A Visit to Utah, Western Colorado and Nevada

Brother Claude Conard and the writer left Glendale Thursday, February 3, arriving in Salt Lake City Friday, February 4. We found considerable snow in Utah, and the weather quite cold as compared with what we had left in California. We spent Sabbath, February 5, in Salt Lake City, where we found quite an interest had been awakened by the effort of Elder A. S. Booth, and a number had taken their stand for the truth. The house of worship was well filled on the Sabbath, and there were many indications that the Lord had greatly blessed the work in that field. We were entertained at the home of Elder W. M. Adams.

Elder E. A. Curtis, who has served for several years as president of the Western Colorado Conference, and was appointed by the Pacific Union Conference committee to serve as president of the new Inter-Mountain Conference, embracing Utah, Western Colorado and one county in New Mexico, met us at Salt Lake. We counselled with the brethren in that part of the field, and Sunday night, in company with the members of the conference committee from Utah, and Elders Curtis, Adams,

M. A. Hollister, Charles Nelson and Brother J. F. Gaster, went on to Grand Junction, Colo., where we spent three days and a half in counsel regarding the interests of the work in the new Inter-Mountain Conference. The Lord blessed in this council, and we believe that the plans laid will result in material advancement to the work in that field.

It was decided to locate temporarily the headquarters of the new conference at Grand Junction, but later the matter will be submitted to the constituency for a decision regarding the permanent location of the headquarters. It seemed to us that, on account of the fact that the population of Utah is about 500,000, while that of Western Colorado is about 200,000, and also because Salt Lake City is the commercial center for the entire region, undoubtedly it would be wise eventually to make Salt Lake City the headquarters of the conference. However, because of the fact that about two-thirds of the present constituency is found in the Western Colorado field, we felt that it would be wise to locate the headquarters temporarily at Grand Junction. We believe this arrangement will reduce the expense of the operation of the field, and altogether will give strength to the work.

It seems to us that the field should soon develop into a self-supporting conference. Western Colorado has been self-supporting since its organization, but now with the addition of 250 members from Utah, making 750 members in the entire conference, there is no reason why it should be necessary to continue indefinitely appropriations from the union conference. However, it is our desire to assist in the work in that field until it is placed on a basis where it can carry the work forward without embarrassment over the entire conference.

Sabbath, February 12, I spent in Ogden. I find that the Lord has greatly blessed in the work there since my last visit. A very neat church building has been erected, one that will give character to the work in that city, and quite a number of new members have been added to the church as a result of the work put forth. The brethren are of good courage, and we feel certain that the work will move forward encouragingly. Elder Hollister is located at Ogden.

Brother Conard and I continued our trip to Fallon, Nev., where we arrived Sunday, February 13. We visited the new intermediate school, located about a mile and a half in the country from Fallon. The school now has about fifteen acres of land, about eight acres of which is very rich alfalfa land, and yields a splendid crop. A beautiful building, with cement basement, and three large class-rooms has been erected, and is now in use.

Brother A. W. Russell is principal of the school. He has an assistant teacher, and is carrying work including the ninth grade. The prospect is very favorable for a good intermediate school. Much of the soil in that district is quite productive, and altogether it seems like a good farming section. It seems to me that our brethren who are anxious to locate in a new country, where they can do good missionary work, and yet be near a good school, would do well to investigate the advantages offered at Fallon. We do not have, as yet, all the facilities to make the school a success, but we believe they will soon be provided, and that without incurring debt.

Monday, we resumed our journey to California, over the Southern Pacific, arriving at St. Helena Tuesday, February 15. A meeting of the St. Helena Sanitarium board was held Tuesday afternoon, and Wednesday afternoon we went to the college, where the Pacific Union Conference committee held a meeting.

We found the St. Helena Sanitarium quite prosperous. The patronage was good, and the work on the new building for treatment rooms and physicians' offices was progressing nicely. It now looks as if we would be able to complete the building and pay for it out of the net earnings of the institution during 1915 and 1916. It will be a five story, reinforced concrete structure of approved type, and will be a very much needed addition to the institution.

Later we will report the meeting of the union conference committee.

We earnestly solicit the prayers of our brethren and sisters throughout the field in behalf of our institutional work. The Lord is blessing the interests of His work. E. E. ANDROSS.

INTER-MOUNTAIN

To the members of the Inter-Mountain Conference.

Dear Brothers and Sisters:—

Doubtless you are all aware that for a year or more the matter of uniting the Western Colorado and the Utah conferences has been under consideration. Both conferences at their last sessions voted in favor of it, and the question was referred last fall to the council of the North American Division Conference. That body passed an action recommending it, also that the new conference be known as the Inter-Mountain Conference and be united to the Pacific Union. This latter body took favorable action at its meeting and took preparatory steps by electing the executive committee. A meeting of this committee was held at Grand Junction, Colo., February 7 to 10, which was attended by the president and secretary of the union conference. At this time the organization was completed.

It was decided that for the present the headquarters should be at Grand Junction. The officers and departmental secretaries are as follows: President, E. A. Curtis; secretary and treasurer of conference and tract society, J. F. Gaster; Sabbath school secretary, Mrs. J. T. Spriggs; educational, home missionary, and Missionary Volunteer secretary, W. M. Andross; field agent of colporteur work, J. L. Sauder; religious liberty secretary, M. A. Hollister. Executive committee: E. A. Curtis, W. M. Adams, W. M. Andross, M. A. Hollister, Charles Nelson, J. A. Neilsen, and J. F. Gaster.

We start out upon our career as a new conference with strong hope that through the blessing of God we shall be able to accomplish a good work in giving the message in this territory of Utah, West Colorado and San Juan County, New Mexico. I have recently spent two weeks in Utah and visited the churches of Ogden, Salt Lake City, and Provo. A cordial welcome was given by the people, and I enjoyed my association with them very much.

In the united field we now have a membership of about 750. We ask for and hope to receive the hearty cooperation of all in carrying forward the work. In order that we may quickly and easily give to the membership a knowledge of our plans and secure the assistance of each one in operating these plans, it is desirable that we have a regular means of communication. The union conference paper seems to afford the best means of accomplishing this object, therefore, we desire that as far as possible all our people become subscribers to the PACIFIC UNION RECORDER. The union conference has kindly consented to send to each one a sample copy of the paper containing this and other articles. I do, therefore, earnestly request and urge that you send in your subscription through your church missionary secretary as soon as possible. Those who are isolated may of course, send their orders direct to the conference office. The price of the paper is 50 cents per year. Send all orders to the Inter-Mountain Conference, 122 South Eighth St., Grand Junction, Colo.

E. A. CURTIS.

Conference Items

Elder E. E. Andross preached an inspiring sermon in the Grand Junction church on Wednesday evening, February 9. A few were present from the churches of Palisade, Clifton and Fruita.

Elder E. A. Curtis left Grand Junction the afternoon of February 13, to attend the meeting of the Pacific Union Conference committee at St. Helena, Cal.

Home Missionary, Educational and Missionary Volunteers

In accepting the burdens laid upon me as embraced in the above departments, it is only with the feeling of unworthiness, and with the hope that God will greatly bless in the forwarding of His work along these lines.

It needs no argument to convince us that a mighty and far-reaching work must be accomplished by those among the rank and file of our people before we can expect the work to be finished. "God has given to every man a work to do in connection with His kingdom. Each one professing the name of Christ is to be an interested worker, ready to defend the principles of righteousness. The work of the gospel is not to depend solely upon the minister; every soul should take an active part in advancing the cause of God."

There can be no question but that we have reached a time in the history of our work when more earnest endeavor must be put forth in the special work for our young people. The enemy is bidding high for the youth, and it behooves us to do all in our power to stem the tide of evil and turn our young people back to love and service for the Master.

As plans are laid for the advancement of these lines of Christian endeavor, I trust that the most hearty cooperation may be received from all our people in the Inter-Mountain Conference.

W. M. ANDROSS.

Book Work

It has been my privilege to spend the past week in Western Colorado, which is now a part of the Inter-Mountain Conference. Friday evening, February 11, was the first of a series of meetings held in the church at Delta, Colo. Representatives from several of our churches were present, and I believe that all were spiritually blessed.

I was very glad to find among those present several who are interested in the colporteur work and desire to enter this important branch to assist in giving the last warning message to the world in this generation. Was pleased to meet at this meeting Brother D. T. Snideman who has been faithfully laboring with "Bible Readings for the Home Circle." He is doing very good work and is of good courage.

Clarence Snideman, a son of Brother D. T. Snideman, is planning to take up the work as soon as school closes.

Brother H. B. Meeker is answering the Master's call and has his canvass almost learned. I was out with him a short time Monday, gave three exhibitions, and the Lord blessed us with two orders for "Bible Readings" and a prospective Bible order. Sister Myrtle M. Chisholm is also answering the call to service and has ordered a prospectus. Others who desire to enter the colporteur work, as soon as the Lord opens the way, are Carl Carmichael, Mary A. Gould, and Mrs. J. L. Preston. We hope to find still others to whom the Lord is saying, "Go work to-day in My vineyard," and who will obey the command.

Brother A. R. Robinson, one of our faithful laborers in Utah, is doing very good work lately. Brother George Hewitt is working with him, and is also meeting with success.

Our faithful Brother Moore has dropped out for a short time, but we hope to see him back in the work again very soon. We also expect Sister J. G. Jensen and Brother C. C. Fox to be in the field in the near future.

Pray for the workers here that they may be faithful, and that an abundant harvest may be seen as the result of their seed-sowing. J. L. SAUDER.

The Meeting in Delta, Colorado

At the conclusion of the committee work at Grand Junction, Colo., Elder W. M. Andress, Missionary Volunteer and home missionary secretary, with Brother J. L. Sauder, field missionary secretary, and the writer, left for Delta, Colo., where a midwinter meeting had been appointed for that church and the neighboring churches. Upon our arrival we found the members had come from at least seven churches or companies. Sabbath morning over seventy were at Sabbath school, and under the able direction of Sister Adams, the Delta Sabbath school superintendent, a very profitable hour was enjoyed. One of the features noted was that almost every teacher was not using the lesson quarterly, a very commendable feature I am sure. While the donations were not what we had hoped they would be, still, we believe, in the future they will be increased so as to attain to the standard set—20 cents per week per member.

That Sabbath was a good day throughout, for about thirty reconsecrated themselves, and the next day four were baptized, which is a source of joy to all of us. The Christian church very kindly permitted the use of their fount, where it was my privilege to administer this ordinance.

The time each day was fully occupied, beginning with the devotional meeting at 8:30 A. M. Other hours were 9:45 and 11 A. M.; and 2:30, 3:45, and 7:30 P. M. Various departmental work was given consideration, such as, young people's, missionary, Sabbath school, church school, and book work, besides a good deal of time given to the subject of health reform, in which we found the people much interested.

At the preaching services, as well as at other meetings, several outsiders were present, especially Sunday morning and evening, when the church was pretty well filled. At each of these meetings an urgent invitation was given to return and give them more of such spiritual lessons.

The subject Sunday night of the "Mediatorship of Christ and the Close of Probation" attracted a good deal of attention, and we are praying that the seed sown will take firm root.

The educational work was of special interest. The speeches and discussions, concerning the various phases of that work, by Elder Andress, the educational secretary, Miss Hough, church school teacher at Cedaredge, Miss Johnson, teacher at the Delta school, and one of our brethren who is a professor in one of the Delta public schools, were listened to with much interest. I am sure all agree that the church school is of God, and that under His guiding hand, and the watchcare of godly men and women, is an assured success and an asset to the denomination; for the future of the denomination depends very much on the way our children and youth are trained.

We have three such schools in the Inter-Mountain Conference—the one at Cedaredge with thirteen in attendance; Delta with eleven, and at Salt Lake City, taught by Sister Marie Coombs, one of about fifteen pupils. We hope that some of our other companies will be supporting such schools before long.

We are glad to report that the brethren and sisters of this part of the conference were more than pleased with the plans of the Inter-Mountain Conference organization, and show a spirit of cooperation and unity that betokens success in the new conference. When the possibility of the conference session and camp-meeting being held in Salt Lake City was mentioned, a number expressed themselves as glad that it would be held there, and that they were going to plan from this time to go, so as to get the benefit of the meeting and become acquainted with the members in Utah. I am sure we shall have a good representation from the eastern part of the conference at that meeting.

We owe an expression of appreciation to the sisters for the way in which they provided for the physical needs. The cafeteria in the schoolroom of the Delta church furnished most excellent meals free to all visitors and attendants at the meeting, and all seemed to enjoy themselves as though it were a continued church picnic.

We feel to express our heartfelt thanks to God for all the blessings we enjoyed. M. A. HOLLISTER.

Hotchkiss

On Sunday, February 6, I was privileged to meet with the Hotchkiss church and baptize five candidates. Three of these were taken into the church there, while the other two will be united with the church at Paonia. One sister, who followed her Lord into the watery grave, had never heard an Adventist sermon, but has accepted this faith solely through reading, while another was brought to a knowledge of the message largely through the efforts of an isolated member.

If our dear people who are scattered here and there throughout this mountainous region will only watch for souls as they that must give an account, their vigil and faithfulness will be richly repaid in seeing many souls saved in the kingdom of God.

for fruits from the effort. Let us not forget to pray for the different efforts that are being held.

In arranging the dates of the various camp-meetings, the union conference committee in its recent meeting at St. Helena, recommended that the date of our camp-meeting this year be May 25 to June 4. The location has not yet been decided.

Please remember that $13,863.20 is our conference goal for missions this year. We must try to reach it. Duplicate pledge cards have been sent out to the different churches. If you have not already filled one out, kindly do so as soon as possible, and hand it to your church treasurer or send it to the conference office.

An interesting Sabbath school and young people's convention was held at Bakersfield on Sabbath and Sunday, February 12 and 13. There was a good attendance, especially on the Sabbath, and we believe that the presentation and discussion of the different topics pertaining to Sabbath school and young people's work will be profitable.

Writing from Winton under date of February 18, Brother C. W. Fuller says that on Sunday night the attendance was about 150, and that it has been good most of the time during the week. He writes: "There have been in attendance quite a few regular ones who have not missed a night. I hope you will especially remember us that God may work for the people here."

Items

Elder Alexander Ritchie is continuing his work at Whittier.

Brother Clyde Lowry has been invited to continue as secretary of the tract society depository with Brother C. L. Cyphers as assistant secretary.

The following appointments have been made by the conference committee for the departmental work of the Southern California Conference: I. C. Colcord, Educational; Jennie L. Ireland, Sabbath School; G. A. Snyder, Religious Liberty; D. D. Comstock, M. D., Medical; Celian E. Andross, Young People; Miss Violet R. Bell has been asked to continue her work in the office.

Elder Sydney Scott and a company of co-laborers began a series of meetings on Central Avenue near Twelfth Street, Los Angeles, Thursday evening February 17. These workers are putting forth special effort for the colored people of the city. The attendance has been exceptionally good. Some evenings nearly 200 have been present. Uniting with Brother Scott in this work are Dr. H. F. Rand, Brother P. B. Bontemps, Sister Jennie L. Ireland and Sister A. R. Temple.

Three times a week meetings are held in Conference Hall. Elder G. A. Snyder has general supervision of the work of these meetings. An effort is being made to unite the evangelical and medical missionary phases of our message in this meeting. Ministers and physicians are working together in the presentation of the message. The attendance has been excellent. Also in connection with these meetings at the hall, classes are being formed to train our church members to give Bible studies on the truth. B. E. BEDDOE.

EDUCATIONAL

Lodi Academy

We were greatly benefitted by Elder R. F. Cottrell's visit and missionary sermons. He was gratified to find that about fifty students in the academy have their eyes and hearts fixed on the foreign field.

The ministerial and Bible workers' band at the school is carrying on a regular line of subjects as in a series of meetings, with the students in charge. Several of the young men have been visiting and speaking to the near-by churches.

The week of prayer this year brought to us a great spiritual refreshing, and the timely messages stirred the hearts of all and developed an enthusiasm in the work. Opportunities were given for some of the young men to visit churches and assist in the meetings.

Our large Missionary Volunteer society which was reorganized at the beginning of the new year, has well directed working bands for active missionary work. The chief ones are Bible workers, literature, and mailing bands. This union of school work with actual progressive work, we feel will be most practical and maintain real spirituality.

A great privilege has come to us in assisting in the large effort that is being conducted by Pastor A. S. Booth in Stockton. To the academy has been left the responsibility of providing special music each evening, as well as other help. Automobiles go to Stockton every night with singers or the orchestra. Some of the young men are assisting in other ways. We are enthusiastic in the prospects of success which are evident already in the effort.

During the holidays, it was the purpose of some of the students to spend their time, not in selfish gratification, but in an active campaign for good. Consequently, two companies were formed for evangelistic work during vacation. Brethren L. E. Westermeyer and A. B. E. Huenergardt went to Colfax, where there was a little interest. They held services in both English and German, the result being that a deep interest was developed. One man came to Lodi soon after, and was baptized. A paragraph from these young men will be more to the point: "Our vacation spent near Colfax, in Brother H. L. Wolfen's neighborhood, was to us the most profitable and enjoyable one we have ever experienced. The privilege of dealing the Bread of Life to such hungry souls as we found there was real joy. Nearly the entire community, young and old, attended the meetings held at the schoolhouse. And such an attentive audience as they were! Each night taking with them the texts used in the study for home perusal, we having placed them on the blackboard for their convenience. Our prayer is that the Lord will water the seed sown; and too, that further help may soon be given these people, for we know that the enemy of souls is desperately at work." Several young men and women remained at Lodi and joined with the writer in holding services in this church. In spite of bad weather, the attendance was very good. Besides the help to our own people, some outside interest was awakened, which is being followed up. W. P. DAYTON.

BOOK WORK

Canvassing in Japan

A foreigner carries credentials that enable him to canvass with success in Japan. As a rule the people have confidence in that which is presented by a foreigner. Even though one's knowledge of the language limits him to the words "Please buy, five sen," matrons, students, priests, and professional and business men will readily respond. I have sold "The Gospel for the Last Days" under the fantastically curved roof of many a temple. At first one wearies of continually stooping to enter so many low doors. Just inside, in a little space where you can stand with your shoes on, instead of knocking, you say, "Jomen Nasai!"—Pardon, please. The language is replete with apologies, euphemisms, and honorifics. A moment later the white paper door is slid open, and a woman on her knees bows low, her hands flat on the mat before her. Another apology, then, "I wish to hang this New Year's magazine on your honorable eyes." If the lady is not so poor that she hesitates to spend twenty or twenty-five per cent of a woman's daily wage for something she may not be able to read, or if she doesn't happen to be an ardent Buddhist hater of "Yaso"—Christianity,—she will hand you a Japanese nickel (2½ cents) and take the paper. Of course, here, as in America, one meets all kinds of excuses, more or less sincere. Another bow, with thanks, and a final apology and you are gone.

The other day I called on several prominent lawyers. In Japan, a man's office or business is usually at his home. As I presented my card to the young man, I stated simply that I desired to hang for a moment on his master's honorable eyes. Stocking-footed, I was ushered into a room containing a table, chairs and a brazier of coals for warming the body through the finger tips. In a few minutes a bright-looking affable gentleman appeared and took his seat, prefatory to hearing what I had to say. A brief canvass sufficed to secure his subscription. He said he thought nothing of the price and thanked me for my trouble. I bowed low and retired as quickly and gracefully as I could. It is not polite to linger long at the threshold. One lawyer's name helped to get others.

All of the four upon whom I called subscribed. May the Lord help these bright men to investigate deeply the saving truth found in "The Gospel of the Last Days."

Department Secretaries

At a meeting of our union conference committee, held at Loma Linda, following the biennial meeting of the union conference, the latter part of November, secretaries for our various departments were appointed as follows:

Prof. M. E. Cady was asked to continue his work as secretary of the educational and young people's departments. He is at present located in Oakland at 537 Twenty-fifth Street. Elder G. W. Reaser was appointed field secretary, to give special attention to the financial interests of our work in this union, assisting in the raising of funds for the various interests of the work, and otherwise helping to promote the same. Elder W. F. Martin was asked to take up the work of religious liberty secretary for the union. It was not with the intention of calling him from the position that he now occupies as president of the Southeastern California Conference, but it was thought that he would be able to take the general oversight of this department of our work, and with the help that we will be able to give him, we trust he can carry it forward successfully. Brother F. E. Painter was asked to act as field missionary secretary, taking charge of the interests of our book work in this union conference. Dr. T. J. Evans, of Loma Linda, was appointed medical secretary of this field. The committee decided to continue the publicity department of our work in this union, and Brother F. A. Coffin was asked to act as secretary of this branch of the work, securing the publication of articles on the message in the newspapers wherever possible.

These brethren will do their best to promote the interests of the various departments which they have been invited to take, and we solicit the hearty cooperation of all our people in making the work a success. E. E. ANDROSS.

Elder Daniells at Portland, Maine

About 1800 people sat before Elder A. G. Daniells in Portland's beautiful civic hall one Sunday evening recently to hear the first of three lectures that he gave in that city. So great was the interest in his subject, "Changing the World's Man," that the leading business men invited him to address them at a banquet the next evening at their club headquarters. Elder Daniells accepted the invitation, with the intention of speaking on the political, commercial, and educational awakening in India and China. To his surprise, they expressed a preference for a repetition of his Sunday night's lecture. Two hundred or more were present, and to use the words of our informant, "not a man moved, not an eye seemed to shift during the speech."

Manuscript of this lecture and two others—"Miracles of Modern Missions" and "Preparedness and Armageddon"—have been secured by the weekly Signs of the Times for publication. The first will appear about the first of March.

Our people will wish quantities of these special issues for distribution among neighbors and for mailing to friends and relatives. The publishers will be prepared to meet the big demand. The price will be 2½ cents per copy in lots of five or more to one individual. Let your tract society know at once how many you can use.
