The Camp Meeting

BY MRS. E. G. WHITE

"We have no time to lose. We know not how soon our probation may close. Eternity stretches before us. The curtain is about to be lifted. Christ is soon to come. The angels of God are seeking to attract us from ourselves and from earthly things. Let them not labor in vain." Testimonies, vol. 8, p. 314.

"We must turn away from a thousand topics that invite attention. There are matters that consume time and arouse inquiry, but end in nothing. The highest interests demand the close attention and energy that are too often given to comparatively insignificant things." Ibid., vol. 8, p. 316.

"It is important that the members of our churches should attend our camp meetings. . . . Individually you need the benefits of the meeting, and God calls upon you to number one in the ranks of truth. . . . Strengthen the meeting all you possibly can by being present with your families. . . . Make no excuse that will keep you from gaining every spiritual advantage possible. . . . You cannot afford to lose one such privilege." Ibid., vol. 6, pp. 38, 39.

"This is a time for everyone to come up to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty. The forces of the enemy are strengthening, and as a people we are misrepresented. We desire the people to become acquainted with our doctrines and work.

"Angels who are commissioned to minister to those who are heirs of salvation will accompany you. God will do great things for His people. He will bless every effort to honor His cause and advance His work.

"Go to the camp meeting, even though you have to make a sacrifice to do so." Ibid., vol. 6, p. 40.

Help the Blind Give to the Christian Record on June 9

Every two years an offering is received in our churches for the Christian Record.

The Christian Record Benevolent Association is the organization located in Lincoln, Nebraska, that deals in services for the blind. A good share of the funds gathered in for this organization come from non-Adventist sources. However, as this organization carries on its soul-winning activities and sends out strictly doctrinal publications, such as Sabbath School quarterlies and doctrinal Bible correspondence courses, it is only right that they be paid for from denominational funds.

C. G. Cross, manager of the Christian Record, states: "More than a thousand non-church members are reading the Sabbath School quarterly every month, and 1,500 are enrolled in the Bible Correspondence courses."

On Sabbath, June 9, an offering is to be received in our churches to help with the missionary activities for the blind, unless in your conference it has been arranged for a different date because of the camp meeting. We trust that our members will remember, with an offering and with their prayers, the work of the Christian Record in behalf of those who are blind.

Minneapolis Junior Academy Spring Musical Program

On Saturday night, May 12, the Minneapolis Junior Academy put on a musical program that was of such excellence that it could have been shown in any school anywhere in the land and would have received what are known as "rave notices."

With a precisely timed sequence of features, the children presented a salute to our flag and country that was stirring both physically and spiritually. It made one proud to be an American. It made one proud to be a Seventh-day Adventist to have such a standard of excellence in music featured in one of our schools.

As the students came marching in to the spine-tingling beat of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the rustling of the flags mingled with the sound of marching feet. The eye was struck with the majesty of the red, white, and blue of Old Glory with a background of the white dresses and blouses with blue or red cummerbunds of the girls and the white shirts and dark trousers of the boys.

Mrs. Eric Anderson, Music Director of the Minneapolis Junior Academy, and the Glee Club. The red and blue cummerbunds against the white garb made a colorful display.

The accompanying pictures being in black and white cannot do justice to the pageantry of color presented. The hand-made uniforms of the three miniature Uncle Sams and Miss Statue of Liberty were eye-catching.

Mrs. O. J. Ritz and John Zollbrecht were responsible for the backdrop of the huge flag, and the parents made the special uniforms.

The band showed that they had reached a standard of musical ability that few would expect from a small school and young students. The leader, Mr. Wittgraf, has led the youth of the academy to a thorough understanding of instruments and it was very gratifying for the parents to hear the end result of the endless hours of squeaking and squawking of practice that it takes to play an acceptable instrument.

Above all, we must give boundless credit to the master-mind behind all the musical progress of the Junior Academy, Mrs. Eric Anderson. It is most unusual to find a musical director who can direct an entire choral group of over a hundred voices while at the same time playing the accompaniment. But far beyond that, Mrs. Anderson has organized and labored over these many past months to produce music to which every one of us can proudly point as a shining example of Adventist accomplishment in the art of vocal excellence. To her and the teachers

Youth Chapel Dedicated at Stevens Avenue Church

Excitement ran high as the membership of the Stevens Avenue church gathered for the dedication of its new youth chapel downstairs. On the evening of the dedication, April 13, scores of people gathered to witness the unveiling of one of the most beautiful youth chapels in the conference. Youth leaders, the pastor, conference officials, board members, and guests assembled to dedicate the new center to the glory of God's work, Flowers, and messages of congratulation came from many sources. Visitors and friends sat enthralled at the transformation that had taken place from the 'old room' to the new chapel.

The whole story began several years ago when some of the youth leaders began to agitate for more modern facilities to meet the needs of the city youth. Little by little the demands became apparent. Finally in the month of January of this year the board voted to move ahead with definite plans for remodeling. The services of specialists were brought together to study the various needs and essentials. After several months of study and negotiations, the remodeling began.

It was designed that the whole should be done in Danish modern, thus falling into line with the latest and the finest in interior designing. Week by week the work progressed. Wood paneling, new lights, modern carpeting, new pews, new pulpit, clock, piano light, painting in aqua, magnificent drapes, new vertical Venetian blinds all skillfully combined to transform the room into one of excellent taste. Floral pieces and ornamental bamboo trees give the new chapel a sweeping appearance of beauty.

On the night of the dedication, the program was under the direction of the pastor and Mrs. Alice Spencer, youth coordinator. Several hundred visitors made their way to see what had taken place. While the chapel seats only 120, many more stood outside of the door and participated in the occasion. C. H. Lauda, our conference president, gave a short message of congratulations and concluded with these words, "This is the finest youth chapel I have ever seen." T. Irville Rush, our conference treasurer, gave the prayer of dedication. As Mrs. J. Russell Nelson sang "Bless This House," the drapes were drawn back to reveal the beautiful picture of Christ which is the only thing that remains from the old room.

The pastor introduced the program and noted the special gifts that had been made by many members of the church. Mrs. Spencer then greeted the church in the new chapel, and introduced the youth leaders as follows: leader, Dale Archer, assistant leaders: Ardith Weibye, Audrey Lundquist, and Yvonne Lueck.

A scroll was presented on which were inscribed the names of former MV leaders since 1900. We had been thrilled to discover that Dr. William Spencer, who is still a member of Stevens Avenue, was the leader of the first youth group organized in Minneapolis in 1900. All former leaders who were present signed a special guest book. Letters were read from many other former leaders who are scattered all over the United States.

As a very special conclusion to our program Elder and Mrs. Carl B. Watts presented a fine mission pageant. They are home on furlough from Okinawa. Many colorful costumes were displayed and Elder Watts showed pictures of Japan and Okinawa. Mrs. Watts is the former Lois Mae Sheperdson.

We all left the chapel that evening thanking God for what we had seen and heard and with a determination in our hearts to keep our lives Christ centered.

A Visit to the Northwest District

For the first time it was my privilege to worship with the congregations of the Thief River Falls and Fertile-Red Lake Falls groups on the 12th of May.

In the morning the Thief River Falls folk were well represented, plus a number of visitors, which made a large group.

The Cradle Roll-Kindergarten group in Thief River Falls is led by Mrs. Maynard Molkness (right) and Mrs. Pat Ingersoll as her assistant.

Mrs. Leo Herber is division leader for the Primary-Junior (left) with June Ericson as her pianist. Dr. S. E. Pollman is very versatile and helps wherever needed.

The Sabbath School leaders and teachers are making use of all suitable space to train so many children that on this Sabbath there were more children present than adult members on the church books! This indicates that Thief River Falls plans to grow and grow and grow. There is already considerable thought being given to a future new church school building which is desperately needed. Their leadership is very excellent with Doctors S. E. Pollman and Leo Herber as elders. Sabbath school superintendent is Mrs. S. E. Pollman.

In the afternoon, the Red Lake Falls-Fertile church meets in a Township Hall building seven miles northwest of Fertile. I was unable to remain for the Sabbath School services, due to an evening appointment, but so enjoyed the fellowship of this small but consecrated group.

Milton Van Raden and George Dailley are elders, with Mrs. Darrell Glass as Sabbath School superintendent.

E. W. Brown is the able pastor of this widespread district which includes the churches and companies of Fertile, Middle River, Roseau, Thief River Falls, and Williams. This district is showing definite signs of an enlarged interest as the result of many Bible studies being given by the pastor and the laymen, and with the addition of a new literature evangelist, Joe Hansen, we look forward to good progress in the Northwest District.

McClusky Bible Chain Graduation

O. R. Rees, home missionary secretary of the Northern Union Conference, was the guest speaker at the Bible Chain Graduation services conducted in the McClusky Seventh-day Adventist church, on Saturday night, May 12. Several musical numbers were also presented during the evening.

Many of the McClusky church members received diplomas along with several other friends of the church. The evening's program proved to be a real blessing to those present, and the McClusky members extend their sincere appreciation to Elder Rees for his valuable assistance.

Our Standards of Christian Living

All of us, from the time we were of an age of accountability, have set our ideals above what we have attained. We know "what is right," and often we plan and aim for the "right," but oh, how often we have failed! Do not despair! The great Apostle Paul shared the same experience, "For that which I do

G. E. Volsch

I allow not: for what I would, that I do not; but what I hate, that do I." Romans 7:15. The Revised Standard Version has this text this way, "I do not understand my own actions. For I do not do what I want, but I do the very thing I hate." Romans 7:15.

Going back to the start of our Christian experience, we find the "old things are passed away." 2 Corinthians 5:17—the old way is to be gone and we are to find a new life with Jesus Christ dwelling in us. "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me." Galatians 2:20. This is the ideal, but as the devil tempts us we find ourselves doing the "very thing I hate."

What we need to know is the solution to our problem and, of course, we can turn to the scripture and the Spirit of Prophecy and find the solution to any of our problems. In the book, Education, p. 255, we find this statement, "...as a shield from temptation and an inspiration to purity and truth, no other influence can equal the sense of God's presence." How true this is! If the devil were to use friends, money, or any other influence to cause us to "do the very things" we hate, I am sure we could stand firm if we could only have a real sense of God's presence.

The presence of God is actually a very real thing! "We cannot hide our ways from the Most High. . . ." Every act, every word, every thought, is as distinctly marked as though there were only one person in the whole world, and the attention of heaven were centered upon him." Patriarchs and Prophets, pp. 217-218. What a thought! All of heaven centered on just you or just me.

The conclusion of this problem of ours and the solution lay in a few simple words—but very comprehensive in their scope. The texts are not new to you, but my prayer is that we each will read and apply the meaning of these texts with new understanding. "Study to shew thyself approved unto God." 2 Timothy 2:15. "Pray without ceasing." 1

Thessalonians 5:17. Surely, in the study of the word of God and maintenance of a prayerful attitude we will be able to recognize God's presence. The "...very thing we hate" will not find entrance into our Christian life.

Red River Valley Youth Rally

Complete and total consecration to the will of God was the keynote as R. H. Nightingale, Northern Union president, presented the morning message at the Red River Valley Youth Rally held in the Fargo S. D. A. church on May 12. The overflow crowd heard him liken mankind in general and youth specifically to the "ten-stringed instrument" mentioned by the Psalmist.

This message was the highlight of our Rally but, not by any means, the only feature. The Sabbath School under the direction of R. S. Watts, North Dakota Sabbath School secretary, was filled with interesting items including a special tribute to mothers and first-hand mission reporting from M. E. Beltz and the Donald Wetenkamp family all of Wahpeton.

After dinner the Rally continued with a combined singspiration and M.V. activities program. G. D. Bras, Minnesota Missionary Volunteer secretary, and the writer were in charge. Following this Sheyenne River and Maplewood academies put on a combined musical program featuring their Choralier groups under the direction of Milton Wheeler and Lyle Anderson respectively. It was a thrilling occasion as these young people raised their voices in song.

At the close of the Rally K. D. Johnson, president of the North Dakota Conference, appealed to all those attending to make this Rally the beginning of service rather than an end in itself. His inspiring words were a fitting climax to a glorious day of fellowship and inspiration.

Wahpeton Investment

On the Sabbath of our special Investment program for 1961, our Investment secretary, Donald Nash, stood to announce that up to that day Investment funds totaled about $500.00. After the program was over and the money was counted there was about $1,700.00.

Mr. Nash feels that the Junior "Buddy System" stimulated an upsurge of interest in Investment throughout the different Sabbath School divisions of the whole church. Each member of the Junior Sabbath School Department was given one dollar as the beginning for them to use to invest in a project. These Juniors were given a Senior member who was pledged to match whatever the Junior raised in his project. This $11.00 from the Juniors grew to $418.00.

Even the Primary Department entered with a project of covering a church with dimes until they had a total of $79.00. This meant that about 75 per cent of the Sabbath School members participated in the 1961 Investment program. Everyone was more than happy to do it for they know that it means that God will divinely multiply this amount, and that with His blessing souls will be saved eternally.

Ray Sabbath School

The Ray church has no separate room for the children's divisions, so the singing portion of the Sabbath School time is conducted in the presence of the Senior Sabbath School members. This is greatly enjoyed by the parents and they are sometimes allowed to join in.

Williston May-Day Dorcas Sale

A Williston Dorcas sale of baked goods and fancy work on May 1, netted $80.00. A sale held in February brought in $37.00. The plan, at present, is to conduct four such sales each year. Ten per cent of the total is to be sent to the Western Slope Dorcas Federation, of which Williston is a member, and the remainder used for local welfare.

Sixtieth Anniversary Homecoming Camp Meeting

Your friends will be at camp meeting this summer to help celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the organization of the South Dakota Conference. They will be coming from near and far. Will you be there to greet them? Many are making reservations for camping space; have you made yours?

What a camp meeting this will be! Final arrangements have been made to have O. J. Ritz of the Stevens Avenue Church in Minneapolis with us for a few days. He will speak on the important subject of, "Pastor, I am in Love," at the Friday 4:30 MV meeting, and again at 8:15 a.m. on Sabbath, June 23. He will also speak on Friday evening, June 22, and perhaps again on Sabbath evening, June 23. He is an expert on the subject mentioned above, as well as on the Great Reformation Period and how this relates itself to the Adventist Movement. You will want to hear Elder Ritz.

You will be interested to know that all of the adult meetings will be in the beautiful auditorium of the Women's Building. The other building is not available this year; thus the fair grounds manager has made this building available for us all week.

Next to the Women's Building is the new Education Building. This will serve wonderfully well as the Book and Bible House and for the departmental booths.

They all come to the sixtieth anniversary celebration of the organization of the South Dakota Conference—the 1962 camp meeting!

The Redfield Church School: An Excellent Type

It has been a pleasure to visit the church schools of the conference this year. The typical experience has been to meet pleasant teachers and happy students. The Redfield school is a good example of this and other virtues we expect in our schools. Mrs. Nellie Fritchie, the teacher, has always met me with a smile and the children, with friendly courtesy.

The school shows a strong achievement record for its scholastic endeavors this year.

To make things even more attractive for the coming year, there will be a commodious new church school plant for this coming fall. The block walls, roof, and sub-flooring have been done for some time. The new building is a neat contemporary design and will have a playroom which the children will appreciate during the severe winter weather.

The need for next year is a teacher to replace Mrs. Fritchie, who has accepted a call to Colorado. This school provides an excellent opportunity for someone who wishes to change from public school teaching to the more satisfying experience of church school teaching and for someone who wishes to put their children in academy but finds the finances too high, for Plainview Academy is just across the street.

Anyone interested may contact me at the conference office.

Educational Secretary

News Notes

* Recent visitors to the conference office were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bitzer from Lodi, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mertz from Lodi, California. The Bitzers and Mertzes are former residents of the Bowdle and Tolstoy areas. Others visiting here were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schlisner from Ash Grove, Mrs. Orville Roderick from Arlington, and Mrs. E. V. Heinbaugh and Mrs. Vernon Heinbaugh of Ridgeview. The conference office staff welcomes visitors.

* F. W. Bieber spoke at the Hot Springs church on May 12 and at the Spearfish church on May 19. He reports a fine attendance and good spirit at both of these lovely churches.

* The full Plainview Academy board met at Plainview on May 10. The board made a complete tour of the buildings and Academy owned land. The board was extremely happy over the excellent appearance and condition of the buildings and campus. Study was given to make further improvements.

* N. V. George conducted Investiture services May 18 at Pierre, May 19 at Aberdeen, and May 24 at Red Shirt Table. Mr. George met Sunday evening, May 20, with the Ridgeview members and they formed a new school board.

* M. L. Hale has been pastoring the Pierre church during the absence of a pastor. J. B. Gray will be taking up his duties in Pierre the first of June.

* Ten students will begin canvassing within the next two weeks in South Dakota. Let's remember these young people in our prayers.

* The South Dakota Conference has placed a call for a summer assistant to the Publishing Department from Oklahoma. Terry Cagle will be arriving by the thirtieth of May to take up his duties in assisting the student workers.

Iowa Pathfinding — 1962

On Sunday, May 6, over 350 Pathfinders, staff members, parents, and friends, gathered at Oak Park Academy's gymnasium for Iowa's Annual Pathfinder Fair. The nine Pathfinder clubs had opportunity to enter 75 different activities. The response of the youth to these varied activities was enthusiastic and wholehearted.

After the judging, and the shouting had died out, it was found that four clubs were judged to be sweepstake clubs. A sweepstake club is one that reached 200 points or higher. These four clubs were Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, and Nevada-Ames.

There were two trophy clubs (175-200 points). These two were Muscatine and Waukon. There were three honor clubs (140-175 points). These clubs were Fort Dodge, Knoxville, and Marshalltown.

The plans for next year's Pathfinder Fair are well under way. We are looking for new Pathfinder clubs. The chances are that your church ought to have a Pathfinder club, and if you are interested, as MV leader, or some other church officer, we would appreciate your inquiries directed to the MV Department, Box 1475, Des Moines 6, Iowa. We are anxious to provide this service for any church for its youth.

WHEN OUR CHILDREN WERE AT HOME

joy this side of heaven." The girls always went to church school, and we were delighted as parents when they decided to give their hearts to the Lord and enter the remnant church through baptism.

Homecoming for the father was a joyous experience. Whether it was after an absence of a week or a month, the girls would vie with each other to see who could catch a glimpse of the returning parent first. With a cry of "Daddy!" there was a race, and quickly little arms were twined about their father's neck. What a pleasure it was to be home again!

As the girls developed through their teens, their social life became very important. At first as parents we took them to the socials and called for them and brought them home. We had tried to prepare them for this important stage in their lives. At appropriate moments counsel was given. Later young men were calling at our home, and we took an interest in each one. Sometimes the associations and developments were not in our judgment for the best, and there were times when it seemed that our counsel was unheeded by the girls. It was at these times that we read this promise over and over again: "It costs something to do all this. It costs prayers and tears, and patient, oft-repeated instruction. We are sometimes put to our wit's end to know what to do; but we can take the children to God in our prayers, pleading that they may be kept from evil, praying, 'Now Lord, do Thy work; soften and subdue the hearts of our children,' and He will hear us." Fundamentals of Christian Education, pp. 160, 161.

We were very grateful for specific answers to prayer on many occasions. It was with real satisfaction that we were able to plan for the wedding of each of our daughters to a Seventh-day Adventist young man whom we loved as our own son.

Now that our girls are mothers in their own homes, we are earnestly praying that God will bestow upon them the ability to guide their children aright.

When Our Children Were at Home

BY A FATHER

The Lord blessed our home with two daughters. As a minister and a conference young people's secretary, I was away from home much of the time. During infancy the mother and children traveled with me on the Sabbath, visiting various churches. In the summertime we would be engaged in youth camps and camp meeting. It was during this time that we spent a few years in Hawaii. The children became friendly with representatives of many different groups.

As the children grew older and began to participate in the kindergarten and primary divisions of the Sabbath School, our plans changed. My wife stayed with them in the same Sabbath School week after week while I did the traveling alone. Our home and our children provided our pleasure. Very rarely were the girls left in the care of others. Their friends were always welcome at our house.

When they started to school it was an anxious time for us. We prayed earnestly that our early training might prove to hold them true in the wider world they were entering.

Their mother made it a practice never to let the children come home to an empty house. She was never employed outside the home and was determined to give her full time to her children and her home. We both determined that we would trim our wants to what one salary could procure.

Sabbath afternoon always belonged to the children. Usually it was their mother who took them for a walk, told them stories, and through companionship and love won their complete confidence. Daily family worship was an established practice. There were some times when it was more difficult than others to carry out this plan, but consistently we gathered our children about the altar for worship to our God.

When the children entered into the junior age there were added problems and some discouragements. It was during these times that promises from the Bible and the Spirit of prophecy greatly brightened the situation. For example: "Pray much more than you do. . . . When an emergency arises, ask, Lord, what shall I do now? If you refuse to fret or scold, the Lord will show you the way." Counsels to Teachers, p. 156.

As a father traveling much of the time, I tried to encourage the mother and the children with letters and with prayers. I remember sending this sentiment in one letter: "If our daughters prove faithful to God and lead useful lives, and I am sure they will, I cannot think of any greater

Quotations from the Adventist Home

"Fathers, spend as much time as possible with your children." p. 222.

"Never should a word of discouragement pass your lips. Do not bring darkness into the home." p. 222.

"The father should not become so absorbed in business life or in the study of books that he cannot take time to study the natures and necessities of his children." p. 221.

"If he is engaged in business which almost wholly closes the door of usefulness to his family, he should seek other employment which will not prevent him from devoting some time to his children. If he neglects them, he is unfaithful to the trust committed to him of God." p. 221.

"The father's duty to his children cannot be transferred to the mother." p. 216.

"The father must not betray his sacred trust. He must not, on any point, yield up his parental authority." p. 212.

"Fathers, combine affection with authority, kindness and sympathy with firm restraint. Give some of your leisure hours to your children; become acquainted with them; associate with them in their work and in their sports, and win their confidence. Cultivate friendship with them, especially with your sons. In this way you will be a strong influence for good." p. 222.

"The father may exert an influence over his children which shall be stronger than the allurements of the world." p. 221.
