Northern Union Holds Evangelistic Council

By J. L. DITBERNER

"Do the Work of an Evangelist" was the motto and theme of the recent Union Evangelistic Council held in Minneapolis. Ministers and their wives from all four conferences in the Union spent three days receiving instruction and inspiration relative to the most important work of Evangelism.

E. E. Cleveland, Associate Secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Department, conducted three very interesting institute classes each day. From his personal experience in public evangelism he presented methods and plans which can help every pastor to be more successful in conducting evangelistic meetings. His purpose in presenting his methods was not to make all preachers exactly alike, but in his words, "to make me a better me, and you a better you." Surely every minister who attended the council went away a better man for having been there.

R. S. Watts, Vice President of the General Conference, gave a deeply spiritual series of studies on Righteousness by Faith and Christian Perfection. The truth and beauty of this Bible teaching as presented by Elder Watts, was a great encouragement to all. As this doctrine is accepted into the Christian's life it will result in confidence and joy as well as God's blessing in finishing His work.

Other visiting ministers included R. R. Hegstad, Editor of Liberty, W. A. Fagal of Faith for Today, and W. R. Wollard from Pacific Press.

Different ways in which all the members of the church can have a part in evangelism were presented by H. E. Haas and P. F. Pedersen from the Northern Union office. Several local pastors added to the success of the council by sharing with others methods that are helping them in their soul-winning work. Special meetings were conducted for the ministers' wives under the direction of Mrs. Dittberner.

As the council came to the close each minister rededicated himself to be a co-laborer with God and finish the work in the Northern Union so Jesus can come. We invite every church member to unite in this purpose.

E. E. Cleveland, Associate Secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Department, emphasizes the importance of preaching the Word.

Spring Week of Prayer

Missionary Volunteers and other church members from all over the Northern Union are joining hands in a special evangelistic thrust during the Spring MV Week of Prayer. The Northern Union Conference Committee, by unanimous vote, is asking each church to take part in this program by conducting Friendship Teams or Fireside Evangelism projects six weeks prior to the MV Week of Prayer.

H. E. Haas

The Sabbath School Department is cooperating with this program by shifting Rally Day Sabbath (called Friendship Sabbath this year) to coincide with the opening meeting of the Spring MV Week of Prayer. Through Friendship Teams and Fireside Evangelism projects many new interests will be found and old interests renewed. These people should all be urged to attend Friendship Sabbath which will also be the opening meeting of the MV Week of Prayer.

Local and Union Conference personnel, as well as district pastors, are all taking part in this program and will be giving these meetings an evangelistic or revival approach. Members both old and young are urged to give full support to this united program as it is presented in each church.

From Despondency to Hope in Christ Through Faith for Today Ministry

Wondering if life was even worth living, Mrs. William Suchanek tuned in the Adventist telecast. Each message seemed to be for her. She wrote to the program headquarters, mentioning she was certain the Lord had spoken to her through the Faith for Today program. When she recalls her past feelings of despondency, she says: "Had it not been for Faith for Today, all this happiness wouldn't have come into my life."

Further study led her to baptism at the Santa Rosa, California Seventh-day Adventist Church, October 3, 1964.

Sabbath, February 13, 1965, is a significant day to look forward to. At that time God's people will have the opportunity of contributing to the Faith for Today ministry. The General Conference has called for an offering double the amount ever given by our people for the Faith for Today ministry in previous years.

Mrs. Suchanek today is a Seventh-day Adventist rejoicing in the coming of the Saviour because of the Faith for Today television ministry. Make it possible for thousands of others like her who are eager to know truth to learn of the Saviour. Your gift can help make it possible to open 50 new stations to Faith for Today's ministry.

Congratulations

During the recent Ministerial Institute the 1965 Ingathering campaign report was received from the local conferences and at that time the largest check covering Ingathering receipts from one conference in the Northern Union was passed on to the union treasurer. We extend congratulations to the Iowa Conference leadership and its laity for the excellent attainment in exceeding $73,000.00 in receipts for this campaign. This is $5,000.00 increase over the attainment of last year. It is also in excess of $20.00 per capita for every member in the Iowa Conference, the first conference in the Northern Union to pass

Officers of the Iowa Conference present to officers of the Northern Union a huge check representing Iowa's Ingathering. The check was for $73,216.00, the largest amount ever raised in Iowa, and to date the largest in the Union.

News Notes

⊕ "It Is Written" rallies were held from January 20-24, at the following places: Watertown, Aberdeen, Huron, Sioux Falls, and Pierre. Harold Reiner, Associate Secretary of the General Conference "It Is Written" television program, James Gray and F. W. Bieber led out in these rallies. Perry Pedersen of the Northern Union was present for the Watertown Rally. An excellent interest was shown in the programs presented. On Friday evening, January 29, and on Sabbath, January 30, James Gray conducted "It Is Written" rallies at Bowdle and Mobridge.

★ Reports after the conference-wide Church Officers' Council held on January 24 in the conference office were very favorable to the day's program. Many expressed themselves as feeling that this was the best meeting of its kind they had ever attended. The day's activities consisted of a devotional for the entire group at 10:00 a.m. Harold Reiner led out in this. Following this the departmental men, conference secretary-treasurer, Book and Bible House managers, and the conference president led out in sectional meetings. It is hoped that the instruction and inspiration gained at this meeting will carry through in a stronger local church program along all lines.

★ D. W. Schiffbauer and James Parmele report a good beginning of their evangelistic campaign which started January 23 in Watertown. A fine number of non-Adventists were present for the first night; and of course, our church members supported the meeting with their presence. Please remember this campaign in your prayers.

★ Your conference Home Missionary Secretary wishes to express his appreciation to every member of the South Dakota Conference for valiant cooperation during the recent Ingathering Crusade. Last year's total amount was exceeded by several hundred dollars and we feel that more will still come in. Eternity alone will reveal the good accomplished.

★ Ingathering victory banquets were recently given by both the Huron and Sioux Falls Churches. Many members received awards denoting the amount they had raised this year. The good spirit of victory was shown by the smiling faces.

Hot Springs Cherishes Christian Education

It costs over $51 a child to run the church schools of the South Dakota Conference. Christian education is a large portion of the budget of any church that operates a school. It is also a large portion of the Conference budget as all these schools are subsidized from conference funds.

On a per pupil cost small church schools cost more to run than larger church schools. This larger expense is carried by the church.

The Hot Springs Church School has seven students this year. Their enrollment has approximately an average of eight or nine students the past few years. Of course, they have felt the financial bite. Last year they raised their tuition rates to the highest in the conference. This raise will probably need to be made in all the church schools soon. The Hot Springs Church people do not leave the whole burden to the parents, for most of them subscribe a monthly amount for church school and some add nice-sized sums to this from time to time.

This year Sharon Dickhaut is teaching the school. Sharon learned to love Hot Springs right away and the Hot Springs people have been most appreciative of their teacher's efforts.

The kind of program run by the Hot Springs Church School is making workers for God's cause and saints for eternity!

IT IS WRITTEN Report

"I listened to your sermon today and I do not remember when I have been so favorably impressed by a minister." "Your sermon was a real inspiration to us, May God bless you in your work." "I enjoyed your program on KDLO-TV Sunday at 3:30." "We watch you on TV every Sunday and enjoy it very much."

These are typical of the letters being received every day at the conference It Is Written office. After only three telecasts we have already received 55 requests for the Bible study guides Take His Word. Eighteen out of the twenty churches in Sharon Dickhaut beginning the morning lessons with her first grader, Coralea Neisnor, Bible Class.

Introducing the Reimches

Pastor and Mrs. Ronald Reimche have just come to the South Dakota Conference from Vancouver Island, British Columbia, on Canada's west coast.

Theirs has been a rich, colorful 20 years of ministry for the denomination in various fields of service. Of these 20 years, Pastor Reimche spent 9 continuous years as literature evangelist. His internship years were in frontier areas of North Central British Columbia, reaching out to the Queen Charlotte Islands, 90 miles from the mainland, surrounded by the Pacific Ocean just below Alaska.

Part of their colorful ministry, with the support of friends and church members, was the building of four new churches and two church schools. One of these churches is perhaps North America's only float church, and is known as the Watcher Isle Church, 250 miles up coast (at a floating logging community) from Vancouver.

Five of their most interesting years were as personnel and skipper minister of the mission ship, "The Northern Light", which became known around the world during 19-64 because of the Sabbath Schools' second quarter 13th Sabbath overflow offering appeal, from which 1/3 of the funds went towards the building of a larger vessel to serve Canada's west coast.

They are now located at Spearfish in the beautiful Black Hills.

We welcome the Reimches to South Dakota. I am sure the churches under their care will grow and prosper while they are with us. All of our ministers and laity will be enriched by their friendliness and inspiring enthusiasm.

We wish the Reimches God's richest blessings as they are now located here in South Dakota and assist us in the finishing of the work here.

Muscatine News

William John Hockridge, Chris Haller, and Victor Swayze were baptized in the Muscatine church on December 26. How happy we are to see old and young accept Jesus and follow Him.

Ingathering victory came to the district in this order: Sigourney, Washington, and Muscatine. For Muscatine, it was the first time in several years, but not the last! Ruth Barko gave outstanding leadership. Brother and Sister Aaron Moon led our church school to triple their goal. The enclosed picture shows six happy "Jasper Wayners" each credited with raising $130. They are, left to right, Victor Swayze, Rita Fillman, Debra Fillman, Myrna

On February 20 an evangelistic series begins in the Muscatine church with C. P. Shobe of Davenport as the speaker. If you have relatives in the area, please send the information to G. M. Fillman, 1150 Lucas, Muscatine, and they will receive a personal invitation to attend. Pray that God's Spirit will use the whole church in this soul-winning crusade.

Iowa Sunset Calendars and Iowa Offering Book Marks

By this time the 1965 sunset calendars and the 1965 offering book marks should have been distributed to every member in Iowa. Everyone should have a sunset calendar in his home and one offering book mark in his Bible.

I realize that no system of distribution works perfectly. It is with that thought in mind that I'm inviting anyone who hasn't received either one or both of these items, to write to me. We'll be glad to send these items by return mail. They are free.

Perhaps I should add that the sunset calendar was produced by Oak Park Academy and that this was done on a complimentary basis. In behalf of the Iowa members I want to express appreciation to Oak Park Academy.

What a challenge to those who are younger! Mrs. Morey was baptized in 1918 as a result of Bible studies given by a neighbor. Hers has been and still is a life of service for her Maker. Her love for the Bible is shown by the fact that she reads it through each year. Do we have an older church pianist in Iowa?

Joy filled the great heart of God and the hearts of many of His earthly children recently as Miss Ramona Pulver publicly testified to her faith in Christ by baptism. The baptism was conducted at the Hibbing Church, and was performed by V. W. Emmerson, who also presented the morning message.

Ramona joined the Virginia Church. The membership of the Virginia Church was invited and attended the service to witness the baptism and to welcome Ramona as a member.

Through Waters And Fire

"When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers they shall not overflow thee. When thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee." Isaiah 43:2.

Fire and water are two of man's best friends as long as he has control of them. They warm, cleanse, fertilize, and convey. But when they get control of men, they become enemies. They overturn, consume, and destroy both property and life.

The saints must pass through the waters to reach heaven. Israel's home in Canaan lay beyond the Jordan. Some waters are deep and wide; we cannot see the bottom or the other side. But that is not a cause for fear to the Christian—for "I will be with thee".

Thank God that we shall not always be floundering in floods, nor fording rivers! The text says "pass-est through", not merely into. We shall reach the other side! When General Booth's wife was dying, she sent out the message: "The waters are rising, but so am I. I am not going under, but over."

Fire and flame! These are fearful words when applied to trials. They mean the most severe forms of trouble. Steel is tempered in red-hot fire, then plunged into cold water to harden. But it becomes vastly more valuable as a result. So let us not complain if we experience the hot and cold treatment now and then.

Thank God we shall not always remain in the burning fire and scorching flame! The text says "walkest through", not merely into. One "like the Son of God" will be with us; and not even "the smell of fire" will be upon us.
