"Lift Up Your Eyes"

(Note: The following is a portion of a letter received by Elder B. E. Beddoe from Elder E. E. Andross. Elder Andross has been visiting our mission stations in the Orient and Africa. He writes from Beira, Portuguese East Africa, under date of May 25, 1919, the letter having just lately been received. Ed.)

I have almost entirely lost touch with the work in America and in fact with the whole world. I see a paper only occasionally, and those I see have but very little in them. For some time now I do not suppose I will see a paper or hear anything about the outside world.

I am now on my way to Nyassaland, to visit the large work we are doing in that field. No General Conference man, save the union president, has yet gone there. I shall esteem it a great privilege to see the largest and most prosperous work we have in Africa, and also to visit the largest mission conducted by any denomination in Africa, located at Blantyre.

I would be glad to write you of my experiences since leaving America, but I would hardly know where to begin, and to write all that have been of great interest to me would take more time than I could possibly give. The entire experience has been a great inspiration to me. I am very thankful that the Lord led me to Africa, as well as to the Orient.

The Lord is certainly doing great things for the heathen world through our missionaries. If our people in America could only see what is being done as I am seeing it, their hearts would burn within them, and we would soon see the revival and reformation mentioned by Sister White. I sincerely hope that I may be able to contribute at least slightly to the awakening of our people upon my return. If it is possible I desire that they may feel a little of what I have felt as I have looked over these vast fields as yet unworked, as I have seen the vast multitudes bowing before their gods of mud, stone or brass in absolute ignorance of the blessed gospel of salvation, without hope and without God. My heart has burned within me to take to them this glorious message.

Then, as I have seen the happy faces of our dear people, who have been delivered from this terrible bondage, and have heard their wonderful testimonies expressing their deep gratitude and holy joy in their new-found liberty, I have resolved in my heart that I would do more than ever to greatly increase the force of workers in these dark lands. We must not forever keep treading over the beaten path we have been traveling for more than half a century in America, while there are countless millions in these lands who, if they had a title of the opportunity for knowing the truth that nearly every person in America has now had, thousands would embrace it, and make just as loyal and true believers as we have in the world. I would not think of advocating that we stop our work in America, but I would strongly urge that we at least give the millions of every land on earth just as quickly as possible, at least some of the crumbs that are falling from our bountifully spread tables.

Our people are doing nobly, and I praise God for it, but yet there must be a mighty awakening among us, and our people must lay their all upon the altar to be used in carrying the message to the world. We must inspire our young people with the desire to give their lives in sacrifice to carry the truth to these dark lands. O, how many of our missionaries are literally sacrificing their lives by overwork when they might be spared if they could have help sent to them in time.

When, O when shall this work be finished, and Jesus come? Shall we not now awake and cry mightily to God for the baptism of the Holy Ghost and power? As I write these lines, I am away up here on the east coast of Central Africa, on my way to British Central Africa, and am surrounded on all sides but to the east with the millions of heathen. It is impossible for me to restrain the tears as I think of the desperate situation, the crying need for laborers.

Two weeks ago last Friday evening, as I was preparing for the approaching Sabbath in the home of Brother deBeer at Somabula Mission, Southern Rhodesia, my attention was called to music that was coming across the velt, and I stepped outside and heard clearly the singing of a company of 25 or 30 of our native people. Soon I saw them coming along the winding path through the jungle, singing to a native tune the words in Sentebeli, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

For some time I listened to what seemed to me to be the most beautiful music I had ever heard in my life; not because of the beauty of the harmony, or of the sweet voices of the singers, but it seemed to me the angels of heaven must be singing with them. There they were, trophies of the abounding grace of Christ, rescued from the grossest heathenism, but now on their way to the heavenly kingdom from the hills and valleys of "darkest Africa."

I knew that there were mothers, with babes on their backs, and all their beds and all they needed on their journey and during their stay of several days at the mission, on their heads, having tramped from 50 to 75 or 100 miles to attend what they called their camp meeting. As we spent these few days together studying with them the wonderful truths of this message, it was among the most blessed experiences of my life.

I have never seen greater miracles than I saw in the marvelous transformations that have come to these dear people. I went out to the heathen kraals about the mission, then I visited the homes of our native believers, and it is like coming out of the darkness of midnight into the light of noon-day. No one henceforth can ever make me believe that God is not now walking among men, that He is not performing for His people to-day more wonderful miracles than the opening of the waters of the Red Sea or of the Jordan.

These people are rejoicing in this precious truth to-day, while thousands of others are in darkness, suffering the most abject bondage such as no one can possibly conceive except they have seen it with their own eyes, who would gladly respond to the gospel invitation, and would become trophies of the saving grace of Christ if we would but take to them the glorious message of deliverance. But we must let them die in their sins if more help does not come soon.

All these past years I have been slumbering on with no proper sense of my responsibility to these people, purchased, even as I, by the blood of our precious Saviour; but by God's help I will sleep no longer. I am determined to rest not until the righteousness of Jerusalem "go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."

I had no intention when I sat down to write, or writing as I have. However, the burden is on my heart, and it has come out spontaneously.

Brother Straw, the superintendent of the Rhodesian Nyassaland Union Mission, and I are now on our way to Nyassaland, to visit our church in that field, and to hold a camp meeting for the 512 native church members and about 500 others who are keeping the Sabbath, and are in the baptismal class. We are waiting here about five days for a boat to Chindi, then will take a river-boat and travel up the Zambezi river three or four days to Chindio, and from there to Blantyre by rail.

I have been as far north in Central Africa as Elizabethville, Belgian Congo. I must not lengthen further this letter by writing of my experiences, but hope to see you later. I hope to get back to America not later than October 1, the Lord willing. With Christian love to yourself and family, and greetings to all the dear brethren and sisters of the Pacific Union Conference, I remain,

Sincerely your brother,

E. E. Andross.

Foreign Language Harvest Ingathering

In harmony with a resolution of the General Conference committee we are this year publishing the Harvest ingathering papers in the following languages: Bohemian, Danish-Norwegian, Finnish, French, German, Hungarian, Italian, Polish, Roumanian, Russian, Spanish, Swedish and Yiddish. The size of page of these papers in all the languages will be uniform with the English. Each paper is 16 pages and cover, except the German and Scandinavian, which are 24 pages and cover. To print this beautiful colored paper in 13 different languages is no small task, but our publishing house at Brookfield has handled it splendidly and it is now ready to fill orders for them all.

There is scarcely an Adventist church and family anywhere in this country but has neighbors and friends of one or more of these languages. These people are used to giving to religious work. They generally respond willingly and liberally to a call for foreign mission funds. They extend to the solicitor a kind welcome, such as he often does not get from others. All Catholics believe in sending the gospel to the heathen. Even priests who object to our work among their people as "Protestant propaganda" will often take a paper and give to foreign missions. This is also true of the sisters or nuns.

There is joy and blessing, as well as large donations, in this work among the strangers. The papers are free and are used in the same way as the Harvest Ingathering "Watchman." Aside from articles on our missions, these foreign papers contain an excellent write-up on present truth. These papers break down prejudice and open many doors for service among the millions of foreign language people in our midst. We are not able to publish more than one edition of these papers, so we hope our brethren will order early. Send all orders to your tract society.

Foreign Reading Courses For 1919-20

German Missionary Volunteer

Reading Course, No. 8:—Our German speaking young people who desire to read books in their own language will find an excellent set of books in the new German Missionary Volunteer Reading Course. Besides the three books provided, the paper "Deutscher Arbeiter" is included in the course. The cost of the course is moderate and seems especially so when one considers the present exorbitant prices prevalent everywhere.

Herrlichkeit Gottes in der Natur	$ .50
Christliche Sittlichkeit	.25
Weltprobleme	.25
Deutscher Arbeiter, one year	1.50

Postpaid $2.50

Club price at camp meeting 2.30

Swedish Missionary Volunteer

Reading Course, No. 5.—As usual the Swedish course follows the English course in part, two of the books in each being the same. The Swedish young people, and older ones as well, will thoroughly enjoy the books, which are as follows:

The Hand That Intervenes	$1.50
Comrades from Other Lands	.45
The Great Controversy, (Swedish)	2.00

(Order through the regular channels)

A Free Church Pioneer (Swedish) 1.15

Postpaid $5.10
(The last book should be ordered from the Broadview Seminary, La Grange, Illinois.)

"Next to acquiring good friends, the best acquisition is that of good books." Add the excellent books in these Reading Courses to your library. They are worthy of a place there.

Missionary Volunteer Department.

Twelve Out of Sixteen In One Day

Here is a letter that tells about it—sent by an Oregon sister to her tract society secretary:

"I was out to-day and called at sixteen homes. Twelve of these subscribed for the 'Signs of the Times,' one year each. One lady was a Spiritualist, who was operated on at the Portland Sanitarium, and one a sincere Salvation Army worker. Others were Catholics, Lutherans, and some make no profession at all. They know the paper is published by Seventh-day Adventists, for all are acquainted with me. I found some of them anxious for the paper. It is truly wonderful how God is working upon the hearts of the people; and I do rejoice that I can have a part in this work."

The tract society secretary, in writing about this sister's encouraging letter made the following comments: "This strikes me as a remarkable letter. Note that this sister called upon sixteen homes in one day, and took twelve yearly subscriptions. Our Sanitarium evidently had done its part in interesting the Spiritualist woman and preparing her for more truth. The other classes of religious and nonreligious people knew who published the "Signs" because they were 'acquainted with me.' Evidently here is one sister who is not backward about letting her light shine; also a worker who does not long for a 'foreign' field, but is willing to build 'over against her own house.' Note that her neighbors were 'anxious for the paper'; also her conviction that 'God is working upon the hearts of the people' in her neighborhood."

There may be some in your neighborhood just as ready to subscribe. Would you like a few sample copies of the weekly "Signs" to use in interesting your neighbors in the paper and suggesting the subscription idea? The "Signs" office will send free a few copies of one current issue to any desiring to do house-to-house work with the weekly. Do you not think we should be doing more of this personal work among the homes about us? It would doubtless bring a new blessing into our lives and more new faces into our churches. Order the free samples in the regular way through your church missionary secretary.

FIELD TIDINGS

INTER-MOUNTAIN

H. E. Lysinger, Pres. S. Donaldson, Sec.
Box 210, Grand Junction, Colo.

Resolutions Adopted

We are sure that our people throughout the field who did not have the privilege of attending camp meeting will be interested in some of the recommendations that were passed in conference session. We earnestly ask for your co-operation in carrying out the following:

Tract Society

Whereas, Our tract society is working on a very narrow margin of profit to meet the expense of operation.

We Recommend; That all our church officers use their utmost endeavors to encourage our people to adopt a cash policy in their transactions with the missionary secretary of their respective churches, and that the missionary secretaries of the churches balance their accounts with the tract society at least every thirty days.

Colporteurs

Recognizing in gospel colportage an effective agency for conveying the light of present truth to large numbers of people who otherwise would never hear the message; and,

Whereas, Those who give themselves wholly to the work double their usefulness; therefore,

Resolved, That we make every possible and consistent effort to enlist and engage those of our brethren adapted to this work, to give their entire time to it, working the year round in house-to-house labor in the evangelizing ministry of the printed page.

Missions Investment

Whereas, The call of God to this people is to finish the task He has given to us in the world, in this generation; and,

Whereas, We have found by practical demonstration that the plan of missions investments has made possible to all our people a greater liberality to and a deeper interest in foreign mission work,

We Recommend, That every Seventh-day Adventist in the Inter-Mountain Conference be urged to each year pledge themselves to make an investment for God to apply to missions through the twenty-five-cents-a-week fund.

"Review and Herald"

Whereas, The "Review and Herald," our official church paper, containing from week to week articles from our leading workers, reports of the work in home and foreign fields, significant items of world news, instructions for the home and other valuable instruction and information, educating, inspiring and unifying our people; therefore,

Resolved, That a continuous effort be made to place the "Review and Herald" in every Seventh-day Adventist home where English is read, in accordance with the counsel given in the Testimonies.

Church Schools

Whereas, There is urgent necessity that we carry out the instruction given us from God to give every Seventh-day Adventist child a Christian education, therefore,

We Urge, That our people throughout the conference provide for this need by establishing church or family schools. H. E. Lysinger.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA

H. S. Shaw, Pres. W. F. Field, Sec.
Box 1304, Fresno, Cal.

Pencilgrams

Twenty-two teachers from the Central California Conference enjoyed the benefits of the institute at Lodi. This was the largest number from any one conference in the union. We were sorry that the six or eight others could not have been there also.

Mrs. Beatrice Haney, who is to teach at Madera, is recuperating her health up in the mountains this summer near The Pines. She writes that she is getting well and strong once more. Mrs. Violenty Voth, nee Ryder, is spending a little time with her parents, who live near Calexico. She writes that she will be ready for school work in September.

On account of the schools having to be closed so much last year, it will be necessary for pupils to make up some work, and all schools should open early. September 15 is the date set for the opening of schools. If for any reason, your school cannot open on that date, please write me at once, advising what date it can open. But we hope that all schools will fall in line and open early.

The resignation of Prof. and Mrs. Giddings from the Island School has been reluctantly accepted by the board. They have faithfully served two years in this school, and the patrons regret to have them leave. But for some reasons they thought it best to take this step, and the Island's loss is Dinuba's gain as they have accepted a call from that school. Dinuba should build up this coming year into one of our strongest nine-grade church schools. Professor Giddings is prepared to teach woodwork and gardening in a strong way, while Mrs. Giddings will give the sewing work.

It is expected that the new school building in Fresno will be finished and ready for school at the usual opening time. There is no reason why Fresno should not have a strong intermediate school of ten grades, and there are many reasons why we should have one. With a church membership of about 500, and about 150 or more children and youth here of school age, the school privileges should be of the best.

Alice Mina Mann.

News Notes

Elder H. S. Shaw left last Friday to attend the latter part of the Oakland camp meeting.

Miss Louise Maxson, of Fresno, will soon take up work at Loma

Linda, entering on a two-year nurses' course.

Elder G. A. Grauer has been working among the German churches since he returned from the Northern California Conference camp meeting, and on Sabbath, August 2, baptized several persons at Dinuba. Elder Grauer will attend the camp meeting to be held in Los Angeles and assist in the German meetings.

Kathren and Margaret Siemens, who have been canvassing for "Practical Guide" in Kern County, report that they find people ready and anxious for their books, and have delivered nearly all orders. The few undelivered books are orders from people whom they did not find at home. They are both earning scholarships and are to be back at college when school opens in September.

A Call

The book work in the Southeastern California Conference has been going forward the past year in a very interesting manner. The Lord is certainly putting His hand to the finishing of the work.

During the "big week," July 13 to 19, the colporteurs in this field, and the writer, sold $1247.30 worth of books, and still we have not as yet half covered our territory. There are hundreds of honest souls waiting for some one to come to their homes with the printed page.

The time is almost here for students to return to school, and I am sure there are a number who will go back rejoicing over earning their scholarship. In Manual for Canvassers, page 22, we read: "Christ calls for young men who will volunteer to carry the truth to the world." The call of the hour is answered by the coming of the man. "Thus when the Divine Voice cries, "Whom shall I send, and who will go with us," the respond will come, "Here am I, send me."

Let every one who reads this feel that it is a call to service. May the Lord impress a number of men and women to take hold of this work.

L. A. Reynolds.

The "Christian Educator" For 1919-1920

With the September number, the "Educator" begins the second decade of its life. For ten years this journal has been the faithful exponent of the principles of Christian education. These principles form a very essential part of the third angel's message, and every Seventh-day Adventist, to be fully abreast with the advancement of this message of truth, needs to understand clearly the relation of this phase of the message to the finishing of God's work in the earth.

"Reconstruction" is the watchword of the hour, and while the "Educator" has always stood for educational reform, it is the aim of the editors that this shall be emphatically true the coming year. No time or effort will be spared in any way to make the "Educator" a source of encouragement and practical help to its readers.

Who Should Read the Educator

Our college and academy teachers, our normal teachers and students, our church school teachers, the members of our church school boards and Parent-Teacher Associations, parents of children under school age, as well as our union educational secretaries and conference superintendents, in fact all who are interested in the education of workers to carry this gospel of the kingdom to every nation, kindred, tongue, and people should find much that is worth while in the "Educator."

If you are not especially interested in the education of our children and youth, the editors of the "Educator" would like to talk with you once each month throughout this next school year, for they want you, too, to share in the blessing that comes through a knowledge of these eternal principles of truth. They want you with themselves to appreciate more fully the rich asset that this denomination has in the boys and girls who are growing up in your midst.

Outline of the Contents of Volume XI

1. General Articles

These articles from our leading educators and workers will review the great fundamentals of true education, developing more fully "the true philosophy of Christian education by a careful exposition of the principles that should underlie our elementary, secondary, and higher educational work." In this age of infidelity and departure from God and His revealed word, every parent as well as every teacher needs to understand the evil that still lurks in the tree of knowledge. He needs to know the subtle dangers of science falsely so called. These general articles will be of inestimable value to all.

II. Our Colleges and Academies

The articles in this section will "be the means of bringing before our teachers the latest and best facts and educational material which will be of special service in the carrying out of our educational principles" in our advanced schools.

III. The Elementary and Normal Section will furnish articles under the following general heads:

1. The Normal Teacher's Exchange. From the excellent talent of our Normal faculties in our training schools our readers will be kept in touch with the ever developing work of making the Bible the foundation of all education.

2. The Teacher's Help-One-Another Club will be for the special benefit of our church school teachers, giving specific help for the most difficult features of their many-sided work.

3. Our Local Church School Boards is a new section which will contain articles of interest and encouragement to the noble men and women who are bearing the educational responsibilities in our local churches. These pages are open to them to give the personal, practical touch to this section which will make it worth while to all.

4. The Parent-Teacher Association, which is the strongest of ties to bind together the educational forces of the home and the school, is another new section introduced for the purpose of building up that feature of our educational work.

5. The Secretaries' and Superintendents' Council will afford opportunity for our field officers to counsel together in continuous session. In such efficient hands, this section will team with the spirit of life and progress.

6. The Round Table will deal informally with miscellaneous school problems, and pass on to all, school news of an inspirational and helpful character from various sections of the field. We hope every subscriber will feel that this is his own corner.

IV. The Home Section

It is the purpose of the editors to give special attention to this section which will be devoted to the education of children too young to be sent to school. Real mothers who understand the fundamental principles of real education will contribute real experiences. The Fireside Correspondence School has promised to contribute regularly from the varied and interesting and practical field of observation of the Mother's Normal.

With the September number the "Educator" will be restored from a 24-page monthly to a 32-page monthly, but the price will be the same, $1.00 a year.

In the Quiet Darkness

She could not sleep. The city's sultry breath drifted in through the open window and the tantalizing fingers of the city's life drummed upon her brain. She tried to put her thoughts away, to withdraw herself into the quiet, soul-soothing atmosphere that sometimes gave her breath; but she could not.

So she rose and went to her reading table. And finding there the July "Watchman Magazine," she read it through from cover to cover. Then, she writes, "It came to me afterward in the quiet darkness that you might like to know your thought had found its way to one who has sometimes felt its splendid freedom without finding words to express it. . . ."

"I am not a Seventh-day Adventist. I was reared, as my family have been for years, in the Episcopalian Church. Years ago I outgrew it, and now I rarely go inside any church building.

When the war broke out and I found it impossible to think with a herd and run with a mob, I turned to the Bible direct, and putting all preconceived ideas behind me read I with my own mind. You know what I found. Your magazine, accidentally falling into my hands, showed me that many others have found the same thing, and I subscribed. While I am not always in agreement with the writers in the 'Watchman,' the sense of comradeship in fundamental things grows warmer month by month. I wish you strength and courage in your work through the difficult days before us, and again, I thank you."

"When every other voice is hushed, and in quietness we wait before Him, the silence of the soul makes more distinct the voice of God."—"Ministry of Healing," page 58. Through nature often comes the voice: through truth-filled pages also. Will you help place these silent messengers where they may speak as the need comes.

The September "Watchman Magazine" is filled with spiritual instruction, from the quiet teaching of "He Maketh Us to Lie Down," and the beautiful nature lesson, "He That Serves is Chief of All," to the vibrant message on education, "Do We Want Schooling or Education?" and "Teaching Democracy." And there are other messages of the Second Advent, of new means for extending missions, and of "The Knowledge That Counts." Your neighbor needs this number. Do your part.

A. W. Spalding.

Why the Magazines?

In dealing with the many and varied classes of people, the successful Christian worker must employ various methods. Comparatively few will regularly attend a course of lectures. Fewer still will open their homes to the Bible reader.

This is not belittling the importance of the work of the gospel ministry nor of the Bible worker. Their labors are of prime importance. But there is an auxiliary line of work in which nearly all may engage more or less, one which will open doors to the evangelist, and make his work more effective. This is the work with our message-filled magazines, the effectiveness of which is becoming more and more apparent.

The appearance of the magazine attracts; its low price makes it salable by many who have not the training nor the time to devote to the regular sale of the larger books; the variety of subjects treated in each issue makes it comparatively easy to find something of interest to appeal to every one, and it deals constantly with fresh, up-to-date issues as a setting in which to present the more important message for this time. One Bible worker writes:

"I consider the 'Watchman' a most efficient organ for the promulgation of the third angel's message, handling as it does the many subjects of the message. It is always live and up-to-date, and so sweet in its tone as not to arouse unnecessary prejudice. The size is commendable, not being bungle-some: at the same time it is a well-filled magazine."

The September "Watchman" now on sale, is an educational special. Notable among its features is an article by W. E. Howell, "Do You Want Schooling or Education?" The reader will not only ask himself, "Which did I receive?" but also "Which shall my children receive?"

This issue contains the usual variety of valuable features, and the artistic beauty which has made the magazine so popular with its readers.

D. E. Robinson.

The "Campaign Educator"

Our schools have passed the experimental stage. While there is abundant opportunity for greater progress, experience has demonstrated the fact that they are rendering a great service to our youth and to the cause of God.

To-day we look to our schools to fill the ever-increasing number of calls from all departments of our work.

To assist in the educational campaign being conducted this summer, the campaign number of "Christian Educator" has been prepared.

The striking cut on its front cover tells the story. Its articles prepared by our leaders, as well as by students tell something of the great work before us, what our schools have done and what they ought to be doing.

Every youth, parent, and worker should have a copy. Do not fail to order a liberal supply through your tract society, and get this number of the "Educator" into as many hands as possible. Price, four cents in quantities.

New Tracts

Christian Science:—A 16-page tract, No. 38 of the "Bible Student's Library." This tract is a reprint of the article printed in the "Signs" weekly being a strong presentation of this subject. The tract clearly indicates that Brother Hayward has studied this question, and knows whereof he speaks. It is really the only tract we have on Christian Science. The price of the tract is two cents with the regular tract discount.

Man in Life and Death:—An 8-page tract, No. 39 of the "Bible Student's Library." This tract gives the Bible texts for the truth of this question. Some of the sub-titles are "Man's Origin," "Man Is Mortal," "The First Falsehood," "Whose Word Will We Choose?" "Unconscious in Death" and "Eternal Life and Immortality." This tract sells for one cent with the usual tract discounts. Orders should be placed with your local tract society.

Converted By Reading One Copy of the "Watchman"

"I thought I would write a few lines to let you know that I am still devoting a few hours a week to selling your magazine.

"I first became interested in the truth a little over two years ago by reading the 'Watchman.' I subscribed for it a few days after receiving the copy from a friend and am still receiving it every month.

"I was baptized about two months ago and I am now looking forward to the baptism of my husband in the near future.

"When I realize how that one magazine brought me out of darkness, I know that it can do the same for others.

"That God may bless this branch of the 'threefold message' is my earnest prayer."

"Reformation, like charity, begins at home."

Inside and Out

The third quarter "Liberty" contains much valuable matter which should have a wide circulation at the present time. Below are given a few of the titles of the articles which appear in this number:

The Menace of Bolshevism; Religious Freedom Assailed in Virginia; True Sabbath Observance and Physical Rest; A Sunday-Closing Bill Defeated in California; A Bitter Religious Controversy in Pennsylvania; Religion and Politics in a Bad Mix-Up; The Church in Politics.

A member of one of the state legislatures has just written us for two or three dozen copies of this number of "Liberty." He says, "I will distribute them that the distribution will be of good to you and to 'Liberty.'" The "Liberty" makes many friends and friends who will champion right principles of civil and religious liberty.

A county superintendent wrote to find out if we could furnish him with sufficient covers of third quarter "Liberty" for him to frame and hang up in each of the schools in his county.

This issue of "Liberty" should be widely circulated among all city and county officials, physicians, attorneys and all thinking men and women in all professions. One of the best ways to bring the attention of the people to correct religious liberty principles is to circulate this magazine.

In bulk, fifty or more copies to one address, four cents each. This issue will be mailed in separate wrappers to list of names furnished for five cents each. Send all orders to your conference tract society secretary.

Obituary

Cramer.—Effa May Cramer was born in Michigan, April 13, 1866, and died in St. Helena, Cal., Aug. 3, 1919. She was the mother of five sons and one daughter all of whom were present at the services held in the church at Lemoore, Cal., near which city they had lived for some years. Sister Cramer was a faithful Christian in the home, church, and neighborhood. A large concourse of friends and relatives followed our sister to her last resting place in the Armona cemetery. We believe she will be one to answer the call to a place in the first resurrection. The services were conducted by the writer assisted by Elders H. S. Shaw and R. R. Breitigam

Greater Progress

The quarterly reports from the home missionary secretaries in the conferences of the Pacific Union show the greatest progress in this department of our work that has ever been made in the union conference. A few of the items will be of interest, as showing that our people are arousing to accomplish the task God has given us to finish:

During the three months ending June 30, 17,387 missionary visits were made; 3,986 Bible readings or cottage meetings were held; 254,703 papers, books, and tracts were loaned, sold, or given away; there were 16,179 hours devoted to Christian help work; 5,696 articles of clothing were given, and there were 92 conversions.

The totals of all the reports is most encouraging; but all this volume of endeavor was accomplished by less than three thousand persons. There are 13,929 church members in the Pacific Union Conference, so only one member in every five is reporting any effort in behalf of the perishing souls all about them. "All who have enlisted as His soldiers are to render faithful service as minute-men, with a keen sense of the responsibility resting upon them individually." "Visit your neighbors, and show an interest in the salvation of their souls. "Your voice, your influence, your time—all these are gifts from God, and are to be used in winning souls to Christ." Vol. 9, pages 116, 38.

The monthly report system, whereby the local church missionary secretary reports to the conference home missionary secretary, is greatly helping the work. Individual members fill out the little white report blanks each week, giving a report of their service for God among those for whom they have labored, and the total of these reports is sent to the conference office each month. A quarterly report is sent to the union and general conferences offices.

Surely the time is already come when every believer educated or uneducated, should be about their Father's business. A word here, a tract there, a paper mailed, a Bible reading, ministry to the sick; all are used by the Saviour to draw truth-hungry souls to Himself. Let us all do our part.

CAMP-MEETING DATES

Southern California, Los Angeles
August 18 to 31

"In Every Home"

Not quite, as yet, but the "Review and Herald" campaign added approximately five hundred new subscribers to the list in the Pacific Union Conference, and twice as many more renewed or extended their subscriptions. A long letter from the circulation department of the "Review" said that lists of orders were still coming in August 6, and no doubt the totals would be considerably increased.

At the close of business July 31, the standing of each conference in the Pacific Union was as follows:

Conference	Short
Arizona	54
California	373
Northern California	143
Central California	190
Southern California	191
Southeastern California	50
Nevada Mission	26
Inter-Mountain	18
Total Shortage	1,045

Final campaign returns may show some of these conferences reached the goal. A great interest has been aroused in every church and there seems to be a general conviction that every Adventist home should have the blessing of the "Review's" weekly visits.

Every conference and church officer, every worker, and every subscriber to the "Review and Herald" should continue this campaign until every member is getting the "Review." A persistent effort would accomplish this goal by the close of this year. Let us keep the good work going until this result has been attained.

"Those who consent to do without
