WIN-GATHERING YEAR

This has been a great week with over $100,000 in reports from our Conferences and churches in the Northwest. Such splendid reports have soared the Union total to a new high of $195,431.33. Alaska and Washington shot ahead of last year's totals to date.

The caroling season is running full throttle. Walla Walla College had a big night to break last year's record and to set a new high of achievement. Already 49 churches have scored new victories!

Our General Conference leaders appeal to make this campaign a "win-gathering year." The call of this momentous hour is to courageously advance—every church exceeding last year's record.

◆ Elder Don Wilson, pastor of the Bozeman church, was the Friday evening vesper speaker, December 2, asking, "Are You Hiding from God?"

Don Wilson

Pointing out that we are standing on the threshold of eternity, the speaker challenged his student listeners to be prepared for the earth-shaking events that are to come shortly and not attempt to hide as did Adam and Eve, Jonah, Saul, or Elijah.

"Some try to hide behind a hair-do or make-up," Elder Wilson revealed. "Others try to hide behind a creed or the doctor's degree of their spiritual leader."

"When Sunday laws will point out Seventh-day Adventists as rebels before the world, there will be a call for the spirit of Caleb and Joshua who stood firmly for the right even with the rest of the people against them," he declared.

In conclusion the Bozeman pastor challenged, "Choose God and stand firm when the fire burns, remembering Christ's resolution, 'I must work the works of Him that sent Me, for the night cometh when no man can work.'"

◆ Saturday night's program, two travelogue films, Land of the Midnight Sun and The Road to Alaska, showed Alaskan nature shots in sound and color. The pictures were taken by Mr. Eldon Hutchins, a merchant of Pierce, Idaho, brother-in-law of Bozeman's Pastor Wilson, who spent about four years in filming the two reels, which are considered by experts to compare favorably with work done by professional photographers. Mr. Hutchins, although not present at Saturday night's showing, has been a film lecturer for several years.

◆ Student caroling-for-missions bands worked Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 5 and 6, in the surrounding areas with encouraging results. The Academy church has now met its Ingathering goal.

Step Into the Water

There is a time to step into the water of baptism. With Jesus it was at the Jordan River in 27 A.D.—an example for His followers in all the world.

For Shirley Shepard, Mrs. Inez Burley, and Cynthia Jensen it was October, 1966. Shirley and Cynthia had the example of their parents in this important step, for they already belonged to the "great Advent family." But for Mrs. Burley who operated a local nursing home, it was different.

Many years ago she had heard of Seventh-day Adventists and something about the Sabbath sort of stuck with her. In April of this year she decided to visit the local Adventist church. The church members were raising funds to pay off the new church school debt. Mrs. Burley put in a check for $50.

After the pastor finished evangelistic meetings in Lewistown, he remembered that name, made a call and started the "white Bible" study plan. The result, one more entered the fold of the remnant church and is already zealous in the cause of God as has been manifest in God's recent Ingathering campaign.

Baptism in Plentywood

October 14 was a "high day" for the Plentywood Seventh-day Adventist church as Mr. and Mrs. Kae Lee and daughter, Ronnie Lee, and Laura Jean Messenger followed their Lord in baptism.

Brother Lee's mother accepted this message when he was a lad in his teens, but it wasn't anything he desired. His mother daily presented her son before the Lord in prayer, then lived a sermon constantly. Brother Lee married and has a family of five children, two girls and three boys.

Brother Lee has been working for several years for the Farmers Union Co-op. They, recognizing his unusual organizing qualities and sales ability, placed him as manager of the Dagmar, Montana, Co-op which gained rapidly under his leadership.

Kae's mother visited Plentywood on some occasions and took her daughter-in-law and children to church with her. Mrs. Lee found in the church the thing she was looking for. The writer visited the home and started Mrs. Lee on the white Bible course and holding weekly Bible studies. At first Kae did not have any interest, even to the point of trying to avoid the study. Upon reading the Marked Bible, Escape from Death and Judy Steps Out, Kae finally broke under the pleadings of the Holy Spirit. With much prayer and perseverance he gained the victory over the twin curses, alcohol and tobacco. From that day forward he could not study enough and he eagerly looked forward to the day he could join God's remnant church.

The devil does not let anyone go without a battle. On November 28, Brother Lee lost his job because of his faith. In spite of this, their faith and courage are good. Let us pray that God will lead this good brother to the place that God has for him.

Billings District Report

Billings district has had a busy, happy year with two churches dedicated on one Sabbath in May at the time of the regional meetings, Vacation Bible Schools in the district, the Bible in the Hand program, and most recently the successful evangelistic campaign from October 22 to November 19, by Elders Kenneth Mittleider, speaker, and Sunny Liu, singing evangelist, from the North Pacific Union office.

The Montana Conference kindly loaned Elder Harold Dawes, Plentywood, Brother Vernon Jones, Shelby, and Brother Halvard B. Thomsen, intern, to assist the team and the pastor in the heavy visitation program.

Opening night found the beautiful Billings sanctuary filled. Even early snows did not halt God's work in the district. D. H. Unsell, M.D., conducted a Stop Smoking Clinic in the Fireside Chapel.

To the meetings, members brought their friends, neighbors, relatives and Bible contacts—homemakers, widows, ranchers, schoolteachers, clerks, truck drivers, a dentist, retired folk and students. There was a first baptism of the series November 12, and a second baptism November 19. A total of 24 were baptized with two more re-baptized. At least 12 more should be ready for the third baptism scheduled December 17.

Prior to the campaign, the writer had baptized 24 other precious souls so he is grateful for the doubling of the blessing by the concentrated efforts in the evangelistic crusade.

Many victories were gained, decisions made and the churches of the district refreshed by the united and untiring labor of all.

"Oh, it looks so empty!" was Mrs. Dan Schaak's comment when the pretty red Bibles and the lovely bookcases were removed from the foyer. It was agreed though that there are a host of happy hallowed memories. It seems there echoes still the beautiful singing of "The Beautiful Land" by Sunny Liu, the calls to consecration to Jesus Christ by Elder Mittleider, that we can see yet the impressive scenes depicted by Mrs. Mittleider and Jarrold in blacklight artistry. We are thankful for the goodness of God that leads men to repentance through Jesus Christ our Lord. "O come, let us adore Him."

It's Sharing Time!

The Ingathering leaflet for this year brightly exclaims, "It's sharing time!" to everyone who opens the door to our solicitors.

The Eagle, Idaho, church members took this literally and decided to share the book Thoughts From the Mount of Blessing with everyone who was contacted through the caroling program this year; and the book Desire of Ages with every business contact. To date, 1,200 Thoughts From the Mount of Blessing have been purchased to meet the need, and more than 100 copies of Desire of Ages.

Now we wish to share with you a few of our experiences that we have had this week. Just today a dear old lady from Meridian called one of our members with whom she is acquainted and after confirming the fact that we were the ones who had left the book, she said, "That book is wonderful! I would like to get four or five more copies of it and will be glad to pay you for them." She had graciously invited the carolers in the evening before and gave them a good donation.

A neighbor saw a copy of the Desire of Ages at a business place in Eagle and that very day asked me if he could get a copy for himself, as having leafed through it, he found it so interesting, he desired to read it. Several days later he requested a copy for a friend of his who expressed the same desire.

Through one business contact we found out about a family with five children who were in great need. The Eagle Pathfinders took it on

This food was shared with a needy family that was found through a business contact in Ingathering. Fresh fruits and vegetables were added by the Dorcas. themselves to share most of the food they had gathered at Halloween time, and with the help of the reversion fund (received from Ingathering last year) we were able to give them a big lift at Thanksgiving time. In speaking further to the mother of this lovely family, who was very grateful, we found that she had attended Sabbath school as a child with her grandparents who were Seventh-day Adventists. We plan to share our faith further with them.

In Meridian we found an Adventist family who had just moved there from California and were without transportation. We will take them to church and share Sabbath dinner with them this Sabbath.

One gentleman expressed that he was more than glad to contribute because, "I know what the Adventists are doing in other parts of the world; I have been there and have seen their hospitals." He readily accepted the literature we offered him.

We found a lady at Star who had in the past received Bible studies from a sister at McCall. She expressed her desire to attend church sometime, and with the follow-up that is planned by that caroling group, I feel confident good results will follow.

Many, many other experiences similar to these are shared when the members meet at a designated place for refreshments, to compare notes, to count their Ingathering and blessings after a successful evening out caroling. This fellowship brings us closer to one another and to God.

We feel we are doubly blessed by sharing this good literature, for this is just one more way to reach every home and fulfill our duty of "putting literature into every hand that will receive it." MS 2, 1914. Also, we believe that it leads to openings for further contacts and Bible studies. It gives our members more of an incentive to go caroling when we know we are not only asking others to share, but we ourselves are sharing.

Yes, there's a blessing in sharing. Let us share of our time, energy, voices, means and ourselves to help prepare the way of the Lord, and "make straight in the desert a highway for our God" who will soon return. Let us share this precious truth with all those who are in darkness and thus prepare them also so they can share eternity with us. Let us not forget that now, in particular, "IT'S SHARING TIME!" Ingathering brings dividends for the Lord, both in means and souls.

Grants Pass School

Elementary children taught by Miss Wanda Knowles and Mrs. Betty Meehan in Grants Pass moved into new classrooms early this month upon completion of Phase I of the current school building program.

Built on the 3.9 acre, L-shaped lot owned by the church on Seventh Street, the new concrete block structure will replace the present wood-frame building on the same site. Grades one to six meet in the new rooms which are divided by children's rest rooms. A covered walk the length of the building provides shelter for play during rainstorms. Larger rest room facilities are at the west end of the building to be adjacent to the new wing.

Principal Charles Rutan's seventh and eighth graders remain in the old building. One old classroom has been taken over by the Sabbath school's youth department for the church four blocks away. The other is a temporary library and lunchroom. The basement assembly room is now doubling as the Pathfinder center and their rehearsal hall.

The school board, looking toward the day when Grants Pass will have a model school, has voted to purchase all necessary equipment to make it such. First to be installed is a Listening Center for the first six grades. Overhead projectors are being ordered for every room.

Olin Nations is school board chairman; Dr. Samuel Werner, building project chairman. Wayne Andersen, former associate pastor now in Hawaii, did much of the bricklaying.

Phase II to include two more classrooms, a library, and administrative offices will begin in April. It is hoped that all students will be in the new school by September, 1967.

Celebrating its golden anniversary, the Grants Pass church school has an interesting history. Though there were no graduates the first year, Eva Santee Olds finished the eighth grade the second year and continues to live in Grants Pass.

A continuous attraction to non-Adventist parents and children, the children who enroll are often baptized. Because of Kenneth Grimes, who was baptized in '61 before completing Grade 8, his neighbor lady was also baptized after the fall Hiner-Lindfors-Reynolds team effort with Pastors Arnold Lien and Jack Just. Kenneth, serving Uncle Sam, was unable to bring his neighbor, but she attended the meetings alone because of his witness during his high school years.

Mike Shank has since influenced his mother, two brothers, and a sister to join his new-found church.

Mr. Rutan is in his second year of of his second term as principal. He previously served three years, ten years ago.

Earl Reed working in his Investment garden.

Lord by Earl E. Reed of Sweet Home brought notice from the neighbors as well as the deer. Ninety-four-years old, Brother Reed came to Santiam Terrace near Sweet Home in 1934 from his birthplace near Cadillac, Michigan. When he first attended camp meetings only 40-50 met. Now he notes the overwhelming attendance of 18-20,000 from the days when Mrs. George McCready Price was his Sabbath school teacher.

Mrs. Esther Clark and Mrs. Erma Brock have sold bread and pastries for a building project of their Molalla church. In three months, Mrs. Brock had $75 for the church. Mrs. Clark had $98 for the church and $21 for Investment. All bread sales to one family were dedicated to her Investment project.

A rural community such as Meadow Glade, Washington, is an unlikely place for a bicycle shop. And it didn't do too well in 1961 and 1962—before bicycle sales were dedicated to Investment. However, Alton Anderson watched the Lord multiply his business from 27 sales in that first year to more than a hundred per year the last three years.

Two Portland musicians, Charlene Byrnes-Ross and Dorothy Hessong, have cut a new high fidelity record for missions Investment. Charlene sings and Dorothy accompanies on the organ old favorites as well as six of Dorothy's own compositions. Several numbers are Charlene in multiple recording.

The album jacket was designed by Charlene's husband, Lanny, who is the agent for the records, which are sold only through Box 3573, Portland, Oregon 97280, for $3.95, plus 35 cents postage and handling.

Dorothy, a native of Sweet Home, is currently teaching piano and organ and is assistant dean at Platte Valley Academy, Shelton, Nebraska.

TV Bible Class

As Ellabelle Klam and Joyce Hamlin, nurses from Portland Sanitarium and Hospital, went caroling for missions one evening last December, they met Mrs. Molly Wilson who mentioned that her mother had united with the Seventh-day Adventist Church before her death.

Investment Stories

As Investment projects reach their conclusion and plans are made for another year, some interesting goals have been recorded.

George Conklin, a member of the McKenzie Valley church, promised the Lord $25 for Investment if He would reveal a watch Brother Conklin lost while cleaning brush for the Soil Conservation Service. In a report to Mrs. Williams Rhoades, press secretary, Brother Conklin reported finding the band two weeks later. After another week he discovered the watch face down lifted to a three-foot-high levee for a new creek channel, and only a little scratched from the tractor, disc, and bulldozer activity of three weeks!

A potato patch dedicated to the

The young ladies noted the address. Some time later they called back to begin a friendship. They provided Mrs. Wilson and her husband with a white Bible and lessons as well as as invitation to watch the TV Bible Class. Every two weeks they faithfully visited. When the TV Bible Class meetings were held in Portland in April, these two nurses brought Mrs. Wilson to a number of the meetings. The three ladies attended the evening services of the Oregon camp meeting together.

The seed that was sown on a cold December night bore fruit on July 23, the last Sabbath afternoon of camp meeting, when Mrs. Wilson was buried in baptism by Elder Harold Turner of the Sunnyside church. Happy in her new church home, Mrs. Wilson made this comment, "This is the first church of the many I have attended that has really satisfied me."

Others are waiting and longing for this same satisfaction. Be alert to every soul-winning opportunity. Pray that God will give you the joy of leading at least one soul to Christ.

Literary Presentations Close Cultural Week At Milo Academy

Milo Academy students and faculty were pleasantly reminded of our glorious literary heritage recently when Dr. Helen Evans, head of the Walla Walla College English Department, and four of her students presented a Saturday evening program of open-stage emphasis on English and American literature. Selections from Robert Frost, William Shakespeare, Victor Hugo, Geoffrey Chaucer, Jonathan Swift, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Homer and others were read and interpreted by Dr. Evans as her students posed in appropriate scenes depicting some of the highlights of those selections.

The student group included Mike Osborne, Dick Loganbill, Judy Stiffler, and Darlene Barnhart. Mr. Logan-bill shared his vocal talent throughout the evening. The presentation came as a climax to Milo's cultural week.

In an age which is placing emphasis on the importance and potential of the machine, the age-old privilege of the written word seems to have found itself in perilous straits. To the people of God this unfortunate situation presents even a greater concern, realizing that we must lean heavily on that which has been written to promote the cause of God on this earth. To an alarming degree our students show their dependence on the machine by outward displeasure with time-tested reading material.

It is with this problem in mind that Milo Academy stresses cultural importance, and in particular the realm of literature. Our goal is to bring our young people to Christ and certainly one of the most effective measures parents and teachers can take to realize this goal is to develop within them a deep love for that written word which has shown to be of mental and, above all, spiritual benefit to the minds of men.

Doxologies in Medford

The Doxology was sung with fervor and feeling in Medford, on Sabbath following Thanksgiving. That day marked the closing of a month-long evangelistic campaign by the Hiner-Lindfors-Reynolds team. The Doxology was sung when the last of the 69 candidates had been baptized. A third baptism is planned for December 31.

Four churches of the Rogue Valley—Ashland, Medford, Shady Point, and Valley View—had supported the campaign in a most commendable way. Members gave unstintingly of their time and means to bring about this wonderful soul-winning success.

The above-pictured group includes most of the people who were added to the flock that the Master is preparing for Himself in the Medford area. Many young married couples and formerly unbelieving husbands are found in this group.

The pastors and members gave such wholehearted cooperation that it was sheer joy for the evangelistic team to be associated with them in this endeavor.

Several husbands were won for their praying wives. Stories of specific workings and interventions of the Holy Spirit as He used laymen to win friends and relatives will appear from time to time in the GLEANER.

To you wonderful people of the Rogue Valley, the evangelistic team is saying, "Thank you and may the Lord continue to use you as instruments in soul-winning, soul-saving and soul-keeping."

Pamela Hitchman Scores As Semifinalist

Pamela Hitchman, a senior at Portland Union Academy, has been named a semifinalist in the 1966-67 Merit Scholarship competition, according to Principal Cecil Roy.

Miss Hitchman is among the highest-scoring students in Oregon on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, administered last spring in 17,500 schools nationwide. More than 14,000 semifinalists were appointed across the country.

The semifinalists can advance to finalist status by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their qualifying test performance on a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interests. All Merit Scholars for 1967 will then be selected from the finalist group.

Each finalist receives a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his distinguished performance in the program. Finalists are eligible for the scholarships sponsored by NMSC and some 340 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals.

Names of the Merit Scholars chosen from among the 1966-67 finalists will be announced about May 3, 1967. The exact number of awards will depend upon the extent of sponsor support. In 1966, over 2,250 Merit Scholarships were awarded, 1,700 of them by sponsors.

High school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the students are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholars.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award covering the undergraduate years of college. Each stipend is individually determined after the winner's need is assessed. For the student already financially able to attend the college of his choice, the stipend may be as little as $400 for four years. Those with high need may receive the normal maximum of $6,000, or $1,500 per year. Winners choose their own colleges and courses of study.

Fairbanks Church Pastor

It is a pleasure to present to the Alaska field, Pastor and Mrs. Ronald Breingan who come to us from Southeastern California. Brother Breingan was connected with the youth work and education program for many years, and is now the pastor of the Fairbanks church.

Fairbanks is a growing community in the heart of Alaska. The population is divided between military and civilian. We have many servicemen in the area, and a portion of Pastor Breingan's time is taken up ministering to them along with his evangelistic and pastoral duties.

Individual's Prerogative

When Jesus said in Revelation 3, "Behold I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, . . ." He was reiterating one of the basic concepts in the constitution of the Government of Heaven. By love our Lord has wooed us into His fold. The use of force is contrary to His character and is a carry-over, or kin, to the Mark of the Beast principle. Salvation is an individual matter, likewise our preparation for heaven is an individual matter. The Lord chooses to have those who desire salvation through Him also choose to serve Him. Once they have chosen to serve Him, then through the church's program throughout the year certain activities are carried on. As the Holy Spirit speaks to our hearts, our feet, our hands and our tongues become activated by the Holy Spirit to individually go into the harvest field (irrespective of which campaign it is) and serve.

We are presently in the final throes of the 1967 Ingathering campaign. Each of us should determine for himself whether he has done all he feels he can to make it a success. Many have made business contacts, still others have tirelessly and devotedly gone out night by night in the caroling program. Others who could not function in either of these capacities have chosen to give a Silver Vanguard amount ($25). All of these funds together are being used in the great world budget to proclaim the love of Jesus as well as His near return.

Have you done your part individually? If not, now, this week, I would encourage you to individually cooperate with the other members of your church and make every church in the Upper Columbia Conference victorious by reaching its Ingathering goal and in exceeding last year's total. May the Lord bless you as you do your individual part.

'Till Year's End

Rare indeed it is in these changing times that a book lives on through a century in ever-increasing demand and takes its place in current reading by the side of books dealing with present issues. Yet such is the enviable record of Early Writings of Ellen G. White. This popular little volume is rightly named, being a republication of the first three Ellen G. White books. The wide and lasting popularity of Early Writings may be attributed to the unwaning desire to possess and study the messages of information and encouragement which came to the people through the prophetic gift.

Under the general title of "Sanctification" there appeared in the early issues of the Review and Herald for 1881 a series of eleven helpful articles from the pen of Ellen G. White. Writing from a deep experience in the things of God and from a mind and heart illuminated by the Holy Spirit, she carefully examined the elements of true sanctification and contrasted these with various unsound but popular theories on the subject.

In the same decade the eleven articles were drawn together and published as a pamphlet bearing the title, "Bible Sanctification." In 1937 under the familiar title, The Sanctified Life, this material was again re-issued in its entirety. In this form and in many printings the little book has enriched thousands of lives.

One reason Christ's ministry was so successful was that He used down-to-earth illustrations and parables in teaching the people. Writing on these very parables Ellen G. White, under divine guidance, has written her book, Christ's Object Lessons. This book clearly and simply portrays great truths in such a way as to move the hearts of men and women. Its simplicity and logic are virtually unexcelled.

There are many themes upon which God's chosen messenger to the Advent believers received enlightenment in the early days at the beginning of her work. Foremost among these was the great conflict between good and evil, from the fall of Lucifer in heaven and fall of man down through the centuries of probationary time to the second coming of Christ and the setting up of the kingdom of God in the earth made new. Thus we have in current circulation a series of five rather large books known as the "Conflict of the Ages" series.

For some years there has been felt a need, both in America and abroad, for a brief, all-inclusive presentation of this great theme giving in one compact volume the high points of the whole sweep of the story of the conflict of the ages. This need is now met in this volume, The Story of Redemption.

I am informed that these four books are on special sale at your Book and Bible House between now and the end of 1966 on the following basis:

	Regular	Special
Early Writings	$3.75	$3.00
The Story of Redemption	3.75	3.00
Christ's Object Lessons	3.75	3.00
The Sanctified Life	2.50	2.00

May I recommend that the libraries of our Adventist families should include these very timely and helpful books. Now that they are on sale, take advantage and secure these books from your Book and Bible House before the end of 1966.

Moscow Junior Academy Choir

The residents of the Troy-Moscow area are justifiably proud of the newly organized choir at the Moscow Junior Academy this year. Mrs. Keith Gibbons, teacher of grades 5-8, has done a remarkable job with the group and their singing is outstanding.

The choir had performed earlier in Troy and in Moscow before presenting their Christmas concert in the Troy Seventh-day Adventist church on December 10 and again in the Moscow Seventh-day Adventist church on December 17. The group has been invited to perform as far away as Grangeville and Spokane, with plans now being laid to be in Spokane's Linwood church for the eleven o'clock service on January 14. All students in grades 5-10 are in the choir.

Fair Booth at Yakima Attracts Many

The Western Washington Fair was held September 28 through October 2, and of the thousands who visited the Fair, many stopped to view our display. When it was over we counted 750 cards of those registered for the free drawing and evidencing interest in The Bible Story or other of our books. Approximately 300 Life and Health were distributed and we found that this attractive health journal appealed to the people. Besides this, several hundred tracts and Bible Correspondence cards were distributed.

One name was drawn each day for a free Bible Story book, and a large painting was given for opportunity to call at the home.

A man at an adjoining insurance booth seemed interested and told us that he wanted a set of Bible Story. We did not press to sell them there but called at his home where he decided to take not only Bible Story, but also Happy Home Series, Desire of Ages, Triumph of God's Love, 10-volume Bedtime Stories, Heritage of Our Faith, and a family Bible.

After the Fair we sorted the leads into two categories—good and not-so-good; but one experience proved to me that it is difficult to judge cards or people. One of the not-so-good cards which I followed up came from an Indian home. Not too promising a situation. But this grandmother was impressed that these books would help her and her children and grandchildren, and she bought a set for cash.

We are just getting started on the leads, but $2500 of our good books have already been placed in these homes where it would have been most difficult to have gained an entrance otherwise.

Camp Meeting in 1967

It is not too early to be thinking about camp meeting. The dates have been set—July 12-22, 1967; and, of course, the location—Auburn Academy.

Some consideration has been given to the program and before too long we will have information for you about the speakers.

We need the blessings that come from this kind of meeting—the spiritual food, the fellowship, the quietness of the environment. Begin planning now to be at camp meeting, July 12-22, 1967.

Auburn Academy Industries

Some thirty or more years ago a furniture manufacturing business was established at Auburn Academy for the primary purpose of providing employment for students. The factory has been a great blessing, and during the past twenty-five years students have earned over a million dollars to apply on their school expenses.

In addition to the furniture factory, there is a sawmill that provides kiln dried lumber suitable for the manufacture of high-grade hardwood furniture.

Furniture is manufactured and sold in a highly competitive market that requires periodic redesign and the purchase and installation of automated equipment and the adoption of new and modern methods and procedures.

James Simpson, the manager of Auburn Academy Wood Products, took over his responsibilities about two and a half years ago and immediately was faced with some of these problems of redesign, manufacturing methods, the need for some modernization, etc. This was a time consuming and taxing problem and in addition was costly. However, the manager and his men were equal to the problem and gradually the sales increased. During this period of adjustment, costs mounted and deficits were incurred that were unavoidable.

At present the business carries rather heavy obligations and with these obligations it is impossible to modernize the plant or add new equipment. It is also becoming more and more difficult for a small furniture business to survive in a competitive market, therefore, the Conference Committee studied our position and decided to ask Harris Pine Mills to study the matter and let us know if they would be willing to take over the operation of this business at its present location and continue to provide work opportunities for students. They agreed to do this and presented a proposal which was presented to a specially called constituency meeting that convened at Auburn Academy at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, December 4, 1966.

After thorough consideration of all of the conditions prevailing, the 257 constituents assembled from the churches throughout the Conference voted by a substantial majority to accept the proposal presented by Harris Pine Mills; so on January 1, 1967, the business will operate under the new name.

Harris Pine Mills is an Oregon Corporation that is owned by the General Conference. They operate industries at thirteen educational centers and this business which has been grossing several million dollars in sales each year, since it was given to the denomination by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Harris several years ago, is a great blessing not only to our schools but to the entire denomination. We appreciate the willingness of Charles J. Nagele, the president of Harris Pine Mills, and his staff to operate this industry in such a way as to benefit Auburn Academy and its 450 students. Most of the full-time employees in the industry will continue their connection. The only ones not continuing will be those who choose to make other plans.

We wish to acknowledge the excellent work performed by James Simpson and his associates. They have worked diligently through a most difficult period to design and perfect a product that is a credit to Auburn Academy. Harris Pine Mills will continue to manufacture and market this product without change.

New Statistics Intensify Warning Against Smoking

The government offered new statistics from death records recently to back its claims—in effect intensifying its warnings—about the alleged health perils of smoking, particularly cigarette smoking.

For one thing, the new report on the controversial subject of smoking and health shows that Americans born in relatively recent years "are at higher risk of dying from lung cancer at younger ages than were their predecessors." This, it indicated, is because folks begin cigarette smoking earlier in life than they once did.

The report, by the U. S. Public Health Service, is more ominous in some respects than the highly publicized surgeon general's report of 1964.

It deals exclusively with death-rate statistics on a variety of ills which the earlier report had said were at least associated with smoking—particularly cigarette smoking. Included are some maladies, such as lung cancer, which the earlier report said are definitely caused by smoking. And the new report covers two additional years in that respect beyond the ground covered in the earlier report.

The report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964.

Among the major findings:

The mortality trend from lung cancer continued upward between 1962 and 1964.

There were "no signs of reversals: in the mortality trend for cancer of the larynx and chronic bronchitis," the two other diseases stated by the surgeon general's report to have a cause-and-effect relationship to cigarette smoking.

There were substantial increases during 1950-1964 in mortality from three of the eight groups of diseases "associated with but not clearly causally related to smoking." These three were:

1. Arteriosclerotic heart disease, including coronary disease especially in the male population.
2. Cirrhosis of the liver, with the most marked increase for the non-white population.
3. Emphysema, especially for the white male population.

However, the report said that for the remaining five groups in this category of "associated with but not clearly causally related to smoking," this was the situation found:

"Mortality rates were either downward or relatively stable during 1950-1964."

Those ills included ulcer of the stomach; cancer of the esophagus; cancer of parts of the oral cavity other than the lip; cancer of the bladder and other urinary organs; and specified noncoronary cardiovascular disease.

A few years ago when Seventh-day Adventist physicians began to gather statistics regarding the harmful effects of tobacco on the human body we were almost alone, but it is a far different story today. The government has now entered the picture and Congress has set aside two million dollars for 1966 and 1967 to warn our high school boys and girls of the danger attached to cigarette smoking.

Let us again thank our heavenly Father for our dedicated medical men and women who have led out in this titanic struggle with evil.

The Literature Work

Our group of literature evangelists is not large but it is the best in quality. We have men who have sold over $20,000 of our literature thus far in 1966. This loyal group of workers have enrolled over 5,904 in the Bible School, prayed in 5,735 homes, given away 38,933 pieces of free literature.

We should have many engaged in this work which is as important as the "gospel ministry." Think about it! Is this the work in which you should be engaged?

"Why I Am a Literature Evangelist"

"The colporteur work is the most interesting and enjoyable work that I have ever done. I count it a real privilege to be called by God into this phase of His great message."

Ed Pearson made the above statement after completing his first year as a literature evangelist. And what a year it was! Besides delivering nearly $17,000 worth of literature, he enrolled 589 people in the Voice of Prophecy course and distributed 4,135 pieces of free literature.

Larry Gasser responded with the following statement when I asked him why he was a literature evangelist, after the completion of his first year:

take up the literature work."

The Lord has blessed Larry's hard work this first year with a tremendous amount of sales—over $25,000 worth. He enrolled 564 people in the Bible course.

These men were given their colporteur credentials for one year of faithful service by Elder W. J. Blacker at a colporteur meeting which was held in the Conference office on November 13.

Other Churches Call on Us

A few weeks ago the writer received a telephone call from an attorney's wife who is a prominent leader in one of the popular churches in the city of Seattle. She said, "I am embarrassed to call on you people to come to our church and talk to us about smoking, but we need it." After receiving an affirmative answer to her request, she asked if I would consider two Sunday evenings, and this request was granted. The audience was very attentive and it was a real thrill to present our wonderful message to a church that no longer than fifty years ago would have disfellowshipped its members for the use of tobacco. It is no wonder that the popular churches today are calling for help.

At the close of the Sunday service they had their coffee hour and the church hostess graciously asked the writer and his wife if they would like a hot cup of coffee. After we explained in a polite way that we did not use coffee she said, "That's right, you are Seventh-day Adventists. Some of my relatives are Seventh-day Adventists also." It was indeed a happy feeling to belong to a church family that through the years have held its high standard. We solicit your sincere prayers for God's continued blessing upon His people.

Unofficially Opened

The former Tacoma 23rd Street church, to be known from this day forward as the "Tahoma" SDA church, held its first service in their newly acquired and remodeled church home on November 19, 1966.

Located at 1310 South L Street in the central area of Tacoma, this former Lutheran church is now the scene of true reformation. This reformation is taking place in the physical development of our new church home, thus the unofficial opening, for we still have considerable work to do before finishing our remodeling, although we are officially holding church service in the sanctuary which has been made ready for service. We also are seeking reformation in terms of our spiritual development and the urgency with which we preach and work for the soon appearing of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

There was visible evidence on opening day, November 19, to this new-felt urge to make ready for the coming of the Lord, when a Catholic young lady was led by the Spirit of God to take her stand for this precious truth.

We solicit your prayers to the end that many precious souls may be brought to a saving knowledge of this truth as we establish permanent residence in the city of Tacoma.

Weighing What You Want to Weigh

The above picture shows only a part of the large crowd that gathered in the Grays Harbor Community Center to view the nutrition films called, "Weighing What You Want to Weigh."

A few weeks ago the writer accepted an invitation from the missionary secretary of the Grays Harbor Seventh-day Adventist church, Mrs. Ray Anderson, to show our weight control films to the TOPS Clubs in that area. TOPS means "Take Off Pounds Sensibly." This club is a national non-profit organization with approximately one hundred sixty thousand members. The clubs in the Grays Harbor area were a very interesting group and seemed to enjoy the films. This is only one of the many avenues God has provided for His church to reach men and women from all walks of life.

Thank You

In May of 1965 a Five-Day Stop Smoking Clinic was held in the recreation room of the Washington Conference office by Doctor Warren Bacon and Elder W. E. Baxter. Most of those who attended the five days broke from their habit and expressed their appreciation for the help they received. The small percentage that were not able to break their habit at that time asked us not to abandon them entirely from our thinking. A few weeks ago we received the following letter from one of these individuals:

"Enclosed is a check in appreciation for what the 'no smoking clinic' has done for me. My family and I thank you and others who give their time to make this wonderful public service possible."

Let us continue to pray for the thousands who are struggling to break from this vicious habit.

CAROLING FOR INGATHERING

stated goal by $900, according to Pastor Richard D. Fearing.

One additional group plans caroling during the vacation, and other individual gifts continue to come in.

Under the direction of Glenn Masden, College Church Ingathering director, and Monte Cheney, Lay Activities director, the carolers covered territory in Walla Walla and College Place but also fanned out over a wide rural area. Teenagers responded well under the direction of Elder E. G. Schneider and brought in sizable contributions.

Newspaper and radio publicity had prepared residents for the calls. At one home where the family was away, money was left on the door for the solicitor with the request that he sign the slip indicating that the caroling group had come.

Favorable contacts with the community made business solicitation easy and response good. The College Church is sending to each businessman a copy of SDA's Today, a report in depth edited by Bill Oliphant.

In many homes where there were invalids, carolers were invited inside to sing. At one farm home south of Dayton, residents stated that this was the first time in 30 years a caroling group had called.

At one home in the community, college students with Mrs. William Rea as solicitor, were invited inside the home to sing. "I'll give you $5 if you will sing 'O Little Town of Bethlehem' for me," said the man of the house. The requested song and others followed, and as the carolers prepared to leave, the householder stated that he would give another $15 if the carolers would come to the Arctic Circle Drive-In to sing at 10 o'clock. When they arrived at the place of business, their host had gathered a sizable audience for whom the students gave a caroling "concert" and received the $15. "Each year we cover the territory, we warm the hearts of the people to the gospel message," says Pastor Fearing.

Church treasury department personnel on duty all evening were Dr. Jess Hutson, Elder C. O. Smith, and Miss Alice Hassing.

Mrs. Barnell Brady, Dorcas leader, and assistants, provided refreshments for returning carolers.

Additional Accreditation for School of Nursing

The Walla Walla College School of Nursing, accredited in 1953 by the Collegiate Board of Review, National League for Nursing, as a degree-granting nursing school, this week received additional accreditation and recommendation for its program by which graduate nurses may earn the B.S. degree.

Wilma Leazer

In recent years the department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs, National League for Nursing, has developed criteria for programs by which registered nurses may obtain B.S. degrees, Miss Wilma Leazer, dean, WWC's School of Nursing, explains. A national conference recently held in St. Louis, clarified criteria of the program. Miss Leazer has received word that WWC's program for graduate nurses fulfills the criteria and that it will be listed in schools of nursing which are accredited for this purpose. The list is to appear in the January issue of the Nursing Outlook.

The additional accreditation will be helpful for nursing school graduates who wish to enter graduate school, according to Miss Leazer.

In 1956, the WWC School of Nursing became one of 47 colleges and universities schools approved for Federal Professional Nursing traineeships.

Nursing Students Are Capped

Forty-eight Walla Walla College sophomore students in the School of Nursing were capped Friday evening in the College Church with Miss Wilma L. Leazer, dean, School of Nursing, in charge of presentation of caps.

A significant service for all 48, the ceremony had special significance for five students who were capped by their mothers, themselves graduate nurses. The mothers and daughters
