Missionary Volunteer Reading Courses for 1919-20

We take pleasure in announcing the new 1919-20 Missionary Volunteer Reading Courses, which we believe to be unrivaled for excellence. We hope that a larger number of young people than ever before will avail themselves of the entertainment and information that they offer.

Henry Drummond has said that "to fall in love with a good book is one of the greatest events that can befall us. It is to have a new influence, pouring itself into our life, a new teacher to refine and inspire us, a new friend to be by our side always." We believe the influence of these books will strengthen and uplift all who read them.

A United Effort

During the past few years it has been customary for our colporteurs to have a special "Big Week" once a year, and in some fields they have had several of these special efforts. At the bookmen's conventions held this year it was voted that we should have one united "Big Week" throughout the United States and Canada. The date is to be July 13 to 19. The resolutions adopted were substantially as follows:

We recommend, that the week beginning July 13 be the time for a united "Big Week" in every conference, and that we invite all our ministers and other conference workers, as far as consistent, to join us in this effort. We further suggest that the proceeds from the sales made on Monday, July 14, be given to foreign missions as a thank-offering to the Lord.

It is designed that this week shall be "big" in every sense of the word—in point of time, from 50 to 70 hours; in sales, as large as can be made in the time employed. And we trust that it will be a truly great week in the matter of souls saved for the kingdom of God. Every field secretary, both union and local, and every tract society secretary will unite in this effort, and we are counting on every colporteur making the most of this opportunity, and see how big a united record we can make with the blessing of God. We have every reason for encouragement, and the great records that have been made thus far this year led the General

Department to set a goal of a half-million dollars worth of literature for the single month of July, and it is expected that the "Big Week" will contribute very largely to that great result.

Then, having made the effort and put in the time, it is expected that each one will report promptly, so that we may quickly know and pass out the information as to just what the grand total is for each conference, and for the field as a whole.

I trust that all our workers will consider it a privilege to devote all their profits on Monday to the great cause of missions, as suggested in the recommendation, and that a special effort will be put forth to make this the largest day's work of the week.

Deliveries and other matters should be so arranged that nothing shall be permitted to interfere with our putting in full time, and I am sure that God will add His blessing to this united effort.

F. E. Painter.

A New Record

On June 19 the "Watchman Magazine" sales for the July issue totaled 10,327, a new record for one day's orders. Just the day previous a woman living in New Orleans, Louisiana, wrote the publishers saying: "I am so thankful for the teaching in your 'Watchman Magazine,' because I myself have been keeping holy the first day of the week. From what your magazine has taught me I have made a vow to keep holy the Sabbath of our Lord."

It is the soul-winning power of our monthly magazines that makes them such splendid missionary literature.

Pacific Union and the "Review and Herald"

There are 2,718 copies of our church paper, the "Review and Herald," going to the Pacific Union Conference.

Our goal is 4,262. This goal is one-third the church membership as it stood Jan. 1, 1918, after making deduction for foreign believers who cannot read English. About 63 per cent of the goal has been reached.

This goal is conservative. There are about 6,600 families in the Pacific Union Conference in which a Seventh-day Adventist resides. This means that the circulation of our church paper ought to be about 6,600 in our union, because, "the 'Review' is a valuable paper; it contains matters of great interest to the church, and should be placed in every family of believers." Vol. 4, page 598.

Pacific Union, let us not only reach this goal, but pass it by at least a thousand. NOW — during the SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY month of the publication of our church paper, is the time to do it. Remember the special offer — FOURTEEN MONTHS for $2.50. This applies to renewals as well as to new subscriptions, but the offer is limited to July.

Send orders to your conference tract society office.

An Interesting Experience

This strange experience was given by a man who thought he had always lived a consistent Christian life, feeling satisfied with his Christian experience and believing that his profession would be a sure passport into the new earth:

"I was walking along the street one day," he said, "all absorbed with my business affairs, when a very ordinary looking personage accosted me in a firm but pleasant voice, with this question: 'Are you a Christian?' The question was so sudden, and asked in such a quiet, authoritative tone of voice, it was hard for me to answer, and yet, why should I be startled? Of course I was a Christian, but somehow I could not say it out loud. I looked at the stranger, cleared my throat, and, I fear, in a very embarrassed way, replied: 'Yes, sir I think I am. Why do you ask?' 'Well,' he said, 'this is the most important question there is to me, and I often ask others if they are Christians and if they are asking others about their soul's salvation, and if we all are living up to the profession we make;' and after shaking my hand and saying, 'I am glad you are a Christian,' he passed by me and down the street.

"I started to go, but only to stop and look after the one who had so strangely stopped me, but he had turned into a side street and was lost to view. Again I started to go my way, but not to think of my business as before, but of this strange man and his strange question. It affected me differently than any experience I have had before. It kept ringing in my ears as I walked. I could not get away from it. Then I asked myself the question: "Are you a Christian? Why, of course I am. Do not all my friends think I am? Yes they do, and you told the man you were; but, are you?" Then I began to examine myself and take an inventory of my Christian works, and to my great dismay and alarm I found that Matt. 25:35, 36 did not apply to me, but my portion was with those spoken of in verses 42, 43. This consciousness of my true spiritual condition so alarmed me that I did not go to the office, but to a quiet place alone with God, and my strange visitor of the street may have been a silent listener.

I covenanted with Him that henceforth mine would not be an empty profession, but with faithful Paul I would have works to prove my profession."

This experience should cause many of us to examine ourselves, to take an inventory of our Christian works, and see if our catalogue is full. The Master, in the Testimonies, tells us that. "To every man God has appointed his work; not work in his fields of corn and wheat, but earnest, persevering work for the salvation of souls—(M. p. 72). God expects personal service from every one to whom He has entrusted a knowledge of the truth for this time."—(M. p. 77). He has provided the alien and man of the world to do the work of the world, but His people "they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations; and strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and vine-dressers. But ye shall be named the priests of the Lord: men shall call you the ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves." Isa. 61:4-6. This is God's plan for us. What are our plans for God?

There never was a time when God needed faithful servants so much as at this time. Neither has there ever been a more favorable opportunity for them to work; nor was there ever a greater work to be done. Every department of the work is languishing because of a shortage in workers—especially is this so in the publishing department.

When the war broke out in Europe the world was startled and Christians very greatly alarmed. The industrial and commercial conditions that followed made the situation seem still more grave. Some of us thought we had about reached the limit, and so far as the sale of our literature was concerned it would be out of the question; but in many ways these have been the most prosperous years in the history of the publishing work. This has been accomplished by the untiring efforts of God's faithful few.

This has been a most eventful year. War and famine and pestilence and floods and storms and strikes have cast their gloomy shadows over every land. Yet God has given His servants a most remarkable victory. These things are only the symptoms of the awful malady that sin is bringing upon the world. These are the things spoken of by Daniel when he said, "There shall be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation." And because of these things God has given His people the commission to go into all the world and teach all nations, and lo, I am with you all the way. This is why we are victorious. God is with us all the way.—D. W. D. in "Field Tidings."

A Few Experiences in Medical Missionary Work

As an outgrowth of the School of Health, conducted by the members of the Glendale church, a number of those who enjoyed its benefits have reported some of their experiences in medical missionary work. These may be an encouragement to others to make practical use of the hydrotherapy talents the Lord has given them. This is a talent every one can acquire with a little application.

One sister was called in to care for a Christian minister, who was ill with influenza, his wife also just recovering from the same thing. Afraid of taking it themselves, their friends withheld assistance. In this extremity this man and his wife were very grateful to our sister for her unselfish ministry. By the use of the simple treatments learned in class, she was enabled to nurse them both back to health. As a result they are studying our literature.

Another sister successfully treated a little child, who was suffering with a severe attack of croup, by rational methods, much to the surprise and appreciation of its parents who before had used only drugs.

A young woman rescued from the ocean after being buffeted about on the rocks until unconscious, and thoroughly chilled, was cared for by one of our young men and his wife. They were on a camping trip, so did not possess unlimited bathroom facilities, but a couple of blankets and a hot foot bath properly applied, were the means of restoring the girl's circulation, so that upon the physician's arrival with his leather bag, he found an animate instead of an inanimate "mummy," which was a source of thankfulness to all.

Every one should become efficient in these simple methods of health restoration. Preparedness should be the watchword.

It is true one may risk temporal life by ministering to the sick. Jesus risked eternal life for us. Unselfish ministry proves our love for Him.

A Letter

Dear Brethren and Sisters:

For nearly two years I have been isolated, and have seen but few of my former associates whose friendship and society was prized so highly. I have not by any means ceased to love you, and have thought of you many times and desired to see you. Now that the time for our camp meeting is drawing near, I am hoping that I shall soon enjoy the privilege for which I have longed.

I hope and trust that you will all make every reasonable effort to attend. The fact that I desire to see you again, is not the only, or the most important reason why I wish to encourage you to come. I need the benefit and help that a good camp meeting will give, and I take it for granted that you all need it, too. The evidences that we are near the end are greatly multiplied; and "because he knoweth that he hath but a short time, the devil has come down with great wrath, and is working with great power and many signs and lying wonders, and if possible he will deceive the elect."

The world with its cares and labors and its temptations presses hard and it is not easy to resist its influence and power. Our only hope of final success and of having a home in glory is in God, and the help He gives through His blessed Son Jesus, the Holy Spirit, His Word, our good literature and association with His people.

Our camp meetings are held at some expense of time and money, to afford a favorable opportunity to get the help we need through these instrumentalities, and we cannot afford to miss the chance if it is consistent at all for us to go. Hoping to see many of you at the meeting, I am,

Your brother,
E. A. Curtis.

Baptisms at Cortez

The first-fruits of the labors of Elder M. J. King in this section were manifested on Sabbath, June 14, at which time five souls were buried with their Lord in baptism. It was a most impressive scene, and will long remain in the memories of all present. The Cortez company took cars and went about ten miles to the place of baptism, together with people from other parts of this section. After a morning sermon by Elder King, lunch was spread in a grove near, after which all repaired to the water's side, where, after another short talk by Elder King the candidates went forward in this most impressive ceremony. All seemed to fully realize the solemnity of the ordinance from which they were to "rise to walk in newness of life."

Next Sabbath cars will be taken for Bayfield, about seventy miles distant, where a Sabbath school will be organized. Our Cortez company is entering into the spirit of helpfulness, and we expect much in the way of good results from the work here, it being the first conference work attempted in this great Montezuma Valley. This is a vast field, sufficient to engage the full attention of several workers.

Since the providing of a car for Elder King, the work has been placed on a much more efficient basis, and much territory covered. We earnestly hope we will be able to develop canvassers sufficient to cover this territory, there being several now planning to engage in this work as soon as their affairs can be adjusted. It seems that we must all soon enter this branch of the work all over the earth. When we all begin to "cry aloud" that will be the "loud cry," will it not?

Inter-Mountain Conference Association

The Inter-Mountain Conference Association of Seventh-day Adventists will convene on the camp ground at Grand Junction, Colorado, on Tuesday, July 22, at 10 A. M., to elect officers for the ensuing year and to transact any business that should properly come before the association.

Come to Camp Meeting

Splendid reports are coming in from all over the field where camp meetings have been held this year. A deep sense of personal need has characterized the meetings. This surely means victory over sin, and a speedy finishing of the work. No one can afford to remain away from our camp meeting this year. Let each one plan, pray, and work to meet with God's people at this time.

Only a few short weeks intervene before our people will be assembling in Beulah Park, Oakland, for our annual feast. August 7 to 17 is the date. These occasions are always a great spiritual refreshing to those who come apart and seek God. We are admonished not to forsake "the assembling of ourselves together," but exhort "one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Also we are told that "we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip."

Have we been so absorbed and occupied with material things that many things we planned to do and say for God and His work have slipped from us? Have the worldly sights and sounds dulled the accents of the still, small voice of the Spirit, and distorted our vision of eternal things, so that we greatly need the vitalizing, vivifying power of the Holy Spirit of God? If so, why should we not definitely plan to be at the camp meeting from the very first, and remain until the close?

If we are to be in close touch with our Saviour and keep our sensitiveness to sin and a fervent true love for this message, we must give "earnest heed" to the words of God, and come together at these annual convocations with the one desire of drawing nigh to God.

The door of mercy is still open. The blessed Saviour still pleads for us. His power to save is still efficacious. Each one, both old and young needs to assemble himself together with God's people, surrender all, and reach out through the darkness of earth's gloom and grasp by faith the hand of our Lord who will graciously lead us on to final victory.

G. W. Wells.

Dear friends, do not forget that in view of the forthcoming anniversary number of the "Review and Herald," $2.50 is the special price for all subscriptions as well as renewals sent in at once to the tract society.

It sells for only 25 cents.

It conveys the great gospel message in love.

It says nothing about shot, shell, cannon, sword, battleships, nor the great world war even, except a paragraph on the part played by our beloved country while trying to preserve the cause of universal freedom and liberty.

It says on page 85: "It is a marvelous thought that the throne of the universe will be on this our world, in the forfeited dominion restored through Christ; yet there is evidence that the statement is true, and that this world now lying under the curse is to become the brightest, happiest spot in all the realm of God."

News Items

Last Sabbath there were ten persons baptized in the Fresno church. Most of these gave their hearts to the Lord during our camp meeting.

Brother Guy Mann has been with Brother George T. Vore, at Coalinga, since camp meeting and after he attends the teachers' institute at Lodi, will return to Coalinga to take up his work again.

Elder B. L. Dieffenbacher came to the office this week and selected his tent equipment for an effort at McFarland. Brother William F. Miller is to assist him, and meetings will begin soon.

A tent and equipment has been shipped to Elder Frank Weeks, at Livingston. Brother Isaac Schneider and Sister Laurel Campbell-Loughead are to assist him. They plan to begin meetings in a few days.

The time set for Sabbath school Rally Day in the Central California Conference is July 19 and 26 instead of June 7, which was during our camp meeting. This is in harmony with the advice of the General Conference Department at Washington, D. C.

Before the colporteur's institute, recently held in Fresno, we had five regular colporteurs, and now we are glad to be able to report that as a result of the institute we will have twelve. Of these, Glenn Morton, William Schneider, Jesse Loughead, Richard Buller and Kathren Siemens are already at work. They are having excellent success, and we hope that the others will join them. Watch their reports in the "Recorder" and pray for them.

Conference Notes

Definite announcement will be made in the next issue of the "Recorder" in regard to the location of the camp ground.

Elder J. W. Miller, who is conducting an effort for the colored people of Los Angeles, sends the following report:

"Last Sunday evening, June 22, we were prepared to throw open our canvas door to both the curious and those who were earnestly seeking for that bread which came down from heaven."

"We feel our absolute dependence upon the all-sufficient help of the Holy Spirit. For this much needed gift we are both praying and preparing our hearts for its reception. Remember us when you go to the throne of grace."

As a result of literature placed in the reading rack in the Pacific Electric depot, Sixth and Main Streets, Los Angeles, one Spanish young man was brought to a knowledge of this truth, resulting in his baptism at the White Memorial chapel on Sabbath, June 21.

The "Review and Herald" celebrates its seventieth anniversary during the month of July. All yearly subscriptions received during July, either subscriptions or renewals, will be listed for fourteen months at the regular yearly rate, $2.50. Every one should take advantage of this opportunity. Make this a 100 per cent conference in "Review" subscriptions!

There are now eleven good canvassers in the field. Brother Lowell Butler, who is working for a scholarship at Pacific Union College, took over $100 worth of orders the second week. Brother Frank Desmarests, who has been taking treatments at the White Memorial Hospital, is much improved in health. He went to Santa Paula last Sunday, where he expects his sales to run about $150 per week. Brother D. A. Dale is now in Paso Robles, this being the last place he has to work in that county before coming to Los Angeles. He recently finished a $300 delivery without losing an order, or having any postponed.

"We feel very grateful to the Southern California Conference for the corps of workers who are associated with us in this effort, both for my personal good and for the possible edification of the colored work in this conference. With this help we hope to wrest from Satan at least some of the souls who have been led away captive by him. Our tent was about filled to its capacity last Sunday evening with an interested audience. Our choir carried the minds of those present toward heaven in song service, under the leadership of Brother Owen Troy. The subject of the evening was taken from II Peter 1:12, a definite message for this time.

Imperial

Rally Day was faithfully observed by the Imperial Valley churches. Calipatria and Brawley united and had a most interesting time. El Centro joined with New River, while Holtville carried out the program alone.

The Holtville church has been greatly blessed during the past season, having received nine adult additions. In nearly every case it has been both husband and wife who have accepted the truth, thus giving united families. Three others have embraced the truth here, but moved away before uniting with the church. We hope they may be able to unite elsewhere in the near future.

Three persons were also recently baptized at Calipatria, two uniting with the Brawley church and one at Calipatria.

Reports From Workers

Dr. W. B. Holden occupied the pulpit at the Loma Linda chapel on Sabbath, June 21.

On June 22, Elder J. L. McElhany was with the church at Blythe, in Palo Verde Valley. The extreme heat is driving many out to the coast for the season.

Elder D. D. Lake reports the baptism of nine candidates at El Centro last Sabbath. Six of these embraced the truth under the labors of Brethren C. A. Winters and Clark Warren at Holtville; the other three were baptisms.

The "Review" campaign just opening meets a hearty response in the hearts of all up-to-date Seventh-day Adventists. The church paper is the most efficient way by which we may know where we stand in the light of Matthew 24:14. Let all subscribe; and having subscribed, read.

On Sunday evening at Riverside, and on Wednesday evening at Loma Linda, Elder and Sister J. L. McElhany gave interesting lectures on the Philippines, the field to which the thirteenth Sabbath offering of the Sabbath school goes. The lectures were illustrated by stereopticon pictures made by Elder McElhany.

Elder C. McReynolds reports that the work on the Big Bear Lake Mission is progressing nicely, the rustic cottage being practically completed. He has been successful in raising nearly all the money needed, and he hopes the rest will soon be in hand. Thousands of people are visiting this popular resort this summer, and the opportunity to do effective missionary work is unlimited.

Perseverance Conquers All

Genius, that power that dazzles mortal eyes,
Is oft but perseverance in disguise.
Continuous effort of itself implies,
In spite of countless falls the power to rise.

'Twixt failure and success, the point's so fine,
Men sometimes know not when they touch the line.
Just when the pearl was waiting one more plunge,
How many a struggler has thrown up the sponge!

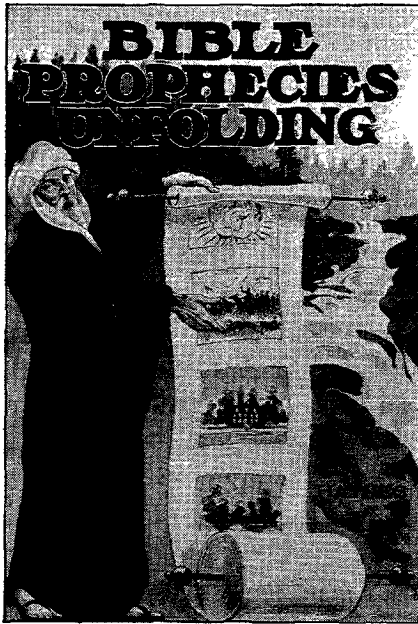

As the tide goes clear out, it comes clear in;
In business, 'tis at turns the wisest win.
And oh! how true, when shades of doubt dismay
" 'Tis often darkest just before the day."

A little more persistence, courage, vim!
Success will dawn o'er fortune's cloudy rim.
Then take this honey for the bitterest cup;
"There is no failure save in giving up."

"No real fall as long as one still tries,
For seeming setbacks made the strong man wise.
There's no defeat, in truth, save from within.
Unless you're beaten, you're bound to win!"

—Henry Austin.

Gives the Message

The following are expressive of the many letters the publishers have received from all parts of the field in regard to Elder Haynes' latest book, "Bible Prophecies Unfolding." One of the General Conference home missionary secretaries writes:

"Since receiving this book I have had an opportunity to analyze it carefully from cover to cover, and I want to say that to my mind it is the most comprehensive and all inclusive presentation of the message we have to date in any of our small books."

Brother J. B. Blosser, the veteran field secretary of the Central Union Conference, writes of "Bible Prophecies Unfolding," as follows:

"To say I am pleased with it does not half tell the story. It appeals to me that it is a book that will have a large circulation because it has so much of the message in it. That fact is the only thing that interests me in any of the books. Besides, that is what sells them, for this truth is what the world needs to know and desires to know when it is presented to them in the right way."

That it gives the message is the reason for the first edition, 50,000, having been sold within a few days. It is a book that will be found very useful in tent meetings, as well as for Bible workers and the lay-members of our church in doing effectual missionary work with their friends and neighbors. Price, 25 cents, postpaid. Usual discount in quantities of ten or more. Place all orders through your tract society.

The "Review"—clean, wholesome.

Colporteurs' Institute Central California

A very successful colporteurs' institute was held in Fresno, June 12 to 19. This meeting was well attended, and a noticeable spirit of earnestness and enthusiasm was manifest during the entire time. Elder H. S. Shaw, president of our conference was present at the opening meeting and spoke of some of his experiences in days gone by, encouraging the colporteurs to persevere in the work which they had decided to take up. Elder Shaw assured them that they would have the support and encouragement of every one of the conference workers.

A Bible study was conducted each morning by Elder S. T. Hare, pastor of the Fresno church. These studies were intensely interesting and very instructive. The remainder of the time each day was devoted to instruction in canvassing, and many important principles were taught in regard to methods of work and how colporteurs should conduct themselves in distributing the message-filled books. This instruction was given by Brother F. E. Painter, union conference field secretary, and Brother L. M. Overholt, who has recently been elected field missionary secretary in the Central California Conference.

Already several of the workers who attended this institute are doing very acceptable work, and we believe that better times are ahead for the canvassing work in this field. The colporteurs left the meeting with a new inspiration, and enthusiastic regarding the success of their work. The books selected by the workers were "Great Controversy," "Bible Readings," "Our Day in the Light of Prophecy" and "Practical Guide to Health."

We believe that "the time has come when a large work should be done by the canvassers. The world is asleep, and as watchmen they are to ring the warning bell to awake the sleepers to their danger."

By an action of the State Board of Health which was intended to become effective September 1, 1918, it was required that students entering the nurses' course in an accredited school should have completed twelve grades of regular school work. However, conditions brought into existence by the war caused a temporary revision in this requirement and provision has been made by the State whereby students having less than twelve grades may still enter accredited training schools. THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1919

The month of July is the seventieth anniversary of the "Review and Herald." In honor of this pioneer paper, the next issue of the "Recorder" will be devoted largely to the "Review," and contain articles from a number of our leading men. We are sure your interest will be deepened in our first church paper after you read what our leaders have to say about it, and the necessity of receiving its weekly visits.

Have You a Spanish Neighbor?

If so, you will be glad to know of a new Spanish magazine which will enter the field in July, sent forth by the Pacific Press Publishing Association of Mountain View, Cal. Many thousand persons of Spanish birth are scattered through our cities. It is stated that more than one-fourth of these are located in New York. The State of Florida stands next in point of numbers, then California and Louisiana. Professional and skilled classes constitute a third of the recent Spanish immigrants to our country, among which may be classed actors, physicians, artists and lawyers. In addition to these there are many Spanish-Americans and Mexicans.

We have had no Spanish magazine through which to make friends with these people and teach them the truth, and while our workers in Spanish-speaking fields have been putting forth strenuous efforts to reach the people on their native soil, we here in America have passed by those in our midst, feeling ourselves unable to communicate with them. This is no longer necessary, for an attractive Spanish magazine is now available, and we are sure that the Spanish people will show the same appreciation for literature in their native tongue as people of other nationalities do. Search out your Spanish neighbors and give them the message while probation's hour still lingers.

The Home Missionary Department takes pleasure in complying with the request of the publishers to make this announcement and while we do not know the name of the magazine we understand that it will be issued quarterly, will contain 20 pages, including a two-color cover, and will sell for 15 cents per copy, or 50 cents for a yearly subscription, with discount on clubs. Orders should now be placed through the tract society. We hope this periodical will start out with a long list of yearly subscriptions, and we would be glad to be informed of interesting experiences which develop.

C. V. Leach, Secretary.
General Conference Home Missionary Supt.

"Out of the Fire"

"One of my sons was passing along a place a few days ago where was destroyed worthless matter. He saw a partly burned copy of your magazine which he brought home. I looked it over and read what little was left to read. I found it to be of religious sentiment which was very pleasing to my heart.

"I will enclose a few fragments so you may know how the gospel of Jesus Christ is found even amongst fragments of refuse. I desire you to send me a copy of the 'Watchman Magazine,' as I am inclined to subscribe for the same."

July 1 to 31.

The Man Who Fails

The man who fails is the sort of chap
Who is always looking around for a snap;

Who neglects his work to regard the clock;

Who never misses a chance to knock.

He is grouchy and slow when the work begins,

When it's time to quit, he jokes and grins;

He's always as busy as busy can be,
When he thinks the boss is around to see.

He believes that a "pull" is the only way

By which he can ever draw bigger pay;
And he sulks and growls when he sees his plan

Upset by the "push" of another man.

He's on his job when he draws his pay;
That done, he soldiers his time away,
While the men who tackle their jobs with vim

Keep pushing and climbing ahead of him.

For the man who fails has himself to blame

If he wastes his chances and misses his aim;

He'd win if he'd use his hands and wits;

The man who fails is the man who quits.
