"Why Every Seventh-day Adventist Should Read and Reread Great Controversy"

The book, "The Great Controversy" given us by God, contains the message which correctly interprets the great developments now taking place around us, and instructs us how to meet them. The judgments of God in the seven last plagues will soon fall upon the ungodly. Now is our last opportunity to call sinners to repentance. The world-wide proclamation of the everlasting gospel in the setting of the third angel's message of Revelation 14, is our work. God sends us to speedily give the final warning against the beast, his image, and his mark, and the divine call of complete obedience to all the commandments in preparation for the coming of our Lord. This is the work of Seventh-day Adventists.

Especially are the closing scenes of the final struggle between the forces of good and the forces of evil graphically pictured in the last chapters of "Great Controversy." Through the gift of the Spirit of prophecy the very last acts in the drama of the ages are brought vividly before us in this book. Every Seventh-day Adventist should treasure this precious volume and read and reread now its blessed contents.

The imminence of the coming of the Lord and our need of a complete preparation for the solemn event, demand that we study God's final counsel given through the Spirit of prophecy. We must now be gathering strength for the time of trouble. The Revelator said that "the whole world wondered after the beast." Rev. 13:3. The whole world will be deceived. Shall we? Yes, unless we clearly understand the issues involved in the great struggle before us. Where else do we have so clear a statement of the principles involved in the terrible conflict as in the concluding chapters of "Great Controversy"? Nowhere!

The spirits of demons are stirring the instruction of and companionship the nations to the last conflict. Satan himself will seek to counterfeit the actual coming of Christ. All will be deceived but those who understand the Scriptures. All this is portrayed in "Great Controversy."

The awful fact that the Spirit of God is rapidly being withdrawn from the earth is indicated by the world-wide deeds of violence and the most fearful threatenings of war. This soul-stirring thought makes it imperative that we individually and immediately acquaint ourselves with these great final counsels. The tremendous fact that the Lord, through His chosen messenger, declared that this book, "Great Controversy," more clearly states the final dangers and the refuge from them, than any other book written by the Spirit of prophecy, is a divine call for everyone to study and circulate this book as never before.

The following words from the author of the book should impress upon all of our hearts the most earnest necessity for prayerfully reading and rereading this book: "Through the illumination of the Holy Spirit, the scenes of the long-continued conflict between good and evil have been opened to the writer of these pages. From time to time I have been permitted to behold the working, in different ages, of the great controversy between Christ the prince of life, the author of our salvation, and Satan the prince of evil, the author of sin, the first transgressor of God's holy law. . . . As the Spirit of God has opened to my mind the great truths of His word, and the scenes of the past and the future, I have been bidden to make known to others that which has thus been revealed,—to trace the history of the controversy in past ages, and especially so to present it as to shed a light on the fast-approaching struggle of the future."—"Great Controversy," pp. 10-11.

"Great Controversy" should be very widely circulated. It contains the story of the past, the present, and the future. In its outline of the closing scenes of this earth's history, it bears a powerful testimony in behalf of the truth. I am more anxious to see a wide circulation for this book than for any others I have written; for in 'Great Controversy' the last message of warning to the world is given more distinctly than in any of my other books."—Ellen G. White Letter 281, 1905.

Let us thoughtfully read and reread "Great Controversy."

"Sermon's in Stones; Beauty in Everything"

The Nature Crafts Institute, which was held at Maplewood Academy, Hutchinson, Minnesota, August 7 to 17, afforded opportunity for the church school teachers and M. V. Society leaders in the union conference, to spend some time away from their routine duties in communion with God, with nature, and in training to help the young people in a practical way.

The crafts laboratory, where, under the direction of Mr. Stone from Union College, we learned to make things with our hands, was always a busy place, as instruction in various crafts formed an important part of our program. Instruction in leather, wood and metal crafts was appreciated by all, and many were the lessons of perseverance learned while hammering a piece of metal or braiding strands of leather!

Someone has remarked, and truly, "Blessed is he who has been apprenticed to a craft and taught to preach beauty with his hands."

On the opening evening of the institute, H. W. Clark of Pacific Union College, emphasized the importance of nature study by stressing the relationship voiced in the expression "Through nature to nature's God." And, surely, those of us who were privileged to spend ten days under with such nature students as Mr. Clark, Mr. Schilling, and Miss Brasier, felt that the purpose of the instruction was being realized. God seemed very near in the cool of the day as a small group waited silently at the edge of a lake, watching for birds. We heard His voice speaking to our hearts in the song of the birds, the symmetry of the trees, the perfection of the delicate flowers, the beauty of the fragile butterfly wings, and in the silent music of the stars at night.

Our eyes were opened. We saw that perhaps the reason why nature holds no appeal for many is that we too often try to preserve it by embalming it in a book, by studying about nature rather than studying nature itself.

We studied such statements as this from "Counsels to Teachers": "While the Bible should hold the first place in the education of children and youth, the book of nature is next in importance." We recognized as part of God's program, the plan of leading the boys and girls to Him through nature—His works.

We were brought to a realization of the fact that a study of nature is not a substitute for the artificial pleasures of life, but rather that the artificial pleasures have become a substitute for nature, which is the real thing!

In a practical way our field trips taught us the truth of the statement that "By communion with God in nature, the mind is uplifted and the heart finds rest." And somehow, as we said good-bye to the Nature Crafts Institute, we felt inspired to carry into the highways and byways of the Middle-West, the gospel of nature, which is the gospel of Christ.

What Students Think of Union

During the school year at "Old Union" some interesting statements voluntarily appear in the papers written by students in the English department. The teachers sometimes wonder how the students are reacting to the institution, and it is refreshing to read these expressions as they appear from time to time. Some refer to the high spiritual and scholarship standards maintained. Some appreciate the privilege of associating with other youth of like faith. Others constantly sense the purpose of the school as expressed by the silent but impressive message of the "Golden Cords." Let me share with you a few fragments of the expressions. These may

A Sure Harvest

The sowers of the gospel seed can rest assured that there is a harvest coming, provided the sowing is done in God's way. "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy." No one can expect to accomplish great things in this life who does not put his heart into the effort. Shallow, superficial work in seed sowing is like throwing the seed by the wayside or among stones; it will not produce a good crop—the desired results.

The Harvest Ingatherer must take things seriously as he works along day by day. If he works hard, prays earnestly, and continues to study to be more efficient, he will surely succeed. God cannot bless careless work in any line and most assuredly not in the work for souls.

Another week lies before us. Let us take up our work most earnestly and pray for God's blessing.

seem somewhat disconnected but each conveys the thought of a student in his or her own words.

"Union College appeals to me as a school of fairness. I like the idea of every student's having an equal chance. Here at Union, all students have equality in social, scholastic, and extra-curricular activities. This is true even though a student may be obliged to work most or all of his way through school."

"I like the standards upheld by Union and the opportunity it offers of associating with those who are striving to make this a better world in which to live."

"Union College is a friendly school. Not only does the friendliness of the students appeal to me, but also the personal interest taken in each student by the faculty members."

"The Friday evening vesper hour gives us the opportunity to pause in the hurry and bustle of college life and to sit in quiet meditation about things spiritual."

"At Union the students are like a group of mountain climbers tied together by the bond of friendship. We all hope to reach the top. If one slips or falls, someone pulls from the front and another pushes from the rear and soon the student is back on solid footing again. We have a guide, too. Some educational institutions disregard the guide, but we at Union follow our guide, Jesus Christ. Although He may seem at times to lead us over rough roads and through unnecessary hardships, we find that by following Him, we travel the only sure route to the top."

Whenever I see the golden cords hanging in the front of the chapel, I am reminded of my purpose in being at Union."

Many other excerpts could be given but this gives a cross section of the students' reaction to and appreciation of a school of God's planting.

Spiritual Leadership

The time has arrived when church members and officers should be planning definitely for earnest study along the lines of spiritual leadership. Doubtless many are now endeavoring to perform the various duties of church officers which have been placed upon them. Others will be asked to take positions as church officers in the near future. Why not start at once to organize a study group in your church, and study carefully the work and responsibilities of the various duties connected with each office?

If each member who is given responsibility understands fully his respective duties, and carries them out, conditions would change greatly in many churches. There would be a better understanding between pastor and members. More work would be accomplished, and a greater spirit of helpfulness manifest everywhere.

Why not write for full particulars at once with reference to the organization of such groups. The times demand more earnest, faithful, and intelligent service from each member. The rates are so low that each one can take these studies, and thus help in building up the work of God in His church.

Harvest Ingathering

District leaders and churches are making remarkable progress in the Harvest Ingathering. Already, August 30, seventeen churches are over the super goal, and a number more are over the basic goal. More than 100 minute man pins have been sent out and 40 ribbon awards of $25.00 and $50.00 each. Experience is teaching us that it is better to do our Harvest Ingathering early.

Regardless of what we do in a financial way, we should all strive to put in the ten hours of effort. No one needs to fail in this goal, as even the aged and shut-ins may do it by letter writing, and soliciting those who call on them. Ten hours of time spent in this great missionary enterprise will refresh and inspire anyone.

Let us remember, as we go about this appointed work, that we are on a good-will tour, bearing good news to a needy people.

A Sabbath Morning at Crookston

Sabbath, August 26, a goodly number of believers in that section of District No. 1 convened at Crookston. At the appointed time for the meeting, visitors from Lockhart, Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls drove up in front of the home of Brother and Sister Sundean, together with the local believers. Among the latter were the colporteur-evangelists, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cunningham, who are doing a good work in that city. A most interesting Sabbath school was conducted by Sister Sundean. She also favored us with a beautiful song accompanied by Brother Sundean. The after meeting was conducted by the writer and the topic was, "The Free Grace of God." After the meeting we all went out to a near-by park where, surrounded by the beauties of nature, we remained until sunset. After the Sabbath was ended, Brother Sundean invited us all into his large apiary, where we were comfortably seated while viewing a number of beautifully colored moving pictures taken during his recent and extensive travels in old Mexico and the World's Fair in San Francisco. Of special interest to us were the various views of the large Mexican pyramid with its places of sun-worship and many large altars, where human sacrifices had been offered on a large scale. We all went home happy feeling that we had spent a profitable Sabbath together and also increased our knowledge by seeing so many beautiful educational pictures.

Iowa's Youth Congress

An excellent and rather unusual youth's congress was conducted by Elder W. A. Howe and his associates in the Iowa Conference just preceding their annual camp meeting at Cedar Falls, Iowa. There was a fine group of young people there who were faithful in their attendance at all the meetings. A spirit of sincerity and deep devotion permeated the congress, and it was noticeable that practically all the young people remained for prayer band at the close of the Morning Watch hour each day.

E. N. Dick of Union College gave a series of studies on the early advent movement, and the writer followed this with studies on the order of events from 1844 to the end, as outlined in the Bible and Spirit of prophecy. Elders Wells and Stevens of the General Conference and Elder Oswald, the union conference president, as well as the other local workers present, gave very fine support. The Sabbath morning service was conducted by Elder Wells, at which time a very impressive revival service was held, and scores went forward either for the first time or for reconsecration when the appeal was made.

The very serious situation between the nations of Europe added solemnity to the congress and camp meeting which followed, and all who attended were greatly blessed by this spiritual feast.

A Visit to Aberdeen

I was very much impressed with my visit to the Aberdeen church last week as I assisted them in the Harvest Ingathering. This church, under the leadership of Brother Hohensee, is doing a fine work and the Lord is blessing their efforts. The home missionary department, under the leadership of Mrs. Hazel Kemper, is pushing right ahead in Harvest Ingathering. What fine prestige these people have with the business men was shown by the way money came in for the campaign. In about a week's time we had $227.00 in the treasury. One mother, who is working to send her daughter to the academy, stopped long enough to work a whole day in the business section, and then at night went out in the singing band. The singing band, under the leadership of Sister Kemper, is doing excellent work and in a short time raised over $16.00.

We believe the secret of the success of this church is their faithfulness to the organization. Wednesday evening there was a good attendance at prayer meeting; also on Friday evening at the young people's meeting and Sabbath school teacher's meeting; again on Sabbath morning before Sabbath school there was a brief prayer service for the day's meeting, then, an excellent missionary service between Sabbath school and the church service. The Dorcas society, under the leadership of Mrs. Elsie McKeon and Mrs. Alice Chapman, sent in very good quarterly reports of what they accomplished this past year. It was an inspiration to meet with these dear believers. Watch them go over the top in Harvest Ingathering!

Sabbath School News Items

Mrs. W. H. Hohensee, 614 S. Third, Aberdeen, South Dakota, is making birthday ribbons for Sabbath school and selling them at 3 cents each or 8 for 25 cents. They are very pretty and any school that wishes some may order them from Sister Hohensee. They are about eight inches long and have the birth date and year, full name, also a little picture and Bib'e verse on them, in addition to a Bible reference. I am sure if Sabbath school superintendents could see these beautiful birthday ribbons they would order some for their classes.

We are happy to hear reports of the investment fund in our Sabbath schools. It will soon be time for the fall investment program and we are hoping that South Dakota will be at the top in this important work. We would like to appeal to every member to start planning now to bring in the investment money at the time of this program. Let us see what we can do in South Dakota!

B. A. Scherr

News Items

The conference office has been rather quiet this past week as every one except the stenographers was out in the field. Brethren Rhoads and Scherr were out in the interest of the Ingathering campaign, while brethren Brown and Perkins were assisting our colporteurs with their deliveries. With all kinds of books going out into the field and Ingathering funds coming in almost daily, the workers are greatly encouraged. By the time this is read in the field we will have reached more than half of our Ingathering goal.

Do not forget to pay your One Per Cent. The field has just become acquainted with the One Per Cent plan and a number are regularly paying on this fund.

Going Forward

One year most always differs from another in some respect. In a large part of North Dakota, crop and weather conditions have been better this year than for a long time. This is a year of fair crops and flourishing gardens in some sections which have suffered severely from drouth conditions during recent years. Many of our dear people, especially those on the farms, are still kept quite busy gathering in their field and garden crops, but they will soon be through with that and have time to take care of the annual Ingathering for the Lord.

Some of those who have not as yet taken part in this campaign, are wondering just how the Ingathering work is going. People, generally speaking, are able to contribute more liberally this year and the experience of those who have been Ingathering, I believe is expressed in the following words: "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Our people are moving forward this year—yes, receiving donations, in many instances, above what they did last year. As we think of the most critical situation in which the world finds itself today, I am sure that a still greater number of our members will want to press right in to help finish the Lord's work.

Miss Velma Sperling of Sykeston, North Dakota, was united in marriage to Mr. Edwin E. Picha of Wayzata, Minnesota, at the home of the bride's parents on August 26, 1939. Mr. Ernest Theiss played the wedding march by Richard Wagner, and Mildred Sperling, sister of the bride, sang "O Promise Me." The writer officiated.

In the evening a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. On the following day the newly wedded couple left for Wayzata where Mr. Picha is employed, and where they will make their future home.

"Present Truth" for September

No. 89

"Seal of God and Mark of the Beast." To those who have read former numbers dealing with the law, the covenants, the Sabbath, the sanctuary, and the judgment, this issue of the "Present Truth" will come as a distinct call to obey God rather than men. The most skeptical will find ample evidence that the true Sabbath is the seal of God's authority and that Sunday-keeping is the mark of papal assumed authority. The article, "Is God Particular?" shows how important it is that men choose the seal of God rather than the mark of the beast.

No. 90

"Religious Liberty." It is fitting that the subject of religious liberty be studied in connection with the seal of God and the mark of the beast, for the beast power has and will again attempt to force acceptance of his mark by civil power. All should be forewarned and forearmed by the knowledge of the struggle for religious liberty through the ages, and present day restrictions that tend to destroy our liberties.

Be sure your relatives and friends have opportunity to read the logical, convincing presentation of the message in 1939 series of the "Present Truth." Subscriptions entered now will begin with the first issue of January and one paper will be mailed every two weeks, thus giving opportunity to read and study each subject thoroughly before the next is received. The 24 issues will be supplied for only 35 cents. (District of Columbia, Canada and foreign, 60 cents.) Order from your Book and Bible House.

OBITUARIES

Jacobson.—Sophia Jacobson Naylor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jakobson, was born April 28, 1876, and died at her home near Claremont, Minnesota, on August 15, 1939. Born in Denmark, she came to this country with her parents in 1884 and later married Mr. Charles Naylor. To this union was born four sons: Harold, Adelbert, Ernest and Paul. Mrs. Naylor was of a religious nature, and she found much comfort in reading the Bible, prayer and in telling others the comforts of the Word. Besides a large circle of friends and distant relatives, she leaves to mourn: her beloved companion; four sons; thirteen grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Mary Larson of Owatonna; and one brother, James Jacobson of St. Peter, Minnesota. Services were held in the S. D. A. church at Owatonna, where her parents and family worshipped in the earlier days.

J. W. Christian

Johnson.—Gust Johnson was born in Sweden June 3, 1873 and died in Minneapolis August 16, 1939. He surrendered his life to Christ and was baptized into the church last December. He read his Bible faithfully and surely loved his Lord, although failing health hindered his attendance at church. He leaves, besides his widow, two sons and two grandchildren.
