Class Song

“THERE SHALL BE NO ALPS”

We have climbed the spreading foothills,
And have reached the mountain's base;
Now we halt to rest a moment
As life's problems new we face;
For our goal is yonder summit,
So we dare not linger here,
But must follow close our leader,
Where He guides we need not fear.

CHORUS

There shall be no Alpine mountains
That dare bid us turn aside,
For each hidden pass is open
To our guardian and our guide.

There is much for us to conquer
Ere we reach the mountain's head;
For its ridges oft are narrow,
Dread and deep the chasm's bed.
But shall this our ardor dampen?
Nay! 'twill buoy our courage high,
For our faith beholds the valleys
That beyond the summit lie.

We are sad our path is turning
From the friends that we leave here.
Yes, your memory forever
We shall hold a treasure dear.
We shall find the fullest meaning
In the years that are to be,
Of the lessons that were taught us
In the dear academy.

Fernando Academy Wants Your Youth

Eighteen years ago the writer called at a home—a Seventh-day Adventist home—in southwestern New York, and asked the parents to send one of their children, a boy about sixteen years of age, to the Mount Vernon Academy. It seemed a long distance from New York to Ohio, and to those parents it appeared a great question as to whether it was wise to send their boy away from home to receive his instruction from strangers, and to be trained by hands other than their own.

Many questions were asked, especially by the anxious mother, relative to the standard of the school, the character of its faculty, and the moral nature of the student body. Finally she said, “Brother Taylor, if we send our boy, will you promise to take a personal interest in him, and treat him as you would your own? If you will, we will do all in our power to meet his expenses, and make every necessary sacrifice for his maintenance while there.”

I looked into that mother's eyes, and as I saw the faith, the earnestness, and the devotion of her life, I was truly led to love the boy for her sake. And I said, “Yes, I will try to make him my own, and will seek to do for him even as you would do were you there.” And the young man was sent out from under the home roof with the earnest prayer of faithful parents that God would bless him and make him a worker in His cause.

That young man was none other than Lynn Bowen, the dear worker who gladly entered Africa, took the work of Elder Sturdevant that he might have a furlough, and who, during the last General Conference, laid down his life for Christ in that far-away but blessed mission field. It was of him that Elder Sturdevant spoke, saying, “He died in my place.”

Now, fathers and mothers of the Southern California Conference, we are coming to you once more to ask for your young men and women, that we may do what we are able, to train them for the great work of God. And for my part, I wish to say to you what I said to dear Sister Bowen so many years ago. If you will send them to school, I will seek to love them as my own, and to do for them even as any true parent would do were he himself with them. And let me assure you that you will have abundant opportunity to rejoice, if one day you behold your children engaged in the glorious work of soul-saving, and finally crowned by the Saviour upon the sea of glass.

We are hoping that the coming year will be one of the best Fernando has ever known. Great blessings have come to the school in former years, but as we are nearer the end, and in the time when God is so wonderfully calling upon the youth to enter His service, we may most earnestly and expectantly hope for His power to attend our efforts and so bring larger blessings to all connected with the school.

It is perhaps needless to say that we shall seek to give God's word a large place in the life of the academy. In a preeminent sense, the plan will be to make the Bible classes revivalistic in their nature, earnest, heart-searching seasons, as well as intellectual tests. We greatly desire that God shall be present at each period to mold lives, and thus make every period of study a time for new and fuller conversion.

A study of the calendar reveals the fact that for the most of our young people there has been no weakening of the course. During the four years of the academic course the faithful student may find it possible to gain such a knowledge of the Bible as will fit him for service anywhere, and will so equip him that he need never be brought to confusion.

I do not hesitate to say that now is the time for the fathers and mothers of this Southern California Conference to rally to the support of the Fernando Academy, and send their young people to receive of its blessings. It is impossible to overestimate the importance of early and faithful action. O, how many of our youth are slipping away from us! O, how many are receiving a worldly mold, the result being that many are uniting with the world in marriage, or perchance are entering its service because they find it more lucrative and pleasing.

In every department of its work, Fernando Academy excels the worldly high school, for in every department the teachers are seeking to maintain Christian standards, and seek to order their work to meet the needs of the third angel's message. In the world's schools of the present there is to be found a subtle influence pervading every class room, a something which, sooner or later, causes blindness and hardness of heart. In the Fernando Academy, every class room knows but one spirit, a something which softens and subdues, and leads the student to see more clearly the need of being absolutely right with God.

In every good way the faculty of the Fernando Academy will seek to anticipate the needs of its students. First of all, we shall truly seek God for a high spiritual standard. This is paramount. To maintain a high intellectual standard will, of course, command the best thought of every worker. And it will not be forgotten that social life is of great importance, and in this we shall endeavor to occupy a plane which no one may legitimately question, and yet one which will afford the students sincere pleasure and lasting profit.

Fathers and mothers of Southern California, Fernando Academy asks for your young people, the very best of all your treasures. It asks for them because they need its benefits. It asks for them because God needs them in His work. It asks for them that they may be saved from the world. It asks for them because just now is the time for them to enlist in the service of the Lord.

We promise you to do our best. We will give them our hearts' truest service, both by day and by night. We will earnestly strive to perfect them in the Lord Jesus, that one day they with you may be crowned with life in the kingdom of God.

Forced obedience is of little worth. Cheerful obedience to just and wise laws is true liberty. The work will be conducted in a manner to develop character. Those in charge will feel that they must conduct their work according to the instructions of the spirit of prophecy.

Fernando Students as Foreign Missionaries

Within the last five years, San Fernando Academy has sent about twenty-five young men and women to fields outside of the United States to become missionaries in the work of the third angel's message. These young men and women have done satisfactory work in the field, and won the respect of their superiors. They have worked hard and faced many difficulties.

We believe that the majority of these young people have had their missionary spirit which they received at their family altar, preserved and renewed when they attended our missionary school. San Fernando Academy has always worked on the theory that the salvation of the youth was made more sure by encouraging them for definite work at home and abroad under proper supervision.

There is strength in the thought that others are doing the same work in other lands that the missionary is endeavoring to do in his field. Our young people have demonstrated that after the romance of missionary work has worn off, they could still remain on the firing line and determine to work until the end of time.

Among our representatives are the following:

E. C. Silsbee, of South Africa, was for some time young people's secretary of our conference and employed at the Long Beach and Glendale sanitariums. He attended San Fernando Academy about four years. Mrs. Silsbee was Nina Lawry, whose mother still lives in Los Angeles. She attended the academy about three years.

Homer Olmstead attended the academy after completing a high school course. He took the ministerial course of two years, and on completing it, went to South Africa. He is now in charge of the Emmanuel Mission Station. Mrs. Olmstead attended our school four years and completed the normal course.

J. Rossier Campbell came to San Fernando from Arizona and attended the school three years, completing the ministerial course. Mrs. Campbell was Myrtle Henry of Downey, who attended the academy for three years.

Elbridge M. Adams, now in the Philippines, finished the ministerial course and labored in Southern California several years before going to the Orient.

J. A. P. Green was one of the students of San Fernando Academy in its earliest years. He attended school for about four years. He has been canvassing agent for Spanish books in Mexico for about five years. He has been successful in his work in that needy field. He received his first canvassing experience through the sale of "Christ's Object Lessons."

John L. Brown, now canvassing agent of Spain, was found by Prof. J. L. Kay in Los Angeles, and brought to San Fernando as a student in 1906. He was one of the first canvassers in Spanish fields, going to Mexico in 1908.

Laura Barr-Boden attended school

three years, after which she went to the Foreign Mission Seminary, thence to Bolivia, South America. She returned to the seminary, and this fall, with her husband, she will teach in the Spanish school of Guatemala.

Floyd Ashbaugh went to the Philippines in 1911 and has been canvassing in Iloilo for Spanish books. He has been very successful in his canvassing work, and has brought some people into the truth.

Mr. Walter Mead was in attendance at San Fernando for two years. He is now at a mission station in India. Mrs. Mead was Miss Genevieve Johnson, our music teacher for four years.

Florence Noble-Hamilton was a student in 1909, and is now located among the Karens in Burma.

Virgil Edwin Peugh and wife both graduated in 1910, taught in Laurelwood Academy one year, then entered the Washington Foreign Mission Seminary. They went to India in 1912, locating at Trichinopoly, among the Tamils.

Robert McKeague attended San Fernando Academy, after which he completed the nurses' course at the Loma Linda Sanitarium. He is now laboring in the Hawaiian Islands. Mabel Marvin-McKeague attended the academy from 1905 to 1908. She finished the academic and music courses, and also graduated from the nurses' course of the Loma Linda Sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, now laboring in Valparaiso, Chile, were formerly members of this school. Mrs. Foster was one of the first normal graduates.

Henry Brown went to Mexico as a canvasser. He entered the Foreign Mission Seminary and this summer is canvassing in Cuba.

Kenneth Wood, missionary to China, was in attendance at San Fernando in 1909-10.

Frank Cary has been a missionary teacher in the Bay Islands for many years.

The following are now under appointment by the Mission Board: R. P. Robison and wife to South Africa, Silas Davis and wife to Mexico, James I. Robison and wife to India.

Work for Students

We have never said much relative to the work we give to students to apply on their expenses. Each year we give several thousand dollars' worth of work to worthy students. We find that the students who apply to us for admission wish to take full class work. It is impossible to carry full work where the student wishes to earn his expenses. We have found that, in addition to the fifteen hours of work per week required, the student is unable to work more than ten hours per week for pay. We have allowed this extra work in many cases, and those who need the opportunity this year should make early application.

For Sale

Will sell, or may trade for property near church school, modern seven-room house near Lodi Normal. Address owner, B. T. Myers, 337 East Walnut St., Lodi, California.

Music

During the last school year, between fifty and sixty pupils took private lessons in piano, organ, and voice from Mrs. Gertrude I. Bachman. The students have been well pleased with the training and we believe that a large number will continue the work this year. A special music course is offered whereby the student may pursue a combined course of music and literary work, receiving a diploma when the work is completed. The calendar gives full information.

“A church should be more zealous to lift its people than its steeple to the skies.”

We were using, this week, “Coming King,” Spanish. Practically all our orders are for this book. In all we took sixty-eight orders, and a few orders for “New Testament Primer,” Spanish. Tuesday evening we walked down the Coronado hill, one thousand feet down a steep hill.

Wednesday morning we walked up the Shannon hill, about nine hundred feet, and down again that evening after securing orders for twenty copies of “El Rey Que Viene” (“Coming King”).

We worked until Friday noon, and then started to walk home, the distance being about five miles, one mile of which is up a steep mountain one thousand feet high. Though weary, we rejoice in being able to reach the people with the precious literature. We give the Lord all the praise, and believe His angels are working with us. Remember us in prayer, that we may be able to deliver the books we have taken orders for, as they are all Spanish.

Yours for the message,
 C. F. Innis.

Conference Notes

Our force of canvassers are working very hard and are obtaining excellent results.

Brother Hollister reports two new Sabbath-keepers at Flagstaff, and an interest which requires all of his time to develop.

Elder I. P. Dillon recently baptized two candidates at Globe. Others are awaiting baptism at the first opportunity at Globe, Sanchez, Flagstaff, Prescott, and Bernardino.

On Monday, November 3, at 10 A.M., the legal meeting of the Arizona Conference Corporation of Seventh-day Adventists will be held. All of our churches will be expected to elect delegates on the usual basis, for both the conference and the legal meeting.

Elders Dillon and Sims report six new Sabbath-keepers at Safford, and a Sabbath-school of sixteen members. Besides this they have at least forty persons to whom they are giving Bible readings. Invitations are extended to them to hold meetings in near-by places. We hope by continuing the effort as long as the interest demands, that we will secure a good strong church at Safford.

ARIZONA

Morenci

Just a few words to let you know about our work the past week. On Monday Brother Reese and I started to a small camp seven miles away. We were told that there were about thirty or forty families there, but to our dismay there were but about that many people. Brother Reese and I took orders there amounting to $13.00, and walked back to Morenci the same day, covering in all about sixteen miles. It was up-hill all the way home, so we were tired. Walking seven miles in the hot sun, and up-hill at that, in Arizona, means something. The next day at 12:40 we started to Coronado mining camp, which was nearly five miles away, and over a very rough burro trail. We arrived there at 3:30, and at 7:10 the same afternoon Brother Reese had orders amounting to $18.50, and I had orders amounting to $24.50.

Two camp-meetings will be held in Arizona this year. A local meeting at Safford will be held September 11 to 18. The general meeting will be held in Phoenix, October 30 to November 9. The state fair will be held in Phoenix, November 3 to 8. Our people living at a distance from Phoenix can thus secure reduced rates from November 2 for the forward journey, to November 9 for the return trip. We are confident that this will be the largest meeting ever held by our people in this conference. A little later we will be prepared to announce the names of the visiting ministers who will be in attendance. At this meeting the election of officers will take place and other items of conference business will receive attention.

For the coming school year we have prospects of at least twenty-five more students than were in attendance last year. We are ordering eighty-three modern seats to accommodate our students. Our faculty will have five members. We are introducing an elementary commercial course this year, and have already ordered the best typewriters obtainable for the purpose. Announcement of the names of the faculty will be made a little later. We have recently had our new school building fitted with sanitary plumbing and expect to have it ceiled throughout before the opening day of the school. The school will open on September 15, which date corresponds with the date of opening the public schools. We believe that the strengthening of our school will mean added strength to our conference, as well as the development of our young people for places in the work of giving the last message to the world.

UTAH

June 15, tent meetings were opened at 2945 Washington Ave., Ogden, Utah. After six weeks of presenting the truth from the desk every night and much visiting from house to house through the day, in which the canvassers have had no small part, five adults were baptized, July 26; two brothers and three sisters. Four other sisters and one brother who are keeping the Sabbath desire baptism. Others are keeping the Sabbath who have not yet requested the administration of this ordinance.

We are encouraged with God's witness to the efforts that are being put forth here.

Brethren, remember us in your prayers as we open the meetings in another district.

Conference Items

Mrs. Mann left Tuesday for the San Jose camp-meeting.

Brother Westermeyer left Tuesday for Oakdale, where he will assist Elder Gardner in a tent effort.

We have not heard from Elder Fred Brink, but we presume that he and Brother Urquhart are opening up their tent meeting at Gridley.

Professor Wallace, who is now teaching in Healdsburg, was here the other day, planning for his work in connection with the school another year. Brother and Sister Wallace will live in the home. A number of the teachers will be in the dormitories this year. Quite a number of inquiries are coming to the school, and the prospects are good for a large attendance this fall.

Elder W. S. Holbrook and wife and son Wilbur left Sunday night for Alturas. Together with Marion King, he expects to open up a tent effort there soon.

The tent meeting at Stockton opened up Thursday night, July 31. The large 35 x 55 tent was quite well filled. It is expected that a corps of workers will be kept going from house to house during this tent effort. Some are coming who were in attendance at the camp-meeting.

The work at the office is in good running shape again, since returning from the camp-meeting. Good orders are coming in for literature, which is an indication that our brethren and sisters were richly blessed at the camp-meeting.

Elder Taggart is assisting in the tent effort at Stockton. He will visit the churches a little later. Our people are all anxious to see aggressive work done, and we feel that they will be willing to get along without any ministerial help for a while. All our workers are now in the field laboring for souls.

Gleanings from Canvassers' Letters

One brother writes: "I am enjoying my work here very much, only wish I had more time to work. I am staying with some very fine Baptist people. I put a book in for a room. I'll tell you, Brother —, I look upon the canvassing work differently now from what I did before I took it up. I used to think it was a 'very blue work,' but I have found a blessing in it. The people are not so prejudiced as I thought they would be."

Another one of our faithful canvassers has just reported a one hundred per cent delivery of $83.60 worth of books in one day. In nineteen hours the same week he took $36.00 worth of orders.

One writes: "I am still at work doing my best to place the truth where it is needed. More and more I see that the people are indifferent to religious themes. Pray for the workers." Dear reader, this canvasser is making a success of his work, because he is one who prays much. I take the following from another letter: "I have promised to send literature to two ladies. One is on the verge of accepting the truth."

Again: "The Lord has blessed me with better success, as you can see by my report. I believe the Lord has a work to do here, and I certainly hope and pray for divine guidance." I have recently spent some time in the field with this canvasser, and I assure you we had some blessed experiences as we met people who were longing for the truth, one family especially, who had two of our books, but wanted more. The lady said our books "contain the truth."

Two of our faithful boys who have been working in Santa Barbara County, have just reported a very successful delivery.

We must not stop writing without mentioning the faithful work our city canvassers are doing. We have eight workers here in the city of Los Angeles who are doing earnest work, and are meeting with a good degree of success.

Dear reader, let us not forget to pray earnestly for these city workers especially. They need the prayers of God's people in a special manner, for they meet with many difficult problems which are not encountered elsewhere. But the Lord has told us, through the spirit of prophecy, that we must work the cities; so let us do all we can to encourage these workers, remembering them at the throne of grace.

Ministers Who Will Attend

Besides the ministers and the workers in our own conference, we have assurance that the following laborers will be present: Elders E. E. Andross, I. H. Evans, J. O. Corliss, J. N. Loughborough, E. W. Farnsworth, R. W. Munson (missionary from the East Indies),

H. R. Johnson, J. S. James (from India), Walter Bond (from Spain), G. A. Grauer, Meade McGuire (of the Young People's Department of the North American Division).

In addition to these names, we have some hopes of Elder T. H. Okohira's attending our meeting, and possibly a representative from the editorial staff of the Signs of the Times.

We could hardly ask for more help than this. With God's blessing attending the labors of these brethren among us, we can expect a most excellent meeting. Come to be present at the first session of the conference on Monday evening, August 4.

“Not to get through this life somehow, but to get through it well, should be a constant study.”

What Will the Answer Be?

Young man and young woman of Southern California, will you attend San Fernando Academy this fall and winter? This question has more meaning to it than you may have thought. The answer to it may involve much more concerning your future welfare than you have appreciated.

Stop just a moment and reflect calmly on the possibility of blessing, opportunity, and privilege that may follow to you if you take advantage of the chance which is within your reach to obtain an education and a training for the Master's work. Think also of the possibility of loss to you if you should fail to grasp the opportunity which is now extending such an urgent invitation to you.

Will the world have your life's service and you perish at last with all earthly things, when the bitter wail is heard, “The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved”? Or will you be permitted to hear the “well done” from your Lord and Master, and to enter into His eternal joy? Which of these experiences will be yours, is with you to decide; and it may be that your decision to go to school this year, or not to go, will determine to a large degree the outcome of life for you.

How many young men and young women have neglected in earlier life this golden opportunity, only to spend their remaining years in bitter regret for their folly.

There has never been a time when the young among us had such favorable opportunities as they have now to secure an education and a training for the work of God. Then what answer will you give your Lord and Master when asked why you did not use your privilege?

Young man, young woman, are you going to Fernando Academy this year?

Southern California Camp-Meeting Further Information

Will our people throughout the conference take particular note of the following information which is given in addition to that which was sent in a former letter to the churches?

Location of Camp Ground

The meeting will be held in Chesterfield Square, on Fifty-fourth and Gramercy streets, in the city of Los Angeles. This beautiful tract is laid out in city blocks, with cement sidewalks and graded streets. It gives us all the advantages of water, electric lights, gas (if wanted), and sewer connections. Grounds are amply large for our camp, and in most ways are nicely adapted to our needs.

How to Reach the Camp

Those coming into the city over the Southern Pacific road, take a West Fifth Street car (yellow car) in front of the Arcade depot, and take transfer for Main Street South at Fifth and Main to the Monita Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street car, and get off at Denker Avenue where the car stops. From this point, walk west on Fifty-fourth to the grounds.

Those coming by the Santa Fe roads go north from the depot to First Street and take car going west, transfer at Main and First, and take same car as above to the camp ground; or transfer at Broadway to the Grand Avenue-Mesa Drive car going south; get off at Fifty-fourth Street and Second Avenue and walk east to the grounds.

Any one coming on the Pacific electric cars to the Pacific electric depot at Sixth and Main, take Monita Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street car going south on Main as mentioned above. Any coming into the Pacific electric station at Fourth and Hill streets, walk east on Fourth or Fifth to Broadway, and take Grand Avenue-Mesa Drive car as above mentioned.

Camp-meeting representatives wearing badges will meet all incoming trains.

Baggage

Hold your baggage-checks until you reach the ground, and there place them with the baggage-master at baggage headquarters. This suggestion is very important, that confusion and delay in getting baggage to the ground may be avoided.

Reduced Rates on Railroads

The Southern Pacific, the Atchison-Topeka-Santa Fe, and the San Pedro-Los Angeles-Salt Lake railroads have offered the usual one and one third fares for this meeting. This is on condition that fifty or more attend.

On the Southern Pacific roads this arrangement holds good from all points on their lines in Southern California as far north as Santa Barbara and Mojave, and south to the Colorado River, including branch lines.

On the Santa Fe roads the offer covers all points in California south of Mojave. This will include their Johannesburg branch, and will extend to Needles, California. On the San Pedro and Salt Lake road the offer covers all their stations in California.

When you purchase your ticket, be sure to take a certificate from the agent. This is necessary if you expect the one and one third fare for return trip. Hold this certificate until you come to the camp ground, and there pass it to the conference secretary for his signature. When he has signed the required number, he will give notice to the railroad companies, and they will grant the one third fare for return trip.

The time for purchasing tickets under this special arrangement is from July 25 to August 17, inclusive, to the meeting; and from August 4 to August 22, for return trip.

Furniture for Campers

Do not fail to send your orders at once for the furniture you may wish to use during the meeting. This is necessary if you expect to be supplied. The committee can not order articles indiscriminately from the furniture houses.

Tent Rents

As mentioned in a former issue of the RECORDER, the rent of tents will be as follows: the 12 x 17 tent, including fly and floor cloth, $5; the 10 x 12 tent, with fly and floor cloth, $3.50. Furnishings for tents will be extra, and only as ordered by the campers.

Cafeteria and Store

Meals will be provided on the cafeteria plan. The best service that long experience in the business can give, is promised to the campers. A lunch-counter and grocery store will be run in connection with the cafeteria, where foodstuffs can be bought, or light lunches served.
