ABOUT THE COVER

The Saigon Adventist Hospital, shown on this issue's cover, is located on one of the busiest street corners in the entire Republic of South Vietnam. Military vehicles combined with civilian autos, bicycles, motorcycles, and pedicabs add to the sound of helicopters whirling overhead and mortars blasting off in the background. The medical director of the hospital is a North Pacific Union man, Dr. Jess Holm, who visited camp meetings in this area this past summer. The 13th Sabbath offering of Sabbath, September 27, will help provide Dr. Holm with funds for a new hospital building in another section of the city. The photo was taken by Robert Sheldon, manager of the Thailand Publishing House.

World Leaders Address Youth In Zurich

"Heaven help us stand for something lest we fall for everything," Robert H. Pierson urged in the Hallenstadion at the final day of the first World Youth Congress of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

President of the church's two million adherents around the world, Elder Pierson noted, "Man's basic problem is estrangement from God.

"This is a day that requires great courage for Adventist youth," he continued. "A day when youth are tempted to acts of impetuosity. 'Everyone is doing it.' Dare to be youth of courage and character."

Referring to one problem area of today's young people, the church leader said, "Love-ins are not something new—such immorality is not a phenomenon of the 1960's. Moses had a love-in on his hands when he came down from Sinai with the tablets of stone. Immorality with abandon was prevalent there.

"Youth of character," he pointed out, "need to get busy and meet needs of the world. God has work for you to do in these great metropolitan areas—feed the hungry, clothe the naked, help the poor, comfort the sorrowing, teach the illiterate, lift up the down-trodden.

"Youth with others in mind, devoted to serving mankind, and making the world a better place in which to live do not have time for restlessness and rebellion," he observed. He apologized for the lack of adult example, the seeming rot in the establishment.

On the other hand, noting the sense of urgency which youth feel, he remarked, "You are the Now Generation. You are insistent. You are impatient. You scorn procrastination and delay. You want things done now. So does God.

"You must leave Zurich irrevocably committed to Christ and His way for the rest of your life." Elder Pierson challenged.

FAR EAST CALLS FOR MAJOR PROJECTS IN OVERFLOW OFFERING

PAUL H. ELDRIDGE, President
Far Eastern Division

The Far Eastern Division will benefit from the 13th Sabbath Overflow Offering on Sabbath, September 27, to be taken in all Seventh-day Adventist churches around the world.

The challenge of a land gripped in the horrors of war, the lure of exotic islands, and the demand for more national workers with graduate degrees to keep pace with rising standards of newly developed countries are all factors in the choice of projects which the Far Eastern Division will use for the third quarter Overflow Offering of the Sabbath School.

The Far Eastern Division is especially anxious about this offering for each of the three projects is born of an urgent need.

The most urgent need among the 21 hospitals of the Far Eastern Division is in Saigon, Vietnam, a city in the middle of a prolonged war. We have maintained medical work in this nation for a number of years. However, it has centered in a small building on a busy street intersection where massive traffic jams provide exactly the opposite atmosphere our hospitals need.

Despite these problems it has done an outstanding job to take care of the civilian population of Saigon. Many war victims come in almost daily.

It is planned that a new hospital will be constructed on a very fine piece of land not too far from the present site. Already a nursing school and dormitory are located there as well as a school and homes for overseas workers. The hospital is always overcrowded and it is imperative that additional facilities be provided to take care of the expanding medical needs of this war-torn country.

The second project is a training school in the islands of Palau. Jungle-covered spots of land set in sparkling tropical waters within the framework of a surrounding coral reef, these islands are without exaggeration among the world's most beautiful scenic areas.

A school is currently being conducted on the island of Koror to train future workers for Micronesia, as this area is called. The need is urgent for a school building. Some time ago a freak typhoon completely demolished the school's main building. However, much more is necessary than merely replacing this building. A large piece of land has been secured and the plan is to build an entirely new school plant which will prepare workers for the entire Trust Territories of the West Pacific.

The third and last project for this quarter in the Far East is also urgent—a graduate school for national workers.

MEDICAL MISSIONARY IN VIETNAM

'TET' OFFENSIVE EMPHASIZES MEDICAL NEEDS IN WAR-TORN SOUTH VIETNAM

JESS HOLM, M.D.

Medical Director, Saigon Adventist Hospital

The medical needs of Saigon, South Vietnam were forcefully and tragically emphasized during the now-famous "Tet" Offensive. It was 1:30 in the morning when the first Claymore mine exploded just two blocks from our compound, taking the lives of 19 military police.

Within an hour we began five hectic days of concentrated attention to the wounded. Our inadequate facilities were glaringly evident.

Since we were closely surrounded by areas of fighting, pitiful remnants of families made their way to our busy corner, seeking not only treatment but a refuge as well. During the offensive, Saigon alone had more than 200,000 refugees.

Even though a European influence has been in Vietnam for nearly 100 years, I was not personally prepared for the shock of extremely low health standards and superstition complicated by the pressure of war for many years.

Acupuncture, blood-letting, spot burns, dermal scrapings, and assorted remedies and uncontrolled medicinals are common for both adults and children. In this atmosphere Adventists started medical work in 1955 with seeds of local opposition, but it remains as a candle in this gross darkness.

At first a clinic was conducted in a house. When the house was finally purchased, the small group of medical

This is the most challenging project an overseas division has ever undertaken, a college of advanced studies to provide graduate training.

Work has already begun on the school and a careful development program has been outlined which will make this college a reality. The plan is for this school to be located in the Philippines where nearly one-half of the members of the Division are located. We already have Philippine Union College located in Manila, the Republic's largest city, with a very large enrollment. A portion of the Thirteenth Sabbath Offering has been designated for the construction of an administration building.

workers converted it into a small hospital.

The medical program grew and expanded. Vietnamese were trained to take major responsibilities in the hospital program. The war brought new complications.

Even today—day and night—mortars fall with fearful regularity, both inside and outside the city. Victims of the war come to the hospital every day. The hallways are always crowded with cots because we never have room to accommodate all of the patients.

Early every morning the small clinic waiting room is jammed with people. Our patients present a real challenge with gross evidences of war, epidemics, disease, and fear. We select patients carefully for admission to our too-small hospital with a pleading from many more for admission. We refuse more than we are able to admit.

The needs are great and the only thing that will solve the problem is a new hospital building. Our out-patient department needs expansion. Our School of Practical Nursing needs more hospital beds for training purposes. Every department is crowded.

The eyes of the world are on Saigon, South Vietnam. The Seventh-day Adventist Church must improve its entering wedge in this war-torn land. Remember Vietnam when you are ready to present a gift for the 13th Sabbath Overflow Offering on Sabbath, September 27, 1969!

Mission Spotlight on Vietnam

1. CLINIC. Early every morning, except Sabbaths, the lobby of the clinic at the Saigon Adventist Hospital is crowded with people. The 13th Sabbath Overflow Offering on September 27 will help provide for a new clinic for the hospital.

2. OVERCROWDED. The facilities are limited and the needs are great, so the hallways are always crowded with cots at Saigon's Adventist Hospital in Vietnam. The 13th Sabbath Overflow Offering will provide funds for a new hospital building which will alleviate this overcrowded situation.

3. GIFT. The Saigon Adventist Hospital has provided immunization for many orphanages in the area. A representative of the government's Ministry of Health was on hand as Dr. Jess Holm, center, medical director of the Saigon Adventist Hospital, made a presentation to the director of a Catholic orphanage in Saigon.

4. BURNS. This lady was burned over most of the upper part of her body and then brought to the Saigon Adventist Hospital for treatment.

5. EVANGELISM. Despite the war in South Vietnam, public evangelism continues by pastors and laymen alike. With Pastor R. H. Pierson, General Conference president, watching, this young man was baptized by a Vietnamese pastor in the courtyard of a Vietnamese political prison.

6. OUCH! Dr. Jess Holm attempts to straighten out the legs of a man who has not walked in many months. The pain is great and his cries are heard throughout the hospital floor. It is barely heard above the din of traffic just outside the windows of the small hospital.

DIAGNOSIS. Because of the crowds in the clinic hallways at the Saigon Adventist Hospital, Dr. Jess Holm, medical director, has to crowd as many as four to five patients into his tiny office.

SAD. Dr. Jess Holm talks with two of his young patients, both of whom are orphans. Thousands of Vietnamese youngsters have been made orphans because of the war. Funds from the 13th Sabbath Overflow Offering on September 27 will help provide medical facilities for war victims. Forty percent of the people of Vietnam are below 14 years of age.

It Happened In Takoma Park . . .

What?—"Testimony Countdown." A special mass class of Washington, D. C., Adventists studying the nine volumes of the Testimonies for the Church.

When?—January 8 to March 12 in the Takoma Park church every Wednesday night.

Who presented the program?—The Ellen G. White Estate staff.

How keen was the interest?—The Takoma Park church was crowded to capacity every night with more than 1,500 people in attendance.

What was it really all about?—The Testimonies were studied in their historical setting. Attempts were made to show that predictions made by Ellen White were being fulfilled in events of our time. The impression was left that the Testimonies are very much up to date.

What was the program like?—Various counsels were studied in depth, background stories of counsels given and responses to them were shared, questions were answered, and class members shared publicly their personal discoveries in the volume of the week.

What has followed?—Hundreds have begun reading the Spirit of Prophecy counsel with new enthusiasm, and a spirit of revival has been started that we pray will help to prepare us to meet our Lord very soon.

Ask your pastor about "Testimony Countdown" for your church. Supplies are available now.

'Invisible Escort'— New Destiny Paperback

Invisible Escort is a slice of mission life amid the World War II invasion of China and the subsequent Communist takeover. Add to this floods, bandits and dizzying mountain trails.

Authored by Rose Christensen and published by Pacific Press, Invisible Escort offers readers a gripping account of day-by-day deliverance.

Imagine yourself in a sampan-jammed river with the drone of approaching bombers. Scattered somewhere in the refuge flotilla are the boats carrying your students. How can your accordion reunite the group?

Or, just as you step to the pulpit of a roofless bombed-out building to begin your evangelistic sermon, the air-raid alarm howls and the crowd scatters like frightened chickens.

Remembering that 1,000 bandits armed with machine guns block the main trail to Mokiang, climb aboard a mule and join the caravan hauling your belongings to China's mountainous interior.

When fifty Communist soldiers build a bonfire in the church downstairs, whirling smoke into your apartment, could you choke down panic and find opportunity for service?

Read Invisible Escort, a new Destiny paperback. Only $1.65 at your Book and Bible House.

ZURICH REPORT

Neal C. Wilson, youthful president of the North American Division, at the closing meeting, called for these young prospective leaders to dedicate themselves to full-time Christian living and service, saying, "Personal relationship with Jesus Christ is the first necessity for anyone seeking to help the world himself.

"A sick person cannot help others to get well. No one can work on a man-to-man basis until he has experienced the same relationship with the Saviour.

"The gospel commission given by Jesus had nothing in it about caste, race, country, or ethnic background," Elder Wilson asserted. "When the Saviour told His followers to go into all the world, He gave them faith that could be adapted to all people, all nations, all classes of men."

"Music of Spheres" featured musicians from many of the 200 countries where Seventh-day Adventists are active in medical and educational work.

Tomorrow the 12,054 delegates and another 8,000 of their friends will make their ways homeward to Singapore, Sarawak, Kenya, Canada, Germany, Guam, Peru, the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand, Tanzania, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Idaho, Iceland, Angola, Alaska, Australia, and Oregon.

Zurich—in the country of the first European Seventh-day Adventist in 1874—has provided a quiet setting for the Adventist young to contemplate needs for service in their own parts of the world.

Walla Walla College

Women Residence Halls

All of the Walla Walla College deans of women are looking forward to the arrival of residence hall women and have plans to make them feel at home, says Miss Betty Downs, assistant dean of women.

The first week in August is an important deadline for incoming freshmen who reserved rooms or listed room preferences on College Day in April. Room deposits of $50 must be paid this same week to hold rooms. Room deposits are not refundable after the first week in August.

It is planned to have all incoming freshman women in Conard Hall. There they can become acquainted with WWC more quickly than if they were residing in campus annexes.

Even though plans call for three freshman women in a dormitory room, at least during the fall quarter, freshman women can look forward to a rewarding first college year. All freshman rooms in the new wing of Conard Hall are being painted off-white and furnished with beige drapes, according to Miss Downs.

All dormitory and annex rooms will be ready for occupancy by September 21. College women who will be residing in any of these residence home facilities are requested NOT to arrive before September 21 without approval of Miss Downs, who is in charge of housing. Approval is contingent upon a campus work appointment.

Specific room assignments will be sent out by the deans of women during August.

Deans of women with whom new students will be getting acquainted are Mrs. Gideon Hagstotz, dean; Miss Judy Toop, associate dean; Miss Downs and Mrs. Scott Duncan, assistant deans. Mrs. Duncan will be in charge of the annexes.

Sittner Hall Prepares For Coming School Year

Completion of the carpeting on all four floors of Sittner Hall heads the list of improvements that will be noticed by the men returning this fall.

Betty Downs

Gerald Winslow, assistant dean of men.

This project was made possible by contributions totalling over $7,300 made by the men of Sittner last school year, and by an equal amount contributed by the College and the North Pacific Union Conference. The project started two years ago with the carpeting of second floor and was completed in June.

Living in Sittner should also be enhanced by the addition of $3,200 worth of new furniture. The new furnishings will be used in the rooms where the need for replacement has been the greatest. Orders already placed include new bunkbeds, desks, chests of drawers, bookcases, and chairs.

In addition to the purchase of new equipment, repair and restoration are also being done in the dorm during the summer. More than one-third of the dorm has been painted, and one hundred box springs and mattresses are being entirely rejuvenated. Plans also call for the completion of minor repairs and the cleaning of all rooms before school begins.

A number of rooms are still available for reservation. Those planning to live in Sittner Hall for the first time this coming school year should write to the dean of men and enclose the $50 room deposit. Room deposits should be sent by the first week of August and are not refundable on cancellations made after September first.

The deans are planning for continued improvements in the men's residence hall and the prospects for an enjoyable school year are excellent.

Racial Minority Scholarships

A scholarship (or perhaps two) for members of racial minorities is being offered by the WWC chapter of the Association of Adventist Forums, according to Professor Glenn Spring, Forum scholarship chairman.

Purposes of the scholarship are to encourage members of racial minorities in the North Pacific Union Conference to attend WWC, as well as to give financial assistance.

To qualify, applicants should be accepted at WWC for the coming year and should apply to Richard Beck, student finance director.

"We would like to offer two scholarships," says Professor Spring, "but as yet we are not financially able to do so." Professor Spring suggests that there may be many readers of the GLENER who wish to contribute to such a fund. They should send checks and/or write to Richard Beck, student finance director.

John McGhee

Is Recipient of Scholarship

John McGhee, spring honor graduate of Auburn Academy, was selected to receive a four-year, renewable scholarship given by the Washington Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc. for college attendance.

The youth has been accepted at Walla Walla College where he plans to major in theology. He also plans to complete the premedical requirements.

The scholarship provides $175 per year, or a $700 total for four-year attendance at a college or university in Washington. The recipient must be a graduate of a secondary school in Washington.

One of 39 scholarships given for 1969-70 by the Congress of Parents and Teachers, it is a part of a new program of financial aid to help students through college known as Washington Congress Financial Grant for Education. The program broadens the scope of former pre-teaching education scholarships to include any career choice.

Scholarships and Grants

The Walla Walla College Loans and Grants Committee has so far allocated a total of $111,695 to make it possible for every Adventist Christian youth in the Pacific Northwest who qualifies and applies to attend WWC.

Believing that a Christian college is the best place for youth of the Pacific Northwest, the WWC board in an unprecedented action last February set aside $50,000 for scholarship grants on a one-year trial basis. From this fund the committee had awarded a total of $9,290 as of July 25, according to Mr.

Richard Beck, student finance director. The committee is continuing to process scholarship applications and as rapidly as possible will inform applicants concerning their requests.

Recipients of the North Pacific Union Conference scholarships from Oregon are: Wiona Bender, Veneta; Carol Boyce, Salem; Daniel Clendenon, Aloha; Sheryl Logue, Bonanza; David Sturgess, Salem; Max Mays, Milo; Kathleen Golden, Salem; Stewart Nussbaum, Lake Creek.

Others are Orval Harden, Eagle, Idaho; Linda Greenwalt and Mary Ward, Billings, Montana.

From Washington are Pamela Kilgore, Dennis Schafer, Joan Iblings, College Place; Pamela White, Auburn; Ernest Henry and Dorothy Haines, Puyallup; Michael Kelly, Sekiu, and Debbie Meacham, Seattle.

Other sources of scholarships and loans awarded are National Defense Loan, Educational Opportunity Grant, Nursing Loan and Nursing Grant.

Report Encouraging Experience

"Let those who gain such an experience in working for the Lord write an account of it for our papers, that others may be encouraged. Let the canvasser tell of the joy and blessing he has received in his ministry as an evangelist. These reports should find a place in our papers, for they are far-reaching in their influence. They will be as sweet fragrance in the church, a savor of life unto life. Thus it is seen that God works with those who cooperate with Him."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 336.

Experiences

Surprises! Yes, the Lord always has surprises for His literature evangelists, it seems to us. An elderly woman in her 80's requested information concerning the Bible Reading volume. As soon as we entered her home she said, "I'm so glad they sent you." She told us that four years ago we had visited with her to show the Bible Story volumes. At that time she was going to undergo eye surgery, but enjoyed the free literature we left with her as well as The Signs of the Times and she enrolled in the Bible Course. We had talked to her about Seventh-day Adventists. After we had left her apartment, she remembered that her grandfather had joined the Adventist church. She had reared her family in the Catholic faith but now she had joined the Adventist church in May. At church she had tried to reach us but it seems we had left the building before she could. She is thrilled with what she has learned and wants her children and grandchildren to learn what she has learned.

When we were in this home the other day, the man said he was reading his Bible regularly but found no church that follows the Bible. He inquired as to what church we attended. When we told him, he was surprised for he said he had never heard of it. As we explained our major tenets of faith, he kept saying, "Why, that is what I believe." He, too, is coming to church now. He is a great reader, and we arranged for plenty of good reading material for him.

Have You
Heard

Have you actually heard that the Conference has so much money that "the brethren" really are not interested in your small estate which you have thought of placing in trust with the Conference? Well, let us answer the first part of the question, as to how much the Conference has, in this way: The needs of God's work continually increase and, up to the present time, there has been no surplus of funds after meeting these needs.

Now, let us get to the question as to whether your small estate is needed, or welcomed, by the Conference. We feel that perhaps the best way to answer this question is to ask: Why is it that an individual places his property "on the altar" or in the hands of God's servants? We must understand that "all our blessings come from His bountiful hand. In turn He would have men and women show their gratitude by returning Him a portion . . ."—5T., p. 150.

Let us also remember, "The Lord does not need our offerings. We cannot enrich Him by our gifts. Says the psalmist: 'All things come of Thee, and of Thine own have we given Thee.' Yet God permits us to show our appreciation of His mercies by self-sacrificing efforts to extend the same to others. This is the only way in which it is possible for us to manifest our gratitude and love to God. He has provided no other."—C. S., pp. 18, 19.

The matter of placing one's property in trust with God's ordained organization for the promulgation of the gospel is a deeply spiritual experience and should be considered very seriously by all who name the name of Christ. Your Conference Trust Department can assist you in the matter in which your gifts might be made.

Chewelah Nutrition Class

An interesting and successful nutrition class was recently conducted by Mrs. A. H. Warner and Mrs. Leo Beck in the Beck home at Valley, Washington. Favorite recipes were exchanged and many helpful ideas on healthful living were presented. Door prizes each evening of homemade bread and rolls helped to encourage good attendance, as well as the many new recipes prepared for sampling.

On the opening night Dr. Sossong presented many aspects of healthful living. An interesting feature of his talk was the dismantling of a plastic skull while he explained the different parts of the brain and their functions. Intemperate diet habits are detrimental to the proper functioning of the brain as well as other parts of the body.

The time and efforts of those presenting the nutrition class were much appreciated by all who were privileged to attend.

Baptism at Chewelah

June 21, Linda, Dianne and Timmy Taylor were baptized into the Chewelah Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder A. H. Warner. Their sweet Christian lives are a testimony to their dedication to the Lord as evidenced by their faithful study of the Bible and the Sabbath school lessons. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor who were baptized into our church about a year and a half ago, and who have just recently moved to Priest River, Idaho, where they will attend the Newport church. Our loss is their gain and we wish them God's blessing as they continue to witness for Christ in their new location.

Pastor Retires

Sunday, June 22, members of the Chewelah, Colville and Northport churches met for a farewell party and program to honor Elder and Mrs. A. H. Warner who have pastored these churches for the past five years, having moved to Colville in 1964.

The Warners have worked in the Washington, Idaho and Upper Columbia Conferences during their years of service to the denomination. They plan to move to Fairfield, Washington, where they are presently building a home.

A "This Is Your Life" program was presented. The story was written and bound in a leather cover. It included cards, letters, pictures and signatures of the guests present, and was presented to Elder and Mrs. Warner, along with a cash gift from the three churches to be used for patio furniture for their new home. Fourteen people from his former pastorate in Omak were present to share in extending appreciation and good wishes to the Warners. A reception followed the program.

Elder and Mrs. Warner have been great "Christian soldiers" and will be greatly missed, but there comes a time for a well-deserved rest and we wish them God's blessing as they move to their new home, where Elder Warner is planning to assist in Bible studies and cottage meetings in his "spare time."

We are looking forward to meeting our new pastor, Elder Ronald Kegley, and his family from the Lewiston-Clarkston area.

Philosdians and Single Adults

August 16—There will be a potluck for all single adults and their families at the Kiwanis Park in College Place. We have something planned for the afternoon. Plan to stay for sundown worship and an evening of entertainment. This is a get-acquainted potluck, so all single adults plan to attend.

Girls' Dean Arrives

Mrs. Alice Hoffman, Dean of Girls' at Gem State Academy, arrived on campus August 1 to take up her duties in the dormitory.

VBS in Payette

"When does your Bible School start?" asked little Miss Primary from next door.

"She wouldn't go to any of the others in town," her mother explained. "She wanted to wait for yours."

Miss Primary was among 71 youngsters (47 from non-SDA homes) who enrolled in the Payette Vacation Bible School which began June 23 under the enthusiastic and dedicated leadership of Mrs. Walter Spencer, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Joe Williams.

The program each day began with a devotional in the church auditorium where a large yellow felt backdrop showed an open Bible in the top left corner with Bible heroes in silhouette marching from its pages. On the lower right side was a large white felt picture of Jesus, the greatest Bible hero of all.

Elder J. D. Nichols, from the New Plymouth district, glowed with interest in his young audience and kept them enthralled as he lifted their thoughts to the love of God and the happiness to be found in obeying Him.

Class work with Mrs. Ron Trees in the kindergarten; Mrs. Raymond Gross in the primary, and Mrs. Lee Anderson in charge of the juniors provided daily

Meet Chris and Nancy

Chris Petrie

Nancy Gates

"I am canvassing because I felt such a burden for souls who were searching for the truth and needed someone to bring it to them," said Chris Petrie, a second-year student at Auburn Academy when asked why she was canvassing. Her father, Gene Petrie, is currently leading the Washington Conference in sales. She further commented: "Everything worked out so well—like getting my car, etc., that I just felt God wanted me to canvass this summer. I really enjoy canvassing. The devil has been trying his hardest to get the best of me, and sometimes he does, but I pray to Jesus to give me the strength to continue and have a successful summer through Him."

Chris' partner, Nancy Gates, is an enthusiastic young lady. Nancy said that Chris encouraged her to attend a colporteur class at Auburn Academy last spring and the seed was planted. Then, too, Nancy's family became Adventists through a colporteur contact in Idaho some years ago, so why not help others find Christ? Nancy says, "I think canvassing is great! I wouldn't trade my summer for anything."

Did You Lose Anything At Camp Meeting?

We now have in the Conference office a number of articles that were left at our camp meeting which terminated on July 5.

Among the many articles are Bibles, wallets, nylon jackets, umbrellas, sweaters, a practically new man's rubberized olive green rubber jacket and pants, books and even a baby stroller.

Contact the Lost and Found Department of the Washington Conference, P. O. Box 1585, Seattle, Washington 98103, if you feel that you may have left something on the camp ground.

After December 31, 1969, all unclaimed items will be disposed of.

Vancouver District Pastor Arrives

Assuming their pastoral duties in the Vancouver district on August 1 were Pastor and Mrs. L. J. Ehrhardt, coming to us from Tacoma, Washington, where they have served since 1962.

Pastor Ehrhardt received his training at Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska, and completed his work there in 1943. Following his work as an intern in Kansas, he was ordained into the ministry in 1946. Working as an evangelist and pastor for over nine years, he traveled in most of the state of Kansas, holding meetings in many of the major cities, including Topeka. He concluded his work in Kansas as pastor of the Kansas City, Kansas, church by conducting a tent meeting in the Shawnee Mission area of South Kansas City. At the present time we have a hospital, rest home, school, and new church building there.

Moving to Greeley, Colorado, where the Ehrhardts spent six and a half years, Pastor Ehrhardt helped build a new church and conducted a daily radio program during four of those years. During the next five years in Boulder, Colorado, he joined George Vandeman in a crusade in the Greater Denver area.

Pastor and Mrs. Ehrhardt have two daughters: Mrs. Ted Wick, wife of Pastor Wick, youth pastor of Pacific Union College; and Prudence, a student at Union College.

Mission Pageant

Always a missions-minded people, Seventh-day Adventists honored overseas workers from the ten world divisions of the church at the 91st annual camp meeting—39 years at Gladstone Park.

Twenty-one of the 1,069 languages and dialects in which the church is active were represented. Of the 192 nations of the world in which Seventh-day Adventists are located, this group worked in 57.

Several were second-generation missionaries, born while their own parents served in Adventist hospitals, schools, or churches around the globe. Many had actually established medical and educational centers at the outset of the church's work in a given field.

Dr. C. Delmar Johnson, medical director of Tokyo Sanitarium and Hospital, was one of the first Americans to pass Japanese boards to qualify for practice in Japan nine years ago. Both written and oral exams must be passed without assistance of an interpreter. Working with him is a Portland dentist who also passed the Japanese qualification tests. He is Dr. Doug Bixel. With Dr. Johnson was Dr. E. E. Getzlaff, retired in Salem, who began the hospital in 1928.

Also in the pageant was Lester Storz, Dallas pastor who was president of the Viet Nam Mission when he established Saigon Adventist Hospital. The hospital now gives nursing instruction to nationals.

Jerald Christensen, formerly of Gaston, and his family were in attendance during a short furlough from the Taiwan Mountain Mission which headquarters in Tainan. His wife saw for the first time a book she authored, just off the press, entitled Invisible Escort. It describes experiences from 30 years in working for the Chinese, including escape from the China mainland.

Pastor Harold Beavon of Pleasant Hill, who served in both India and Africa, built Anderson Memorial Church on the equator. Nurse Beverly Bunnell of Portland Adventist Hospital assisted in the establishment of Karachi Adventist Hospital, Pakistan. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Olivier, now also at P.A.H., built a leprosarium at Mwami, Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia.

Tribute was paid to four Oregon families serving at Benghazi, Libya, Hospital. They were represented by the furloughing Russell Nolins, formerly of Gaston. Recognition was also given to the Orley Fords, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Marvin Larson of Boring, 52 years in South and Central America; the Ernest Hansons of Salem, 41 years in Trans-Africa; the George Appels of Boring who served 30 years in China and the Middle East; and V. T. Armstrong, Gresham, 33 years in Japan and the Far East.

Special commendation was given Ron and Cheryl Schaffner of Coquille, under appointment to Rusangu Academy, Zambia, Africa. Son of Dr. and Mrs. Marlowe Schaffner, formerly of Cottage Grove, Ron spent 11 years in the Congo with his parents before returning home for his education. Though the family served in the Congo, Malawi (Nyasaland), and Rhodesia 16 years, Ron never visited the school where he will teach English. He holds a master's degree from Andrews University.

Cheryl is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Munroe of Coquille. Dr. Munroe is Coos County Health Officer.

Every world division was represented at Oregon's camp meeting. (1) Elder E. H. J. Steed and his son spent most of their years in Australasia. (2) The Harold Kurtzes served in Central Europe. (3) Far Eastern's was the largest delegation, headed by Beverly Paulson of Springfield; (4) Rose and Jerald Christensen were also featured 20 minutes on TV. (5) Inter-America's James Bechtel and his scarlet macaw fascinated the children. (6) The George Appels and Russell Nolins stood for Oregon's five families in Benghazi, and (7) Mrs. H. L. Rudy spoke for Northern Europe. (8) Among those who served in more than one division were the Harold Beavons of Pleasant Hill, though here they told of Southern Asia. (9) Though known mostly in Central America, the still-running Orley Fords told of South America. (10) Former President H. L. Rudy could speak for all Europe, but concentrated on the Southern Division. (11) E. D. Hanson spoke to Ron and Cheryl Schaffner of the joys of Trans-Africa. (12) North American missions—to the deaf, Indians, and other language people—completed the march—and (13) all together those on the platform totaled over 1200 years of foreign service. Fifty more workers were in the audience.

Coordinating the missions pageant was Shirley Burton. Ernest Fresk assisted. Music was provided by Lois Hall, Barbara Morton, and Pastors Gery Friesen and Charles Keymer.

Man on the Moon!

"Spectacular!" "Terrific!" "Stupendous!" "Fantastic!" These are just a few of the superlatives used by those witnessing the first man stepping foot on the moon. It was a great event, but how it fades into minute significance when we think of the splendor of our Lord's return! If only as many millions were as interested in getting ready for Christ's coming as watched with bated breath the trek of Apollo 11 streaking toward the moon.

While so much attention is being given to this epochal event, should we who claim to be getting ready for a flight far beyond the moon let a minute waste in telling those who are still watching and waiting for "splash-down"? What we do in proclaiming the reality of the voyage to the heavenly mansions and in helping others to prepare for it will determine whether we ourselves are ready.

Literature sales at our last camp meeting demonstrated very markedly that many are doing just that. The literature purchased far exceeded anything ever accomplished heretofore. Value of literature and other items to equip people for the heavenly trip came to $68,922.35. We in the Bible

House were so happy we had a part in this grand time together, and we wish to thank one and all for the enthusiastic response. We all want to become "astronauts" God will desire in the earth made new. May each of us continue to prepare for this event which will surpass anything man has done or will do in his future space travels.

A.C.T. Teams with Doctors

The A.C.T. team working in the Albina area of Portland has been engaging in a new and exciting phase of their summer project—that of the medical missionary work. The Sabbath afternoon clinic opened July 5, from three to five o'clock, with Dr. Glen Edgerton and Dr. Max Miracle.

The prospects are for the clinic to continue indefinitely. It serves as a strong medium for breaking down prejudice. Your prayers are asked in behalf of the work in this needed area.

Elder S. A. Bushnell thanks Dr. Glen Edgerton and Dr. Max Miracle for a fine first clinic, while Dave Tharp and Glen Greenwalt look on.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Del Grosso.

On July 4, 1969, Mr. and Mrs. Del Grosso celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary. They were married at Battle Ground, Washington, and their two sons and their wives hosted a potluck dinner at Lewisville Park a few miles from the scene of their wedding.

Brother Del Grosso was very active in the building of the Camas-Washougal church which was completed recently.

Their two sons, Paul and Lloyd, live nearby, while one daughter, Mrs. Carlos Dimick, lives in Boise, Idaho, and another, Mrs. Frank Kendall, in College Place, Washington.

years in British Columbia, Canada. Mrs. Grange was the former Linda Lindner. Their work experience includes five years at Bronson Hospital in Canada and four years at Canadian Union College. They come to us directly from Mount Vernon Academy in Ohio. Mr. Grange's training in Food Service was received at Vancouver General Hospital and Loma Linda University.

Mr. Grange has already become actively engaged in his duties at Milo and is developing a strong program for this coming year. He is replacing Mrs. Ray Woodruff who is continuing her educational training in the teaching field.

lessons with the thrilling story of a Bible hero, memory work from the Holy Scriptures, and learning experiences impressed by handwork in colorful booklets.

Enthusiasm reached its peak in the craft sessions where hot plate mats looking like large clusters of grapes, ceramic frogs and turtles so true to life one almost expected them to move, and wooden plaques with Bible mottos were among the marvels of handiwork on view for parents and friends who attended the excellent closing program.

Betty Harris, Steve Iwasa, Marilyn Striker and Cynthia Darby served as pianists and with several mothers and older junior girls were indispensable helpers. The ceramic forms were provided by the Elmer Andrews family.

HARRY E. DARBY

"Suffer little children to come unto me" was the theme of the Eagle Vacation Bible School—and the children came from everywhere!

Through the excellent guidance of Mary Lou Masterjohn and leadership of Marjorie Strong, Leona Andregg, and Frances Venable, the children enjoyed an excellent program.

The little Eagle church almost came apart at the seams for lack of space to accommodate all that came. One day alone, 119 children came, with 90 from homes of non-members. The average attendance for the nine days reached 100 with 75 being non-Adventist children.

Opal Kinsey faithfully came every day to see that everyone received one or more cups of punch. Several gallons of her delicious juice were consumed throughout the VBS.

Evangelism plays an important part in the Eagle VBS. The pastor was able to place a white Bible in the home of a mother who came every day with her eight children.

As a follow-up program a Story Hour is being conducted every month, with an average attendance of 60 children.

The grand finale came the night of the VBS graduation exercise when Elder Franklin Fowler, with many parents present, presented 155 certificates to those who had attended five days or more.

With their own VBS in the past, Eagle is now focusing on Horse Shoe Bend, a small town 19 miles north of

Eagle. The plans to hold a VBS is an effort to win souls for Christ. Truly the Lord is still saying, "Suffer little children to come unto me," and we must bring them to the Master.

Weddings

Alan Keith Ford and Marilee Adair Mikkelsen were united in marriage June 8, in the Hermiston Seventh-day Adventist church. Elder Roger Heinrich officiated. May God bless this happy couple as they make their home in Loma Linda, California, where Alan is a medical student at the university.

Andrea Pfeiffer of Portland, Oregon, and Arthur Furber, Jr., of Beaverton, Oregon, exchanged wedding vows on the afternoon of June 29 in a beautiful afternoon service in the Mt. Tabor church of Portland, Oregon. May heaven's abundant blessings rest upon Andrea and Arthur as they establish their new home in College Place where both will be attending Walla Walla College.

Karen Brooks of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Rex Davis of Salmon, Idaho, were united in marriage on the afternoon of June 25 in the Bozeman Seventh-day Adventist church. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will take up temporary residence in Butte, Montana, while the groom assists in the summer colporteur program, after which they will continue their training for further service in the Lord's work.

Janice Jensen and Mike Ross were united in marriage Sunday, June 22, in the Longview Seventh-day Adventist church. Elder R. C. Schwartz officiated at the service. We ask the blessings of Heaven on this newly formed Christian home. Mike will continue his preparation for the ministry at Walla Walla College.

The Seventh-day Adventist church at Lincoln City, Oregon, provided the setting for the candlelight marriage ceremony of George Hessong and Judith Thorpe on June 15. Elder M. L. Mooers officiated. We pray God's blessings upon this newly established Christian home.

The Roseburg Seventh-day Adventist church was the scene of a wedding June 29 when Lynden Lee Kruse and Margaret Elizabeth Hogg exchanged nuptial vows. The young couple motored to Washington, D.C., where the groom is serving his country with the White Coats. We wish them much happiness and heaven's blessing. The service was conducted by Pastor N. Rudolph Johnson.

Sharon Howland and Richard Holroyd were united in marriage July 13 in the Youth Chapel of the Village church in College Place, Washington. Dr. Robert E. Stahlnecker of the Walla Walla College Department of Education officiated at the ceremony. The young couple, both students of Walla Walla College, plan to live in College Place, Washington, as they continue their education. May God be with them as they establish a Christian home.

Larry Samuel Halleson and Patricia June Reisinger were united in holy wedlock at Portland, Oregon. The afternoon service was performed by Elder R. A. White in the Mount Tabor church on June 15. The Hallesons will reside in Portland where Larry will teach and Pat is employed at the Oregon Conference office.

During an afternoon wedding June 29, in the College Place Seventh-day Adventist church, Lucille Marie Baker, daughter of Mrs. Ella M. Baker of Stateline and Mr. Jack H. Baker of Encinitas, California, became the bride of Gary Dean Babcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean L. Babcock of Milton-Freewater, Oregon. Elder E. D. C. Richardson officiated. Gary and Lucille will be making their home in Pendleton, Oregon.

Dennis Shaffer and Marilyn Anderst were united in holy wedlock on Sunday evening, June 1, in the Twin Falls Seventh-day Adventist church. We wish this couple rich blessings as they set up their Christian home at Buhl, Idaho. Elder E. R. Schaak officiated.
