'LIKE A RAY OF LIGHT'

W. A. FAGAL

Filming of Faith for Today invitations to enroll in the Bible Course is being done for the first time in recording studios.

At random, a TV viewer in the Midwest dialed Faith for Today. Impressed with the blessing the message brought, he enrolled in the Bible course. Later after he had taken his stand for Christ in baptism, he commented: "The message that came to me through your television program and Bible Course were like a ray of light in a dark life. I grew up in a Christian home, but lost sight of Christ in my youth. Now I have taken a full stand for the Lord and confidently look forward to a place in God's kingdom."

To date more than 13,000 individuals can give testimony that "a ray of light" has come into their lives through the Faith for Today ministry as they have passed through the waters of baptism, uniting with God's remnant church. In addition to that, the following figures have their own significance:

Applications .....	1,649,769
Enrollments .....	494,144
Lessons graded .....	7,169,509
Active students .....	34,913
Graduates .....	134,739
Interest reports sent .....	69,061
Interest reports received .....	39,764
Unbaptized Sabbathkeepers .....	21,742
Baptisms .....	14,018

Presently one student out of every six who graduates from the Faith for Today Bible Course becomes a baptized member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. With preparation of a new Bible course by Pastor W. R. L. Scragg, associate secretary of the Radio-TV Department of the General Conference, it is hoped this percentage will rise even higher.

To reach hearts with the glad tidings of the coming of Christ, five formats are currently offered on Faith for Today—the interview feature that singles out a prominent personality, eliciting from him a response on current events, conduct of a mission program or similar topic of interest; the dramatized life situation, which in modern parable form depicts object lessons in life; the song program, interspersed with narration; the travelogue that takes the viewer overseas to archaeological sites such as Babylon and Tyre; and the illustrated sermon that highlights great Bible truths.

Sharing gospel tidings through the television ministry is like a chain reaction. Recently William Jackson, formerly a minister of another denomination, returned to New York City to become pastor of the Manhattan church. Now some of his previous associates have taken an interest in what he has been doing and have been attending his worship service. God is blessing in his soul-winning ministry. He became interested in the Bible course and Faith for Today telecast through an enrollment card that was given to him. Now he rejoices in the opportunity to lead men and women to Christ.

Currently Faith for Today is viewed on 276 stations in North America and ten overseas countries—Australia, Bermuda, Guam, Korea, Liberia, Nigeria, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Trinidad and the Virgin Islands. An estimated 15 million viewers watch this program each week. In addition, films are being shown in hospitals, mission stations and even aboard

Faith for Today Offering

Sabbath, February 8

The challenge of communicating the world's greatest message faces Adventist people. How happy we are that modern mass media such as television is available to reach the millions of earth's inhabitants with the good news of a soon-coming Saviour.

Faith for Today telecast is our denominational outreach. Every church and every member is glad for this television tool which plays an important role in our total evangelism. We rejoice that the Faith for Today program is currently on 276 stations. Sixty percent of North America can view the program. The result is that there are 15 million viewers. How grateful we are to be able to reach so many!

Faith for Today is in its 18th year of telecasting messages of Bible truth. The weekly telecasts give a gleam of hope to thousands upon thousands of the true joy and real life in Christ. Surely we want this television ministry to continue in a strong way during the year 1969.

Our annual offering to Faith for Today appeals for a $350,000 objective. We must remember the world outreach of our telecast which reaches such overseas areas as Australia, Bermuda, Brazil, Guam, Korea, Liberia, Nigeria, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, and Trinidad. It is our privilege to give for the television ministry to millions of people in all these areas.

We are glad that a dozen or more stations in the Northwest carry the Faith for Today program. Annually we are baptizing scores of people won to Christ through the Faith for Today evangelism.

Let us give generously on Sabbath, February 8, to continue our nation's oldest religious telecast. Faith for Today deserves and needs our best financial support. Give to reach the millions with God's message!

ships. They, too, are giving their witness for Christ.

Progress has been good, but our needs were never more urgent than now. A number of major cities in the United States do not have our program telling about the coming of Christ. These include: Tucson (245,000), and Phoenix (520,000), Arizona; Chicago (3,520,000), Illinois; Topeka (127,500), Kansas; Louisville (392,000), Kentucky; Shreveport (171,000), Louisiana; Boston (670,000), Massachusetts; New York City (8,080,000); Knoxville (181,000), Tennessee; Houston (1,100,000), and San Antonio (645,000), Texas; Spokane (184,000), Washington; and Cheyenne (50,000), Wyoming; San Francisco (740,000), San Diego (636,000), California; Washington, D.C. To add one public service station to Faith for Today's programming costs thousands of dollars. Then the program must be maintained year after year as gospel tidings go out.

Religious television, like everything else, is becoming more costly. Films

Faith for Today's House Committee (left) plans for increasing the evangelistic impact of the telecast. The objective of this group is to devise ways and means of more effectively reaching hearts for Christ. Right: Pastor Roy Naden, director of radio-television productions of the Australasian Division, inspects some of the hundreds of Faith for Today films that are shipped to every part of the United States and ten overseas countries. Pastor W. A. Fagal explains the Faith for Today film schedule to him. Light colored cases contain color films; those in the darker cases are black and white.

are more expensive to produce and air time has gone up sharply—in some areas as much as 50%. Production costs and materials needed to follow through on interests also cost a great deal more today. When Faith for Today began, Bible School lessons cost 30% less to produce than they do today.

Televising of the everlasting gospel cannot be done in many centers of earth. Faith for Today cannot be viewed in Russia and vast areas that lie behind the iron curtain. Also, many non-Communist areas do not sell religious TV time.

Some day the doors will close here. God's servant indicates that the moment will come when men and women will be eager to give their funds for the advancement of the gospel but the money will have no value. Even now not one cent can go for giving the gospel in many lands of earth. This will be true of every country on the globe before the end of time! Truly God's people are to bring in the harvest now "for the night will come when no man can work."

Faith for Today's 65 dedicated staff members are earnestly seeking to carry the gospel to the ends of the earth. They contribute each year to the television ministry. They are convinced that Christ is coming soon and that TV is a God-ordained method of communicating gospel tidings to hearts.

Faith for Today staff members meet together every week, praying earnestly that God will bless the many interests at home and abroad who are watching the program and studying the Bible course. Nor do their prayers go unanswered. Note the following response:

"Sometime ago I wrote asking prayer for my grandson who had turned to the world and gotten into trouble. Now I desire to thank you for your prayers and let you know the boy has sought forgiveness, vowing to stay close to God.

"It has been truly wonderful the change God has brought in this misguided boy. The lad has seen his mistakes and wants to do right.

"I thank God for friends like you and your staff. I know you will be happy with me about this."

CONNECTICUT

"P.S. This has marked a miracle in the parents' lives, also. They have discovered how much God loves them and have recognized some of their problems."

A vital adjunct to the Faith for Today ministry has been decision evangelism. So far nine campaigns have been held in the following cities: Washington, D.C.; Swift Current, Saskatchewan; Manchester, New Hampshire; Halifax, Nova Scotia; Los Angeles, California; San Diego, California; Indianapolis, Indiana; Ottawa, Ontario and Albany, New York. Over 500 have been baptized through them.

Series are planned for Hagerstown, Maryland, and Los Angeles, California, in the spring. Next fall Faith for Today meetings will be conducted in Staten Island, New York. Later a major series will be conducted in Atlanta, Georgia.

Like a ray of light the gospel is to go to darkened hearts, illuminating the gloom and despair so characteristic of the world today. "He that shall come will come and will not tarry." These tidings are to go to the ends of the earth.

May God bless you as you remember Faith for Today and its ministry in your prayers.

Portable Camera Is Project for Faith for Today Valentine Offering

A portable television camera will be purchased with Valentine offerings contributed by school children across North America.

Last year more than $24,000 was given for Faith for Today evangelism by school children. More than 350 schools participated.

Franklin W. Hudgins, who is in charge of station relations and who directs the project, states: "This year we are hoping that 500 schools will participate. Our goal is $30,000."

Funds last year were used to purchase an inspection machine for films sent to stations.

Banks will be mailed for children to put Valentine offerings in. They will rake leaves, sweep sidewalks, clean schoolrooms and sell everything from skunk tails to magazines in raising money for the project. Many will simply save allowances.

A large number will turn in funds they ordinarily would have spent for buying Valentines to help in Faith for Today soul winning.

Offerings will be taken February 14. Should you or your school be interested in receiving additional information, please write to Franklin W. Hudgins, Valentine Project, Faith for Today, Box 8, New York, N. Y. 10008.

Hidden No Longer

Have you ever read the story about the great scientist Jean Agassiz and how he taught a young biologist student about fish?

Not by lectures or dissection did he do it. He simply gave the student a lab specimen and said, "Take this fish and look at it. By and by I will ask you what you have seen."

For four days he kept the young man at his task, though the budding zoologist became bored after the first ten minutes and thought he had learned all there was to know.

Agassiz's method was to teach students to observe, make comparisons, take notes, and finally draw conclusions. "Look, look, look!" he kept emphasizing.

Agassiz used the inductive method, the basic outline followed in all scientific investigation. It involves three steps: 1. Observe, 2. Interpret, and 3. Apply.

Leo Van Dolson in his new book Hidden No Longer directs students of Holy Scripture to study the Bible this way. And rich indeed will be the rewards, he points out.

With this illuminating volume before you, you will find yourself in the same position as a student in one of Professor Van Dolson's classes. The material presented, along with techniques, charts, and diagrams, follows the same outline as used by the professor in his Bible classes.

It spells out the workable and enriching method of studying the Bible the inductive way. And in doing so it talks of the same thing Mrs. E. G. White writes about when she calls on the Bible student to study one pas-

Medical Staff Officers

Paul Campbell, M.D., has been installed as the forty-third president of the medical staff of Portland Adventist Hospital. Dr. Campbell is an orthopedic surgeon, practicing in Portland since 1956. He is a 1948 graduate of the Stanford Medical School. Dr. Campbell took a residency in orthopedics at the University of Michigan.

Other staff officers installed were: Edwin W. Rieker, M.D., president-elect; Harold W. Halverson, M.D., vice-president; and Fred W. Bieker, M.D., secretary-treasurer.

Assistant Administrators

Vernon Flory has been named assistant administrator at Portland Adventist Hospital.

Vernon Flory

Elder Flory, from Lemoore, California, is a 1936 graduate of Pacific Union College, Angwin, California, when he began denominational work in Southern California. He has also served in Virginia, Wisconsin and Michigan in addition to spending six years in Inter-America as president of two different church conferences.

The Florys have two children and one grandson. Their son, Wesley, is a missionary in Uganda, Africa. The daughter, Virginia, is working as a stenographer in the engineering department at UCLA, while her husband works on his doctorate in economics.

Elder Flory is accompanied here by his wife, Lois. He includes among his interests gardening and other duties that are church oriented. Portland Adventist Hospital is pleased with this new addition to its administrative staff.

Donald R. Ammon, former administrative assistant, has been promoted to assistant administrator, Portland Adventist Hospital.

Mr. Ammon, a 1964 business graduate of Walla Walla College, came to Portland Adventist Hospital from Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan, where in 1967 he received his master's degree in business administration.

Previous to the one year at Andrews University, Mr. Ammon was housing director at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, Hinsdale, Illinois.

New X-Ray Equipment

The General Hospital has become "big industry" and the Radiology Department is no exception to this.

This is one of the only two scan machines in the entire area. It is used to aid the physician in possible tumor detection.

Because of the volume of work the General now has two main procedure rooms in which to do X rays. Pictured is one of the rooms with fluoroscopy and X-ray equipment.

Administrator Irmin Burke, therefore, purchased a nearly new piece of X-ray equipment, which is an exact duplicate of present equipment, to double the capacity of the Radiology Department. Mr. Burke was able to purchase the equipment at a fraction of its new value.

With the expansion of the X-ray equipment, additional areas were also added to the Radiology Department. Five new outpatient waiting booths with a waiting room for other visitors, modernization of the doctors' library and lounge, both of which were carpeted, and a new rest room, inpatient waiting area, and modernization of the X-ray darkroom completed the new look of the Radiology Department.

In addition to this equipment, the hospital also has one of the only two scan machines in the entire area used in radiographic work to assist the physicians in locating possible tumors.

Hospital Inspection Due

To assist the Walla Walla General Hospital Board of Trustees in making a decision for the future building and planning program of the General Hospital, a request has been made to the state Department of Health for another full-scale, complete inspection.

Beginning January 24, for four days, a team of inspectors will be on campus at the General to inspect the hospital from stem to stern including, not only the facility itself, but some of the procedures, etc.

Due to the vigorous modernization program that has been carried out for the past two years it is hoped that the structural part of the hospital is not very far from total compliance to state and federal health regulations. The present modernization program is expected to last approximately 12-18 months more. It is hoped that this will enable us to stay on site for another 10-15 years or more before facing the ultimate decision of a complete new structure.

These are as yet suppositions, however, and only preliminary tools to aid the board in its decision to provide the best possible facility for the least possible dollar.

Good News

About Hazel Clarneau

Many friends of Hazel Clarneau have heard about her successful operation. She has been out of the hospital since December 27 and is getting along very well. She made such rapid progress that they let her out of the hospital one month sooner than expected. The back cast will be off sometime in March.

She expresses her thanks for all the cards and letters. For the next few weeks she will be with her brother at 1331 N.W. Electric, Apt. 12, Beaverton, Oregon 97005.

God answered prayer for Hazel. Now we should give our thanks to Him. Continue to remember her in your prayers. The day of miracles is not past.

'You and Your People Problems'

If you are one of those fortunates who can "keep your cool," or "idle your motor when you feel like stripping your gears," this message is not for you! But if you have a tendency toward the "normal," this one is for you. Since most of life's problems are people problems, we must consider ourselves at least partially responsible for our difficulties.

John Kerbs, the author of Your People Problems, has a rich background from which to draw experiences and examples, and if your experience is similar to mine when you read his book, you will see yourself portrayed in many instances. This book should be in the hands of every minister, church elder, school teacher, and individual whom God has placed in a position of responsibility to deal with people. Christ commissioned us to "live" His message. Can we afford to do less?

We, as an office family in your Conference office, have chosen this book as a special emphasis for our daily morning worship services. Its message is for this hour. The price for this bright, attractive paperback is 95 cents. You will consider it your most intelligent purchase in a long time.

Church Honors Pastor

Elder and Mrs. Franklin S. Fowler were surprised when the church banquet they were attending January 5 turned out to be a party in honor of their 32nd wedding anniversary.

The Fowlers were married at Trenton, New Jersey, by Elder Glenn Coon.

One hundred friends gathered about the beautifully decorated tables in the recreation room at 1800 Eldorado, and when the Fowlers arrived the group sang, "Happy Anniversary to You."

Elder Fowler, who began his ministry 33 years ago at Erie, Pennsylvania, has been pastor of the Boise church for the past four and a half years.

Elder Fowler's district assistant, Pastor David Masterjohn, was master of ceremonies. During the ceremonies vocalists were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hendren and their daughter Jane, also Bill and Herman Sellers. Elder George Liscombe presented the Fowlers with a gift from the group.

A special thanks to the Friendship Club and Mary Howie, hostess for the evening, for arranging the dinner.

been needed) for a regular room in which to worship.

It has been only with much sacrifice and hard work that the school at Wrangell was built and the members are again showing the same kind of spirit and hard work. It was voted by the board to go ahead and begin building with only a little over a $100 in the building fund, but since the decision was made the Lord has supplied us with the needed money to pay for materials as we progressed. The members are continuing to pray that God will provide the needed money as the work progresses.

The weather has slowed down the progress a little, but the thermal undergarments will be coming out soon and more progress is just ahead. There will be great joy and thanksgiving in all of our hearts when we are able to meet in our new worship room.

If ever we are going to finish this glorious work that has been given us, we must step out in simple faith and move forward with God's blessings and guidance.

Posthumous Awards

On October 23, 1968, the United States Army awarded three medals posthumously to Tom Dutro. The medals were given to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Dutro, in a ceremony conducted in the Upper Columbia Conference office where both are employed.

Tom, who was killed in action in Viet Nam by a stray Allied missile, was awarded the Purple Heart which is a medal given to all who are injured in the service. He was awarded the Bronze Star which is given in recognition of meritorious service. He was also given a Good Conduct medal which is not often given to a draftee who has been serving as a medic in Viet Nam for only three months when he gave his life for his country.

Coeur d'Alene Youth Activities

Some of the busiest people in the Conference, during the past two months, have been the young people of the Coeur d'Alene Seventh-day Adventist church, the church school teachers and the Pathfinder leaders.

Although few in number, the Pathfinders took on the project of cleaning the rubbish from Tubbs Hill. This hill by the lake was littered with beer bottles and trash left behind by careless people attracted here last summer by the hydroplane races. The group received much favorable attention for this project in the press and at the city council meeting.

The "Cans for the Needy" campaign took them out in the rain and cold to bring in around 400 cans of food and some clothing. These they packed into food baskets for less fortunate families for Thanksgiving and some were given to families whose homes were destroyed by fire in November and December.

For the community Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Ministerial Association, and which was held at the new Seventh-day Adventist church, the school choir prepared and sang an appropriate number.

The church's Ingathering efforts were augmented by the willing help of the older students on many nights during the campaign.

Many hours of practice went into the preparation of a beautiful candle-light Christmas program put on in the church on the Friday night before Christmas and which was presented, in part, at two nursing homes and at a shopping center the day before. The nativity story, "Unto Us," was made up of three parts; tableaux were of Mary and Joseph, the Shepherds and the Wise Men. The choir and readers presented the story in song and prose. A lovely backdrop of Palestinian country chalked by Mrs. Wendt added much to the scenes.

Rounding out the year's activities the Pathfinders delivered eighteen Christmas food baskets which the Dorcas ladies had prepared for needy families. Busy as they have been, there have been many occasions for parties, roller skating and snow fun.

Mrs. Lynne Threadgill and Mrs. Martha Duncan are the church school teachers who have made many of these activities possible. The faithful Pathfinder leaders are: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Pagel, Mrs. Carl Senne, Ben Stowell and Alan Galland. Elder and Mrs. Ralph Wendt have given invaluable aid and several of the Dorcas ladies have also given time and talents to assist the programs.

New Study Guide Aids Class Instruction

We would like to share another letter with you, this one from Elder J. Wayne Hancock with the It Is Written program:

January 5, 1969

For one quarter now I have tried your Teacher's Sabbath School Lesson Quarterly. The use of it has not only pushed the teacher on to deeper research but has also inspired the class to study more extensively. As a result, class discussion has reached a higher plane than ever before. These results made me more than happy that I had placed a permanent order for the Teacher's Sabbath School Lesson Quarterly.

One thing disturbs me. The first Sabbath of the new quarter has come and gone. To date, however, I have not yet received the first lessons for 1969. In order to keep my class discussion on this new high plane without the Teacher's Quarterly, many hours of extra labor are demanded. Please rush the first lessons for the new quarter to me as soon as possible.

Enclosed you will find my check for $2.75 to cover the cost of the Teacher's Quarterly for the first quarter of 1969. Please mark my order as permanent and simply bill me at the beginning of each quarter.

Sincerely,

J. WAYNE HANCOCK

227 West 46th Street

New York, New York 10036

We had mailed Elder Hancock's copy to him on December 20 at "Book Rate" to save postage, and evidently due to the heavy mail during the holidays, it hadn't arrived by January 5. We are sincerely sorry for this.

We are now taking orders for the second quarter of 1969; the price is $1.50 plus postage for the senior Sabbath school lesson helps.

Elder and Mrs. A. J. Webb.

Elder Webb was reared in Oklahoma. He attended La Sierra College, Southern Missionary College and Canadian Union College, receiving his B.A. degree in theology from the latter.

Mrs. Webb was reared near McMinnville, Oregon, and attended Marylhurst College in Oswego, Oregon. The Webbs have lived in Portland and McMinnville, so are not newcomers to the Northwest.

Elder Webb has been a very successful soul winner and God has wonderfully blessed his ministry in the churches that he has served in the Oklahoma Conference.

We extend a warm welcome to this family as they begin their work here in the Washington Conference. We wish for them God's rich blessings as they serve in our field.

Sabbath School and United Evangelism

Webster's dictionary says that an evangelist is "a bringer of the gospel."

What better title could the Sabbath school have than "a bringer of the gospel"? Of all the avenues of soul-winning this denomination has, there is none so easy and inexpensive as Sabbath school evangelism. When we think of Sabbath school and United Evangelism, we have the most powerful soul-winning team that God has ordained for this hour.

Thousands upon thousands of men, women and children are now rejoicing in this wonderful truth as a result of Sabbath school evangelism. And now for the coming year, let us go forth united as one great team. Sometime ago three great Protestant church leaders in this country made almost identical statements in regard to the soul-winning aspect of their

Sunday schools. In fact, all three of these popular church leaders said that "Sunday school is on its way out."

What a golden hour, fellow Sabbath school members, to unite our efforts and finish the work and go home.

From Your Bible House

It is with sincere regret that over the past three months the Book and Bible House has had difficulties in supplying the needs of the field in the line of new books. Transportation, holdups at the publishers, increased demands have helped to make long delays in getting orders filled.

As we take stock of the back orders we note that they have now decreased to below normal and we can breathe a bit easier. Our volume of sales in December amounted to over $55,000. This has kept us very busy. We are happy that this amount of literature has been distributed to the field and the Lord will surely bless.

Now a new year has come. The files must be changed. All of the little "put offs" must be cared for. Inventory must be checked, new stock must be purchased. Our change of office help has been consummated with little difficulty. We must lay the groundwork for an even more successful year in 1969.

There are a couple of books that I would like to mention for which the field has been waiting. Yesterday's Tears, that overdue Destiny Book, is now available at $1.65 each. This is the story of a pioneer missionary couple who served on an island in the Caribbean until tragedy struck, and shows how in God's providence tears can turn to joy.

Also available is Life At Its Best, the attractive abridged edition of Ministry of Healing. It is in the soft cover and sells for $1.25.

Soon to be released to the field will be a new covered Steps to Christ. We will keep you informed concerning this as we intend to make large quantity purchases for a better price to you.

For convenience sake, why not open an account with us? Of necessity we now find it impossible to send out any materials unless cash accompanies your order or you have an established account. Remember, no service charge on any account if paid in 30 days. And, you will get our book circulars that are sent periodically to the field. When ordering, please remember to include tax and postage which is 20 cents for the first book and 5 cents for each additional book.

We cherish the many friends that

Faith For Today Films Overseas . . .

A challenge to every believer in Christ's second coming is the fact that millions face the possibility of going down to Christless graves.

President Barry L. Crabtree of the Fiji Mission states:

"About six years ago our work in Fiji was rather slow and dead. After 70 years' mission work we had about 1,000 church members. Opposition was so strong against our work that it was almost impossible to get people to listen to our preachers. To help our Fijian evangelists, we bought a 16mm movie projector with a mobile lighting plant. We got 45 of your Faith for Today films and started in. These together with some other films we borrowed became a real attraction. People were amazed that we really did preach the truth.

THE RESULTS! — today we have close to 3,000 church members." But far more calls come in for telecast films from mission stations overseas than can ever be met. Are these urgent pleas to go unheeded; Again a voice can be heard saying, "Who will go for me? Whom shall I send?"

They Seek Faith for Today Telecast

From Chicago a viewer appeals:

"On the West Coast I used to view Faith for Today every week. Now it is no longer available. I myself am a member of the church; my husband and family are not. I wish they could view the program."

From Boston the hope is expressed:

"A while back Faith for Today was televised in Boston. I was grateful for the program and would invite friends to watch. Now the telecast is off the air.

"Can anything be done to televise Faith for Today here? Surely the cities of America need the gospel today. So many are unwilling to attend church worship services but they will at least occasionally watch Sunday television.

"I hope it will be possible to get Faith for Today on the air again."

A PERSONAL APPEAL

All of us rejoice over the more than 13,000 Faith for Today baptisms that have taken place in the last 19 years. Surely God has wonderfully blessed! This has come because He has poured out His Spirit in a marked way. Many have given sacrificially in the past. May God bless you as you make your gift to television evangelism this year a matter of earnest prayer.

One out of six Bible course graduates becomes a baptized church member.

A Faith for Today convert, Pastor Jackson is returning to New York City. It was here that he prepared for the ministry in another denomination at the time he had his first contact with the telecast and carefully studied the Faith for Today Bible Course. He states: "I am grateful beyond words for Faith for Today's ministry and the fact I have an opportunity to return to the city of New York to launch an active program of evangelism. Already we have a number of interested individuals attending our worship service, and I am hopeful that with God's blessing we can penetrate the religious indifference of the city."

How Faith for Today Films Are Used in Soul Winning

In Prison . . .

San Quentin's Penitentiary in California features Faith for Today films on the fourth Sunday of each month. Comments Byron E. Eshelman, prison chaplain: "We have utilized these films for many years and have been indeed grateful for this generous outreach which provides both a diversion and an inspiration for the inmates." Franklin W. Hudgins, director of station relations, comments: "Faith for Today is glad to make these films available to San Quentin and hopes they will continue to prove a blessing."

On the High Seas . . .

The U.S.S. Hancock is now showing Faith for Today films to its 3,200-man crew. Provided by Faith for Today have been 15 of its 30-minute television shows plus "Miniatures" and "Music for Listening"—both 15-minute radio programs. B. W. Mattison, area representative for the telecast, made arrangements with Lt. JG Peter D. Sauerbrey (center) and senior Chaplain, Commander L. A. Bevan, while the "Hancock" anchored in San Francisco last summer.

In the Mission Field . . .

Pastor Franklin W. Hudgins, director of station relations, Karsten Aasheim, former director of the Church Transportation Office in New York City, and Finn Bjerbe, chief purser of the ship "Sagafjord," discuss the shipment of Faith for Today films to Pitcairn Island on the Norwegian American Line. Forty films were carried to this island in the South Pacific at no charge by the "Sagafjord" at the request of Mr. Aasheim. Films, now in Pitcairn, are already in use by church leaders.

Centuries ago Jesus said: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me . . . For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." Hearts that are breaking for loneliness, for fear, for lack of assurance of Christ's love through gospel tidings — these need the inspiration that can come through viewing Faith for Today.

February 8, 1969 . . .

Your moment "to strike" for Christ

To speed gospel tidings by land, sea and air, through television, a Faith for Today offering of $350,000 is urgently needed. Miracles have been accomplished in the past through your sacrificial giving.

But with multiplied millions unable to view gospel tidings through television, a tremendous challenge faces God's people. In the meantime, the sands of time trickle away. Truly we are to work, for "the night comes when no man can work." Doors that are now open will soon be forever closed.

One-third of the people of the earth cannot be reached by gospel tidings over television or through any other media. Doors to evangelism have closed in some countries.

If every church member in North America would contribute $3.00, more than a million dollars would come in for television evangelism! Many can give $10, others $100 and some $1,000. Ask the Lord what He would have you do.

For the millions seeking Christ in America's great cities, coming Faith for Today telecasts offer color, as well as range and variety

Interview with converted headhunter Chief Ray and flying missionary Richard Hall tells a gripping story of gospel advance.

America's favorite hymns are featured on a coming Faith for Today telecast. Hymns carry their own message of Christ's love.

Christian medical work during Biafra's agony constitute classic pictorial documentary with Dr. Mrs. Sherman Na

Your Gift Will Accomplish the Following:

- $5,000 will add 100,000 viewers to the telecast by strengthening station coverage.
- $1,000 will pay for twelve color films for a broader coverage.
- $500 will still buy 60 minutes of time in some areas not showing Faith for Today.
- $25 will take a student through 25 lessons of the Bible Course, thus bringing Christ closer to him.
- $5 will pay for 1,000 Bible course enrollment cards to help find souls seeking Bible truth.

Puyallup Home and School News

The Nelson-Crane School held a very successful open house during American Education Week. Parents, school patrons and friends of the community attended. Classrooms were visited in which the teachers, Mrs. Eleanor Dewees, Mrs. Madge Turner, Mrs. Neta Daffern and Mrs. Gladys Wentland, principal, proudly demonstrated their new overhead projectors which were purchased and presented to each room by the Home and School. They were especially honored by Dr. Tom Terjeson, superintendent of the Puyallup public schools, taking time from his busy schedule to visit our school and have lunch with us. He was very much impressed with our school plant, visual aids, the staff, and enjoyed the luncheon. Our Room Mother Chairman, Mrs. Connie Liebelt, had room mothers take charge of the classes during the lunch hour so the teachers could join the visitors for lunch. The dining room was beautifully decorated in autumn theme. A delicious lunch was served by Home and School assistant leaders, Sara Brown and Lois Janke. Students Sylvia Green, Vicki Dill and Gary Landis entertained during the luncheon. Parents, students and friends all benefitted from this occasion.

Sunday evening, December 8, preceding the regular school board meeting, a candlelight holiday dinner was served, sponsored by Home and School, honoring the teachers and paying special tribute to our outgoing school board chairman, Albert Green, who has given hours of service to Nelson-Crane School during the past ten years. He and his wife were presented with a lovely gift and the teachers were given Christmas checks in appreciation of their service.

Nelson-Crane School invites you to stop by and visit their lovely new school and gym. If you are moving into the area, our classrooms are not crowded—come and enjoy Christian education with us.

Great Falls Investment

From cradle roll tots to senior citizens, the Great Falls Sabbath school members under the leadership of Mrs. Gene Iverson invested for missions in 1968. Total returns were approximately $1,300.

Darlene, Patsy and Dale Iverson who contributed $140 to the Great Falls Investment in 1968.

Darlene, Patsy, and Dale Iverson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Iverson of the Fairfield area, each pledged the sales' proceeds from newborn calves which amounted to $140. Patsy's pledge turned out to be twin calves that were sickly. She promised the Lord both calves if they were healed—and her offering was $70.

Russell Jenkins, Sabbath school superintendent, pledged 25 cents weekly for each class reaching its three goals—and realized $24 for Investment. Mrs. Ida LaValley, who is on Social Security, had a little savings can for coins which was situated in full view of callers who were impressed to drop money in the slot occasionally. It was full to the brim when delivered to the Sabbath school Mrs. LaValley remarked, "It is heavy, but I don't know how much is in it." The treasurer found $6.42.

Under the direction of Mrs. Earl Shepard, cradle roll members were encouraged to place their coins in a facsimile of a mission church. They also saved food labels which boosted their Investment to $26.84.

God's blessing was felt by all who participated.

Ronan Church Grows

Baptisms on two consecutive Sabbaths, December 14 and 21, brought 19 precious souls into the fold as the evangelistic campaign of Lacey-Paulson came to a climax in the Ronan church. Under the leadership of Elder Kenneth Lacey, Montana's conference evangelist, the Ronan church rallied to new heights in the experience of sharing their faith with their neighbors and friends. As some members said upon witnessing the baptism, "This is the ultimate answer to our many prayers since our church was officially organized nearly three years ago."

Elder Charles Allaway, local pastor of the Ronan church, assisted in the nightly meetings and visitation. The inspiration and groundwork laid by Elder Allaway were largely responsible for Ronan's first organized evangelistic effort.

The Lord's hand in leading souls was witnessed many times. Some who had studied through the Gift Bible program stepped out to follow the Lord all the way. All in attendance were impressed by the Holy Spirit as Elder Lacey's plea for complete surrender to God's will was made.

As with every such campaign, there are still others in the "valley of decision." Let us each one remember them in our prayers that the shackles of sin may be broken.

There is rejoicing in the Ronan church as there is in heaven over the "born again" souls that accepted Him fully and completely. To His name we give all praise, honor, and glory for this answer to prayer.

'Bambi' in Bozeman

The Social Committee of the Bozeman church will present "Bambi" Saturday night, January 25, in the Mt. Ellis Academy auditorium. The film will start at 6:30. Shamburgers and refreshments will be sold at 6:00.

All are welcome. Admission will be charged.

Oregon Outdoor Club Snow Outing

Being pelted with huge snowflakes the size of silver dollars right now—down here in the Willamette Valley—one wonders why we were not so honored at our winter snow outing at the Big Lake MV Lodge, January 3-5! Instead, the nine-foot blanket of snow on Santiam Pass was caressed with light rain over the weekend until the snow level dropped to a water-logged five feet! It was, nevertheless, a happy occasion; a time to remember.

The Lodge was filled to its winter capacity by Friday evening when everyone gathered around the big log fire for song and fellowship. Some had hiked in on snowshoes. The majority enjoyed simply gliding in on skis behind the Thiokol Sno Cat clinging to one of three long tow ropes.

Sabbath was a quiet, restful day surrounded as we were by a cathedral of mountains and forest. Elder D. H. Dull led out in a consideration of the provisions God made for the crises of sin. Following the Sabbath school, which was directed by Gil Bell, Elder Harold W. Beavon presented a challenge for a better New Year—1969. Big Lake was engulfed in a winter wonderland and we rejoiced that improving weather, in the afternoon, made it possible to enjoy the beauty of snow trails.

After sundown, January 4, Gil Bell, president of the Outdoor Club of Oregon, arranged for the appointment of new officers. Larry Smith of the Portland Chapter, whose wife, Jeannie, is editor of the Oregon Outdoorsman, was asked to serve as our new president. Al Paulson of Springfield was chosen vice-president with Mrs. Frank Gearhart continuing as secretary-treasurer through 1969.

Senior Young People, your Outdoor Club promises you all you wish of the following:

1. Better health, added enjoyment and broader horizons.
2. Increased appreciation of God in the beauties of nature.
3. New friends; happy associations with young people of high ideals and character.
4. Training for wilderness living, mountain rescue and many additional outdoor activities.
5. Preparation for survival and service, especially in the event of disaster, civil defense need or the "time of trouble."

AU Alumni Meeting

Dr. Horace W. Shaw, Alumni Association president, Andrews University, will present Dr. J. G. Smoot, who has recently been appointed Dean of the Graduate School at Andrews University. The meeting in association with the Oregon Chapter of the Alumni Association will be held in the third floor Education Center at Portland Adventist Hospital, January 30, at 7:30 p.m.

The program, "Graduate Education Today," is complemented by a film. At the meeting some of the most recent accounts of campus and world news will be shared concerning the activities of fellow alumni and their families.

All alumni and interested friends are invited to attend this informative and interesting reunion.

At Conference Academies . . .

◆ The Milo Academy church and student body felt the impact of the Stewardship program as Elders M. E. Rees and L. L. Ayers from the Union and local conference offices presented this vital subject during December. Even the student with the most limited means learned that a true partnership with God through "planned giving" brings its own rewards.

◆ A recent happening at Milo Academy certainly worthy of notice, according to Mrs. J. N. Noble, registrar, is the fact that 46.6 percent of the seniors scored above the 3.0 percent—which is a "B" grade-point average. This is the highest record made since she has been recording at Milo the last five years.

◆ The Christmas Music Festival presented at Milo Academy in December included numbers by the honor band and instrumental ensembles, and readings. The program was narrated by Dean Larry Huston, and arranged by Mr. Dayle Jewkes, vocal teacher and head of the music department.

◆ Byron Roberts of Hood River is spending a quarter in student teaching at Milo. His area is history.

◆ Columbia's new class in film production was recently featured in the Vancouver Columbian, as well as Instructor Jan Doward and his new book, Seventh Escape.

◆ Heading Junior class activities at Milo is Terry Hill. Associated with him are Janet Ziebarth, social vice president, and Dennis Crane, spiritual vice president. Other officers include Linda Smith, chorister; Wanda Chrowl, secretary; Bob Brown, treasurer; Paul Brewer, parliamentarian; Dick Gallentine and Zane Anderson, sergeant at arms. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Crandall and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grimes are sponsors.

◆ Laurelwood is hosting a four-service weekend by Emilio Knechtle, February 14 and 15. More details will appear later.

In Conference Schools . . .

◆ Most of the rough-in plumbing for the girls' shower room at Livingstone Junior Academy was installed during Christmas vacation. It is hoped that this section of the school plant will soon be completed.

◆ Enrollments at both Hood View and Livingstone are up from previous years. At Hood View 214 are registered, 199 at Livingstone. Through stewardship of those even without children our youth may all be in Christian schools this year.

◆ Eighth-grade officers at Rogue River Junior Academy have been selected with advisor Ed Sanders. Heading activities for the 21-member class is Theron Argraves. Barbara Ross is vice president; Vicki Miracle, secretary; Diane Redwine, treasurer; Kenny Browning, assistant treasurer; Philip Onjukka, chaplain; Donald Reno, parliamentarian; Margery Bullock, chorister; Sandy Bresee, historian; and Kenny Denton, sergeant at arms. Six of the eight boys and 13 girls have attended RRJA all eight years.

◆Bandon's students raised nearly half of the church's Ingathering goal, accounting for $404.33. Mrs. Erma Emery is the teacher there.

◆One feature of Hood View's Christmas program was pinning money on a tree for Biafra. As a result, an additional $147.53 was sent to that needy field. (Sometime during that night, nearly $3,000 in equipment was taken as all schools in the area continue to be robbed.)

◆Grades 3-5 with Teacher Vera Olmsted spoke of Jesus and received $480 toward Longview's Ingathering. ◆Two fourth-graders at Rogue River—Maurice Helmer and Kathy Wyman—are Silver Vanguard winners in Ingathering. Both belong to the Ashland church.

◆Livingstone's star Ingatherer was Danny Pattison, a second-grader. He spent 13 nights with the carolers and brought in $41.10.

◆Yoder's (Mollala district) Home and School leader, Mrs. Rayola Piuser, is spearheading an active involvement program for the school. Each family in the church receives, for one thing, a copy of a monthly newsletter of school news which she distributes. Much of the information is supplied by the children who write as an English project.

◆Livingstone's school family contacted hundreds of Salem residents for Christ during the Ingathering program and solicited $1,740.65—$600 beyond their goal. It is the prayer of each student that someone might be led to a deeper religious experience because of their work.

'Tokyo Olympiad'

"Tokyo Olympiad" will make its Northwest debut at Milo Academy, February 1, at 7 p.m., sponsored by the Milo Academy senior class.

Critics who are generally bored by sports have been delightfully surprised by this film, acclaimed the greatest documentary of our time.

Admission: adults, $1.50; students, 75¢, under 12, 50¢. Basketball game following.

Weddings

The Enumclaw Seventh-day Adventist church was the setting for a beautiful wedding solemnized Christmas Day, December 25, at 8:00 p.m., at which time Linda Jean Davis became the bride of Gordon Lester Boggs. Vows were made in the presence of Elder L. E. Lyman. The new home is being established in Auburn, Washington.

Clarence Noyes and Dorothy Oliver were united in marriage at the close of the vesper service in the Lincoln City Seventh-day Adventist church, December 21. The service was conducted by Elder Charles McKeown.

In a lovely little service, Mary Elizabeth Hemmerlin became the bride of Francis Leonard Atkins. Vows were affirmed in the presence of Elder L. E. Lyman. This Christian couple will make their home in Auburn, Washington.

Judy Elaine Wolff of College Place, Washington, became the bride of Dennis L. Santo of Umatilla, Oregon, in the Walla Walla Seventh-day Adventist church on December 29. Elder Dean Van Tassel was the officiating minister. The couple will make their home in Hermiston, Oregon, where Dennis is employed.

Miss Erlene Bolton and Raymond Lau were united in marriage on Sunday, December 29, in the Wenatchee Seventh-day Adventist church. Elder Sunny Liu officiated at the ceremony. The couple are making their home in Honolulu, Hawaii. The bride will continue her teaching at the Hawaiian Mission Academy and the groom is teaching at one of the high schools in the Islands.

Keslake—Charles R. Keslake was born in Jamaica, British West Indies, on May 30, 1913, and passed to his rest Nov. 26, 1968. Brother Keslake spent the first 12 years of his life with his missionary parents in the British West Indies. Four years were spent at South Lancaster Academy in Massachusetts, and in 1935 he was united in marriage to Winifred Hall. In 1960 he moved to College Place, Wash., where he has been connected with the Horne Orthopedic and Medical Services until the time of his death. Brother Keslake was a dedicated member of the College Place church, and had recently been elected as head deacon. Survivors include: his wife, Mrs. Winifred A. Keslake, at the home; a daughter, Christina and a foster daughter, Josephine Lin, both of the home; three other daughters: Mrs. Kenneth N. (Charlene) West of Everett, Wash., Mrs. R. E. (Elaine) Green of Loma Linda, Calif., Mrs. James A. (Joyce) Greene of Decatur, Ga.; a brother, Elder Edgar F. Keslake of Brunswick, Maine; a sister, Mrs. Elbert (Hattie) Hand of Trenton, N. J.; and four grandchildren.

Downing—Mrs. Venus L. Downing was born on Aug. 31, 1886, at Miller, S. Dak., and passed to her rest on Dec. 5, 1968, at Clarkston, Wash. When only 6 years of age she had traveled with her parents by covered wagon to Salmon, Idaho, where they made their home for a number of years. Our dear sister was a faithful member of the Clarkston SDA church. Left to mourn her passing are three daughters: Mrs. Howard McPherson of Spokane, Mrs. William Clem of Lewiston, Mrs. James Painter of Downey, Calif.; three sons: Warren Downing of Richland, Wash., Elbert Downing of Soap Lake, Wash., Lester A. Downing of Walla Walla; 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Harris—Clyde Heath Harris was born in Milton-Freewater, Ore., on March 9, 1890, and passed away at his home in Pendleton, Ore., Nov. 28, 1968. On July 18, 1914, he was united in marriage with Mary Coe. In the same year the young couple together joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church, and have continued as active members through these many fruitful years. Shortly before his marriage, Clyde embarked on a business career that became almost boundless: lumberman, furniture and box manufacturer, fruit grower, rancher, stockman, developer, investor, financier, and more. His philanthropies were legion, but culminated in a gesture of faith and good will to mankind without parallel in the bestowing of his multimillion dollar empire to the General Conference in 1951. Thus his life and influence have since been felt by countless thousands around the world in almost every country on earth.

He now rests from his labors awaiting the call of the Life-giver. Among those who cherish his memory is his wife, Mary.

Patterson—George Carl Patterson was born Oct. 3, 1892, in Newberg, Ore. In September of 1933 he was united in marriage to Mable Henrietta Sample, and she became stepmother to four children by his former marriage. In July of 1957 he was baptized by Elder Merlin Kretschmar and united with the St. Helens church. He served many years as a deacon of the church. Within just a few days of his 76th birthday he was stricken with a heart attack and passed to his rest. Surviving relatives include his wife, Mable Patterson of St. Helens; three sons: Lester of Portland, Stanley of Drain, Ore., Kenneth of Oakridge, Ore.; six daughters: Alice Butcher of Scappoose, Agnes Reetz of Fort Frazier, B. C., Florence Gift of Coburg, Betty Sexton of Vernonia, Ore., Carlene Swayze of Portland, and Lavina Howard of St. Helens; a brother, Elwyn of Sanguo, Alberta, Canada; 29 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Taylor—Norman Cecil Taylor was born on July 11, 1910, at Lavinia, Manitoba, Canada, and died at Chicago on Dec. 9, 1968. On Dec. 23, 1934, he was united in marriage to Martha Leiske. While attending Battleford Academy, at Battleford, Saskatchewan, Canada, he was baptized and united with the Seventh-day Adventist Church. He later attended Canadian Union College and Walla Walla College from which he graduated in 1941 with a degree in Business Administration.

For a number of years he was treasurer and business manager of Oshawa Missionary College (now Kingsway College). In 1950 he was elected Administrator of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital. In recent years he worked as an independent contractor for the Mayflower Transit Company with his home in College Place, Wash.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his devoted wife Martha; three sons: Reg, Ray, and Murray; two grandchildren: Rand and Renee; also six brothers: Leslie, Dwight, Stanley, Wiley, George, and Dave; and three sisters: Helen (Mrs. Howard Farnsworth), Marilyn (Mrs. Andrew Anderson), and Ruth (Mrs. Mervin York).

Harris—David Daniel Harris born July 30, 1876, died Dec. 19, 1968, and was laid to rest at Clark Fork Cemetery. He is survived by four sons: James of Orofino, Idaho, Charles of Portland, Ore., Earnest of Los Angeles, Calif., and Robert of Clark Fork, Idaho; three daughters: Hazel Ellen Hilzer of Ritzville, Wash., Margaret Mary Harris of Portland, Ore., and Helen Marie Smollock of Portland, Ore.; and 21 grandchildren.

Boyd—Mrs. Janette Boyd was born in Michigan Sept. 28, 1897, and passed away in Chehalis, Wash., at the age of 71. At the time of her death she was a member of the Milwaukie, Ore., SDA church. She will always be remembered for her devotion to the church. She is survived by two daughters, two sons, two sisters, 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Graveside services were held at Sunset Memorial Gardens, Chehalis.

Fuller—Eugene M. Fuller was born in Minnesota June 8, 1874, and passed to his rest Dec. 4, 1968, at Salem, Ore. Brother Fuller homesteaded in the Cambridge, Idaho, area in 1900, and lived there until three years ago when he moved to Salem to be near his daughters. He is survived by his two daughters: Mrs. Hazel Jones and Mrs. Myrtle Kunkelman both of Salem, Ore., one granddaughter and one great-grandson. Interment took place in the Cambridge Cemetery.

Parker—Iva Belle Bostic Parker was born April 11, 1888, in Rushville, Nebr., and passed away Dec. 14, 1968, at her daughter's home near Fromberg, Mont. Her home in Nebraska was seven miles from the Sioux reservation and many times she had heard the war cry of Sitting Bull's tribe when they were engaged in their war dances. She crossed the plains three times in a covered wagon, making the final trip when she was thirteen. In 1906 she was married to Charles Parker in Red Lodge, Mont. To them were born six children, three of whom survive: Anna, Mrs. J. W. Miller of Fromberg; Clarence of Bridger; and Jack of Billings; 11 grandchildren; 15 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Parker was a true Christian and a charter member of the Bridger SDA church. She was laid to rest in the Mountain View Cemetery near Bridger, Mont.

Ginter—Ada Mae Ginter was born Feb. 28, 1899, in Buchanan County, Mo., and passed away at her home in Sandpoint, Idaho, Dec. 15, 1968. She is survived by her husband, B. G. # Interested in getting married or staying married?

Read HAPPINESS WALL TO WALL

by George E. Vandeman

Is divorce an easy back door out of an unpleasant situation? Is happy marriage possible in a day when morals are in shocking retreat? Is the trouble really with marriage, or with the personnel?

Here are some realistic formulas for marriage that lasts. What to do when the raft comes apart. What to do when husbands won't talk. What to do when wives forget to be attractive. What to do when infidelity suddenly appears.

And George Vandeman includes teen-agers—tomorrow's husbands and wives—in a fascinating probe of the confusing teen-age dilemma.

Here is a book for the married and those about to be married. And others will like it too.

Walla Walla College

The College Church

Mission to the Northwest and the World

The Walla Walla College church fills a unique position in the progress of the Advent movement. It is the religious training ground for thousands of young people each year. Out from its doors each Sabbath stream more than two thousand individuals. It is up to the leaders of the church to see that their thoughts are turned positively toward Christ and the various facets of His last message to earth. It is a privilege and responsibility that pastors and church officers accept, fully cognizant of the possibilities for triumph or disappointment inherent in such a congregation.

The year 1968 was marked by advance in most areas of Christian service and witness. Forty-two people were baptized into Christ's family during the year. Despite many transfers for service in other parts of the United States, Canada, and overseas, the membership of the College church remained above fifteen hundred. The treasury handled nearly one half million dollars earmarked for support of the Advent movement in its many and varied aspects.

The teen-agers, earlitesens, and juniors receive much encouragement in Christian growth in the College church. Elder Don Reiber, youth pastor during 1968, reports many activities including a Voice of Youth campaign, visitation program to the "forgotten people" in the retirement homes, and joint operations in Pathfinders and Friday evening programs with the College Place Seventh-day Adventist church youth. Elder Reiber has recently been called to the Grandview district of the Upper Columbia Conference and will be giving leadership to that important area in the near future. A successor to Elder Reiber will be named shortly.

The College church is pioneering in an area where a definite need has long been felt. A Minister of Laymen's Activities was voted by the Upper Columbia Conference Committee to serve the Walla Walla Valley and to be based with the College church. The premise of this plan is to harness the abilities of Adventist Christians in all walks of life and to develop in them the qualities of living, witness, and conversation so desperately needed in the last days of earth's history. We were delighted when Elder Nevins M. Harlan accepted the call to this post last summer. Elder Harlan has a rich background of pastoral ministry with emphasis on personal work. He has been busily engaged since coming in bringing a "new dimension" into the lives of scores of students, faculty, businessmen, tradesmen, housewives, etc., as they yield to the call of Christ for personal confrontation with people, giving His gracious message of salvation.

Time and space will not permit a detailed recital of events that constitute the warp and woof of life in the College church. The College MV and their versatile program, the beautiful choral and organ renditions from Sabbath to Sabbath, the dormitory visits by the pastor, the many guests each weekend, the work of the church committees, the continuing development of the church plant—all this and more comprise the family life of the Walla Walla College church. Most of all, Christ and His love are preached from our pulpit. Those who go from this sanctuary know Him and His power. Thus the College church fulfills its mission to the Northwest and the world field.

RICHARD D. FEARING

SAC Occupies New Quarters

Walla Walla College Student Association officers, Norman Rudolph, president, and Gary Wisbey, Student Association Center director, hosted open house in newly remodeled SAC facilities recently, climaxing a move from main floor of the College Administration Building to the ground floor of Kellogg Hall.

The move, earlier this school year, was made to centralize student offices and activity centers as well as to increase service capacity for the present 1,600 member student body, according to Mr. Rudolph.

The $36,000 project, financed by a student assessment over three years, has added space, beauty, and hours of service to the Center, according to Director Wisbey, with capacity use of the facilities during peak hours.

"It was worth waiting for," was student comment during the open-house activities. Others termed it a "hard-worked-for climax to a much-stalled but advancing student center life."

Facilities now include two large lounges, a recreation room, a kitchen complex for preparing snacks and refreshments, and offices for the ASWWC, and for school publications: The Collegian, school newspaper; the Mountain Ash, college annual; and the Mask. SAC officers in addition to Mr. Wisbey are Dave Tharp, Honolulu, Hawaii, assistant director; and Richard Wilkinson, Yakima, business manager.
