Union College Summer Session

The summer session opened June 12 with an excellent enrollment of 111 to date. This is one less than the total enrollment a year ago. More students have been allowed to carry a full-time labor program than last year, however; and in actual numbers there are about ten more on the campus this year than last. We are happy to know that the increase has largely come as the result of more teachers coming in from the conference to pursue further college work. The Northern Union Conference is well represented in the school. The largest delegation from any one state in the whole college territory is that of Minnesota. The summer session students as usual are the more mature, serious-minded persons who have come for business and are making rapid progress.

The science offerings are especially strong this summer with classes in biology, physiology, and chemistry, on the program. A number of young ladies have enrolled for the pre-nursing course with the idea of completing their pre-nursing work in a summer and a winter term.

As has been customary the last few years, classes are held in the afternoon and evening, allowing the students to work through the day and have the privilege of carrying evening classes.

The cool weather have been much enjoyed and has aided in the promotion of scholarship and good feeling.

Everett Dick.

Summer School Director.

Business Courses Offered

As many patrons of the college know, Union College has for many years been doing unusually strong work in the fields of economics, business, and secretarial training. Among the majors offered by the college has been included one in economics and business. Because of unfortunate circumstances, the offerings in these fields were greatly restricted during the last college year.

The college wishes it to be known, however, that it will again be in a position to offer a full line-up of courses in these fields during the coming year under experienced and competent instructors. Students wishing to major or minor in economics and business will find available the following courses:

In the lower division:

Principles of Economics 6hrs.
Principles of Accounting 6 hrs.

In the upper division:

Cost Accounting 2 hrs.
Budgeting 2hrs.
Business Finance 3 hrs.
Money and Banking 3 hrs.

Provision has also been made for the training of secondary school teachers in commercial subjects. Courses will be given in:

Methods of Teaching Commerce 2 or 3 hrs.
Practice Teaching in Commerce 3 hrs.

For students wishing only two years of training of the practical type, Union College has a curriculum leading to a diploma. This course of study has been enriched by the inclusion of the course:

Office Training 4 hrs.

It is designed to give training in the regular routines and techniques of office work, with special emphasis upon the types of work expected of stenographers, secretaries, and bookkeepers in denominational conference and institutional offices. The course in business English has been discontinued and in its stead students take Freshman Composition.

The regularly offered work in shorthand and typwriting will be continued as usual.

It is believed that these offerings constitute as rich a program of teaching in these fields as has ever been offered here, or as can be obtained in any of our Seventh-day Adventist colleges. If you are interested and desire further information, please write to:

Union College,
Lincoln, Nebraska.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Hanhardt

Mrs. W. H. Hanhardt, wife of the home missionary secretary of the South Dakota Conference, passed away Wednesday morning, July 6, during very heavy surgery. We regret very much the loss of Sister Hanhardt. She has been a very active and faithful member of the church at Watertown. Her services will be missed not only by the church of which she was a member, but also by the conference, since Sister Hanhardt was very efficient in soliciting means during the Harvest Ingathering campaign. We wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to Brother Hanhardt and the daughters of Sister Hanhardt in their bereavement. The Lord only knows why such experiences come to His faithful children. We feel satisfied that when the Life-giver Jesus shall appear and the dead in Christ shall come forth, that Sister Hanhardt will be among them.

Just one day before she had the operation she wrote a most wonderful letter to Mrs. Oswald in which she expressed her appreciation for the kindness and accommodations they were receiving at the sanitarium. She was of good courage and felt that she would be fully restored within a few weeks' time. Her heart was filled with the love of Christ. She has been a great help to many in their Christian experience, and her loss will be felt by all with whom she has associated.

E. H. Oswald

Colporteur Experiences

It is a pleasure to share with the readers of these columns some of the experiences of God's "Advance Guard" in South Dakota. Miss Lillian Rivinus has recently joined Misses Edna May and Marie Rittenbach in strengthening the "right arm of the third angel's message' in Pierre. A few sentences gleaned from their reports will be of interest.

"Well, this week is over. Although it was hot, I have enjoyed working for the Lord more than ever."—Marie Rittenbach.

"We have spent a pleasant week here and have enjoyed our work. The blessings of the Lord have rested on our efforts. I had an interview with Rev. Bullock, pastor of the First Methodist church. He was very interested in HEALTH. The book SCIENCE SPEAKS, found a place with him immediately. He bought the last copy I had and . . . told me I should try my best to put it in every home where there were young people, and to use his recommendation. He also told me to take it to all the pastors and members of the P. T. A. It makes me happy to be able to bring these books which have such an important message for the people."—Edna May.

Will you not support these colporteurs with your prayers and encouragement? Robert Brown

Mid Summer Offering

Sabbath, July 16, is the day set aside by the General Conference for the Midsummer offering to be taken in all of our churches.

The clouds of difficulty are quickly rolling in upon us and what we do to carry the last gospel message to the world must be done quickly. Emergency calls for help are coming in from every country. Our Foreign Mission Board is almost overwhelmed by the very urgent appeals.

The Midsummer offering day gives all of our people an exceptional opportunity to give a liberal offering to missions. The time demands that this offering be greater than the one received last year. I appeal to every church and to every isolated believer to do everything possible to make this a most liberal Midsummer offering.

V. E. Peugh

News Items

Elder E. H. Oswald gave a very interesting discourse on Sabbath, July

2, at the First English church in Minneapolis.

Elder and Mrs. V. E. Peugh have just returned from the North. They visited the churches at Blackberry, Remer and Haekensack. Elder Peugh conducted the ordinances at Blackberry at the eleven o'clock hour on Sabbath, and also spoke at the church Sabbath evening. He preached at Remer Sunday evening and at Haekensack Monday evening. During the day Brother and Sister Peugh visited from home to home among the believers. Nearly every home was visited in all of the above places. At Haekensack careful study was given to the matter of the purchase of a building for a church.

A Testimony

I am walking, daily walking
By my loving Saviour's side;
And I'm learning, daily learning
In His kindness to abide.

I am praying, yes, I'm praying
For the friends I love so well,
That they yield their all to Jesus,
Whose great power no tongue can tell.

And I'm longing, yes, I'm longing
For that promised home on high,
Where all the cares and crosses
Of this old world are laid by.

And I'm trusting, yes, I'm trusting
That we all together meet
In that home beyond the shadow
And sit down at Jesus' feet

With the loved-ones long departed,
Those who left us years ago;
We will meet them, we will greet them
In that land beyond the blue.

For I'm going, oh, I'm going
To that promised home on high,
Where all the cares and crosses
Of this world will be laid by.

Mrs. Florence Schryver.

Camp Meeting Reflections

Yesterday we returned home from our good camp meeting. Many things demanded attention and night came entirely too soon. We know all our fellow-believers had similar experiences. In just a few hours our spiritual contacts one with another had changed to the regular hum-drum of everyday life. Only one thing remained unchanged,—the ever present sustaining grace of our heavenly Father, which does not change with location or conditions. How thankful we are that the Lord Jesus is the same yesterday, today and forever.

Early this morning I awakened and fell to reflecting on our privileges of the past two weeks or more. I will list a few as they came to me, and some scriptures in their interpretations:

1. The hearty welcome given each worker who arrived to assist in camp preparation, and the added pleasure and comfort each brought. This experience was greatly augmented by the arrival of the conference membership from day to day. John 13:34,35.

2. The oneness on the part of all, whether officer or plain worker; older or more youthful member. There were leaders in various lines of work but no bosses. Matt. 23:10.

3. The beautiful grace so much in evidence, of seeking the welfare of others, even at the expense of own preference and comfort. This we observed in tent location, in the dining room and in the general assembly tent. We noted many, such instance which greatly increased the enjoyment of all. Rom. 15:1-3; ICor. 13:5; Phil. 2:3,4.

4. The thoughtfulness of workers toward one another in the promotion of various lines of departmental work lest others should suffer through their earnestness. Scarcely an instance is recalled where promptness in closing as well as in beginning of a service was not observed. This was remarked on by lay members as well as workers. Ecl. 3:1; Mark 13:34.

5. Why was it so often heard. "Today is even better than yesterday?" Answer: Because, with each passing day God revealed Himself in clearer ways as our minds and hearts were set on seeking Him. Jer. 24:7; 29:12,13, "And I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations," verse 14.

6. We shall not soon forget how earnestly men and women of high and low estate prayed for our leaders: General, Union and local. Often we heard the names of Elder Peugh, Elder Nelson and Brother Marshall, who daily carried such heavy burdens. They in turn prayed with us, one for another that we might be healed and strengthened by grace for service.

7. We were greatly encouraged by the good reports from lands afar. Elder N. P. Neilsen of South American Division, who was with us for nearly a week, by the stirring reports of progress, strengthened the love and faith of all in missions. Professor and Mrs. L. B. Losey and Miss Binder of far away India, added a new and real meaning to mission endeavor, as did others who came and went. It sounded much like apostolic days as they told of the mighty works of God. Acts 14:19-27; 15:2-12.

This and much more is what camp meeting means to God's people. Already we are talking and planning for another year if God wills we live and go. Let us pray earnestly for the household of faith, and by watchfulness keep ourselves in the love of the truth, serving our Lord as channels of blessings to others as we journey toward the City.

J. W. Christian

Junior Camp

Have you ever attended a Junior Camp? No? Has your big brother or sister ever gone to a Junior Camp and told you stories of the wonderful hikes, swimming and camp fires they enjoyed until you felt as though you knew every inch of the camp by heart, yourself? Well, then be the first of your family to attend, and you will have more to tell than they would have had, because this year's camp if you are there to help us, is going to be the best one in Minnesota's history!

The camp will be located on the edge of a beautiful private lake, away back in the woods, at the end of a one-way, winding road, where we will see no one but our own fellow-campers for eight whole fun-packed days. Bring your North Star uniform—if you have one—, your own bedding, your bathing suit, and a big, cheery smile.

What will we do for nine whole days? You might better ask, what won't we do! You who were at camp meeting and enjoyed our camp fires, our birds hikes, and our progressive classes, may look forward to continuing the work you have started. But that is not all! Every day will be filled with swimming, hiking, and play.

Of course, all of each day will not be a big play hour. There will be the early morning watch circle, getting ready for cabin inspection, raising the flag, rest hour, and—don't forget—three square meals a day prepared by a very good cook.

To you parents, who may fear for your children's safety; I might say that there will be a life guard on the water front during every swimming hour, and two trained nurses to take care of any accident that might occur.

If you haven't made definite plans to attend, start laying aside your dimes today! The charge will be just $7.00 for eight days, August 8 to 16, and the age range will be from nine to sixteen years.

Florence Peugh

Duluth News

At the close of a series of meetings in the church preceding camp meeting, nine adults were baptized.

The church has been reroofed with No. 1 red cedar shingles, and new drain pipes and down spouts have been installed. The new wash room in the basement has also been completed.

The senior M. V. Society, under the leadership of Jeanetta Smith, is happy to have kept the first honor banner for the conference for six months. The junior society, directed by Brother C. N. Harvey, has held the first honor banner for that division for three months.

Radio station KDAL is giving us time on the air free every morning, from seven to seven-fifteen, July 10 to 17 inclusive. The station broadcasts on 1500 kilocycles.

Special Notice

We are launching into our Magazine Month. The month of August was Magazine Month last year and we sold a goodly number of our truth-filled papers. You make 50 per cent on magazines that are ordered in quantities of ten or more. The price of HEALTH is 15c, LIFE AND HEALTH, WATCHMAN and MESSAGE are all 10c each. Send your orders to the Book and Bible House at once so that you can get started with the August numbers while they are fresh from the press. This would be a good opportunity for those who pledged to put in a day of colporteur work some time between our last camp meeting and this year's, to fulfil that pledge, if they have not already done so. Plan to have your magazines sold before camp meeting so that we can have a good report to render at that time.

Iowa Sanitarium News

Miss Nora Christiansen of the Audubon church, and Mr. Richard Reed of the Des Moines church are making excellent recovery from surgical operations. Mrs. E. R. Scott of Maxwell is also on the surgical floor.

Other registrants are Mrs. Harry Hutt, Mrs. Gary Adams and baby of Maxwell; Mrs. Robert Tillotson of Cambridge; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Malley of Bouton; Mr. Jess Forshe of Des Moines; Mrs. F. H. Conner, Mrs. Tom Lynch and baby, and Marvin Smith of Nevada.

Doctor Gilbert and family spent the Sabbath at the A. P. Hansen home at Exira, where there was a family reunion upon the homecoming of Elder and Mrs. M. J. Sorensen and children from the S. D. A. Mission, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, East Africa. We are glad to report that Brother Hansen has practically recuperated from his recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nies and Virginia recently spent a few days in Nevada, on their way home from visits with friends and relatives in Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, and other points. As it will be remembered, Brother Nies was for some time treasurer of the Iowa Conference.

ence and manager of the sanitarium, and is now connected with the Washington, D. C., Sanitarium as treasurer and business manager.

The life in which the fear of the Lord is cherished will not be a life of sadness and gloom.—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 163.

Temperance Issue Going

Our people are having some very fine experiences in the distribution of the Temperance issue of the SIGNS OF THE TIMES. Elder L. F. Passebois, retired, has visited more than fifty ministers in the district where he lives in South California. Several have invited him to speak in their churches, and many are asking for quantities of the Temperance SIGNS. Elder Crane, Waco, Texas, with the help of the little church there, has found a fine interest as they have placed this SIGNS in the hands of the leaders of other organizations. They will now send it to each of 500 school teachers.

"I want you to know that our church put out its 6000 Temperance SIGNS", said Elder A. E. Place in San Jose, California, a few days ago, adding—"and I distributed 200 of them." Elder Place had the day before passed his 82nd birthday.

The first edition of 250,000 copies of this issue have now gone, and another 50,000 are being printed. A mighty work for good can be done with this issue, if in every church a little time is given for plans to use it. Besides giving direct protective personal help, you will, by the influence of this work, strengthen every other line of missionary endeavor you are carrying forward. A thousand copies cost only $15.00; or by the hundred, $2.00 per hundred.

Orders from the Northern Union to the close of June totaled 7,680; representing the Conferences as follows: Iowa, 3000; Minnesota, 1680; North Dakota, 2000; South Dakota, 1000.
