The Glendale Academy

The first year's work of the Glendale Academy closed with interesting and pleasant exercises. Five promising young people were graduated from the academic course. Elder J. E. Fulton delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sabbath, April 29, an inspiring message both to the class and to the church which supports the school. His theme was "Heart Culture," which set before the large audience the fundamental principles for developing the life in harmony with the will and plan of God for His children.

The class night program was given in the academy assembly room, which was filled with the parents and friends of the graduating class. The class was assisted by other members of the school and by the Girls' Lyric Club, under the direction of Miss Lola Preston, with Mr. Byron Dart at the piano. The entire program was in keeping with the principles of Christian schools, faculty and students working together to make it representative of the cause we represent. Following were the numbers rendered:

Invocation, Pastor E. L. Neff.
Song, "Water Lilies," Lyric Club.
President's Address, "Onward and Upward," Cecil Chrisman.
The Influence of Good Music, Elizabeth Cook.
Clarinet Solo, "Long, Long Ago," Ermery Ostendorph.
The Blessings of Friendship, Iris Chrisman.
Class History and Prophecy, Kathryn Waters.
Piano Solo, Elizabeth Cook.
The Light in South America, Henry Westphal.
Class Will, Cecil Chrisman.
Song, "Forget-Me-Nots," Lyric Club.
Benediction, Pastor David Voth.
The commencement exercises were held in the Glendale church, Thursday evening, May 4. The graduating class was supported by the entire academy student body, which entered together and occupied the large choir platform. Miss Florence Voth played the march. The class hymn, "Loyalty to the Master," was sung by the students and the congregation, and Elder F. W. Paap, recently returned from his labors in Kansas, offered the invocation. Miss Lillian Munson and Mr. James Moore, of the Glendale Sanitarium, sang the beautiful duet, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say." The address of the evening was given by Elder Philip Knox, who took the motto of the class, "Onward and Upward," as his theme. In his usual forceful style and power he made very real and inspiring the glories that await all who reach the heights of success, however difficult and hazardous the way. The academy chorus sang a fitting song, "Sail On! Sail On!" The principal, assisted by the president of the junior class, Merlin Neff, presented the diplomas, commending the class for faithful and successful efforts, and exhorting them to follow their motto faithfully. Elder J. W. Rich pronounced the benediction.

The members of the class are as follows: Cecil Irving Chrisman, president; Elizabeth Charlotte Cook, Iris Rowena Chrisman, Kathryn Ruth Waters, and Henry Joseph Westphal. All have received their academic work in our own schools, and all look forward in a definite way to college work and to places of usefulness in the cause.

The year has been a very pleasant one throughout. The new academy building has proved to be, as was designed, a social center. Many wholesome gatherings have been held in its assembly room. The parent-teachers' association has fostered the manual departments, having completely equipped the domestic science department and assisted in the sewing department.

A drive was made by the students to bring our library up to the required number of books. A friendly rivalry between the boys and the girls added to the zest, and resulted in bringing in more than three thousand books, many of which are very valuable; many volumes were secured that can be exchanged for books suitable to our needs. The girls were the winners in the contest, and the boys paid for their defeat by entertaining—and feeding—them in a royal manner. The students also did well in raising money for a piano.

The ambition of youth knows few bounds, and when the suggestion was made that the academy get out an annual, the response was refreshing. The result is a forty-eight page booklet, well printed, well illustrated, and well edited, of which the students are justly proud. There was a small profit which will be used in a worthy way. The profit in literary training is actual and large.

An active missionary volunteer society has been conducted in each room of the school, making five societies in all. A lively interest is manifest by all in this important line of endeavor, spiritual, educational, and financial goals being kept before the members in an encouraging way. Teachers and pupils work together in making the meetings profitable as well as entertaining, and to make missionary work practical.

Our enrollment for the year has reached about two hundred; in the academy, seventy, the lower grades bringing up the larger number. The blessing of the Lord has been upon the school, in that little time has been lost by sickness, for which all are deeply grateful. Four teachers have carried the work in the lower grades: Miss Ethel De Groot, Miss Mavis Smith, Miss Mabel De Groot, Miss Edith M. Barnes. Sickness compelled Miss Barnes to drop her work, and Mrs. B. P. Le Duc carried it for the last two months. The academy classes were carried by Max Hill, W. Byron Dart, Miss Sadie Beaird, Miss Lola Preston, and Mrs. F. H. Westphal.

As in all human endeavor, there remains much that might be done; the faculty members feel that they have not fully accomplished the results they desired; but the splendid support of patrons and friends, the hearty efforts of a loyal student body, and the constant blessing of the Great Teacher, have made the year a good one, a stepping stone to higher attainments; and all feel to adopt for their motto the legend of the first graduating class, "Onward and Upward." Max Hill.

A TRI-ANGULAR LOOK

There is life and death in the "look." To Lot's wife the look was death, and to the lame man at the gate of the temple it was life. The eye is one of the organs of the five physical senses. Its object is to see, view and to look; and without it vision is impossible. "If your eye is unclouded, your whole body will be lit up; but, if your eye is diseased, your whole body will be darkness. And, if the inner light is darkness, how intense must that darkness be!" When the mental eyes have been spiritually salved and enlightened, it is then only souls are enabled to "know what is the hope of His calling, and what the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints." To be successful and victorious on the journey to the heavenly inheritance, one should take a daily tri-angular look at Jesus:

Backward look—to the Crucified One. Isa. 45:22.

Upward look—to the Living One. Heb. 12:2.

Onward look—to the Coming One. Titus 2:13.

Are your eyes opened to the tri-angular view at Christ? If not, may you look back, up and onward to the living, dead and resurrected One, for your soul's safety.

Sydney Scott.

A CALL FROM THE PHILIPPINES

For back numbers of:

1. "Youth's Instructors."
2. "Little Friends."
3. Picture Rolls.
4. Memory Verse Cards, etc.

How many of our Sabbath schools in the Pacific Union are sending away the above, or are using them in some missionary enterprise? If not, we are sending an earnest appeal for your quarterlies as soon as you finish using them. We can use them three months later if sent at once, for we are one quarter behind in our lessons on account of reaching supplies from the States.

Your little Filipino friends are so anxious for these. Their eyes open so wide and such a pleasant smile is given where we have the privilege of giving them one of these occasionally. These children and young people are attending schools where English is spoken, so many of them can read "Our Little Friends" and "Youth's Instructors," but do not have the money to send for these. We are counting on you. Are you going to disappoint these children? Address Mrs. R. R. Breitigam, 707 Vermont St., Manila, P. I.

COLPORTEURS, ATTENTION

In almost every community in which you may be called to canvass you will find persons who were born either in Mexico or across the seas. Every eighth person in the United States is of foreign birth. About the same proportion of population is likewise true of Canada. We are informed by the Spirit of prophecy that it is through the special providence of God that so many foreigners have come to North America. They were unconsciously led here to learn the truth for these last days.

A solemn responsibility rests upon every colporteur to watch for the lonely foreigner and give each an opportunity to procure the message in his own tongue wherein he was born. By carrying the illustrated envelope prospectus you can be prepared to exhibit samples of almost any language with which you may come in contact. This foreign prospectus is neat and easily carried along with your regular prospectus in harness or handbag. Order one, free, from your tract society and learn the joy of supplying the foreigners with literature in their own language.

Many of the foreigners who have been here a few years have learned to speak English quite fluently. Because it is popular they readily order books in the English language. Here is where the colporteur with a burden for their souls should use some heaven-born tact and encourage them when possible to secure religious books in their mother tongue.

Secular subjects may be perfectly understood in an acquired language, but Bible themes are always much clearer to people when read in their native tongue. The hearts of the foreigners will become tender and the message will appear in all of its beauty as it is unfolded to them chapter by chapter in the language of their childhood—the tongue wherein they were born. We are counting on you, dear colporteurs, to win many thousands of the neglected foreigners to Christ by placing our truth-filled books and magazines in their hands. J. H. McEachern.

Our home missionary report for the first three months of this year is given in the accompanying tabulation, and we hope the brethren and sisters will take a few minutes to study these figures. They show what has been done in each conference in the Pacific Union by the lay-members in the way of giving Bible readings, holding cottage meetings, making missionary visits, selling and giving away and lending books, papers and tracts. Please notice the number of churches that are holding missionary meetings in each conference on the first Sabbath of each month and the number of members that are reporting their work. If all our members had reported, this report would still be better. We believe the Lord will bless the thousands of papers and tracts that have been scattered, the books that have been sold, the Bible readings that have been held and that souls will be saved as a result of this home missionary work.

Union Home Missionary Secretary.

FRESNO ACADEMY

The Fresno Academy is one of the three non-boarding academies opened at the beginning of the present school year in the territory of the Pacific Union Conference. For the three years previous it was operated as an intermediate school, carrying ten grades and employing four teachers.

During the past summer, the church voted to operate the school as a non-boarding academy. Permission was obtained from the local and union conference, and the church went to work to prepare building and equipment. Nearly $4,000 was raised in cash and pledges for this purpose.

With this money a new, modern two-room building was erected on the four-acre tract of land belonging to the school. Several hundred dollars were spent in remodeling the old building. Our school is located just south of, and across a paved highway from the city park.

We have at the present time the main building, which contains an office room, chapel and study room, laboratory, library and English room, domestic science and sewing room, and one other class room; a manual training building, consisting of two rooms, one of which is about 12x45 feet, and the other 12x12; a grade building, which contains two excellent rooms, properly arranged and modernly equipped. We also have a large water tank and power pump which furnishes the school with water. A city water line has just been put along the street past the school ground. A gas line is being laid and gas will be piped into the domestic science room.

During the first few weeks of the school year, a parent-teacher association was organized. This organization has done faithful work. Operating with the parent-teacher association is the ladies' sewing circle, which has done much to provide equipment for the school.

The agriculture class, under the direction of Mr. Howe, the science and woodwork instructor, has done much to beautify the surroundings of the school. The boys of this class have shown much enthusiasm in their work. We now have a good lawn in front of the main building, and around the building have been planted several kinds of flowers and shrubs.

The domestic science class, under the direction of Mrs. Calkins, is getting practical experience in serving hot lunches each day. The dishes are prepared and served by the girls of this department. These lunches are served at a very small cost.

Miss Rockie, the Spanish teacher, has done thorough work in the Spanish classes, and there is quite a little enthusiasm in this line of the work. Our primary teacher, Mrs. Goldie Church, is doing excellent work with the smaller children. She has the first four grades with an enrollment of about 50, and an average attendance of about 42. This is an enthusiastic crowd of children.

The fifth, sixth and seventh grades are being taught by Mrs. Winn, who has had several years' experience teaching these grades. She has about 30 pupils in the intermediate room. Good, thorough work is being done and good order prevails.

At the opening of school we were confronted with the problem of building our library up to the standard. We called for books, and money with which to buy books, but very little came in. We finally decided to start a campaign with the students; so the boys competed with the girls, with the understanding that whichever side fell short should entertain the other side at some gathering. Enthusiasm ran high during the two weeks allowed for the campaign. The country was searched, and as a result, the boys brought in about 1,775 books and the girls about 1,915, making a total of 3,690. Many of these were books of fiction which were exchanged at a book store for histories which we needed. Others were schoolbooks, which are of little value to us. But many of them were books which are very valuable to the school. About 1,600 of these were added to our 1,100 volumes, making a total on our shelves of about 2,700 books. The library is under the supervision of Mr. Fentzling, the English teacher, who has it in good condition for use.

The boys, having fallen short in the campaign, entertained the girls and the faculty at a formal banquet in the domestic science room of the school. The boys proved themselves masters of the situation by giving a substantial entertainment.

For the coming year, another room will be added to our grade building, placing the first eight grades under three teachers. Plans are also being made now to enlarge the manual training shop to a building 24x45 feet, with a paint room 12x12, in addition. In this new building will be arranged a tool room, stock room, and power room. More machinery will be added to what we now have, and a good course in this line of work will be given.

J. W. Winn, Principal.

NEWS ITEMS

Elder M. L. Rice, president of the Nevada Conference, spent a few days in our field before the General Conference session, visiting friends and relatives.

Elder A. C. Gilbert, president of the Western Canadian Union Conference, spent a few days in Fresno visiting. He spoke in the Fresno church, Sabbath, April 29.

Those going to the General Conference session in San Francisco can get the benefit of the summer rates by buying a round-trip ticket. This is explained in the "Recorder" dated April 13.

We have already received $897.38 for the Missions Publishing fund; yet this is less than half our goal. However, as several of the churches have not yet sent in their money on this fund, and many are yet at work, we have hopes of reaching the goal. If you are willing to do more, you will still have an opportunity to do so.

MADERA

In September of last year, Mrs. Brown and I were requested to locate in Madera to hold meetings. In company with Brother Bert Myers, the elder of the Madera church, and with the assistance of the church members we began meetings. For four weeks we conducted services in our tent with an average attendance of about 100 or more. Services were then held in the church until the end of the Week of Prayer. Since the beginning of the new year the work has been carried on in the homes of the people. Several cottage meetings have been conducted in various parts of the town, often presided over by lay-members. Our Sunday night services were turned into a Bible training class, wherein one of those attending gives a Bible study on a subject chosen for him by the class, and he submits to any questions on the subject as though it were a public service. In turn these members are asked to conduct the cottage meetings in the homes of non-members and they are doing real well.

There are a number persuaded of the truth of this message, some of whom attend the Sabbath services, but have not yet decided to obey fully. The work is still onward in Madera, however. A few weeks ago we went to Fresno for baptism. Seven were added to the Madera church by this ordinance and one by profession of faith on former baptism, bringing our membership up to above 70. There are still others whom we believe will unite with us later on.

During the Mission Press Big Week we sold enough books and made donations to bring the fund up to the average of $1.00 per member. Our people of O'Neals and Fine Gold helped us in this good work.

During our stay in Madera we circulated nearly 3,000 copies of our special "Signs," Present Truth series, and tracts. Quite a number of our books have been placed in the homes of the people here as well. We trust that soon results will be seen.

Petitions against the Sunday bills were circulated and 370 names were sent in to Congress.

Brother Sutherland, to whom we refer as "Our Colporteur," is at work with "Daniel and Revelation." The work is hard, but he is in the work to stay if it is the Lord's will, and he also takes charge of the Sunday night Bible study as we leave for another field. Brethren, remember the work in Madera as you pray.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown.

WORK AMONG THE MEXICAN PEOPLE

When Jesus gave the commission to preach the gospel to all the world it included, of course, the Mexican people who live in our country.

The Lord has helped us win souls among these people in this part of the field. Three more individuals were baptized on Sabbath, April 1, at Hanford, making a total of 29 that have been baptized in this church within a year. The attendance on the Sabbath at our services is usually about 60, as many interested ones come, some of whom have been keeping the Sabbath but a short time.

These Mexican brethren and sisters are just as loyal to God and the third angel's message as any other believers. The tithe for the Hanford Mexican church for 1921 was $669.73, a gain of $301.61 over the previous year. The offerings for missions averaged 35 cents a week per member. There is truly an awakening among these people in various parts of this conference to hear the truth. Calls are coming from several places to hold meetings, but we find that "the harvest is great and the laborers are few."

Brother Sanchez, at Fresno, is having success in the work and a company of about 35 believers meet each Sabbath in rented quarters. Twelve were baptized there some weeks ago. I met with this company recently and find them of good courage. One young man is entering the colporteur work, expecting later to attend our Latin American training school. Another brother is taking up the colporteur work who is well equipped for this line, having his own car in which to go from place to place.

For all this interest and progress in the message we thank God and take courage. We feel also to thank our dear brethren for their kind cooperation in working for this people and to ask a continued interest in your prayers. C. F. Innis.

NEWS NOTES

The Bishop church school closed April 28. Sister Jessie H. Dillon, who has taught this school during the past year, has given most excellent service. The patrons of the school say that it has been one of the best school years they have had.

The Reno church school closed May 9. Miss Rhymes has done very faithful work during this year. She has accepted the invitation of the board to return next year. She is planning on attending summer school at Pacific Union College this summer.

The Nevada camp meeting will be held in Reno, July 10 to 16. We have secured the beautiful camp meeting site which we had last year. All who have seen this camp ground say that it is an ideal site. Now is the time to lay your plans to attend. Only a little over two months until we will be in the midst of this important meeting. Complete information regarding this meeting will appear in the "Recorder" at a later date.

Elder M. L. Rice baptized two candidates at Fallon, Sunday, April 30.

Elder M. L. Rice left for California to attend a meeting of the Lodi Academy board on May 2. He will attend the General Conference home missionary convention in San Francisco May 7 to 11, and will not return to Nevada until after the General Conference.

Every year the Bishop church school makes a large hotbed, and in good years they raise from one to two hundred dollars from this source. They have a good hotbed this year and a large variety of plants. Their plan is to pay the small indebtedness that remains on their school building from the sale of plants from the hotbed this year.

Brother J. T. Hammersmark sold 81 books in a few hours to the business men of Reno during the BIG WEEK. He sold them in sets of four. Let all who still have books go out for a few hours and dispose of them. It is not too late to earn your quota for the Missions Publishing Fund. We still have a stock of small books on hand, and will be glad to supply those who have not ordered their books, or those who want more.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

W. M. Adams, Pres. W. L. Mecum, Sec.
3131 Pasadena Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

DEDICATION AT SAN PEDRO

Sabbath afternoon, April 22, the new church building at San Pedro, California, was dedicated to the Lord with a very impressive service. Elder W. M. Adams had charge, assisted by Elders H. W. Decker and J. W. Rich, and Dr. B. L. Dieffenbacher, Brother Somers and the writer. The special music was rendered by the Long Beach choral society.

The commodious and beautiful building, with a seating capacity of about 160, was crowded so that many had to stand, a large number being present from the Long Beach church. Every person present felt to commend the building committee and the builders in charge for the neat, nicely arranged building. It is truly marvelous what our people can accomplish under God when they co-operate in such an enterprise.

Elder Adams gave a very impressive dedicatory sermon. The writer was asked to offer the dedicatory prayer. Brother Somers spoke very impressively about attaining this goal, which the church members have struggled so heroically to accomplish. The treasurer informed us that with all bills paid there was money still in the treasury. Brother Somers has untiringly helped this church to accomplish this work; also Sister Cox has helped some.

We were all happy and full of praise to God for this new edifice, dedicated to God free from debt. This is one of about eight new churches built recently in this conference and most of them are now dedicated free from all incumbrances.

C. S. Prout.

SABBATH SCHOOL NOTES

The thirteenth Sabbath offering for the quarter ending March 31 was $4,749.01; total Sabbath school offerings, $10,920.92; $437.04 of this amount was given by our home department members. The birthday offerings were $223.94.

The following Sabbath schools reported by the fifth of April: Arroyo Grande, Bell, Burbank, Carr Street, Ditman Street, Edendale, Florence Avenue, Thirty-sixth Street, Glendora, Graham, Hollywood, Hawthorne, Lincoln Park, Los Angeles German, Long Beach, Norwalk, Pasadena, Paso Robles, Rivera, San Pedro, Santa Monica, San Luis Obispo, Watts and Wilmington. Covina, Glendale, Oxnard, Pomona and Santa Barbara came between the fifth and tenth of April.

The following twenty-two members have received a Sabbath school bookmark during the past quarter for a perfect record in attendance, punctuality, and daily study of the Sabbath school lesson for one year: Carr Street—Cora A. Rapp, Charles McEldowney, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Katherine Coombs, Mrs. Anna Britton, Paul Garrison, Glen Wise, Margaret Cabanas, Hazel Gardener, Mrs.

HOME MISSIONARY ITEMS

In January our church members reported 764 missionary visits; in February, 783; for March the figures reached 1,840—more than the combined work of the two preceding months. For the same months the Bible readings reported were respectively, 270, 211, 469. A strikingly large increase is also shown in the March report in the items of book sales by our members: January, 111; February, 63; March, 605; for papers mailed the figures run, 8390, 5778, and 14,051, making a total for the three months of 28,219 papers distributed.

All lines of missionary endeavor advanced during the month of March. This momentum should increase as we pass downward through the measures of the year. The majority of our societies feel that they are not as fully organized as they might be, but the remnant of Israel who bear a message from the King to benighted souls tarry not in their servings, waiting for the conveniences which may come. Two classes will be operating to the very last moment that probation grants: one will accomplish something in spite of drawbacks; the other will be planning to do big things when the convenient time comes. But mercy ceases with plans, good intentions unmaturing. Too late! Do something each day for deeds count.

One young man, a backslider, has had his faith, hope and courage renewed at the meetings held by Elder Dickson. This brother comes from an eastern church, and instead of making a new beginning out here among strangers, he has decided to return to his home church, clear up his record there, making wrongs right, and then when he returns to California to bring his church letter with him. Such thorough work as this is evidence of an honest heart responding to the deep movings of the Spirit of God. Church membership representing spiritual connection with Christ is a most valuable asset. When spiritual life is of first importance, the things of this material life lose their hold and control, and sin its dominion over the soul. God bless the young man who thinks that getting right with God means getting right with His church and with his former associates.

ADVANCE IN TUITION

After passing through the war period without raising the tuition of studies, the managers of the Fireside Correspondence School are compelled by the experience of the past two years to announce the following higher rates of tuition:

Academic subjects of 40 lessons, a full year's work, $14.00 cash, or $15.00 in two equal installments. College subjects, $16.00 cash, or $17.00 in two equal installments. Subjects of less than 40 lessons in like proportion. For matriculation fee, return postage fee, and books, the terms remain cash in advance, as formerly.

C. C. Lewis,
Principal.

Obituary

Saunders.—Caroline. Saunders was born April 4, 1837, in Wayne County, Ill., and died at her home in Traver, Calif., March 28, 1922. She embraced the Seventh-day Adventist faith in 1878. Seven of her ten children survive her. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer from 2 Cor. 1:2-4.

Ruble, David Voth, W. C. Raley, G. W. Reaser, C. H. Jones, W. F. Martin, P. T. Magan, W. E. Nelson, B. M. Emerson.

No "Recorder" Next Week.—On account of the General Conference it is planned to drop out the issue of the "Recorder" next week.

Elder W. F. Martin is again back at the office after an absence of several weeks in Missouri, where he was assisting with the religious liberty work.

Elder A. G. Daniells gave the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Loma Linda Medical School last Sabbath. A large number of friends of the school and graduating class were present.

The union conference office will be closed during the General Conference. Our work will be handled as far as possible from San Francisco. All mail for the union conference officers or departmental secretaries should be sent to San Francisco, care of the Civic Auditorium.

Already some of the delegates to the next session of the General Conference are arriving in San Francisco and many others are en route. About the time this issue of the "Recorder" reaches its readers, one of the most important gatherings ever held by this denomination will be opening. We earnestly request all our people to daily remember this great gathering before the throne of grace, that God will signally bless, as plans are formulated for the finishing of His work.

Elder R. A. Underwood, one of the veterans in our work, spoke in the Glendale church last Sabbath.

Elder J. E. Fulton left last Sunday for San Francisco where he expects to remain until after the General Conference.

The funeral service of Brother A. E. Parker of Long Beach, who was a member of the Southern California Conference committee, was conducted in the Glendale church last Sabbath.

Elder E. L. Neff, pastor of the Glendale church, spent last Sabbath in Fresno. He went in response to an invitation of the graduating class of the Fresno Academy to give the baccalaureate sermon.

The closing exercises of practically all our schools in this union were held last Sabbath and Sunday. This closes another school year. We trust a large number of our young men and women will respond to the calls for more workers.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE CAMPUS NOTES

April 13 was the first day for making room reservations for next year. Ten dollars insures receiving the room selected.

The gymnasium frame has been raised. Commencement visitors will be interested in this and other indications of campus improvement.

Elder F. M. Burg, president of the Western Washington Conference, visited his niece, Evelyn, April 27 and 28. He spoke to the students Friday morning on some of the values of Bible study.

Africa's claim to the title of the neglected continent was emphasized by Elder W. E. Straw in his pleas for workers for South Africa during his visit April 28 to 30. Elder Straw spoke at the last meeting of the foreign mission band and to the entire school Friday and Sabbath evening.

Mrs. A. O. Burrill, from Chico, is spending the closing days of school with her daughter, Ellen Fattbert, who, with her husband, graduates from the college course this year. They are on furlough from the Philippines.

The annual all-day picnic was held Wednesday, April 26. The forenoon was given to various games, followed by a hearty lunch enjoyed by all. Games for all, and contests between married and single men engaged the interest of the afternoon. Supper was served in the dining room, as usual.

Two groups of girls rose early on the Sunday mornings of April 23 and 30 and hiked out to Eagle Rock to see the sun rise. Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Weniger and Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Castle, who have been the chaperons, conducted the brief morning worship with the girls before returning to the day's work.

Elder O. Montgomery, vice president of the General Conference for South America, with his wife, visited the college April 25. At chapel and worship he told intensely interesting stories of the deliverance of missionaries in South America. The following Sabbath Elder Montgomery preached the morning sermon on "God's Call to His People—the Call of the Hour." He warned the students, who are the prospective leaders of this work, against worldliness, the spirit of independence, and criticism.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL

At a recent meeting of the Pacific Union Conference committee and the Pacific Union College board, it was voted to conduct a summer session at Pacific Union College beginning May 30, to continue for eight weeks.

It is planned to offer in addition to the complete normal course a number of academic and college subjects. Those who wish to attend should correspond with the college at once. The announcements are ready for distribution and can be secured by addressing the college.
