A Warning

Word has just been received from the North Pacific Union that Mr. Rogers and Mr. DeBolt, who both participated in the Rogerite apostasy, are planning to visit various sections in the Northern Union Conference. These men separated themselves from the regular organized work and have banded together as a small group upholding, as they say, righteousness by faith.

The advent movement is progressing and no apostasy can stop it; but the influence and efforts of those apostates who have severed their connection with the organized work has proved detrimental and discouraging to some who have listened to them, hence this warning. The apostle John speaking of apostates, declares: "If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed; for he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds." 2 John 10 and 11.

As partakers of Christ, we are to continue steadfast unto the end. We must not permit any one to shake our faith and confidence in the third angel's message and thus lose the way to salvation. E. H. Oswald

Special Announcement to Dorcas Societies

The cooperation of Dorcas Societies in North America with mission stations, particularly in Africa and China, in the way of sending bandages and other first aid supplies, is meeting with real need. We have received numerous letters from our missionaries requesting that we send on their sincere thanks to all Dorcas Societies and assure them that what they have done, and are still doing, is appreciated beyond words to express. This good work should be continued as far as consistent with the local demands on Dorcas ministry.

For a number of months we have not urged the sending of bandages to interior mission stations in Africa, as we were informed that the shipments became lodged at our headquarters in Capetown, waiting for some means of getting them to the desired destination, which involves transportation by native carriers, long delays and heavy expense. Therefore it hardly seemed practical to urge the sending of shipments to Africa. But at present, the situation has changed, and we wish to bring the matter to the attention of all Dorcas Societies in North America, so they can begin to plan on making shipment to reach Capetown any time between now and the month of April, 1940.

Most of the bandages for Africa have been sent to Mrs. W. L. Davey, of the Luwazi Mission in Nyasaland. From a recent letter written by Sister Davey, we quote as follows:

"Mrs. Davey and I are to have our coastal leave at the end of 1939, and will be at Capetown until early May (1940). We are driving down, and our car has a box body, so there is room for extra parcels, and this will be a good opportunity for us to pick up any packages which may be waiting for us at the Cape. I am especially eager to get worn linens for dressings. Sheets, pillow cases, etc., which are not strong enough for bandages, make excellent dressings. It is true that cotton can be bought here at a price, but the softer used cottons are much preferred. The nurse at the Church of Scotland Mission tells me that they use linens sent from the home churches. The government dispensaries use gauze, but our missions cannot afford that. I have cut up just about everything I can get hold of for that purpose. I know that many of our churches in the homeland would be willing to send on a parcel now and then, if they understood the need here. Every scrap of material is treasured and used over and over again until it finally comes to shreds through repeated washings."

Sister Davey mentions also that paper patterns for dresses, slips, aprons, etc., are a great help in teaching the native girls how to sew and make garments. Anything in the line of stamped goods, with odds and ends of cottons for outline stitch and embroidery would also be appreciated.

Brother and Sister Davey are well known throughout the homeland, and we are sure that many Dorcas Societies will be glad to respond to this new call and make up a box of miscellaneous supplies. All shipments should be sent to Adolph Dorn, Eastern Transportation Agent, 30 Irving Place, New York, N. Y., and marked plainly—"Bandages for the Luwazi Mission—Hold at South African Division Headquarters until called for." Send by mail, express or freight to New York, but be sure that all transportation charges to that point are prepaid. Brother Dorn will send on to Africa without further charge.

A slip inside each box, giving name and address of the Dorcas Society sending the shipment, will make Sister Davey very happy and doubtless bring a personal acknowledgment; and one of her cheery letters, telling of the progress of the work at the Mission, also revealing her undaunted courage in spite of testing conditions, will be ample compensation to any Dorcas Society for united endeavors in rendering assistance along the line suggested.

Divine Guidance to Parents in Training Their Children

The unique and interesting experience recorded in the 13th chapter of Judges is a lesson to all parents for all time. God's people were in bondage. A leader was needed as a deliverer. For this purpose God chose a child yet unborn and sent His angel to interview and instruct the chosen parents. The important responsibilities and duties of parenthood were clearly stated by the angel, with a twice repeated admonition to heed the instruction. When Manoah and his wife sensed their need and responsibility they prayed that the "man of God" might come again and teach them.

Parents have ever needed divine counsel, for there is "no more important field of effort than that committed to the founders and guardians of the home. No work entrusted to human beings involves greater or more far-reaching results than does the work of fathers and mothers."—"Ministry of Healing," p. 351.

The Strength of God's People

The integrity of the home has ever been the strength of God's people. Today, Israel again stands on the threshold of deliverance, and sons and daughters are called and dedicated to its accomplishment. For such a time as this God has multiplied His counsel. By the pen of inspiration, the Lord has sent His messenger to teach us.

All steps of childhood and youth present problems that challenge. "The tender years of childhood are years of heavy responsibility for fathers and mothers."—"Counsels to Teachers," p. 158.

"The lessons that the child learns during the first seven years of its life have more to do with the formation of character than all that it learns in future years."—Mrs. E. G. White in "Signs of the Times," April 8, 1903.

"Great is the responsibility of those who take upon themselves the guidance of a human soul. The true father and mother count theirs a trust from which they can never be wholly released."—Education," p. 280.

Counsel for Home Builders

For home builders there is abundant counsel in the Spirit of prophecy. The section in "Ministry of Healing," dealing with the home, contains some of God's choicest counsel and instruction to the "builders of the home." Build your home upon the cornerstone of divine counsel and the benedictions of peace shall be its crown. Study the blue print of the Master Builder, and your foundations shall be sure.

"Upon fathers as well as mothers rests a responsibility for the child's earlier as well as its later training, and for both parents the demand for careful and thorough preparation is most urgent. Before taking upon themselves the possibilities of fatherhood and motherhood, men and women should become acquainted with the laws of physical development, with physiology and hygiene, with the bearing of prenatal influences, with the laws of heredity, sanitation, dress, exercise, and the treatment of disease; they should also understand the laws of mental development and moral training."—"Education," p. 276.

For Those Who Seek Divine Guidance

For the "teachers of the home" there is a wealth of instruction in the books "Counsel to Parents and Teachers" and "Education." Here the divine philosophy of child-training and character building is unequaled.

The trying period of adolescence demands much of the home counselors. This is a period when understanding, comradeship, association, activities, and wisdom must be whetted to a keen edge if the parents' work is to be crowned with success. For all these and many other responsibilities of parents there is inspired instruction for those who seek divine guidance.

"Happy are the parents whose lives are a true reflection of the divine, so that the promises and commands of God awaken in the child gratitude and reverence; the parents whose tenderness and justice and long-suffering interpret to the child the love and justice and long-suffering of God; and who, by teaching the child to love and trust and obey them, are teaching him to love and trust and obey his Father in heaven. Parents who impart to a child such a gift have endowed him with a treasure more precious than the wealth of all the ages,—a treasure as enduring as eternity."—"Ministry of Healing," pp. 375-6.

Instructor in Nursing Education

Those who plan to take the pre-nursing course at Union College next year may be interested to know that we have secured Miss Dorothy Sampson to connect with the faculty as instructor in nursing education and health. Miss Sampson is a graduate of Washington Missionary College and of the Washington Sanitarium. At present she is supervisor of nurses at the Melrose Sanitarium at Melrose, Massachusetts. We are sorry to have lost Mrs. Jarnes, but we believe that Miss Sampson will give strong leadership to this preparatory department of our college.

Harvest Ingathering

Brother Hudson reports that the Des Moines Philadelphia church is getting a long start on their Harvest Ingathering goal. Their singing band received $7.65 the first night.

Other churches are making rapid strides toward their goals. The camp meeting report will be a thrilling one. Iowa is at work, determined to reach the conference goal in record time.

Final Invitation

Soon you'll be greeting and meeting old friends, exchanging confidences, and enjoying renewed associations. The youth of Iowa will have three glorious days August 24 to 26. The conference session begins August 27. The unusual camp meeting program provides a large variety of inspirational services, so don't fail to be at Cedar Falls to share in and enjoy with friends, the blessings of the 1939 camp meeting.

The Melting Pot

Bring in your old gold and silver with you to the Iowa camp meeting. There is to be received a jewelry collection. Perhaps you have some pieces of jewelry that are still being withheld from the Lord. In many instances the amount offered for these pieces has been very little. Bring them all and put them into the melting pot collection. We will dispose of them to advantage, and the proceeds

To All Who Read German

The series of broadcasts entitled "Timely Messages of the Holy Spirit," now being presented by the Radio Bible School over WHO (Dial 1000), is being translated into the German and will appear in our weekly German paper, "Zeichen der Zeit." J. B. Penner writes, "The first article will appear in the issue dated August 14." If you read the German or if you have friends who read it, why not subscribe at once to the "Zeichen der Zeit?" It is but $1.75 for the full year. Have your subscription commence with No. 32. The Iowa Book and Bible House will be glad to handle your order.

Spirit of Prophecy Quiz

Are you eagerly looking forward to the time when the following statement will meet its complete fulfillment? "Servants of God, with their faces lighted up and shining with holy consecration, will hasten from place to place to proclaim the message from heaven. By thousands of voices, all over the earth, the warning will be given. Miracles will be wrought, the sick will be healed, and signs and wonders will follow the believers."

Where is this reference? Are you familiar with the instruction of the servant of God? Are you Spirit of prophecy-conscious? If this people ever needed the inspired volumes, it is now. The excerpt quoted above is to be found in "Great Controversy," page 612.

Just a further word. The Spirit of prophecy books will be offered at unusual discounts at the Iowa camp meeting. Now is the time to obtain these writings or to complete your Spirit of prophecy library by securing any volume or volumes you now lack.

DeWitt S. Osgood

A Last Reminder

Camp meeting begins this week, and we hope you decide to come even if not at the beginning. When you come, be sure to bring your song books, and especially those containing appropriate special selections. Also, if you play an instrument suitable for an orchestra be sure to bring it.

Then when you arrive at the camp ground, do not wait for the music director to search you out and draft you into service, but go to him and tell him what you have in the way of instruments, special musical selections, etc. Then we will all work together to make the music program an outstanding feature of the Iowa camp meeting. We'll be looking for you!

Youth's Congress

All Iowa youth are hereby given last-minute notice of the Youth's Congress to be held in connection with the camp meeting at Cedar Falls, Iowa, August 24 to 26. Registration begins Thursday afternoon, August 24.

On Sabbath, August 26, there will be several inspiring and interesting things for all the young people; and our program for the three-day congress includes reports from the M. V. Society leaders of the conference, an investiture service, a series of talks on the beginnings of the advent movement, and studies on the closing events of the world's history, based on the Spirit of prophecy. This gathering will also afford you an opportunity to enjoy association with young people from all Iowa.

Rates are not high. Meals can be had for as low as twenty-five cents, and rooms are available at fifty cents a night where two occupy a room. A reduction from this rate is given if you bring your own bedding.

My earnest prayer is that this will be a time of real spiritual refreshing and inspiration to do great things for God. You will miss something worthwhile if you are not at the Iowa Youth's Congress.

Warning to Churches and Isolated Believers

Word has just been received that a group of former Seventh-day Adventists, who apostatized in the North Pacific Union, are planning to make a tour of Minnesota. Their desire is to enter the pulpits of our churches and destroy the confidence of our members in some of the fundamental principles of our faith.

You should refuse to allow any stranger to enter your pulpit, unless he holds up-to-date credentials from one of our conferences, or a recommendation from your local conference president or secretary.

If any one comes to your home and claims to have new light, beware, for self-appointed reformers have been visiting our churches recently. They may visit your home tomorrow. Many deceivers are about in these last days. They may seem very earnest and conscientious, but nevertheless they may be wolves in sheep's clothing.

Sabbath School

Sabbath, August 5, a new Sabbath school was added to the Minnesota group. There were seventeen people gathered at the Wilcox home near Harris, Minnesota, for the purpose of organization. Officers were elected, and a time and place for meeting regularly were chosen.

That particular locality being known as Peaceful Valley, it was decided to call the new organization the Peaceful Valley Sabbath school. We hope and pray that the name will be significant of the sweet communion there is in fellowship among those who study God's Word.

Harvest Ingathering

Good news regarding Harvest Ingathering comes to the office daily from all over the conference. It is indeed gratifying to note the enthusiastic way in which district leaders, church officers, members, and isolated believers are rallying to the Harvest Ingathering work.

When I called on Sister Sorenson at Pelican Rapids the other day, she said, "We didn't know whether or not we would get help in our Harvest Ingathering, so we went at it." "How did you get along?" was my question. "The girls and I, together, have around $75.00 now, and we plan to work still more." "Have the offerings you received been liberal ones?" I inquired. "No, our largest offering was two dollars."

A district judge I used to know, kept above his desk the following motto: "Do it now." A business man in a small town said to us the other day, "If you had come a month earlier, I would have given you five dollars, but now my budget is all used up. Come earlier next year, and I will give."

Have you done your part? Do it now; at least to the extent of $11.89.

Christian Education

"True wisdom lies in gathering the precious things out of each day as it goes by." And it is true wisdom that Christian schools want to give to the young people of our generation. Christian education — Maplewood, for example—offers training for the "head, heart, and hand." It teaches the young people to gather "the precious things out of each day as it goes by"—the precious things intellectually, spiritually, and physically.

Every one agrees that book learning is of little value in life unless the learned person is able to apply it to practical living, which requires also abilities in industrial lines.

Many experiences are known to each of you wherein formerly successful people have lost fortunes; others are living aimless lives; and still others have taken themselves out of this chaotic world. Certainly the man who has the peace of God in his heart and who lives for others, is the happiest man alive. For this reason Christian education has as one of its fundamental principles, that of instilling in the hearts of young people faith in a living God.

Christian education offers human knowledge and divine blessings that can be found no where else. Let us all work and pray for the schools which God Himself has founded.

Canvassers' Experience

"A family of four who learned of the truth through 'Signs' and 'Bible Readings' for the Home Circle' are now attending the Sabbath services. The husband and wife have taken their stand and are planning to be baptized soon."

"This week several told me at the door that if I was selling something they didn't have any money; but when I explained to them what I was doing they were glad to make down payments."

"The lady to whom we sold 'Bible Readings' last Monday morning is convinced of the true Sabbath."

"The young lady who purchased the Catholic Bible is taking Bible studies with us, and another young woman took her first study with Sister Cummings last Friday. She had invited a friend in for our study, and she also enjoyed it. There are two more interested families who haven't as yet consented to receive studies. I cannot help praising God for these encouraging results."

Dear friend, you may gain experiences such as these in the canvassing work in Minnesota.

Church Dedication

Arrangements have now been completed for the dedication of the Batesland church. The first service will be held on Friday evening, September 8, at 8 o'clock. On Sabbath there will be an all-day service with the dedication following on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Elder E. H. Oswald of the union conference will be present, also others.

We trust the nearby churches will be represented, also the isolated in the district. Come and let us worship the Lord together.

Red Shirt Table

Perhaps most of our people have not heard about the church building which is being erected on the Pine Ridge Reservation at Red Shirt Table for our Sioux Indian brethren.

Elder J. A. Estey has been spending the most of his time since camp meeting in erecting this church. He has been doing it largely by himself, however Everett Marley and our Indian brethren assisted in erecting the frame work and in pouring the foundation.

On August 6, I left Watertown to join Brother Estey for a week. When I arrived at Red Shirt Table I found a building 22 x 30 feet practically completed. During the week I was there we enclosed the building so it could be left until after the Harvest Ingathering campaign, when we will have a group of workers there to complete the building in about ten days. This fall it is planned to hold a series of meetings for our Indian brethren and those interested in the truth. Remember the work at this place.

Harvest Ingathering

We are greatly encouraged by the way our members are taking hold of the Harvest Ingathering. Up to date we have reported $1669.00 of our $7000.00 goal. This is almost one-fourth of the total amount to be raised.

Brother Reile is within $100.00 of reaching his district goal. Sioux Falls has $343.35, and by the time this report is given, they will have more than $500.00. Elder A. V. Rhoads, our conference president, has been working with the Sioux Falls church, and reports that they are very enthusiastic about their campaign. Elder Lauda has his district stirred and Madison reports over $100.00, so they have over $200.00 in Brother Lauda's district. Huron is also very busy and they have $165.00.

Watch for the bulletin that will be published this coming week, and you will find that South Dakota is making excellent progress. I hope that every one will do his best to complete the Ingathering by October 7.

With Our Colporteurs

One of our faithful colporteurs writes as follows:

"My final week is nearly over, and I look back on my work with a thankful heart that God has given me so many blessings. I find myself during the day raising my heart to God for a special blessing and for experiences that will help me in my life's work. God has led me into many good experiences during these last three weeks, and I have had the opportunity to pray with several people and tell them of the wonderful love of our Saviour. I know that God has called me into the colporteur work. However, at times I have been tempted to become discouraged; but I have now yielded to this temptation, for I feel that in the colporteur work, discouragement is a sin of the highest degree."

Does the colporteur work pay? Yes, it not only pays financially, but it also pays rich dividends in spiritual blessings. Will you not pray for these ambassadors of Jesus Christ?

"Present Truth" for August

No. 87. Sanctuary Service: The 2300-day prophecy of Daniel 8:14 and the fulfillment of its various parts is, to many, the most convincing proof of the inspiration of the Bible. This portion of the judgment-hour message makes a strong appeal to forsake iniquity and prepare to meet the Lord with sins forgiven.

No. 88. The Sabbath: This historical prophecy of Daniel 7 foretold in symbols the course of empires, bringing to light the work of the religio-political power represented by a great and terrible beast under whose dominion an attempt would be made to change times and laws. This was exposed a bold attempt to destroy the Sabbath of the fourth commandment, substituting for it the day of pagan sun worship. Those who read this paper will know exactly where rests responsibility for the change of the Sabbath and what will be the result of disobeying God's law.

"Present Truth" subscriptions, including the 24 issues of the 1939 series, are only 35 cents. (In District of Columbia, Canada, and foreign, 60 cents.) Relatives and friends to whom you send the paper will receive the cardinal doctrines of the third angel's message in their logical, convincing order, one paper every two weeks for the next 12 months. Send a list of names today to your Book and Bible House.

Save Our Youth

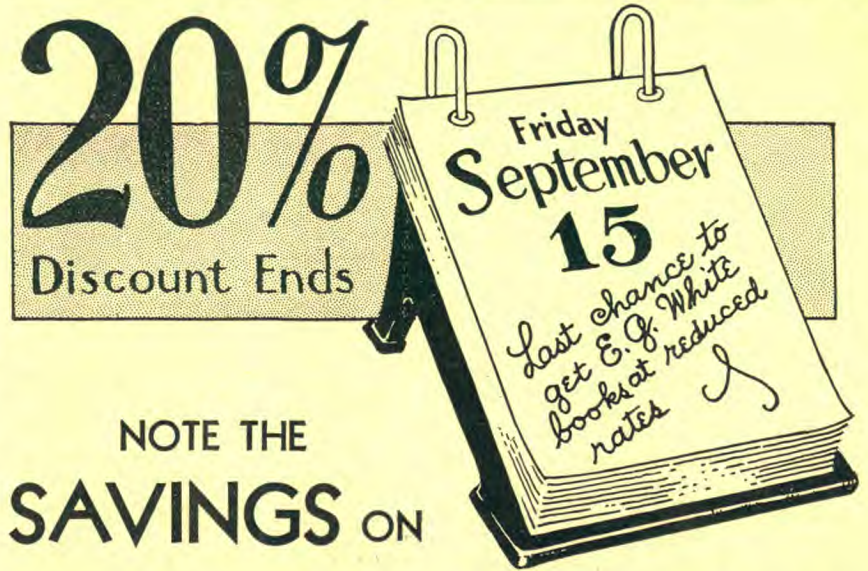

The "Youth's Instructor" is the friend of young people, and this is one friendship that always draws them closer to God. One reader wrote recently: "I enjoy the 'Instructor' very much indeed. In every issue there is something special for me."

Only a few copies of the "Instructor" are needed to establish the beginning of a life-long friendship. The thirteen issues of September, October, and November will be sent to new subscribers for only 25 cents. Order now for those to whom you wish the "Instructor" sent, for all three months' subscriptions at this special price will begin with the first issue in September and expire the end of November. Send names for 25-cent subscriptions to your Book and Bible House.

The Temperance "Signs"

Of an edition of 300,000 copies of the temperance "Signs of the Times" less than 40,000 copies still remain in stock, and orders are coming in at the rate of from ten to twelve thousand copies a week. This suggests another printing order soon.

This very complete issue, dealing everywhere. From the state headquarters of the W.C.T.U. in Connecticut we have just had a second order Sorenson—Mrs. Christine Sorenson was born January 31, 1858, and died at the home of her son, Elder C. P. Sorenson, Takoma Park, D. C. July 19, 1939. She came to America in 1893, where a short time after her arrival she accepted the Adventist faith at Exira, Iowa, her brother, Chris Juhl already being an Adventist. After the death of her first husband, she married Elder Soren Sorenson in 1897, and together they labored until 1916, when he passed away. Prior to her decease she was ill for five weeks. Then she fell asleep in Jesus, her work being done. Quietly she lived, and quietly she died, but with bright hope of a blessed resurrection soon to come. The funeral service was conducted by the writer.

Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.

If You Failed to Arrive

If, after a hard summer of work, your plan to attend the academy or college has failed for this year, it is discouraging when you are anxious to complete your course.

Hundred have traveled this way before. Some gave up in discouragement, and now wish they had gone ahead. Others took advantage of help offered through the Home Study Institute, and went ahead with their studies, thus losing no time. What are you going to do? Perseverance wins out, so write us of your desires and needs, and we will gladly respond with a letter giving particulars, and so help to make the school year a happy one for you.

Even though you cannot be in the class room, you can still secure the necessary studies, and also earn money for attendance at school later on.

Write now, get started early, and you will have your credits in due time.
