"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me: because He hath anointed Me to preach good tidings..." Isaiah 61:1.

A Special Day of Prayer

BY W. R. BEACH

Today the church of God faces unprecedented dangers and opportunities. At times the peace of the world seemingly hangs in precarious balance, while in some areas of earth fellow-believers live in trial and crisis. Established patterns of Christian living, parental responsibility and personal religion are in jeopardy, yet the work of God must be accomplished.

In such a day the General Conference Committee has invited our churches in all the world to join in earnest consecration and prayer. In other times the children of God, when confronted with dangers, have prayed unitedly, and relief and deliverance have been granted. In the presence of great opportunities for advance a like dedication has lifted the church to a higher plane and a marked advance. All will be happy, therefore, to learn that April 18, 1959 has been set aside as a day of special prayer and consecration.

We would call upon our believers everywhere to spend this day in seeking God's guidance and blessing, in renewing pledges of unstinted service and bold achievement, while calling upon God to intervene as He has promised to do in behalf of those who come to Him in their "day of trouble." Let us cry to God with the Psalmist, "It is time for thee, Lord, to work: for they have made void thy law." Psalms 119:126. And with the Psalmist again we may know, "Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee: the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain." Psalms 76:10.

Let us make April 18, then, a day of renewed consecration to the unfinished task, while praying with confidence that He will hold the winds of strife and make deliverance and victory to shine forth in keeping with His unfailing promise.

The Bible Versus Communist Literature

Many friends of the American Bible Society have been distressed by the claim that the works of Communist writers have outstripped the Bible as a best seller. The Bible Society has learned, through the Library of Congress, that according to Russian sources, more than 1,000 editions of the Communist Manifesto (usually of about 25 pages) had been published from 1848 to 1952 in 77 languages. Also that of the works of Marx and Engels, Lenin and Stalin over a billion copies in 101 languages were published from 1917 to 1954.

What about the Bible? From 1917 to 1957 the American Bible Society distributed 393,246,474 volumes. To this should be added the distribution of the British and Foreign Bible Society, which was somewhat larger than that of the American Bible Society, and of other Bible Societies.

In addition, there are the commercial Bible publishers, who do not make public their figures. While there is little Bible publishing by such concerns in languages other than English, French, German, Greek and Hebrew, the number of Bibles issued each year by the Oxford and Cambridge University Presses and the Bible printers in this country and Great Britain is very considerable. The total would certainly be a billion and a half. So that even for a period from 1917 to 1957 it would still appear to be true that the Bible "out-published" Communistic literature.

Furthermore, the Bible was being printed nearly 500 years before 1917, and parts of it had already appeared in more than 750 languages and dialects. In addition to the actual Bible

"Bring Forth Much Fruit"

"A great work can be done by presenting to the people the Bible just as it reads. Carry the word of God to every man's door, urge its plain statements upon every man's conscience, repeat to all the Saviour's command, 'Search the Scriptures.' Admonish them to take the Bible as it is, to implore divine enlightenment, and then, when the light shines to gladly accept each precious ray, and fearlessly abide the consequences." Testimonies, vol. 5, p. 388.

As Ye Have Done It Unto Me" Part III

A minister's wife from New York had gone shopping with two overseas leaders and she told us that they saw so many things they would have liked to take back to their wives but they did not have the money with which to buy them. Later, as they walked into the Welfare Depot, I noted a small paper sack in the hand of one of these men and I was curious as to what might be in the bag. I soon learned that the sack contained a few bars of toilet soap, the price of which is almost prohibitive in their country. They were very pleased to have a few bars to take home with them. Isn't it strange that the things we take for granted here are so precious to those in need? The sack of soap was carefully placed in the center of the bundle of clothing and bedding. As these workers left the Welfare Depot a prayer went with them, and we at the Depot felt that the time spent with these brethren was precious and had brought a real blessing to our souls. Since these workers visited the warehouse, permission has been granted to send a shipment to their Union Mission, and at the present time ten tons of clothing and bedding are on their way to that needy field.

Many volunteer workers spend hours in the Welfare Warehouse in New York sorting, folding, and balancing material for overseas shipments. A short time ago, some of these helpers lived across the ocean and had to flee from their homes leaving everything behind. They know how to sympathize with the needy overseas. Many of our people are living in refugee camps and reports coming back to us indicate they really appreciate the gifts of clothing. They thank God that others care for them so much that they are willing to share with them.

The Eastern Welfare depot personnel wishes to thank all who have sent shipments and those who have so kindly spent hours of volunteer work in the warehouse that this wonderful phase of God's work for the needy may continue. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

As you bring your offering for Disaster and Famine Relief on Sabbath, May 9, remember it will help to continue and expand this work of relief and this ministry of mercy.

Golden Anniversary of the Shenandoah Valley Academy

Fifty years of progress will be reviewed April 24 and 25 at Golden Anniversary services scheduled at New Market, Virginia for the Shenandoah Valley Academy. Alumni of the school located within the territory of the Northern Union Conference are invited to attend the two-day program.

Send correspondence to George Akers, Principal; Shenandoah Valley Academy, New Market, Virginia.

Internal Decorating

"This paint really won't come off for many years," said Paul Whitman to a man who had expressed a desire to give his house a new-look appearance. "Further, it will cover up the ugly spots and protect the wood."

Paul Whitman, a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church, was devoting his entire time to the work of selling paint. At times, tidings from various parts of the world troubled him, and he had felt that he should enter the work of literature evangelism, but his failure to act upon divine impressions, led him to continue selling paint.

Suddenly and in the midst of his demonstration, he was startled by a Voice. He looked around to see who the speaker was, but he saw only the prospect. "Did you hear what that man said?" he nearly shouted. "No," replied the man who thought of having his house painted. "Why, the voice said clearly and distinctly, 'Son, go work today in My vineyard.' Wonder who it could have been?"

A few days later, a Man came up to him and said, "Are you still wondering who spoke to you while you were demonstrating paint the other day?" "Yes" answered the Seventh-day Adventist in excitement and surprise.

"I am the Author of the Great Commission," said the Saviour, for it was He who spoke. "The paint that you are now selling will make unattractive homes more attractive. Now I want you to sell something that will make unattractive lives more attractive."

"What dost Thou want me to sell?" anxiously inquired Paul Whitman.

"I want you to sell Seventh-day Adventist literature," continued the Master, "books, magazines, periodicals, tracts, the message in which is designed to beautify the lives of men and women. In fact, the message is designed to make more beautiful and fruitful the lives of all who can read and understand—old, middle-aged, the young, and children. Even the little ones who can understand but not read, will be blessed as stories are

The Lord of the harvest had given the invitation. Paul Whitman did not answer nor act immediately, but serious thoughts went through his mind as the Master walked away.

My Friend, how many times have you sung, "Where are the reapers, Oh who will come?" Has the Voice of the Nazarene pierced through the cares and turmoil of this world and reached your heart? "Son, Daughter, YOU go work today in My vineyard."

Bible Course Lessons in Sunday Schools

When we first learned a few years ago that Faith for Today Bible School lessons were making their way into Sunday schools we were delighted, naturally. Since then our delight has grown to wonder and even amazement as letter after letter reveals the extent of this television outreach.

While recovering from spinal surgery a California viewer watched the program and started studying the Bible course. She made excellent progress, both in her recovery and in her lessons. Just this week in a letter she wrote, "Now I am able to go back and teach my Sunday school class. While I was ill I learned to depend on your program, and I am taking the message to the students. I hurry back from church to catch your program."

From a Connecticut viewer came this encouraging comment, "I am a Methodist Sunday school teacher. However, your program is a direct answer to prayer for I have been wondering if I am really teaching all that I should. Your Bible course is a tremendous help."

Perhaps the most surprising report came from a minister who visited a Faith for Today interest. He found a shut-in who was a retired school teacher and a former Sunday school teacher. This shut-in was so pleased with the Bible course that she determined to share the lessons if possible. Finally, she hit upon the idea of putting the lessons on tape after she had studied them herself. So now her Sunday school listens to the Advent message each week from a taped recording made by their faithful teacher.

We invite you who are so deeply interested in the television work to pray for these and many other Sunday school teachers whom God is using to take the message into areas where we would not be allowed to witness personally.

Our Church Schools

"Where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?" Jeremiah 13:20.

This question directed by Jeremiah in his day is still pertinent today and especially so in our day when as Peter descriptively says, "...your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour."

It is a characteristic of beasts of prey, that they choose to capture and devour the young of the flock, whenever possible. Satan, pictured in the Bible as a ferocious lion, is no exception to this. Our precious young people, the heritage of the Lord, whom He desires to use to finish His work in a final burst of glory, have become the special targets of Satan's diabolical cunning.

By every enticing means, he desires to enmesh them in his worldly snares and prevent God's high purposes for them from being carried out. How earnestly we need to heed the words of the messenger of the Lord when she wrote, "There can be no more important work than the proper education of our youth. We must guard them, fighting back Satan, that he shall not take them out of our arms." Fundamentals of Christian Education, p. 89.

This objective should be the aim of every Seventh-day Adventist church. Great are the blessings that follow in the wake of work and sacrifice to educate our young people after the divine ideal.

In the Williston Church, 18 young people, comprising all 8 grades, are receiving this Christian education. It represents not only a difficult task well done by the consecrated teacher, but daily sacrifice by the parents, some of whom bring their children 20 miles or more daily. The accompanying picture shows the teacher, Gorden Klocko, and the group of children in the Williston church school.

Sacrifice of means and time are never wasted when spent on our young people, for happy is the family who will be able to meet the Lord when He comes, and say, "Here are they whom thou hast given me."

News Notes

★ We were delighted to have Boyd E. Olson, our union MV and education secretary, conduct a revival meeting at Hurley the week of March 14 to 21. The members there enjoyed the music and messages during these days of heart searching and seeking after God.

✱ A broomshop survey committee appointed by the Plainview Academy board met at the Academy on Wednesday, March 18. We were very happy to have D. A. Olderbak, manager of the broomshop at Union College, present. He gave good counsel and help.

✱ On the following day Thursday, the Academy board met at the school. R. H. Nightingale, Boyd E. Olson, and L. H. Netteburg met with us. Very important and far reaching decisions were made.

✱ Sometime ago J. J. Williamson, principal of Plainview Academy, requested that he be relieved of his work here so that he could attend the University of Nebraska to get his Ph. D. Degree in Education. Pray that God may guide us to the right man to serve as principal of our school.

✱ M. L. Sample met with the Chamberlain church on Sabbath, March 21.

✱ On the third Sabbath of this month L. J. Meidinger spoke at Huron.

✱ O. T. Garner preached in Ash Grove on the 21st.

✱ On the same Sabbath H. F. Anderson had the 11 o'clock Sabbath morning worship service at Aberdeen.

Week of Prayer

The Spring Week of Prayer at Plainview Academy was conducted by M. L. Sample, the conference educational secretary. A quiet yet realistic approach to and attitude in spiritual things were held up before the student body. Student submitted questions helped guide in the topics presented by the speaker. The sense of practical religion, the surety of Bible prophecy, and the challenge of our perplexing times were strongly brought out during the week.

A Bible class was held after the evening meetings for those desiring to further study the doctrines of the church.

Student and faculty expressions given during testimony meetings and in prayer bands indicated a wholesome spiritual response. Many wrongs were righted and victories won. Four students made their decisions for baptism. On the last Sabbath during the communion service the church and student body entered into a deeper spiritual experience of Christian love and fellowship.

We thank God for His mercies and blessings in making possible a renewed consecration and resolve unto Godly living preparing for His coming.

Joy, Pleasure, and Satisfaction in Bible Reading

It was a pleasure today to issue a Senior Bible Year Certificate to Walter Sample of Humboldt, Iowa. This is the twenty-third consecutive year that Brother Sample has read his Bible through. He states, "my only regret is that in my fifty-three years as a Seventh-day Adventist I did not start reading my Bible each year."

With the prophet Job, Brother Sample can say, "I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food." Job 23:12.

It is Brother Sample's prayer that he will not be lost because of lack of knowledge for not searching the Holy Scriptures.

He is a faithful reader of the Review and Herald, Youths' Instructor, Sabbath School Worker, and Life

"Fiery" Mission in Spite of Flu

With each passing month our Dorcas workers and pastors are becoming more conscious of the needs and blessings of being ready to step in with immediate aid to families that have lost all through a burn-out. Because of the alertness of pastor and Dorcas society the following report from Percy Lamb was possible in spite of the fact that their clothing supply had been depleted due to the recent shipment of a van load of clothing from Minnesota to the east coast warehouse.

"And this morning I had the flu for sure! . . . The FLU, I mean! But I had to go out even though sick. For Friday night we had a big burn-out at Basswood. A family that lives about a mile from the Basswood church burned out; and when I drove by yesterday afternoon it was still smoldering. The family was related to folks in the Basswood church, so we decided to get help from Detroit Lakes. Basswood is doing all it can, but so are we from here.

"I was too sick to drive, but Josephine, my daughter who is learning and has such a permit, drove. Our Dorcas leader, also sick with the flu, went along. We took blankets, bedding, and one coat. The leader took measurements of the man, woman, and the 15-year-old daughter. Tomorrow our folk will take more things out there. We had just sent off all the clothing we had for overseas, and last week there was a burn-out in Frazee that we cared for, so we did not have much left. Our Dorcas gets to work and helps. They show a marvelous spirit."

Signs in the Heavens But—

The Scriptures tell us, "There shall be signs in the sun and the moon and the stars." Since God has given us such definite signs of the approaching event when Christ will come in His unequalled glory, the question is ringing in our ears, "What am I doing with the Signs of the Times on earth to announce His soon return?" This question should occupy the mind of every true-hearted follower of Jesus.

This year, 1959, is the year of opportunity. The eye of every thinking person is kept on the fast-moving cold war and many are wondering, "How long will it be till the world faces destruction? How can we escape?" The Signs of the Times has the answers and we should send out every possible subscription to satisfy these inquiring minds.

Each one of us has loved ones whom we yearn and pray might find Christ. There are also friends we desire to help, not to forget the many others with whom we have studied the promises of the Bible or contacted with literature. To all of these we owe an obligation, they should receive the Signs of the Times. Also to be remembered with the Signs are the liberal Ingathering donors and all the ministers and priests of our communities who not only find help for their own souls, but get vast amounts of truth-radiating sermon material from its pages.

The Signs of the Times Crusade featuring special prices is on during the month of April. Six or more subscriptions can be sent to separate addresses at the low price of $1.75 per subscription. Never in the annals of human history has a more attractive, soul-stirring, message-filled magazine rolled off the presses. This gives us an unequalled opportunity to enter into partnership with God to help those we love and to start them on the road to the Eternal City, the New Jerusalem. May each of us covenant with God by sacrificing to send out many subscriptions of the Signs on earth.

KNECHT—Mrs. Mathilda Knecht a long time resident of the Tolstoy—Bowdle community passed away February 6 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Smith at Sunnyside, Washington, following a long illness. Mrs. Mathilda Knecht was 73 years of age and was born in Russia. When she was twelve years of age she came to the United States with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Juzzy. It was while living with her family near Hosner that she met John Knecht. Following their marriage they moved to their farm near Tolstoy where they farmed until the passing of her husband in 1941. In 1943 Mrs. Mathilda Knecht moved to College Place, Washington where she lived most of the time, being a frequent visitor at her daughter's in Sunnyside, Washington. She was a long time member of the Seventh-day Adventist church, a loving mother, and a true friend. Mrs. Mathilda Knecht is survived by her son, Walter Knecht of Tolstoy, South Dakota; four daughters: Mrs. Ted Hagele of Roscoe, South Dakota, Mrs. Jake Stebner of College Place, Washington, Mrs. De Etta Olson of Milo, Oregon, and Mrs. Oris E. Smith of Sunnyside, Washington. She is also survived by three brothers: John Juzzy of Bowdle, South Dakota; Fred Juzzy of Aberdeen, South Dakota; and Jake Juzzy of Spokane, Washington; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild and a host of friends. Funeral services were held on February 9, at the Smith Funeral Home in Sunnyside, Washington with Melvin C. Lukens and Ray E. Badgley of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and G. Richard Tuttle of the First Methodist Church officiating. Burial was at Sunnyside, Washington.

text must be added the vast volume of Christian literature. The fact, however, that the Communists put out a great deal of printed matter, often very attractively produced and priced, in many languages and in many parts of the world, continues to be a great challenge which must be met by the Christian community through the worldwide program of the great Bible Societies of the world.

Some published statements referring to yearly publications so far inaccurately reflect the actual situation for the "Index Translationum," issued annually by UNESCO, lists publications only that are reported to it by national bibliographical services. Such publications by the Bible Societies have not hitherto been adequately reported, so that future editions of the "Index" will more accurately reflect the true picture. So far, the Bible Society knows of no other book that has been published, even in part, in more than 1,100 languages and dialects.
