An Urgent Appeal for Missions

"The fast fulfilling signs of the times declare that the coming of Christ is near at hand. The days in which we live are solemn and important. The Spirit of God is gradually but surely being withdrawn from the earth. . . . The calamities by land and sea, the unsettled state of society, the alarms of war, are portentous. They forecast approaching events of the greatest magnitude."

Just a few day ago, war seemed unavoidable, but the hand of God intervened and checked the powers of war. The angels are holding the winds until God's work is finished in the earth. The needs are great and the time has come to launch out and advance into open fields, but such action requires additional funds. A recent letter from the General Conference treasurer informs us that instead of declaring advance at the coming Autumn Council, there is imminent danger of a cut in world appropriations. For years these benighted souls have been waiting for the gospel story. How much longer shall we keep them waiting? The Lord is ready and the people are prepared for a quick work to be done upon the earth. Our need of consecration and more financial aid. If every church member would shoulder responsibilities and enter the activities of the organization, the work would soon be finished.

The Harvest Ingathering presents wonderful opportunities to secure funds for missions. A love for souls should cause all to join hands and hearts in most earnest endeavors to bring the needed means into the mission treasury. We should study carefully the words of Jesus, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work." This is the opportune hour for the people of God to rally to the call and do their very best in behalf of the needy mission fields.

Counsel From a Great Leader

The counsel given and the plans laid by the veterans in this movement have made Seventh-day Adventists a progressive denomination, and for our guidance and advancement we are still following in the pathway outlined by the faithful pioneers in this blessed hope.

A little over thirty-five years ago Elder A. G. Daniells, who at that time was president of the General Conference, devoted much of his time to building and maintaining a strong colporteur force in every conference throughout the North American Division. Said he—

"You know and we all know that the revival of the canvassing work means the revival of other departments of our work. This work calls into service young men and women who would otherwise turn to the world. It gives them an experience that fits them to be sturdy workers in other departments of the cause. It brings into our churches a missionary spirit. It is the most economical line of work in the denomination. . . . It is the most practical and personal work we are doing. The canvasser goes to the people and he leaves literature along his track. Those who do not purchase, have their attention called in some way to the last message of God to men. . . . Surely a work of this character deserves the most earnest and persistent effort on our part for its revival. I hope you will write this matter up for your conference paper and that you will correspond with every minister and church officer you possibly can. . . for the purpose of arousing the brethren and sisters to take hold of this work. If the month of October could be devoted to earnest efforts in this line, many persons might be induced to take up the work by the first of November. This would give them seven or eight weeks' canvassing before the holidays."

Knowing that you are interested in this line of work and that you are fully aware of the times in which we are living, also the unfinished task which is before us, I appeal to you again to contact your Book and Bible House or field secretary, requesting full detailed information concerning possibilities with the Home Workers' books.

The Registrar's Office

Perhaps to many people a registrar's office seems a place where a person answers a few questions and fills out some blanks, and is thus enrolled as a member of the particular school he has decided to attend. Perhaps they think of it also as a complete record of student's grades in the courses he has chosen.

The registrar's office at Union College is this, and more. From this office are issued to other institutions of higher learning, to medical colleges, to nurses' training schools, and to teacher-certification authorities, transcripts of the credits of former students. In this office are compiled each year summaries of enrollment and other statistics which are used in the institution's own study of some of its problems, and in the many and varied reports that must be made at intervals during the year to the union conference and the General Conference, to educational associations, and to the United States Department of Education and other governmental organizations.

During the summer a great deal of correspondence with young people who are thinking of attending college is handled by the registrar's office group. This "summer campaign" work includes mailing out catalogues, sending application blanks to those desiring them, assembling entrance credentials of applicants for admission, and seeing that each application receives the attention of those whose approval is necessary before a letter of acceptance can be written to the applicant.

The workers in the registrar's office this summer include, besides the registrar, three young women who are working practically full time, and two who work from one-half to two-thirds of their time in this office. One of those who works full time is the president's secretary. She also has charge of keeping up to date the lists of young people to whom information concerning Union College is sent from time to time. Another is employed in issuing transcripts and compiling considerable of the data to be used for statistical purposes. The others assist in the correspondence that is handled through this office and in the various miscellaneous duties incident to the work in any office.

Altogether, the registrar's office is a busy, happy place where a group of young women are earning a part of their college expenses and receiving training that will be useful to them when they have completed their college work.

Ruby E. Lea, Registrar

Never in the history of our In-gathering experience have we been that far along so early in the year; so we have every reason to rejoice. My associate secretaries, Elders Scherr, Hanhardt, Christenson and Loewen, are all smiles as they watch our faithful crews bringing in the funds. They have carried a heavy burden and have been right out in the field from the first days. Presidents of conferences, district leaders, and institutional workers—yes, every member of the church, have made it their first duty to get this campaign over early this year. Yes, it is our last mile.

Nearing the Goal

We hope that Minnesota will have its goal before you read this, and will be on its way to the super goal. By the end of September we had $14,000 reported. The funds came in from every part of the field.

Maplewood Academy had an excellent field day, bringing in close to $500. Elders Reiner, Peugh, Lauda and I went out from the cities for the rally and field day. All gave a good account of themselves and the students were elated at the results. Eighteen cars went out filled with students, and came back with all remaining space filled with produce, in addition to cash. The largest amount of cash brought in by any car was $40.25. The Last Mile

Our voyage is almost over and our destination is now well in sight. For some seven weeks we have pushed on and on hoping to reach the port on time. Some unavoidable delays have come in, and some strange difficulties have had to be encountered, but we are nearing the shore. We can see the banner on the flag pole and visualize the thing we have dreamed of taking form and shape before our very eyes.

This week marks the last mile. The way before us is much shorter than the way behind. Every church can now figure out just how long it will take them to pass their super goal. We cannot, and I believe we will not be satisfied until these goals are all reached.

of Maplewood, we know the full goal will soon be in hand.

Welcome.-- We welcome another fine list of churches to the Honor Roll this week. They are: Williams, Thief River Falls, Pillager, New York Mills, Artichoke, Hancock, Grandy and Maple Plain. And we are happy to have a number of new churches join the Super Honor Roll. They are: Virginia, International Falls, Remer, Bruno, Rochester, Fairbault, Spring Valley, Stewartville, Morgan, St. Cloud, Brooklyn Center, Princeton, and Bethel.

You can see by this that the campaign is not slowing up a bit as Minnesota nears its goal. I want to appeal, to every church and every isolated member to put yourself to the test this week, and pour in enough money to the conference and church treasurers to put our conference over its goal. God will bless us in zealous efforts for His cause.

St. Paul Church Dedication

The members of the St. Paul church are rejoicing that they have been able to pay off the balance of the mortgage which was on the new church property when it was purchased several years ago. The members have given liberally and the Dorcas Society has worked especially hard to help raise these funds, so now all are joyful that this beautiful stone church building is free from debt, and the dedication service together with a "home-coming" celebration to include as many as possible of the former members of the church, is planned for on the week-end of October 29. Further information will be given in the Outlook next week, but this announcement is made so that absent and former members may plan to attend.

C. S. Wiest, Pastor.

Maplewood Questionnaire

Did you know that Monday, October 3, was Maplewood Academy Annual Field Day for Harvest Ingathering?

Did you know that Elder D. E. Reiner, the Northern Union Home Missionary Secretary, was there to assist in making the day a success; and that he, with Professors Heim and Vande Vere, raised over $200 in the business section of Hutchinson?

Did you know that there are still a number of places in Hutchinson for the school to solicit and they are hoping to receive $100 more from the business section?

Did you know that eighteen autos, full of loyal Maplewood students, participated in this great field day?

Did you know that Elders V. E. Peugh, J. C. Christenson and C. H. Lauda, from the Minnesota Conference office, assisted in this field day?

Did you know that this loyal group of students brought in approximately $500 for this world-wide mission work on this field day?

Did you know that the auction held in the evening brought nearly $50.00?

M. V. News

Encouraging reports are coming from Hewitt, where Brother Leon Russell has started a series of meetings with the little M. V. picture machine. We hear that a number of other societies are planning to start a series of meetings soon.

All our M. V. societies are anxious to know who will receive the first, second and third honor banners for this past quarter. These banners will be in the churches by Sabbath, October 15. Albert Lee and the Minneapolis Nor.-Dan. societies are determined to take the first honor banner away from Duluth, but will they? Our Junior societies in our church schools are all anxiously waiting to see who will get the Junior banner.

Excellent reports have reached us the past few days from our M. V. Harvest Ingathering bands. Here they are: Minneapolis Nor.-Dan. $286.00, Mankato $150.00, Duluth $102.00, International Falls $45.00, Winona $44.16, Albert Lea $18.07.

The new 1939 M. V. reading course books have been announced and we are sure you are all awaiting the chance to read these new books.

The Minneapolis North M. V.'s are busy assisting Evangelist Bietz in his series of meetings. They are busy giving out announcements and tracts, ushering for the meetings, and singing in the choir.

Elder Smith is planning on starting a series of meetings in Mankato Sunday night, October 9, and we are sure the M. V.'s there will give him their loyal support.

The Maplewood Academy M. V. society is busy making plans for its progressive classes. The members there are hoping that each student will be invested in at least one class before the close of school. Mr. Orville Iverson, Mr. Richard Wresch and Mr. and Mrs. Roth are leading out in the M. V. work there.

Duluth Harvest Ingathering Facts

The Duluth English church had raised its goal of $600.00 by September 10. By September 24 it had raised $59.40 over its super goal of $709.29.

Ingathering Progress

The first week's Ingathering report show a very encouraging gain over last year. We are almost two months ahead in our campaign of where we were a year ago at this time. A total of $5096.82 has been reported. We are only $1,903.18 short of our super goal.

The Turtle Mountain church was the first to reach its goal this year and other churches with larger amounts have raised their goals. Fargo with a super goal of $650 has raised $677.27 to date. Grand Forks with a super goal of $350 needs only $50 to go over. Valley City lacks $116.47; Jamestown, $217.01; and Bismarck, $209.53. We believe that if we all work we will have it finished by November 5.

Let the isolated members not forget to do their part in this campaign. Your super goal is $350 and you have raised $56.02 to date. Do not put this matter off. The longer you wait, the more difficult it becomes to start. Many who have taken part this year have experienced the blessing of God in a marked manner. The restless condition in Europe seems to indicate that the four angels described in Revelation 7, will soon cease to hold the four winds, and the war clouds will break upon the earth to usher in the closing scenes of time. Some may say, "O, they have made peace," but remember the good Book tells us that when they say peace, then sudden destruction shall come upon them. Let us resolve to be "Minute Men" and do our part NOW!

Ingathering Success

Mrs. Grau and I called on a lumberman here, who was very antagonistic. He demanded our letter from the local chamber of commerce. When I explained that the secretary of the chamber of commerce had been out of town each time we called there, but that his stenographer had approved our work saying that if anyone questioned us, we should refer such to her, he immediately called the chamber of commerce by phone. It so happened that the secretary was in, and the lumberman misrepresented us to him and gave him a severe and strong rebuke. Having finished his phone call, the lumberman started in on us again and wound up by saying he would never give to our work. Well, we left and went immediately to the chamber of commerce, where the secretary very courteously received us. We explained the Harvest Ingathering work to him, but he was well acquainted with it from previous years. He called his committee, who gave their unqualified approval of our work. Then he wrote a fine letter of recommendation, which he gave to us. Armed with this letter, we decided to return to the lumberman. We found him giving instructions to a workman in the shed. But when he saw us approaching, he stood as though rooted to the spot, and his workman walked away. When we came up to him, I presented the letter to him. He read it. Then he said, "That's the way I like to see things done." I said, "That's the way we like to do things too." Then he forgot his previous refusal, reached for his purse and contributed one dollar to the Harvest Ingathering fund. We learned later that this man has always been opposed to us and has never given before. We thanked the Lord for this victory and believe this man will contribute in future years also.

The Bison church week-end meeting was well attended by the isolated believers in that section. God's spirit was present in a marked manner, and renewed consecrations were made to the finishing of the work. May God's blessing rest upon the faithful believers in the northeast district of the conference.

Elder Lauda is recovering from a severe attack of the grippe but is planning to push the Harvest Ingathering work with renewed effort until the goals have been reached in his district.

Elder Hanhardt is recovering very satisfactorily from his injury sustained in the bus accident which happened over a week ago. We hope that soon he may again be out on the firing line, finishing the Harvest Ingathering work.

Elder J. H. Rhoads met with the Huron church Sabbath, October 5.

Elder J. H. Roth spent Sabbath, October 5, with the Ash Grove and Brookfield churches.

Elder K. L. Gant recently spent a week with the Plainview Academy, and both teachers and pupils speak very highly of his visit. We are always glad to have Elder Gant visit the South Dakota Conference.

Elder D. E. Reiner recently came to the South Dakota Conference for a few days of intensive Harvest Ingathering work. He is now helping Brother Gackenheimer in his district. We are looking forward to this district reaching its goal in the next few days.

Plainview Academy had its field day Tuesday, October 4. Ten cars went out from the academy, and the next morning at chapel when the reports were given from the ten different groups, it was found that a little over $400.00 in cash had been gathered in one day, and about $20.00 worth of produce. Elders J. H. Roth and J. H. Rhoads helped in the field day effort. On their way back to Watertown they stopped to canvass Raymond, which town had not been solicited by the car that was assigned that district, due to lack of time.

"So We Can Meet Daddy Again"

I called to deliver a "Bible Readings" in Norwegian. Upon entering the home the mother informed me that her husband had passed away

September 1. As I knew she could not read Norwegian, I suggested bringing in an English book. She replied it was no use for she could not take it after the expense of sickness and death. However, I went out to the car and got one anyway. She became more interested as she looked through it and called her mother, who also became very interested. In a few moments the little fatherless children came from school. They also seemed to appreciate the work. "Mother, why don't you buy it?" they said. The mother replied that she would but that she had no money left to do it with. Then the grandmother said, "I have had to lose many things in this life, but I'm going to make sure of the next one." She wrote a check for the price of the book as she said, "I don't have much left but I believe God will see some way for us to meet the rest of our bills." Before leaving I had prayer with this family, asking God's blessing on their home. It was all a very blessed experience to me. As I was leaving the grandmother said, "Now children, we're going to start at the very first and study all the way through so we can meet daddy again." I hope to meet them all in the kingdom.

Victory day nears—it is almost around the corner. October 15 is the day toward which we have pointed. It is Victory Day. Just now (October 5) there has been reported over $8800.00. This is within striking distance of the goal. Let every member now do his utmost that the supergoal may be reached.

"Over the Line by Fall Council Time" is our aim. We are calling for a full report to reach the office by Monday, October 17 if possible, and by all means not later than Tuesday, October 18. Let us untiringly strive for Victory.

Institutional Consciousness

Recently the Iowa Sanitarium and Hospital Board appointed an efficiency commission to give special study to the various Sanitarium problems. The full Board then met to consider how our health institution might more effectually serve the field. We believe that every Seventh-day Adventist ought to be made conscious of the really excellent facilities at their command. Every Iowa believer should be informed as to the service obtainable. They should know the rates, and not only avail themselves, as necessity may arise, of the benefits that the institution offers at such nominal figures, but encourage others also to come. Our people will not be disappointed in recommending this institution to their friends for it is a place where conscientious service is combined with trained medical skill.

The patient list during September greatly increased and we are confidently look forward to a good fall patronage. Iowa should be more health-conscious. Iowa believers should not only pray for the sanitarium family and the patients at the sanitarium, but they should recommend the sanitarium to their friends and thus enlarge its influence and increase the number it serves.

News Items

Calvin Gordon, who has been located at Onawa, has been transferred to Oelwein, where he is to conduct an evangelistic effort in the near future.

The Harvest Ingathering campaign continues to go forward in a strong way. Elder B. A. Scherr reports that over $9,000 has been raised up to the close of the week ending October 8. Many of the churches are already over the super goal, and the others are hard at work. The prospects are good for reaching the full super goal for the conference as a whole in record time this year.

Eugene Woesner was called to Omaha one day last week to confer with the publishing house men regarding the future of our literature work.

Week of Prayer was observed here in Nevada by the Oak Park Academy students and teachers October 1-8. Elder K. L. Gant, of the Northern Union Conference, had charge of these meetings.

H. W. Niswonger is continuing to meet with marked success in his work with our health, temperance, and character-building literature among the schools of Iowa. His sales thus far this year aggregate $5,981, as compared with approximately $5,800 for the entire year 1937.

A telegram just in from L. P. Knecht reads as follows: "Centerville has super goal. Ottumwa $142. District goal reached."

Prof. M. L. Andreasen, former president of Union College, but now connected with the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary in Washington, D. C., passed through Iowa recently. He spoke at the Nevada church Thursday evening, October 6.

The following were among out-of-town callers at the conference office recently: J. R. Ross and C. E. Bryce-son, of Onawa; Mrs. Frank Birch, of Belle Plaine; Dr. R. L. Mantz, of Cedar Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fillman, of Rockwell City; Elder A. J. Gordon and Miss McSparran, of Des Moines; and Joe Bos, of Marshalltown.

A Colporteur Report

Howard Strickland, one of our colporteurs, reports that, after he had completed the exhibition of his book at one home last week, the man brought out "The Coming King" in the Swedish language. He asked if he might secure one in the English language for his wife. Then he brought out "Patriarchs and Prophets" and "Bible Readings" and told the colporteur that he had been keeping the Sabbath for twelve years, and he had been receiving some of our periodicals during that time.

A little later in the week he met another young man who is afflicted with tuberculosis. He found out that he already had "Bible Readings" and that he liked it very much. Whenever any religious questions come up in their home, they go to the "Bible Readings" to find the correct answer. Brother Strickland believes that this young man too is very much interested, and he felt certain that our literature has had a very good effect upon his life and thinking.

Truly, there is no greater thrill than that of finding people who are interested in this message, and helping them to come closer to the Master. We invite you to take advantage of your opportunities by calling on your friends and neighbors at this time of the year. If you are interested in working with the Home Worker's books or the large subscription books, please communicate with the writer.
