Sabbath School Investment Prospects Excellent

Most encouraging reports are coming in from all parts of the field, indicating that God is wonderfully blessing our people in their Sabbath school Investment program this year. More and more of our members are participating in Investment and discovering that God in a special way blesses them in their various projects, the profits or savings of which they have dedicated to Sabbath school Investment.

Our Sabbath schools set their goals for Investment early in the year. Some have almost reached their goal already. The Investment leaders in the various Sabbath schools have been faithful in encouraging every member participation and have worked with teachers and officers in strongly promoting Investment.

May we take this opportunity to remind all of our Sabbath school officers and Investment leaders to plan for their Investment program not later than the second Sabbath in November. Some Investment funds doubtless will be coming in right through to the end of the year, but our promotion and Investment program should all have been concluded and out of the way before the third Sabbath in November to clear the way for other important programs. We will appreciate our Sabbath school leaders' cooperation with the conferences in this respect. May God bless every effort on the part of our members to roll up the largest Investment offering we have ever had. If each does his and her part, this will be so.

Why You Need The "Review"

You are not, you cannot be, you cannot even hope ever to be a knowledgeable Adventist without it—that is, one who is conversant with the church you joined.

This church is doing things, going somewhere for God. And there is no other way you can be intelligently sure of this and on the basis of such knowledge take an aggressive part in this world movement than by utilizing this agent in your home.

You do not have to read it, or like it, but you should expose yourself to it, for your sake. And you should make it available for your household. Then you will try sampling it.

You say, "I cannot afford it"? Before you start believing this, consider that it costs you about eight cents a copy, which is close to what you pay for your daily paper. Then ask yourself if you can afford your house, car, TV and other things for which you may be in debt, and in any case would not think of trying to get along without.

The price of the Review is not a handout to the conference, or the church, or the Review. It is rather an investment in your own growth and prosperity in the Advent message.

I ask you, how can you possibly get along without the Review?

Pocatello Evangelism

The accompanying picture shows the fine group of workers who have been working faithfully in Pocatello these summer weeks.

Elder and Mrs. Bruce Johnston, with Elder and Mrs. Don Jacobsen, led out in this Andrews University field school. Dr. L. H. Loneragan, of the Loma Linda University staff, gave a health lecture each evening. Elder Reuben A. Hubbard, the district pastor and an experienced evangelist, gave valuable help.

Two baptisms have already been held and another one is planned for early in September. Elder Hubbard is being helped in following up the many interests by Brother Robert Nickell and Brother Tom Calkins.

We want to say "Thank you" to our many people who joined us in praying for this special program in Pocatello. Prayers were answered. Many victories were won and much more will be accomplished for the Lord in the next few weeks.

Continue to pray for all who are winning souls to the Kingdom of God.

Members of the Gem State Academy graduating class of 1951 who attended the class reunion at McCall, Idaho, Aug. 19-21, are shown above. Seated from left to right are: Margaret Ausmus Trainor, rancher's wife from Burns, Ore., and mother of 2; Anna May Radke-Waters, wife and bookkeeper of building contractor, Moscow, Idaho, mother of 3; Beverly Sponsler-Rue, secretary in the Idaho Conference of SDA's office, wife of Zuma Rue, and mother of 3; June Ladd-Hayes, dentist's wife from Spokane, Wash., mother of 3; and Barbara Stewart-Easter from Boise, Idaho, mother of 4 sons. Standing from left to right are: Norman Davis, radio and TV announcer from Denver, Colo., father of 3; Kent Johnson, vocational rehabilitation counselor from Moscow, Idaho, father of 2; Jont Kinzer, cab technician from Portland, Ore., father of one; Zuma Rue, painting contractor from Meridian, Idaho, father of 3; and Donald Palmer, an Oregon State employee from Salem, Ore., father of 3. Also in attendance; but not shown, was Ramona Trees-Ness, mother of 3, from Turlock, Calif.

Class of '51, Gem State Academy, Holds Reunion

Still young in heart, 1951 graduates of Gem State Academy met at Camp IdaHaven on beautiful Payette Lake, McCall, Idaho, the weekend of August 19-21.

Attributing their closeness to the fact that their class was small (started with eighteen, one now deceased) they had a reunion in 1961 at which time they decided ten years would be too long between reunions, and thus voted to reunite every five years. Kent Johnson, original class president, has continued to lead out in organizing the reunions.

Weekend activities began Friday evening as Kent Johnson led out in a short vesper service in the camp dining hall. Before the service began, each in attendance was asked to tell where they now live and what they were doing.

Sabbath school was conducted by Zuma Rue. Margaret Ausmus-Trainor had the mission story, after which an offering was taken to send to Jack Thompson, classmate in mission service in Africa. Herb Waters, who married into the class, taught the Sabbath school lesson after returning from the children's story hour where he had assisted Kay Bishop-Johnson and Beverly Sponsler-Rue in telling stories to the children. Barbara Stewart-Easter sang, "Dear Jesus, Abide With Me."

During the church service, Kent Johnson read a portion of a letter from Elder Ralph Martin who was supposed to have our service but was at home waiting for the stork to land. (Later in the evening we phoned and found that a baby daughter had joined the Martin family just that morning at 3:13). We all missed Ralph but enjoyed the good thoughts which Kent brought to us and all determined to be ready to meet Jesus. Anna May Radke-Waters and son, David, sang a duet for closing song, accompanied by Anna May's daughter, Vicky, who was the pianist for the weekend.

If you could have seen the potluck dinner prepared for Sabbath noon, you would have to agree that the class had produced some good cooks who were very generous with their portions. No one went away hungry.

Sabbath afternoon, the children of the classmates and friends who were visiting, put on a program which was enjoyed by all. Those taking part were: Debbie and Nancy Robinson, daughters of visiting Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Robinson, who sang for us; Greg Easter, son of Barbara Stewart-Easter, playing a trumpet solo; David and Steven Waters, sons of Anna May Radke-Waters, who sang a duet; Kevin Johnson, son of Kent Johnson, who brought a thought for the day; and Jolene Trainer, daughter of Margaret Ausmus-Trainor who recited a poem from memory. Also taking part were Conny Ness, daughter of Ramona Trees-Ness, who played a piano solo; Mark Avery, nephew of Margaret Ausmus-Trainor who sang a solo; Conny and Karen Palmer, daughters of Don Palmer, who sang a duet; and David Waters who closed the program with a poem.

Following the program the children were taken for a hike and story time, while their parents visited or rested.

Saturday night, following a short sundown worship service, everyone enjoyed corn on the cob, shamburgers and homemade ice cream. Games were played and a short business meeting was held at which time it was voted to have another reunion in five years, and to start a pass-around class letter.

Sunday, swimming and boating were on the agenda and the weather cooperated beautifully. As members of the class left later in the day, it was with real joy in their hearts and many wonderful memories again revived. We are all looking forward to another reunion in 1971, if time should last; if not, we hope to have all the class of '51 in heaven for the most wonderful reunion of all.

Upper Columbia Youth Congress

Once again we remind our members of the thrilling Upper Columbia Youth Congress that is scheduled to begin Friday night, September 30, and to run through Sabbath, October 1. We will have with us not only our own Conference workers, but Alice Princess, and H. M. S. Richards with the King's Heralds of the Voice of Prophecy radio group. Elder Ed Webb of our own North Pacific Union will be present, and many wonderful and thrilling meetings are being planned.

For those who come from a distance a limited number of overnight accommodations will be available in the homes of members. If you desire to obtain accommodations of this type, please check at the information desk in the Coliseum when you arrive, and they will be given on a first-come, first-served basis. If one brings his own sleeping bag, a limited number of individuals may also sleep, dormitory style, in the Spokane Junior Academy. You would have to sleep on the floor, but space would be available.

On Sabbath, at the Coliseum, one of the Spokane Dorcas Societies will provide meals for both dinner and supper, but the meals will be available by meal ticket only. Meal tickets will cost one dollar each, and we must receive your order for them at the Upper Columbia Conference office by September 26. Please specify whether you want tickets for dinner or supper, or both. These orders must be sent in for our Dorcas to know how to plan.

For the information of our members, if you wish to get hotel or motel accommodations, several motels or hotels are within easy walking distance of the Coliseum. The Spokane Travelodge is the closest, and has very fine accommodations. We hope every member will be able to attend this special gathering.

Write Those Letters

A non-Adventist who has made several generous financial contributions to the TV Bible Class commented, "We must keep that program on the air." There is something you can do by just investing a 5-cent stamp that will help to keep the TV Bible Class on the air.

Subjects for September 11

In many parts of America today it is not possible to buy time for a program like the TV Bible Class for any amount of money. The reason? Station managers feel that a doctrinally oriented religious program will not appeal to a sufficient number of viewers to meet the competition of programs being released on other channels at the same time.

In the competitive TV industry, stations show what people want to see in order to hold their viewers. Station managers decide which programs are popular on the basis of surveys, and letters received from viewers.

Some time ago Faith for Today was discontinued on a certain channel. About a month after it was dropped I wrote to the station to inquire why they were no longer including Faith for Today in their program schedule. The reply went something like this: "Your inquiry is the first one that we have received since the program mentioned went off the air. This is the reason for our discontinuing it." Then the letter mentioned some other programs by name with the comment: "If any of these programs were dropped we would be deluged with protests immediately."

What a lesson! Without a doubt, many viewers appreciated Faith for Today when it was on and missed it when it was off, but they failed to express themselves to the TV station. Just a few letters or phone calls can make the difference as to whether a program is on or off.

KVAL in Eugene has donated public service time for the release of Seventh-day Adventist telecasts over the last six-year period worth in the neighborhood of $20,000. That is, if we had had to pay the regular commercial rate for the time that has been provided free, it would have cost at least $20,000. One reason that we continued receiving these courtesies from this station is that viewers wrote in expressing their appreciation for this program. Another reason is the excellent relationship maintained with station management by Elder C. J. Ritchie, conference Radio-TV Secretary.

Our church members wrote to thank the station for carrying It Is Written and the TV Bible Class. It pays to express appreciation. Here are some simple yet effective things that every member can do:

1. If you do not have a TV set, ask a neighbor if you may watch the TV Bible Class on their set. You may start the neighbor watching the program by doing this.

2. Whenever a radio or TV station begins to release one of our Adventist programs, write directly to the station and tell them you are pleased with the new program (mention it by name) that they are carrying.

3. Whenever a radio or TV station discontinues the release of one of our programs write directly to the station manager and say that you miss the program (mention it by name) on his station. Do this even though the program still reaches the area on another station.

4. Each year on your birthday write a thank you letter to each station carrying one of our programs.

Al Maas, President

You do not need to mention that it is your birthday! This is just to serve as a reminder to you so that you will write at least one such letter of appreciation every year. If each member would do it on his birthday there would be a steady and natural flow of letters to the stations every week, avoiding the appearance of a mass-mailing campaign.

It is important that such letters be addressed to the station management and not to the sponsor's box number. Here is something you can do. Please do it.

PILOTS: If you are an alumnus, come and renew your acquaintance with your school. If you have never been here before, you are cordially invited to come and get acquainted with CLA and see the future of aviation training here. A fly-in breakfast is scheduled from 7 to 10 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 2, at the private airfield at Cedar Lake Academy. Cost of the breakfast is $1.00 for each visitor.

AIRPORT FACTS: At present there is one E-W turf runway, 2,300 feet long. It is located adjacent to the east campus, along the railroad track. The academy is four miles east of Edmore, on the 220° radial from the Mt. Pleasant VOR (109.8 mc). Runway lights have been installed.

past several years proved interesting and inspirational for all who are able to attend as well as the present student body and faculty.

During Michigan camp meeting in August of this year a Cedar Lake Alumni meeting was announced. Approximately 75 persons were in attendance—a number from many miles from Michigan. There were Alumni present from California, Florida, Indiana, Illinois and from Poona, India.

This group voted to plan for this type of get-together each year at Michigan camp meeting. So if you are on the grounds inquire at the CLA booth for time and place.

Many expressed a strong desire to see a news-letter started that would be available to all Alumni. In order that we might reach as many Alumni as possible we need your current address.

Weddings

On Sunday afternoon, August 14, a quiet wedding was solemnized in the College Place Seventh-day Adventist church, when Mrs. Hazel May Noffsinger and Mr. Earle Renno of Olympia, Washington, were united in holy wedlock. Relatives and friends of the families were present to witness the ceremony which was read by Pastor N. R. Johnson. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Olympia, Washington. We wish them heaven's blessing on their Christian home.

Vivian Muriel Larson and David Andrew Lomeland were united in marriage Sunday, August 21, in the Bozeman, Montana, Seventh-day Adventist church. We wish God's richest blessings upon this new home as they begin their teaching at the Indian School at Holbrook, Arizona. Elder E. R. Schaak officiated.

Carol Johnson and Buddy Kruger were united in marriage in the beautiful Chehalis, Washington, Seventh-day Adventist church on Sunday, August 14. Buddy is a junior theology student at Walla Walla College. Carol was also a student at the college. Mr. and Mrs.

A wilderness walk through some of the most beautiful country in Montana was completed by ten back-packers this summer. The trail began near Yellowstone National Park close to West Yellowstone. The hikers included Cliff Egbert, an experienced camp guide; Warren Dick, Conference treasurer, and his two children Mary and Jimmy; Elder E. R. Schaak, wife and daughter Renee; Harold and Donna Wick and Bobby Coleman. The picture—upper left—shows the group and some friends at the beginning of trail 200 to Lightning Divide. The trail led over the backbone of the Rocky Mountains.

The group learned about survival food along the trail from Brother Egbert. They enjoyed such foods as elk thistle (wilderness celery), spruce tip tea and wild strawberry tea, rumex and young nettles (cooked as a green).

Cuts were treated with wild geranium brew as an antiseptic and balsam juice as a salve.

The group had the thrill of their lives when they saw majestic mountain peaks, beautiful wild flowers, and a grizzly bear track about five inches wide!

We hope to have other wilderness walks in years to come where others can enjoy the scenic grandeur of God's great out-of-doors.

E. R. Schaak, MV Secretary

The Walla Walla College church was the setting for an early evening ceremony, August 7, uniting in marriage Patricia Gail Chandler of College Place and Norwyn Lee Ludden of Singapore. Pastor Richard D. Fearing read the ceremony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ludden will continue their studies at Walla Walla College.

On Sunday, August 21, the Puyallup Seventh-day Adventist church, Puyallup, Washington, was the scene of the beautiful wedding of Marilyn Bulgin and Roger Roderick. Roger is a graduate of Walla Walla College with a major in Business Administration. He is employed by a CPA firm in Seattle. Marilyn is a graduate of Auburn Academy. May this Christian home demonstrate heaven's love. The service was read by Elder Duane H. Anderson.

Sunday, August 21, Cheryl Lee Schoepflin and Robert Douglas Kiger were united in marriage by Elder Henry L. Rudy. The bride's home church at Endicott, Washington, provided a beautiful setting for the occasion. Cheryl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Schoepflin, Endicott, Washington. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carroll, Riverside, California, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rudy, College Place, Washington. Robert has been accepted as a dental student at the Loma Linda University, Loma Linda, California, beginning with the ensuing term.

Obituaries

Wolkau—David William Wolkau was born March 24, 1949, in Eugene, Ore., and passed away Aug. 5, 1966, near Waldport, Ore., in a traffic accident. His parents, William and Aletha Wolkau, were charter members of the Newport church, where Brother Wolkau is serving as elder and where David was baptized six years ago. David's untimely death leaves to mourn his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wolkau; and a grandmother, Mrs. Susie Rhoades.

Wallace—Lois Opal Wallace was born in 1892 in Richland, Ore., and passed away Aug. 2, 1966, at Gresham, Ore. She was baptized in 1932 in Richland, Ore., and remained a faithful member until her death. She is survived by her three daughters and two sons. She awaits the call of the Life-giver in Eagle Valley Cemetery near the family home in Richland, Ore.

Taylor—Lydia Alma Taylor was born in Hillsboro, Ore., March 3, 1887, and fell asleep in Jesus July 18, 1966. Mrs. Taylor just four years ago became a member of the Olympia SDA church and remained faithful to the end. She is survived by two sons, Harry and William Taylor, a foster son, Aaron Roberts, a daughter, Mrs. Frank (Jeane) Bower; two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Jones and May Diamond; two brothers, Harold and Edward Diamond.

Dopp—Alice L. Dopp was born in Pontiac, Mich., Feb. 2, 1889, and passed away in Olympia, Wash., Aug. 4, 1966. Her firm faith in God filled her life with hope and courage during her illness. She rests in the hope of the resurrection at the second coming of Jesus. She is survived by her son, Harry Dopp of Olympia.

Butterfield—Margaret Elizabeth Butterfield was born Oct. 1, 1906, in Alexandria, Minn. She moved to Portland in 1953 where she was employed in the nursing profession. She also became a member of the Stone Tower SDA church. Following a long illness Mrs. Butterfield passed away Aug. 9, 1966, in Gladstone, Ore. Surviving her passing are her son, Stephen, Portland; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Indergard, Spokane; one sister, Marcella Russell, Spokane; two brothers: Gordon Indergard, Lewiston, Idaho, and James Indergard, New York City.

LaFountain—David Michael LaFountain was born Aug. 7, 1952, and fell asleep in Jesus Aug. 14, 1966. The first six years of his life were spent at Butte. Lewistown was then his home until his death. He leaves to survive his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ewell; three brothers, Charles, Richard, Daniel, all of Lewistown; one sister Margo; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lone Turner, also of Lewistown. He was preceded in death by his father and an infant sister. He was baptized into the S.D.A. Church Oct. 6, 1962.

Zachrisson—Anna Repp-Zachrisson was born in Dubrinka, Russia, May 14, 1905, and fell asleep in Jesus Aug. 9, 1966, after an illness of several months. She came with her parents to America in 1908, and after securing her education served as a teacher for many years. She was an active member of the Olympia SDA church. In 1933 she was united in marriage to Vernon Zachrisson. She leaves to cherish her memory her husband; three sons, James R. and Leonard E. of Portland, Ore.; Myron C. of Olympia; a daughter, Keye of Olympia; two sisters, Lydia Rieker and Esther Repp of Portland; a brother, Samuel Repp of College Place, Wash.; and one grandson.

Walla Walla College

Dear Parents of the North Pacific Union:

I write this open letter to you so that by means of the printed page we may become better acquainted. God has permitted a wonderful privilege to come my way in that I may become involved in the total development of the spiritual, academic, social, and physical aspect of every young man that walks on the Walla Walla College campus.

I realize you parents are sending to our college your most priceless treasure. You have a right to expect that WWC will endeavor in every way to preserve the value of this treasure. Not only preserve, but increase its contributive value both to God and man.

Sittner Hall will house approximately 425 young men. These young men represent your homes. What type of young men have you sent to Sittner Hall? Does your young man know the daily value and the strength of the family altar? Has he been made aware of God's requirements in his life and the promises of the soon-coming Redeemer to claim His own? Has he been taught to allow God to become associated with all events of his daily life? Is this the type of young man you have sent to Sittner Hall this year?

The doors of Sittner Hall are open to every young man who desires to search deeper into the truths of the word of God and in every academic discipline to seek wisdom from above. As Dean of Men, I hope your young men will find WWC and Sittner Hall first of all serving as a barrier against widespread corruption and, second, providing the atmosphere for the optimum development of their spiritual and moral welfare.

Walla Walla College, like all our other colleges, must promote the future prosperity of our church by furnishing young men who are spiritual, intelligent, studious, and qualified to act in the fear of God as leaders.

Pray for us, and God bless you all.

Sincerely,
DEAN M. E. LOEWEN

Note Burning

The College church with a congregation of 1,400 members marked the successful completion of six years of fund raising for two important projects by the burning of a final $14,451.14 note on August 27 at the conclusion of the worship service with Elder Richard D. Fearing presiding at the ceremony.

W. E. Wasenmiller, treasurer of the Upper Columbia Conference, congratulated College church officers and members for their faithfulness in giving and noted a gain in tithe and other offerings the past year in spite of heavy fund-raising projects.

Elder C. O. Smith, College church cashier, reported $512.12 over the amount necessary to cancel the note borrowed so that the academy could be finished for the school year 1964-65. Dr. Jess Hutson, College church treasurer, also participated in the ceremony.

The College church has joined three other area churches: Village church, Walla Walla church, and the Hospital church to sponsor the Rogers School as a church school. Three additional teachers have been hired and a family plan has been set up for tuition rates, says Elder Fearing, board chairman.

Ingathering caroling, increasingly successful each year, is set for December 10, 1966, with Glenn Masden as Ingathering secretary. On that evening college and academy youth and adult members will fan out over the rural areas taking the Christmas message of service around the world and gathering funds for missions.

The five-minute radio program, Let's Think It Over, is entering its second year with excellent response, says the pastor. Those within radio distance are invited to tune to KUJ (1420 kc) at 5:55 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Elder Gary Schneider, youth pastor, is advisor for the College church academy Sabbath school division as well as sponsor of a "Minutes For Modern Youth" program on Wednesday evening from 7:15 to 8 o'clock. The program for 9-14-year-olds has been well attended as was the winter "Teen-Discussion Hour" each Sabbath afternoon.

"Impact," an on-campus evangelistic series to be conducted by the Theology club, is planned for 1966-67. Contemporary in format, the series will, it is hoped, have two results: bringing the message of Christian Adventism to non-SDA students, especially, and providing an opportunity for theology students-in-training to participate.

The Alpine Club, including physical fitness training for rugged mountain and river trips, exposed teenagers to the challenge of the out-of-doors and, therefore, gave them a sense of God as Creator, says Elder Schneider.

Alpine Club activities have included a canoe trip down the Snake River, several campouts in the Wallows, a Christmas vacation survival trip into the Blue Mountains, a Mt. Hood hike with Sabbath services conducted on Elliott Glacier, and a canoe trip down the Columbia River September 1-5.

Elder Schneider, with other youth pastors, sponsored youth programs which led eventually to an ambitious and successful Walla Walla Valley Academy student missionary project at the Monument Valley Mission and Clinic this summer, first of its kind for an academy. Also co-sponsor of Pathfinder Clubs, the College church has had a busy youth activity program.

Though the College church has had successes in a number of areas, Pastor Fearing plans a first brainstorming session in mid-September to search for new as well as tried ways of better witnessing for Adventist Christianity to non-Christian neighbors. Hopefully, ideas which can be refined and put into operation will be initiated at the brainstorming sessions.
