Progress in the Far East

Borneo: In these thrilling mission days, we find the wild men of Borneo being touched with the truths of this message. Pastor J. M. Nerness, the director of the Sarawak Mission told us recently something of what God is doing among the people of the jungles of that territory. Thirty-seven miles from the port of Sarawak, back in the jungle, is a school especially for the training of the Dyaks. These people were formerly head hunters; and in the Dyak villages you may still see some of the skulls of the victims on the shelves of their council rooms.

These people know nothing of civilization as we understand it. They are without education, and they are bound by gross superstition, and devil worship. They live more like wild animals than human beings. But a change is coming, and some of the Dyak young people who have been to our school are going back to their jungle villages and are telling the wonderful story of Jesus. They are living witnesses of the new life that has come to them. And wherever they go, they carry the truth, so that many calls are now coming to us for the message which can transform these wild people into happy Christians.

Across the river from our school, where we are not permitted to enter, as that territory has been assigned to another mission, interests are springing up. The mission school which is operated by this other society, gives its students their room and board and clothing; and also some money when they attended the school. But the boys who come to our school must work for all they receive.

One of the boys from across the river attended our school. During the vacation time he returned to his village; and strong inducements were held out to him in an endeavor to get him back into the other school; but he returned to us at the end of the vacation period. He says he plans to finish our school, and then go back to his own people to be a worker among them, in spreading the third angel's message. Over and over again the people in his village asked him to repeat texts of Scripture and sing songs to them which he had learned in our school. They told him that the other school did not teach them the Bible, nor were they taught to sing songs. They also said that the other school did not teach them how to live clean lives; and they are now asking to be taught by our people.

It seems that the present time is the golden opportunity for our work among the Dyaks and the Dusuns of Borneo. In a letter just received from Pastor G. B. Youngberg, the director of the North Borneo Mission, he makes a strong appeal for just a little more money to help them build a school for the Dusuns. We have raised some funds for this institution; but because of increased prices it will cost somewhat more than we had at first anticipated. Pastor Youngberg says that even $100 would go a long way in helping them in their present difficulties.

Surely the native tribes of the jungles of Borneo who are now calling for this message as never before, must appeal to the hearts of Seventh-day Adventists everywhere.

French Indo-China: Our hearts were made sad when we received the word from Saigon recently of the death of Pastor F. L. Pickett, the director of our French Indo-China Mission. This loss comes as a hard blow to our needy work in that great field of 26,000,000 people; many of whom are now calling for the message. Pastor and Mrs. Pickett returned from their furlough in 1937, and were hard at work in their field when Brother Pickett was laid low by the hand of death. Both he and his wife had learned the Cambodian language.

It is from sections of French Indo-China that repeated calls are coming to us for workers. Hanoi, the capital city of the country, is asking for help; but we have no workers in that city as yet. Several are interested in the truth, and are asking us to come and open up work in their city.

Pastor R. H. Wentland was located in Tourane last year, where we have a church of more than 120 members. These people are all new converts, for we had not entered this field until 1928; and language study occupied the major part of the missionary's time for the first year or so. God has wrought wonderfully for us in this field, and there is promise of a harvest of souls if we can only follow up the interests that have been started in that country. We sincerely hope that this year something can be done to open a training school for the young native workers in the field, who have not had opportunity to attend one of our schools. And we hope to provide for at least a three months' course each year, where these native men can be better fitted for the task before them

We cannot forget that our dear Brother Pickett is now sleeping in the land of his adoption, and that his grave marks a memorial to his faithful labors, and must serve as an urgent appeal to us who remain to quickly arise and occupy that vast territory, that the work may be soon finished in French Indo-China.

Philippine Islands: In the Phillippine Islands the opportunities for giving this message are everywhere apparent. Late in 1937 Pastor R. H. Hartwell, who had been evacuated from Shanghai to Manila when the trouble broke out in China, had the privilege of speaking for several weeks over the radio. Inquiries have come in from India, Malaya, South America, the Netherlands, East Indies, and elsewhere, regarding these radio sermons. Here is another golden opportunity to broadcast the message in this part of the world. We do need some extra funds with which to carry forward this work. If there can be a little extra provided we believe that we can launch a strong radio and evangelistic effort in Manila with promise of most excellent returns.

The baptisms in the Phillipine Union last year were 1,239. The tithe from the field exceeded any former receipts. The Philippine Union College, the only Seventh-day Adventist college outside of North America which is giving full senior college

"Of Course I'm Going to Study this Summer'

"Of course I'm going to study this summer," said a live-wire sophomore as he packed his trunk for home. "I've enjoyed my year in school, and I just can't let my mind remain idle for the whole summer. I am bound to do some reading anyway, and I might as well read books of solid worth, and have some help in understanding them. This is what a Home Study course means to me. To have the pleasant companionship of a teacher who knows a whole lot about the subject, makes the reading just that much more interesting, and it gives me my college credits besides."

Summer study is getting to be very popular with our ambitious young people. They know that to the enlightened student, who expects to study harder after he gets out of school than while he is in school, summer study of some kind is necessary to make the long vacation a really happy one. Among the popular college subjects taken in the summer, we mention the following:

Survey of English Literature, Bible Doctrines, Daniel and the Revelation, Modern European History, Public

Speaking, Church History, American Nationality, Principles of Education, History of Education, Objective and Standardized Tests, Accountancy, Shorthand, and Salesmanship.

Here are a few high school courses well suited to summer study: New or Old Testament History, Bible Doctrines, Denominational History, English I, II, III, and IV, Algebra, Geometry, World History, American History and Civics, the second year of a modern language, Typing, Bookkeeping, etc.

Write today for catalogue giving full paticulars concerning these and many other attractive courses.

The Isles Shall Wait

The isles are waiting, - they are calling anew, For money, for men, for the gospel true. As they wait, some die under Satan's spell; How long before we their darkness dispel?

The isles are waiting, - do you hear their groans, As they bow to idols of wood and stone? Do you see their tortures to appease their gods, And see the millions waiting 'mid terrible odds?

"The isles shall wait," for what, I pray? For your gift and mine, - can we honestly say, Here am I, Oh Lord, I hear Thy call; I gladly surrender my life, my all?

My all! That includes my pocket-book too, For how shall they hear if we fail to do Our utmost in giving of our means in trust, Before our gold is cankered and our silver is rust?

Some day, not far distant, we'll be willing, to-wit, To give ALL OUR MONEY, yea every bit; But 'twill be too late, - Oh, thought appalling! Too late to give to the isles that are calling!

Lord, give us a burden for souls, we pray. Take our hearts, take our means, use us today. We would give of our means, we would answer Thy call. We give Thee our hearts. We gladly give all.

going (a school of 40 members) said, 'We don't like their quarterlies. They don't explain anything.' I showed her our quarterly and read her a few notes from it. She said, 'That is beautifully explained.' I told her I would send her a sample. She said, 'I will be pleased if you will, and I will take it up with the rest of the members and see if they would not rather have your quarterly.''

These dear people have received many spiritual blessings from reading the books thus far. Let us pray that God, by His Spirit, will teach them still more and bring them to a favorable decision for the entire message.

Would you desire to have such an experience attend your efforts? God offers you innumerable blessed experiences such as this in the canvassing work. Come to camp meeting. Join the colporteur class. Be a soul-winner today!

The Junior M. V. Camp

In response to a great number of questions that have come to the office, in regard to the Junior camp for this year, I would like to announce that the Junior Missionary Volunteers of the Hawkeye division will have their camp at Dolliver Memorial Park, near Fort Dodge, Iowa.

The boys' camp will be from July 31 to August 7, and the girls' camp will be from August 7 to August 14. This training camp is designed especially to meet the standard of education set forth in the Spirit of prophecy. It will be the plan to endeavor to harmoniously develop the physical, the mental, and the spiritual side of every boy and girl in attendance. Competent leadership in all the various phases of Junior work, as well as good leadership in campcraft and outdoor activities, will fill the program with good things for every Junior.

Printed matter will be in the handsof the church leaders in the very near future, that will describe the place more in detail, and the directions for reaching the camp. If there is a desire for further information, write to W. A. Howe, 734 Main Street Nevada, Iowa.

Soul-Winning Plans

"A Bible study class, a Bible training class, and a baptismal class in every church" is Iowa's goal in the great threefold soul-winning campaign. The Radio Bible School, the Home Missionary department, and the Missionary Volunteer department are uniting to make this program a success.

Sabbath, July 2, is the time when the Bible service training school plan is to be presented in the churches. (See July CHURCH OFFICERS' GAZETTE) Every church and company should whole-heartedly cooperate.

A new six-month's course is to be presented by the Radio Bible School. It is entitled "Gospel Fundamentals" and is to Synchronize with and supplement the Bible study classes in the churches. This will be a personalized evangelistic series of studies designed especially to bind off interests and prepare for baptism. If anyone has a friend who is interested in our glorions truth, that friend should be encouraged to listen in to the broadcasts over W. H. O. (1000 on your dial) every Sunday morning ot 9:15 A. M. North Minneapolis

For many months our brethren and sisters of the North Minneapolis church have been appealing to the conference for a strong evangelistic effort to be held on that side of the city. Heretofore the conference has not seen its way clear to place a permanent pastor in that church. For a time Elder D. R. Schierman visited the church as frequently as possible and gave Sabbath help, but his heavy duties as pastor of the Stevens Avenue church and also in connection with his evangelistic effort, made it quite impossible for him to continue to help them. During the past several months Elder N. R. Nelson, the pastor of the Norwegian-Danish church, has been caring for the North Minneapolis church along with his duties in connection with his regular church.

Our conference committee has felt for the past year that something more definite should be done to build up the work on the north side of the city. At a recent meeting of the committee the matter was given careful study again, and it was voted to invite Brother A. L. Bietz to move to North Minneapolis as pastor of the church and to hold an evangelistic effort. Brother and Sister Bietz are moving to the city at once and will begin to prepare to hold an evangelistic effort in the vicinity of the North Minneapolis church. Brother and Sister Carl Sundin have been invited to assist Brother and Sister Bietz in a tabernacle effort which will be held following camp meeting.

We ask an interest in the prayers of God's people that the Lord may richly bless in the building up of a work in North Minneapolis.

Music at Maplewood

Music contributes to the spiritual life of an institution,-to its general culture and school spirit. The academy school year recently brought to a close at Maplewood, also completed a music season which proved to be of definite educational value. Public recitals ranging from Mrs. Vande Vere's Sunday afternoon musicale, to the West and East Halls' competitive recitals, the annual band concert, the voice recital by Mr. and Mrs. Lauda, Evelyn Sorensen's piano recital, the Minneapolis appearance of the band, the six-piano recital, and the two concerts during commencement week end-all these helped to give Maplewood students a distinct appreciation of musical possibilities in school life.

The number of students studying music privately in 1937-38 was greater than in any previous year of the school's history. Classes in music included piano, band instruments, Conducting I, Conducting II, Harmony I, Harmony II, Ear Training, Sight Singing, and History of Music. A new field of endeavor this year was the six-piano ensemble. The success attained by this group of twelve pianists insured such work a regular place in the musical life of Maple-

"Music is one of God's greatest gifts to man." When properly taught, organized, and guided, it can become a powerful influence for good in every walk of life. The splendid cooperation of the administration, together with the valued assistance of Mrs. E. K. Vande Vere and Mr. Ervin Sorensen have made the past school year rich in musical benefits. Earnest work has been done to give each student an appreciation of the value music serves in God's great program for humanity. Music will always play an important part in the work of soul-saving.

--0-Voluntary Sunday School

A few months ago Brother Karl A. Evenson sold many books in a certain district in the northern part of the State. While delivering his books in May he was happily surprised because, "Some people tell me they are glad to see me back. In one locality where I had them pretty much interested they had now started a Sunday school all by themselves, and wished I were back there to help them. They said they had no leader. They had ordered Sunday school supplies from the Congregational church, but one of the ladies who was trying to keep things of the lecture lessons—the timely gift volume each month—twenty-six pieces of correlated literature—puzzling Bible questions answered, and the special, individualized personalized evangelistic service. Camp Meeting

Judging by the inquiries that have already come to the office, Iowa Seventh-day Adventists, this year, are very much "camp meeting-minded". Reservations for cottages can be made by writing directly to Elmer Thiermann, Cedar Falls, Iowa. The last year's rates will prevail again this year. The cottages are to be rented for 25 cents a night, per person, with a minimum of six people in a cottage. The dormitory rooms, which accommodate two people, are 75 cents and $1.00 a night, linen furnished.

The Iowa camp meeting begins Friday, August 26 and closes Saturday evening, September 3. Excellent General Conference help has been promised. Among those to be in attendance, are: Elder E. E. Andross, field secretary of the General Conference, formerly vice-president for the Inter-American Division; and Elder J. J. Strahle, associate secretary of the Publishing Department.

Three of the Des Moines church school children are definitly planning on camp meeting. Opal Miller, Charles and Margaret Halvorsen, have been selling vegetables from house to house. We have learned that they already have put $15.00 in a postal savings account, which they have saved toward their camp meeting expense. "A little child shall lead them." Why not plan now to be present?

Bible Training Class Program

July 2 is Bible Training Class Day in all of our churches. This program is outlined in the Church Officer's Gazette for the month of July. The General Conference Home Missionary Department has gone to considerable expense to supply all of our churches with a Bible syllabus, class record cards, also envelopes and enrollment cards, for these programs. We have faithfully sent out samples to all of our home missionary leaders in the churches.

The object of this program is to have every member, as far as possible, sign up for Bible training in our churches. The time has come when more of our people ought to be giving Bible studies to their neighbors and the General Conference is trying to help the churches train for this work. Every home missionary officer, church elder, pastor, and Sabbath school officer should be interested in this program. Plan for a big program and, dear reader, when the opportunity is given, will you not, with prayer in your heart, decide to join the class and train for Christ? It is all free. If for any reason you do not receive an enrollment blank, be sure to see your home missionary secretary and ask her about it.

Counsels on Diet and Foods By Mrs. E. G. White

Here is brought together within the limits of one volume all that has come to this people through the gift of prophecy on the subject of diet and foods. It is a book for all to read and ponder, especially those who wish better to understand or teach the true principles of health reform. God's methods are often extremely simple, but always effective.

The location of each quotation used in "Counsels on Diet and Foods" is identified and the date of the reference given. Usually, where one quotation relates to a similar one elsewhere in the book, a system of cross references is used so that the reader may follow any subject throughout the entire volume. This book contains much matter not available elsewhere, and will be especially valuable to medical and evangelical workers. It is our newest and only complete volume from the pen of Mrs. E. G. White on the subject of diet and foods. Send for your copy today. Contains 511 pages, maroon cloth binding. Price, $2.75.

Obituary

Richmond.—Jane Pratt, daughter of John and Mary Pratt, was born in Northumberland, England, July 20, 1849, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Morris, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, May 28, 1938, at the age of eighty-eight years. On December 29, 1871, she was married to James Gillespie, at Old Tremdon, England. The first eight years of their married life were spent in England. Six of the eight children of this union were born in England. In 1880 the family moved to America, coming to Iowa. Her life has been spent from that time on, in or near Oskaloosa, except for nine years when she lived with a daughter in Chicago. Mr. Gillespie died on March 11, 1890. Seven years later, on January 22, 1897, she was united in marriage to James Richmond at Evans, Iowa. There was one daughter born to this union. Mr. Richmond departed this life May 10, 1906. Mrs. Richmond was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church May 19, 1906, and remained a consistent member of the Oskaloosa church until her death. Sister Richmond had a fine intellect and a wonderful memory. Many Bible passages of hope, comfort, and Bible doctrine were stored in her mind. To mourn her departure, she leaves eight children, thirty grandchildren, twenty-four great-grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren, besides a host of friends. She awaits the call of the Lifegiver.

Gospel Workers, p. 323.
