NORTH PACIFIC YOUTH CONGRESS

Youth will have opportunity to share ideas of Christian witness with other youth at the great North Pacific Union Youth Congress at Memorial Coliseum in Portland, April 3-5. Discussion hours for problems and questions youth are voicing are scheduled for three hours on Friday. But do not miss any part. Be on hand for registration at 2 p.m., April 3. Steve Polimeni, Doyle Robson and Martin Scott manned a booth at Portland's Teen Fair and discussed healthful living with hundreds who really do not want to smoke.

New Tracts Available

Two new tracts entitled "Lo, Jesus Comes" and "Beautiful Heaven" have recently been designed to encourage the reader to enroll in the Voice of Prophecy Bible courses.

These tracts may either be handed out or stamped and mailed to relatives and friends. No envelope is necessary. A Voice of Prophecy addressed enrollment card is attached to each tract, making it easy for the individual to request a free Bible course.

Write today for a free sample of these enrollment tracts. A radio offering of $3 will bring a supply of one hundred.

Salesmen Receive Trophy

Pacific Northwest salesmen of Loma Linda Foods were awarded a trophy for outstanding sales achievements at the company's sales convention held recently in Riverside, California.

The eight salesmen of the Pacific Northwest district sales office, with headquarters in Portland, Oregon, were present for a three-day convention for Western Division sales personnel of Loma Linda Foods held on the campus of Loma Linda University in Riverside. The convention was under the overall direction of general manager C. P. Miles and sales manager Robert MacGowan.

Occupational Therapy

Tragedy strikes when it is least expected. It may be in the form of a paralyzing stroke, an automobile accident, emergency surgery, a heart attack, or a sudden or chronic illness. Many of these occurrences require prolonged hospitalization and rehabilitation before the patient will be ready to return to his home and work.

At the Portland Adventist Hospital, the occupational therapy department, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Fender, is constantly planning rehabilitation programs for patients with hopes of returning them to their homes able to continue their life in a normal way.

Occupational therapy is a relative newcomer to the medical field. This department has been in operation at Portland Adventist Hospital only five years. While it is a small department,

The districts listed above are to be congratulated for reaching their individual district baptismal goals in 1968. In addition to these are the many districts which reported a total of 1,027, but which did not quite attain the goals they had set for themselves. This brings the total of 1968 baptisms in the North Pacific to 1,921. These districts are also to be commended for their dedicated efforts.

Our prayers are with you daily that each of you will, with singleness of purpose, dedicate your lives and efforts to the task that is before us. We have confidence that each of you will rise to the times and the new opportunities before you, that we may work together to see the work finished very soon.

E. R. Walde, President

Kenneth J. Mittleider, Ministerial Secretary

its contributions to patient improvement are great.

Interest and motivation are two of the main goals of the therapists. Each patient must be taught to take care of himself; becoming as self-sufficient as possible. Co-ordination skills are practiced. Exercises are outlined to work at strengthening areas of the body which were weakened by the illness. Creativeness is encouraged; manual arts may be learned. Therapy may involve relearning basic skills of eating, dressing, turning in bed, and even talking which previously seemed so automatic.

Treatment of patients by the occupational therapy department is not a chance procedure. Each patient is carefully evaluated by a trained therapist. The therapist works in collaboration with doctors, nurses, and other hospital services to provide as effective and well-rounded a program as possible. While the program is designed to be effective, it must also appeal to the patient's interests. If no interest is present, the therapy becomes monotonous and discouragement follows.

While occupational therapy is designed to rehabilitate patients, many use its services as "just something to do" while in the hospital. The department has a wide selection of activities to select from. Women especially find designing handbags most interesting. For the creative, there are mosaics, materials for drawing and painting to test the patient's artistic ability.

Occupational therapy may be a small department in the Portland Adventist Hospital, but its work is great. The therapists believe that this type of therapy will be used more widely in the near future. Experimentation is being done in hopes of finding new ideas which will add to the effectiveness and usefulness of the department in the future.

Director of Medical Education

Quinten W. Cochran, M.D., has been named the new Director of Medical Education at Portland Adventist Hospital.

Dr. Cochran, a graduate of Reed College, took his medical training at the University of Oregon Medical School and, following an internship at Emanuel Hospital in Portland, Q. W. Cochran, M.D. served for two years with the Marines in the Pacific Area and Japan. After his return Dr. Cochran did a year pediatrics residency in Victoria, B.C. He then practiced for a year in Portland doing general practice before attending the University of Washington School of Medicine for two years as their first resident in pediatrics. Dr. Cochran returned to Portland in 1950 where he practiced pediatrics for 18 years.

In 1968, Dr. Cochran closed his practice and went to Nicaragua as a full-time member of the Land Based Team for Project Hope. He was there only two months before picking up a number of diseases, which finally made it necessary for him to return to Portland. Dr. Cochran explained that a Land Based Team is organized a little different than the Ship Hope but is designed for the same purpose. The program began this way: About four years ago several countries that have been visited by the Ship Hope asked, "Why don't you leave someone for us, we still need help." So Project Hope organized what they call Land Based Teams. This type of team, as an example, is based 100 miles inland and will remain as long as there is a need. It could be two, three or four years.

While in Nicaragua, Dr. Cochran taught in and helped organize the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Nicaragua Medical School in Leon. After his return to Portland Dr. Cochran decided that he did not want to continue his private practice and looked for something similar to a Director of Medical Education position. He was on the Education Committee at Emanuel Hospital in Portland for six years and did most of the footwork setting up the first Director of Medical Education program in the Northwest.

As Director of Medical Education Dr. Cochran's job will be not only the director of the internship program but will also be involved in postgraduate training for the medical staff. Extern (advanced medical students) will also be accepted for training during the summer vacation. It is expected that training of residents will come a little later.

In addition to his hobbies of skiing, mountain climbing and packing, Dr. Cochran is very much interested in helping young people. He is a member of the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the North Pacific Pediatrics Society, the Portland Academy of Pediatrics, the Oregon Medical Association, and the Multnomah County Medical Society. He is also Associate Clinical Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Oregon Medical School.

Portland Adventist Hospital is pleased to have a man with the training and experience of Dr. Cochran as Director of Medical Education.

WALLA WALLA GENERAL HOSPITAL

Drug Education

Drug education has become a very important facet of the Walla Walla General Hospital's ever-expanding Health Education program for the community. With the abuse incidents, not only nationwide but locally, with drugs and drug usage, we have felt a keener sense of responsibility about stemming and arresting this type of drug usage.

Mr. Jack Engeln, the hospital pharmacist, has been leading out in this program for us. Mr. Engeln uses a combination of lecturing with films and other visual aids to get his point across. This program has been in existence now for nearly two years and the popularity seems to be increasing manifold. In addition to lectures here at the hospital, Mr. Engeln has conducted education programs in many of the schools, service and other clubs, not only in Walla Walla but in surrounding communities such as Waitsburg, Dayton, and Athena.

Mr. Engeln is on the Southeast Area Pharmaceutical Association and each year heads the drug education and poison control facets of that organization's work.

Some of the most important points brought out in the lectures are that drug addiction can start with relatively simple items such as aspirin and especially the barbiturates such as sleeping pills, tranquilizers, etc. These are often the things that get one started on stronger and stronger medications until it leads to dire results.

"We owe it to ourselves and to our children," says Mr. Engeln, "to return to the Spirit of Prophecy teachings on healthful living and give up, whenever possible, use of drugs and drug items that are no longer needed or have been taken longer than the physician originally intended."

The hospital administration thanks Mr. Engeln for his dedicated spirit and work along the lines of drug education which is such an important factor in today's living.

Thrift Shoppe News

The Walla Walla General Hospital Auxiliary Thrift Shoppe has been in operation for nearly a year and a half. The proceeds gleaned from the sale of items through the Thrift Shoppe have provided many thousands of dollars of valuable, needed equipment to the General Hospital.

Because of weather and other circumstances, the officers of the auxiliary are putting on a concerted drive for membership and for resalable items for the Thrift Shoppe. If you can spare an hour or two a week, or more, to help out in this very worthwhile organization, please do contact the General Hospital, because the need at present is great.

Merchandise in good used condition or even new is always needed by the Thrift Shoppe to replace their stock. If you are absolutely unable to bring the merchandise in, call either the Thrift Shoppe or the hospital for free pickup.

One of the latest projects undertaken by the auxiliaries at the Thrift Shoppe is making of floral arrangements for the patients at the hospital. Now instead of relatives and friends having to go to the floral shops in town to purchase these items, they can be purchased right at the gift shop in the hospital. They use driftwood, artificial flowers and beautifully decorated artificial birds and butterflies to produce a very professional floral arrangement.

Your ideas, energies, talents, and help are greatly needed, so do inquire today about just how you may help in this area of service.

Smoking Sam Is Featured

Mount Ellis Academy students and Bozeman church members cooperated in putting on a display featuring Smoking Sam at the Winter Fair in Bozeman, Montana.

The students of the academy prepared a display of arts and crafts and along with this unique display featured Smoking Sam. The booth drew a lot of attention from passersby. A large amount of literature was handed out and many inquiries were received regarding the Five-Day Stop Smoking program.

Viewers' Responses

From the It Is Written mailbox we gleaned the following comments which we feel will be of interest to our readers:

"We thoroughly enjoy your inspiring message every Sunday. Your very different manner of presentation seems to capture even the uninterested ones. We would like very much to receive your Bible and study course."—Fruitvale, B. C., Canada.

"Would so love to get the guides and Bible. Would love to study. I watch every Sunday. My husband and I love so much to hear your sermons. We are searching. Thank you."—Deer Park, Wash.

"We enjoy your message so much. Please send me the book you advertised over Channel 4."—Brewster, Wash.

"Please send me the Bible and scripts as you said in your program. I listen to you and enjoy your programs very much, you sure explain everything so well especially today's 'Planet in Rebellion'."—Spokane, Wash.

"I really enjoy your program and a few years ago your correspondence course. I would like you to re-enter me. Thank you."—Sandpoint, Idaho.

"I watched your program today and enjoyed it very much. I heard your offer of the Bible guide and decided to write for it, as I too have a hard time understanding the Bible. So if this offer is good for Canadians too I would appreciate the guide and Bible very much. Thank you."—Kelowna, B. C., Canada.

These excerpts seem to solidify our opinion that many people are searching for truth in God's word. What a privilege we Seventh-day Adventists have to help show them the way of life eternal. Keep praying for the It Is Written program and those of you who are following through on these interests continue to be faithful and we undoubtedly will have many souls for our labor.

Spokane Students Present Concert

A Candlelight Concert was presented the Sabbath eve before Christmas by the Spokane Junior Academy at the Linwood Seventh-day Adventist church in Spokane. The 120 performers were from Spokane Central, Linwood, Deer Park, and the Valley churches.

Mrs. Arthur Birchell, director of the concert and music teacher of SJA, came to this city from southern California where she was awarded the Walt Disney plaque at the Hollywood Bowl for outstanding performance by her elementary group.

Many nationalities were represented by the Austrian, Bohemian, Czech, French, German, and Polish carols. The organist was Norma Wendt, and the pianists, Karen Oss and Gale Fleming. Other instruments for background accompaniment included the flute by Patti Oss; cymbals, Melody McVay; bells, Gale

Fleming; and the timpani drums by Jeff Thomas.

The procession began with the tiny cherub choir members, carrying flashlight candles, singing softly, "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful." As the size of the candle bearers increased, the music swelled in volume to a crescendo as the largest choir members completed the procession.

Invocation was by Sheryl Turnbull, a student, after which Laurence Andrews gave "The Christmas Story."

The cherub choir sang, "The Infant Jesus," "Away in a Manger," "The Friendly Beasts," and "Afterglow." Numbers by the junior choir were "Angels O'er the Fields Were Flying," "The Shepherds Had an Angel," "Sing We Noel," and "Sing Songs of Joy."

"Going to Bethlehem," "Oh, Children Come Quickly," and "A Babe in a Manger," were sung by The Lads. The SJA choir gave "The Carol of the Birds," "The Christ Child," "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "The Little Drummer Boy," "Alleluia," "Sing We Noel, Noel."

The Nativity Tableau was composed of Patti Oss as Mary, Harold Douglass as Joseph, Richard Douglass, Steven Wilson, and John Francis as the shepherds, with Greg Birchell and Mike Morphis as two angels.

Candlelight concert with tableau, a living picture in the baptistry, just before the recessional.

Spokane Junior Academy choir, minus the Cherub Choir, and under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Birchell.

Prior to the recessional, the two candlelight chorus groups flanked the side aisles of the church, and sang the first stanza of "Silent Night." As they sang the last verse, the tiny cherubs led the recessional as they merged into the middle aisle, and withdrew in double-file from the sanctuary.

The directing by Mrs. Birchell was expertly done, but the performance and decorum of the children deserve equal credit for making the program a success. The Candlelight Concert was truly inspirational and thrilling to those of us who watched and listened.

Beams for Brewster

Winter has offered its challenges in Brewster, but along with the icicles there has been much sunshine.

In the midst of thermometer-shattering days dawned one of warmth and no storm flurries—just in time for the church-building crew to take advantage of a 25-ton truck crane to help swing the great glulam beams into place for Brewster's new Seventh-day Adventist church. The crane had been sent in from the coast to help demolish the burned-out Columbia River Bridge; then, scheduled for its return over the mountains, was delayed because of severe weather conditions over the pass. The mild day—slipped into the midst of winter's fury—the timing for crane and beams to be on hand—coincidence? Providence!

Now, tucked in with a 2- to 3-foot blanket of snow, actual construction is in hibernation, but plans are set for action with a break in the weather.

In the meantime, warm-hearted members find Christian fellowship in the durable, if sometimes cool, auditorium. Here at Christmastime, they pinned the largest-ever Thirteenth Sabbath offering, $427, on a tall, spicy Christmas tree.

Julie and Gail, daughters of Pastor

There it is—a dream taking shape!

and Mrs. Elwood Boyd, still cape-clad from their singing part on the program, attached their little red stockings with gifts for Jesus. (See picture.)

And the Brewster Junior Academy has its hardy aspects. With public schools around the county closed for several days because of drifting snow, textbooks here vacationed just one day.

Emphasis is placed on the world missionary program and each week a mission film is shown to the students of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shultz and Principal Earl Brockman. The students put on a bake sale and raised money for the film, "Martin Luther," which was shown a number of times during its brief stay.

Mr. Shultz revealed that the group shared allowance and gift money as well as that earned by special projects, to swell a Missionary Volunteer fund, and at a pre-Christmas meeting the class voted to divide the total offering among three recipients.

Church-related activities branch into other directions, too. Each Sabbath afternoon from seven to a dozen youngsters look forward to an inspirational Story Hour promoted in the community of Azwell (14 miles away) by Mrs. Ray Lamberton.

Other youth activities are spearheaded by Pathfinder and MV leaders, Dr. and Mrs. Don Casebolt, respectively.

A prose resumé of the story of redemption was narrated by Norman Sayles of Coulee Dam with his wife, Dr. Una Jean, playing a piano background for the first MV meeting of 1969. A children's trio sang "Heaven Came Down" and Mrs. Sayles, an accomplished whistler, concluded the program whistling "The Lord's Prayer."

Thirteenth Sabbath offering gifts are attached to evergreen tree.

month. From a vantage point at the top, ravenous riders were served hot soup from campstoves stationed around a roaring bonfire.

So, although this season is one for the books, the Brewster group will have many pleasant memories tucked away recalling the good things that helped fill the pages of the winter of '68-'69.

Dormitory Nears Completion

The accompanying picture shows some of the members of the building committee of Upper Columbia Academy. Absent when the picture was taken were Elder R. C. Remboldt, Mr. Joe Hardy and Elder R. E. Eckerman.

Mr. Hardy reports that many of the final stages of construction are nearing completion. Cabinet work, painting and tile setting are currently some of the major projects. Carpeting has arrived and installation will begin soon.

The girls' deans, Mrs. Olson and Miss Holm, are making plans for the move to the new wing. Many of the girls have picked their new room and excitement is running high as they await the big moving day. We anticipate the day to be sometime in March.

Anniversary Is Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Mooers observed their 65th wedding anniversary on December 27, 1968, at the Lewiston Manor retirement home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mooers' parents homesteaded in north central Idaho about the turn of the century. Mr. Mooers was born on May 7, 1877, at Lake City, Calif. In 1912 he was baptized a Seventh-day Adventist by the late Elder Oliver. Mrs. Mooers was born in Verndale, Minn. on Jan. 17, 1884. At the age of 16 she became a Seventh-day Adventist.

After their marriage at Lewiston, Idaho, on December 27, 1903, they farmed near Orofino until retiring in 1941. They moved to Lewiston and operated an acreage for about 20 years.

Three of their children are in the Lord's work: Earl, an ordained minister working as director, Department of Deferred Giving of Washington Conference. Mart, an ordained minister, is principal of Milo Academy, Milo, Oregon. Leona Altmiller, social worker in Loma Linda University. Other children are Maude Moody, Lynnwood, Wash.; Ted, Mountlake Terrace, Wash.; Lloyd, Nez Perce, Idaho; and Myrtle Harris, registered nurse and graduate of Loma Linda University. They have 18 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Financing United Evangelism

"Divine wisdom has appointed in the plan of salvation the law of action and reaction, making the work of benevolence in all its branches twice blessed. God could have accomplished His object in saving sinners without the help of man but He knew that man could not be happy without acting a part in the great work of redemption. That man might not lose the blessed result of benevolence, our Redeemer formed the plan of enlisting him as His co-worker."— E. G. White, Review and Herald, March 23, 1897.

Herein lies the challenge of the Christian—to so dedicate his life to service that he can co-mingle God's plans with his, that he can be so aware of the needs of the work that the burden of evangelism will rest heavily upon his soul. Yes, God could accomplish the evangelization of the world without man's help but He chose to use us, our time, our abilities and our means. Can we do less than to cooperate in so great an endeavor?

Evangelism becomes possible as funds are made available by His people. It is necessary to provide meeting halls, literature, projectors, handbills, newspaper, radio and television advertising. As individuals are inspired to give, then the machinery of the church goes into action to apply these funds to the needs that exist in the field. Evangelistic meetings are scheduled in the churches, in public halls, and in tents around the conference. The work of the church becomes vitalized and aggressive. Ministers and laymen alike move into line for service and souls are saved for eternity.

The Washington Conference faces a real challenge during March of 1969 as the United Evangelism Thrust is launched in all districts to bring to each community the message of salvation. These evangelistic meetings will, in the Lord's providence, bring many to an understanding of God's plan for their lives.

Are you ready to have a part in this endeavor? Are you willing to invest for God and for the salvation of your fellowmen? You too may share in the "blessed results of benevolence." Your support of Washington Evangelism during 1969 will help make the United Evangelism Thrust financially feasible. May the Lord impress each of us of the needs of the work in this conference and of the thousands of the honest in heart who are waiting to be gathered into the fold of Christ.

Skiing Classes Are Part of Winter Fun!

Through the advantage of proximity to a major ski resort, Auburn Academy is again providing excellent winter recreational opportunity to its students and teachers.

One hundred forty or more students are signed up for an eight weeks' "package" plan which includes bus fare and adult supervision, eight hours of skiing lessons from well-trained instructors and lift tickets for eight separate ski trips. Crystal Mountain, within easy driving dis-of representative students of Auburn Academy into what promises to be one of the most active clubs on campus. Its basic purposes include the responsibility of getting better acquainted with state and national leaders from the area and presenting to them the basic concepts of Adventists concerning church-state relationships. It will provide excellent preliminary experiences in the witnessing that will surely come to members of this generation as we recall to mind a familiar quotation from the pen of inspiration:

"The world is to be warned, and no soul should rest satisfied with superficial knowledge of truth . . . You know not where you may be called upon to give your witness of truth. Many will have to stand in legislative courts; some will have to stand before kings and before the learned of the earth, to answer for their faith.

Skiing is one of the major recreational activities which have become popular in the United States in recent years that Christian youth can enjoy individually or in groups.

to Edna Foxglove in a manner that answered her most cherished dream!

Edna is one of our 10th grade students here at Bristol Bay Mission School. She comes from Selawik, Alaska, which is north of the Arctic Circle.

But I must take you back a few days and weeks to the time when I was having roomcheck and heard someone frantically calling—"Mrs. Johnson, where are you? Come help me, I can't believe it!" Thinking someone had at least broken an arm or fallen down the stairs, I raced out into the hallway only to find Edna waving a letter under my nose.

"What do you think this says?" she gasped.

After a quick scan of the letter I very unimaginatively said, "Why just what is written." And this is what it said—

"Dear Edna, how would you like an electric sewing machine of your very own? If you would like it and promise to use it and take good care of it I will see that you get it. Your friend, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor."

"Do you think she really means it?" Edna spoke in a stage whisper. "What shall I do?" she continued.

"Do! Well, write the Taylors back right away telling them, yes, yes, yes!" I replied, beginning to realize how much this was meaning to Edna, for tears of happiness sparkled not far away.

Anxious days followed, then Edna had the wonderful experience of going "outside" with Mrs. Russell James, the cook and greenhouse supervisor of BBMS, for Christmas vacation. "Outside" means going into the lower 49 states to us Alaskans.

Many of you readers had the opportunity of meeting Edna when she and Anna Chythlook, another Eskimo student from BBMS, helped Mr. James and his family give talks about our advancing work here.

Soon after Edna returned from her memorable Christmas vacation the long-awaited package arrived. I only wish there were a picture of the thrill and the joy that Edna felt as she stood there with hands clasped—too excited and happy to even open the box!

What does a sewing machine mean? It means that Edna, under the careful instruction of our home economics teacher, Mrs. Faith Kenny, has already made herself a dress, and a blouse and dress for her little sister, Hilda, and is preparing to surprise her mother with a new dress too. It means more than words can express to an Eskimo family who have had to sew everything by hand or with a hand sewing machine. A very few have generators to produce electricity. It means that Edna will be someone special in her small village of Selawik because she has been to a Christian school and learned useful skills. It means one of the former teachers of BBMS has put Christian love into action by giving a gift to a student that is more valuable than the actual money ex-

Services through March 5 and on March 7 and 8 will be 7:30-8:30 p.m. Sabbath meetings will be at the MV Vesper hour, 4:30-5:30 p.m.

Dedication Is Rescheduled

Dedication of the Camas-Washougal church has been rescheduled, because of heavy snows, for March 22 at 3 p.m.

Conference Secretary R. C. Schwartz will speak at the morning worship service, and President W. D. Blehm at the dedication. Potluck fellowship dinner will be served at the PUD Building adjacent to the new hiway 830 bypass road in Washougal.

PUA Homecoming Day

Portland Union Academy's second annual Homecoming Day is scheduled for February 22, from 4:30-10:00 p.m., in the school auditorium.

Music will begin at 4:30 with guest speaker, Elder Walt Blehm, Oregon Conference president, and special reports following. Supper will be available in the cafeteria at 6:45.

The pep band will play in the evening as 1969 Seniors play Alumni in basketball.

All former students and teachers are invited to join the current school family for this day of fellowship.

Inquiries may be addressed to Wanda Harrison, 605 SE 39th, Portland 97214.

Meadow Glade Church

In eight nights of solicitation the Meadow Glade church reached an all-time high of $7,556.63 for which they praise God "from whom all blessings flow."

Lay Activities Director Gordon Bissell arranged the transportation and mapping of the territory, while Burl Hiebert made a beautiful goal device. Columbia Academy students, Meadow Glade Elementary students, and the church members all rallied to the project.

A bus load of students from Columbia Academy also went to Hood River and White Salmon to assist them in their solicitation one evening. The academy students went out three nights and received $2,521.25. Grade school students also received the highest amount ever—$2,095.42. Members of the church reached $2,939.96.

Idaho Dorcas-Welfare Breaks All Records

A recent report from the Health and Welfare Services of the General Conference gives a report of the relief clothing shipments to the Western and Eastern depots for the last four years. The report shows Idaho standing at the very top of the list for the four-year period with 39.2 pounds per member. This in itself is a wonderful record, but actually the record is much better.

The General Conference Health and Welfare Department did not know that we have an additional 24,000 pounds of clothing collected in 1968 that have been waiting shipment to Watsonville. When we add this to the above figure it brings our pounds per member for 1968 up to 14.7 and up to 47.2 per member for the four-year period. This is a wonderful attainment. Our Dorcas-Welfare ladies (and a number of hard-working men) have worked many long hours to make such a report possible.

The above figures by no means tell the whole story. In addition, our Dorcas Societies and Welfare centers have given out locally 46,241 garments during 1968. They also reported 16,714 hours of unselfish labor.

I am proud of our faithful members. We will not know until the heavenly bookkeepers reveal their secrets how many souls have been won by these silent sermons of love. From all over the world come calls from the hungry and naked for help. We cannot grow weary in well-doing. Who knows how many surprise stars our faithful Dorcas-Welfare workers will find in their crowns when Jesus comes. May God bless their efforts with success during 1969.

Gift Bible Evangelism In Twin Falls

Gift Bible evangelism has been a project of members of the Twin Falls church for more than two years. In the accompanying picture are seven who joined the church during 1968 as a result of this plan.

John Stewart and his mother, Mrs. Inga Stewart, were baptized in October. Actually, Mrs. Stewart's contact with Adventists goes back to her childhood when an Adventist lady had studied with her mother. With the passing of years she established her own home. Regular study began with the 20th Century Bible lessons. Attendance of evangelistic meetings followed. Though recognizing the Sabbath truth, she delayed in making her decision to keep it. In 1968 Paul

Group of people won to Christ with the Gift Bible plan in Twin Falls, Idaho.

Marlow, assistant pastor in Twin Falls, began studies in their home with the Gift Bible plan. Study of the lesson on baptism was used by the Lord to bring her to a decision to join the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Banner and their daughter, Vicki, moved to Twin Falls in the late summer. Bill Vietz, Lay Activities leader of the church, made contact with them in September, enrolling them in studies, and the three were baptized in December.

Miss Florence Schooler had been brought to Adventist services by friends for several years. Carol Whitten, a member of the Twin Falls church, guided her through the lessons of the Gift Bible plan, and with Mrs. Essie Roan she became a member in July.

Mrs. Roan's first contact with Seventh-day Adventists came in Oklahoma, where she listened to the Voice of Prophecy radio program and enrolled in their correspondence course. After moving to Twin Falls, she began the Gift Bible plan with Mrs. Loma Sperle, who not only studied with her, but has provided transportation to church services.

Members of the church are looking forward to others who will make similar decisions as a result of the many other Gift Bibles in homes in the district.

Student Week of Prayer

This year the theme of the Student Week of Prayer at Gem State Academy was "Achieving Maturity Through Christ," with a theme song, "Christ is the Answer."

Each morning and evening worship talk gave a different aspect of how a Christian can gain maturity.

Melva Lou Johnson, Lincoln, Nebraska, gave a talk about how the Christian can gain maturity "Through Loving Him." Ron Carroll, Payette, told how to have peace with ourselves and others with "Achieving Peace—When There Is No Peace."

Donna McAlexander, Pendleton,

Oregon, talked about "Happiness All the Time." "Who Can Understand?" was the topic presented by Nancy Cole, Port Angeles, Washington. "Steadfastness Under Provocation" was the topic of Ted Schultz, Salmon.

Donna Merickel, Caldwell, told a story of a blind boy who had enough confidence in himself to overcome many obstacles in his way. The title of her speech was "Have This Confidence."

Dalene Ringering, Caldwell, presented ways we can use our will power in a talk entitled, "This Is How." Ed Webb, Troutdale, Oregon, impressed the students with the responsibility of keeping themselves in control with the topic, "Taking Myself in Hand."

Steve Hall, Portland, Oregon, emphasized the importance of self-control in every form with "The Highest Evidence of Nobility." Glen Mereen, Caldwell, explained what communion really should mean to the family of Christians. After Glen's talk Friday night, January 31, the students and faculty observed communion. Student elders and deaconesses assisted during the service.

Sabbath the church service hour consisted of a summary of each talk presented by the student speakers.

New Chapel Record Releases

Six brand-new recordings are now available. There is a good variety, and I am impressed with the quality of good listening they provide.

Be Still and Know, by Donna Jones—Organ. Restful eventide melodies, by a well-known Adventist artist. (C.R.)

America's Favorite Hymns, by King's Heralds, Del Delker, and the Hymnsingers. This record is a result of the hymn poll taken during 1968. (C.R.)

Christmas Music From Loma Linda University. LLU has created a superb recording; we are sorry though, that it wasn't released earlier. (C.R.)

Songs of Our Great Saviour, by Wilma Boling - Piano, and Mary Ann Rigg - Organ. Mrs. Boling is a former Idaho resident. The blending of their talents reveals no common work of art. (B.S.)

Poor Wayfarer Stranger, by Connie L. Wheeler, Contralto, and Donna Jones - Organ, Jean Penner, Piano. A trio of musicians for whom you'll be very grateful they got together. (B.S.)

How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings, by Blythe Owen, and Elsie Buck - Piano. Dr. Owen is well known in the Northwest. She taught at WWC until she recently accepted a position at Andrews University. Several of her own compositions are masterfully portrayed. This is bound to be one of your favorites. (B.S.)

classes were negligible. When regional averages were compared with the national average, significant differences were found for the Mid-Atlantic, Southeastern, and Far Western regions.

Dr. Mabery concluded, however, that the existence of such differences does not necessarily negate the usefulness of national norms as used with most standardized tests, but may even enhance them. Much depends on the type of interpretation made by test users and the type of comparative judgments that are most meaningful to them. Test users should be aware of such variations.

The conclusions true for a relatively unified curriculum area such as physics, must surely be true also in most other curriculum areas where there is less unification, according to Dr. Mabery.

Change of Date

Everyone in the territory of the North Pacific Union GLEANER has either heard of or experienced the "unusual" winter weather of 1969 and does not, therefore, need an explanation for the change of the date for Wanderlust, a WWC Alumni Association benefit program, from March 29 to April 12.

Note the new date, please. Wanderlust is coming.

Nursing Accreditation

National accreditation of the School of Nursing program at Walla Walla College was continued by the Board of Review for baccalaureate and higher degree programs following a survey by representatives of the National League for Nursing in October, Miss Wilma Leazer, director, School of Nursing, reports.

Wilma Leazer

In 1952 the School of Nursing was one of the early baccalaureate programs in the nation to receive accreditation from this professional accrediting body. It has continuously maintained this status through the years.

Current enrollment in the School of Nursing is at an all-time high with 286 nursing majors registered. Some 70 students will graduate with B.S. degrees with majors in nursing this year.

Clinic 'Best Ever'

Cooperation and the sheer joy of participation in a worthwhile event, the "best ever" Choral-Orchestral Clinic, according to the directors, paid off in producing a program of high quality performed by 150 students from nine Northwest academies, and in enjoyment for the large audience which packed Columbia Auditorium Saturday evening, February 9.

Professors Harold Lickey and Glenn Spring, directors of the choral and orchestral clinics, respectively, were generous in their praise of the 16 academy music directors who had not only prepared the students in the music to be used, but many who directed sectional rehearsals on the college campus, and more than a half dozen who played in the orchestra. Norman Schwisow, tenor, director from Laurelwood Academy, was soloist with the chorus in "Dona nobis pacem." Janet Lundeen, student with Professor Lickey, was soprano soloist.

Success in singing "great music" bore out one of Professor Lickey's favorite maxims: "Given leadership, students will do what you believe they can do." He had complete confidence in the students.

Students from nine Northwest academies participated in Choral-Orchestral Clinic.

Concerning leadership, Professor Spring said, "The cooperation of academy music directors was outstanding. The students were well prepared, were well disciplined during rehearsals, and were personally responsive."

Questioned as to the grade level of the students, "Were they all seniors?" Director Paul Coleman, Laurelwood Academy, replied quickly, "Oh, no. Many are sophomores. We get to keep them two years more."

Directors from the academies are: James Hanson, Don Latsha, Auburn; Gladys Robison, Ron Jensen, Columbia; Richard Kaping, James Hardin, Gem State; Paul Coleman, Norman Schwisow, Laurelwood; Dale Jewkes, Maurice Crandall, Milo; Glenn Salisbury, Mount Ellis; Ralph Sandburg, Jon Gilbertson, Portland Union; Lynn Wickham, Nadine Sample, Upper Columbia; Gordon Finch, Walla Walla Valley.

Make Application Now

For the first time WWC Alumni Association scholarship grants will be made on the basis of applications evaluated by a scholarship committee, says Dr. Lynn Ray Callender, AA president, who urges students needing financial assistance to apply at once.

The Association plans to make available 15 scholarships of from $100 to $250 each, the largest number ever to be given by alumni. The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of acceptable grades, acceptable citizenship, personal contribution to the college, and financial need, according to President Callender. Wendell White, treasurer of the Association, is chairman of the scholarship committee.

Application blanks may be secured from the alumni office, registrar's office, or the student finance office.

Those off-campus should write to Mr. Richard Beck, Student Finance Director, Walla Walla College, College Place, Wash. 99324.

KGTS Broadens Service Area

Walla Walla College's educational FM radio station, KGTS (91.3 MHz) has broadened its scope of service to shut-ins with the regular broadcasting of the 11 o'clock worship service from the new College Place Village church the last Sabbath of each month, according to Dr. Loren Dickinson, KGTS manager and chairman of the WWC speech department.

Previously the regular College Church service was broadcast each week. Services from the College Church continue on all Sabbaths except the last one of the month or on the occasions of the ordinances when the broadcast will be from the new church at SE. 12th St. and Larch Ave.

Junior Class Organizes

Organization of the 300-member junior class by President Robert L. Reynolds resulted in election of officers from Oregon, Washington, Oklahoma, and Canada.

Elected were: Mark Rockwell, president, Sunnyside, Oregon; Karen Reiber, vice-president, Grandview, Wash.; Asta Sakala, secretary, Kelowna, British Columbia; Henry Lambertson, chaplain, Brewster, Wash.; William Schuler, treasurer, Ardmore, Oklahoma; Andrea Pfeiffer, sergeant at arms, Portland, Oregon. Elder Larry Lewis, assistant professor of religion, was selected by the class as their advisor.

Dr. Maberly Presents Paper

Dr. Norman Maberly, professor of education, was among educators chosen to present papers at the joint annual meeting of the American Educational Research Association and the National Council of Measurement in Education in Los Angeles in early February.

The paper by Dr. Maberly titled, "Regional Differences in Test Norms," was from data obtained from a nationwide research study in which physics achievement was observed in 81 high schools distributed throughout seven demographic regions of the United States. Results showed that regional differences in physics achievement do exist although differences in mental ability among the physics
