San Fernando Academy

SAN Fernando Academy was called into existence to do a special work for God,—the work of preparing young men and women to go out to labor as the great mission fields many, many who received their training at San Fernando, and they are doing splendid work for God. Our Foreign Mission Board has recognized the high standard of San Fernando, and looks specially address these few lines to the faculty of San Fernando Academy in appreciation of the valued men and women that your academy has sent to the South African Union Conference, and who to-day are occupying important posi-canvassers, colporteurs, evangelists and helpers in various lines of work. Under the blessing of God, it has most wonderfully succeeded in accomplishing its mission.

To-day, there are scattered through to its students to fill important positions of trust in all parts of the world.

Writing to the San Fernando Academy faculty from South Africa, Elder W. B. White says of San Fernando students now in that field: "I wish to tions on our union stations. The men sent out by your academy are truly devoted and untiring in their efforts to carry the third angel's message to the many tribes in this country who know not the present truth. We count these men and women that have come from your institution as among the best that we have in our field. We are sure that the school that is putting such men and women into our mission fields is doing a wonderful work for God."

San Fernando has sent out devoted workers who are now doing great things for God. And San Fernando will continue this same good work.

Plans have been laid to make next year the banner year, not only in numbers, but in reaching high standards desire to receive special and quick preparation for practical work. Young married people may find special opportunities to receive benefit and to do good.

The work in public speaking and pastoral training, and church history, will be of great service to those contemplating public work, or those who may later be called to act as elders or deacons of the local churches.

It goes without saying that the Bible work will be kept strong, wholesome do not wait. Begin now to plan to send them to San Fernando September next. We will do all we are able to help them come, and to make their life-work a success.

The faculty for the coming year will be exceptionally strong. As teacher of Bible and history, we have secured Elder H. S. Prener, former Bible teacher of Keene Academy. His work for the students should be of the highest quality. The young people will enjoy the work in his classes.

and in developing a strong, efficient corps of teachers and other workers for the cause of truth. The academic work offered by the academy has been strengthened in every way possible, consistent with plans laid by the Pacific Union Conference.

The normal work will be continued in an effective way, in harmony with the plans of the union conference. Many strong features are found in the course offered, and our young people, desiring to teach, will be especially pleased with the work done.

The academy will be a splendid place for those of more mature years who and helpful all through. Not only are our special doctrinal truths emphasized, but the practical lessons are given particular place, in order to help in Christian experience from day to day.

Let all give thought to the matter of making the San Fernando school one of God's greatest places of learning. San Fernando should be dear to the brethren of Southern California. It is their school for their children.

Where will the children God has given finally be found? Keep this in mind. Give them every chance for everlasting life. Be willing to make every necessary sacrifice for their salvation. And Prof. W. H. Buxton, who comes to teach English and Latin, is, without a doubt, one of the ablest teachers among our people. He comes to us from Armona Academy.

W. C. Baldwin, formerly of Lodi Academy, will take charge of the boy's home. He comes with a knowledge of the responsibility placed upon him, but his heart is in helping the young men who come to the school home. He will also teach in the academic department.

Miss Rena Klooster, who will act as preceptress and matron, comes direct from our college at Berrien Springs, Mich. She loves young women, is re-finer and cultured, is specially strong in domestic science, and should be one who will give that character to the ladies' home which our high standard of Christian social life demands.

Next year we are to have a new home for our boys. The normal building has been entirely remodeled and placed in a condition to receive, in a home-like way, all the young men who come. Effort has been put forth to the end that every one who enters this home shall encounter a spirit of culture, and that if you are faithful in teaching the common branches, many of your students could go directly into the work as canvassers, colporteurs and evangelists."

"A few days ago I had the privilege of seeing the buildings and surroundings of the San Fernando school. . . . I am glad that you are several miles away from the City of Los Angeles. You have good buildings, and are in a favorable place for school work. . . .

"Let the San Fernando school be con-should be putting their minds to the stretch in an effort to prepare to meet these calls.

"Let us do all in our power to make the San Fernando school a blessing to our youth. Teachers and students, you can do much to bring this about, by wearing the yoke of Christ, daily learning of Him, His meekness and lowliness. Those who are not directly connected with the school can help to make it a blessing by giving it their hearty support. . . ."

refinement and carefulness, and thus be molded into right form for God and the truth.

The Place of San Fernando Academy

May 15, 1903, Mrs. E. G. White wrote the following concerning this school: "I have felt from the first that it was the Lord's privilege which gave you that location; and, if the school was wisely managed, it would prove a great blessing to the people of Southern California. I have felt that you ought to do thorough work with whatever you ducted along the lines of the ancient schools of the prophets, the Word of God lying at the foundation of all.

"It is important that we should have such a school as the one soon to be opened at San Fernando. To us has been committed a great work,—the work of proclaiming the third angel's message to every nation, kindred, tongue and people. We have but few missionaries. From home and abroad are coming urgent calls for workers. Young men and young women, the middle-aged, and, in fact, all who are able to engage in the Master's service,

Bible at San Fernando

The San Fernando Academy, with its reputation for the missionary training of workers for the fields at home and abroad, is sparing no effort to help finish the work.

Christian young people trained in the message are wanted, just now, for every department of service; and aside from the special training for the educational, evangelical, publishing and medical work, God at this time wants young people who can understand history in the light of prophecy, the everlasting Gospel that they might be sanctified by the truth, and the Spirit of prophecy that they might be established in the faith of our fathers.

New Testament history, by Prof. M. E. Kern, adapting "Desire of Ages" and "The Acts of the Apostles" by Mrs. E. G. White, is our first year's Bible study. The text-book "Bible Doctrines," by Elder F. M. Burg, is used the second year. A careful study of the prophetic books, Daniel and the Revelation, in the light of authoritative histories and recognized denominational writings constitutes a part of the fourth year's work.

News Notes

This week Elder J. R. Patterson and Brother R. R. Breitigam are pitching a tent at Rolinda. They plan to begin meetings the latter part of the week.

Our secretary, Brother G. A. Wheeler, has returned after a few days spent in the foot hills. It is with improved health that he rejoins the workers in the office.

A letter has been received from Brother S. G. White, the former secretary of the conference. He reports progress in the study of the language and his family in good health. They desire to be remembered to members of Central California Conference.

Elder F. E. Brown is starting this week for a trip across the country toward the coast. Along the way he will distribute literature in the homes of the people. He will also give special attention to visiting our isolated believers. Before his return he plans to visit the churches along the coast.

Sabbath, August 1, Elder Meade MacGuire spoke three times in the Fresno church. Many of our people from nearby churches met with us. In spite of the hot weather the attendance was good. It was the close of a week's meetings by Elder MacGuire. His services were helpful to us all and much appreciated. The Sunday and Monday evenings following he spoke in the Armona church, brethren and sisters coming in from Hanford, Island and Le-moore.

The shortage in tithes to July 31 should be a matter of serious reflection on the part of every church member, and especially to the elders, to the end that God's cause will not be hindered in any way for lack of means, for truly the harvest is ripe, but the laborers are few. MISCELLANY

It Is Being Prepared for You

Before me on my desk are the proof pages, just sent over from the Review and Herald across the lawn, of the new Harvest Ingathering number. The cuts are in Philadelphia where will be made the plates for the pages. These will be prepared in the latest improved method for the long steady run ahead that will be required in printing the six, seven or ten hundred thousand copies that you good people out in the fields shall order of them. Presses are already hard at work getting the three-colored cover pages ready, into which the body of the paper will be inserted when printed.

A booklet of helpful suggestions from the officers of the General Conference, also another message from the pen of Sister White, signed in the familiar hand, though a little trembly now with the weight of years, which speaks especially regarding our Harvest Ingathering work with its great possibilities for winning souls to Christ, together with most excellent experiences from a large number of those who gained them last year as they went out among friends and neighbors and strangers, is now being printed and will soon be ready to send out to all the churches.

Reports from the early camp-meetings speak of the lively interest manifested in the Harvest Ingathering work. Some conferences are taking for themselves an aim higher than the average suggested by the executive committees of the General and North American Division Conferences. All of this is very encouraging indeed.

The prospects are good, therefore, that we shall have the best time of it this autumn with our good missions number of the Review that we ever have had. It will all depend upon the individual soldiers of Christ forming the ranks, as to what we shall accomplish. By all getting ready and all doing our individual part, a grand good work will surely be done. Let every one reading these lines resolve now before the Lord that he will do more this year than ever before, by reaching more people with this live mission-filled number, and receiving more in actual gifts for missions than in any previous year.

If by August 15 you do not receive your leaflets mentioned above as sent the elder of your church direct from the Review and Herald, write to your tract society secretary for one, so that you can be studying up and preparing for work.

"God's love for His church is infinite. His care over His heritage is unceasing. . . . He has a work for all to do. There must be constant enlargement and progress. The work must extend from city to city, from country to country, and from nation to nation, moving continually onward and upward, established, strengthened and settled."—"Testimonies," Vol. 9, p. 228.

Now is the Time to Use the Newspapers

There never has been a more opportune time to proclaim the message concerning the Battle of Armageddon through the newspapers, than now. While Europe is all aflame over the Austrian-Servian controversy, and the indications point to a general war, our workers ought to realize the wonderful opportunity they now have of telling the people through the papers just what is about to break upon the whole world.

An article on the Battle of Armageddon would make a very timely subject for any newspaper and would be read with more than ordinary interest because of the turbulent conditions now existing in Europe. The publication of an article on this subject ought to be the means of opening the way for the printing of extracts of sermons or even of letters or interviews on various subjects dealing with the third angel's message. So eager are some newspapers to fill their columns with war news that they are reprinting what the sooth-sayers said a year or more ago about the troubles that would occur in different countries of Europe in 1914. The third angel's message is more powerful and inspiring than anything a soothsayer can ever think of saying, and, by asking help from the Lord, our workers, wherever newspapers are published, ought to be able to herald the message far and wide through this medium by using the strife in Europe and what the battle among the nations means in the light of prophecy as a basis for these articles.

Various phases of the message are being proclaimed through the secular press this summer but while the whole world is being stirred by what is going on across the water, our workers should double their efforts to sound the warning of Christ's soon return by writing articles and thus bring to the attention of the millions of readers the fact that such strifes were foretold by the prophets and are of more than ordinary significance. Brethren and sisters, let us work while it is day, for the night cometh when no man can work.

Peace and Prosperity Cry

The omens of the nearness of our Saviour's return, as seen in the social, political and religious world, are now so common that we scarcely give them due attention. The front page of every daily paper so faithfully depicts the last-day conditions foretold by holy men of old, "that he may run that readeth."

Noting two items in one front-page column of a recent Los Angeles daily, it is plain to see at least one way the enemy of souls is blinding men's eyes from seeing just ahead the crisis of the ages just ahead:

"Peace Pastors Plan to Preach in Europe

"New York, July 13.—An exchange of pastorates on an extensive scale between ministers here and prominent advocates in the pulpits of England, Germany and some other European countries, is planned by the Carnegie Church Peace Union.

The plan will be one of the subjects discussed at the world church peace conference at Constance, Switzerland, beginning Sunday, August 2."

"Wave of Good Times Seen Sweeping Country

"Washington, July 13.—A tidal wave of prosperity is swiftly and certainly on its way over the nation, and it is only a matter of months—perhaps weeks—before business in every corner will be enjoying the greatest era in its history."

"And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh."—Luke 21: 28.

When we see those things, outlined so vividly on page eleven, Volume 9, actually transpiring before our eyes, should we not give heed to these words:

"Everything in the universe calls upon those who know the truth to consecrate themselves unreservedly to the proclamation of the truth as it has been made known to them in the third angel's message. That which we see and hear calls us to our duty. The working of satanic agencies calls every Christian to stand in his lot."—Vol. 9, p. 25.

BOOK WORK

Service

In looking into the motives that impel service, we generally see duty as all prominent. We might truly say, duty in action is service. Every honest man who has well considered his duty will at once put his convictions into action. This is an all important part in character building.

While this is true, duty's course is not always easy. There are many mountains of difficulty that must be surmounted. The faithful canvasser finds this to be true, but he has the promise that "If we look to Him who is the Author and the Finisher of our faith, we shall not fail nor be discouraged."

To the irresolute there is many a lion in the way, and instead of working with his might he only moralizes and dreams. Not only must there be many conquests over likes and dislikes; but, what is harder to attain, a victory over adverse repute. The man to do anything is not the man who will first say, What will the people say? But if he asks, Is it my duty? he can then proceed in his moral panoply, and be ready to incur man's severest ridicule.

One of the primary qualities to be gained in a service man is willingness. This habit of willing is called purpose; and from what has been preached from the pulpit and taught from the desk, the importance of gaining a right purpose early in life will be obvious. Novalis describes "character" thus: "Character is a completely fashioned will, and that will may in an honest man be steady and constant through life. He will not think of the small oppositions of man, but will have for his only goal the approval of his own conscience and the words 'well done' at the end of his race."

Canvassing in Southern Arizona

According to plans pre-arranged by the conference committee, I came to the southern part of this state in April to engage in the canvassing work. Brother G. H. Reese, who has been canvassing in Arizona almost one and a half years, joined me at Douglas, where we began our work.

Douglas is a smelter city of about 10,000 population, which is nearly equally divided between American and Spanish-speaking people.

History has made the month of April famous as a month that most of America's wars began in, and so it proved this time. The war scare came and we were on the border amid people that under ordinary conditions were peaceful and industrious, but under opposing leaders now were panic stricken.

Many Americans sent their wives and children to more quiet places. The Mexicans would interrupt the Canvass by saying, "Como La Guerra?" or, "How goes the war?" In the face of these conditions our sales were not large, but we went on, and many homes now have the precious books of truth.

In June Brother Reese and I came to the famous mining district of Bisbee. This is the second largest copper-mining camp in the world, and the largest in Arizona. Brother Reese began using that wonderful book, "Great Controversy," among the English-speaking people, while I worked with, "Salud y Hogar" among the Mexican people. These poor ignorant and down-trodden people surely need such a book to help them learn how to clean up and to care for themselves, and to treat minor diseases.

In one little town called "Tin Town," because most of the houses are covered with tin that once served for oil cans, I secured thirty-five orders in a very short time. The next week I began work on "Chich nahua Hill" with that noble and inspiring book, "Patriarchs." This section is mostly Spanish. Last year I had worked the same territory with "Salud," placing a good number there at that time. It was encouraging to see my last year's customers receive me like a real friend and promptly order "Patriarchs" when shown the book. With the Lord's help I have secured many excellent orders from this class of people.

I am confident that if we can ever enter the main Mexican Republic with safety and sell our health books first, the same man can follow advantageously with our religious books.

Not long ago I met a lady that last year had given me an order for "Home and Health" Spanish. As I had been unable to find her then, she had not received her book. She still wanted the book and I delivered it to her to-day.

In this great state there are many opportunities to sell our good literature. At present we have only two in the canvassing work. Truly it can be said of Arizona, "The harvest is ripe, but the laborers are few." There are three large mining camps that could now be worked by consecrated canvassers, besides other parts, and one excellent field in particular that has not been worked for many years. This place is located along the line of the Santa Fe railroad, across northern Arizona taking in the lumber camps near Flagstaff where the weather is ideal during the summer.

It is not too late to begin now to serve the Lord in a practical way by entering this important work. If any who read this are impressed to respond to God's call, we will not only welcome you, but help you into the harness, and assist you into becoming an agent or messenger that will carry the precious truth to souls now in darkness. For further information, address the writer at Bisbee, Arizona. C. F. INNIS.

Our Berean Library

For many years there has been an urgent demand in the prosecution of our work for an altogether lower-priced literature, and this demand has at last been met in the Berean Library with its eleven truth-filled volumes, containing something like 4000 pages in all, which is available for the small sum of $1.86 plus the postage.

Surely God is going before His people, and preparing the way for the earth to be sown with the pages of truth "like the leaves of autumn."

This excellent set of eleven volumes is but one of the many mighty agencies in our hands for the finishing of the work, and I feel confident that it will contribute a full share in making possible our true goal of at least one soul each for Christ.

It has been the writer's privilege to attend a number of our early camp-meetings this year, and at each of these important gatherings a large number of sets of the Berean Library were ordered by our people, and a testimony of universal approval is born in their favor. Just think of it—eleven volumes for the price of two; and then they contain God's great message for the hour!

We have suggested that our people read again those of the set that they have already read, and carefully study each volume. When we see the power and beauty of these message-filled books, we can not but want to loan them to our neighbors and friends with a strong recommendation that they read them also.

By the time one has read these eleven volumes, he will be so filled with the message that there will be but one thing for him to do, and that is, apply for church membership. You can see, dear brethren, what a wonderful help this is going to be to us in the finishing of this work.

At least one soul! The way to get one is to sow the seed. Sow plentifully. Don't become weary in the sowing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not. If you want to bring ten souls to Christ, get after one hundred.

Some have ordered ten sets of the Berean Library. How many can you handle? If you begin with one set, and press into every opening, embracing every opportunity and laboring in faith, you will soon want a second one.

This morning Brother Ford received an order from one conference for 250 sets of the Berean Library—2750 books—to be sent direct to the camp-meeting. It is impossible to estimate all that is represented in this goodly supply of seed for the sowers.

The plan is to loan these volumes to our friends and neighbors. Use them as the interest grows consequent upon a faithful distribution of tracts in your assigned territory. There is nothing like having a definite patch to work. Take one or more streets, and carry forward the work systematically from week to week.

We would like to have you join us in this mighty soul-winning campaign. Bring the matter up at your missionary meeting, and encourage all to take hold of this with all the other lines of missionary endeavor; and the day of His glorious coming will surely be hastened, when we shall be gathered home. "We shall come rejoicing, bringing in the sheaves."

The world is stirred as it has never been stirred before. People—Christians and unbelievers—are asking the meaning of the great clash of arms in Europe. The Signs of the Times, bearing date of August 18, contains two excellent illustrated articles, covering four pages, on this very question. The editor writes under the title "Is Europe's War Armageddon?" and Elder M. C. Wilcox writes interestingly and illuminatingly under the title "The Greatest War Storm in History." Extra copies have been printed. The price, as usual, is 2½ cents per copy for five or more.

Your Old Prospectus Corrected Free

If you have one of the former editions of this prospectus, see that it has samples of all the above books, and that the prices are the same as quoted in this list. Your tract society will furnish you free the following:

1. An attractive label for the inside cover of your prospectus, which may be pasted over the incorrect one.

2. Sample cover and sixteen pages from the "Vegetarian Cook Book," which will be added to the home workers' series this fall.

3. Descriptive label for "Making Home Happy," in which the new price of 75 cents is given; also a new label to replace any you may find quoting prices out of harmony with the list given above.

If you do not have one of these prospectuses, you will surely want one, and thus be able to join the army of workers who are selling thousands of the good books it describes. If you do have one, it will pay you to have it brought up to date by writing your society at once for the new labels and samples.

Utah Conference

The fourteenth annual session of the Utah Conference of Seventh-day Adventists will be held in connection with the camp-meeting at Kaysville, Utah, September 7 to 13, 1914.

The first meeting will be Monday evening at eight o'clock. It will be a preaching service. The conference will convene Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Let all be on time for the first meeting. At this session the conference officers will be chosen for the ensuing year, and other business transacted which may properly come before the delegates.

Each church is entitled to "one delegate for the organization and one additional delegate for every five members of its membership." There will be tents for rent, but orders must be placed with Brother J. F. Gaster for them not later than September 1. There will be good water on the ground. Plan to come and stay all through these meetings. For further information, write to J. F. Gaster, Salt Lake City, Utah, 776 East Sixth South Street.

W. M. ADAMS, Pres.,
J. F. GASTER, Sec'y.

Utah Corporation

The next annual session of the Utah Conference Corporation of Seventh-day Adventists will convene at Kaysville, Utah, on the school grounds in a tent September 8, 1914, at ten o'clock A.M. All business pertaining to the corporation will be transacted, and the officers for the coming year will be elected. Each local church will be represented by its regular delegates to the conference.

W. M. ADAMS, Pres.,
J. F. GASTER, Sec'y.
