. This particular camper is an 11½ foot one, built for D. E. Bartholomew of Nine Mile Falls and is mounted on a one ton truck.

The second of three campers now under construction is nearing completion. The camper now being built is a 10½ foot job made to go on a ¾ ton pickup. The third and final camper to be built this year will be a 12 foot one, designed to fit on a one ton truck. I might say that all three of these campers have been ordered in advance and are being custom made to meet the individual's desire.

We believe that such practical projects as building campers helps the young men to become familiar with the basic components of any type of construction, from the roughing in of the project through to the finished project. Pictured here standing in front of the camper is the instructor, Mr. Robert Freitas, on the extreme left, and the six students who worked with him on the camper. They are, from left to right, Andy Turner, Lyman Fritz, Merlin McDow, Lowell Jones and Earl Brown.

Information Wanted

Beaverton church members are seeking the whereabouts of three fellow members. Missing are Mr. Joe Cartwright and Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. (Gerry) Adams. Those with knowledge of more recent addresses are asked to write: Mrs. Helen Fried, Clerk, Beaverton Church, 2820 SW 216th Avenue, Aloha, Oregon.

Bible Films for the Deaf

A new tool for evangelism among the deaf of North America is being developed by a group of workers under the leadership of Elder Wesley Amundsen, Secretary of North American Division of the General Conference.

Leading figures in the group working together on this project are Arthur Griffith, script writer and sign speaker; Thomas J. Fromm, singer in signs and also a speaker; L. R. Hixson of Pacific Press, advisor and coordinator of the reading committee.

Members of the reading committee are Mrs. E. H. Adams of Mountain View, California, who with her husband, the late E. H. Adams, was a pioneer worker for the deaf; Prof. Harrell Bassham of Andrews University; Rex F. Rolls, Central and Northern California Conferences minister to the deaf; H. Neil Davidson, Southern California Conference minister to the deaf; and Gaston Wallace, a former book editor of Southern Publishing Association who knows the sign language.

On January 20 Brother Griffith, minister to the deaf of the Oregon Conference, was flown to New York, and the next day was taken by Elder Amundsen and Herbert Hohensee of Faith For Today, to meet with the management of Charter Oak Films, Inc. which has contract for the project, and plans for the filming were set. At his own expense, plus the donations of friends of the project, Brother Fromm, a layman, flew from Oakland, California, the next week. Assisted by Brother Hohensee, Brethren Griffith and Fromm made their final preparations, and five half-hour films were shot at Charter Oak Studio, January 28.

At this writing, the films shot have not yet been received from processing, but there is every reason to be confident of success. Five more films are scheduled for later this year. Titles of the five shot January 28 are as follows:

1. What Jesus Said About The Holy Bible
2. What the Bible Says About Jesus Christ
3. What Jesus Said About Your Enemy, The Devil
4. What Jesus Said About Salvation
5. What Jesus Said About His Second Coming

The plan of the project is to make 8mm copies for use in home movie projectors. These will be made available to hundreds of lay workers for the deaf, all over the country. For use in churches, and halls to stimulate interest in the deaf and recruit more lay workers, 16mm copies will also be made. Sound may later be put in these larger films for the benefit of hearing audiences who would then be able to follow "the language of the hands and eyes."

The language of the hands we take
To tell of Jesus' love
And how from earth He went to make
A home for us above.
Though not with voice or tongue we tell
This story sweet and true—
The deaf may hear, clear as a bell,
His call, so old, yet new.

"I Want Some Boots!"

"I want some boots! I want some boots! Oh, Mommy, they don't have any for me!" sobbed a small boy at the McMinnville Welfare Center. The ladies who had been trying to find the much-needed boots were almost equally regretful as they saw the lad's disappointment overflow in tears. Shoes are one of the items most difficult to keep in stock, according to Mrs. Celia Giffin, leader of the Dorcas Welfare work. "We are not always able to supply all the requests we have," she said.

Marking the twelfth anniversary of the opening of the center, a report was given the McMinnville church on Sabbath, January 29, by Dorcas secretary, Mrs. Beulah Griffith. It revealed that in the twelve-year period 69,308 articles of clothing and shoes had been given to those in need of assistance. In addition, more than 26,000 garments were sent overseas for use in disaster areas.

Besides wearing apparel, the Center has distributed 471 pieces of furniture,

1,177 pairs of curtains, 2,934 toys, 631 quilts plus an almost equal number in pieces for quilt tops, 46 mattresses, 36 bedsprings, and many miscellaneous items such as ironing boards, irons, dishes, silver, cooking utensils, coat hangers, rugs, towels, jars for canning, and even used patterns and zippers.

Food also has been distributed in the amount of over 4,000 quarts of canned goods, and 4,000 plus pounds of other foodstuffs.

Fires in the area are always a challenge to the ladies at the Center. Twenty-four families suffering loss from fires in their homes have been supplied with clothing, bedding and many other articles according to the report.

In her remarks, Mrs. Giffin praised the generosity of people in the community for donating articles they no longer use, for distribution through the Center. "When people realize that we are merely acting as a distribution center for them their attitude changes," she said.

Supplying first their physical needs, they often find the needy people susceptible to spiritual help also. From the supply of literature they keep on hand, 26,803 missionary magazines and pamphlets, 670 books, 37 Bibles have been given. "People just pick out what they want and ask us for it," Mrs. Giffin said. "We don't have to urge them to take it. The only reason we haven't given more Bibles is that we don't have them!"

Tribute was paid to the late Dr. H. C. Menkel who purchased the property where the present Welfare Center stands and donated it to the church to be used for this purpose.

Steady progress is being made on the construction of the new building at 14th and Logan Streets which will replace the present structure. This new facility will be much more commodious and representative and will permit more adequate display and storage as Mrs. Giffin and her faithful crew continue to donate their time to serve their community.

Milo Academy Honor Roll

Two honor rolls are out for Milo Academy—the grades for the third six weeks and also for the first semester. Thirteen and a half percent of the student body earned a grade point average of 3.50 or above for the six weeks' period, and twelve and a half percent did it for the semester. Just over eighteen percent earned a GPA of 3.00 to 3.49 for the six weeks' period and the same for the semester. This means that nearly one-third of our student body is earning a B average or better. This is commendable!

Those deserving honor at this time are: Seniors: Rita Bowman, Kay Burdick, *Steve Campbell, Gayle Cook,

Juniors: Judy Amundson, Cindy Hoatson, *Ron Jolliffe, Barbara Noble.

Freshmen: Donovan Noble, Gwen Park, LuWana Woodruff.

Laymen Lived and Practiced; God Worked

When the Voice of Prophecy and TV Bible Class Crusade came to an end at Forest Grove on February 12 at least one thing was evident. When church members are real Christian neighbors and professional men manifest Christian principles in their professions, souls are won for God and His kingdom.

The Knowles-Hiner-Lindfors Team enjoyed a most wonderful cooperation during the entire campaign. To the teenage ushers, hostesses, nursery supervisors, pastors' families and many others we say, "Thank you for a job well done."

The success of this campaign is, of course, due to the work of the Holy Spirit. But as the team members visited in the homes of interested families and asked how they became interested the answers often were something like this: "My neighbor is a Seventh-day Adventist, and you could not want a better neighbor." Or, "My doctor (or dentist) is a Seventh-day Adventist."

We thank God for our faithful members and their living testimonies. There was rejoicing in heaven as well as in the hearts of these faithful members as 53 souls were baptized and brought into the fold, adding members at Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Laurelwood, and Gaston.

Average attendance for each evening of the series neared the 500 mark. May the spirit of soul-winning and soul-keeping linger long in the Forest Grove area.

ROLF LINDFORS

At the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce, Stayton churches were asked to decorate store windows with the theme, "Let's Put Christ Back into Christmas." Pastor Robert Letcher's group pointed to the church as the doorway to the best gifts: security, contentment, happiness, forgiveness, and love.

God's Will in Yours

To Seventh-day Adventists a Last Will and Testament is more than just a legal document in which a guardian of minor children is named and instructions concerning the distribution of the estate are given.

God's people may witness for the Truth not only while living, but the spirit of liberality and dedication as expressed in the Will becomes a witness as a public record of love and obedience to God from Whom all blessings flow.

A lawyer should be consulted in the preparation of a Will. He will ask for the legal name of the church organization you wish to remember in your Will. The legal name is Western Oregon Conference Association of Seventh-day Adventists.

The Trust Agreement plan can almost always achieve the same results as a Will in regard to the distribution of the estate. The plan, furthermore, practically eliminates all court costs and delays, as well as legal fees.

For more information concerning the Trust Agreement plan, write to Elder H. A. Peckham, Field Representative, 605 S.E. 39th Avenue, Portland, Oregon.

Christmas Thank Offering At Scappoose

Despite the closing of Ingathering and the receiving of the 13th Sabbath offering on Christmas last December, both totals set new records. The 13th Sabbath offering for the Oregon Conference was $27,981.32 and Ingathering reached $172,981.02.

The 175 members at Scappoose set a new record for themselves. Never before have their combined 13th Sabbath and Thank offerings totaled more than $175. In 1965 the 13th Sabbath offering alone was $375. Mrs. Myrtle Bighaus, acting superintendent, led the procession who "brought their gifts to Jesus."

Earliteen leaders were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eckert; juniors, Mrs. Laura Harding and Mrs. Mary Plahn; primary, Mrs. Margie Brown; kindergarten and cradle roll, Ada Meador and Grace Tillotson. The children had saved in gold- and silver-covered boxes.

Band and Orchestra Concert

A Band and Orchestra Clinic, first event dated in the new Walla Walla College Fine Arts Center, will attract nearly 100 musicians and secondary school music students to the campus March 3-5, says Professor H. Lloyd Leno, director of bands at WWC and clinic host. Climax will be the Saturday evening concert, March 5, in Columbia Auditorium.

A clinic for orchestra students will be conducted by Glenn Spring, director of WWC's orchestra.

Guest artist for the clinic and for the Saturday evening concert will be Mitchell Lurie, Los Angeles, currently solo clarinetist with the Walt Disney Studio Orchestra and other recording orchestras.

Music department faculty from Whitman College and Walla Walla College and music directors from nine Northwest academies will direct clinic sectional classes.

The 72 students chosen from recorded taped performances to participate in the clinic are to be congratulated, says Mr. Leno, who extends an invitation to Northwest constituents to hear the young people in the March 5, Saturday evening, program. Admission will be charged.

Band Plays for Governor Hatfield

Oregon Governor Mark Hatfield spoke to the Walla Walla College Concert Band members Friday, February 11, at the Capitol Building in Salem where the instrumental group had played for Oregon executives and visitors.

Speaking to the youth as members of the Seventh-day Adventist church to whom the Governor has spoken at Gladstone, Oregon, camp meetings, the State executive emphasized the need in America of church-affiliated schools.

"Today's emphasis," he said, "is on materialism. Materialism and science are becoming marks of the present generation."

Music and other of the fine arts make an important contribution to today's world. Governor Hatfield complimented the group and its conductor, Professor H. Lloyd Leno, on the fine quality of WWC music.
