Idaho Conference Constituency Session

At the 39th session of the Idaho Conference held at Gem State Academy, Caldwell, Idaho on March 23, Elder George W. Liscombe, and those associated with him in Conference leadership were returned to office.

The organization of the Idaho Conference took place during the summer of 1907 and included 15 churches and 8 companies with a total membership of 554. Present membership is 2,968 with soul winning being emphasized as the first work of the church.

A 16 percent increase in tithe was recorded during the past biennium as compared with the previous two-year period. For the first time in the history of the Conference the tithe income exceeded one million dollars for a two-year period with a total of $1,010,188.

A much-needed and long-overdue new Conference office is now ready for occupancy. The constituency of the Conference can be justly proud of this new facility.

The reports of the Book and Bible House manager and the departmental secretaries gave evidence of the Lord's blessing in every phase of the work.

Overseas News

One of the staff physicians at Portland Adventist Hospital, Dr. Phillip Pritel, and his wife, recently served in Vietnam with the American Medical Association project to staff a hospital there. After he finished his term with this group, Dr. Pritel worked at Saigon Adventist Hospital with Dr. Jess C. Holm and then came to Rumah Sakit Advent in Bandung. The present medical director of R.S.A. is Dr. Henry H. Novak, formerly of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. He and his wife and their son, Lee, are in Bandung, while the two older daughters are students at Far Eastern Academy in Singapore.

Miss Lois Wilson, Class of '61 Walla

Walla College School of Nursing, is director of nursing service at Rumah Sakit Advent (Bandung Mission Hospital). After her graduation, she took her master's work at the University of Oregon Medical School of Nursing, and then taught at WWC School of Nursing until she accepted the call to come to Indonesia. The position she now fills was formerly held by Miss Wilma Leazer who at present is the Dean of the School of Nursing of WWC.

The two assistants shown with Miss Wilson in the accompanying picture were students under Miss Leazer. They are happy with the duplicating machine—a gift from the nursing students of WWC School of Nursing. The Student Association made their Christmas, 1967, project to help the School of Nursing in Bandung, and it took nearly a year to arrange for purchase, shipping, and import of the machine. Since its arrival, the machine has received much use.

Rumah Sakit Advent is striving to fulfill God's purpose of helping carry the gospel to all the world, and its staff solicit your prayers for the continued success of their work.

May 11 Fly-In

The Northwest chapter of Adventist Pilots' Association is sponsoring a fly-in at Martin Field in College Place, 11 a.m., May 11. Dinner is scheduled at the college cafeteria at 11:45, to be followed by a business meeting and program at the Life Sciences Building. Ground transportation from the field will be available courtesy of the WWC Flying Club.

The Northwest SDA Pilots' Association had its small beginning in 1960 with about 35 persons present for a fly-in breakfast at Upper Columbia Academy. Since that time they have spread their wings to encompass the whole Northwest in membership. There is even a member or two as far away as Alaska.

Dr. and Mrs. Phillip Pritel receive a farewell gift from Lambok Silatonga, assistant business manager of Rumah Sakit Advent, while Dr. Henry Novak looks on. The Pritels have returned to Saigon where they will work until they return to the U. S. in October.

Lois Wilson, R.N., with two of her clinical instructors, demonstrate a duplicating machine which they received as a gift to the hospital from the Walla Walla College School of Nursing.

The objective of the group is to promote missionary flying, both financially and verbally. Last year they strongly supported the campaign for the Cessna 180 that the Student Body of Columbia Academy donated to the Alaska Mission.

This year the pilots have voted a project of their own—raising funds to purchase an engine for a J5 Cub to be used in the Navajo mission in New Mexico. It is the opinion of the writer that "this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world" much faster with the use of the wings of an airplane than from the back of a mule, and the quicker we can get more planes into service in the mission fields of the world, the quicker we can look for our Lord's return.

The Northwest pilots cordially invite all who are interested in flying to meet with us in College Place for this important and informative meeting. Elder Baxter, a former flying missionary in Mexico, will be our guest with his TV documentary on mission flying in Mexico.

Loma Linda University has over the past eighteen years, granted facilities for the institutes, recognizing their educational community value, but with the increase in national concern over alcoholism, the university's School of Public Health has agreed to sponsor the institute. A new slate of lectures, films and research reports will be the highlights of this intensive five-day institute, said Mr. Steed.

Requests for registration and information should be made now to the institute director, Dr. Irwin A. Crawford, Loma Linda University School of Public Health, Loma Linda, California 92354.

Alice G. Marsh Coming

For Nutrition and Cooking Course

We are happy to announce confirmation from Andrews University that Alice G. Marsh will be coming for the Lay Nutrition Instructors' Course which will be conducted at Walla Walla College during August 24-28, 1969.

A personal word from Mrs. Marsh informs us that she is already making preparation for the course. We feel most fortunate to have her as the instructor. Alice G. Marsh is known internationally for her study and research in the field of nutrition. She recently has initiated a new column which will be appearing in several papers entitled, "Write-a-Dietitian." Certainly the course she will give at Walla Walla College for lay instructors will be most practical and stimulating. Apply now to attend!

In last week's GLEANER we announced to the field this course for ladies who will apply to attend as delegates from the local Conferences in our Union. We urge the ladies in our churches who are interested in becoming lay nutrition instructors to apply immediately to your local Conference president for the opportunity of taking this special course.

The local Conference will select and approve all delegates on a quota basis. Only a limited number can attend. Get your application in now.

If you are interested in taking the training course, apply immediately to your local Conference president on the accompanying application form. Mail your application promptly!

World Mission Institute to Convene at AU During the Summer of '69

An Institute of World Missions will be conducted at Andrews University, June 16 to July 25, for missionaries on furlough or persons under appointment. The courses will introduce the students to the task of the contemporary overseas worker, examine insights and understandings of the tensions and movements of the non-western world, and point out study disciplines needed by an overseas Christian worker.

Included on the teaching staff will be Drs. M. O. Manley, Gottfried Oosterwal, C. E. Wittschiebe, Raoul Dederen, Ruth Murdoch, Wilson Trickett, Elaine Giddings, and Mrs. Alice G. Marsh of Andrews University; Dr. Andrew Haynal of Loma Linda University; and select individuals from the General Conference.

The purpose of the institute is for alert, ambitious, and professionally qualified people with an active spiritual commitment to Christian world mission to receive the type of orientation that will increase their effectiveness in overseas service, according to M. O. Manley, director of the institute.

The first five weeks will be spent in studying the following courses: (1) Science and Principles of World Service, a study of actual overseas experience in terms of the call, goals, methods, and administration. Afternoon seminars will supplement other offerings of the institute with material in interaction experiences; (2) World Religions, a study of the ethnic and major world religions and the proper approaches to their adherents with the gospel message; and (3) Applied Anthropology, an introduction to the principles of cultural anthropology as they relate to Christian world mission and to Christianity in the overseas field culture.

The final week of the institute will be spent in a Seminar in Personal Health and Tropical Hygiene, a course dealing with aspects of both the mental and physical health of persons working in cultures other than their own.

Persons who qualify for admission to the School of Graduate Studies or to the Seminary are eligible to earn eight quarter credits towards an M.A. degree; persons who do not qualify for credit may audit the courses, according to Dr. Manley.

For further information and registration blanks concerning the institute, write to the Dean, School of Graduate Studies, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

English Workshop To Be Held at Andrews

A workshop for denominational English teachers on secondary and college levels will be conducted at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan, June 23 to August 1, 1969, in response to a resolution passed by Fall Council. Topics under discussion will be the academic and administrative problems encountered by secondary-level English teachers and present-day trends in grammar, literary criticism, book selection in the SDA context, and the rhetorical approach to writing.

(Mail this form to your Conference president.)

The faculty on the workshop will include Mrs. Opal Hagelgantz of Union College, Dr. Otilie Stafford of Atlantic Union College, Dr. Edith Stone of Columbia Union College, and Mrs. Alma Campbell and Dr. John O. Waller of Andrews University.

The purpose of the workshop is to upgrade the teaching of English in Seventh-day Adventist academies, to develop a positive approach to the selection of books and other materials for study in Seventh-day Adventist English classes, and to encourage English teachers to obtain a master's degree in their field, according to Dr. John O. Waller, director of the workshop.

Persons who qualify for admission to the School of Graduate Studies may earn eight hours of credit toward a master's degree in English or education; the workshop may also be taken on an audit basis.

For registration blanks and further information concerning the workshop, write to the Dean, School of Graduate Studies, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

Help Your Family to Health

J. DEWITT FOX, M.D.
Editor, Life and Health

YOU can bring better health to your husband and children by reading your own magazine Life and Health. In it Adventist doctors, nurses, and dietitians are supplying you with instruction for the everyday health care of your family, in which they tell you how to cook for health, talk with your teen-agers, deal with modern problems parents face, and lead your family to Christ.

Life and Health is published every month, and it is full of help for the Adventist family. It is the opening wedge for you to use in giving your friends the news of salvation their hearts are longing for.

The June, 1969, Life and Health tells you how people can stop the smoking habit. Dr. T. H. Biggs of London, Kentucky, says in his article "Want to Stop Smoking?" that willpower plays a big part in breaking the tobacco habit.

Many families have the problem of meeting the food bill, and the article "Beans Are Good Food," by Lucille J. Gotham, dietitian, tells you how to cook beans, the good protein food that is kind to the budget. Miss Gotham gives you many delicious recipes to try.

You may be wondering how to train your small children to prepare them for the time when they will go to school. "Prepare Your Child for School," by Nurse Ernestine M. Schindler, tells you how to get them ready for school responsibility. As you do this you are also getting them ready for life and living.

Life and Health specializes in telling people how to prevent illness. You save money, time, and pain when you avoid sickness rather than wait until you feel ill before you think about health habits. God gave His people a simple health guide for a world full of disease. Take advantage of it yourself and pass it on to your friends.

Life and Health Forum

The spring quarter of the forum found the attendance to be quite good, with excellent participation from the various audiences.

Mrs. Marie Lutz, director of nurses for the hospital, and Mrs. Grace Streifling just concluded teaching a Red Cross Home Nursing course in which several were in attendance. Concerning the course, Mrs. Lutz said, "Four were there to complete requirements for their Master Guide, and one because she had an elderly mother living in her home. All were very pleased with the course."

Chaplain Bill Ward, although not yet moved into his new quarters, came down from Sandpoint to assist the hospital in running the latest Five-Day Plan. Dr. Jimmie Losey and Dr. John Potts filled out the physicians' role while Mr. Carl Rouse, the hospital's new chief inhalation therapist, gave a brief talk and lung capacity tests to each person in attendance with the Vitalor.

The newest clinic to be added to the Life and Health Forum is our program on drug education, presented by our chief pharmacist, Jack Engeln. One of the most popular clinics on the forum, is has been scheduled from once to three times a week, with a total of 52 clinics having been presented on this subject to the surrounding area and community in the last year and a half. Nearly everywhere this clinic was presented a large turnout has occurred. The most recent clinic was held in the

Mr. Carl Rouse, chief inhalation therapist, giving a lung capacity test.

Dayton elementary school with nearly 400 in attendance, leaving standing room only.

The combination of using the Spirit of Prophecy and the excellent cooperation received from the hospital medical staff has proved to be an effective one-two punch in presenting not only health principles but thorough Christian happiness and living to our community.

Mount Ellis Juniors Present 'The Class of '70 Happening'

The Mount Ellis Academy Juniors, Class of 1970, presented a variety talent show for their benefit program at Mount Ellis on Saturday evening, March 29. Randy Barlow, class president, introduced his class and officers. Assisting Randy in the officers' duties of the Junior Class are: Dorene Iverson, Great Falls, vice-president; Julie Jensen, Great Falls, secretary; Laurene Rosich, Butte, treasurer; Eric Beavon, Bozeman, sergeant at arms; and Steven Duffy, Lewistown, chaplain. Class sponsors are Elder and Mrs. A. W. Robinson, and Dean and Mrs. Larry Skinner.

Elder Wayne Moore, father of class member, Carlton, and pastor of the Kalispell, Montana district, was the master of ceremonies for this program. The class members showed their hours of practice in such numbers as a mixed chorus, a girls' chorus, solo numbers on piano, violin, guitar, and voice, and in group acts of singing, reading, skits, and tumbling. Mr. Mike Roberti, coordinator of music for the Bozeman public schools, rounded out the program as the guest artist for the evening with several trumpet solo numbers.

The Senior Class of 1969 honored the Junior Class and their parents and friends at a reception held in the cafeteria following the close of the evening program. The Seniors and their class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Beardsley, served pie and ice cream with root beer for refreshments.

istrator of the Kiowa County Hospital in Eads for two years before moving to Omak. He previously had practiced medicine for two years in Hayden, Colorado.

He is a native of eastern Idaho having been born and reared in Rigby, Idaho. After spending four years in the medical department of the Marine Corps, Dr. Hill attended Walla Walla College and the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery in Kansas City, Missouri. He has been designated for the last three years as an aviation medical examiner for the Federal Aviation Agency.

Dr. Hill is married and has three children—Del Jeanne 11, Kenneth 9, and Lenna Hoe, 18 months.

The Omak church extends a most cordial welcome to this lovely family. Dr. Hill has many friends in the Northwest whom he is looking forward to meeting again.

MILDRED H. REIMER

Northport Church

Northport Sabbath school and church members were doubly blessed on Sabbath, March 29, when the primary class in costume repeated all of their memory verses for the quarter under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Otto Ehrendreich, and sang a song accompanied at the piano by the writer.

During the church hour, a group of young people from Upper Columbia academy presented the entire church service which was appropriate to go with the special offering being taken for the Academy Building Fund.

Mrs. KONRAD HARTBAUER

Assistant Dean's Apartment

It's a cozy nook; a quiet place to read a book. Yes it is all that and much more. You are looking at the assistant dean's apartment in the new girls' dormitory at Upper Columbia Academy.

Mrs. Jessie Olson, dean of girls, shares with our constituency a glimpse of some of the built-in comfort and convenience. In addition to the kitchenette at one end, the parlor has wall-to-wall carpeting. It also features a large bedroom with double closets.

This is the way things looked on the day of the official opening, March 25. Next week we will share with you a picture of one of the student rooms.

R. E. ECKERMAN

Evangelistic Crusade In Camas-Washougal

Pastor Edwin Huston will begin a Bible Speaks Crusade, April 26, in the Camas-Washougal church on Shepherd Road.

Meetings will continue four nights weekly (Saturday, Sunday, Tuesday, and Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m., until June 1. Music will be led by Christine Mayes and Nikki Sayer.

If you have friends or relatives in the area whom you wish to be notified and invited to the services, send their names to Irma Surber, Route 1, Box 658, Washougal, Washington 98671.

Spring Bible Conference

"These kids are different; this is a different group. I could tell that the minute they came in," the Boy Scout Training Center caretaker avowed. He was talking of Seventh-day Adventist youth, (1) assembling for the Spring Bible Conference. (2) They came 140 strong from junior and senior academies and high schools all over the Conference to study from the book of Romans "How To Be a Christian Without Being Religious."

(3) Directing discussions was Dr. J. N. Barnes of Walla Walla College. However, the experiences were furthered in (4) 12 small group dialogs which prepared some question or observation for the recall which ended each session. All was not study, though, in this spot nestled atop Scouters Mountain looking out to Mt. Hood and all of the Cascades on both sides of the Columbia. (5) Music played an important part in setting the tone before and during each meeting as Barbara Morton led in old and taught new choruses (6) and introduced school groups to present "specials."

(7) Between times there were hikes on the trails and counseling sessions with Dr. Barnes or any of the other sponsors: Mr. Melvin Derby and Mr. Ed Sanders, Rogue River Junior Academy; Mr. Victor Anderson, Pleasant Hill Junior Academy; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mundall, Tualatin Valley Junior Academy; Mr. Ray Erwin, Miss Goltz, and Mr. Maurice Crandall, Milo; Miss Gladys Robison and Mr. Jan Doward, Columbia; Mr. Gerald Miller and Miss Ehman, Laurelwood; Elder Tom Willey, Portland Union. And each took his turn in chow line, (8) serving and (9) eating food supervised by Mrs. Jewell Miner and Mrs. Ernestine Reid.

Letters of appreciation are still arriving for Elders Frank Baker and George Reid from youth who felt a "real spiritual impact" on their lives. One teacher wrote, "Many of our students have mentioned again and again that it was the greatest weekend of their lives; that for the first time they really found Christ and what it means to be a Christian." Moreover, Oregon youth "rightly trained" will finish the work by showing in their lives how to be a consistent "Christian" without being merely "religious."

Reaping Effort Is Kelso-Longview

Laymen in the Kelso-Longview church and Pastor Harold Kurtz will be joined by Evangelist Edwin G. Brown for a reaping series April 25.

To continue three weeks, the services are aimed at helping laymen's interests to make a decision for Bible truth.

Harold Kurtz

Edwin Brown

Those who have once been members will be reminded of God's continuing love for them.

Positive Living Topics

Services pointing to positive living are continuing nightly through April 20 at Portland's Tabernacle church, SW Barbur and Hamilton Streets, with Elder Glenn A. Coon.

Glenn A. Coon

Pastor Gery Friesen and his church family wish to share these new-idea lectures with others of the church family and point to this week's topics: Monday, "Phil and Fleta"; Tuesday, "Solutions Unlimited"; Wednesday, "It Works Like Magic"; Thursday, "From Misery to Happiness"; Friday, "Strange Honeymoon with Pay."

Sabbath, 11 a.m., "Everyone Should Know This"; 4:30 p.m., "I Found What I Wanted"; Sunday, April 20, "All This and Heaven, Too."

Silver Star Is Awarded

Sp4 Daniel Passmore, a Columbia Academy alumnus of 1965, has been decorated with his nation's third highest award—the Silver Star medal.

While the citation is only now announced, the "gallantry in action" was noted last August 27 when his unit was engaged in ambush operation in Binh Doung Province. "With complete disregard for his personal safety," the citation reads, "Specialist Passmore left his protected location and proceeded through a hail of hostile rounds to aid the wounded men on the left flank. An enemy hand grenade exploded near him, wounding him in the head and chest, but Specialist Passmore dauntlessly moved about rendering aid to his wounded comrades.

"When the casualties closest to him had all been properly treated, he again exposed himself to the concentrated enemy fire and rushed to another area in which more wounded lay. Specialist Passmore continued to disregard his own severe wounds until he had administered first aid to all his injured fellow soldiers.

"His extraordinary perseverance and deep concern for the welfare of the Construction of the new auditorium-gymnasium at Livingston Junior Academy, Salem, is progressing faster than it can be photographed, says Principal Howard Carter. However, the outdated pictures show the March progress of the 80-ft. x 140-ft. structure which includes a choir room, woodshop, and storage areas. The main playing floor is 80-ft. x 97-ft. Estimated cost of building is $100,000.

other casualties were directly responsible for saving the lives of a number of individuals during the encounter."

He was also cited for his "unquestionable valor in close combat against numerically superior" enemy forces. He also holds two Purple Heart medals for combat wounds.

In Viet Nam for a year, Passmore has been on leave with his family—wife, Cheryl (Magsulit) of Salem, and four-month-old son, Larry.

Born in Vancouver, Passmore is completing his term of service in Kentucky before returning to the Northwest.

Lacomb, Oregon, March 9, 1969—"I would love to have your Bible and question sheet. We love the Lord and wish your prayers and we continually pray that your broadcast on the TV reaches lots of searching families and individuals."

Junior Academy Expands

Rogue River Junior Academy has recently completed a new multipurpose gymnasium, split level in design and of cement block structure.

Lower floor classrooms are ground level, as is the entrance to the gym. Classrooms included are: Industrial education, home economics, science, and music, reports Principal Melvin Derby. The chapel, also located on this floor, will seat 200 students.

(Left) The upper level, or main floor of the gymnasium, has a total area of 70' x 140', with a playing floor 70' x 96'. At one end is the stage, and at either side of the main entrance, shower and dressing rooms are located underneath a large balcony.

A regulation senior high school basketball court is laid out or six courts of badminton may be played simultaneously.

(Right) Mr. Gil Reno, a retired building contractor who donated his service, directed the building program. This Christian dedication along with the many others who donated their labor enabled this building to be constructed at a cost much lower than its estimated value of $125,000.

At the present time enrollment stands at 213 with 12 instructors, a superior student-staff ratio. Current evaluation by the North Pacific Union makes Rogue River Junior Academy a standard ten-grade school.

Addition of the new gymnasium buildings brings facilities to accommodate 270 students.

The gymnasium stands today as a symbol of the loyalty and sacrifice of Seventh-day Adventists in the Rogue Valley.

Milo Academy Homecoming

Milo Academy hosted approximately one hundred alumni, their families, and former Milo staff members at the annual Homecoming last month.

Sabbath school was presided over by Superintendent Bette Marion, class of '67. Participating in the panel discussion for the lesson study were Tony Finch, '67, and Dan Woodman, '65. Song service was conducted by Judy Mackey. Scripture was read by Barbara Noble, '67; missions emphasis was given by Bob Sanders, '68. Chris Bishop, '68, sang a solo.

Pastor Gerald Hager, class of '59, asked, "What Is Your Price?" at the worship hour. Also on the program were Judy and Mean Mackey, '65 and '68, and Jerry Yost, '59.

Mark Fleming, president of the Association, was in charge of the afternoon MV program.

The weekend concluded with a banquet and business meeting, with Milo's senior students as special guests. Officers elected for next year were: president, Leonard Yost, Medford; vice-president, Darlene (Crays) Smith, Tillamook; social vice-president, Joyce Roderick, Salem; spiritual vice-president, Blanch (Chamberlin) Feekes, Medford; press relations, Tony Finch, Milo, and Delbert Cline, Ashland; secretary-treasurer, Jean Mackey, Roseburg.

All alumni are urged to contact the new secretary-treasurer so as to bring addresses up to date and to receive the school paper which will have a special alumni column of news.

Redmond Pathfinders assist Dorcas-Welfare workers by collecting food and clothing. Last year, according to Club Leader Deral Neil, Pathfinders collected 316 cans of food, 14 pieces of clothing, and $615 for Welfare usage. Your Pathfinders, too, are engaged in missionary activity. Encourage them!

PUA Spring Festival

Associated Students at Portland Union Academy are sponsoring this year's Spring Fun and Food Festival on Sunday, April 20.

All who wish to display hobbies or advertise their business are invited to receive space in exchange for a $10 tax-deductible donation to the project, improvement of sports and physical education facilities. Plenty of 10 x 10-foot spaces are still available in classrooms. If you desire hallway space, your display should not exceed six feet in depth.

For more information, inquire of Mr. Jim Duke, ASB Sponsor; Portland Union Academy, 1500 SE 96th Avenue, Portland 97215.

◆ Mrs. Zelda Mooney's fourth-graders at Rogue River Junior Academy earned money for a 20-volume set of Young People's Science Encyclopedia. Extra earnings were added to the Faith for Today offering.

◆ Mrs. Vera Olmsted's grades 3-5 enthusiastically entered the telecast project, even donating usual Valentine money. Result? $46 from their room.

◆ Fifth and sixth graders in Mr. Nels Nelson's room in Grants Pass are inserting a little bird watching into regular lesson study. Mr. Nelson obtained reject cedar boards from a local arrow-making factory and prepared kits for birdhouse making to be used in Friday's arts and crafts hour. Twenty new feeders now provide a meeting place for many varieties of feathered friends.

◆ Tualatin Valley Junior Academy has just purchased a new listening center with six sets of headphones. A pilot program in math for grades 7 and 8 is being designed by Teacher Ron Rehling. This will facilitate the simultaneous teaching of two levels of the same class. TVJA hopes that the new program will give the teacher more time to give remedial help where needed.

◆ Third graders and Mrs. LaVersa Dettwiler at TVJA have added exercises and experiments from the new AAAS science program.

◆ Mrs. Leona Maker of Amity is completing the year at the Newport school, a vacancy created by the fatal accident of Mr. Ellis Barclay.

◆ Conference elementary students contributed $1,785.38 to the Faith for Today Valentine offering.

United Evangelism Thrust

Baptismal Report

March 29 was Baptism Day in the Washington Conference! We have been able to obtain only a partial report of the number baptized, but even this partial report is thrilling. Approximately 86 precious souls were baptized the last two Sabbaths of March. I am confident the number will pass to well over 100 by the time all reports are in.

What thrilling stories are represented in each one baptized. There are those who gained the victory over tobacco or some other enslaving habit; those who struggled with and won over jewelry; there are the dear ones who drifted away from the church and have now been reclaimed. Those baptized come from all walks of life. Rejoice with us in the saving truth of God's Word.

The United Evangelism Thrust is only beginning. Many more thrilling experiences are just ahead of us. Let us remember that "if Christians were to act in concert, moving forward as one, under the direction of one power, for the accomplishment of one purpose, they would move the world."—9T 221.

A more complete report of the March thrust will appear later.

Winlock Evangelistic Series

Saturday night, April 19, is the opening night of the "It Is Written" Crusade in the Winlock Seventh-day Adventist church. Those who attend will have the privilege of traveling with us via color slides to such enchanting and interesting countries as India, Ceylon, Burma—and Russia. The children under twelve will participate in the thrilling activities of the booster club. The informal Bible study and short sermon provide variety and hold the interest throughout the meeting.

But what we need most of all is NAMES - NAMES - NAMES of relatives, former Adventists, or interested ones in the Winlock-Chehalis area of Washington. Please send them to Pastor W. R. Archbold, 1625 Evergreen Drive, Chehalis, Washington 98532 right away. Then pray for God's Spirit to use us as we present His message of salvation.

Andreasen Books Reprinted

Our people will be interested to know that several of Elder M. L. Andreasen's books are being reprinted in a soft cover and one is already available to the field. We have our first stock of The Sanctuary Service and it may be obtained from the Bible House for $2.25, plus 30 cents for postage and tax. Other titles to arrive by camp meeting time are The Sabbath, A Faith To Live By, and The Faith of Jesus.

Over the years our people have learned to appreciate the work and writing of this Bible scholar and teacher. His messages and presentations will be greatly appreciated by every reader.

Fine Arts at Auburn Academy

There are regular reports concerning the attainments of the choral and instrumental areas on the Auburn Academy campus, but it will be of special interest to learn that increased participation is developing rapidly in the self-expressed areas of crafts, painting, and sketching.

Winnie Smith and one of her students view a sampling of the types of art activities sponsored through this essential area of the fine arts. Kathy

The students have been responsible for the variety of art forms displayed. These are on display in the administration building showcase area.

Plans for the school term of 1969-70 include an expanded offering of oils, sketching, and advanced ceramics.

Auburn Academy Music

The Auburn Academy Wind Ensemble and Sylvan Chorus will present two programs in Seattle Sabbath afternoon and evening, April 19. The afternoon program will be in the Greenlake SDA church at 4 o'clock. The evening program will be a secular concert in the Seattle Junior Academy gymnasium beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Important Function of Guidance

There is an increasing awareness of the need of good counsel from trained school counselors at all levels of education. Auburn Academy has obtained the services of a specialist in the area of guidance through the employment of Forris Chaney who will have the role of director of guidance services for the school year 1969-70.

Mr. Chaney is a graduate of Walla Walla College with an M.A. degree and emphasis in counseling. He is currently completing his requirements for the State of Washington credential entitled "School Psychologist," a specialist's rating which requires one year of additional graduate training beyond the master's degree.

His experience includes classroom teaching at several levels and he is presently the guidance director in the Clover Park system of schools.

The Chaney's have two children: Linda, a freshman at Walla Walla College, and Jim, who is in the seventh grade. Mrs. Marlene Chaney, the wife of Forris, has also prepared herself for the growing field of guidance services and holds a position of counselor in the Clover Park Schools.

Auburn Academy welcomes this fine family to its staff for the coming year. It is evident from Mr. Chaney's preliminary planning that the availability of guidance services will be greatly increased in the coming months, for while it is true that each teacher, all administrative personnel—especially the deans and the Bible teacher—do much in personal counseling, there is need for a coordination of efforts in record keeping, in special testing, and advisement in such important additional aspects as vocational-occupational and pre-college planning.

Auburn Academy shares a mutual respect with its constituent members for persons such as the Chaney's who

They said it couldn't be done, but somebody else did it! Because of an acute housing shortage on the Milo Academy campus, Principal and Mrs. Mart Mooers decided to make a home available by purchasing a mobile unit. After selection was made, setup became a problem when the dealer refused to try delivery after measuring the bridge width. (Left) However, they did deliver the mobile home outside the bridge. Obviously, the principal's place is on campus so Mr. Wilbur Mauk, Milo's machine shop supervisor, and his crew tackled the task. (Right) Three hours later the home was across the span, having made the trip with minor scratches despite only an inch to spare on each side!

Alumni Association, will deliver the Sabbath morning sermon, April 19. Elder Cornforth is the lay activities director for the Upper Columbia Conference, and was formerly the dean of men at GSA.

Activities for the weekend include the vesper program at 7:45 Friday, Sabbath school, 9:15 a.m., church service, 11 a.m.; "Into the Furrow of the World's Need," a mission-emphasis program at 3:30 p.m.; and "Echoes of the Past," a variety talent program, at 8:30 p.m. All programs will feature GSA alumni, former students, and former faculty members.

The Sabbath afternoon program will be of particular interest to friends and relatives of GSA alumni now serving in the mission field. Color slides accompanied by taped narration have been prepared by many GSA alumni especially for the program.

Among alumni missionaries who will be featured are Jack Thompson, Benghazi, Libya; Gene Johnson, Beirut; Mrs. Myrna Shultz Long, Gitwe Seminary, Rwanda, Africa; Mrs. Lois Fouts, Singapore; Elder and Mrs. C. G. Oliver, Bandung, Indonesia; Miss Lois Wilson, Bandung, Indonesia; Mrs. Vonnie Becker, Carombat, Venezuela; Mrs. M. K. Butler, Chiapas, Mexico; and Mrs. Evelyn Boepple Kuhn, Wollega, Ethiopia.

The Saturday night program will feature musical numbers by alumni, including numbers by the Alumni Band and the Alumni Glee Club, and a Roll Call of the Classes conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Munsey. A $100 scholarship will be presented by the alumni to an outstanding GSA student. Emceeding the program will be Mrs. Nelma Drake of Twin Falls. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12.

At a business meeting of the association following the Saturday night program, members will elect a vice-president and an assistant secretary-treasurer for the coming year, and take care of other association business.

Kent Johnson, Class of '51, will turn his office of president over to Lyle Albrecht, Class of '60, vice-president this year; and Joyce Griffith, Class of '59, will turn her office of secretary-treasurer over to Mrs. Beverly Sponsor Rue, Class of '51, assistant secretary this year.

A brief newsletter giving details of the weekend schedule and news from several alumni has been mailed. Extra copies of this newsletter, as well as the 8-page newsletter sent a few weeks ago and the November 26 newsletter will be available Homecoming Weekend.

The GSA alumni association has yearly dues of $2 payable at Homecoming. Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 18.

Pocatello Hosts College Messengers

Sabbath, March 22, was a high day for the Pocatello church. Dean M. E. Loewen and the Walla Walla College Messengers conducted the worship and Missionary Volunteer services. The Messengers presented a special MV program of readings as well as musical numbers consisting of solos, vocal and trumpet, and quartet numbers. The feeling of the congregation was expressed by the sentiment of the closing number, "Oh, for a thousand tongues to sing my great Redeemer's praise."

GSA Homecoming

Gem State Academy is planning on another great Alumni Homecoming weekend, April 18 and 19.

This year alumni from all over the United States will converge on campus to renew old acquaintances, make new friends, and share the inspiration of a united people moving forward to finish the work.

Homecoming weekend at the academy is traditionally one of the best-attended occasions of the entire school year, with more than 1,000 alumni, family, and friends joining the students and faculty for the activities of the weekend.

Highlights of the 1969 program include two outstanding speakers.

Elder Wayne Hooper, Class of '38, will give the vesper devotional talk Friday. Elder Hooper, a member of the Voice of Prophecy team for twenty years, is now director of music programming for the VOP. For thirteen years he was a member of the King's Heralds male quartet.

Elder Leon Cornforth, Class of '45, a leader in the founding of the GSA

Obituaries

Calkins—Levi S. Calkins was born Aug. 31, 1879, and passed away Nov. 8, 1968, following an extended illness. He was a faithful member of the Forest Grove church, having accepted the message in the early 1930's through the influence of Elder H. M. S. Richards, Sr. Survivors are his wife, Sophia, of the home; one daughter; Mrs. Eva Steinhauer of San Diego, Calif.; two sons: Ben and Joe Calkins, both of San Diego, Calif.; one brother: Victor of Roseburg, Ore.; and numerous grandchildren. Brother Calkins was laid to rest at Fir Lawn near Hillsboro.

Rapp—Calla Rose Rapp was born in Sauk Center, Minn., Feb. 8, 1893, and died in Island Hospital, Anacortes, Wash., March 29, 1969. She was a member of the SDA church in Bremerton, Wash. Among those who survive are a son, Leslie E. Rapp of Bremerton; four daughters: Mrs. Rosemary Stepper and Mrs. Frances Bejeault, both of Bremerton, Mrs. Melva Hetherington of Oak Harbor, and Mrs. Betty Jean Batchelor of Houston, Texas; two sisters, 16 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

McLean—William J. McLean was born in Minnesota, Feb. 9, 1885, and passed to his rest at Gresham, Ore., Jan. 15, 1969. He was a member of the Stone Tower church. Survivors include: his wife, Hannah M.; a son, Albert H. McLean; two daughters: Mrs. Florence McKenzie and Mrs. Mabel Locke; six grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; three brothers: Adie, Allen, and Robert McLean; and a sister, Mrs. Florence Davey.

Bradley—Harry Willis Bradley of Oregon City, Ore., was born in Haverhill, Mass., Nov. 6, 1892, and passed away in Portland, Ore., Jan. 8, 1968. He was united in marriage to Sarah Houghton in 1911 at Methuen, Mass. They joined the Seventh-day Adventist church in 1916. Mr. Bradley was a member of Stone Tower church, serving as a deacon for many years. Survivors include his wife, Sarah Bradley; two children: Miriam Flora Merrill and Kenneth W. Bradley; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Miller—Lulu Hill Miller was born July 25, 1876, at Grenola, Kans., and went to her rest March 31, 1969, in Milton-Freewater, Ore. On Aug. 11, 1896, she was married to George W. Miller who predeceased her five years ago. Mrs. Miller was graduated from the Biblical Course of Walla Walla College in 1897, and was graduated from the college in music and nursing in 1900. She was a member of the WWC faculty from 1924 until 1952, during which time she taught Physical Education and Art. Among those who survive are her daughter, Gerita Hanna; a sister, Mrs. Emma Nichols of Walla Walla; and a number of grandchildren.

Mullen—Bertha May Mullen died March 12, 1969, at her home near St. Ignatius, Mont. She was a faithful member of the Ronan SDA church. Born Feb. 29, 1884, at West Cairo, Ohio, she lived in Montana most of her life, and taught school at Ryegate and Missoula. Survivors include three daughters: Mrs. Chester (Gertrude) Hilton of St. Ignatius, Mrs. Ralph (Bertha) Coverdell of Polson, and Mrs. Bill (Charleen) Sipher of Stevensville; one son, Theodore of Charleston, W. won't orbit the moon

NASA

But it goes into homes in most parts of the world with great ease!

The noble astronauts who gallantly read a portion of Holy Scriptures while they circled the moon deserve commendation. However, theirs was only a one-time exposure.

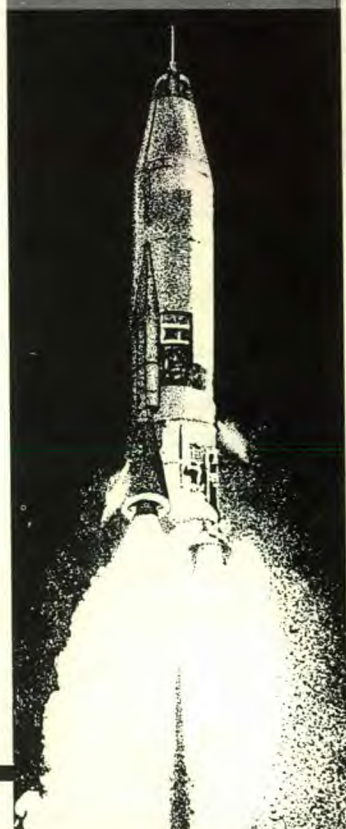

Once every month SIGNS Ministry carries with it a train of blessings: messages of peace, hope, faith, and courage. Readers of SIGNS OF THE TIMES are encouraged to search the Holy Scriptures and learn God's will for their lives.

Perhaps SIGNS won't go into moon orbit—but, you can put a friend into the orbit of God's special love when you send him SIGNS OF THE TIMES. With the renewed interest in reading the Bible, now is the time to send SIGNS. Each SIGNS contains a Bible study, Bible Quiz, and an invitation to enroll in the Bible course; it answers questions on Bible topics and presents an array of Bible truths and appeals for accepting Christ.

Are your relatives receiving SIGNS? Others who may be within your sphere of influence include ministers, former members, Gift Bible enrollees, and city, state, and Federal officials.

Walla Walla College

Distinguished Teacher Award

For the second consecutive year a teacher in the biology department has been selected for the Distinguished Teacher Award at Walla Walla College.

Dr. Donald F. Blake, associate professor of biology and on the faculty since 1962, was selected after balloting by junior and senior classes and by the Faculty Senate, President Robert L. Reynolds announced this week.

A graduate of Oakwood College, the Distinguished Teacher Award nominee holds both B.S. and M.S. degrees from Michigan State University and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Rhode Island where he was a teaching assistant.

Last year on a post-doctoral research leave at the University of Ohio, Dr. Blake did highly specialized research in acarology. He has delivered papers at professional conventions including a recent one at the annual meeting of the Entomological Society of America in Dallas, Texas.

According to Dr. Donald Rigby, last year's Distinguished Teacher Award recipient and chairman of the department of biology, Dr. Blake is qualified to teach successfully not only in one but in several areas of biology. In 1968-69 he is teaching Anatomy and Physiology, Philosophy of Science, Genetics, Herpetology, and Ornithology.

In class or out, and especially on field trips, Dr. Blake's enthusiasm for the subject is infectious. Students eagerly look forward to the ornithology class trip to the Malheur Bird Refuge each spring quarter, for instance.

A teacher may be brilliant, entertaining, scholarly, exacting, even dedicated, but to be truly successful he must "turn students on," says Dr. H. L. Rasmussen, academic dean. Dr. Blake qualifies. He is extremely perceptive, sensitive to the students' needs and problems. He teaches biology, true. But more importantly he teaches people, giving hours in counseling and guidance.

He knows just how far to needle student or colleague and can quickly diagnose a problem or mellow a tense situation with his quick humor.

Dr. Blake likes to be thoroughly involved in teaching and in helping with scholarship, personal and spiritual problems of individual students or groups on the WWC campus. People are his hobby.

Hour of Charm

Aleph Gimel Ain's Hour of Charm Saturday evening, April 26, at 8 o'clock in Columbia Auditorium will this year feature a two-act play, "I Remember Mama."

The play tells the story of a mother's efforts to provide security for her family. The incidental predicaments arising lead to a humorous and heart-warming climax. Based on the book, "Mama's Bank Account," the play adapted by John Van Druten calls for a cast of 22 members.

The production will be directed by Judi Lawson, senior speech major, with Mrs. Donald Rigby, assistant professor of speech, assisting.

A second feature of the weekend is the Mother-Daughter Brunch scheduled for 8:30 Sunday morning in Kellogg Hall. Coordinated by Karen Gronemyer, AGA cultural vice-president, the brunch will feature a show of spring fashions for mothers and daughters with narration by Andrea Pfeiffer.

Hour of Charm coordinator is Alexa Kiilehua, AGA social vice-president, with Nancy Bronsert, AGA president, as chairman.

Other officers and their duties are: Jeanne Beck, chorister, in charge of ushers; Sherrilyn Ferrera, pianist, and Sheryl Null, parliamentarian, decor; Barbara Dixon, treasurer, ticket sales; Joyce Kronholm, secretary, publicity.

Laundry Upholds Threefold Aim in Service

College Laundry and Dry Cleaners believe in the practical working of the threefold standard as set forth on the great seal of Walla Walla College.

The spiritual emphasis is evident in group worship each morning, in spiritual counseling and an attempt to uphold Christian standards.

To aid in the mental advancement of the workers, the College Laundry and Dry Cleaners provide means for students, husbands and wives of students, and parents to pay school expenses, but also teach many how to apply their education to practical problems.

To give the problem perfect balance, physical labor not only develops important manual skills but offers a welcome change from the intense mental concentration inherent to modern college life.

To illustrate—one nursing student worked in the laundry during spring quarter while waiting for graduation. Her comment was, "I wish I had known about this while taking my nursing course. I concentrated so thoroughly on one line in study and work that I almost gave it all up. This work would have provided the necessary balance and made my college days much more pleasant and rewarding."

While carrying out the principles of Christian education, the Laundry turns out approximately 20 tons of finished work per week, a large part of which is the 20.5 to 21.5 miles of sheets run through the flatwork ironer. Of course there is also a never-ending stream of patient gowns, bath towels, thermal blankets, shirts and many other items.

During the fiscal year 1967-68 the laundry workers earned $157,928, and the first eight months of the present fiscal year shows a payroll increase of $22,053.49 over the corresponding period a year ago.

Many students not only work during the school year but by working during the summer months make a college education possible and lighten their financial load for the coming year.

The management and workers extend a vote of appreciation to the Walla Walla College Board and the College administration for their support and guidance which enables the College Laundry and Dry Cleaners to fill the place in the school program and community that they do today.
