OUR RESPONSIBILITY TO THE BLIND

THEODORE CARCICH

Vice President, North America

In addition to the great number already sightless, an estimated 32,000 people in the United States and Canada will go blind during the next twelve months. This startling fact should shock Seventh-day Adventists into facing up to their responsibility to these unfortunate people.

First of all, each Seventh-day Adventist pastor, church officer and church member should know that the Christian Record Braille Foundation, Inc. is a denominational publishing house whose whole purpose is to produce literature and tapes for the sightless. Located in Lincoln, Nebraska, this institution provides Sabbath School Quarterlies, Bible correspondence courses and books such as Desire of Ages, Great Controversy and others in Braille.

Who pays for the production of this message-filled literature in Braille?

None other than the Seventh-day Adventist churches through an offering received every other year. This year the Christian Record offering will be received on Sabbath, May 21.

In order to furnish the growing number of sightless people in 1966-67 with Adventist literature and services, we need an offering of $100,000. This is our responsibility to the blind in our midst and it cannot be delegated to others. Please place a generous offering in the envelope and mark it "Christian Record" on Sabbath, May 21.

S O S Call

It is not often that we come to our people with an urgent S O S call, but when we do we have found a wonderful response. We are coming to you now with such a call and asking every member to act immediately to help circulate petitions for the securing of signatures of registered voters in the State of Washington to support Initiative 229, that it may be placed on the ballot in the State of Washington.

This Initiative involves the repeal of certain Blue Laws still on the statute books in the State of Washington. The circumstances surrounding this Initiative have so developed that the North Pacific Union Conference committee in counsel with General Conference personnel recently voted to call upon every member in the State of Washington to actively participate in the securing of at least 200,000 signatures. This is the time to show our strength. If each member would secure a minimum of 20 names we would be assured of success. This will mean, of course, that many of our active church members will need to secure several hundred signatures in order to be assured of the total number needed.

Some temperance organizations, not of our faith, have given wrong impressions of Initiative 229 by misleading statements that have been made and publicized. We trust that our appeal will immediately be taken up by our pastors and members alike to accept the challenge. We have only four weeks in which to get these signatures. We urge immediate action.

Further directives will be coming through your church pastors and officers. Let us pray that the Lord will help us do our part to protect the issues of freedom in this trying hour.

SERVICEMEN'S FUND

OFFERING—MAY 14, 1966

GIVE FOR A GENEROUS OVERFLOW

We appreciate immensely the earnest support that our people give regularly to these General Conference offerings to promote the world work.

W. J. Hackett, President
North Pacific Union Conference of S.D.A.

Thrilling stories and letters have come from many of our servicemen overseas telling how they have made use of the literature which the denomination has furnished them while they are in the service.

Our Seventh-day Adventist boys in the armed services have often held meetings and brought many of the young men in the service to a knowledge of the Truth. A recent report of our servicemen's retreat in Germany, given by Clark Smith, reveals how many young men were there who had a real interest in the Adventist message and some who had requested baptism.

We are encouraging all of our constituents in the North Pacific Union Conference to give liberally to our Servicemen's Literature Fund offering, to be taken in all of our churches on May 14.

CALL TO PRAYER

Vice President, North America

In just a little while—June 16-25—delegates from all over the world will gather in Detroit, Michigan, for the 50th World Session of the General Conference. At this important convocation the delegates will select leaders and perfect plans for the ensuing quadrennium.

Never before has the Seventh-day Adventist Church been confronted with problems and opportunities of such vast magnitude. Faced as they are with the tensions and trials of the last days, the world delegates stand in need of a fuller understanding of God's will and grace to follow the counsels of Holy Writ and the Spirit of prophecy.

Sensing this great need on the part of all, the General Conference Committee recently appealed to ministry and laity alike to seek God earnestly in behalf of the coming session. The brethren appealed "That a call to prayer be issued to our world membership, and that a special period of intercession, in public and private worship, begin Sabbath, June 4, and continue until the close of the General Conference session, Sabbath, June 25."—Spring Meeting Minutes, April 5-7, 1966.

I am confident that our people and churches in North America will join in praying that God's Holy Spirit will brood over the world assembly in Detroit and that all decisions will meet with God's approval.

Doctrinal Services for Blind and Visually Handicapped People

Our denomination provides the following doctrinal services for non-Seventh-day Adventists as well as for our own church members; and all these services are entirely free to all of them, regardless of race, national background, religion or economic status:

1. Faith Bible Course—in braille and on records.
2. Twentieth Century Bible Course—in braille and on records.
3. Faith for Today Bible Course—in braille.
4. Sabbath School lessons—in braille and on tapes.
5. Series of tracts—in braille.
6. The Conflict of the Ages Series—in braille.
7. Annual Week of Prayer Readings—in braille and on tapes.
8. Regular weekly broadcasts of the Voice of Prophecy—on tapes.
9. Dimensions in Salvation, Ministry of Healing, Christ's Object Lessons, God Speaks to Modern Man, and other books—in braille. Several on tapes.
10. First half of a Bible course in Spanish—on tapes.

Several hundred blind persons are studying our Bible correspondence courses. One just wrote: "Your Bible course on records surely opened our eyes. We did not know the Bible could be so fascinating. I wish we had taken your course years ago."

Seventh-day Adventists Mr. and Mrs. John C. Larabee of Marquette, Michigan, wrote: "We send you our heartfelt thanks for the wonderful clarity and precious way that you put the Sabbath School lessons on tapes. They are wonderful and without them we never could learn the Sabbath School lessons as we do."

Please tell blind and visually handicapped members and non-members about these free services which the church offering on May 21 will make possible.

Catholic Priest Responds to Faith for Today Telecast

An interview feature with Brazilian missionaries, Pastor and Mrs. Merlin Kretschmar, on a Faith for Today telecast triggered an immediate response from a Roman Catholic priest. He was interested in their account of devil worship as it takes place in lands overseas. He wrote the telecast offices and his response gives an idea of the impact Faith for Today makes week after week as it goes out over the air. Here is a portion of his letter:

"I was very pleased, in fact delighted, with the program 'Interview with Brazilian Missionaries' presented this morning. I am disappointed that I did not get the first part of the program. Would there be any way that I could obtain a copy of the information presented on this program or perhaps would it be possible to "Diabolical possession such as was described so well on the program is not so well known nowadays, and whenever it is mentioned people tend to be very unbelieving. No wonder the devil can do so much harm in the world when there are so many who do not even believe that he exists.

"Congratulations on a fascinating program."

Give Your "Help"

One of the interesting chapters in the Bible is I Corinthians 12, which pictures the organization and function of the church, the body of Christ. In I Cor. 12:27-28 various spiritual gifts are listed which are to have an important part in God's work. One of these is "helps."

Every worthwhile project, in order to succeed, must be surrounded with helpers. Sometimes these individuals are unseen; nevertheless, they are vital to the success of the work. The same is true with soul-winning. One vital aspect in spreading the gospel is that of "helps," an important ministry "set in the church" by God. Each of us has the opportunity of becoming heaven's helpers in bringing souls to Christ. Every member should look upon himself as a helper.

Now one of the best ways to be a "helper" in bringing God's message to others is through the use of Signs subscriptions. The Signs missionary magazine is a powerful tool for bringing Bible truth to others. Note these statements:

"The publications sent forth from our printing houses are to prepare a people to meet God. Throughout the world they are to do the same work that was done by John the Baptist for the Jewish nation." C.E.W., p. 178.

"The pen, dipped in the fountain of pure truth, can send beams of light to the dark corners of the earth, which will reflect its rays back, adding new power, and giving increased light to be scattered everywhere." C.E.W., p. 180.

May we ask, "Have you launched your personal Signs soul-winning project for 1966?" Now is the time to prepare your list of names and addresses to receive Signs this year. Prepare your Signs order now.

It is urgent that our Signs orders be given to the church missionary secretary soon. The Signs crusade deadline of May 31 is rapidly approaching.

It is the privilege of every Seventh-day Adventist church member to be a booster in Signs soul winning. Give your help now!

Last Appeal for the Servicemen

Thousands of our boys are now serving or will soon serve in the armed forces of their country. Hundreds are risking their lives in Viet Nam. Some have already made the supreme sacrifice. As they report for the military, do your part in supporting them with a generous offering to the Servicemen's Literature Fund to be taken in all of our churches Sabbath, May 14.

Mrs. Irwin, the former Miss Mary Monroe, is one of ten children of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Monroe, now living in Santa Clara, Calif. She was baptized when she was 13 at the College Place Village church and attended church schools in Corvallis, Ore., and at College Place, Wash. A sister, Mrs. H. E. ## What Would You Do?

(Mail your questions and suggestions to Archa O. Dort, General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Washington, D. C. 20012.)

Question: I know we ought to send our children to church school but what can we do when the school is too far away and the child is too young to go alone?

Answer: Move. Families are moving every day for less reasons than the salvation of a child. Business people select the best location they can afford. It pays. Parents who love their children will move to the best location for their welfare.

Question: What should guide us in selecting the location for a home?

Answer: "As the location for a home is sought, let this purpose direct the choice. Be not controlled by the desire for wealth, the dictates of fashion, or the customs of society. Consider what will tend most to simplicity, purity, health, and real worth."—Ministry of Healing, p. 363.

Question: What do the cities have to offer?

Answer: "The world over, cities are becoming hotbeds of vice. On every hand are the sights and sounds of evil. Everywhere are enticements to sensuality and dissipation. The tide of corruption and crime is continually swelling."—Id., p. 363.

Question: What is our first consideration?

Answer: "Few realize the importance of shunning, so far as possible, all associations unfriendly to religious life. In choosing their surroundings, few make their spiritual prosperity the first consideration."—Country Living, p. 5.

Question: Who controls children who have nothing to do?

Answer: "Parents flock with their families to the cities, because they fancy it easier to obtain a livelihood there than in the country. The children, having nothing to do when not in school, obtain a street education. From evil associates, they acquire habits of vice and dissipation. The parents see all this, but it will require a sacrifice to correct their error, and they stay where they are, until Satan gains full control of their children."—Id., p. 5.

Question: On which will you sacrifice your wealth?

Answer: "Better sacrifice any and every worldly consideration than to imperil the precious souls committed to your care. They will be assailed by temptations, and should be taught to meet them; but it is your duty to cut off every influence, to break every habit, to sunder every tie, that keeps you from the most free, open, and hearty committal of yourselves and your family to God."—Id., p. 5.

Question: What is a good location for children?

Answer: "The time has come, when, as God opens the way, families should move out of the cities. The children should be taken into the country. The parents should get as suitable a place as their means will allow. Though the dwelling may be small, yet there should be land in connection with it, that may be cultivated."—Ms. 50.

Question: What is the best gift you can give your child?

Answer: "Better than any other inheritance of wealth you can give to your children will be the gift of a healthy body, a sound mind, and a noble character."—Ministry of Healing, p. 366.

Question: What is one thing that will help to soften and refine a home?

Answer: "Nearly all dwellers in the country, however poor, could have about their homes a bit of grassy lawn, a few shade trees, flowering shrubbery, or fragrant blossoms.... They will bring into the homelife a softening, refining influence, strengthening the love of nature, and drawing the members of the household nearer to one another and nearer to God."—Id., p. 370.

Question: What is a good investment for any couple?

Answer: "Fathers and mothers who possess a piece of land and a comfortable home are kings and queens."—Fundamentals, p. 327.

Scholarships for Student Missionaries

WWC's MV student missionary program received official assistance when the College Board of Trustees, meeting last week on the college campus, voted two $400 scholarships one each to the student missionary from the College Place and the Portland School of Nursing campuses, respectively.

Rod Todorovich, who will be a junior theology student, will spend the summer in Bahia, Sergipe, Brazil, a field in which WWC alumnus, Elder Merlin Kretschmar, is president. Todorovich will be dividing his time between work with Captain L. S. Scofield on the river launch, Luminar II, and with Evangelist Ron Bottsford.

Lorraine Mittleider, Bellingham, Washington, a senior in the School of Nursing next year, will spend the summer at the Clinica Stahl where Dr. E. E. Rippey of Portland, also a WWC alumnus, is medical director.

West Coast MV Seminar Convenes at Walla Walla

On Wednesday night, April 20, the West Coast MV Collegiate Seminar convened on the campus of Walla Walla College. This group includes delegates from the MV Societies of all the colleges in the western part of North America. Five colleges were represented: Canadian Union College, Walla Walla College, Pacific Union College, Loma Linda University, and La Sierra College.

The chairman of the meeting was Dick Hart, MV leader at Walla Walla College, and all committees were chairmanned by college students. Advisors for the Seminar were Elder John Hancock, Associate MV Secretary of the General Conference; Brock Wells, MV Secretary, Canadian Union Conference; Ed Webb, MV Secretary, North Pacific Union Conference; Miller Brockett, MV Secretary, Pacific Union Conference; and Charles Edwards, MV Secretary, Upper Columbia Conference.

The reports of these youth groups included many thrilling experiences in Share Your Faith Activities, Community Service, and Campus Evangelism. There was a dynamic, vital enthusiasm pervading the entire meet, and delegates expressed determination to return to their schools to do greater exploits for Christ. The student missionaries who were present also gave many stirring reports of their work in mission fields.

Bold and daring new programs have been launched by these youth, ranging from plans to raise up a new church in Northern California to mission work among Indians in Montana. These Adventist youth are a splendid example of the finest qualities found in young people today.

Station Relation Director

Recently selected to serve as station director for Faith for Today is Franklin Hudgins, radio-television secretary and public relations director of the Ohio Conference. In Ohio, Pastor Hudgins has done outstanding work contacting stations for the Faith for Today telecast and conducting television rallies. He has also arranged for numerous Faith for Today exhibits.

A graduate of Union College,

Lincoln, Nebraska, in 1950, Pastor Hudgins received his Bachelor of Arts degree in theology.

Before moving to his Ohio post, Pastor Hudgins served as a pastor, and home missionary and Sabbath school departmental secretary in the Oklahoma and Missouri conferences.

At Union College Pastor Hudgins was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, 1950. He was president and business manager of the college annual, the Golden Cords, at Union College and chairman of the senior class gift committee.

Pastor Hudgins' children have the rare distinction of being fifth generation Seventh-day Adventists.

Mrs. Hudgins, the former Lorraine Kinney, has served as a secretary in the Ohio Conference.

Children include Barbara Jo and Sondra Kay, both married; Beverly Dawn, attending academy; and Lon Harvey and Steven Douglas in grade school.

Pastor Hudgins assesses possibilities of growth in Faith for Today's station coverage as good indeed, and has already set an objective of 275 stations televising Faith for Today by the end of 1966. "The greatest days of television evangelism lie ahead. With God's blessing there is no limit to what can be accomplished in reaching the homes of the people with the glad tidings of the gospel through television," Pastor Hudgins asserts.

Pastor W. A. Fagal of Faith for Today points out that Pastor Hudgins' experience will serve him well in his new post and that he will be an asset in strengthening the telecast.

The Reviewer

By PAULA BECKER

It is our pleasure this week to congratulate the editorial staff of the Review and Herald on the publication of the new Seventh-day Adventist Encyclopedia, Volume 10 in the commentary reference series.

This encyclopedia ought to be in the library of every Seventh-day Adventist home, even if you do not feel you can afford to own the remainder of the commentary set. Special introductory price of $11.95, in effect for the remainder of the year, should encourage those reluctant ones to add this book to their libraries.

More than 700 contributors around the world took part in assembling the encyclopedia. A well-organized cross-reference system enables the reader to find information on almost any subject with a minimum of fuss.

Pastors and other church leaders will welcome the wealth of information on church history and organization. These sections are made doubly interesting by frequent descriptions of the land, people and general religious atmosphere of the different countries being discussed.

Students from elementary school to university will find the encyclopedia a boon in any church-related research project. Over 600 biographical sketches of prominent church pioneers are included. Also of interest are the detailed descriptions of all the church's colleges, secondary schools, hospitals, publishing houses, and food factories.

New church members will be especially interested in the dissertations on Seventh-day Adventist beliefs and practices. Such cardinal doctrines as immortality in Christ, tithing, the second coming and the millennium are carefully summarized. Comparison is made with the beliefs of other denominations in instances where Seventh-day Adventists differ from the majority of contemporary Christians.

All in all, we feel that Don Neufeld and his staff have done a remarkable job, both in scope and accuracy, in producing a systematic reference work on Seventh-day Adventists which has long been needed, by both church members and non-members.

Once in a great while there comes to our attention a book of real intellectual and religious significance. Baptism Through the Centuries by Henry F. Brown is such a book. The author became interested in the rite of baptism many years ago during a visit to some of the notable European baptisteries. He determined to undertake a comprehensive study of the rite from an archaeological viewpoint.

The evolution of baptism from the primitive tribal rituals of the Orient to the refined sacred rite which we know today is shown both by historical writings and with carefully chosen photographic illustrations. The author discusses baptism by immersion versus sprinkling and pouring, showing how the later methods grew out of the original immersion rite.

The practice of infant baptism arose, Mr. Brown points out, because of the prevalent belief in the inherent depravity of mankind. Infants were baptized specifically for the purpose of cleansing them from sin.

In a discussion of various modern religions, the author shows how the rite of baptism is practiced in each, and why it came to be that way. This is a thoroughly documented and informative volume which will be of interest to every Christian. Published by Pacific Press.

Southern Publishing Association has a brand new entry in the periodical field. Bits of Gold comes the closest to being a real "something-for-everybody" magazine we have ever seen. Here is a potpourri of poetry, stories, and inspiration that anyone would enjoy. Sample titles from the first issue include: "Psalm for Senior Citizens," "Going Steady," "How Christ Helps Me Meet My Problems Today," and "Your Health Questions Answered." Bits of Gold is being sold only by literature evangelists and can be obtained through the Home Health Education Service.

Also worthy of note on the magazine scene is an article in the March issue of These Times. "I should indeed like to please you, but I prefer to save you," declared Daniel Webster in his famous "Seventh of March, 1850" speech to the United States Senate. In an era when history is being made so rapidly that we cannot begin to keep up with it, it is inspiring to reflect on some of the ideals which gave our country its heritage of greatness.

What have YOU read since last month?

We talk each month about the books we feel you should be adding to your personal library—what, why, and of course how much. Though we do want to encourage you along these lines, we would like to remind you also that books of every sort make excellent gifts for any number of different occasions.

Take Father's Day, for example, which is just around the corner. Young parents will be delighted with such practical child guidance books as Children Can Be Taught, by Josephine Edwards, or Thelma Beem's Dignity of a Child.

Someone you know graduating from high school might enjoy Who Wants to Play a Harp?, a teen's eye-view of heaven by Mary Dietel. College graduates would appreciate Focusing on Fundamentals, a new and intellectual approach to devotional reading by General Conference Secretary Walter Beach. Such attention-arresting chapters as "Dehumanization," "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and "The Fallacy of the Elsewhere" will appeal to modern young adults.

Of course you have already given copies of By Faith I Live, the 1966 missionary book, to all your close friends. But perhaps a new family has moved into your neighborhood. This would make a fine "welcome to our town" gift. Have you left a copy in your doctor's office and in your beauty salon or barber shop? Remember to take along several copies on your vacation to leave behind in motel rooms.

Two new "Headliner" books from Southern Publishing Association, featuring the new picture-text treatment of current church events, make fine, inexpensive gifts for just about anyone. Miracle of the Microphone, by Bill Oliphant, is the dramatic story of H. M. S. Richards and the Voice of Prophecy. The growth of one small radio program in Long Beach, California, to a world-wide broadcast heard on 1,250 stations in more than thirty languages is an inspiring portrayal of personal faith and determination.

Jamaica: Island of Miracles, by Arthur Sutton, is the second new addition to the "Headliner" series. The rapid advance of mission work in this Caribbean paradise is colorfully told in both pictures and words.

The first two "Headliner" books, released last year, are Wind High, Sand Deep, the story of Monument Valley Mission Hospital by Herbert Ford; and The Heart Menders, by Arthur Sutton. Prices on all these attractive little books are under $1.00—why not give the entire set?

If you need any more ideas, visit your local Book and Bible House.

A NEW BOOK Just for Youth

"Who wants to play a harp and sing forever, or wear a crown and a white robe while waving a palm branch up and down the golden streets?"

Alan's sarcasm voiced the sentiments of many space-age youth more intrigued by activities of astronauts and cosmonauts and aquanauts. And then he added, "And who could stand attending church services every week forever and ever plus another meeting for each new moon?"

The longer he talked the more he expressed my sentiments. Life is to be lived. It is for excitement, thrills, speed, travel, knowledge, money. How can one have these things and live a religion of don'ts just so you will get to heaven some day.

Then I found this book Who Wants to Play a Harp! Dull living? Not in heaven. Why space travel there will really be moving! Across and through such space as the cavern of the Nebula of Orion which is 18,000,000,000 miles across and 51,000,000,000 miles in depth. And at a rate of six quadrillion miles in a week—that's 6 with 15 zeros after it!

Talk about excitement, thrills. There will be plenty of them in a city 375 miles on each side with the farthest galaxy to explore 24 sextillion (that's 20 zeros) miles away!

Talk about knowledge, wisdom. There will be biology to study with one who named the animals as well as with One who created them. There will be astronomy to learn first-hand, not just through a telescope. There will be math to experience in these unfathomable distances and innumerable zeros. There will be vocational arts to master. And these things only consume the first thousand years.

Talk about playing a harp! That's only part of heaven and its music.

Why don't you read Who Wants to Play a Harp! by Mary Holder Dietel. It is only $2.95 at your Book and Bible House. Oh, yes, add 15 cents for postage and tax if necessary.

Jewels for the Kingdom

One day I called on a Mrs. S. who lived in a nice suburban home, her name having been given to me as a referral from a friend living in the same town. I canvassed Mrs. S. on The Bible Story, The Triumph and Your Bible and You, and I could see she was much impressed. However, when I finished my canvass I thought she looked a little sad as she told me that she would love to have the books but was sure her husband would not buy them as he had no interest whatever in the Bible and it would seem like foolishness to him. I asked Mrs. S. if she believed in prayer, and she answered that she did. Then I asked if I could call back that evening and see her husband, but she told me she was afraid he would throw me out, or at least completely ignore me. However, we had prayer together and I asked the Lord to take care of the matter. Then I assured Mrs. S. that I would be back that evening.

When I returned, Mrs. S. let me in and asked me to be seated. I sat down and carried on conversation, directing some of my remarks to Mr. S., but he sat with his newspaper in front of his face and did not look my way. I silently prayed that the Lord would lead in the matter. After a few more remarks, I picked up my case and went over and sat beside him, showing the books in such a way that he could see them. In a little while I could detect a difference in his attitude, and he began to show some interest, putting aside his newspaper, and even making a few remarks. It seemed I could feel the Spirit of the Lord working on his heart.

The result was that I left that home with an order for the library and a down payment. Before leaving, I felt impressed to request Mr. S. to take time to read these books to his children himself, explaining that this was the way they were to be used in the home and would be of most benefit. The lady that gave me the referral had told me that Mr. S. spent a great deal of his time away from home and more or less neglected his family.

I stopped back at this home about a month later and signed Mrs. S. up for a Bible Course. She told me then that her husband was staying home evenings more lately and had been even reading the Bible stories to the children and seemed to rather enjoy them himself.

Several months later I happened to be attending the church in that city and a young mother came up and asked if I remembered her. She told me she was the Mrs. S. to whom

I had sold books. Then she told me she had finished the Bible Course I gave her and also had completed an advanced Bible Course. Furthermore the Bible worker had been sent to visit her and she had almost finished the course of Bible studies. She was very happy and thrilled with this wonderful teaching.

A short time later I talked with an evangelist in that conference and he told me that Mrs. S. had been baptized and that Mr. S. was studying.

The last report I had from there was that Mr. S. had also been baptized and both he and his wife were rejoicing in this truth and giving Bible studies to their neighbors.

I might say that this was possibly the most difficult and unpromising situation I ever met, with the least possibility of placing books in a home or overcoming the animosity and indifference of a prospect. But this experience has shown me what the power of God can accomplish when all else fails.

Awards Presented to Milton-Stateline Students

The students of Milton-Stateline school were charged by Elder Charles Edwards, Missionary Volunteer Secretary for the Upper Columbia Conference, to dedicate themselves to a life of service in a recent Junior Missionary Volunteer Society investiture program at the school.

A total of 167 students received scarves, tie clasps, and pins for their progressive work during the year in self-improvement and in preparing themselves to serve by participation in missionary activities. Grades one through five achieved the goal of 100 per cent investiture and the Book Club Award was received by every one of the school's 220 students.

The outstanding presentation was the Bible Year Awards given to Judy Babcock, Kathy Briggs, Carrie Cook, Kendall Hatley, Angela Hill, Crystal Ribail, and Bill Vixie.

On Sabbath afternoon, April 23, at 4:00 o'clock, 200 people assembled at the Spokane Youth Center to witness a program on nature presented by the Colville Seventh-day Adventist school under the direction of Mrs. Mae Warner, school teacher. The program included songs, poems, and talks, with beautiful visual aids. Many remarked concerning the outstanding quality of the presentation. The school has an enrollment of 15.

The Spokane Central church was host and sponsor to the group.

Medicare Program

The Walla Walla General Hospital expects to receive certification for the New Medicare Program that will begin July 1, 1966. One of the major requirements to become certified is the formulation of a Utilization Review Plan as part of the Medical Staff responsibilities. On Thursday, April 21, the Medical Staff approved the Utilization Review Plan and this was forwarded to the State of Washington for approval. Walla Walla General Hospital expects to receive full certification soon so that we will be ready to admit Medicare patients beginning July 1, 1966.

One Million Dollars for World Evangelism

In an action at the Autumn Council in 1964 it was decided to invite all our members to have a part in raising a million dollars for world evangelism, the offering to be received in all of our churches on Sabbath, June 4. For the last several General Conference Sessions this has been done and has brought great strength and encouragement to our work all over the world. This is an offering that each member, each family, should prayerfully consider. The needs and the opportunities exist now. How long we will have them we do not know. We do know, however, that there is coming a time soon when it will be impossible either to give to God's cause or to publicly preach the great truths that we love and that are so desperately needed in the world today.

It would be a good plan for all who are employed to give at least one day's wage to this offering. The coin folders that are now in your homes could, and should be easily filled, perhaps many times, if we would only let go of some of our surplus so that God's work might be advanced. For some this may require real sacrifice; but what if it does? Sacrificial giving is the spirit of the Master. This was also the spirit of the pioneers of this movement. What we do for Christ must be done soon or it will be forever too late. The Saviour said, "The night cometh when no man can work," and the night is hastening on. Let us, therefore, do our best while we still have the chance.

May God impress every heart with the determination to do everything that can be done to make this offering go way beyond a million dollars. There is no reason why it could not be two million if we all set our hearts to it. Let us give cheerfully once again to show our love for Christ and our interest in saving the lost that are all about us.

Food Under Emergency Conditions

Lay Nutrition instructors of the Washington Conference co-operated in the preparation and serving of food in the demonstration of "Adequate Diet—Disaster and Anti-poverty Techniques" to a capacity crowd on April 5 in the Sedro Woolley SDA church.

Mrs. Edyth Cottrell, well-known authority on foods and nutrition under disaster and emergency conditions, responded to an invitation of the Sedro Woolley Dorcas leader, Mrs. Arvid Sjogren, to spark some new interest in the meetings to offset the sometimes dull routine of working with old clothes.

Mrs. N. R. Dower, Mrs. L. R. Alexander, and Mrs. M. O. Culton from Seattle, together with Mrs. Ted Parks from Federal Way, Mrs. William Robinson from Oak Harbor, and Mrs. Lucille Hood of Sultan assisted. Also from Seattle were Mr. Jack Hubbs, Medical Secretary, and Elder Wayne Scriven, Home Missionary Secretary of the Washington Conference.

Tall, green, curly kale made complimentary foliage in a large basket displaying big white cauliflower (St. Valentine broccoli), red cabbage, beets, carrots, turnips, parsnips, green onions, cress, collards, parsley, and a variety of other greens, all fresh from Mrs. Cottrell's own winter garden.

Thirty varieties of vegetables will grow in this area all through the winter, about four winters out of five, if one will replant something else as soon as one crop is over. In this way, one can have a full garden during spring, winter, and fall, making full use of fertilizer and soil rather than letting weeds take over. Mrs. Cottrell made a strong effort to encourage attention to this source of delicious food, low in cost but so valuable in contributing to a well-balanced diet.

Cups of hot "beef" and "chicken" broth with crispy, thin, cashew nut crackers were served as an appetizer while the group was gathering. The smorgasbord type variety menu provided plenty of food for all. There were squash-raisin rolls, sprouted wheat bread with rose hip jelly, savory soy patties, filbert patties, tacos with mashed beans, and winter garden salad (from Mrs. Cottrell's garden), Pizza rolls, chow mein with rice cooked in an improvised fireless cooker, entire wheat cooked in thermos bottle with herb butter, applesauce and prune cookies. Frozen wild mountain blackberries topped the soy-oat waffles for the crowning touch dessert.

All listened intently to Mrs. Cottrell unfold the plan of using stockpiled grains and legumes, foods available locally including native wild greens and berries, and winter gardens to provide delicious adequate foods under emergency conditions, and at surprisingly low cost. One wonders, why wait for an emergency to have food like this.

Mrs. Cottrell has done considerable work with the Washington State and Seattle-King County Civil Defense and has received the Governor's award for outstanding service in the area of emergency food and shelter cookery. She is currently working on a book containing these recipes and information regarding adequate diet under disaster and poverty conditions.

The instructor is Mrs. Robert Skinner, the wife of Elder Skinner, pastor of the Renton-Kent churches. Mrs. Fred Armstrong is her assistant at the demonstration table. The entire audience has a clear view of each step as it can be seen by looking in a mirror suspended from the ceiling, and focused on the work table.

The attendance has been regular and much enthusiasm has been felt. Films are shown in conjunction with the lectures. The class is now in the fifth week of an eight-week course and all are anxious to learn more how to make meals that are attractive, nutrition-filled, easy to digest, and are economical to prepare.

Much time and effort have been given by Mrs. Juanita Epperson, Kent Dorcas leader, and Mrs. Milton Towne, who assists with the cooking and serving. The foods prepared are given as door prizes plus other gifts donated by the Kent merchants. They average about seven door prizes each class.

NEW DATE

Associated Youth for Christ meeting that was originally announced for May 7, has been rescheduled for May 14 at the Olympia SDA school, 1416 Springer Road.

Governor Hatfield Addresses Students

"A true relationship to God," Governor Mark O. Hatfield told the students in chapel at Laurelwood Academy last month, "keeps a person in balance—gives a purpose to life."

Following the chapel service, Gov. Hatfield toured school industries with Principal A. T. Wiegardt.

"The Christian mission should be characterized by excellence," Governor Mark O. Hatfield told Laurelwood academy and grade school students and staff.

Sounding as if he had recently read Education, the Governor asserted, "No man can be fully educated until he has developed every side." He pointed out that students in secular schools do not have the religious side of education; and many of these, he said, do not have it in their homes or churches either.

"Yours is a unique, a privileged environment; you are a privileged people," he added. But immediately he challenged, "Unto whomsoever much is given, much shall be expected."

Continuing his counsel in his first visit to a conference school, Governor Hatfield advised his youthful hearers to remember "when you move out to business, professional, or vocational life, that you are more importantly carrying a witness of your faith."

He then outlined reasons Christians are not as effective as they might be. Heading the list, he emphasized, "Christian mission should be characterized by excellence." There is no place for mediocrity or an attitude of "getting by" in any area of living. "Whatever your role—as a student, at a lathe, in a business, about a profession, as a homemaker—it should be characterized by the highest performance."

Secondly, he added, "In Christian work we should not compartmentalize ourselves. Indeed, we cannot compartmentalize life at church, at home, at school. Knowledge, life, faith are indivisible." The ideal of the Christian, as he described, is "that man can see and God will know that what we profess is reflected in what we do."

The Governor explained that he sometimes feels that men are more interested in building disciples to a church than in developing followers of Christ. He said Christians have the opportunity of showing that there is freedom only where there is authority and that based on Christ and His law. Then he added, "Man today wants to know something to which he can direct his life."

Concluding, Governor Hatfield, a Senate hopeful, revealed that "America today is challenged by materialism, the power of gold and guns. However, the true strength of the nation is found in the spiritual life of our people. Love of country, freedom are best exemplified by first of all living life for God and His program."

Week of Prayer at Laurelwood Brings Inspiration

Elder Don MacIvor, pastor of the Meadow Glade church at Columbia Academy, was guest speaker for Laurelwood Academy's spring Week of Prayer, April 11-16.

His eleven sermons were designed to stress the positive approach to Christianity. Pastor MacIvor's understanding of young people made his counseling sessions of value to the many students who availed themselves of this opportunity.

NOTICE

Walla Walla College alumni chapter organizational meeting will take place May 14 at the Rogue River Junior Academy, Medford, Ore., immediately following a vesper service which will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Song leaders, organists, and special music provided by the music department added variety and inspiration to the meetings.

Students took advantage of the prayer bands held each morning. They found that the effects of combined prayer multiplied the blessing of this special week.

Communion service on Friday evening concluded this week of spiritual emphasis.

MONTANA

Week of Prayer at Mount Ellis

As a fitting climax to Mount Ellis Academy's spring Week of Prayer, conducted by Elder Kenneth J. Mittleider, North Pacific Union Conference evangelist, ordinances were celebrated Friday evening, April 22, and twelve students were baptized Sabbath afternoon, April 23, at the Bozeman church by Elder Larry Lewis, Bible teacher and pastor of the Academy Church.

Elder Mittleider's theme for the week, April 17-22, had been "Paths to Successful Living," and his messages, some of which were entitled "Crossroads," "Path of No Return," "Seven Landmarks," "Prepare to Advance," and "Destination Reached," followed this idea. The Week of Prayer speaker was available for counseling every morning, afternoon, and evening, and many of the students took advantage of the opportunity to discuss their problems with him.

The Tualatin Valley Junior Academy, Junior High Choir and Band, and Intermediate Band under direction of George Chalker will appear for the Home and School Association in the school auditorium, 8:15 p.m., May 21, in sacred and secular concerts.

Groups are pictured in performance at Sunnyside Church. Mrs. John Christensen is the accompanist.

Attention, Eighth Graders and Prospective Students

Academy Day Activities at Mt. Ellis Academy are scheduled for May 15 and 16. Don't miss it. Bring a sleeping bag, stay in the dorm, visit classes, play ball, enjoy "Melody Lane."

Registration will begin May 15 at 3 p.m. See you there!

"Some try to live as close to the world as they can and still appear to be a Christian instead of living as far from the world as they can live and still be a balanced person," he declared.

Sabbath, April 23, Elder Dick Stenbakken, leader of the Worland, Wyoming, district, spoke at the eleven o'clock service and showed pictures he had taken on a recent trip through the Holy Land at the afternoon Missionary Volunteer meeting.

Monroe Duerksen, former teacher and accountant at the school, on furlough from his work as secretary-treasurer of the Bolivian Mission, La Paz, Bolivia, also assisted in the Sabbath programs, relating mission experiences in the costume of a devil dancer.

World Evangelism

How much would the Seventh-day Adventist membership in all the world give if all of us knew that we were helping with the program that would propel Seventh-day Adventism into its final work? How much would you give? How much would I give to be a part of such a movement?

Our leaders have issued a challenge—one million dollars in one offering! How will it be used? For World Evangelism!

We intend to have a part in this million dollar venture for God. In fact we have our folder on the table and are using it. By Sabbath, June 4, it will be filled and overflowing. We are counting on each Idaho family having a part in answering this challenge. Idaho's part in the Million Dollar Offering is $5,818. As all of us plan, pray and give together for World Evangelism we will reach our share of the million dollars.

Remember Sabbath, June 4, and be praying to give liberally.

GEORGE W. LISCOMBE

Idaho Evangelism

Evangelistic meetings are currently being held in Payette where Elder Floyd Smith is leading out assisted by Elder Harry Gray, and in Baker by Glenn Aufderhar. Heaven must rejoice when our members join church officers and pastors in presenting the words of life in these closing days of earth's history.

Attend the meetings near you. Invite your neighbors and friends. Join us in praying for an abundant measure of the Holy Spirit in each of these places so the churches can be blessed with new people on the march to the kingdom.

Weekend Camp Meetings

With many other conferences this year Idaho is having regional meetings instead of camp meetings. There will be a meeting Friday evening and then meetings all day Sabbath, closing about sundown to give time to take advantage of the Book and Bible House specials. There will be no meetings on Sunday but Brother Gordon Harris will keep the Bible House display open until noon.

The schedule is as follows:
Caldwell

Gem State Academy	June 3, 4
Pocatello	July 29, 30
La Grande	August 5, 6
Twin Falls	August 12, 13

Attend the meetings nearest to you and enjoy the spiritual refreshing planned.

The Miracle Offering

Outstanding Investment success was seen in the Weiser church for 1965. The Weiser church has always been interested in world wide missions and for years has been near the top of the list in mission giving. They have usually had an Investment program that added to their weekly mission offerings.

The Weiser people decided that the year 1965 would see a real breakthrough in Investment for missions. An interesting Investment device was chosen. A pruned grape vine was drawn on a large piece of cardboard. The idea was to add leaves and grapes as Investment money came in. Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Investment leader, felt that a device such as this helped to keep the people interested week after week in the Investment program. Every person, young and old, chose an Investment project. Enthusiasm ran high. This group, which had raised $381.73 ($4.02 per person) the year before (1964) rejoiced to reach a total of $1,722.35 ($16.50) per person for the year 1965. Organization, interest and persistence do pay off in any program. Investment becomes the miracle offering as God blesses a dedicated, interested people.

Gem State Academy Homecoming

More than 250 former students and alumni were on hand for the ninth annual Homecoming at Gem State Academy the weekend of April 22 and 23. The weather seemed to be just as warm as the hearts of those in attendance as they greeted old classmates and reminisced over days gone by.

Those taking part in the vesper hour Friday evening were Barton Moore '63 who led the song service; Harold Drake '44, our alumni president, who cordially welcomed everyone to the events of the weekend; Carol Witherspoon '65 and Linda Hamilton '65 who sang a lovely duet; and Elder Ernie Schaak, a former student now in the Montana Conference who brought a most inspirational talk. Pianist for the evening was Jane Hendrew '65. Prayer was offered by Elder Robert Youngberg '41.

Max Mace '56 was our Sabbath school superintendent Sabbath morning. Ron Mace '49 led in the song service and Terry Williamson '56 offered prayer. The secretary's report of the previous homecoming Sabbath school was given by alumni secretary-treasurer, Shirley Witherspoon '60. Although the mission talk is usually given by a foreign missionary, this year we had a home missionary, Elder Leon Cornforth '45 who is now in charge of Lay Activities in the Upper Columbia Conference. He challenged each one to be missionaries right here in the homeland so that the work can soon be finished. A call for offerings was given by Mr. Hal Crays, former teacher. Worship in song was by Lorraine Davis-Mace '49, Darlene Storey-St. Clair '54 and Helen Peterson-Houbert (a Laurelwood alumnus). Although we were sorry that Danny Mathews '53 who was to have the lesson study was unable to attend, we did enjoy the lesson as brought to us by Herman Andregg. The benediction was given by Forrest Prohaska. Organist was Gay Butterfield-Wilson '58 and pianist was Judy Throckmorton '63.

Elder Ken Mittleider '47, who is now our Union Conference evangelist, was our speaker at the worship service. The message in music was brought to us by the Gem State Academy Chorus which included many of the alumni who were formerly members of the choir under the direction of Mr. Estyn Goss. We were also privileged to have a vocal solo by Barbara Johnson '64. Presentation of tithes and offerings was by Harold Downs '23 and the benediction by M. O. Cheney, a former teacher. Organist was Vanda Bassford Trees '57 and Carol Bunch-Trees '53.

In the afternoon we met in the academy dining room where we first were privileged to have Mrs. Josephine Cunningham Edwards speak to us. Then a large scroll was unrolled revealing the names of all alumni back to 1917 for which addresses were needed. Everyone did what they could to fill in the addresses and I am sure we all felt grateful for the work our recording secretary, Mrs. Jane Walker-Munsey, had done in preparing such a scroll. There was also open house in the girls' dormitory.

Sundown worship was conducted by Miss Shirley Witherspoon. Those assisting were Nelma Akins Drake and Carol Witherspoon.

"Echoes of the Past," the Saturday night program was begun by the singing of the school song led by Barton Moore '63. H. D. Schwartz, former principal, was Master of Ceremonies. Those who took part in the program were Mrs. Hal Crays, former faculty; Marjorie Jones '62, Barbara Twist, '65 and Gail Butterfield '60. A tribute to all Alumni in the armed forces was given by Shirley Witherspoon and a history of the Alumni Association of Gem State Academy was given by Nina and Lynn Prohaska '44. The Chamber Singers, under the direction of Mr. Estyn Goss, presented three numbers as did the Brass Choir under the direction of Mr. McGee. The scholarship was awarded to Bill Dodge. As Jane Walker-Munsey had roll call, it was interesting to note that some classes even as late as 1950 had no representatives. A gift was presented to Mr. Goss, choir director, from the alumni in appreciation of his work at the academy.

At the business meeting which followed, a tentative date of April 22, 1967, was set for the next homecoming. Mickey Meyers '60 was elected as vice president, Anna May Radke-Waters '51, secretary-treasurer and Nina Stewart-Prohaska '44 assistant secretary-treasurer. Max Mace took over as president of the Alumni Association. Jane Walker-Munsey was retained as recording secretary.

It may seem early, but your officers are already planning for the tenth annual homecoming to be the biggest ever. There will be three or four newsletters between now and then which you won't want to miss, so if you have not already paid your $1.00 dues, GSA Alumni, send them at once to Mrs. Herb Waters, Rt. 1, Moscow, Idaho 83843, and plan now to attend the next homecoming at Gem State Academy.

We are also very anxious to keep in touch with all our alumni who may be serving in the armed forces, so if you know the addresses of any of them or any other alumni which we may not have, please send them to Jane Walker-Munsey, Rt. 4, Caldwell, Idaho 83605, or to Mrs. Herb Waters, Rt. 1, Moscow, Idaho 83853. We would also like to have your help in hearing about your classmates who were talented in music or speaking, as this will be invaluable to us in planning our next homecoming program.

Walla Walla College

Dr. Barnes Gets Top NYU Award

Dr. J. N. Barnes, associate professor of religion at Walla Walla College, has been selected as recipient of the Founders' Day Award, top scholastic and achievement honor of the year at New York University, according to word from the institution Tuesday.

J. N. Barnes

Announcement of the Founders' Day Award came as Dr. Barnes is in Chicago for the national convention on religion and mental health. Last spring the WWC board of trustees approved the formation of the Human Dynamics Research Institute to be headed by Dr. Barnes. Research headquarters, will be permanently located in the Life Sciences Building, now under construction.

A graduate of Union College, Lincoln, Neb., with an M.A. from New York University, Dr. Barnes received the Ph.D. in religious education from the same school a year ago.

The religious educator began teaching at WWC in 1962, teaching philosophy of religion and other courses and introducing a new course, Christian dynamics.

Hearing Testing on College Campus

At the beginning of May, National Better Hearing Month, Professor Roy E. Hartbauer, chairman of the Walla Walla College speech department, announced opening of sound-treated rooms equipped with high quality testing equipment for basic hearing tests now available to college personnel and community residents.

R. E. Hartbauer

In fact, 250 persons have already had hearing tests, according to Professor Hartbauer, who holds the certificates of clinical competency in both audiology and speech pathology. For five years he was director of a university audiology clinic and he is now a doctoral candidate at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Donald Rigby, assistant professor of speech, also teaches courses in the area of speech and hearing. Next fall Clarence Wood will join the WWC speech department staff, coming from a position as speech pathologist at the Lake County Easter Seal Treatment Center, Waukegan, Illinois. His M.A. degree is in speech pathology from the University of Denver.

September 1 nine dual-purpose recording and therapy rooms, two with one-way glass for observation, will be ready. It is our goal, says Professor Hartbauer, to make the WWC speech department not only a training center for college students majoring in many areas of speech, but also a service center in speech and hearing.

This year eight majors in speech and hearing are receiving training in use of the basic testing equipment.

College Board Actions

Additions to teachers for the academic year, 1966-67, were announced by President William H. Shephard following the recent Board of Trustees meeting.

Dr. Norman Maberly, currently education editor in charge of research in psychological testing for Harcourt Brace and World, Inc., joins the faculty as associate professor of education next fall. Dr. Maberly holds the Ed.D. degree from the University of Southern California and previous to his work with the book publishing company, was professor of psychology at Loma Linda University. He is a WWC alumnus, having received the bachelor's degree here in 1952.

Dr. Maberly an educational psychologist, rounds out the departmental faculty, says J. V. Peters, chairman of the department of education and of the graduate council. Dr. Maberly is also experienced in the field of measurements and in computer use in validating testing techniques.

Teachers in other departments named include Mrs. Floyd Murdoch, instructor in French at WWVA, who will now teach half time in the modern languages department. Her bachelor's degree is from Andrews University and she has done graduate work at La Sierra College and last summer at the University of Geneva. This summer she will be at Claremont Colleges in California for additional study in French.

Two additions to the English department were announced: R. E.

Stephens and Gary Wiss. Stephens comes from Modesto Union Academy where he is on the faculty. A graduate of Union College, he has done graduate work at the University of the Pacific, Stockton. Wiss will be receiving his bachelor's degree with an English major in June from WWC. He begins a master's study program at Oregon State College this summer.

Robert Henderson, WWC alumnus now at Washington State University as a doctoral candidate in American studies, will join the faculty in the fall of 1967 to teach in the history and English departments. He expects to receive the Ph.D. degree in June, 1967.

Nancy Knopp, secretary in the MV and PR departments of the Upper Columbia Conference will come to WWC as secretary to Robert Koorenny, finance officer.

John Uhrig, a graduate of Union College with a physical education major, will be instructor in physical education during a year's leave of absence for Russell Dahlbeck, associate professor of P.E. Professor Dahlbeck will be studying at OSU this summer. Uhrig comes from the faculty of Maplewood Academy.

John Rudebaugh, who was at one time production manager at the Bindery, will return to the College industry as head of the stamping department, says J. A. Mayer, Bindery superintendent. He is coming from a position in the bindery at Southern Missionary College.

Scholarships Available

Fifteen freshmen at WWC for 1966-67 can attend with the aid of scholarships given by WWC. Five $150 tuition scholarships are available for high school seniors who wish to attend as freshmen in 1966-67, according to Dr. R. H. Brown, vice-president for student affairs.

One three-quarter ($60 per quarter) scholarship will be granted to an applicant from each of the five conferences comprising the North Pacific Union. Dr. Brown urges students who will be completing high school and wish to attend a Christian college to write him at once for application blanks. Write: Dr. R. H. Brown, Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington 99324.

Ten academy seniors will receive $60 per quarter for the year in tuition grants given on recommendation of the various faculties. Sunday evening the last four of the scholarships were awarded by President
