Week of Sacrifice and Annual Offering

W. B. OCHS, Vice-President for North America

Sabbath, November 18, has been set aside by the General Conference Committee as the Week of Sacrifice and Annual Offering Sabbath. The annual Week of Prayer is always welcomed by the people of God. It is a time when we should in a very special way search our own hearts to see where we stand in our relation to God and to our fellow men. During this Week of Prayer we should seek the Lord most earnestly for an outpouring of the latter rain, that the work of God might be finished in all parts of the world field. The times in which we live, the uncertainty of life itself, and the deplorable conditions all about us, demand that we as the remnant people seek the Lord as we have never done before.

We can make this the best Week of Prayer in our own experience if we choose to do so. As we read the messages prepared by the leaders may we receive that blessing of which we stand so much in need, and may they help us to sense the need of sacrificing more that the gospel might be proclaimed with power. All about us there are thousands who do not know this message. They must be reached. Through our sacrificial giving we can help in the proclamation of the gospel. The demands were never greater and the opportunities never more promising for real advance work.

Prayer and sacrifice always go together. The more we pray, the more we are willing to give. A praying church is always a giving church. We greatly appreciate the loyalty of all our believers in supporting the cause of God. This work began in sacrifice and we are told that it will end in sacrifice. Sacrifice is based on whole-hearted consecration. When we are willing to sacrifice self, thus yielding all to God, then no sacrifice of our means will be too great.

May this be a good Week of Prayer in the lives of all our people. And as the Annual Offering is taken, shall we not determine to make a real sacrifice that the work of the Lord may soon be finished?

Our Greatest Evangelism

By L. K. DICKSON, Vice-President

The spontaneous response which came from the thousands of leaders and believers gathered together at the General Conference Session in San Francisco to the appeal to double our membership in the next four years, was both remarkable and gloriously portentous. Under the influence of the Holy Spirit which was so manifest at that great session, a new determination laid hold of our leaders to bring about a realization of this great possibility of membership increase. Never were the following words of the messenger of the Lord so true as now:—"Many are on the verge of the kingdom, waiting only to be gathered in." Acts of the Apostles, p. 109.

To gather in these precious souls we must now bring all our methods, institutions and organizations into perfect coordination in order to carry out rapidly and efficiently this great denominational program. This new dominant note in our leadership around the world looks forward to an immediate rising to new heights in evangelism in its most intense form. There is a strong conviction resting upon us all that God is calling and waiting for a greater response on the part of His people toward a finished work of evangelism than the church has yet given. Our determination is to give that response whole-heartedly and Now.

From the Autumn Council

The day preceding the regular opening session of the Autumn Council was filled with services of a devotional nature emphasizing our great need of a larger measure of the Holy Spirit's power in both our personal and public efforts to finish the gospel work. Those present at these services all united in seeking the Lord most earnestly to be completely cleansed from self and sin also to make a deeper consecration than ever before to the Lord for faithful service.

The devotional service each morning of the Council and then the Sabbath services yesterday, as this is being written on Sunday morning, were a continuation of the same general theme, of a closer walk with God so that nothing may hinder the Holy Spirit's using us in a mighty concerted effort to finish the Lord's work in the earth Now. The Lord has promised grace for every need and adequate power to complete the work quickly, but first we need to utilize fully the resources He has already placed at our command and the power already made available to us. We must be fully consecrated to His service so that we may be used by His Spirit as never before. This spirit of consecration was manifestly evident on the part of the leaders attending the Council, and as they return to their respective fields of labor it is to be expected that this spirit of full consecration will be communicated to the other workers and the laity throughout the world field. A. R. SMOUSE.

We are greatly encouraged to learn how this new determination is laying hold of all our leaders around the world and we believe 1951 will see such plans worked out as to bring about a storming of the enemy's strongholds such as has not been seen since Pentecost. Every means and method, old and new, are to be now harnessed for the final assault, under the inspiration and power of the Holy Spirit.

It is well for us to note what this will all mean. What will be the result in devotion and activity throughout our ranks? It means that in every church, every conference, and every institution in our work around the world, supreme efforts will now be focused upon this one great reason for our existence as a people. It will mean that every church board, every conference committee, every institutional board will sit down and plan first of all to make their program of action definitely evangelistic, far beyond any previous plan. It will mean that in every union and division field, the dark counties and unentered sections will be attacked and entered by a definite program of evangelism in some effective form. Great cities of the world with their masses of humanity will no longer withstand the preaching of the message. A new courage and faith will lay hold of us all to accomplish the task set before us. Think what it will mean to every field in the world for a greater fruitage of souls to be harvested and the membership doubled!

All of this will take careful planning and persistent effort and a deeper consecration to achieve it. All our soul-winning facilities will be needed and their effectiveness stepped up to a more intense use. Let us not allow the lack of means or equipment to stop us in our determined plans to succeed.

Compared to what the apostles lacked in material facilities in Pentecostal times, we are rich in instruments of warfare for God. There are ways by which every dark spot on earth can be entered, even with present means and facilities. If we wait until everything is ideal by our own human measurement for a final advance, it will not come. We must pray as we plan and trust as we work and we shall see a resurrection in the evangelistic possibilities that will surprise us all and glorify our Father in heaven.

It is evident that a great expectancy now rests in the hearts of our people everywhere. They are looking for us as leaders in conferences and churches, to implement our revival spirit and lead the church into an abandonment to service for the lost such as has not been witnessed since apostolic times. Every worker and every member is to be challenged by our personalized leadership. It is not sufficient for us as leaders simply to admonish, to counsel, or to urge. We must in a very personal way, see to it that each worker and each member is definitely enlisted in some more effective way to do a larger soul-winning work. Let us not take too much for granted but let us labor and plan with the individual worker and member under our charge, until he has been brought to the point of action in seeking for souls. Our leadership needs to be personalized. We need to recognize that ours is the responsibility to see that the facilities and help in our hands are utilized with more efficiency and more effectiveness.

The need of action now must come into all our hearts with greater weight. Present opportunities will not last. Soon our goings to and fro will be hedged up. War, greater and more terrible than ever before, is impending. From every viewpoint this is our "hour of visitation." Let us not be found sluggish and wanting in this crisis hour for God.

All of this calls for a seeking after God for His power and understanding and courage beyond our present attainments. Pentecostal evangelistic results will come by way of the Pentecostal experience. These cannot be separated. It was power for witnessing that consumed the longing hearts of the apostles as they plead to God for the fullness of His Spirit.

When we face our task as the first disciples faced their task, the sense of our need for Holy Ghost power will drive us penitently seeking after God as it did in their lives. The only revival worthwhile is that which will result in fulfilling the purpose and commission of Christ, as He, too, pointing to a needy and dying world, commanded "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

The world has been led to the doorstep of doom. A tired, wornout despondency is laying hold of the hearts of men. The world is hungry for the light, for words of encouragement, for a satisfying explanation and for an assurance for the future which they can lay hold of. "Ye are the light of the world," said our Lord and Master. Let us now rise to that high calling and serve our Master with all our lives."

R. W. Fowler Completes Requirements for Degree

Ray W. Fowler, head of the business administration department of Union College, completed the requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Nebraska on Friday, October 20. He will be formally awarded the degree at either the mid-term or spring graduation.

Professor Fowler was born in Stanley, North Dakota, and was graduated from public school there. He came to Union College, worked most of his way, and graduated in the class of '29. He was a teacher of science and mathematics at Maplewood Academy in 1929-30, and dean of boys there from 1930 to 1935. He then was elected principal of Sheyenne River Academy and held that position from 1935 to 1940, one year of which he was on leave at the University of Idaho, where he was awarded the M.S. in business administration.

On June 1, 1941, he joined the faculty of Union College as an instructor. In 1947 he was made a full professor. He has been working on the Ph. D. degree part time since his arrival at Union College. The addition of another doctor of philosophy strengthens the academic opportunities at Union College for the students who are preparing to serve God as business men in varied institutions or in private ventures.

Iowa Colporteur Experiences

One lady I signed up for the Bible course called me saying she needed me, so I went to her on Monday morning. She said her mind was so confused. She wanted me to help straighten her out. I prayed with her for two hours, and she was so grateful. She told me she had had better health since she had been taking the course and praying for herself. I told her God was blessing her, and she told me she was keeping the Sabbath. I was so happy. I have kept in touch with all whom I have signed up for the Bible course. One lady who bought Life and Health said, "What a wonderful magazine and what a relief not to find advertisements for tobacco and liquor." — Mrs. Lillian Crellin.

As I approached a home, the young man came outside the house before I reached the door to knock. After salutations, he inquired "What do you want?" I told him I wished to step into his home and explain. "Do you have books to sell?" he asked. "Were you expecting someone to call with books?" I answered. Then he asked if I had Bible books. Soon I learned he had called at his aunt's home the week before and she had shown him the Bible Readings she had purchased. He desired a copy and questioned her as to where he might purchase one. He repeated the experience to me and said, "I said to my aunt, 'If only I could find the lady so I could get a copy, too!'" He, naturally, was happy to receive his copy. — Josephine Greer.

This experience is a compliment to our Life and Health magazine. When calling on the homes one day I had a door opened by a small girl. Upon inquiry if her mother was home, she said, "No, but my daddy is." Then a voice within said, "What is it?" So I asked him if I might speak with him briefly. After I was in and seated, he explained he hadn't been feeling very well, (he was reclining on the couch with a robe on) so he had stayed home from the office that day. After he had signed up for Life and Health for a year he wanted to know about paying for it. I told him, "It is customary to pay for a subscription when it is taken." "Oh, but I don't do that—I pay for a thing as I get it." "But Doctor, we can't do that. Your magazine comes through the mail, you see." "Well," he said, "that is the only way I will do it. You don't know me and I don't know you. You may be a fly-by-night person." However, he bought a copy and I went on my way. A little while later, I called at his office, and he laughed and said, "Well, I guess you are not a fly-by-night person." He paid for a one-year subscription then and after that expired I thought I would call for a renewal, and found he had sent it in himself, for a three-year subscription, before I came. It was for his patients, of course, and you could see they liked it.—Mrs. Elsie Bahr.

A copy of Bible Readings and Modern Medical Counselor were placed in a widow's home. As she only owed a few dollars on these, I thought I would canvass her for Great Controversy, also Desire of Ages, Patriarchs and Prophets, and Steps to Christ. She ordered these, also. I rejoice when the Great Controversy goes into a home, but why should I deprive this lady of making her choice to secure the other books? Why should I hoard this living manna. The days of opportunity are fast passing. It is thrilling to be a colporteur evangelist working for the lowly Galilean.—W. J. Greer.

Would you like to have experiences like these? They are yours if you will contact the people. Why not enlist in Iowa's colporteur army before the end of this year? Write the Publishing Department, P. O. Box 1475, Des Moines 6, Iowa.

News Notes

✱ The 20th Century Bible School received 427 new applications for the Bible Correspondence Course during the third quarter of 1950, and we are very happy to report that four of its students were baptized during the quarter. 3040 pieces of free literature were distributed. The Bible school has 335 active students on their list at the present time.

✱ The conference clerk's report for the third quarter of 1950 just compiled shows there were 62 individuals who joined the Seventh-day Adventist churches in Minnesota by baptism and 8 by profession of faith during that quarter, making a net gain for the quarter of 62 members. This is the largest net gain for any one quarter since the second quarter of 1946. Our total church membership for the state of Minnesota now stands at 4260 members.

✱ Ellis R. Colson baptized Glen Rae at Red Wing on Sabbath morning, October 21. Glen, who is only fifteen years old, is attending school at Red Wing at the present time. He has known the truth for several years, having attended Sabbath school and church in Minneapolis, although he didn't have much encouragement from home. Since he has been in Red Wing someone from the church has taken him to services there each week and he decided he wanted to follow Jesus all the way and become a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church. We trust the Lord will help him grow in grace and the knowledge of God through coming days.

✱ The First English Seventh-day Adventist church in Minneapolis was crowded for all meetings held there on October 20 and 21, when C. B. Haynes, General Conference War Service Commission secretary, spoke Friday night, Sabbath morning, and Saturday night. Saturday afternoon a question and answer service was held in the large Simpson Methodist church and it was filled. Elder Haynes answered questions asked regarding Universal Military Training, Universal Military Service, the Selective Service Draft Law now in effect, and anything pertaining to the Civil Defense program which is being formulated. At the services at the First church, Elder Haynes emphasized the fact that the lives of the saints are in the Lord's hands regardless of the circumstances in which they may find themselves. The Lord knows all about His people and nothing can happen to them unless He allows it to come. Elder Haynes pointed out many illustrations from the Bible to prove this, and stated if all could only believe that, they wouldn't worry so when the boys are drafted, for the Lord can take care of them in the service just as well as anywhere else, and they have the privilege of being real ambassadors for Him as they serve their country.

Iron Range District News

Lay-evangelism and youth meetings were held at Hibbing over the week-end of October 14 by E. F. Finck and P. C. Jarnes. Members were present from the churches at International Falls, Virginia, Blackberry, and Hibbing, and from the companies at Chisholm and Grand Rapids.

Elder Jarnes gave an inspiring sermon on Friday evening, telling of the marvelous progress of our work and of the glorious climax that will come when the work of sowing the gospel seed is finished and Jesus comes to gather home the harvest.

Sister Evanson of Virginia sang a beautiful solo entitled, "Sing On, Sing On."

On Sabbath morning Elder Finck spoke on the importance of our own preparation to meet God and then how we can reach out to help others find their way to Christ.

Special musical numbers for Sabbath school and church were provided by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lane, Mrs. Alfred Lane, and David Anderson, all of Blackberry.

In the afternoon practical help was given as to how we can help spread the truth. An excellent demonstration of how to conduct a Bible study in a home was given by Karl Evenson, of Virginia, with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vasenius, of Chisholm, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lane acting as the interested ones.

Musical numbers for the afternoon included a duet by R. R. Widmer and Frank Lonnstrom, a solo by Mrs. Alfred Lane, and a solo by Mrs. Schraeffer, of Hibbing.

In the evening Sister Frederickson and Maxine Johnson, of Hibbing, demonstrated a Bible study with a projector and film strip.

I believe all went home inspired to develop and use their talents to carry the gospel to those still in darkness.

Evangelism in the Sabbath School, by Harry W. Lowe. This is a challenging book with fresh and unique examinations of old truths and principles. God's arrows for winging conviction into the human heart are described, and the art of blending preaching with teaching is discussed at considerable length. One section deals with case histories in the mission field, showing how the Sabbath school serves as an evangelizing agency. There are also modern tests by which Sabbath school leaders can measure the efficiency of their methods and plans. One cannot read this book without being moved to greater devotion and a corresponding activity. Cloth, $1.75.

Gospel Workers, by Ellen G. White. The compactness and readability of this well-known book in the new Christian Home Library edition will appeal to everyone who appreciates the spirit-filled counsels of the author. Northern Lights Dorcas Federation

The Northern Lights Dorcas Federation met in the City Hall, at Bowdon, on October 17. The hall was well filled with representatives from the various societies in the federation.

We were happy to have C. E. Guenther, from the Northern Union, with us, and also Doctor J. Wayne McFarland as our guest speaker. They gave us most valuable counsel and help, opening before us a vista of opportunities whereby we can become one of the great missionary agencies in the church by combining our welfare work with our health program. Very helpful counsel was also given to us as to how to deal with colds and minor ailments by the use of hydrotherapy.

Elder Guenther's remarks informing us of the need of preparing for civilian defense, made us realize that war is most devastating and that we can be grateful that we are living out here in the open spaces. However, we must be prepared to help in the hour of emergency.

New officers were elected for the federation as follows: President, Mrs. John Beck; vice-president, Mrs. Ray Bechthold; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Henry Weisz; assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Bechthold; counsellors, Mrs. George Tebelius, of Bowdon; Miss Bella Christensen, of Harvey; and Mrs. Wilbert Buchmiller, of McClusky.

We feel confident that the Northern Lights Dorcas Federation will set its sights high to accomplish greater things in the winning of souls this coming year.

MRS. HENRY WEISZ.

Wedding

A joyous event took place on Sunday evening, October 8, when Coreen Lang, of Cleveland, and Ernest Johnson, of Campbell, Minnesota, were united in marriage at the Jamestown Seventh-day Adventist church.

Arella Lang, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor; Peggy Reko as matron of honor; and Ramona Lang and Sylvia Christensen as bridesmaids. The groom's attendants included Lewis Johnson, brother of the groom, as best man; and Ronald Lang, Jerome Lang, and Dean Christensen as groomsmen. Robert Loomer and Darrell Lang were ushers.

A reception was held after the service at the City Hall where the many friends and guests extended their congratulations and best wishes to the couple.

We wish this fine young couple every blessing as they now face the responsibilities and joys of life together.

Farewell

To our many friends in South Dakota we bid farewell as we take up our duties in the Arizona Conference. We have greatly enjoyed our work in South Dakota, and want to express our sincere appreciation for the cooperation which the workers and laymen have given. I bespeak for my successor, L. L. McKinley, the same splendid cooperation. South Dakota is fortunate in having a man who has had a number of years experience as conference president as well as a background of experience in various departments of our organized work. Under his leadership we shall look for South Dakota to continue to advance in soul-winning work.

It is always hard to say farewell to friends, but though miles may separate us we ask that your prayers will be with us as our prayers will be with you. Our new address is 2511 E. Cherry Lynn Road, Phoenix, Arizona. We shall be most happy to hear from you and though we may not meet again here, we want to all meet around that great white throne when Jesus shall come.

Week of Prayer

In the seventh chapter of Genesis we find these words: "The Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark. . . . And Noah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, . . . as God had commanded him: and the Lord shut him in."

It must have been a most wonderful assurance to this little band of believers to know that God's hand was on the door that shut them in. As the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled during that first storm that was ever unleashed upon humanity, how comforting it must have been to have the assurance that they were under the Lord's protection.

As we look upon the world conditions today they present a gloomy picture indeed. It is as the prophet declared: "Darkness shall cover the earth and gross darkness the people." Yes, if we look to the world for help in this time of crisis we will be as one groping in the darkness, but as in the days of old, if we wish we may be "shut in" with Him. Surely now is the time when we need to consecrate our hearts to God.

The Week of Prayer is here again and if we enter into this special week with a true desire to know God's will for us we know our desires will be fulfilled. We hope that each church, as far as possible will endeavor to conduct meetings every night during the Week of Prayer in the church, or in small groups in the various homes.

With the Week of Prayer comes also the opportunity of sharing our blessings with others. This is provided for in the Week of Sacrifice and Annual Offering which is to be received on the last Sabbath.

Surely we have much to be thankful for in the blessings we have received, and there are two ways to multiply our blessings. One is to recognize them. The other is to share them. For living in a country of freedom and religious liberty we are thankful. We trust that all our people throughout South Dakota will show their thankfulness and liberality in a most generous Week of Sacrifice and Annual Offering to be received on Sabbath, November 18. Special offering envelopes will be distributed in the churches, and mailed to our isolated believers. May God bless you during the Week of Prayer, November 11 to 18.

Book Briefs

As we approach the close of another year the opportunity again presents itself of renewing our subscriptions for the good old Review as well as other periodicals issued by the Review and Herald. This year the Review and Herald offers a very beautiful premium book by Frederick Lee, associate editor of the Review and Herald entitled Thoughts of Peace. It would be difficult to find a more appropriate gift book than this book by Elder Lee. If it were to be bought separately it would cost $1.25 but when purchased as a combination with the Review and Herald subscription it will only cost 20 cents. It is beautifully bound in attractive red keratol, with the title stamped in gold.

Many of our people subscribe for a number of the periodicals published by the Review and Herald so we are quoting the price of these various combinations which are as follows:

Review and Herald	$ 3.75	$1.25	$ 5.00	$3.95
Review and Instructor	7.50	1.25	8.75	7.25

Family Group — (Review, Instructor, Life and Health, Liberty, S. S. Worker)	13.00	1.25	14.25	8.95

She has lived near Crosby for the past five years and she passed away there on Thursday morning, September 28. She leaves to mourn eight children, twenty grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer in the presence of the members of the family and friends. Mrs. Smedberg was a faithful witness to the third angel's message, and she passed away expecting to meet her Lord in the first resurrection.
