Our Help Needed

Another school year has opened with hundreds and thousands of our children and youth enrolled. Reports from many of our schools indicate an increased attendance this year over last, and we rejoice with all those who are enjoying the blessings of our Christian schools.

These schools are not maintained by public funds but are supported in faith and sacrifice by consecrated, God-fearing, and obedient parents, church members, and youth. Christian education costs something today but it is worth all it costs and more. Most of our schools are running on a very close financial margin in an effort to keep down the cost to the parents and students. The faithfulness of the patrons in meeting their obligations to the school promptly each month means much to those upon whom the financial responsibility rests.

The Sabbath of October 23 has been set aside for an offering for our elementary church schools. Funds from this offering are used to assist needy schools and communities where help is greatly needed. In many of our churches are members who may not have children of their own in school but who are, nevertheless, interested in helping others receive the blessing of a Christian school. Our schools are turning the footsteps and hearts of children and youth toward the kingdom of heaven.

We do not know how long the blessings we are enjoying today in the education of our children will continue, so let us have liberal hearts and hands in responding to the help in the offering on Sabbath, October 23.

John E. Weaver.

One More Week

Let us call a "Victory Week." We know it will be just that to conferences, churches, and individuals in our union. Victory at last. It sounds good to the ears of those who have been in the field and done their best.

Some conferences and churches are worrying about it, and really wonder if it can be done. There is no reason why they cannot do it. If we felt we had to and our happiness depended upon it, we could all do it. The individual goal is so low that anyone can reach it if he puts himself a bit to the stretch.

Hats off to the loyal few who have labored so faithfully! They are happy and would not have it any other way now. We began our campaign this year with the slogan, "Go or give." We are nearing the settling day. It is time to square up. What about it, brethren? If we don't want to go, why not do as much as our neighbors and give of our means to the support of this great work?

Why stand ye here idle all day? Go ye into the vineyard now. It is our last call this year.

D. E. Reiner.

Union College Library

For many years instruction was carried on in all colleges by means of textbooks. A student would be given so many pages to read and then he would "recite" in class. Of late years there has been an entire change in the method of college teaching. It is felt that no single textbook presents the subject in completion. In history, for instance, each author is apt to weave in his own opinion, which at times may be biased. The ordinary procedure for teaching many of the college subjects is, therefore, to send the student to the library and have him examine what several, or many, authors have to say on the subject.

We are now teaching courses in Union College where it is needful for the students to have from twenty to thirty books for one course. It is, of course, impossible for a student to buy all of these books himself. If there were a suitable textbook, the student would be required to buy it. As it is, he is charged a small sum for the use of the books necessary for the course.

In some of these classes, as many as one hundred students are enrolled. All of these students must go to the library to read the books assigned to them. If each student could buy the twenty or thirty books needed, he could do his studying in his private room. As it is, he must do it in the library, for as soon as he is done with one book another student will need it. This is an entirely different procedure from the study habits of a few years ago. It practically means that we have to provide library space for several hundred students, as many of these must needs be in the library at the same time, studying the same books.

Some have wondered if Union College needs a library. To this the answer is very emphatically that we do. In fact, we cannot go on with our work unless we have a library of sufficient size to take care of our needs. In a college, the library has come to be the center about which the whole school revolves. We can get along without almost anything else, but we cannot get along without the library; so the question of Union's future efficiency is largely dependent upon the library facilities we can provide.

We are planning to start the building of the library this fall, and expect to have the building enclosed before heavy frost. This, however, is dependent upon the cash we receive, as we must not go in debt. We are therefore, asking those who have pledged, to send in the money as soon as possible, that we may be assured of a library building soon.

Good News

We have good news for all. Iowa tithe for the first nine months of 1937 is $41,858.35. This is a gain of $1,460.45 over the same period of 1936. We rejoice that the Lord has blessed His people in basket and in store.

Iowa crops this year have been unusually good. Iowa, generally, has been blessed more than other states. With blessings comes responsibilities. Our first duty is to recognize God's sacred portion of the increase, the tithe. No duty toward man is as obligatory as our obligation toward God. No duty to man, real or imaginary, should ever come between us and our God. The first and great commandment is to love the Lord with all our hearts. Loving our God thus, we will honestly, faithfully, and promptly pay our tithes.

From a recent issue of the Des Moines Register, the following news item was clipped. "Pay up! Latter Day Saints Officers Get Edict on Tithe. Salt Lake City, Utah—President Heber J. Grant, in an unqualified ultimatum to all officers of the Latter Day Saints Church, ordered them to pay a full tithe... and obey the word... or step aside and let others take their positions."

With Seventh-day Adventists, laity as well as leaders are expected to pay tithe. No class, rich or poor, old or young, workers, church leaders, or lay member is exempt. All are urgently enjoined, yes, straightly admonished to be faithful in tithe paying.

It has been found that many are tempted, not so much in want and adversity when funds are meager and necessities are few, but in a time of apparent prosperity. It is then that they are apt to over-expand, attempt too large a program, make purchases and lay plans that are beyond their income. It is then that some are led to withhold the Lord's sacred money, to the ruin of their souls as well as to the loss of their means.

While the many will continue faithful, yet, for the sake of the few who might bring irreparable loss to themselves, their families, and their church, we urge that all conscientiously give the first-fruit, the first one-tenth of their increase, to the Lord. This will assure His smile of approval and blessing, not only upon the faithful one, but upon the work.

Iowa has designated October 23 as tithe day. It is expected that every worker and church leader will emphasize on that day the sacredness and importance of the tithe obligation.

Iowa News Items

Oskaloosa: Elder E. H. Oswald, President of the Northern Union Conference, and I recently spent a very pleasant afternoon with Elder Stemple White and his wife. Elder White's many friends in Iowa will be pleased to learn that his health is improving day by day. While he will not be actively engaged in the work, yet he will maintain his same deep interest in the welfare of the cause in all its phases. We will remember Elder White in our prayers that this warrior of the cause may yet serve as a counselor and inspiration to all.

Baptisms: Elder Stemple White reports that 8 were baptized at Middletown. This baptism has not been mentioned before, and we are happy to learn of this addition to the Middletown church.

Elder Gordon reports that at a recent baptism, 7 joined the Des Moines Church.

Elder Knecht, in reporting for Centerville, says that 16 were buried in baptism with their Lord, and so the work is onward. Reports from various parts of the field tell us that many are ready, and others are preparing for baptism.

adequate supply? They are but 2c each or $2.00 a hundred. Send in your order now to the Iowa Book and Bible House. In this day of shifting standards, we must proclaim anew the principles of temperance. Our young people must be warned. Even those who have been longer in the way must realize that only absolute abstinence from all alcoholic liquors is true temperance. With Seventh-day Adventists, total abstinence is a matter for church discipline. It is a test of fellowship with us. We should lift the standard high, not only before our youth, but before the world.

Ruthven: My visit here was very pleasant. Arrangements were made to reach the full Harvest Ingathering Goal. Ruthven has ever had a name as being one of the leaders in all conference promotions. A good report was given of the progress of the Ruthven church school, which is being taught this year by Miss Marion Dailey.

Terril: The church was well filled for the special Sabbath afternoon meeting that we attended here. Terril has already reached its full super goal in the Harvest Ingathering Campaign. We found the Terril people very responsive, anxious to serve and to be found faithful in every conference promotion.

Harvest Ingathering: More than eight thousand dollars has been reported. This is splendid. We lack but five thousand dollars of reaching our full thirteen thousand dollar goal. Everybody is working. The enthusiasm runs high. All are hoping that October 23 will find the goal reached and passed. The hope is that we will make up our full goal by the time of the Fall Council.

We speed toward the Iowa super-goal. From all parts of the conference Iowa churches are flashed the message, "Victory! Full super-goal reached"! How happy we are to hear it. As churches and districts break previous records, we must all hold steady. We want every church of every district to reach their full super-goal. The enthusiasm must not wane. It must be maintained. All must do their utmost to insure the victory for all Iowa. Even though the church goal is reached, don't you think that you want to be a minute-man, by raising the full $11.49? Remember the race is not to the starter nor to the swifter, but it is to the one whose perseverance continues to the finish.

Liberty Center—A nice country church is located on U. S. 60, a mile and a half south of the town. Our people in this vicinity are scattered. However, it is very evident that they love the Lord. They informed me that they expect to have the full super goal this week. Mrs. Robinson and the Bangers are especially anxious for the work to succeed. It is good to worship with these dear people on the Sabbath.

Des Moines Philadelphia—I was glad to be present for the gala occasion. The church was well-filled. The membership, under the leadership of Brother R. T. Hudson, had done very well indeed. In less than two years, they had bought, paid for, greatly improved, and dedicated their church free from debt. They value the property at $8,500. However, but $2,200 was spent in cash. God gave us this unusual value. On October 27, 1935 the first step was taken; on October 9, 1937, the building was dedicated. Two years ago there were but 4 members; now there are 24 members. Elder F. L. Peterson, Secretary of the General Conference for the Negro Department, delivered the dedicatory address, a very inspiring message. All enjoyed the special music. The church operates a church school of about ten students. It was among the first to reach the Harvest Ingathering super-goal. We are all happy, and rejoice with them.

Lay-Preachers' Evangelistic Institute—Iowa lay-preachers will all be glad to learn that Elder Steen Rasmussen, the Home Missionary Secretary of the General Conference, is to be present at the institute to be held at Nevada, November 5-7. The meeting will be one of utmost importance. We hope it will give great impetus to the onward progress of the work.

Tithe Day—October 23 has been designated as Tithe Day for all the churches in Iowa. It would be a good thing for each individual to check up and note how the Lord has blessed him, then on that day be sure to pay an honest tithe on the increase. The Lord has been good to us. We should be faithful in our stewardship.

Sanitarium News Items

Elder and Mrs. V. T. Armstrong of Singapore, Straits Settlements, spent the week end in Nevada, Visiting Brother and Sister Perkins with whom they labored in Japan for years.

Brother Armstrong is Vice-President of the General Conference for the Far Eastern Division, and he gave a most inspiring and helpful discourse at the church on Sabbath morning. His talks at the Sanitarium Sabbath School, and later at the vesper hour, were also greatly enjoyed by all present. Brother Armstrong plans to return to the Far East immediately after the Fall Council.

Miss Lavona Adams, of Nevada is making a rapid recovery from an appendectomy operation performed last Tuesday. The same can be said of Miss Pearl Hedges, an O. P. A. student from Onawa, Iowa.

Brother P. P. Anderson is in the Sanitarium for a much needed rest, and taking treatments for a chronic illness. Lloyd McGee, of Nevada, has taken over Brother Anderson's work at the sanitarium during his illness.

Sister Ross Davis, of Nevada, submitted to a major surgical operation last Thursday morning, and Sister Lockwood, of Sioux City, Nebraska, to one on Monday. Both are doing well.

Among other recent arrivals, are Brother Harry Wentland of Topeka, Kansas, and Miss Helen Blackwood of Nevada.

The sanitarium family was happy to have Elders E. H. Oswald, and DeWitt Osgood with us at the prayer meeting hour last Thursday evening.

A New Lesson Help

We would like to call the attention of the Sabbath School officers and members to the excellent new book which will be helpful in the Sabbath School lessons. It is M. L. Andreasen's book entitled "The Sanctuary Service." This is a cloth bound book with 311 pages and 20 chapters.

Elder J. McElhaney writes about it, "The Sanctuary Service" is probably the best book of its kind ever written. It is a thorough exposition of fundamental teachings on the sanctuary question. The very key-stone in the arch of truth is the teaching concerning Christ's ministry in the heavenly sanctuary. Elder Andreasen makes plain the meaning of the types and shadows of the earthly sanctuary service."

Every worker will prize this book, the price of which is $1.75; and every Sabbath School member should have access to it this quarter in the study of the Sabbath School lessons.

Maplewood Harvest Ingathering Field Day

On Sunday, October 10, Elder J. C. Christenson, C. H. Lauda, and the writer drove onto the Academy grounds at 7:30 p. m. The above conference workers, with the students and teachers, gathered in the chapel for a harvest Ingathering rally. It was a most interesting meeting. The Spirit of the Lord came in and every one declared his willingness to participate in a real field day for God. Following the meeting, the faculty members and conference workers met in the library and organized the groups for the following day. It was arranged to send five students and a driver in each car.

At 7:30 on Monday morning all met in the chapel for an earnest season of prayer. The names of those to go in each car were then read, and they gathered about their drivers. Eighteen car loads of students were soon on the road to their territory. The students who did not go out into the field gladly donated a few hours work toward the Harvest Ingathering. Prof. E. F. Heim and the writer went into the business section of Hutchinson and solicited the business men during the day.

Between sun down and dark some of the cars began to return, and by eight o'clock most of them were back. All met in the chapel at 8 p. m. for a most inspiring experience meeting. Our hearts rejoiced as we listened to those young men and women tell of the wonderful way in which the Lord had blessed them during the day. Nearly every car brought back produce as well as money, and at the close of the experience meeting in the chapel, all gathered in the library for a sale.

When all of the cash solicited, and that received from the sale of produce, was counted, it was found that the day's returns amounted to $427.79. They plan too reach their entire church goal within a week's time.

At the close of the academy field day, all went to rest with their hearts full of gratitude to God for His manifold blessings. The writer also thanked God for a noble group of teachers and students.

The list of churches that have reached their goal has climbed to 53. This week we add, Granite Falls, Minneapolis 1st English, Mpls. Northside, Aitkin, Palisade, Maple Plain, Gilchrist, and Swatara. The super-goal was reached by Mpls. 1st Eng., Mpls. Northside, Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Hibbing, Duluth Eng., and Winona. How happy we are for the success of these wide awake churches. With the returns from these churches Minnesota's total to date stands at $13,560.00. Now to go out and bring in the $2,200 we lack of reaching our goal! Try to do it by October 23.

Minneapolis First English

After a very impressive rally service at the First English church, in which every division had a part, the Harvest Ingathering money was gathered in and counted. The church had set their goal at $2,100 and their super-goal at $2,700, so they were very happy to learn that $2,700 had come in, when the total was handed to Elder Schierman to announce.

It was a great day. The singing bands, with Mrs. Christenson and Mr. Blivens leading with their accordions, sang a beautiful hymn, as a card was held up showing that they had raised $725 to date. A very successful sale of merchandise, which had been contributed, was held on Thursday by Miss Powell, and at the church service the amount realized from the sale was announced as $360.

Nearly the entire membership had a part in the work and approximately 100 members have earned their minute-man pins. Elder Schierman and his church have worked tirelessly to reach the goal in seven weeks, and we all join them in rejoicing over this marvelous accomplishment. Elder Schierman wishes to express his appreciation to all who helped make such a fine showing. May this large amount of funds help to save many souls.

Minnesota Youth

It is thrilling to visit some of our M. V. society and see the enthusiasm, the zeal, and active service they are doing in giving "This Advent Message to all the world in this generation."

What are you doing along this line? Are you doing something every day to bring someone nearer Christ? The Lord is calling us as young people to labor in His vineyard Today.

Your society is trying to be one of the three banner societies this quarter. Are you doing your share? Each missionary item has its definite number of points. Do not let your society fail because of you.

Your Bible Year award is waiting here for you. When you complete reading your Bible this year, send in your name promptly through your M. V. society.

A number of our societies have already reached their Harvest Ingathering goals. The weather is colder now, so let us hurry and finish our territory before the zero weather comes.

Keep up your courage, pray much, for "Prayer changes things," and let us all do our share in this great "truth for youth" movement, here in Minnesota.

The Northern Union Outlook costs the conference nearly fifty cents per subscription, and it is certainly worth all that it costs. We could never do without this paper which keeps us informed regarding the progress of the work in our union and in our own conference, also gives us information concerning every plan that is carried out.

To cover the cost of this paper to the conference it has been decided to take up a collection on Sabbath, October 30. I trust that all our believers will be liberal in their contributions so that enough may be received to cover the entire cost of the paper to the conference.

I want to thank you in behalf of the conference. D. N. Wall.

Harvest Ingathering

You will be glad to learn that Beach has gone over its goal. The church had solicited the homes and farms, and had received about $50 before I arrived. Thus I had a good foundation to start with. What Beach has done, I mean the members, others can do and receive the blessing, I am sure.

At one place I met a man who gave us a dollar last year, but this time he had been at the hospital for two operations which had run his expenses up to $350. When I entered, he said, "Nothing this year." As Brother Heaton was with me, we ignored what he said and conversed with him for about twenty minutes, then told him that he doubtless would like to give the Lord a thank offering for having brought him through the operation alive. He said he might have been returned in a box. The result was that he gave us the dollar, the same as last year.

In a blacksmith shop last Friday, as Sister Figgins and I entered, I noticed the unusual order and cleanliness in his shop and immediately remarked: "Well, this is the cleanest blacksmith shop I have ever seen." He has always given us $1.00 and this time he wrote out a check for $1.50. As soon as he sees us coming, he reaches for his check book.

Harvest Ingathering in District No. 3

Our trip among the churches in district No. 3, we felt very happy, as every one of the churches we visited went beyond their goal, with the exception of the Gackle church, which did not quite reach their goal in the two days I spent with them. The elder and the missionary leader, however, assured me that they would do their best to reach their goal, or more, in a few days. After helping Hazleton, Napoleon, Streeter, and Lehr reach their goals, we were quite surprised to hear that Elder Gant had helped the Kulm church in raising over $70.00 toward their goal. Kulm was the only church that went ahead without their district leader. I had planned to spend two days in Kulm; but as that town, and also Fredonia, had been solicited while Elder Gant was holding meetings in the Kulm church, only a few small towns around Kulm were left to be worked.

While soliciting in the business section of Ashley, we noticed placards in some of the business places, advertising the Kulm Male Quartette. Of course, we were interested to learn about their plan; and upon receiving an invitation to speak a few minutes on some mission topic, in connection with their singing, we went to Ashley the evening after the Sabbath, October 9. The brethren did very well in presenting some appropriate music; also, three young ladies rendered several fine songs during the program. After a few remarks in German, the young ladies sang an English hymn. Then in a few words I told the audience in English the purpose of the singing and also of the offering; so the hats were passed, and in just a little while over $8.00 was collected. These singers did very well by going to the surrounding small towns in a truck, with a lamp attached to give them sufficient light for reading the words and music. They have raised a large part of their goal by working as a singing band.

The greatest surprise, however, is yet to be mentioned. I was informed that the Kulm Dorcas Society had worked hard earning about $150.00 during several months of effort, from which amount, I am told, they are planning to contribute a goodly sum to the Harvest Ingathering fund, which will bring them over their goal. It is very interesting that this society earned so large an amount of money in a very simple way, and I would suggest that some of our other Dorcas Society leaders write to the Kulm leader, Mrs. R. Widmer, Kulm, North Dakota, and learn how easily it may be done. This is especially easy in rural districts. I trust that many Dorcas Societies may follow the good example of the Kulm church. I do not know how much of the $135.00 they will turn over for Harvest Ingathering, but they paid the first $15.00 as tithe; and I know the Lord will bless the rest which is to be used for other missionary purposes.

Weddings

Sabbath, September 11, at 8:30 p. m., Wm. Carlin and Eunice Scofield were married in the S. D. A. church at Devils Lake. The writer officiated in the presence of relatives and many friends. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Schofield invited the relatives to their home where refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carlin live near Lakota, where they will farm. We wish them God's richest blessing in all that they undertake.

Sunday, September 26, at sun-set Reinhold Patzer and Miss Edna Reinke were united in marriage, in the S. D. A. church at Kulm, North Dakota. It was a beautiful evening, the church was well decorated, and a large number of relatives and friends were present. Following the ceremony the friends and relatives went to the home of the bride's parents where a wholesome supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Patzer left for Washington a few days later, where they plan to take up their schooling at Walla Walla College. Geo. Loewen Elder J. H. Rhoads our missionary volunteer and educational secretary, conducted a baptism at the Swan Lake church Sabbath, October 9.

At this writing the joint North and South Dakota Colporteur Institute at Aberdeen is in full swing. Brother Brown reports that the institute is progressing nicely and that nine South Dakota colporteurs are in regular attendance.

Elder W. H. Hanhardt assisted the Plainview Academy faculty and student body in their annual Harvest Ingathering field day Wednesday, October 13. We do not yet have a report of what was gathered in, but their goal is $525.00 and we are hopeful that they have reached it.

Our conferences are anxious to get in touch with those who are interested in or have a burden for this line of work. Let such send names immediately to the conference president and make definite arrangements to attend. We are expecting a large number to respond.

If district leaders or church officers know of such individuals who should attend, let them pass on the names at once with full particulars about each one recommended.

Arrangements are made for strong ministerial help to conduct these institutes. The General Conference is also sending us help.
