Two College Rallies

On October 18 a very successful student colporteur rally was conducted at La Sierra College; at which time President Rasmussen of the college and field missionary secretaries Wilber of Arizona, Van Noty of Southeastern California, W. L. Miller of Southern California, and the writer spoke during the chapel hour.

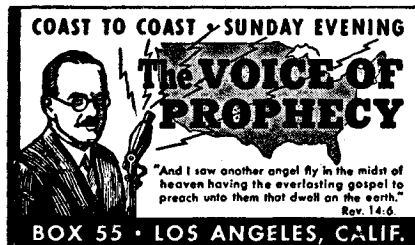

Notwithstanding the fact that other school organizations were functioning the same day, some forty enthusiastic students joined the colporteur band. No doubt this was the largest colporteur band to be organized in the early part of the school year in the history of La Sierra College.

On the following Monday, October 22, the field missionary secretaries of the Pacific Union met at Pacific Union College for the purpose of paying tribute to the students who had earned scholarships, and also to effect a school colporteur organization that would function, as such, until the close of the school year.

We were all deeply gratified when, in response to President Klooster's few but well-chosen remarks concerning the direct advantages accruing to the students who avail themselves of the canvassing work, 102, by actual count, joined with the colporteur band.

Judging from the deep interest we have already witnessed on the part of the young people in these two schools, we have no hesitancy in stating that, without doubt, the summer of 1944 will offer to our young people the greatest year in the history of our student colporteur educational program.

E. M. FISHELL.

Coast to Coast Sunday Evening Mutual System

We feel that we must tell you how well the work is going in spite of the change in our broadcasting time.

The month of October saw no drop in mail, and our offerings were the second largest of any month thus far. You have no idea the load this has lifted from our hearts. (We have not yet received a report of the October 16 Voice of Prophecy Offering given through the local churches and conferences.)

The last few weeks we have faced a real crisis, but we feel that God's people have been praying for this work and the Lord has again triumphed. We are adding many new stations by transcription. The English program is now being carried by over three hundred stations.

Add to this nearly one hundred stations in Central and South America carrying the program in Portuguese and Spanish and you get a glimpse of the speed with which the third angel's message is going to the whole western hemisphere.

Elder L. H. Lindbeck of South America has written us that Bible school enrollments are pouring in by the thousands. He states that ninety per cent of the enrollees continue their courses. A high percentage of these are Catholic.

In one country it was necessary to have the broadcast approved by a board of Catholic bishops. The board passed the programs and now eleven powerful stations in that country are broadcasting the message.

Indeed God has set His hand to the finishing of the work. Indeed the end must be very near. You will not forget us with your gifts and in your prayers, will you?

Till We Meet Again

Early in September, we received an invitation to connect with the General Conference as associate secretary of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer Department. After very thoughtful and prayerful consideration of this call, Mrs. Dunbar and I accepted, and on October 5 we left the Pacific Union Conference.

We have never worked with more cordial Christian relationships with our workers or people than was our experience in the Pacific Union. It was a constant source of pleasure to labor for and with the young people in this field. We have no greater desire than that by precept and example we might appeal to our youth to give themselves to Jesus Christ and the finishing of His work.

Unforgettable are the occasions when we saw so many of our youth accept the challenge. The personal interviews with hundreds of young people, the Senior and Junior training camps, the camp meetings, the Weeks of Prayer, the Missionary Volunteer rallies, the officers' conventions, etc., are bright mileposts in the life of an M. V. secretary who loves his work.

I know you will all give the same cooperation and gracious fellowship to Elder E. B. Hare, who has been chosen to carry the leadership of the thousands of youth in this great field.

We feel genuine reluctance in leaving the helpful and friendly associations of the union conference office, but we know that our work still is one and that our paths may occasionally meet.

So, till we meet again, the Lord's richest blessing.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

An open house was held in the home of the Rices in Mountain View, Sunday, October 31, where many relatives and friends gathered to congratulate Elder and Mrs. E. H. Adams on their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Their two daughters, Mrs. Belle Higgins and Mrs. Leta Rice, were the hostesses.

Elder and Mrs. Adams have given many years of consecrated, earnest service in the cause, not only in this conference, but in other conferences of the Pacific Union. We extend our sincere and hearty congratulations to this faithful couple, and may the Saviour we love remain their close companion as they continue their journey through life.

News Items

Mr. W. F. Van Atta reports that a profitable weekend was spent at the Bookmen's Convention held at Glendale, October 19-21. Others attending the convention from this office were W. A. Nelson, Scott Donaldson, A. G. Sutton, C. L. Finney and Mrs. W. F. Van Atta.

For the past few weeks Mrs. Lula P. Wilcox, former cashier-bookkeeper of Armona Academy, has been taking over the work in the cashier's office since Miss Verda Gibson transferred to the Missionary Volunteer department. Mrs. Wilcox will continue temporarily until a permanent cashier is secured.

We have enjoyed having with us Mr. A. R. Smith, associate auditor of the Pacific Union Conference, who is spending a week or so in the office auditing the conference books. This is but a partial audit, the final audit being made at the close of the year.

Word has been received that Sister Donald Darst underwent a major operation at the White Memorial Hospital, October 29. We trust that the Lord will see fit to give Sister Darst a speedy recovery.

The last few weeks have found Miss Agnes Kezer, medical secretary of the conference, out in the field giving the students in our church schools and academies their physical examinations. Miss Kezer also met with the Merced church on a recent Sabbath.

We are always glad to have visitors come in to see us at the office. Recent callers at the office are: Elder W. W. Ruble, educational superintendent of the Northern California Conference; Elder C. S. Prout, who has recently located in the Burlingame-Redwood City district; Elder S. O. Martin, leader of the Mountain View district; Clarence T. Johnson and Elman Folkenberg, who are conducting an evangelistic effort at Campbell; Elder C. M. Sorenson, pastor of the Santa Cruz district; and Elder R. R. Breitigam of the Pacific Union. Elder Breitigam spent the first Sabbath and Sunday of the Week of Prayer at Mountain View and San Jose churches respectively.

Elder and Mrs. Walter Lind report a pleasant vacation, spending part of it in Los Angeles. Elder Lind, however, had church appointments over both weekends.

Elder and Mrs. L. M. Nelson and their young son, Wellesley, have left our field to connect with the Southern California Conference. We are very sorry to lose Elder and Mrs. Nelson from this field, and appreciate the splendid work that they have done. We wish them God's blessings as they enter upon their new field of labor.

"In This Morning's Mail"

(Comments from Radio Bible School Pupils)

"I am to be baptized within two weeks. My husband has accepted the truth, also. So your lessons have helped greatly. Then, too, we have Brother Neal Becker with us now. He began a series of meetings this summer. So much enthusiasm has been created that we had to have a regular church. We bought a church and moved it here. We're so happy in our religion and hope to help others to see the light." (The above letter came to us from North Dakota. In addition, we received word from Brother Becker that another of our Radio Bible school enrollees had just been baptized and had been chosen leader of the new little company. Brother Becker added for our encouragement: "Many thanks for the wonderful work you are doing. We are remembering your work in our prayers.")

"I received your letter with the lovely certificate and wish to thank you for the kind attention you have given me in the study of my Bible course. The lessons have given me a more thorough knowledge of the Bible and are a great inspiration to me. I would like to continue the second course. Enclosed please find a donation for your grand work. I hope it will help others to take the lessons of the Bible course."

"What must I do to become a member of your faith, as I want to learn all I can about the Bible. Just a small donation am sending." (From one of our soldier enrollees.)

One of our laymembers, actively engaged in home missionary work, sends this report: "We made friends with the pastor of the Community Sunday school and church. I teach every Sunday and have now been requested to take charge of the study at prayer meetings, starting tonight: subject—"Prophecy." Please start with film of Daniel 2, and send us a roll each week in proper order till we have completed your set. Have good prospects for the pastor, Mrs. —, and her neighbor, Mrs. —, as real Sabbathkeepers in the near future."

Home Nursing Course

"The knowledge that man is to be a temple of God, a habitation for the revealing of His glory, should be the highest incentive to the care and development of our physical power."

The objectives of a home nursing course in your church are to:

1. Help the student have a keen appreciation for mental and physical health and to develop those habits by which both may be obtained. This will make happier individuals.
2. Aid the student in understanding the principles of disease prevention and control.
3. Assist the student in meeting the normal problems in her home and to learn how to take care of the sick under home conditions according to the doctor's direction.

It will take only 17 two-hour classes to complete the course. Every church member is encouraged to study this course. It will give you an opportunity to lift the standard of healthful living in the homes of our people, and it also gives instruction that will enable an individual to do intelligent Christian help work among neighbors and friends. Write your conference medical secretary for further details.

Among the Navahos

The Lord has been richly blessing the work in Navaho land. One family has been especially interested and they are keeping the Sabbath and drinking in the truth as fast as we can give it to them.

The freewill offerings given by the people during the past two months amounted to over $11. Of course their offerings are given in produce—squash, melons, potatoes and corn—which is purchased by the mission and the money turned in to the conference through the regular channels. We are holding Bible studies and meetings in several camps each week. We have made our first contacts with most of these people through the medical work, and now they are pleading with us to open a school for their children. They are truly crying, as the Macedonians of old, "Come over and help us!"

Winter is coming early in the Navaho country this year, and it is already very cold. There is a shortage of children's clothing in all the trading posts due to the war, and the people have been coming to us asking for help to clothe their little ones for the cold winter ahead. We have exhausted our present supply of clothes, but hope to receive more garments from the Dorcas societies and from individuals who may wish to help in this real home missionary project. MARVIN WALTER.

Your Last Opportunity Periodical Prices Increase

By action of the General Conference Committee, the Review subscription campaign is scheduled for the months of November and December, during which time all conferences are asked to join in this great promotion endeavor to place the Review in every Seventh-day Adventist home. We are sure that our constituency in the Nevada-Utah Conference will rally in this great cause.

It is said that whenever our people bear testimony with regard to the Review, they tell how our church paper has helped them to gain spiritual victories and inspired them to more liberal giving and earnest praying for the advancement of the third angel's message. That is why the Review is so often called the "assistant pastor of the church," and why the leaders in our work recognize the importance of having our church paper in every family of believers.

Brethren and sisters, you cannot afford to be without our denominational periodicals. Next to the Bible, the Review should be found on your reading table. With gas rationing at its peak and with the long winter nights ahead, how could you spend your evenings more advantageously than to read the inspirational pages of our periodicals? Make sure that you are supplied with these "food-for-thought" papers.

Higher prices for our periodicals have been announced, beginning January 1, 1944. Until then our people may order new or renewal subscriptions for the Review at $2.75, Big Four at $3.90, and Family Group at $6.70. By ordering before the first of the year it will mean a saving for you of approximately 15 per cent, which is money saved to buy Bibles and books for your Christmas gifts. Give your order to your missionary secretary or send it direct to us. Remember, we are ready to serve you at all times and are as close to you as your mailbox.

Chariot Hour Time Correction

The Sweet Chariot Hour broadcast is presented every Saturday evening, from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m., over station KPAS (1110 kcys.). In a recent issue of the RECORDER we gave the wrong hour. Listeners throughout the Pacific Union are asked to write in if they are hearing the program satisfactorily.

The program features the singing of favorite Southern spirituals and inspirational Bible discussions. You are invited to witness as well as hear this broadcast, which is presented by remote control from the auditorium of the Sunset Avenue church, corner of Sunset and Pepper, Pasadena.

Santa Barbara

There appeared in the October issue of The Ministry an interesting article by A. W. Spalding entitled, "The Festival of the Blessed Hope." He opened the article by quoting: "Would it not be well for us to observe holidays unto God when we could revive in our minds the memory of His dealings with us?" He continues: "One holiday which might well be established and celebrated by Adventists is October 22, a day greatly to be remembered among us. It is astonishing how few of our people have any consciousness of its significance."

These statements stirred me. Although time was short, I resolved to observe the day in the Santa Barbara church. We arranged for the young people to commemorate this day in their meeting on Friday evening. The program consisted chiefly in brief reviews of the stirring and inspiring lives of our pioneers. On Sabbath morning the sermon hour was devoted to a re-examination of the date, October 22. Daniel 8:14 was shown to be the foundation of our message. The very solemn fact that we have entered the one hundredth year of the cleansing of the sanctuary in heaven was impressed upon all.

Youth's Congress

Missionary Volunteers of Southern California will be thrilled to know that there will be a YOUTH'S CONGRESS January 7, 8, and 9. We urge every young man and every young woman to be present for this important occasion. This is the first time we have ever had a Youth's Congress in Southern California.

This Congress will be held in the new auditorium on the Glendale Academy grounds. It will open Friday evening, and close Sunday night. General Conference and union conference help will be with us. Round-table discussions on youth's problems, dynamic sermons, and beautiful music rendered by young people will be features of the program. It is our plan to have a youth's choir of one hundred voices.

We want to make this a crusade for all the youth of Southern California. Plan now to be present Friday night, all day Sabbath, and all day Sunday, January 7, 8, and 9. Watch for further notices. W. C. LOVELESS.

A Radio Birthday Party

A Radio Birthday Party was held November 4 at the KGER broadcasting station, 643 South Olive Street, in Los Angeles. Radio Evangelist B. R. Spear had invited friends to gather for the occasion and the room was packed with interested witnesses. It was a beautiful setting for the second anniversary of the Prophecy Speaks radio program. A large decorated cake graced the table in front of the microphone and this helped to attract the attention of the many boys and girls who had gathered for the occasion. Indeed, several children had a part on the program with songs and instrumental music. Other speakers and guests participating in the program included David Voth, W. C. Loveless, William Miller, Albert Searns and the writer. Mr. Searns is leaving to enter the service of his country. A copy of "Steps To Christ" was presented to him and an announcement was made of the 30,000 copies that have been given to the service men during recent months.

It was an enthusiastic crowd that wished Elder Spear and his Prophecy Speaks Radio Group continuing prosperity and success in the wonderful work of broadcasting the message over the air. This second anniversary marked another milestone along the highway of progress in radio evangelism.

1844—Review—1944 Anniversary Number

Nineteen forty-four marks the hundredth year since the beginning of our work. In commemoration of those sacred events of a hundred years ago, and in review of the progress of the work of God in all the world during this momentous centennial period, the publishers are planning a thrilling Anniversary Number of the Review. All during the year 1944 the Review will be filled with most inspiring and interesting material from the pens of our ablest writers.

Higher prices have been announced for January 1, 1944, but until that date our people may order new or renewal subscriptions for the Review at the old price of $2.75. Hundreds of dollars are being spent for heretofore unpublished pictures, new and old, and we believe the great Anniversary Number alone will be worth the subscription price of the paper.

And there is the tragedy at the back door of the church—the never-ending procession of those who have become discouraged or who have lost their way, slipping out into a world replete with the devices and temptations of the enemy of souls. We venture to hazard the suggestion that not many regular, careful and interested readers of the Review have been lost to this cause through apostasy. One of the surest means of preserving my own soul is to read the Review. There is no stronger safeguard that we can throw around our loved ones and those precious members of every church, than to make it possible for them to read the Review regularly.

We call upon every member and church worker to lend his influence to bring the Review into the home of every English-reading Sabbathkeeper in North America. LLOYD E. BIGGS.

A Gain That Is Not a Gain

It is hard for us to realize that the gain we have enjoyed in mission offerings during the last two years, as compared to a like period prior to the war, is not actually a gain at all as we consider what these means could accomplish in their respective times. Money values have decreased as much, and in many cases more, than the increase that we have seen in our mission offerings. Some of our foreign mission fields have been closed, while others remain open and fruitful; but should we be permitted to labor in all the places that we have labored in before the war it is doubtful if we could more than sustain our normal program in the light of costs today.

It is the common impression that a gain in mission offerings will permit a corresponding increase in mission endeavor in a foreign field. This would be true if money values and costs of operation were stabilized, but in these unusual times in many cases our increases are taken from us by the economic trend. Money is plentiful today, and we as a people are receiving financial blessings without measure. The income of our people, as portrayed by tithe receipts, is phenomenal. However, as we see the amount per income dollar given for foreign missions in this area the lowest in the nation, we feel constrained to call these facts to mind. We are enjoying the largest income per person and giving the smallest percentage of it to the cause of foreign missions.

The following is a paragraph from a recent letter from the General Conference treasurer:

"During the last few weeks the Treasury Department has been very busy collecting and compiling the budget requests for 1944. These requests are larger than we have ever before received, and we find in our study of them that they are all worthy enterprises and mean much in the advancement of the cause. However, we shall be able to meet only a small per cent of the amounts requested. I know this will be a keen disappointment to our overseas divisions."

We realize that we are living in a strenuous time, and that calls upon our financial resources, increased as they are, are many. Loyalty to our country in its hour of crisis is our duty, but let us also examine anew the systematic plans we have made to carry forward God's work in foreign lands.

C. J. NAGLE.

Unparalleled Enthusiasm at Loma Linda Sabbath School Training Course

At the Training Course just completed at Loma Linda the average attendance at the night meetings throughout the two weeks of the course was 201. Of this number 107 completed their work and passed the examination. The two classes which were held on Sabbath afternoon were attended by large crowds and could not be counted. The enthusiasm in these classes in Psychology and Pedagogy is unparalleled.

The heart cooperation of pastors, superintendents and Sabbath school officers of the surrounding Sabbath schools has made history and set a record which, up to the present, has been unequalled.

Our hearty congratulations to all who sacrificed their time and their home comforts for this postgraduate class work.

ERIC B. HARE.

No Matter What The Cost

It is time for us all to renew our subscriptions for our grand old church paper, the Review And Herald. No intelligent Adventist family desiring to keep abreast of the message can do without the paper. No faithful church member can afford to go without its messages of council and guidance.

Those who can afford to do so, why not make a present of a year's subscription to those whom you know are unable to secure it? A year's pleasurable reading, spiritual help and Biblical enlightenment, with the possibility of saving a soul added for good measure is surely worth $2.75. Order yours and another's subscription today.

Present Truth for November

No. 21 — Healthful Living

The three outstanding phases of our health message are presented in these articles, "Nature's Road to Health," "The Effect of Alcohol on the Body," and "The Truth About Tobacco." Because of the current craze for stimulants, sedatives, and quick cures there is a tremendous opportunity to do good with this issue of the Present Truth.

No. 22 — The Unpardonable Sin

Those who are honestly concerned

lest they may have committed the sin that cannot be forgiven will find comfort in this explanation of the unpardonable sin. There is a much larger class, however, who are not especially concerned about this matter. To them the message in this issue of the Present Truth is of the greatest importance.

Present Truth Numbers 1 to 22 of this year's series are available at $1.25 a hundred, or $7.50 a thousand, in any assortment. Order as many as you can distribute in your neighborhood and enter Present Truth subscriptions for friends and relatives now while prices are low. January 1 Present Truth yearly subscriptions will be 50 cents each. Now they are only 35 cents, three for $1. In Canada 70 cents; District of Columbia and foreign, 60 cents. Order from your Book and Bible House.

Publicity

On Sabbath, October 30, special prayer services were held in our churches in behalf of the safety of interned and imprisoned Seventh-day Adventist missionaries. During the week following that day we received reports of these services taken from 28 newspapers. These come from all parts of the United States and Canada.

It is interesting to note from the circulations of these various papers that this particular story in these papers has reached almost a half a million families. The cooperation of our churches in giving this service publicity is very much appreciated. We expect to

Farewell for Missionaries

Monday evening, November 8, a farewell service for four Pacific Union College students who will leave soon for South America was held at the worship hour in the college chapel. The appointees are Mr. and Mrs. David Baasch and Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Di Dionisio. Mr. Baasch and Mr. and Mrs. Di Dionisio are all members of the graduating class of 1943.

Leonard Hare, leader of the M.V. society and chairman of the evening, stated that these four recruits bring the total number of Pacific Union College students who have been appointed to foreign mission service to 318. President H. J. Klooster spoke briefly, wishing the young people God-speed and tracing the history of missionary endeavor as carried on in the denominational colleges. Other speakers were fellow-students, Betty Bowers, David Bauer, and Bennie Matthews.

Band Gives Concert

Last Saturday evening the College concert band of 35 members, led by Prof. N. E. Paulin, head of the music department, gave its first public performance of the school year. Special numbers were rendered by the cornet trio, Judson Klooster, Richard Figuhr, and Robert Affeldt.
