

PACIFIC UNION RECORDER

"Then They that Feared the Lord Spake Often One to Another."

A Great Hindrance to the Progress of Our Work Removed

Five years ago many of our people, including leaders in the cause in the Pacific Union Conference, were under a cloud of depression on account of the awful burden of indebtedness which rested upon our educational work. In the territory of the conference named, the cause of God had been in financial bondage for a full third of a century. This condition began when Healdsburg College was established in 1881, and each additional advanced school established in the union only served to increase the burden of indebtedness.

On account of financial difficulties, Healdsburg College was closed in the year 1908. When the California Conference territory was divided early in 1911, the liabilities of the Healdsburg College at the time it was closed, which was $28,702.48, with that of Pacific Union College, $32,829.80, and that of the Lodi Academy, $26,867.45, totaled $88,399.73. For a time the union conference was without a school carrying full collegiate work. At least six efforts were made in the union to lift the burden of indebtedness, only one of which, and that pertaining to an academy, proved wholly successful. Some efforts were made which did not even provide for the constantly accruing interest.

In March, 1914, or shortly thereafter the high-water mark of the educational liabilities of the various departments of the union conference stood as follows:

California Conference.....	$53,608.45
Central Cal. Conference...	19,273.67
Fernando Academy.....	10,500.00
Lodi Academy and Northern

Cal. Conf. Assn.....	15,432.38
Pacific Union College.....	45,637.68

Total$144,522.18

In the month mentioned a union conference meeting was held in Oakland, at which time it was decided to launch the raising of a fund of $150,000, $105,000 of which was to be applied, when raised, upon indebtedness, and $45,000 was to be used in making improvements which seemed essential for the success of our educational work. Many of us were fairly staggered by the size of this fund, and many said that it was an impossibility to raise so large an amount in one union conference. However, in this message there is only one way to go. That way is to go forward.

The solicitation began June 1, 1914, and continued until December 31, 1915. Not a single meeting was held on the Sabbath to raise this money. It will naturally be a matter of interest to our people to know what has been accomplished in the five-year period as regards rolling off the burden of indebtedness and also in the making of improvements.

There has been provided for Pacific Union College, to apply on its liabilities and for the making of improvements during the period, $92,254.11; applied on the California Conference Association liabilities, $53,608.45; applied on the Central California Conference liabilities, $19,273.67; applied on the Fernando Academy debt and improvements, $16,353.07; applied on the Lodi Academy debt and improvements, $26,542.65; supplied to the Nevada Field for the Fallon School, $6,970.00; supplied to the Inter-Mountain school at Rulison, $6,000.00; supplied to the Arizona school at Phoenix, $250.00.

This clears all of the educational note indebtedness which has rested upon any conference or any of our advanced schools in the entire union. It will thus be seen that in the clearing of indebtedness and in the making of improvements, the total betterment of our educational work in the union in a financial way during the period mentioned reaches the grand total of $221,251.95; and during the five-year period approximately $15,000 interest has been paid in our educational liabilities. In addition to this some $93,000 in cash annuities has been secured, $36,700 of which is carried by Pacific Union College, $9,200 by Lodi Academy and the remainder by our sanitariums and conference associations; and much property has been dedicated to the cause, all of which is self-sustaining, that is, we have not taken a single piece of property upon which any conference or institution is required to pay out any money for maintenance, for such a procedure would only be "a thorn in the flesh" to present and future administrative men.

It must be explained that the avenues by which all of the above funds were gathered were the $150,000 Fund, the sale of certain property, the returns on the twenty and twenty-five cent-a-week fund, some appropriations of local and union conference miscellaneous funds, and, in the case of Pacific Union College, of writing off a certain amount of liabilities occasioned by the purchase of Healdsburg College furnishings by that institution. It matters less as to how the results were attained than it does to convey the intelligence to our loyal people, in the Pacific Union Conference that the days of educational note indebtedness and consequent depression are now in the past. We gratefully acknowledge the splendid co-operation of our people in this task, and all gladly give the Lord the glory for the results attained.

May we not draw these lessons from this experience; namely, that when any mountain of difficulty stands in the way of the progress of the cause of God, if we will but go forward by faith the mountain will become a plain; and again, inasmuch as we are rapidly approaching the time when every cloud of depression must be lifted so that there will be no incubus to our throwing ourselves into "the home stretch" of the great task of finishing the message in the matter of educational indebtedness, the Lord has set us free for the finishing of our heaven-appointed task.

Possibly some who have not yet paid their pledges to the $150,000 Fund may reason that there is now no need that they should pay. If all could get such a vision of the onward progress of the advent message that they would fully sense the fact that in this movement we cannot meet the mind of the Lord if we accomplish certain results and then set our stakes and go no further, there would be no reasoning to the effect that pledges made to our educational work need not be met. To keep pace in our educational facilities with the demands of the cause of God in our union, we need at least $50,000 to erect buildings and provide facilities to accommodate the constant increase in students who are knocking at the doors of our advanced schools. Shall we turn them away to worldly schools, or shall we make provision for them in our own schools? If all of the pledges still due and unpaid to our $150,000 Fund were paid, it would provide half of the sum last mentioned for improvements. It would seem that the incentive to pay would be even greater, now that the note indebtedness is all provided for, as the money now paid will be used to enlarge our facilities for educating our young people, rather than to be applied on debts.

It must be evident to every advent believer that the good hand of the Lord is over His work in the earth. Not only will He set us free from the burden of indebtedness if we will only go forward by faith, guided by His wisdom and counsel in the management of the financial interests of His cause, but at the opportune time He will clothe His people with Pentecostal power for the task of finishing the proclamation of the everlasting gospel, and then the home-gathering of the redeemed will take place.

Grand Junction Camp Meeting

July 27 marked the close of undoubtedly the best camp meeting ever held in the Inter-Mountain Conference. Camp meeting this year was held in Washington Park, Grand Junction, which is one of the small parks belonging to the city and which the city very kindly donated for our use. It was estimated that about four hundred of our people were in attendance and this, with the live interest manifest by the residents of Grand Junction in our meetings, gave us an exceptionally pleasing attendance at all of our evening services. All of the conference tents were occupied and Brother J. A. Neilsen, who had charge of the camp, did his best to rent other tents so as to supply all of our people. However, many were compelled to secure rooms

We were blessed with the help of Elders W. W. Eastman and H. K. Christman from the General Conference, Elders J. W. Christian and J. Adams Stevens, Professors C. W. Irwin and W. A. Ruble and Brother F. E. Painter of the Pacific Union Conference. These together with our local workers made a strong force of leaders. On the part of the people a very earnest desire to attain to a higher Christian experience and a closer walk with God was manifested from the opening of the first meeting.

The Sabbath services were especially marked with a spirit of consecration, as Elder J. W. Christian led out in the most practical Christian instruction; and this instruction followed by a call to consecration proved the desire of God's people by the response made. During the time of the meetings 21 persons were buried in baptism.

The cafeteria was under the supervision of Prof. W. C. Balwin, and Miss Ruby Adams, the matron of the Inter-Mountain Academy, was in charge of the kitchen. This insured that the physical wants of all were well supplied.

The sales in the book tent during the meeting exceeded $700. And one of the most pleasing features was the sale of over thirty sets of the Testimonies.

Very marked was the liberality of the people in the various calls that were made for funds. The goal for Sabbath school offerings was set at $500 for the two Sabbaths, and in cash and pledges over $600 was the response for this period. In addition to the Sabbath school offerings for missions, pledges totaling over $2,000 were made when the call to help fill the needs of the mission fields was made.

The future of the Inter-Mountain Academy was given careful consideration by the brethren connected with and interested in the educational work in this union conference. Elder Christian, Professor Irwin and Professor Ruble, with some of the local brethren, made a trip to the academy during the time of camp meeting. On their return the needs were presented to the people by Elder Christian and a response of over $3,000 in cash and pledges was quickly made. This insures the immediate construction of additional facilities to meet the growing demands, and the deep interest of all the people in the academy insures for its success.

The choir and congregational singing was led by Professor Baldwin and Elder King, while Sister Baldwin, instructor of music at the academy, greatly assisted with her solos and was very successful in her choice of talent for special music. Much favorable comment was given to the violin accompaniment.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Elder H. E. Lysinger; secretary and treasurer of the conference and tract society, S. Donaldson.

Members of the executive committee: H. E. Lysinger, J. A. Neilsen, W.

A. Sweany, W. C. Baldwin, S. Donaldson, H. C. Holloway, H. G. Gjording.

Sabbath school secretary and educational superintendent, Mrs. E. A. Cummings; field missionary secretary, H. B. Meeker; home missionary and young people's secretary, J. A. Neilsen; religious liberty secretary, W. A. Sweany.

Inter-Mountain Academy Board: Executive committee of the conference.

Inter-Mountain Academy Local Board: H. E. Lysinger, W. C. Baldwin, J. A. Neilsen.

S. Donaldson, Secretary.

San Fernando Academy

Vacation time is almost a matter of the past. The days and weeks have come and gone, and soon we will greet September and school days.

Young man, young woman, what have you been doing? What plans have you perfected? How does the bank account stand which is to send you to some school this coming year? Only a few weeks are left to plan and prepare for a good year in our academy; or if you have completed that grade of work, the college.

We are planning for good strong work; it is our aim to have the work conducted on right lines, and in a manner in keeping with our profession. We are told that our work is to be ahead, not in the rear. We are to carry on our school work in a way which is in harmony with the truth we believe and are teaching the nations. The Lord cannot look with pleasure on any careless work.

We are very happy to tell our patrons and prospective students of some improvements which are being made. In a recent distribution of some funds, the academy was reimbursed in a substantial way; and as the school had already decided to spend a larger sum than usual in repairs and equipment, this extra amount was a welcome addition.

Both of the dormitories are to be painted. This is a real blessing in itself. Most of the rooms are to be painted and kalsomined. The ladies' home is now completed in the latter respect with the exception of the kitchen and dining room. Extensive work will be done in the brick building also. Some new furniture is to be purchased, and necessary additions in other lines made before and during the school year.

Students, rally to our support. Work for the school and let us have a good time together this year. Let it be remembered that our goal is 150 students enrolled. Each one is to bring one. This is easily done, and in the aggregate means a large enrollment.

Domestic Science II, Biology, American History and History of Missions and Agriculture are to be offered this year. The course of study recently adopted will be followed as closely as possible.

May a spirit of interest and earnestness actuate us in our endeavors for an education.

Pacific Union Conference Educational Program

At the educational council held in Takoma Park, Washington, D. C., April 16 to 22, careful and prayerful study was given to our entire educational program with a view of making such changes in the courses of study, and other organic features, as would result in the speedy development of a better product of young men and women to loyally act their part in quickly finishing the work of the gospel in this generation.

A leaflet has been published containing the recommendations of the council, which can be secured free of charge by addressing the General Conference Department of Education, Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

With a view of better understanding these recommendations, and of carrying them out in the schools of the Pacific Union, the union committee arranged for the heads of the advanced schools and members of their boards and faculties, and the teachers of our church and intermediate schools to convene at Lodi Academy, July 1; and the first day of the teachers' institute was given to a consideration of the elementary and academic courses of study as revised at the Washington educational council.

A spirit of harmony and unity prevailed throughout the earnest discussion that was participated in by many. To know and understand clearly the plan of education called for in the pattern revealed by the Spirit of prophecy, was the desire of all present.

The following courses of study with the recommendations given were adopted as the educational program to be carried out in the various schools of the Pacific Union Conference during the coming year, 1919-1920:

Pomona

The last meeting of the series at Pomona was held Sunday, August 3. It was a night that the workers and people of Pomona will not soon forget. The interest held good till the last, and Sunday the tent was filled to its capacity, and many were standing at the door.

After a few pleasing violin selections by Prof. Robert Saunders, Elder Philip Knox delivered a powerful and impressive sermon. Sister Knox then sang our company's farewell which seemed to touch the hearts of the people deeply.

Several persons in the audience expressed their appreciation of the lectures and invited us to return. After the service a large number of people expressed their thankfulness for blessings received, and urged us to return and tell them more of the wonderful truth of God's word. It was an impressive occasion and all felt the presence of God. The Lord has blessed our work here, and we give Him all the glory for our success. There is a most friendly feeling manifested toward us, and the people are anxious to hear more of the truths which they realize cannot be found elsewhere.

The tent was taken down on Monday morning, August 4, and now we are continuing our work by visiting interested ones and holding three services each week in the church. Our work is not finished yet, but so far there are 43 candidates on our list for baptism. Many others are convinced of the Sabbath.

We are very happy that the Lord has seen fit to use us as channels of light to these dear souls, and we believe God is answering our prayers and your prayers for the success of this work.

Lincoln Park Church Dedicated

Promptly at three o'clock Sabbath afternoon, August 2, the members of the Lincoln Park church met in their beautiful little chapel to dedicate it to the Lord free from debt. It is a bungalow type of architecture with white cement exterior, finished in old ivory and mahogany with brass trimmings and opalescent windows. The church is built on a modest, artistic and economical plan.

As the local elder and six ordained ministers took their places on the rostrum, Sister Fannie Leitch, who was presiding at the new organ, rendered Mendelssohn's "Consolation." Then the congregation, numbering about three hundred, sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," after which Elder C. J. Kunkel, pastor of Carr Street church, offered prayer. The "Penitent," by Beardsley Van de Water, was then rendered by Sister Leitch, Dr. F. W. West acting as accompanist.

Elder V. H. Lucas read the scripture lesson found in the eighty-fourth Psalm. "How amiable are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts!... Blessed are they that dwell in Thy house." He also read a portion of the one hundred fiftieth Psalm. "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in His sanctuary."

Elder G. W. Reaser spoke of the struggles of this little church and how hard it had worked to erect a memorial for the Lord on the east side of the city of Los Angeles. And now it had been amply repaid for its faithfulness and labors.

The amount raised for the completion of this building was approximately $7,400, and the money has all been paid in. We are told that this is the first church in the Southern California Conference which was dedicated free from debt when completed.

Elder E. A. Mathwig, former pastor of the Lincoln Park church, also occupied a few moment's time.

Elder M. M. Hare, president of our conference, gave the dedicatory address. Among other things he remarked that he felt it was no small miracle which had been wrought by God in the erection of this building. His words were well chosen and made a deep impression upon the people; and when he asked all who were willing to dedicate anew their lives to God for the finishing of His work, the entire audience responded.

The touching hymn, "Take my Life and let it be, Consecrated Lord, to Thee," was sung by the audience. Due to the solemnness of the occasion it seemed that heaven and earth came very near together. Elder W. M. Adams offered the dedicatory prayer. By request, the beautiful song, "Hiding in Thee," was rendered by a quartette.

After the benediction friends greeted friends. There were in attendance persons from the Glendale, Pasadena Edendale, Long Beach, San Pedro, Southside, Boyle Heights, White Memorial, Carr Street and Vermont Avenue churches.

If the Lincoln Park church brethren and sisters will work as ardently for that which in God's sight is more precious than wood or stone, or "even the golden wedge of Ophir," (namely souls), we know that they will again be blessed in their labors with many stars for their crowns, and will soon hear the words, "well done, good and faithful servants." And this is the primary object for which every church should be erected.

NEVADA MISSION

M. A. Hollister, Supt. Eugene Woesner, Sec.
Box 2072, Reno, Nevada

Field Activities

Elder M. A. Hollister is out visiting among the churches and companies, and you may see him in your part of the field ere long.

Elder George Sims and Brother David Hartman report excellent prospects for the future of the work in Alturas, California. They are both busy putting in full time in giving Bible studies or cottage meetings.

A letter from Brother J. L. Humbert gives us considerable encouragement to believe that the Lord is answering prayers in his behalf. He reports quite marked improvement in his general condition for which we are all very thankful.

Brother W. C. Raley, the Union conference auditor, was at the Nevada mission office last week auditing our books, and also in giving some assistance to Brother Eugene Woesner, our new secretary-treasurer. We appreciate his assistance very much.

Elder C. W. Fuller and family are now located in the southern part of the state of Nevada at Las Vegas. Elder Fuller sends word of an encouraging outlook, and that he is busy placing "Present Truth" in the homes of the people. We are hopeful that we will soon see established in this part of our field another brilliant gospel light.

Brother Salvator Arrabito and wife, of Chicago, are in Reno for the purpose of taking up work among the Italian people of whom there are several thousand in our immediate vicinity. We are very hopeful that a good work will be done among them, and that many will accept this last message. This brother and his wife are selling as well as giving away Italian literature, thus making an entrance into the homes of the people; and already with some they are now holding Bible readings. We welcome these new additions to the list of laborers in the Nevada Mission. We and they solicit your prayers.

Brother C. Lester Bond reports a continued interest at Lovelock, and that he is now making trips into the surrounding country visiting the farms. Here he has found a number of Danish people and has sent in an order for some Danish "Family Bible Teacher" to place in their hands. Others have asked for foreign literature of late to use among their neighbors who do not read the English. This is right; and we wonder what about your neighbors, either American or foreign. Remember, the message must go to every nation, kindred, tongue and people. Perhaps you have Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, French, Danish, German, Chinese, or neighbors who speak other tongues. If so, make good use of your opportunity. Orders for literature should be sent to the Nevada Tract Society.

Something Special

Spiritism, the pseudo-religion that is sweeping a deluded world, is the emphasized theme of the September "Signs Magazine."

Carlyle B. Haynes, B. G. Wilkinson, and L. A. Reed have contributed three unusually striking articles under the captions, "Who is the Raymond that Communicates with Sir Oliver Lodge?" "A Rap Heard Round the World," and "The Shady Side of Spiritism."

Articles that bear upon future punishment and future life are "God is Love", by M. A. Hollister, and "The Angel of Mons", by Ruth Lees Olson.

Besides these contributions which all center around spiritism, we have, "Is America's Democracy Worth Reproducing?", by George McCready Price.

"A Judas Church," by C. S. Longacre.

"Is God an Autocrat?" by J. Boettcher.

"Carrots or Claret, Which?" by Dr. D. H. Kress.

"Crocodiles, Lepers, Sacred Rivers," by E. E. Andross.

This group of strong writers guarantees a magnificent number of the "Signs."

A thought-furrowed scientist alone in his laboratory, a skull before him, and a disembodied spirit hovering over, form a picture for the cover page that catches the eye and holds it until the mind is wondering with the scientist's what is behind the door of death.

We have rarely issued a magazine which contains so much timely truth and one which the people will inevitably read through, lured on by skillful art work.

The world needs the message in the September "Signs Magazine." Help them to get it.

"Morning devotion anchors the soul, so that it will not very readily drift away from God during the day."

Obituaries

Bostwick.—Alfred E. Bostwick was born in Stockton, Ill., Nov. 26, 1850, and fell asleep at his home in Escondido, Cal., July 13, 1919. His parents accepted present truth when he was three years old, and when but a child he gave his heart to God and continued faithful to the end. In 1876 he was united in marriage with Emma Sprague to whom were born five children. His wife, one son, three daughters and several grandchildren are left to mourn their loss. Elder J. O. Corliss, assisted by the pastor of the Congregational Church, conducted the funeral services.

W. W. Sharp.

Brown.—S. S. Brown was born in Troy, New York, April 19, 1848, and died in Hanford, Cal., at the age of 71. Some years ago he united with the Seventh-day Adventist Church. To his belief and devotion in this message our dear brother was faithful until death. He leaves to mourn a wife, six children and several grandchildren. All of these were present at the funeral except one son who is still in France. Interment took place in the Hanford cemetery.

"Review" please copy S. T. Hare.

Shand.—Minnie Shand was born in New York and died in San Leandro, Cal., June 21, 1919. She came to California years ago, and accepted the truth through Bible readings given by Mrs. E. Williams, of Oakland, joining the Conference church by baptism.

She lived a consistent Christian life, and although an invalid for many years, endured her sufferings with patience, and manifested a cheerful disposition. She went to her rest rejoicing in the blessed hope. We believe she will have a part in the first resurrection. Funeral services were held by Elder E. H. Adams and the writer.

Andrew Brorsen.

Anderson.—Arthur Anderson was born July 11, 1895, and died in Napa, Cal., June 27, 1919, being nearly 24 years of age. On March 19, 1916, he was united in marriage to Helen Chapman, to which union one child was born. Early in life Brother Anderson gave his heart to God, being baptized at the age of nineteen, and uniting with the Napa church of which he was a member at the time of his death. After a brief illness he closed his eyes in the sleep from which none waken in this life. He leaves to mourn his decease a widow, one child, a father, mother, three brothers and many friends. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer, services being held in the Napa Funeral Parlors.

M. N. Helligso.

Scriver-Braasch.—Charlotte J. Scriver-Braasch has been known to many of our people in California as an active self-supporting missionary, as well as for liberality to the cause she loved, for nearly a quarter of a century. Few, if any, of our lay-members have been more persistent and enthusiastic in missionary activity than she. A number of souls have accepted the message through her efforts. For the past three years her work in this line has been curtailed on account of caring for an invalid husband, who passed away early in the present year. Sister Scriver survived her companion only four and one-half months, having fallen asleep July 16, 1919. Funeral services were conducted by Elder A. J. Osborne and the writer.

G. W. Reaser.

Kunkel.—Mrs. Amelia Matilda Kunkel, the wife of Carl J. Kunkel, was born in Wisconsin and died in Los Angeles, Cal., June 30, at the age of 53 years and one month. She was a patient invalid for three years when finally the third stroke of paralysis did its work, leaving her wholly unconscious to the hour of her death.

Sister Kunkel was loved and respected by all who knew her. She was a quiet, unassuming woman and impressed all with her Christian fortitude. She lived a life of sacrifice and true devotion to the cause she loved so dearly.

She will be greatly missed by her dear husband, by her three daughters, Leona, Lillie, and Marie, and her son Hugo, also by a wide circle of friends and relatives. She was laid to rest in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Los Angeles, with the bright hope of soon seeing her again. Elders J. W. Christian and M. M. Hare assisted the writer in the service.

W. Milton Adams.

The Nurses' Course in the Loma Linda Training School will begin August 17, 1919. The White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles is the Clinical Hospital for the Loma Linda Medical College, and student nurses spend a portion of their time in training there.

By an action of the State Board of Health which was intended to become effective September 1, 1918, it was required that students entering the nurses' course in an accredited school should have completed twelve grades of regular school work. However, conditions brought into existence by the war caused a temporary revision in this requirement and provision has been made by the State whereby students having less than twelve grades may still enter accredited training schools. Write for information and calendar to Superintendent of Nurses, Loma Linda, Cal.

Lodi Academy

Lodi Academy will open on September 23 this year, which is relatively two weeks earlier than last year. We are expecting a good attendance, and trying to provide for it.

So that we may plan more intelligently for the opening we would ask that all who are expecting to come into the homes would send word at once. If you have a choice of room, indicate what it is: if you have none let us know that you are coming and we will mark off one for you.

As never before workers are needed in the Lord's work. There ought to be a large number in Central California, Northern California, and Nevada who can prepare to answer some of these calls. Who will do it? If you gain a Christian education, and cultivate your talents, the Lord will not let you stand idly by, but will say,
"Go work to-day in my vineyard."

Though you may not see your way clear now, if you are interested in attending the academy this winter, let us hear from you. Calendars and general information may be had from the Principal, Lodi Academy, Lodi, California.

Sanitarium Association of Seventh-day Adventists of Southern California

seven trustees for the ensuing term; also for the proposed amendment of the constitution and by-laws, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. The first meeting will be called at 11 A.
M. August 20, 1919. 3t.

M. M. Hare, President.
C. E. Kimlin, Secretary.

Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists

The 18th session of the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists will be held at the Campground, Melrose and Western Avenues, Los Angeles, California, August 18th to 21st, 1919, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. The first meeting will be held at 8 o'clock P. M., August 18.

Each church is entitled to one delegate for the organization, and one additional delegate for each 20 members or major fraction thereof. The churches are requested to have their list of delegates sent to the Conference office at once. All delegates should be present at the first meeting.

M. M. Hare, President.
W. L. Mecum, Secretary. 2t

Southern California Association of Seventh-day Adventists

The eighteenth session of the Southern California Association of Seventh-day Adventists of Southern California will be held in connection with the 18th session of the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists at Melrose and Western Avenues,
Los Angeles, California, August 21st, 1919, at 3 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the ensuing year and transacting such other business as may properly come before the meeting. The accredited delegates to the Southern California Conference are delegates to this association.

M. M. Hare, President.
W. L. Mecum, Secretary. 2t

Most trials, whether fanciful or real, are best borne in silence. A year afterwards we are glad we never mentioned them.—Jowett.

Good Reading For Boys and Girls

Are your boys and girls feeding their eager minds on the wild and impossible stories found in many of the popular books for children? Are they devouring the mischief-suggesting pictures in the comic section of the Sunday papers? If this is the case, you need not be surprised if in the days to come you find to your sorrow that the seed sown is bearing its legitimate harvest in the lives of your children.

Why not provide something better for them to read; something that will interest them and hold their attention and at the same time instruct? The primary Reading Course books contain attractive pictures, bright stories and helpful lessons, all presented from the standpoint of the little folks.
"Boys and Girls of the Bible" (price $1.00) and "The Doers" at 60 cents make up the course. All of our tract societies carry these good books. Don't delay. Order at once. It may mean averting serious trouble for your boys and girls later on in life, for the early impressions made upon the mind of the child, whether good or evil, are bound to have their influence in shaping his future course.

"There is no wealth like sympathy, for it is inexhaustible."
