Ready For Service

"A vestibuled express train stood on the track equipped for its first swift flight of fifty miles without a stop. It still lacked many minutes of schedule starting time, yet the locomotive, with all steam up was attached, the engineer and fireman were at their posts, the brakemen on duty, the porters standing by the steps of their cars. 'Prepared for service' was written on every line of the glistening train."

Prepared for service! What a world of meaning in those three short words; and if this great throbbing machine needed to be prepared for the work it was to do, how much more does the individual require a preparation for service. To be ready to act one's part in the work of life, to be equipped thoroughly to do in the most efficient way the task God sets—what is there so important, so worth while for every young man and woman?

Preparation means education. An education in a Christian school is an absolute essential to the person who would be prepared for the service of Him who served others, who came "not to be ministered unto but to minister." We must have training to do our best work; and educational advantages are within the reach of all who will use the golden key that unlocks the gates of fortune—and that key is called Industry.

"Life's master word is work. With this magic word in one's heart all things are possible. It is the touchstone of progress—the secret of success." Almost without exception the lives of all truly great men have been lives of intense and untiring labor.

The great educator, Horace Mann, and Lous Agassiz, the Swiss naturalist of world renown, achieved their marvelous accomplishments only by a life time of incessant labor. Thomas A. Edison is another example of one whose unparalleled service to his fellow men was and is being accomplished by the most strenuous and never-ceasing industry. Biography and history give us scores of other worthy examples and "one example," says Gladstone, "is worth a thousand arguments."

Statistics from the graduating classes of almost any school of advanced learning reveal the fact that a very large per cent of the students are wholly or partially self-supporting. Not long ago I read of a well known institution where fifty per cent of the students worked their entire way through school, while ninety per cent of the total membership worked at least a part of their way. And the best part of it all is; that the student who works his way through college is better prepared for service when he leaves than his seemingly more fortunate classmate who has had his expenses paid for him and has not learned what it means to work.

The scholarship plan by means of which over two hundred of our students earned their entire expenses in school last year, during the summer months, is one of the very best ways of securing money for an education. By selling our books in summer one secures the double advantage of doing real soul-winning work while at the same time he is earning his schooling. Five hundred students are in the canvassing field this summer, and it is not too late for others to enter.

In these busy days there are scores of opportunities of every kind open to the young person who is determined to earn his way through school. The farm, the office, the trades, work in printing houses, or other institutions—these all afford opportunities for the industrious, faithful worker. It will mean many a struggle, perhaps, but it is the struggle toward an ideal, constant endeavor to accomplish a worthy purpose that develops sterling character.

It may be that the remuneration for the work open to you is small and expenses high; perhaps only by the strictest economy is it possible to see savings grow; but be assured that your patient efforts and constant adherence to a worthy purpose will bring results. Mary Lyon, the famous founder of Mt. Holyoke Seminary, began at fourteen years of age to save for an advanced education, working four years at one dollar per week before she secured a sufficient sum for her first term in a school of higher learning. And how many advantages are ours to-day! Surely we, too, can win the prize of a good education and so be prepared for service.

Resolve that you will enter school this fall in spite of all seeming obstacles. Work steadily and perseveringly, improving every possible moment. "There is always room at the top," you know, but we must reach it by steadily climbing, for "the elevator to success is not running."

"We build the ladder by which we rise From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies.

And we mount to the summit round by round."

Ella Iden.

We cannot obtain wisdom without earnest attention and prayerful study."

"Review and Herald"—Seventieth Anniversary Announcement

July, 1919, completes the seventieth year of publication of our church paper, the "Review and Herald." This paper was brought into existence by divine appointment. Seventy years ago Elder and Mrs. James White were living at Rocky Hill, Conn., and while there Elder White was impressed that it was his duty to write and publish the present truth. He was greatly encouraged and blessed as he decided to do this, but being penniless he thought it impossible to publish a paper, so became discouraged and gave up the plan.

Sister White was then shown in vision that he (Elder White) must walk out by faith and write and publish the present truth.

Seventy years ago in July the first number of the first paper was published. Those papers were directed to all whom it was thought would read them. When they were ready for mailing, those sturdy, consecrated pioneers gathered around the little pile of papers, and with earnest prayers mingled with tears entreated that God's blessing might attend the silent messengers. Very soon letters came bringing means to publish the paper, and the good news of many souls embracing the truth.

Through all the years the "Review" has been an important factor in the development of this message, and in helping the believers to maintain a bright Christian experience, beset as they have been with trials and temptations especially designed to discourage and dishearten those keeping God's commandments.

The "Review" asks every believer in the Pacific Union Conference to join in celebrating the completion of seventy years of service, and to assist in helping our church paper to become of greater service in the future.

During the month of July, 1919, the publishers offer to send the "Review" FOURTEEN MONTHS for $2.50. This offer is good for both renewals and new subscriptions.

If you are not a subscriber, send $2.50 during July, and the "Review" will be sent to you for fourteen months.

If you are a subscriber to the "Review," (no matter how long in the future your subscription may be paid) send $2.50 during July and your expiration date will be set forward FOURTEEN MONTHS.

All orders for subscriptions or renewals should be sent to your conference tract society.

Nurses Graduate—Glendale Sanitarium

The baccalaureate service for the 1919 graduating class of the Glendale Sanitarium was held in the Glendale church, Sabbath, June 7. The building was filled to the utmost limit with an attentive and interested audience, who listened to Elder G. A. Snyder, former pastor and chaplain now of Alhambra, deliver the sermon.

His text was "watch and pray." Matt. 26:41. He remarked upon the appropriateness of this injunction when addressed to a class of nurses. This constitutes one of the chief duties of the nurse in the sick room. And when one is devoted to prayer, how natural to watch for the answer to prayer. Indeed, the praying man always does look for an answer. Then how essential is prayer to the nurse and doctor! The anxiety felt on so many occasions when the patient's life seems hanging in the balance, what a relief to be able to pray to a higher and mightier power for the help that no mortal man can give! Thank God for the privilege of prayer.

But it is the fashion nowadays to make light of prayer and to decry it as inconsistent with the laws of nature. A lad asked at prayer-meeting that those present would pray for his older sister that she might be led to read the Bible and pray. His request was complied with, and immediately after the company arose from their knees the boy left the place and hastened home. Afterwards the leader met him and asked him if he was not rather rude to go out as he did. He replied with some feeling that he did not mean to be rude, but he wanted very much to run home and see how his sister would look reading the Bible for the first time in her life. This illustrates the faith of all who pray aright; they expect results and they see them. The lad was not disappointed, for when he reached home he found his sister reading her Bible, a thing she had never done before.

Elder Snyder showed how prayer does not interfere with the fixed and immutable laws of nature. A father might catch his falling child and save its life without disturbing in any way the operation of the law of gravity.

We may co-operate with these fixed laws and get results without disturbing their action in the least. Just as the law of light as we see it in the sunlight, may be utilized in the camera to get a beautiful photograph, so we may utilize the light that shines in the beams of the Sun of righteousness to produce in the soul the image of Jesus Christ. We may harness these laws of nature and make them do our bidding. How much more can God do this in producing manifest miracles.

The commencement exercises were held in the Intermediate School Auditorium Monday night, June 9. The assembly room was filled to capacity with friends of the graduates and of the institution. The graduating class occupied seats on the platform, and the other nurses of the institution, both those of the alumni and those in training were present in uniform.

Dr. William J. Johnson delivered the address of the evening, and Dr. H. G. Westphal, medical superintendent of the Sanitarium, presented the diplomas. The invocation was by Pastor M. M. Hare, of Los Angeles, president of the Southern California Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, and the benediction by Pastor R. W. Munson, chaplain of the Sanitarium.

A duet by Miss Olive Adams and Myron Lysinger, of Los Angeles, was most acceptably rendered. Mrs. Blakie rendered two vocal numbers, "The Spring Has Come" and "I Hear a Thrush at Eve." These were well received, as was the piano solo by Miss Evelyn Parr. Four numbers were rendered by the Sanitarium Orchestra, under the direction of Clarence Jones. Mrs. W. J. Johnson ably accompanied all the parts upon the piano.

Dr. Johnson congratulated the graduating nurses upon having successfully completed their course of study and training. He spoke of the importance of rightly choosing one's life work. "It is so common today," he said, "to choose a profession because it will best serve our selfish, personal ends, and afford a quick means of gaining wealth, and give us social prestige and influence, or, perhaps, political power. Oftentimes the question of how we can best serve God and humanity does not enter into the choice. When we choose our life's work we should realize that we are choosing not only for time but for eternity. We are choosing not only for ourselves, but for others as well.

"What then should be the guiding motive? The same motive that led our Saviour to leave the courts of heaven, to voluntarily surrender the glory He had with His Father before the world was, and to come here as a man among men, to take upon Him the nature of sinful flesh, to live under these conditions a perfect life a life of self-denial, humility and self-abnegation; the same motive that led our Saviour into the garden of Gethsemane, and finally to the cross of Calvary; the same motive and principle that runs, so to speak, like a thread of gold through the whole gospel; which makes heaven altogether lovely, and which is expressed briefly in the Good Book in the words, 'Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ;' and again, 'We that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.'"

The speaker said no faithful physician or nurse need fear losing the reward of service and helpfulness, even though often called upon to labor without remuneration from the very poor, for, he said, a time is coming when all will receive recompense for their cheerful and unselfish helpfulness.

He spoke of the important place which the Christian physician and nurse are certain to fill during the next few years. "In view of the things which have come and are coming on the world, can you conceive of any man or woman who will fill a larger place in the world's closing years than the medical missionary? Can you conceive of any other class of workers who will be so much in demand, or who can so pre-eminently serve God's purpose in the dark and trying days before us. Though we say nothing about the great so-called heathen lands, there are thousands, yea millions, who are stretching out their hands to God for help. They know the situation is such that they cannot expect help from any other sources. With such a situation confronting us can there be any question but that we have rightly chosen our life's work?"

Dr. Johnson closed by mentioning the decorations for bravery given soldiers who, under fire, accomplished exceptionally difficult and heroic tasks for their country. He compared the soldiers' courage to Christian service, and added, "It's worth much to receive at last the personal word of praise from your Lord and Master, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.'" He counseled his hearers to serve God faithfully day by day, to be ready to go in answer to any call God might make upon them, and assured them that when the time came for them to have the long vacation' God would speak to them words of praise and commendation.

The graduating nurses were: Misses Meta E. Roehr, Faye E. Shidler, Gretchen E. Rueff, Susie E. Cass, Alice B. Elvin, Emily E. Armstrong.

Blessing In Service

Honor and praise to the blessed Saviour, that I am able, once more, to do something in the field with our books, after spending the past winter at the St. Helena Sanitarium. How good it seems to again have a part in this grand, glorious work before it closes!

May 27, after much seeking help from above, I began work at Fruitland in the northern part of California. With the Lord's help and blessing I met with success from the first, with "Practical Guide" and "Great Controversy." A little later I plan to sell the "relief edition" of "Ministry of Healing."

It makes my heart glad to see "Great Controversy" coming to the front. Had we followed the instruction regarding this book, no doubt the work of the message would have been closed before this.

The prayers of God's people are desired, as I feel the need of them.

Walter Harper.

News Notes

The last report, from the publishers of the Review & Herald, tells us, some of our subscriptions have expired and have not been renewed. Are you one of them? Send in your renewal now, for you cannot afford to be without this good friend in the message.

Sabbath June 14, Brother J. A. Neilsen and Professor C. W. Baldwin visited the church at Collbran. The members from the Grove Creek church also attended. Sabbath morning, the "Rally Day" program was carried out, and in the afternoon the brethren spoke to the united companies.

More than sixty volumes for the library of the academy was donated by the members of the Collbran and Grove Creek churches, and Professor Baldwin felt these churches were surely interested in the academy and its work.

Do you get the "Recorder" each week, or are you one that only sees this good local paper when it is loaned to you? We can all afford twenty-five cents each year to keep in touch with the work in our local field. Subscribe now and you will never regret it.

Frank Vance and family drove overland from California, and came through by the "Ford" route in eight days. They located at their old home in Rulison, and after spending three days getting the family settled, he entered the ranks of the colporteur army. Brother Vance, we welcome you back, and may our God bless you in all your labors for Him.

At the present time, five of the members of the Rulison church and one of the students from the academy, are "regulars" in the army of our colporteurs. This speaks well for the interest of the Rulison church in the finishing of the work, and without doubt, these members will prove true to their calling. Others from the same church are expected to join the ranks in the near future.

Elder Lysinger left Tuesday, June 17 for a trip, in the "ford," to visit as many of our isolated brethren in the northern part of our field as possible. Time is short for him, as he must be back to attend a meeting of the Union Conference Committee July 1. We hope it will be possible for him to visit all of our isolated people in that portion.

Soon, camp meeting will be here. In a few days we plan to get out a bulletin giving you, all the information relative to our camp for this year, and we know you are planning to attend. We will have the best help that can be secured, and the only way for you to secure the blessing, is to come. Help us make this the greatest camp meeting ever held in this field by beginning now, to prepare, to attend.

A Few Days' Work in Colorado

Some days ago Elder H. E. Lysinger, our conference president, wrote to our Sabbath schools and isolated brethren in the southern part of Colorado, inviting them to a general meeting to be held in Durango, Sabbath and Sunday, June 7 and 8.

Thursday morning, June 5, we boarded the train at Grand Junction and arrived at Montrose soon after noon. Here transfer had to be made to the narrow gauge railroad, and as we had to wait for train connections, visited Brother Ples Watson, who conducts the Montrose Hospital. Here a very hearty dinner was enjoyed, and after a few hours the narrow gauge train was boarded and the trip made to Ridgway, where it was necessary to again transfer.

Soon after leaving Ridgway the train was running very smoothly when suddenly the emergency brakes were applied. Investigation disclosed that the engineer had fallen off the train, and the fireman had applied the emergency air. The sudden stop of the train was startling, and many breathed a sigh of relief to learn that no serious accident had befallen us. The engineer claimed to be unhurt and brought the train safely into Telluride, arriving at 9:30 in the evening, thirteen hours having been used in traveling 143 miles.

The altitude at Telluride is 8,756 feet. Here it was necessary to spend the night as the train for Durango did not leave until seven o'clock the next morning. Arising early we noticed it was quite chilly, and a glance at the thermometer showed it was freezing.

Leaving Telluride, after about an hour's ride, a place was reached where apparently the whole side of a mountain was sliding into the valley. You could look up the mountain from the train for hundreds of feet and see the trees lying over, almost touching the ground, on account of the land having slid away. On the other side it was a long distance to the bottom of the valley, and you felt glad indeed that there is a God who can care for His people in such dangerous places. Steam shovel gangs were working day and night to keep the road open.

A short time after passing this slide, Trout Lake, a large artificial body of water, lying at an altitude of 9,800 feet was passed. This lake is probably about a mile long and having been stocked with trout by the Colorado Game Commission, is reported to be one of the finest trout fishing bodies of water in Colorado.

Then Lizzard Head Pass was reached. Here 10,520 feet above sea level, a good view was had of the rock called Lizzard Head, standing 14,500 feet above the sea. On the north slopes of the pass, and in the shade of the timber, snow and ice lay in abundance. The train not being equipped with steam heat, the coal stoves in the end of the car, while rather smoky, helped to make it comfortable.

Arriving at Dolores in time for dinner, we met Elder M. J. King, and together continued the journey, reaching Durango Friday evening in time for all necessary preparations for the Sabbath to be made. Eleven hours were spent in traveling a distance of 117 miles. It took from Thursday morning at 8:30 to Friday evening at five o'clock to travel from Grand Junction to Durango, a distance of approximately 260 miles.

Friday evening the opening meeting was conducted in a comfortable hall, rented for the purpose, and close attention was paid by all present. Sabbath school Sabbath morning found almost all our isolated people in that section present, and after the review Brother C. A. Frederick led the seniors in the study of the lesson. Many interesting points were brought out as the thought of the lesson was followed. Following Sabbath school, Elder Lysinger spoke to the company and hearts were stirred as he presented the truths for this time. In the afternoon Elder King continued the thought of Elder Lysinger's theme in a way that brought those present to a realization of their need of greater activity in finishing the work God has given us to do. The evening after the Sabbath Elder Lysinger again spoke, and some not of our faith were present to hear the message.

Sunday morning a devotional meeting was held. Almost all who attended the Sabbath meetings were present and took part when opportunity was given, telling of their courage in God. The hearty ring and the earnestness of their testimonies was a source of great courage to all. Following the devotional meeting, Elder Lysinger spoke of the need of our having an active part in foreign as well as home missions. The missions investment blanks were presented and everyone present took one, the majority filling them out at the time. One or two, however, requested the privilege of taking his home to fill in and send to the office later.

A short council was held with the brethren as to the best plan for Elder King's work in that portion of the field, and they were unanimous in the opinion that for Elder King to do the work, it would be necessary for him to have some conveyance, and in a few moments $200 was subscribed toward the purchase of an automobile, with the promise that more would be forthcoming. It was learned that a Ford car which had just been overhauled could be purchased at a reasonable price, and all urged that the purchase be made immediately.

An afternoon service was held and the meetings closed in the evening with a stirring talk by Elder Lysinger. Every one was happy and felt well repaid for having attended the two day's session. Our people living in Durango were most hospitable. Everything possible was done to make the stay of the visitors pleasant.

Monday morning we began the two days' journey to Grand Junction. We arrived at Telluride in good season Monday evening, and opportunity was afforded of visiting Brother W. F. Van Atta, the manual training instructor of the Telluride public school. Brother Van Atta has built a model of the sanctuary. A pleasant time was spent in studying this most interesting subject.

Tuesday morning before train time, we spent a few minutes visiting Sister Lewis. Arriving at Montrose soon after noon, a visit was made to the home of Dr. Brethouwer. We left Montrose on the standard gauge railroad, and when a few miles past Delta, a stop was made, and the passengers invited to walk around a slide. Here a great mass of rock had slid down the mountain side completely demolishing the track. Rocks as large as a small house had been dislodged and were lying where the road-bed had been. It was necessary to dynamite there before the steam shovel could remove them. Two hours and a half late, our train arrived in Grand Junction, and the tired but happy workers returned to their homes.

As a consequence of the trip the spirituality of those who attended the meeting was deepened, and some who had been thinking they should be in God's work, definitely decided they must take an active part.

The workers present at this meeting thanked God that He had permitted them to labor in such a great and needy field.

S. Donaldson, Secretary.

Field and Office News

Encouraging reports come from the effort being held in the Richmond church.

Brother H. B. Thomas, our treasurer, is away from the office for several days, taking a much needed rest.

The Laguna Street church in San Francisco report $167.70 as the amount of its offering on Rally Day.

There were more than 200 people present at the opening meeting of the tent effort being conducted at San Jose.

The pastor of the Oakland church has commenced a series of Sunday night meetings. The first meeting, last Sunday evening, was well attended.

The writer had the privilege of speaking to the church in Berkeley last Sabbath. The brethren expressed their appreciation of the message given.

In a letter from Willits regarding Rally Day, we read: "I am delighted to tell you it succeeded beyond our expectations. God surely was with us."

Brother L. L. Moffitt has been absent from the office for several days. He is visiting the churches in Humboldt County in the interest of the missionary volunteer department.

"Those who have united with the Lord in the covenant of service, are under bonds to unite with Him in the great, grand work of soul saving," is the statement made in Volume 7, page 19.

Brother J. D. Alder visited the church in Alameda last Sabbath, and the brethren greatly appreciated the timely remarks he made and his efforts to encourage them in home missionary work.

The Oakland and Fruitvale churches were one week behind with their Sabbath School Rally Day, but they report having a very profitable time and feel that the efforts put forth will produce much good.

Mountain View has set the pace in yearly subscriptions for the "Signs" weekly at something over 2,000. Thanks to the home of our pioneer periodical. That which is thought well of at home will be valued elsewhere.

Vallejo's May report indicates that most every line of missionary endeavor listed on the home missionary report blank has been carried on by this church during the month of May.

They have recently ordered 2,000 copies of different numbers of "Present Truth."

Miss Frances Fry, our educational secretary, was with the church at Mountain View last Sabbath and gave a much appreciated talk on Christian education. The brethren responded in a splendid way, and at the close of the service a substantial gift for this work was received.

Brother D. K. Royer, our Bible House secretary, and his wife, spent Sabbath and Sunday at Mountain View. While there, Brother Royer made arrangements for a little larger stock in our Bible House and also ordered some supplies for the coming camp meeting, August 7 to 17.

Our tithe receipts are far in advance of what they were last year at this time. For this we are very thankful, and praise God. At the end of May, 36 churches out of the 46 exceeded the amount given during the first five months of last year. The net increase in tithe amounts to $10,000. We are also encouraged by the amount sent in for missions during the month of May. The figures indicate that we are starting in the right direction, for we lifted our general average. Thirteen churches passed their goal for missions last month. However, it will be observed that our mission offerings are not increasing in proportion to the tithe. We are still a little over five cents per member short of reaching the goal. Shall we not put forth still more earnest effort and reach our full quota 25 cents per week for each member? If we will, we can! Let each church continue faithful, and those who are delinquent, endeavor to devise some plan that will bring up their offerings to the desired amount. G. W. Wells.

IT comes on time.
IT creates no prejudice.
IT rivets attention from start to finish.

What is IT? Watch these items from week to week for the drift.

The California Bible House has a lot of back numbers of the "Signs Magazine" and "Watchman." They are nice clean copies, just a few months old, and can be had for only three cents each. Order at once.

D. K. Royer, our new tract society secretary, is now on the job, and ready to serve the best interests of our work in this field.

News Notes

Elder Phillip Knox reports encouragingly of the work in Pomona. Last Sunday night between 450 and 500 were in attendance at the services.

It will be of interest to know that the Southern California Conference, for the first five months of 1919, led all other conferences in the Pacific Press territory, in United States and Canada, in subscription book sales.

On June 28 it has been planned to conduct a union service of the Covina and Glendora churches in the Glendora church at the regular morning hour. We trust that all the members of these churches will be present at this service, and in their behalf extend an invitation to any other of our people who may find it convenient to do so, to meet with them.

Elder V. H. Lucas, the field secretary of the home missionary department, has been quite busy the last few weeks working in the eastern section of the conference. He has visited Glendora, Covina, Rivera, Whittier and Norwalk, and in addition to these, two of our city churches, Hollywood and Southside. We bespeak the earnest co-operation of our people with Elder Lucas in his endeavors to revive an interest in the home missionary work. We feel assured this will be readily secured.

We are pleased to report that Miss Matilda Voss, formerly connected with our work in Australasia is taking up work in the Southern California Conference. For a time Miss Voss will assist Elder G. A. Snyder in the effort at Alhambra, after which it is hoped that she will take up work in connection with the medical missionary department of our conference. A successful experience in the past in connection with this line of work, we feel fits Miss Voss in a special way to co-operate with us along these lines.

Sabbath, June 7, the Paso Robles church was organized, the service being conducted in the stadium building at Atascadero. It is encouraging to learn that another light has been kindled in witness for the truth in these last days. The workers at Paso Robles, Brethren J. R. Patterson and F. G. Ashbaugh, are looking forward in expectation of a number more connecting with the newly organized church. A membership of 28 is reported.

We learn that the Eastside congregation have let the contract for the building of their new church. The members of this congregation are to be complimented for the faithful endeavor they have made towards securing a suitable meeting-place. From what we have seen of the plans, we feel sure the structure will present a very acceptable appearance, and we rejoice with the members of the Eastside church in the prospect of soon being settled in a neat, commodious church home.

Elder J. W. Miller began a series of evangelical lectures in a tent located at Thirty-second Street and Compton Avenue, Los Angeles, Sunday evening, June 22. Brother P. B. Bontemps and Sister A. R. Temple are associated with Elder Miller as Bible-workers; Dr. Ruth J. Temple represents the health and medical work; and Mr. Owen Troy acts as musical director. The work for the neighborhood children is superintended by Sister Temple assisted by the Young Peoples' Missionary Volunteer society.

We learn that Elder Corliss expects to make his home in Escondido, in San Diego County. Sister Gregory, who has been closely associated with our work in Carr Street church during the past year and more recently connected with Elder W. M. Adams' effort, feels that it will be necessary for her to join her father. We regret very much indeed to lose Sister Gregory from our corps of workers. In view of Sister Gregory disconnecting from Elder Adams' effort, we have asked Brother Dean Lower and Sister M. E. Hoyt to connect with him.

The Santa Monica and Sawtelle churches united for their Sabbath School Rally Day program, and by invitation this union meeting was held at Sycamore Park in Santa Monica Canyon, on Dr. Johnson's place. It was an ideal spot for an outdoor gathering, the wide-spreading trees making abundant shade. The music of the children's voices mingled with that of the wild birds, and all nature seemed to join in our songs of praise. More such gatherings in nature's temple for divine service would be particularly refreshing to the noise-racked nerves of city dwellers.

We trust that a larger number of our people than in any previous year are definitely planning to attend the camp meeting in Los Angeles this fall. We have been giving some time to looking up a suitable location. Two or three prospective sites are in mind and undoubtedly within a few days a final selection will be made. It is desired to secure just as comfortable a place as possible, and for this reason, every effort is being made to secure a favorable location. As soon as this is settled further notice will appear in the "Recorder." We trust this may prove the most largely attended camp meeting, that has been held thus far, in the Southern California Conference. Please send your order for tents into the office early.

Elder W. H. Bradley sends the following report: "The work is onward at Santa Monica and we trust when we hold our first Sabbath service, June 21, a number will decide to worship with us. There has been a most friendly feeling toward us from the start. A number of the city officials have attended the lectures and have expressed themselves as well pleased with our message to the people. Abundant space was given us in the local paper, so many, who have not attended the lectures have had the opportunity to hear the truth for this age. Our courage is excellent for a good harvest from the seed sown. We, as a company of workers, earnestly covet the prayers of God's people that the crowds who are attending each night will listen to the wooing of the Spirit."

Pomona Effort

Elder Phillip Knox, assisted by Mrs. Knox, J. Henry White, Mrs. S. E. Campbell and Miss Sue Nary, opened a series of meetings in Pomona the evening of June 6.

An excellent location was secured on Garey Street, not far from the center of town. The new khaki tent, which is beautifully decorated by potted ferns, kindly loaned by Sister Josie Phillips, faces the main thoroughfare passing through Pomona from Los Angeles to San Bernardino. It is estimated that on an average more than five thousand autos pass the Garey crossing in 24 hours. The electric cars to Los Angeles, also the local cars, past our tent. We consider our location our best advertisement.

The series of meetings opened with two intensely interesting lectures on the wonders of astronomy. These being well advertised a large audience was present the first evening, and a still larger one the second evening. Sunday night over 420 people were present to hear an exposition of Daniel 2, as presented by Elder Knox. Our attendance has continued good, and nearly every night our tent has been filled. The first week sixty dollars was received in collections.

The Bulletin, a daily morning paper, has very kindly accepted and printed all our reports for which we are grateful.

We are thankful for the spirit of devotion manifest among the workers, which is winning friends and holding the interest. We are all very busy and happy.

We earnestly solicit your prayers that we may be used of God in reaping a rich harvest of souls in Pomona.
J. Henry White.

Items of Interest

Elder D. D. Lake is looking after the interests of the work in the Imperial Valley.

The tent meetings in Orange, conducted by Elder John Knox, are well attended and many seem deeply interested.

Elders L. H. Proctor and R. G. Schaffner report that some people are manifesting a deep interest as a result of their meetings in San Bernardino.

Elder L. E. Brant looks forward to a number of individuals uniting with the church at Redlands as a result of the tent effort there.

The many friends of Elder W. M. Healey will be glad to learn that he is improving. He was seriously injured recently by a team of heavy horses backing over and trampling upon him. That he was not killed is surely due to the Lord's direct care and protection. While severely bruised and injured he did not suffer a broken bone. In company with Elders G. B. Starr, J. A. Burden and Luther Warren, the writer visited Elder Healey at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Smith, thirty-six miles east of San Diego. Elder Healey earnestly expressed the desire that this experience through which he has passed will teach all the brethren that God takes care of His children. We all unite in praying that our dear brother will soon be fully restored to health and strength.

Elders R. S. Owen and L. E. Folkenberg are in the midst of an excellent interest in San Diego. A special effort is being made in connection with this tent effort to place the medical missionary work in its rightful relation to the evangelistic work. Every afternoon a period of time is set aside for class study on Bible and health topics. These classes are attended by both our church members and those interested from the outside. Instruction will be given by Elders R. S. Owen, J. A. Burden, G. B. Starr, Luther Warren, and Drs. A. W. Truman, Ellis Wood Starr, T. S. White-lock, A. D. Butterfield and others. We believe the blessing of heaven will rest upon every effort made to carry on the work in harmony with the principles laid down by the Lord. Those accepting the truth under such methods of labor will doubtless be sound in all phases of the message.

Orange Camp Meeting

Camp meeting time will soon be here. The time is now here when all should begin to lay definite plans to attend. There will be no occasion of greater importance in the Southeastern California Conference this year than this camp meeting. Every other interest should be made subordinate to that of attending this gathering. To prepare for translation into the soon coming kingdom of Christ is surely the most important consideration to which we can give ourselves. The important question is not whether we can afford to attend, but whether we can afford to remain away.

We are promised good help from both the union and General Conference. Let us all unite in praying for an outpouring of the latter rain.

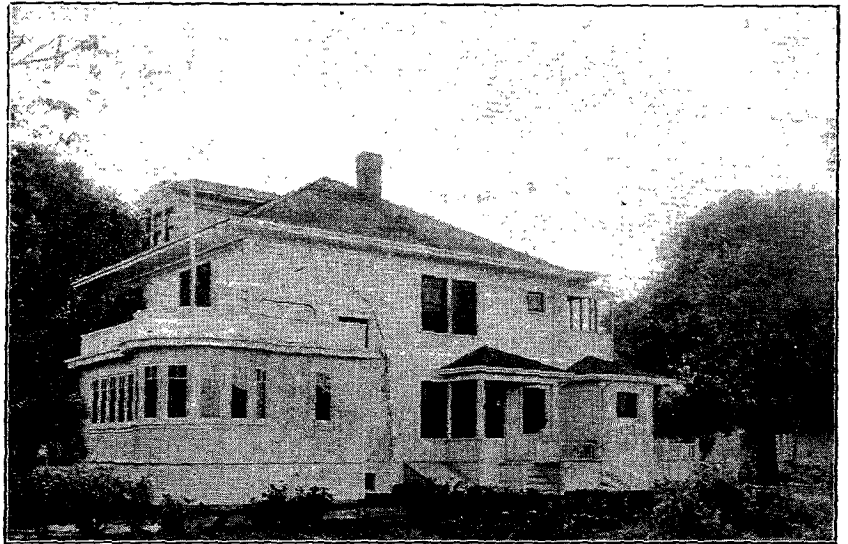

Orders for tents should be sent in at once. We can promise accommodation only to those who order early.

We will be glad to hear at once from those who desire to assist in preparing the camp and also those who can help in the cafeteria during the meeting.

TIME, July 31 to August 10.

PLACE, ORANGE, CALIFORNIA.

J. L. McElhany.
