The Promised Blessing

For many years Seventh-day Adventists have looked forward to the time of the latter rain. Much has been said and written, and expected when this time of refreshing should come to the church. There is a danger that many will come up to this very period, pass through it, and never know that God has visited His people. Yet we cannot help but realize that there is an awakening among God's people, a very pronounced, earnest, deep-seated conviction taking hold of the advent band that the time has come to put on the whole armor, and be equipped with the power of the Holy Spirit for the finishing of the work.

Our camp meeting season is nearly half over. Four of the camp meetings for this union have been held. Those who have had the privilege of attending, I am sure, will testify with me that never before in our experience has there been such a seeking after God on the part of those who really feel the importance of the hour as it is at the present time. Fathers and mothers are giving themselves to God not only for individual consecration but in behalf of their children. Children for their parents are seeking God with full purpose of heart, and conversions of outsiders is a part of the experience of our camp meetings this year.

There has been nothing startling, no great outward demonstration but a deep-seated, genuine searching after God. There has been on the part of the people a sinking out of self, and a solemn sinking into God which brings the sweet peace of heaven, and the power of the Holy Ghost into our midst. Surely we are in the time of refreshing. God grant that we shall not let this time go by unimproved, for this is the hour of God's call to the individual soul.

We were greatly blessed with the services of Elders F. C. Gilbert and W. W. Eastman. These brethren have come to us with a message of cheer, of confidence, of assurance, as well as with words of counsel and instruction that have helped many of our people to find their bearings in the third angel's message. There are many perplexing voices sounding in these days, voices that make a great profession but whose fruits are not equal to the thing professed. But fanaticism is making itself known, and God's people must arise and shake themselves from the dangers in which we are, or we shall be swept from our feet in a whirlpool of destruction.

The interest taken in our foreign missions this year shows a marked increase over former years. God has greatly blessed His people in responding financially to the needs of the hour. For this we thank God and take courage, and send the word of cheer on to our brethren and sisters who have gone to the foreign lands.

To our brethren and sisters living in conferences where the camp meetings have not yet been held we would like to say, plan definitely to attend. Do not let this season of refreshing go by this year without joining God's people in earnest prayer and Bible study and self-examination, and a careful analysis of what God expects of His people at this time.

We earnestly request the believers in the advent message to join with us in praying that the Lord's servants may have wisdom and grace and strength for the many perplexing problems and the heavy work in connection with the camp meetings. We know you feel as keenly as we the needs of the hour, and by personal consecration, by hearty co-operation, by a well ordered and well disciplined army we can move forward under the banner of the third angel's message to victory. God grant that none of us shall slip and fall out by the way.

"The Review"—Why do without it?

Midsummer Offering

In planning for this world-wide work, the General Conference has undertaken greater things this year than ever before, because it had confidence in the financial support of the people who are backing this movement. They have provided for an expenditure, at home and abroad, for nearly one and one-half million dollars. This is the heaviest financial task that has ever been assumed by our people.

This is a world movement. Everywhere the message must go. The work is increasing in volume, and the demands upon us for men and means was never greater.

We must keep in mind also that the high cost of living is affecting our brethren in other fields as well as in this country, so there must be a general increase in the allowance made to our missionaries. We cannot afford to let the work of God be curtailed by a lack of funds, nor permit our God-fearing, self-sacrificing missionaries to be financially embarrassed.

We are accustomed to set apart a day for a special midsummer offering. This plan has been followed for years. This year, Sabbath, July 19, is the appointed time, and in view of the urgent needs it is hoped that the most liberal offering ever made on such an occasion will be received at this time.

In making this appeal, I would like to pass on to our people the following plan taken up in one of our churches. It proved to be a great blessing, as well as bringing splendid results financially.

In the church referred to, they were to make a special effort to raise a large offering for missions on the thirteenth Sabbath. The conference worker who was stationed at this place asked the members to join with him in giving the proceeds of one day's work to missions. Practically the entire working force of the church joined in the movement. The worker took his saw and hammer and went to work, receiving $6.00 for his labor. Another member of the church made $10.50, and on Sabbath, when the total amount was received, they had over $200.

The old maxim, "Where there's a will, there's a way," is still found to be true. If we all plan together with willing hearts to make a special midsummer offering, realizing the great need, we may depend upon God's crowning our efforts with success.

Word From Brother C. C. Morlan

It has been more than three months since Mrs. Morlan and I left sunny California, and many times have we thought of our friends and co-laborers in Southern California especially, and prayed for the success of the work in that field.

Our trip east to Kansas was a pleasant one, although owing to my physical weakness the long ride was very tiresome. But we feel that the Lord directed us in our coming here, for it has been a real blessing to us healthwise. We are with Mrs. Morlan's parents enjoying country life, including some of the work connected therewith. Our folk here are trying to make our sojourn with them a pleasant one, and in this attempt are succeeding. But somehow, we have a longing in our hearts to be engaged in the Lord's work, and this we hope to do as soon as it seems advisable.

I have thought many times of our home missionary enterprises in Southern California, and have seen, in my mind, our people going out among their neighbors with literature, or passing out announcements of the meetings our ministers are holding. I know that just such work as this you have been doing; and let the good work go on, "for your labor is not in vain."

We started from California with a supply of tracts, "Signs," "Instructors," and "Present Truth." These we gave out on the train and at stations. I believe you will be interested in one experience I had with a man on the train. Our conversation drifted into the subject of the war and after. He asked me what I thought would follow this war, a long time of peace and prosperity, or another war? I told him what I believed would follow the war; then I gave him a few texts of scripture to show why I believed that lasting peace was impossible, and that the second coming of Christ was inevitable. He listened attentively for a few minutes, and then replied: "Well, I think you have it about right. While I have never studied the question from this viewpoint, I have been impressed of late that a Higher Power than earthly kings is ruling in these international affairs."

I gave this man a copy of the "Signs" weekly and copies of "Present Truth" on the following subjects: "After the War—What?" "Second Coming of Christ" and "The Home of the Saved." I hope and pray that these seeds of truth may bear fruit. How thankful we should be for such literature as we have! Let us use it freely.

May we ask an interest in the prayers of the "Recorder" family?

San Francisco to India

Brother H. J. Jewell, who left Southern California recently for India, in company with others, sends the following short sketch of their journey to India:

"There were eleven in our party sailing for India on the 'Santa Cruz', April 1, Elder G. F. Enoch, Elder R. A. Hubley, wife and child, Brother and Sister A. J. Denoyer, Brother and Sister Iverson, Miss Belle Shryock, Miss Eleanoa Reid and the writer.

"We surely had a wonderful passage across all these great bodies of water and not one rough or bad day. It was a very pleasant voyage from beginning to end. We were the only missionaries on the ship, and the captain let us have our own way and did everything to make it pleasant for us.

"We organized a Sabbath school on the ship with a superintendent and secretary, holding meetings in the music room each Sabbath. Our collection amounted to over $30.00. We called the school the 'Trans-Pacific.'

"We stopped one day in Honolulu, two days, or parts of days, in Manila, Philippine Islands; also in Saigon, Indo China, two days.

"Our last stop before reaching India was at Singapore. Here we were in port a week. In all these places excepting Saigon, we visited our mission headquarters and schools, and saw something of the cities and surrounding countries.

"Six of our party were returning after more or less extended furloughs. Brother Iverson remained in Singapore to take the work of secretary and treasurer of that field.

"We reached Calcutta, May 17, all well and of good courage, ready for work in the great mission field, India. As I write this, only a few days after our arrival, four of us are in Bombay, over a thousand miles to the west, one is seven hundred miles north, two leave tomorrow for Burma, a thousand miles to the east, and I will probably go to the Punjab, away in the northwest—our little party literally swallowed up in this great field of 320,000,000, the vast majority still sitting in heathen darkness and superstition."

Conference Items

In your prayers remember our colporteurs who are out in the advance lines telling the story of God's love, and leaving behind them the printed pages that will long live in the memory of the people and help finish the work.

Work commenced July 9 on the camp ground, and the workers are looking forward to meeting you at the camp this year and getting acquainted. You will miss one of the best opportunities for spiritual growth that come to any one if you miss camp meeting this year. The best help that it will be possible to secure will be with us and none should miss this opportunity of hearing the soul-stirring messages they will bring from our Father's house.

The Grand Junction missionary committee has stirred the church and the members are making use of the tracts purchased to distribute prior to camp meeting. The greater part of the city has been covered twice with the tracts and must be covered twice again. All the tracts are here and Sister Leffingwell, the leader, has the work well in hand. The work was organized by districting the city and every member given territory to work. None were exempted. The missionary committee told the local elder where to work. Good for Grand Junction! May they continue the good work, and find souls in the kingdom through the fruit of their labor.

Loyalty is what this message calls for from all. How can we be loyal to the cause if we do not know what is being done? For seventy years the good "Review and Herald" has been telling most of our people from week to week of the strides onward that are being made by God's message, and you need its visits in these last days of the work. The "Review" office feels to help you in this and has made an anniversary offer—fourteen months for the price of one year's subscription. You cannot afford to be without it, so give your order to your missionary secretary during this month and your paper will come for fourteen months for $2.50. If you are already a subscriber, renew, and it will count for fourteen months from the time your present subscription runs out. If your missionary secretary is not handy, send your subscription to the office and we will take care of it for you.

In the Field

On June 20 a telegram called me from Arizona to the bedside of my aged mother, who lives in Ohio. It was my privilege to minister to her and assist in her recovery and to receive from her words of encouragement and appreciation that I am engaged in the work of preaching the third angel's message. To encourage those who are mailing our papers such as the "Signs," I found that the four copies which I had been sending to my people in Ohio had awakened a real interest in the study of the Bible, and they all appreciate the "Signs" magazine as its weekly visits come to them.

Returning to Arizona I visited the church at Flagstaff and found our people there of good courage. The church building has been beautified by paint inside and outside, and some needed repairs have been made.

The next stop was at Garland Prairie where Elder I. P. Dillon and the writer held meetings last year. Our people there are still faithful although they had not been visited for some months. The snow often is three feet deep in that district during the winter so it is very difficult to get in or out except during the summer and autumn months. Two dear souls who attended the meetings last year have decided to obey the Lord and expect to be baptized in the near future.

Leaving that immediate district I came on to the Verde River Valley where we have believers living at Clarkdale and at Cottonwood three miles below. All rejoiced together because of God's presence with us as we worshipped Him upon His holy Sabbath and studied together from His Word. The new believers at this place are loyal to the message and rejoice in the light they have received. How glad I am to have a small part in teaching this message to the people! May the Lord help us all to be faithful in doing our part in the great world-wide work.

Questions Remaining Unanswered at the Modesto Camp Meeting

Ques. 1. Should we have for teachers in our Sabbath schools or church schools those who belong to other denominations, or to no denomination?

Ans. The Lord says, "Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth." Isa. 21:6. If a man has not seen, or tasted the love of God, he cannot impart the lesson of love to others. He may repeat the words of God, as did Satan to Christ, Luke 4:10, saying, "It is written"; but the Spirit that makes it a "living" word is absent. God authorizes no watchman—teacher—to declare only what "he seeth." He sends none to testify of Him but those who have accepted Him. To those who have not, he says: "What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldst take my covenant in thy mouth"? Ps. 50:16.

The reason that people are members of other denominations, if conscientious, is that they do not believe as we do. They cannot consistently teach that which they do not believe. The Lord says that "whatsoever is not of faith is sin." Rom. 14:23. This would make it impossible to teach the views of Seventh-day Adventists until becoming convinced of and accepting them.

It would not then be consistent nor just to our children, or to themselves, to appoint teachers from the above classes.

Ques. 2. Since parents have the responsibility of bringing their children to God, can they be saved without their children?

Ans. Yes, if they have done all on their part to save them. If they have not done so, they can repent and be forgiven. "Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness." Eze. 14:20.

The Lord here declares that though a wayward son or daughter may be lost, the righteous parent will be saved.

"The soul that sinneth it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son." Eze. 18:20.

The Lord gives strong assurances to parents in their endeavors to save their children, and many wayward ones will be drawn to God, but if they are lost, the righteous parent will be saved.

Ques. 3. Is it right for a lay-member in a small church to give a Sabbath reading in the absence of the elder?

Ans. Yes. Any member may be chosen to give a Bible study when the elder is absent, unless he has appointed a person to lead at that time. Any person chosen to lead in a study should be known to be in harmony with the Seventh-day Adventists in their teachings as a body. Others could not "feed the flock."

Clarence Santee.

Ques. 4. Is Sal Hepatica of any value for rheumatism? Is it safe?

Ans. Sal Hepatica is a harmless laxative. It has no specific value in the treatment of rheumatism, aside from the properties held by any effervescent salt used for its laxative effects.

Ques. 5. Is mentholatum of value in catarrh?

Ans. Mentholatum is a counter irritant, and by causing a dilatation of peripheral vessels, causes a depletion of underlying tissues, thus combating congestion of a part. Used in conjunction with other remedial agencies this preparation is of value.

Does the "Review and Herald" come to your home? If not, subscribe this month and take advantage of the special offer.

The conference committee had a meeting, July 13 to consider some matters of importance pertaining to the camp meeting.

The camp meeting time is nearing. Already a great many orders for tents have been received. Some are paying for them in advance.

The offerings for missions in our conference, are increasing. Our goal for each month is $3,600. Last month we raised more than this amount. For thirteen of our churches, the general average for the entire six months is more than 25 cents a week per member.

The following word comes from one church who are especially interested in having the conference reach its full quota for missions: "We have begun what we call the 'Dollar Donation' to be given by each family every Sabbath, until we reach the top. This does not include our usual offerings. All are willing to do their best."

Plan of Tent Collections

While a number of our brethren and sisters have already paid for their tents, the plan of collections this year will be as follows:

On reaching the camp ground, you should go direct to the office tent and secure a card with number of your tent, together with price of tent and any furniture that you may have ordered, at the same time paying for same. This card will then be taken to the reception tent where some one will show you your location.

While the price of tents this year is $6.00 there will be furnished free a number of camp chairs for your use, and also the usual partition which is placed in the tent for your convenience. It is understood that all these tents are provided with board floors and no burlap will be furnished.

California Conference Association of the Seventh-day Adventists

The twenty-third annual meeting of the California Conference Association of the Seventh-day Adventists will be held in connection with the regular forty-eighth annual camp meeting of the California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, in Oakland, California, August 7 to 17, 1919, for the election of a board of seven trustees for the ensuing term, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. The first meeting will be called at 10:00 A. M., Monday, August 11, 1919. 2t

How to Reach the Oakland Camp Ground

Those coming through from Santa Cruz, Soquel, Watsonville, Monterey, Hollister, Morgan Hill and San Jose should come through on the Oakland side, and leave the train at Fruitvale Station, taking the car directly back of the station up Fruitvale Avenue to Hopkins Street, transferring west on the Hopkins Street line, and asking the conductor to let you off at the Seventh-day Adventist camp ground.

Those coming from Byron, Martinez, Concord, Napa and Sonoma valleys, and the North, should leave the train at Sixteenth Street station, taking a car there that will bring them to Thirteenth and Broadway, taking a car there with a designation letter "G" going east on Thirteenth, and asking the conductor to let them off at the Seventh-day Adventist camp ground.

Those coming through San Francisco from Humboldt or Mendocino Counties, and Mountain View, should take the Key Route ferry to Twelfth and Broadway and go one block to the left on Thirteenth Street, there taking the car with the designation "G" going east on Thirteenth, and asking the conductor to let them off at the Seventh-day Adventist camp ground.

Brethren and sisters having baggage should see that it is checked to Fruitvale station, Oakland. Then they should keep their checks and give them to our baggage man, who will be located on the camp ground.

Baggage checked to Sixteenth Street station, First and Broadway, and to Oakland Pier will be charged for at a higher rate to be delivered on the camp ground.

Los Angeles Colored Work

This is now the third week of the Compton Avenue effort being conducted in behalf of our colored people of Los Angeles. It is too early at this period to state what the results of the effort will be, but believe some will be brought into the light of the truth and the knowledge of the third angel's message. We are working and praying to this end.

The choir, which is composed of the young people of the Furlong and Watts churches, is rendering splendid service, and adds much to the interest of the meetings.

Sunday night, July 6, the subject of spiritualism was presented in an audience of not less than three hundred people. Apparently all were well pleased with the thoughts presented.

Up to this time our interest has not abated. Inasmuch as we are now presenting those points of the doctrine of Christ which are of a more testing nature than some others, we ask you to remember us to Him who creates the soul anew.

From San Diego

The tent effort in San Diego is progressing satisfactorily. We are counting on about thirty-five persons who will come out from the world as a result of the present work. A feature of the meetings is the continued good attendance from evening to evening. New faces are seen nightly and a deeper interest is manifested as the days go by. The afternoon Bible studies by Elder R. S. Owen and the health talks by Dr. Lillis Wood-Starr hold a good attendance from day to day. It is planned to have special cooking demonstrations the last week in July, and for this purpose an effort has been made to secure the domestic science department of one of the public school buildings here.

Elder W. M. Healey, who was badly injured about six weeks ago, is at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium. He is recovering as well as could be expected, being able to be out in a wheel chair most of the time. We give thanks to Him by whose hand he was so miraculously delivered and hope that in a few more weeks he will be able to be around as usual. It is hoped Elder Healey will be able to be present on Rally Day Sabbath, July 19.

In the absence of Sister Myrna Lee, now in the East on a much needed vacation, Sister Edith Perry, of Los Angeles, is assisting in the work in this city.

Elder A. W. Bartlett, one of the pioneers in the work, who, a quarter of a century ago, was pastor of the G Street church, and who has recently been laboring in the California Conference pastoral work, is an active worker in the company here.

July 19 and 20 has been chosen as general rally day for the churches and companies in and around San Diego. The brethren will all assemble at the big 60x90 khaki pavilion at Twelfth and G streets at 9:45 A. M. for Sabbath school, which will be followed by preaching service. The general exodus for camp meeting will follow early in the week, the indications at present being that this community will be very well represented. This is as it should be, for we may be sure there will be but few more of these yearly gatherings for the Lord's people, and all should and doubtless will, avail themselves of the privilege. C. A. Cole.

A Trip to Big Bear Valley

A company of nearly forty left Loma Linda by auto early Friday morning, July 4, for Big Bear Valley in the San Bernardino Mountains to spend the week-end. Nearly the whole company went by way of the famous "Rim of the World," a wonderful trip.

The Big Bear Valley chapel headquarters was the chief objective. We found Brother and Sister J. G. Mitchell very enthusiastic in their work for the people of this mountain resort, and helped us better to appreciate the splendid missionary opportunities in that community. Several campers come regularly to Sunday school and other services, and show deep interest in the truth.

Elder G. B. Starr, being a member of our company from Loma Linda, conducted several services in the chapel. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas White-lock, of San Diego, were in the camp a few days. They assisted in the Friday evening and Sabbath services, both by song and preaching of the Word.

Besides the chapel building, there is now nearly completed a beautiful rustic construction 24 feet square, including living rooms in the rear, and a large reading room in the front, with dressing room in connection. This is to accommodate the reading public who wish to spend an hour with our priceless literature. About 75 feet back of this building is a new 12x18 two-room cottage all furnished for housekeeping, intended for visiting ministers and conference workers. A well has recently been drilled on the property which yields an unusually fine flow of cold, pure water. It is hoped that in the near future this water supply might be used in a simple treatment room work.

Dr. Mary C. McReynolds, of the Loma Linda Sanitarium, spent several days on the ground recently, rendering almost constant service to the sick in their homes, and in the delivery of health lectures in the chapel. Doctors H. W. Vollmer and E. H. Risley of Loma Linda, went up to the camp July 12 for a little time, to do a similar work. There is a great need of a trained nurse to give her time to the demands of the medical work of this place. A nice club of the "Signs of the Times" is going here regularly.

Brother and Sister Mitchell and their associates are to be congratulated for their efforts to institute this little "light house" center from which rays of truth are to shine out over this beautiful mountain valley, and they urge that the "Recorder" readers pray earnestly that their efforts and influence may result in many honest souls directed to and saved in the eternal kingdom. W. A. Nary.

HOME MISSIONARY

Home Missionary Activities

Do you report your work? Angels of heaven report theirs. See Ezekiel 9:11.

The home missionary convention held in the Oakland church Sabbath, June 27, was well attended. A number from the churches about the Bay cities were present at the afternoon session. The union conference home missionary secretary, Elder J. Adams Stevens, together with Elder G. W. Wells, conference president, Elder E. H. Adams, pastor of the Oakland church. Brethren Ernest Lloyd and James Cochran of the Pacific Press, united with the conference home missionary secretary in making this meeting valuable and instructive to our people. At a council meeting following the afternoon session, plans were discussed looking to the further development of systematic home missionary work by the members of the Oakland church.

During a meeting of the Laguna Street church a very decided manifestation of the Holy Spirit led those present to feel that the work of carrying the third angel's message to the foreign population of San Francisco should be given more earnest consideration. A few days later, Elders B. E. Beddoe and A. M. Dart, pastors of the Laguna and Mission Street churches, in consultation with the writer, laid plans for an organized effort to reach the foreign classes of this cosmopolitan city with the tidings of Jesus' soon return. Surely our Lord has in reserve copious blessings of the churches in this district if they answer the call from heaven to engage in this home foreign work.

Brother C. H. Brooke gives the following report of the ship mission work for quarter ending June 30, 1919: Papers distributed 4,954; ships visited 264; army posts, hospitals, etc., visited 106; papers mailed 18. A continued supply of literature is desired for this work, charges prepaid.

I am resting and receiving the benefits afforded by the sanitarium and counting the joy of exercising the faith that recognizes the need of special manifestations of the power of Him who is invisible. My case is with the Great Physician, and the unhindered accomplishment of His eternal purpose is my whole desire. Please pray for this.

The many encouraging notes and letters I am receiving are greatly appreciated. Please pardon if I am slow to answer.

Your brother in Christ,

J. L. Humbert.

The Nurses' Course in the Loma Linda Training School will begin August 17, 1919. The White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles is the Clinical Hospital for the Loma Linda Medical College, and student nurses spend a portion of their time in training there.

By an action of the State Board of Health which was intended to become effective September 1, 1918, it was required that students entering the nurses' course in an accredited school should have completed twelve grades of regular school work. However, conditions brought into existence by the war caused a temporary revision in this requirement and provision has been made by the State whereby students having less than twelve grades may still enter accredited training schools. Write for information and calendar to Superintendent of Nurses, Loma Linda, Cal.

Seventeen Thousand Dollars For Missions During Month of June

During the month of June there was forwarded to the treasurer of the General Conference from the local conferences in the Pacific Union Conference $17,423.11 for missions. Just think, more than $17,000 actually given away. Marvelous, isn't it? A loyal, liberal spirit surely prompted such generosity. But why do we give so liberally? Because we have assumed a double responsibility.

In Mark 16:15 we are admonished to "go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." That is our first duty. Being quite impossible for all of us to go, we have taken upon ourselves the support of those who not only could go, but who have gone, and are giving their time and energy and sometimes their lives to carry this gospel. Could we who are at home think of doing less for those who have gone?

The Foreign Mission Board has given long hours of careful thought and study to our missions work and the corps of workers who have answered the call, "here am I, Lord, send me." Careful estimates have been made as to the cost of carrying on what we have undertaken along missions' activities for 1919. The amount asked for is 25 cents per week from each member of a Seventh-day Adventist church. This is not legislation, it is not compulsory, nor is it made a test of fellowship, but each one is asked to do all he can. Not everyone will be able to give 25 cents per week, but others can give several times that amount.

Certain Sabbaths are designated throughout the year for special collections for our mission work. Sabbath, July 19, has been set as the day for receiving the midsummer offering.

Possibly you gained the idea when you read at the beginning of this article of the large amount sent in during June that it will not be necessary to do anything more. Listen, just a moment. While we exceeded our quota for June by $3,281.28, yet for the first six months of 1919 we are $13,504.25 short of our goal. Instead of sending in 25 cents per week per member, we have sent only about 21 cents per week per member.

Dear brethren and sisters, let us meditate upon these figures, and this shortage in the Pacific Union Conference, and make such a liberal midsummer offering that our shortage will be more than made up. We can,—will we? "Where your treasure is there will your heart be also."

Elsewhere in this paper is given the twenty-five-cent-a-week fund standing for June 30 of each conference in the union. B. M. Emerson, Treasurer.

Brother J. L. Humbert Writes From California

Brother J. L. Humbert, one of our faithful workers, who is well known throughout the Inter-Mountain Conference and the Nevada Mission field, and who is now at the St. Helena Sanitarium, sends the following:

Dear Brethren and Sisters of the Inter-Mountain Conference, Nevada Mission, and elsewhere:

Part of my program on July 7 was the reading of the "Recorder." Then came my morning sleep, after which I sat inhaling the vivifying fragrance of a magnolia blossom left in my room by the thoughtful gardener, in perfect accord with the prevailing spirit of this grand institution.

But I was thinking again of the pleasure afforded me by reading Elder E. A. Curtis' letter, inviting all who could to attend the camp meeting at Grand Junction, and of how I would enjoy this, as I would have also enjoyed attending one held in Reno. Then came the thought of telling you so.

How encouraging are the announcements of general plans for progress, like that in Brother F. E. Painter's article, and how good to read such reports as that by Brother C. A. Frederick as well as the many news notes. May God ever bless in the needy Inter-Mountain field, and may He specially bless Elder H. E. Ly-singer and his associates in the con-
