The Cross of Christ

Christ is our example. He placed Himself at the head of the human family to accomplish a work the importance of which men do not comprehend because they do not realize the privileges and responsibilities before them as members of the human family of God. We may understand the object of the work of Christ. His object was to reconcile the prerogatives of Justice and Mercy, and to let each stand separate in its dignity, yet united. His mercy was not weakness, but a terrible power to punish sin because it is sin: yet a power to draw to it the love of humanity. Through Christ, Justice is enabled to forgive without sacrificing one jot of its exalted holiness.

Justice and Mercy stood apart, in opposition to each other, separated by a wide gulf. The Lord our Redeemer clothed His divinity with humanity, and wrought out in behalf of man a character that was without spot or blemish. He planted his cross midway between heaven and earth, and made it the object of attraction which reached both ways, drawing both Justice and Mercy across the gulf. Justice moved from its exalted throne, and with all the armies of heaven approached the cross. There it saw One equal with God bearing the penalty for all injustice and sin. With perfect satisfaction Justice bowed in reverence at the cross, saying, "It is enough."

By the offering made in our behalf, we are placed on vantage ground. The sinner, drawn by the power of Christ from the confederacy of sin, approaches the uplifted cross, and prostrates himself before it. Then there is a new creature in Christ Jesus. The sinner is cleansed and purified. A new heart is given to him. Holiness finds that it has nothing more to require.

The work of redemption involved consequences of which it is difficult for man to have any conception. There was to be imparted to the human being, striving for conformity to the divine image, an outlay of heaven's treasures, an excellence of power, which would place him higher than the angels who had not fallen. The battle has been fought, the victory won. The controversy between sin and righteousness exalted the Lord of heaven, and established before the saved human family, before the un-fallen worlds, before all the host of evil workers, from the greatest to the least, God's holiness, mercy, goodness, and wisdom. Christ's sacrifice exalted the law, proving that it was from the beginning, and would be through all eternity, from everlasting to everlasting.—Mrs. E. G. White, in "Bible Training School."

Loma Linda Jubilee Campaign

The College of Medical Evangelists has undertaken to raise $16,500 for needed improvements at Loma Linda. The personnel of the whole institution has been divided into twelve teams, and each team has developed a goodly measure of friendly friction that seems to be succeeding splendidly as a dollar-raising stimulus.

The teams are as follows:

1. Medical students—1st year.
2. Medical students—2nd year.
3. Medical Evangelist students.
4. Nurses.
5. Faculty.
6. Business office.

7. Mechanical, Store, Printing Office, Laundry and Bakery.
8. Farm, Dairy, and Garden.
9. Church School.
10. Kitchen and Domestic.
11. Church members not otherwise classified.
12. Los Angeles Division.

A score board has been erected on the lawn in front of the sanitarium, and the daily achievement of each team will be recorded for the period of the campaign,—May 1 to 30. On commencement day, June 1, we are going to celebrate an "over-the-top" victory.

This campaign has been inaugurated in an effort to provide superior facilities for the teaching of those therapeutic and dietetic principles for which we as a denomination stand. Furthermore, our laboratories are too small to accommodate the large classes that are coming to us, and additional room for expansion in all departments must be provided before the next school year opens.

The Lord has been good to us in past struggles, and we are assured of His rich blessing in this new effort. Sixteen thousand five hundred dollars is a lot of money for a small body of workers to be responsible for: yet we know that He who holds the wealth of the universe is behind us in developing the work at Loma Linda. Hence, the surety we feel that success will attend our efforts.

Arthur N. Donaldson, M. D.

It Brings Results

There are opportunities within the reach of all for bringing the third angel's message to the attention of relatives, friends and interested persons, through the medium of missionary correspondence. You may not be able to write frequently, but you can keep the "Signs of the Times" going regularly, and as you do write, incidentally mention events of other points, and call attention to a current article in the paper. Many of our people have followed this plan for years, and in this way hundreds, yes, hundreds, have been won to the truth.

A letter from a lady in Kansas was received at the "Signs" office in February, telling how one of our sisters had sent her the "Signs" for six months. Then she added. "I subscribed for it myself, and paid for the paper to go to several others, one of whom is my sister. She has become a Sabbath-keeper. I have also become one since reading this grand little messenger, the "Signs of the Times." Two women won, you see, through a little correspondence effort, a splendid method of service that is open to all of us. These women will, in turn reach out for others. At least one of them has already started to do so, you noticed, by sending in "several other subscriptions" for relatives and friends. Thus the ever-widening and soul-winning work of the "Signs" goes on and on.

A little suggestion regarding this missionary correspondence work: Keep the confidence of those with whom you work in this way. Pray much, and as the way opens for writing briefly about points of truth, be sweet-spirited and helpful. A new leaflet on "Missionary correspondence leaflet on "Signs of the Times" will give you some ideas and suggestions on this effective method of reaching men and women, and the leaflet is yours for the asking. Request your missionary secretary to get one for you from the tract society office.

Salt Lake City Church

Sabbath, April 19, was a blessed day for our Salt Lake church. Two dear souls were buried with their Lord in baptism, and arose to walk in newness of life. Elder W. A. Sweany gave some timely instruction based on the third commandment.

About one year ago the writer began studying the Bible with the sister, who was baptized, and it was just one year later that she fully identified herself with us as a people. I began studying the Word with the brother about four months ago, and we are truly glad to see him now rejoicing in the truth, and at present carrying the printed page to those in darkness.

The following note written by the sister who was baptized might be of interest to the "Recorder" readers:

"To the Members and Friends of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Heath Methodist Church of Salt Lake City:

"For many years I have wondered why the Seventh-day Sabbath of the fourth commandment has been with such apparent ease so much ignored by a great part of the church-membership of the Christian world. Among Catholics and Protestants the situation is the same; because of this, I have been led to seek knowledge on this matter when opportunity offered, and I have found that the question of the fourth commandment is really more important than it would seem at first thought. It is the doorway to knowledge of a vital message given in the Bible, and especially applicable to our own times and the events taking place about me.

"Feeling that under such circumstances from your point of view, as well as my own, I can no longer hold the position as president of your Society, I hereby hand to you my resignation. With every good wish for you all, I beg to remain,

"Your friend,

"Nellie H. Swanson."

We believe that these dear ones will not only have the blessed words, "well done," said to them, but that they will be the means in God's hands of bringing many precious souls with them into His everlasting kingdom. To the Lord we give all the praise.

C. H. Bates.

"As I have gone through the country in my evangelistic work, I have been surprised to notice the lack of good religious reading matter to be had at a price within the reach of the poor as well as the rich.

"To supply this need, displacing the impure literature with which the country is flooded, and to carry the gospel by means of the printed page to the forty millions of people in the United States who never go to church, I want to get an earnest Christian man or woman in every village and town, and many in the cities, to take up the work with those good books. It is the Master's service, and there is financial remuneration for any who will engage in it."—Dwight L. Moody.

The colporteur work is showing advance moves at the present time. Two new workers are in the field, Brother J. N. Mock having sent in his first report from Grand Valley, covering four days time, with a total of 35 hours and a total amount of orders taken of $124.95. Brother Robert S. Bennett is laboring in Park City, Utah, with the book "Great Controversy" as the leader, having put in 18 hours, securing a total of twelve orders at a value of $43.50. Brother H. B. Meeker, our field missionary secretary, in his last letter to the office said that he was going to the Collbran country with Brother Leach, whom we expect to see become one of our most valued colporteurs in this field.

Sabbath, April 26, Brother J. A. Nielsen, conference home missionary secretary, conducted a home missionary institute at Cedaredge. Nearly all the church-members brought their lunch and the day was spent in an earnest endeavor to better prepare for the finishing of God's work. The church territory was districted and every individual member of the church was drafted to a place in the work. At the close of the Sabbath school, Elder H. E. Lysinger, our conference president, gave a stirring talk on our need of activity in God's work. Two sessions were held in the afternoon in which definite plans were outlined. The evening after the Sabbath the brethren met with the church officers of the Delta church and talked with them relative to the missionary work, both home and foreign.

The greatest call that has ever come to the body of Christ rings in our ears today, as the millions of our fellow beings who have never heard the message of God's love, and who day by day are going down by thousands into Christless graves call to us to impart to them the knowledge we have gained of God's great love for man in that He sent His only son to die for us. To answer this call we must be faithful in our obligations in a financial way to that great portion of God's great work which we commonly call the "mission fields." For the first quarter of the year but six of our churches proved by their mission offerings that they are desirous of increasing the number of missionaries in the foreign field. We hope that before another quarter has passed that all our churches shall have made great strides towards attaining more than the 25 cents per week per member for missions quota. If every member of the body of Christ will talk courage in the finishing of the work, undoubtedly the work will more quickly be finished. When we say a thing "can't be done" it leads some one who hears us to think it can't be done; but if we say it "can be done and we must do it now," some one hearing us say it, will say, it will be done now. Let us all prove faithful in the little things, and encourage our youth by our example in giving liberally to missions to consecrate themselves to the finishing of the work in the distant parts of the earth.

NEVADA MISSION

M. A. Hollister, Supt. J. L. Humbert, Sec.
Box 2072, Reno, Nevada

Here and There

Elder M. A. Hollister reports from Alturas that the committee decided that our camp-meeting will be held at Reno.

On advice of Brother E. H. Abbott, field missionary, Brother J. F. Eads has gone to Westwood, Cal. to canvass for "Bible Readings." He took a supply of "Marked Bible" and ordered 50 copies of "World's Destiny."

From Fallon Brother H. Lyle Wallace writes: "The interest here is still good but we are trying to bind the work off in preparation for the coming camp-meeting. We solicit the prayers of our people for the work in Fallon."

The Reno church ordered 105 copies of "Liberty Magazine" No. 2 April 19, and the next Sabbath spoke for over 200 copies of "World's Destiny." The indications are that this is but a starter of what they will do with this splendid little book.

Brother B. M. Emerson was with us Monday, April 28, attending to matters in connection with the transfer of the Nevada Mission treasury from Glendale to the Reno office. He left on a night train for Grand Junction, Colo., expecting to see us again on his return West.

We extract the following from a letter from Brother C. Bond, of Lovelock, Nevada: "There are five ladies who I am studying with each week manifesting a deep interest. I trust that by the blessing of God these may be led to see the light of the message and take their stand for it. Three of these are quite prominent in social circles here, and I am hoping that through their influence the way may be open for me to study with others."

Office and Field Notes

Elder E. C. Boger and Brother L. B. Ragsdale opened a series of meetings in Phoenix, Sunday evening, April 20. The tent is located between Fifth and Sixth avenues on Fillmore Street, where the camp-meeting will be held. From the beginning the attendance has been good, and the same faces are seen from night to night. Some are deeply interested.

We are glad to welcome Elder Ransom E. Burke into this conference as a laborer. For several years we have felt the need of having a minister located in the Warren-Douglas district, and are thankful that God has opened the way for this need to be met.

The hand of God is seen in many things about us to-day, and we feel that in a special way He has manifested His power in opening the way for us to conduct public meetings in Nogales, Old Mexico. For several years the laws have been such that no one but a native-born citizen of the country was allowed to hold public meetings; but a few days ago permission was granted Brother F. M. Owen to hold a series of meetings across the line. We already have an excellent interest there, and now a good central location has been secured and meetings will be opened at once. Brother Ismael Sanchez will assist in the work.

Our Mesa church has disposed of two of the lots which it has held for several years, and is preparing to erect a church building which will be a credit to the work there.

Camp-meeting will open Thursday night, May 22. Have you ordered your tent?

It was the writer's privilege to meet with the Glendale church Sabbath morning, April 19. We were pleased to see the real, live interest manifested in the work by this little company. In the afternoon we drove on to Marinett, a distance of twelve miles, and met with a company of about 35 or 40, most of whom have recently moved into our conference from Texas. Altogether this was a very enjoyable day, and we extend a hearty welcome to those who have recently come to sojourn among us.

Word from Elder I. P. Dillon says that the interest at Chloride is still growing, and those who have taken their stand are becoming more firmly established. Some of these new believers are planning to attend camp-meeting.

Elder R. E. Burke opened a series of meetings in Lowell, a suburb of Bisbee, Tuesday, April 22. After camp-meeting he plans to hold meetings in the heart of the city. We expect to see a substantial addition to the Warren church from this effort.

Sister Jessie H. Dillon, missionary volunteer secretary, also Sabbath school secretary, is making a tour of the State in the interest of these two divisions of our work. She reports some excellent meetings with the young people, and also with the schools.

Brother and Sister Chamberlain were recent callers at the office. They came to get a supply of books for their first delivery. God has blessed them in obtaining orders, and we feel sure His blessing will follow them as they take these truthfilled books to the homes of the people.

As a result of the meetings held at Glendale last month, and the follow-up work being done by Elder C. D. M. Williams, a few have taken their stand for the commandments of God. Others are interested: so we hope to see several additions to the church there.

The prospects are good for us to sell the property now being used for our school and conference office. We desire to establish the school in a more rural district where we can have several acres of land, and to place our office in a more central business location. We have been requested to state our price for the property.

Brother Vernon Hendershot, who has been employed as principal of our conference school next year, is connected with the effort now being held in Phoenix as chorister and Bible worker. We feel that we are very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Brother and Sister Hendershot.

Sister Jessie Dillon, our Sabbath school secretary, wishes all those who were asked to act as teachers at camp-meeting last fall to be prepared to do so at this camp-meeting, which begins May 22. She also suggests that inasmuch as Sabbath School Rally Day comes so soon after camp-meeting, that it be set for June 4 instead of June 7.

It will be practically impossible to secure rooms in Phoenix during camp-meeting. Therefore, all those who plan to attend should order tents at once. The prices are as follows: 10x12 tents, with fly and burlap, $3.75; 12x17 tents, with fly and burlap, $5.00. There will be a restaurant on the camp-ground, conducted on the cafeteria plan, where meals can be obtained, and a supply of our health foods will also be kept for sale.

News Items

Spring days have come to Lodi Academy as well as to the rest of California. After having gone through a series of experiences, conditions are beginning to quiet down, and the year promises to close very favorably.

We greatly appreciate the hospitality of all our people throughout the field for opening their homes to our colporteurs as they travel from place to place. Then when we reach the promised land we will all share in the reward of seeing souls saved, because we did what we could.

Prospects for the enlargement of the Galt membership are encouraging. Some young people are regular attendants at the Sabbath school, and we are hopeful of their becoming active workers for the Master. A pleasant day was enjoyed by them April 5, at their quarterly meeting service.

The Oroville church witnessed a pleasant day April 12. The occasion was the quarterly meeting. Elder J. W. Rich met with the church, at which time the local elder, Brother Elmer Trousdale, was ordained as leader. An addition was made to the church by one subject to baptism, which will be administered shortly. Through the activities of the church some interest has been aroused, and we bespeak a steady growth for this little company.

The readers of the "Recorder" will be interested to know that one of the best colporteurs' institutes ever held in this field has just closed, and that we are greatly encouraged with the results. The members of the class have a determination to make this season's work a success. Besides the students of the school, we had four of our soldier boys with us, together with a number of others. At present we have eight men reporting, and from the present outlook we will soon see five more additional workers in the field, besides the faithful work that a number of our students are doing with the small books.

The Strever Brothers sent in to the office one of the largest single orders for books that was ever received, —233 books in the following languages: English, Portuguese, Italian, Swedish, Greek, Armenian and Spanish. Notice what Brother Rowse has to say about this order to be shipped to Leon Strever, Turlock, California. "Yesterday we received an excellent freight order from the Northern California Missionary Society to be shipped to you at Turlock. I think this is the largest order we have shipped to a colporteur this spring in one shipment."

Northern California Camp-Meeting

The Northern California camp-meeting will be held in Modesto, June 19 to 29. We have been kindly granted the use of the Park in the northeast part of the city. The shade will be good and the location is pleasant.

As usual there will be a store and dining tent on the grounds. We hope to make the service reasonable so that there will be a good patronage.

As there will be no conference session this year, except perhaps a few short reports of progress that all will want to hear, the time will be devoted to the spiritual interests of those who come. Let us pray earnestly that this meeting will be marked with the old-time laying off of burdens and freedom in Christ.

Dangers are thickening around us as the final steps are being taken. uniting Catholic and Protestant on one common basis, for the enforcement of such doctrines as all may hold in common. This union is now being formed. The crisis is now upon us, and there is no person, old or young, but must feel the pressure.

Begin now to plan so that all the family can come to this camp-meeting. The final decision will be the most important of all. I feel assured that many will make it for the right at this meeting. We must decide on the right side now, and with this meeting given to the spiritual interests of our selves and our children, we have a right to expect great things from God. He will not disappoint us. All who can do so, plan to come up to this gathering of the Lord's people.

It is time now to order your tent. Some orders have already come in.

Clarence Santee.

The tent effort at Roseville is progressing nicely with an attendance of from 75 to 100 and very good interest.

Last Sunday evening, a series of Sunday night meetings was begun in Galt by Elder J. W. Rich. These meetings are being held in the Galt theatre. The building was well filled the first night, and an attentive audience greeted the speaker. We bespeak a profitable series of meetings at this place.

Elders N. W. Kautle and T. H. Watson have been conducting a series of meetings in Stockton. Although the attendance is not large, the interest is good, and it is hoped that some will take their stand for the truth.

A joint meeting of the Turlock and Modesto Young People's Missionary Volunteer societies was held in the Modesto church, Sabbath afternoon, April 26. Elder A. Johnson met with them. After the services, six dear souls followed their Master in baptism. one dear brother, aged 81, among them. We are glad for these experiences, and may they be duplicated many times this year.

The Ripon church is prospering nicely under the new responsibility given them in providing a house of worship. The lot has been secured and work upon the new building will begin shortly. A church of bungalow design is planned. This building will mark a big step in the growth of the company. Sabbath, April 26, Elder J. W. Rich met with the company at which time Brother F. W. Voorheis was ordained an elder. A good day was enjoyed by all.

Ferndale

Sabbath, April 26, was a day of special interest to the little company of believers at Ferndale. Years ago there was a large church organization here, and a good sized church building had been built and occupied for a number of years. But so many moved away that the church building ceased to be used, and deteriorated.

New members have moved in and joined the few who were still there, and for a while they met at Dr. Myers' home on Sabbaths; but they have repaired the church, put in electric lights, and made the church very presentable and comfortable. Sabbath, April 26, they held their first service in the church since it was abandoned some years ago.

Brother E. E. Beddoe is located here, and it is planned to hold a series of meetings in the church beginning May 4. We are all glad to see the work revived in Ferndale, and it is a source of great encouragement to the few who have held out all these years to see the revival of the work there.

We are glad to report that last Sabbath, six believers were baptized in the Oakland church by Elder E. H. Adams. One of this number unites with the Richmond church, one with the Oakland church and the other four with the Berkeley church.

The colporteur's institute has been in progress this last week at Pacific Union College. Quite an interest has been taken in the institute and the helpful instruction given has been very much appreciated by those attending.

The steamer "Nanking" arrived in port Tuesday April 29, bringing Pastor Bibiana Panis, of the Philippines, who is on his way to the Washington Missionary College for the purpose of taking advanced work in school; also Miss Florence Shull, of Mountain View, who has spent five years in the Orient and is home on furlough.

Elder J. Adams Stevens, the union home missionary secretary, is spending some time in our conference in the interest of his department. Elder Stevens and Elder J. D. Alder, the missionary secretary for our conference, conducted conventions in Vallejo and Fruitvale the past week. The conventions were well attended and many have been aroused to the necessity of doing missionary work.

Central California Camp-Meeting

The camp-meeting will be held in Tulare County Park, known as Mooney's Grove, May 29 to June 8. A canopy of large oak trees covers the park, and under this beautiful shade the tents will be pitched.

The price of tents will be as follows: 10x12, without burlap, $3.00; 10x12, with burlap, $4.00; 12x17, without burlap, $4.00; 12x17, with burlap, $5.00.

As there is an abundance of shade, in most cases tent flies will not be necessary, but where needed they will be furnished.

Owing to the difficulty of transportation, mattresses will not be furnished, and each person is urged to bring a straw tick. Clean straw may be had on the camp-ground. Bed springs, tables and chairs will be rented at a nominal rate.

How to Reach the Camp-ground

Take either the Southern Pacific or Santa Fe trains, and buy tickets to Visalia. At the stations look for men wearing badges which read "S. D. A.

Reception." These men will bring you to the camp-ground, which is four miles south of Visalia, for 15 cents per passenger and 10 cents extra for each suitcase. These men will haul your trunks for 50 cents each. If you come by stage to Visalia, walk to either the Southern Pacific or Santa Fe railroad stations, where the autos will start for the camp-ground.

The railroad will not give a reduced rate to those coming to the camp-meeting this year, so you will need to pay full fare.

A cafeteria and a grocery will be run in connection with the meeting.

If you have any requests to make with reference to tents or furniture, write to M. L. Rice, Lindsay, Cal., as he is camp superintendent.

At a recent session of the conference committee definite plans were laid for the camp-meeting to be held near Visalia, May 29 to June 8.

Elder Frank Weeks and Brother Isaac Schneider have organized a Sabbath school at Stevenson where they are holding a meeting, and report six new persons attending.

On Sabbath, April 19, there were 18 candidates baptized at Shafter. This speaks well for the Sabbath school, church school and other activities of the church, as there has been no effort held in this place.

The lectures and classes of the Glendale School of Health, which were recently started, are being well attended and a good interest is manifested. The subjects discussed are anatomy, physiology and hygiene; general diseases and treatments; home nursing; dietetics and cookery; healthful dress.

The co-operation of our leading resident physicians from the Glendale Sanitarium and also those in private practice as instructors of the various subjects is much appreciated.

Actual work in treatment demonstration is being carried on with instructors for both men and women, assisted by demonstrating nurses.

The object of the school is to unearth the "entering wedge," sharpen it up and put it to work—quietly but steadily. Quite a number from the treatment classes are already practicing the treatments at home and among friends with good results.

The course of instruction will end the latter part of May, covering a period of about nine weeks.

School Activities

Miss Frame writes from Brawley that they had a nice garden, but the neighbors enjoyed it too well to make it profitable. A visit to the school was pleasant, as the teacher and her little company are working diligently to complete a good year's work.

Recently when I called at the school at Escondido for a few minutes, I found all the children in the garden, Miss Hengst directing the work. There will be some onions for sale soon at that school. The patrons are well pleased with the school and its work.

In the little room set apart for the school in the home of Brother A. Logan, at Calipatria, six girls and their teacher, Mrs. Farmer, form a busy company. They follow the course of study closely, including work in penmanship and drawing. Practical missionary work is carried on.

The work at Santa Ana has progressed well in spite of several interruptions and changes. We tell the children that one of the greatest lessons for people to learn is to adjust themselves to new conditions quickly. A number of our schools have had an opportunity to develop this characteristic this year.

The churches at Anaheim and Fullerton have reason to be proud of their school under the direction of Miss Eleanor Tallant, whose normal training prepared her well for the "nicest work committed to human beings." The new school house at Anaheim threatens to be too small if the school increases in numbers as it should.

San Pasqual school lost no time on account of influenza, but one of Uncle Sam's boys broke into the schedule a bit. Mrs. Laura Martin remained a week after Mrs. Dortch left, but she was called to care for her mother, and Mrs. Marie Marchus took the work for another week. After a week of vacation I took the school for two weeks. The school was then again closed on account of sickness. We hope to secure help to complete the year's studies. Brother Frank Lucas has kept the woodworking class of boys, who have done splendid work under his skillful training.

Conference Items

A good interest has been sustained by Elder John Knox at Anaheim. A series of public meetings has been conducted, followed up by visits and studies. A tent effort is planned for the neighborhood during the summer.

A fine new kitchen practically completed at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium will make space for an enlarged dining room. Both have been much needed for some time. With modern appliances and conveniences, including special facilities for preparing vegetables, a refrigerating plant, and ample cupboards and storerooms, the work of those responsible for the good things to eat will be made lighter and more effective. Also Sister Burden will not have to hold some guests for the "second table." A long-needed septic tank is also being installed.

A New Enterprise

Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists has just begun publication of a new journal called "The Medical Evangelist," devoted to the promulgation of health reform principles. Dr. Arthur N. Donaldson has been chosen editor, and Dr. Frederick Bulpitt, business manager. On the staff of editorial writers for the paper are Dr. E. H. Risley, Dr. Alfred Shryock, Dr. A. W. Truman, Elder G. B. Starr, Dr. H. W. Vollmer and
Dr. Mary McReynolds. Brother L. M.
Bowen, manager of the institution, is giving his support to the new venture, and is one of the assistant managers.

Dr. Bulpitt, writing about the journal, says. "This paper serves a unique place in our denominational literature, in that it represents the principles of health reform among our own people. It stands for the work that the Loma Linda school is doing in representing true medical education, and should be placed in contact with every Seventh-day Adventist home." For the present the journal will be issued quarterly, although later it is hoped to make it a monthly.

The June issue is filled with interesting articles, including one on "Individual Responsibility," the duty
we owe ourselves to keep well and strong, by Dr. George Thomason.
"The Call to Reform," is clearly given by Dr. A. W. Truman; "The History of Loma Linda," by Elder J. A. Burden; and "Dietetics," by Dr. E. H.
Risley. Other matter in this issue includes articles on medical missionary evangelism, rational therapy, medical education, student interests, and interesting notes from our sanitariums and medical workers.

The price of "The Medical Evangelist" for one year is 60 cents, and you are invited to send in your subscription, addressing it to the journal,
at Loma Linda, Cal.

The Value of a Scholarship

There are at least three good reasons why students should earn a scholarship this summer. First, the work of spreading the gospel was never in greater need of consecrated workers. Second, the experience and blessings that come as a result of such missionary activities greatly strengthen one's Christian character.
Third, to have earned through your own efforts all expenses for an entire school year is a mark of accomplishment that commands the respects of others.

The "Watchman Magazine" scholarship plan is very simple and successful. To earn a $200 scholarship requires less than $300 in "Watchman Magazine" sales. Magazines are a cash sale proposition and the most current form of literature for presenting the message. Moreover, our cities, where more than 60 per cent of the people live, are greatly in need of the gospel of a soon-coming Saviour. The servant of the Lord has said. "Unless more is done for the cities of America, ministers and people will have a heavy account to settle with the One who has given to every man his work." Vol. 8, page 35.

Let each one realize that this summer is his or her greatest opportunity.

A. W. Spalding.

"The more you put off what ought to be done, the less strength you will have for doing it when at last you must face it."

Bible Adorning

The word adorn as rendered in the Old Testament signifies to "pass on,"
or "over," but in the New Testament it comes from a word meaning to "polish," that is, to add a certain gloss, or luster, by way of decoration or embellishment. But the word was not always used in so superficial a sense. In its first settings it signified a passing on, or putting on additions which would indicate joyousness. For instance, in his address to the house of Judah as they were being led captive to Babylon, the prophet assured them that they would again be adorned with their tabrets, or timbrels, so that they might once more make merry with those who are joyous and glad. Jer. 31:4. Isaiah also, in telling of the wondrous things God had done for him represented them as ornaments which caused him much joy.
Isa. 61:10.

But in time adornments came to be commonly adopted as a means to attract attention toward the wearer.
The hair would be bespangled with gold, the costliest garments would be worn, and the richest pearls would be vulgarily displayed. Since such exhibitions had come to stand only for inordinate vanity, they were only shallow gloss to cover defects of character. So when the apostle gave instruction to Timothy regarding the work he was about assuming, he asked that women be taught to adorn themselves with more modest garments, and to drop the outward show of gold and pearls. 1 Tim. 2:9. In exchange for these last, he recommended that they put on the adornment of good works, as a more becoming polish,—one more in harmony with their profession. Peter says that these will reveal the hidden motor of the heart, and be in God's estimation an ornament of great price. 1
Peter 3:3-5. C.
