Medical Ministry Across the Country

During the year 1950, a hundred and one of our doctors found their way into conferences east of the West Coast conferences. These men are finding success in their practice, and many of them are showing real promise along soul-winning lines. God is blessing them in their work for Him.

Our doctors are providing much fine leadership in the churches. Many are doing the work of the ministry in that they are raising up and pastoring churches. One of these men, having gone into a dark county and raised up and pastored a church, approached his conference president with a request to assign him to a new dark county—where he might repeat what he had done. His contention was that it was becoming too crowded for him. He felt that he needed to be where there was no other Adventist to properly represent the faith he loves, and thereby bring it to those who might not otherwise hear of it.

Another doctor is conducting a medical missionary program just as truly as though he were in some needy foreign country. He and his wife are becoming famous miles around for their work. They are finding diet deficiencies and unsanitary conditions among the people equal to any such condition among primitive peoples anywhere. Little by little they are changing their unhealthful ways. At first looked upon with suspicion by the people, they are fast winning hearts by their devoted service and Christian influence. They report a hearty response to their spiritual leadership in that area.

Several doctors are conducting clinics, in connection with which they employ office secretaries who also do Bible work. One of these, in enclosing a Bible School enrollment card with greetings sent out at Christmas time, received 150 requests for the Bible Correspondence Course, and over 100 requests for a course in healthful living. The response they are getting is equal to a large evangelistic effort.

Many, working alone in their practice, are enjoying excellent experiences. One doctor has seen nine of his patients baptized during 1950. Not being able to find young ladies of our own faith to work as office nurses they are taking in local help. In many instances they are winning these to the faith. Where there was no church organization when they arrived they are raising up one. In one conference a church of 31 members, with over 50 in attendance, has been raised up during the year 1950.

These are but a few typical cases of what our College of Medical Evangelists doctors are doing across the country. Our doctors are also serving as local elders, deacons, and church officers in many other capacities.

Many of the brethren in the field have wondered why more C.M.E. graduates have not settled in their territory. They speak of having great medical needs, yet not having any of our men in their area, or conference, as the case may be.

Of vital importance is the fact that, with few exceptions, there is little if any current information on file with the Medical Extension Office regarding medical openings. There are, without question, many excellent openings untouched because specific information regarding them is not available. It is imperative that conference leaders and church members provide the specific information needed to interest physicians to settle in a given location. One of the functions of the Medical Extension Office is to act as a clearing house for such information among our doctors and medical personnel.

To facilitate the gathering of such information, and to insure the gathering of the correct information, the Medical Extension Office is happy to supply blanks which call for the specific information needed. Your conference office has a supply of these blanks which are available upon request. We shall be pleased to receive all the information you can supply on the medical needs you have in your area.

The Medical Extension Office will be glad also to cooperate with local conferences in programs and campaigns to attract doctors to the openings they have.

From among the graduates of C.M.E. have come many fine workers for the Cause. They are anxious to play their part in finishing the work of God in all the earth. The College of Medical Evangelists has trained many outstanding leaders for the church.

Once a year a Sabbath is set aside by the General Conference in the interest of this our only medical school. Sabbath, August 18, has been set aside this year as C.M.E. Day. On that day the offering will be taken for the College of Medical Evangelists. There are great needs to be met at the college. It is one of the very few medical colleges in the country that does not have large endowments to help support it. The only endowment C.M.E. has is the support it receives from the church. Make your offering on C.M.E. Day generous. God will bless you for it.

CARL SUNDIN.

First Aid and Floods

Not long ago it was Winnipeg. Now it is Kansas City in the gigantic Missouri and Kansas flood.

It all serves to drive home another impressive lesson regarding the need of first aid training and civil defense activities.

And it emphasizes the leading of providence which directed our people everywhere, by hundreds of thousands, to train themselves in first aid procedures.

Yesterday Winnipeg. Today Kansas City. Tomorrow—?

Yesterday floods. Today, again floods. Tomorrow—atomic attack? Tornado? Fire? Earthquake?

One thing is sure. Disasters will continue. And next time one may strike where you live, where your church is.

Flood waters knock out great industrial districts, cut communications, cripple transportation, destroy bridges, curtail water supplies, flood garbage disposal plants, displace thousands of persons, drown many others, sweep through and over thousands of homes, spread disease, hinder relief, create confusion.

Do you know what to do in order to help? Does your church know? Your Missionary Volunteer Society? Your Dorcas Society? Your Junior Society? Your church school?

Before disaster strikes your city, your neighborhood, get into this First Aid Training. Take the Standard Course, 18 hours. If you have that, take the Advanced Course, 12 more hours. When you have that, go on with the Instructor's Course. See to it that your Junior M. V. Society and your church school are given the advantage of the Junior Red Cross First Aid Course.

Come on, let's get into the actualities of this business! Let us make ourselves skilled in saving life, in relieving suffering, in rescuing the distressed.

Seventh-day Adventists, believing what they do, knowing the significance of these times and these developments, should be foremost in this increasingly needed work of relief, of mercy, of humanity, of salvation.

The way? First aid training. Home nursing courses. Stock-piling medical supplies, bandages. Participating in the building of your local blood banks. Oh, there is so much, so very much, for you, for all of us, to do. We are in the world to minister to human welfare, to save men. Let's be about our business.

How can you start? Get in touch at once, now, today, with the War Service Commission representative of your conference, local or union, or the Medical Department secretary, or the Missionary Volunteer secretary.

It applies here preeminently, the slogan you hear constantly—"The life you save may be your own." In any case, get yourself trained in saving life.

Fourth Annual Meeting, A.S.S.I.

The Fourth Annual Meeting of the Association of Self-Supporting Institutions will be held September 3, 4, and 5 at Grand Ledge, Michigan, on the Michigan campgrounds, ten miles from Lansing, just following the Laymen's Congress. Although primarily for representatives from church-affiliated institutions and those interested in self-supporting work, visitors are cordially invited. Those who desire further information regarding this meeting may send for a copy of the July News and Views, and those who plan to attend the meeting, please notify Dr. Wayne McFarland, Secretary-Treasurer, A.S.S.I., care General Conference S.D.A., Takoma Park, Washington 12, D.C.

HELP FOR EVERY DAY

A new book which will be of help to you every day during the last six months of 1951 is now ready. It is the Sabbath-school lesson help for the third and fourth quarters of this year. To get the most benefit from your lesson study on the subject of "Creation and Redemption," you will want this book in your home.

"The Creator and His Workshop,"

written by Dr. R. E. Hoen of Pacific Union College, is now ready for you. Order it early so as to have it as you study your first Sabbath-school lesson in July.

There are twenty-six chapters in the book, one for each lesson in the last half of 1951. These are important lessons, and we are happy that such a lesson help is available.

Report on Professional Advancement

Pacific Union College annually spends thousands of dollars in helping its teachers to advance their professional preparation, whether they are working toward advanced degrees, taking concentrated work in their specific teaching field, or merely brushing up and renewing their inspiration.

This summer 31 members of the faculty are giving all or part of their time to study.

On the east coast there are nine. At Boston University Elder L. H. Hartin, head of the department of religion, is taking work toward his doctorate; and Dean of Men Robert Reynolds is deep in classes in the field of personnel and guidance.

Gerald Ferguson, who comes to P.U.C. this fall to be in charge of vocal music, Eleanor Lawson, Alice Holst, Esther Ambs, and Alice Neilsen, are at Columbia University. Mr. Ferguson expects to receive his M.A. in music at the end of this summer. Miss Lawson is working in the field of nursing education; Miss Holst, in secretarial science; Miss Ambs, in home economics; and Miss Neilsen, in elementary education.

At Washington, D.C., J. Paul Stauffer, assistant professor of English, is working on his doctoral dissertation for Harvard, and doubtless spending long hours in the Library of Congress. Mrs. Stauffer is studying piano with Emerson Meyers.

Coming westward, we find three other teachers in the Great Lakes area. Ariel Roth is well along toward his doctor's degree at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. His work is in the field of biology. Leslie Sargent is studying journalism and public relations, also toward his doctorate, at the University of Illinois. Graham Maxwell is spending part of his time at Angwin and part at the University of Chicago in final touches on his doctorate.

Robert L. Nutter has taken some course work here at home toward education requirements he must meet for his advanced work at the University of Colorado.

In the Pacific Northwest Jack Craver is attending the University of Oregon.

Mathematics and vocational courses are occupying his time. On the home campus he teaches courses in machine shop and electrical measurements. Helen Litvin, who will join the faculty this fall as assistant in the Home Economics department, is taking advanced work in that field at the University of Washington.

Four faculty members are attending the University of California at Berkeley. These are at P.U.C. occasionally or even often. Registrar E. C. Walter tries to keep up all of his work at the home office and still spend two days a week in school. He is taking education courses. Walter Utt, who joins the college history department in September, expects to have his Ph.D. degree by that time. Dalton Baldwin, supervisory teacher of the seventh and eighth grades, and Willard Meier, principal of the secondary school, are taking advanced courses in education.

Mrs. Wilma Shafer is doing graduate work in the teaching of elementary-school music. She is attending San Jose State College. This fall she will begin her work as full-time music instructor in the elementary school here. At San Jose Joe Maniscalco is taking advanced work in art.

At Stanford University, or commuting back and forth between there and Angwin, are six others. Mary Ellquist is nearing the completion of her work for the M.A. degree in elementary education. R. D. Drayson is finishing work for his doctor's degree in secondary education. He will head the secondary education department at P.U.C. this fall. R. K. Boyd, Ivan Neilsen, Maurice Mathisen, and G. B. Taylor are all polishing off the last words on dissertations and doing other last details for their doctorates. Their fields are business, physics, chemistry, and Spanish, respectively.

T. W. Benedict, head of the speech department, is fulfilling some last requirements for his Ph.D. from the University of Southern California; Evelyn Rittenhouse, assistant in secretarial science, is doing advanced work there also.

At home, but doing advanced work, are Parshall Howe and Arthur Hicks of the preparatory-school faculty. And farthest from home is Isabel Zumwalt, who is doing advanced work in French at the Sorbonne and attending the Youth's Congress in Paris.

September will bring these men and women back to the campus to give better service than ever before for the preparation of that army of youth who will finish the Lord's work.

Third Summer Term Begins August 5

Methods of teaching physical education in the elementary school and camp education are two of the new courses to be offered in the third term of the summer session. Mr. Cyril F. Dean will be the instructor. Registration for this last summer term will be on August 5.

Seventh-day Adventist Dentists Meet

Seventh-day Adventist dentists and their families from the Pacific Coast met in Seattle Sunday, June 24, for a mid-year meeting of the National Association of S.D.A. Dentists. Preceding the Pacific Coast Dental Conference by one day, dentists from Southern California to Canada registered at the Hotel Edmond Meany and then visited the new University of Washington Dental School. Doctors Stanley Shephard and Harold Schnipper, both S.D.A. dentists and faculty members, took the visitors on a guided tour of the elaborate plant.

The dinner Sunday evening was the high point of the convocation. Dr. Gerald Mitchell, the president of N.A.-S.D.A.D., spoke of the rapidly growing S.D.A. dental organization, and recent developments and possibilities within the denomination for a dental college of its own.

Elder Carl Sundin, the General Conference Medical Extension secretary, reminded the group that as a unique professional group their primary purpose, interest and objective in life is spiritual. Elder Sundin exhorted us to go on to greater strength and solidarity and assured us that the greatest satisfaction in life comes from a personal experience with the Saviour. He invited anyone interested in a mission appointment to contact him immediately, for a number of calls are waiting.

The ninety-two in attendance then organized a Northwest chapter of N.A.-S.D.A.D. This chapter helps to foster the aims and ideals of N.A.S.D.A.D. on the local level and binds the group into a more efficient and practical organization.

The rapid increase of S.D.A. dentists within the nation, and their potentialities for missionary endeavor and financial support of their local churches, makes one realize that the S.D.A. dentist is ready to stand shoulder to shoulder with his professional neighbor, the Christian physician.

A Day at Monument Valley Clinic

Glancing up from my sawing, I saw before me a fine-looking Navajo woman. "What do you want?" I asked.

"I need medicine."

"What kind of medicine? Are you sick?"

"No! Medicine for my boy. You come and see him and give him medicine then he be all right."

By careful questioning I learned that she was Teddy Holliday's wife from Douglas Mesa, twenty-five miles north of Monument Valley on the edge of the San Juan river over a jeep trail. Only a four-wheel drive car can go into that section. Her boy was covered with little red spots that itched. He couldn't come to the clinic on horseback, he was too sick. Would I come and see him and give him help. The symptoms suggested a probable case of measles. Carefully I explained to her what she could do to make the boy more comfortable and prevent complications. She swung into her saddle and rode down the trail.

Joe Whitehorse rode up to the clinic from Oljatoh country, ten miles west of us. His pants were ragged and full of holes. His shirt sleeves were hanging in shreds. One look told me what he wanted—clothes. A box filled with clothes for his four children, his wife and himself made him smile a big "thank you" and then ask "Can I get some medicine, too?" He asked for cough medicine, headache medicine, and something for stomachache. His tooth ached badly. Could I fix it for him?

Mrs. Walter had taken the dentist to the uranium mine that very day. He would be at Oljatoh the next morning. That would be the best place to get his tooth fixed.

Twenty-five miles of jeep road east of Monument Valley had led Mrs. Walter and the dentist to a large uranium mine where about four hundred Navajos are camped while the men work in the mine digging out what looks like "corn pollen" to the Navajo. Although the mine has been in operation for several years, and an average of four to five hundred are camped there, no school and no medical aid had ever been provided until we began caring for them last fall. According to our records, over half of the camp have received medical treatment. The mine superintendent is now urging us to hold regular religious services for them.

When the call first came to establish a medical clinic here in Monument Valley one of the first questions asked was, "How many Indians are living in Monument Valley?" The answer was about four hundred and fifty. Right then many were ready to dismiss the project. Monument Valley is only one little spot in a vast expanse of the northern section of the Navajo reservation.

It is 103 miles to the closest hospital and doctor in any direction you might go. This means that Navajo patients are now coming to the Monument Valley Clinic for a radius of fifty miles. In this area live not four hundred and fifty but several thousand Indians. In the few months that we have been here we have over five hundred names on the patient list and have given about fifteen hundred treatments to Navajo patients; not to mention the work which we have been able to do for the white tourists and residents living in this area. "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few." Pray the Lord of the harvest that He will send more laborers into His harvest field.

MARVIN WALTER.

Commencement at St. Helena School of Nursing

Nineteen hundred fifty-one will mark the sixtieth commencement exercises for the St. Helena School of Nursing.

At eight o'clock on Friday evening, August 17, the class will meet for the Consecration service at the Community Hall. Elder W. R. Foulston will be the speaker.

On Sabbath morning, August 18, Elder Paul Heubach will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon in the Community Hall at the eleven o'clock hour.

At seven o'clock on Sunday evening, August 19, the alumnae of the school are requested to meet in uniform in the Berean Chapel at the Sanitarium to join the processional. The exercises will begin at seven-thirty. They are to take place on the Sanitarium lawn in front of the new hospital. Dr. Harri Davies will give the address.

La Sierra College

Field Representatives Available for Counsel

Elders Edward Heppenstall and Thomas Blincoe are giving most of their time this summer to attending camp meetings in the Pacific Union Conference, at visiting our churches in the southern part of the territory, and in interviewing former and prospective students of the college here. These teachers report a pleasant time and most encouraging prospects for the coming year. They find the young people and our membership as a whole interested in Christian education such as our colleges offer.

Any prospective or tentative student of La Sierra College who has not been contacted and has questions he would like to discuss, should drop a note (or a postal card) to either Elder Heppenstall or Elder Blincoe at La Sierra College, Arlington, California. They are the official field representatives of the college and will, for the most part, be able to interview the students in the students' homes in this territory.

Most of the time, the problems of getting to college, of what to do at college, and of how to make a success there can be cleared up quickly in a talk with one of these teachers, each one a sympathetic counselor of young people. Similarly the other teachers and the administrators of the college, including the president, the registrar, and the deans, stand ready to help the young people who let them know of the needs.

What to Do in Time of Threat

The war-scare deterrent to attending college has largely spent itself, and most of our young people are going ahead with plans to be in school as long as they can.

This seems wise. War or no war, school is the best place for a young person to be. When a student is called to army service—and only then—must he defer his school work. And all the school work one can get is no less valuable to him because of his military induction. In fact, it may be more immediately valuable to him in the army than elsewhere. Certainly the character training and personality stabilization that result from substantial college work will be immeasurably valuable to a young Christian soldier. Likewise, men of character who are educated to the best things are of most value to Uncle Sam, however difficult it may be for narrowly trained officials, on occasion, to perceive that truth.

Let no one be so shortsighted as to stop his school attendance when he is threatened with army service. No one goes and pulls the roof off his house because he sees a heavy rainstorm coming up.

Report of Camp Meeting Sabbath Schools

Under the supervision of our newly elected conference Sabbath school secretary, Elder Clarence C. Kott, who was introduced to us by our conference president, Elder R. R. Bietz, the forty-ninth annual camp meeting Sabbath school was under way Sabbath morning, June 23. And what could have been more appropriate for such an occasion than the singing of "How Firm a Foundation," by nearly 9,000 Sabbath keepers in the main auditorium. . . .

Elder Henry J. Westphal, president of the Mexican Union, brought to us a little closer picture of the needs of the mission field. . . .

Elder Paul Heubach brought to our attention many interesting points in our Sabbath school lesson on "The Impending Conflict."

I wish it could have been your privilege to look in on each of the Sabbath school divisions on the campgrounds. I was deeply impressed with the order and solemnity of the services in each of the overflowing divisions.

If you could have visited the various divisions you would have heard approximately 500 primary boys and girls, under the direction of Mrs. Ray Swanson, singing

"Fill me now Lord Jesus
Fill me now I pray
Fill me with Thy spirit
Fill me every day."

It would have thrilled your souls to have heard the large group of juniors singing, only as juniors can, "Onward Christian Soldiers." . . .

At the kindergarten tent you would have seen 510 boys and girls seated, plus nearly 200 more children and parents who were unable to enter the tent due to lack of space, listening to a beautiful story of creation, and hearing the three Rue brothers playing on their instruments, "Fairest Lord Jesus," and "Goin' Home." Just across the road were 3,000 youth worshipping in the beauty of holiness.

An overflow group of cradle roll children sang, "Thank You Lord for Everything" and watched with interest as Mrs. R. R. Breitgam told them the story of the little lost sheep.

After witnessing all of this who could doubt the presence of the Spirit of the Lord on this campground, . . .

The total offering received from 15,000 or more worshipers Sabbath morning was $3,932.80, an increase of $408.34 over the first Sabbath of camp meeting last year.

As God saw us safely through a week of rich blessings, another Spirit-filled Sabbath school was conducted on the Lynwood campgrounds Sabbath morning, June 30. The opening hymn, announced by Elder Robert W. Greiner, rang forth the thoughts of all in attendance as they sang, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." It is indeed a privilege to have such a fortress as our heavenly Father in times such as we are living in today.

Elder B. R. Spear brought us into even closer communion with God as he asked God's blessing upon the many thousands in attendance. We are indeed thankful for a prayer-hearing and prayer-answering God.

The great needs of the Inter-American mission field were made more vivid to us as Elder Elmer Walde, associate secretary of the Radio Department of the General Conference, brought firsthand information received on his tour through this needy field.

It was a pleasure to have Elder Paul Wickman, secretary of the General Conference Radio Department, bring to us spiritual food in the Sabbath school lesson of the day. . . .

As the eight or nine thousand in the main auditorium were being spiritually fed, the lambs of the flock were not forgotten. . . . Upon entering the cradle roll division, under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Schrippo, it was heart-warming to listen to tiny tots singing praises to God, that "The Children of the World are the Flowers in His Garden." Just a short distance away the voices of hundreds of kindergarten children, under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Watwood Merkel were singing,

"I open my Bible book and read
He loves me, He loves me."

What could tug at one's heartstrings more than to listen to a little child sing such praise of love to God.

An overflow group of primary children, led by Mrs. Ray Swanson, listened intently as Elder Louis Schutter related to them the story of Joseph. To make the story even more real, the talents of Mrs. Terrell were used in chalking a picture of Joseph and his coat of many colors, as the story progressed.

As we neared the junior tent, being supervised by Mrs. Vera Bristow, echoes of hundreds of voices rang out with the words, "What the World Needs is Jesus." During this encampment many juniors' hearts have been turned heavenward, for they have realized that what they need also is Jesus.

Elder Paul Heubach, a beloved friend of youth, presented the lesson of the day in such a way as to cause many of our young people to stop and think of the wonderful blessings that are ours. God has been truly good to us, and it was with many heart-felt adieus that another camp meeting Sabbath school had passed into oblivion.

Changes

Elder R. G. Mote has resigned as administrator and business manager of the Paradise Valley Sanitarium. For some time he has been desirous of giving his full time to the work of the ministry, and he has accepted the pastorate of the Corona church. Elder and Mrs. Mote have entered enthusiastically into their new work, and we expect to see the work go forward in a strong way under his able leadership. We wish for them every blessing in their new responsibilities.

To fill the vacancy, the Sanitarium Board has invited Brother Edward Guthrie, administrator and business manager of the Walla Walla Sanitarium. Brother Guthrie served in this capacity in the Manila Sanitarium previous to the Japanese war. He was interned with other prisoners and rescued from prison by the paratroopers. Brother Guthrie's years of experience in our work qualify him well for the leadership of our institution, and we are happy that he has accepted the invitation. He will soon be entering upon his duties.

Brother Mote is carrying forward the work there until Brother Guthrie arrives, dividing his time between Corona and the sanitarium.

We extend a hearty welcome to Brother and Sister Guthrie and their family to the work in this field. The Lord is blessing the work at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium. We rejoice in what is being accomplished there. We believe that the Lord has a definite place for our sanitarium work and that Paradise Valley will continue in days to come to be a great blessing to the sick who come to its doors for help and a real blessing to the work of this conference.

We have a loyal group of men and women serving in this institution and we appreciate having this group of workers connected with our force of conference workers.

H. H. HICKS.

Around Southeastern

Kenneth Perry, who has been pastor of the Newport Beach church has asked for a leave of absence for one year so that he may take advantage of the G. I. Bill of Rights to attend the Seminary at Washington, D. C. To fill the vacancy at Newport Beach, the conference committee has asked Hollis Anderson to transfer from Barstow to this beach city church. Elder J. C. Michalenko, who for the past two years has been principal of the San Diego Union Academy, has been invited to fill the vacancy at Barstow. He has had many years of district pastoral work, and therefore the work of the pastor is not new to him. We welcome Elder Michalenko and his family to this conference, and wish him much of heaven's blessing as he takes up his new work.

To fill the vacancy at the San Diego Union Academy, the board unanimously elected Prof. Max Williams as principal. He has been dean of boys at the Arizona Academy. Brother Williams has enthusiastically entered into his new responsibilities, and we believe that the work will go forward in a strong way in that school. We welcome Professor and Mrs. Williams to our conference, and wish for them the rich blessings of God.

According to the clerk's reports, there were 181 who joined the church by baptism and profession of faith for the second quarter, making a total of 368 who have taken this important step for the Master during the past six months. The membership of our conference now stands at 11,125.

We are happy to report that our gathering now totals $90,665 with still more to come in. Our Sabbath School offerings show a gain of $10,214 as compared with the same period last year. Our tithe reflects an increase of $73,363 over last year. For all these gains we are grateful to God for the bountiful blessings bestowed upon Southeastern.                      E. A. SCHMIDT.

Your Mission School

A successful year closed at the Callexico Mission School with the graduation June 5 of four students from the tenth grade and twenty-two from the eighth grade. Elder Gabriel Arregui formerly a teacher in the school, but now pastor of the El Paso and Las Cruces district in the Texico Conference, was the speaker of the evening. Because our own chapel was too small, Brother Earl Meyer, principal of the school, had arranged for the use of the Callexico High School Auditorium. Brother Robert Becker gave two vocal numbers and Brother Meyer distributed the diplomas.

A very interesting feature of the closing exercises was conducted the following morning when seventy-five honor certificates and special award certificates for scholarship, Bible reading and study were presented.

Our school on the border is doing fine work. One hundred and ten young people and children, mostly from non-member families and a majority coming across from Mexico, have been under the spiritual influence of the last-day message. In all the classes and particularly in the Bible classes in the upper and academy grades, definite efforts have been made to keep our special truths before these young people, although in a very tactful way.

In addition to their work in our school, our teachers have also been most active in assisting Elder Tomas Requines in an evangelistic effort during a substantial part of the school year.

Brother and Sister Meyer have helped with the pictures and the gathering of the people together; Brother Becker has led the music; and Miss Clarice Driver has played the piano.

On the completion of this school year, Brother and Sister Becker have left the Imperial Valley for Lodi where Brother Becker is to teach in Lodi Academy next year. We have appreciated their help in our various churches of the Valley during their two years of service here. They are being succeeded in the Mission School by Brother and Sister Robert Kimball, who together with Brother Meyer as principal, Mrs. Meyer and Miss Clarice Driver will comprise the faculty for the coming year. The Kimballs have arrived at Calexico and are working at the school in the summer duties.

The Work in Blythe

Slowly the faithful little group in Blythe, where the mercury thrives at 120°, is growing into a full-fledged church body. Our work out here on the desert is slow, but the Lord is with us.

For the past three years Elder A. B. Huenergardt pastored the little flock in Blythe, helping to break down prejudice, baptizing several, and gaining interest. During his stay plans were laid and money raised to begin a lovely church building, now nearing completion. The entire group, at present meeting in a rented hall, is eagerly awaiting the completion of the church.

In March, the writer and his family moved to Blythe. Plans for an effort brought about a search for a meeting place. The only available hall was an ex-feed-store building, which took a lot of cleaning and decorating. Meetings were held for two months when hot weather made further studies undesirable.

Since the close of our evangelistic meetings we have had health lectures every Friday night, which are growing in attendance. Also we are now holding a three-week Vacation Bible School. Mrs. Wellman takes the little folks in the Bible School, and the writer studies with the teen-agers. The first week the youngsters enjoyed the school so much that they invited their friends and the membership doubled the second week. As a result we have some interested and appreciative mothers and several new and enthusiastic teen-agers.

Through a lot of steady hard work on the part of all we have baptized several and hope to double our membership before fall. Then we want to hold a new spearhead series in our new church. With the help of the Lord our great desire is to fill our church by the end of the year.

ELLSWORTH E. WELLMAN.

Moab, Monticello, Milford, Utah

Moab: Throughout the conference on the Sabbath day small groups of our isolated believers are gathering in homes or halls or small churches to study the Word of God and have Christian fellowship. In southeastern Utah our company of believers is growing. As we met with the group in Moab recently we found twenty-three gathered for worship in the little Baptist church in that city. Brother and Sister Orbra Wiggle are faithful in their leadership of this group. Their sons, Jerry and Ronald, were home from the academy and were in charge of an interesting Sabbath school program.

Seventh-day Adventists are well known and respected in the city of Moab. Brethren Provonsha and Wiggle are operating a successful business enterprise there and are hoping that other Adventists will move into this community to join with them in living the message. There are a number of business opportunities in this place. If any are interested in moving out of larger centers into a beautiful oasis and entering into a successful business relationship, the conference office will be glad to give further information.

Monticello: A number of months ago Brother Lennard Mead and his family left a populace center to move into the vicinity of Monticello where we have had no membership. In a careful, tactful way he began to talk and study with his neighbors. The Lord blessed his efforts and on Sabbath, June 16, two fine young married couples, formerly of the Church of the Latter-day Saints, were baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The baptism took place in a stream in the beautiful La Sal National Forest.

Brother Mead is not alone now in his Bible studies and cottage meetings, for Brother and Sister Ed Holiday and Brother and Sister George Holiday are actively engaging with him in witnessing for the message they love so dearly.

Brother Ed Cleveland, a student colporteur, is canvassing in southeastern Utah this summer with good success. We pray that many individuals will be contacted who will be interested in further study into God's Word and that this will develop an interest which will aid in the growth and establishment of our work.

Pastor Sydney Allen, in charge of the Provo and Price churches, is ministering to the believers in Moab once a month, and will also care for these new believers in Monticello.

Milford: On Sunday afternoon, July 1, a group of about thirty-five believers and friends gathered by a stream at Milford, Utah, to listen to a message from God's Word and to witness a baptism of two of God's children. Brother and Sister Burton Boundey and the little company at Milford have been giving Bible studies and working diligently in behalf of a number of individuals in this community. These are the first fruits of their efforts. It is planned that this company will be organized into a church within a short time. They are laying plans for the erection of a church building.

We are rejoicing to see growth in some of the smaller cities of our vast territory.

ANDREW FEARING.

Nevada-Utah Workers' Meeting

"It's the best workers' meeting we've ever attended," was the unanimous opinion expressed by all the preachers and their wives who attended in Salt Lake City recently. The term "lecture" was completely forgotten, since the meetings were largely round-table discussions. Almost every phase of the minister's work and life was discussed frankly and prayerfully. The ladies met separately in the afternoons and had similarly stimulating discussions.

Elder Andrew Fearing, the conference president, preached a stirring revival sermon each evening to the members of the Salt Lake City churches and their friends. Time off for recreation in some of Utah's beautiful out-of-door country was relaxing. Everyone who attended the meeting returned to his duties inspired to do more than ever in harvesting many sheaves of souls for God.

Our Junior Camp

Have you heard about our splendid Junior Camp plans for this year? They are exciting. You will enjoy every moment of the camp. All activities are being carefully planned for your greatest enjoyment and enlightenment. There will be games, hikes, and plenty of craft classes. The nature activities will be better than ever.

Do you know the dates for our camp and where it will be held? How about the new name? Have you heard it? Here are the clues to a happy camping experience:

Dates: August 12 to 21.

Place: Pinecrest in the beautiful Sierra Nevada.

Name: Camp Nevutah.

Send your reservations early to the Missionary Volunteer Department, Nevada-Utah Conference, Box 1470, Reno, Nevada.

Camp Nevutah will bring you the greatest Christian thrills.

Spiritual Exercise

The purpose for gathering a nucleus of active laymen at a great Laymen's Congress to be held at Grand Ledge, Michigan, August 29 to September 2, is two-fold. Without giving some careful thought one could easily say there could be only a single purpose. But it must be realized that with the coming of a new approach to personal evangelism there also comes a revitalized church. Thus while others are being saved the church cannot but help saving itself.

Too often candidates for church membership have not been instructed concerning the importance and actual need of engaging in some phase of soul winning. Everyone should be taught before coming into church fellowship that personal evangelism is not a requirement for membership but is a natural outgrowth of the "born again" experience. As the physical body suffers for lack of experience so the spiritual body remains in ill health until one goes about "doing good" as did the Master. Working in the Lord's vineyard is not to earn His favor but rather because it is already had and concern for souls is nothing other than an expression of the inner heart.

There are three parts to a balanced Christian's life. They are study, prayer and service. Usually proper instruction is given on the first two points but often nothing is said on the matter of service. Note well this statement: "There is a close analogy between the physical and the spiritual life. There are three things necessary to the full development of the spiritual life,—prayer, Bible study, and missionary work. If a Christian neglects, and finally abandons, prayer and Bible study, spiritual death will follow. A weak spiritual life may be maintained without doing missionary work, but it will be a mere feeble existence. Spiritual exercise, or work for other souls, is required to develop deep spirituality, and to make a Christian a power for good." Vol. 6, p. 422.

As the Laymen's Congress is approached everyone should pray that God will guide in the final plans so that when the great gathering is held everything will be done according to God's plan and that the joy and satisfaction of going on the King's business will be renewed. Then, not only will the churches live anew and the membership be doubled in a short time, but very soon the work will be finished. And then the goal set before us will be reached and the faithful will see Him, "face to face." The Nevada-Utah Conference is entitled to send nine delegates to the Laymen's Congress. Active laymen wishing to attend the Congress should speak to their pastors.

Camp Meeting for 1951

The more than 7,500 persons who attended the Northern California Conference camp meeting at Lodi Academy, June 12 to 23, constituted a record gathering. The men, women, young people, and children, over the week end not only filled the auditorium, but sat outside listening to the service by public address system. They filled the large young people's tent, Academy chapel, kindergarten, and junior tents, and also the Central Adventist church in Lodi. With almost 14,000 members in the conference, this attendance may be expected.

Not only was the attendance outstanding, but also were the meetings, especially the early morning meeting beginning at 6:30. Here the people came in greater numbers than usual, expecting a spiritual infilling. Part of the service was theirs—in small groups they prayed and testified. The Lord blessed them.

On the first Sabbath of camp meeting, the following four young men were ordained to the ministry: George R. Jensen, S. Lawrence Maxwell, Harold H. Ruppert, and William H. Shelly. The ordination service was in charge of Elder C. L. Bauer, the president of the Pacific Union Conference.

Northern California was fortunate in obtaining excellent ministerial help from the General and Pacific Union Conferences. From the General Conference came Elders A. L. Ham, field secretary, Homer Teesdale of the Home Study Institute, J. A. Buckwalter of the Temperance Department and K. S. Crofoot on furlough from Jamaica.

Dr. Edward Heppenstall of La Sierra College and Dr. P. E. Quimby of Pacific Union College gave excellent help in the general meetings, to the young people, and at the workers' meetings.

There was an outstanding spirit of comradeship among the workers. The tithe, mission offerings and membership of the conference are increasing. The book sales at the camp meeting amounted to $12,500. The work of the conference is progressing under the able leadership of Elder Carl Becker. The prospects for Northern California Conference are bright. A. E. NELSON.

Sabbath School Workshop

The Northern California Conference is conducting a Sabbath School Evangelism Workshop at Pacific Union College August 8-14. Instructors will be Elder W. J. Harris and Miss Louise Meyer from the General Conference; Elder R. R. Breitigam of the Pacific Union Conference; Elder Carl Becker and others from our local conference. The cost will be transportation and meals in the cafeteria. The conference will provide rooms for two in a room.

All those interested in Sabbath school work are invited to attend. The time will be devoted to the study of Sabbath school evangelism. For further information write to J. Walter Rich, Sabbath School Secretary, Northern California Conference, Box 149, Oakland, Calif.

Armstrong Grove Youth Rally

Over five hundred youth of M. V. District Nine gathered for the second of their quarterly rallies. Mr. Demetria Lewis found all the societies well represented when the roll was called.

The afternoon was devoted to a symposium on relationships. The Scripture reading was given by two Pathfinders from Napa. Those taking part in the symposium were Elders R. C. McPherson, Gordon McCrillis, and Lawrence Maxwell, and Brother Ellyson. Special music was presented by representatives from several of the societies.

The supper hour and the nature walk conducted by a Park Ranger filled the intermission period. Before Elder Fillman led the consecration service, a Bible nature quiz was conducted and special music rendered. Elder Fillman's talk completed, candles were distributed to each, and when lighted they symbolized the promise to share our faith to those around us.

Educational Day

Under date of July 3, direct word was sent to the district pastors and church elders indicating that the EDUCATIONAL DAY program for the Central California Conference was being postponed so as not to conflict with the camp meeting. This postponement makes it possible for all of our people to be in their home churches on Educational Day which is scheduled for Sabbath, August 11. The topic for the day "Are We Saving Our Children?" should call every Christian and especially parents to do some earnest heart searching. This special day offers an unusual opportunity to promote Christian education in harmony with the counsel to the remnant church through the Spirit of prophecy. The ingathering of our children is worthy of our strongest support.

Success in any spiritual endeavor usually follows a carefully laid plan. Success in the educating and the saving of the children of the church is no exception to this generalization. All homes and every prospective student should be visited so that attendance in a Christian school may be assured well in advance of the opening of school in September. God will honor His people with power and material strength if an all-out effort is made to gather the children within the haven of refuge before the storm breaks.

The offering taken on Educational Day is set aside for elementary schools. It should come to the conference and go toward the maintenance and support of church schools, church school teachers' salaries, and such other appropriations as are made through the Educational Committee or Conference Committee toward the equipment and support of our elementary schools. The demand for educational funds is great even in a large conference. Worthy students need help. The assistance received by many of our churches is greatly needed and much appreciated.

An investment in Christian education is truly an investment made for eternity. May the Master Teacher lead and guide us unitedly and especially at this season in our endeavors to help our boys and girls in their character-development through attendance at a Christian school.

Japanese Church Ingathering

Seventy-five year old Sister Yoshida faithfully came out to solicit for missions. During the nine days of the campaign she gathered in $69.55.

Such is the story of just one of the 85 who took an active part in the Ingathering of the Japanese church in Honolulu. By the help of the Lord the total received was $2,779.49 and the number having reached the Minute-man goal of $20.41 was 66.

The missionary leadership of Brethren Tetsuo Toyama and Kazunobu Okuda was wonderful. The spirit of cooperation and the willingness to work were cheerfully manifested by the members.

Honolulu Vacation Bible Schools

"I wish we had planned to hold the school for three weeks instead of just two," remarked Mrs. Mary Barger as she came home from the fourth day's Vacation Bible School being held at the Honolulu Central church.

A mimeographed announcement was personally delivered to every family living in the immediate vicinity of Central church. All children between the ages of 4 and 12 years were invited to attend a two-week (10 school days) Vacation

Bible School. "There will be Music, Stories, Crafts and Recreation—Everyone is welcome—9:00 to 11:30 daily," read the announcement.

Mrs. Maidelle Barber and her associates hardly knew how many they should plan to accommodate. This was the first time Central had held such a summer program. To their surprise there were 65 who registered the first day and paid their 50-cent "supplies fee." But there were more that registered the next day—and the next. Today, after four days, 100 have registered.

The children are divided into three groups—Kindergarten, Primary and Junior—with a leader and associates in each group. "Adventures in the Bible Lessons" and accompanying workbooks are being used with good success. Various arts and crafts are being taught, and, as one of the leaders mentioned just today, "We may have a few hitches in the program once in a while, but we really have a good time."

The Kaimuki church is planning to hold a Vacation Bible School beginning July 30. Kaimuki church leaders pioneered in conducting a very successful school last summer.

A third Honolulu Vacation Bible School is in operation at the present time. Mrs. Abbie Naluai has become quite famous throughout the Kapahulu area for her Bible pictures and stories. For a time it was feared that, due to religious prejudice, she would not be able to use the public park for her weekly Story Hour. She was officially asked to discontinue her work. But the children carried the torch and kept demanding more stories.

Finally, one of the community leaders approached Mrs. Naluai with the suggestion that she participate with them in their "Summer Fun" daily program in the park. She was asked to take a certain hour during the morning and show her pictures and tell stories. "I thought I was just going to be there for an hour or so, but I find it impossible to get away. In fact, I've been there every day, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 in the morning until about 2:00 p.m.," joyfully exclaimed Mrs. Naluai. An average of 65 children attend daily.

As always, favorable contacts with parents have resulted from these Bible schools. Without doubt Bible studies will be started, and we will continue to pray that the hearts of these little ones, and their parents, will be drawn heavenward.

DON R. CHRISTMAN.

Ilocano Effort

We are now on the second week of our effort among the Ilocano-speaking people in one of the pineapple camps in the vicinity of the town of Wahiawa on the Island of Oahu. We are conducting these meetings in a camp club house on Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights. The Lord has blessed us with a good attendance especially at the Sunday night meetings. Brother Alfred Munar is assisting me and also colporteuring in nearby communities.

Mrs. Aladen is conducting a story hour for the children on Tuesday and Thursday nights, and on the first two week nights there was an average of 35 children attending. We believe the influence of these story hours for the children has helped to give us the increased attendance we are having this second week of our meetings.

There are literally scores of Ilocano-speaking camps in the Hawaiian Islands, and many of them far bigger than the one where we are now conducting meetings. They need the present truth for this solemn hour. Pray for us that this might be the beginning of an accelerated crusade for Christ among the Filipino people in this field.

We have been very much encouraged by the whole-hearted support our Filipino members are giving us in our new venture for Christ. We believe that the Lord will reward our coordinated effort for Him.

V. C. ALADEN.

"So the Carpenter Encouraged the Goldsmith . . ."

The Waipahu church, just a stone's throw from Pearl Harbor, has gone beyond its Minuteman goal in Ingathering. And the work was not done by just two of three energetic solicitors. After services you would hear someone asking, "Have you reached your goal yet?"

"No. I lack, a little."

"Then I will help you."

And from another quarter could be heard about the same words: "Have you reached your goal yet?"

"No. I need a few dollars more."

"I will be glad to go out with you."

This spirit spread throughout the church until victory came. One member helped four others, including an elderly grandmother who was rather feeble.

"They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.

"So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smote the anvil. . . ." Isa. 41:6, 7.

Hawaiian Mission Academy Newsettes

The faculty met at a special session Thursday evening July 12 to lay plans for the coming school year. First of all they adopted a six-period program instead of the seven-period one that has been used in the past. The advantages of the new program include a full-hour's time at noon for lunch and play and an earlier dismissal.

It is also planned that one chapel period a week be devoted to various club activities. Some clubs suggested are: music, photography, I.R.C., Teachers of Tomorrow, Spanish, nature, flower arrangement, art, and others.

Wednesday chapels will continue to be the devotional day with spiritual talks and prayer bands.

Thursday chapels will be given over to A.S.B. meetings, group discussions, or class meeting, depending upon the need at the time.

It is also planned that all the spiritual activities of the school will be under the direction and guidance of a Spiritual Activities committee, composed of Elder Hideo Oshita, Principal A. R. Tucker, Mr. William V. Albee, Miss Lorna Kuniyasu, and the leaders of the King's Crusaders and A.S.B. spiritual committee.

Each prayer band will have a faculty member as an adviser with whom the band leader may counsel. In this way there can be a united working together of faculty and students in the spiritual phases of our school.

Miss Myra B. Kite of Pacific Union College, and Mrs. Mary Groome of La Sierra, who are teaching in the summer school for elementary teachers, are occupying the Kawananakoa apartment. ## OBITUARIES

FAUCHER—Joseph J. Faucher was born in Kankakee Co., Ill., Jan. 22, 1863; and departed this life in Los Angeles June 21, 1951. He became an Adventist in his youth and was a loyal member of the church at Wichita, Kans., at the time of his death. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Carrie Faucher, 2 sons, 5 grandchildren, 2 great-grandchildren, 2 sisters, and other relatives.

LOPER—Alpha L. Loper was born in Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 19, 1889; and died at Dinuba, Calif., June 17, 1951. Reared in an Adventist home, she was baptized at the age of 16 and remained a faithful and consistent Christian. She had spent some years in church school teaching. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. A. N. Loper, a sister, Bessie Loper, and other relatives.

AXTELL—Minnie May Hanson Axtell was born Jan. 11, 1870, in Denmark, and passed away June 27, 1951, in Glendale, Calif. She grew up in an Adventist home and accepted her parents' faith. She was married to Asher E. Axtell in 1892. They were both graduated from the nurses training course at the St. Helena Sanitarium and both spent their lives in loving service for others. Brother Axtell died a few years ago. Surviving are a daughter, Aletta Kilgore, and 2 sons, Virgil Axtell and Rollin Axtell.

BROPHY—Harold George Brophy was born June 30, 1943, in Los Angeles, Calif.; and died in Glendale, Calif., May 29, 1951. He loved Jesus and was a Christian. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brophy, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brophy and Elder and Mrs. R. R. Breitigam, look forward to the resurrection. Harold was buried beside his little sister who died but a few months ago.

WASELL—Harold G. Wasell was born in London, Ontario, Canada, June 9, 1885; and died in Glendale, Calif., June 10, 1951. He was married to Myrtle L. Square in 1910. He leaves his wife and 2 brothers, William and Degby Wasell.

BOND—Mrs. Flora Ellen Krepps Bond was born in Woodbine, Ia., in 1869; and passed away Jan. 30, 1951, in Hanford, Calif. In 1892 she was married to William F. Bond, who preceded her in death in 1928. She was an active member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for many years. She is survived by 3 daughters, 3 sons, 11 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren, and 2 sisters.

CARR—Mary Ann Fairbanks was born Sept. 11, 1865, in Chase Mills, N.Y.; and passed away June 18, 1951, at Angwin, Calif. She attended school at Battle Creek, Mich. Here she was baptized and joined the old Tabernacle church. Miss Fairbanks was later connected with the Salisbury Health Garment Institute in Battle Creek. In 1886 she was married to Burton O. Carr who was instructor in building at the Battle Creek College.

Brother and Sister Carr were sent from Battle Creek in 1890 to College View, Nebr., he to superintend the construction of Union College. Later they went to help build Walla Walla College. Following the completion of a dormitory in Battle Creek, Brother and Sister Carr were sent to Capetown, Africa, where Brother Carr supervised the construction of the Claremont Sanitarium in 1897. Returning to the United States in 1907, the Carrs went to help in the enlarging of the Paradise Valley Sanitarium, and later to the old Glendale Sanitarium. Brother Carr passed to his rest in 1929. Since then Sister Carr had lived with her daughter Hazel, Mrs. Sylvester Bird.

Sister Carr was a lover of children and through the years had in her home the care and training of some sixty girls and boys. A faithful disciple of the Lord has gone to her well-earned rest to await the call of the Life-giver. She leaves her daughter and son-in-law and a grandson, James Bird.

A Minuteman Conference

The Nevada-Utah Conference, with a new president and a new home missionary secretary and their group of workers, decided that Nevada-Utah was to become an Ingathering Minuteman conference. This has been accomplished! The report has come to us that the Nevada-Utah Conference has reached its goal in cash and is now a Minuteman conference. How wonderful! The spirit of cooperation has made this possible. Church members have joined with the workers, and God has richly blessed. We greatly appreciate the efforts of every one in that conference in making this possible.

A. D. BOHN.

A Publishing Plant for Indonesia

Stretching from the western tip of Sumatra to the eastern boundary of the Indonesian Union Mission in mid New Guinea, a distance of more than four thousand miles, is the great island field formerly known as the Dutch East Indies and now called Indonesia. Included in these tropical islands is Sumatra, the home of the Battak people. Here the truth of God has taken deep root, and hundreds of the people have taken their stand with the remnant church. There is also Java with its beautiful mountains, expansive rice fields, and forests of teak, quinine trees, and tropical fruits. Java is the most densely populated spot in the world field. On east, are famed Bali, Timor, Celebes, Spice Islands and all the western half of New Guinea. What a tremendous task faces the church in this expansive, densely populated union mission field. With over one thousand baptisms in 1950, the membership of the church has passed the ten thousand mark. From every part, calls are continually coming to the mission headquarters for literature and workers. It is truly a Macedonian call. We must respond.

One of the great needs is for more literature. Many who desire to be colporteurs have had to take up other work because we cannot supply them with literature. Some who have been trained in colporteur institutes have had to give up their work for there was not sufficient literature. We need a printing plant to produce this literature within the field. Because of difficulties in transportation, transfer of money, and other problems, it is very difficult to print elsewhere and ship to this field. We believe the establishment of a publishing house, equipped to produce an abundance of papers, tracts and books is the answer. It is with this burden upon our hearts that we appeal to you that funds may be provided us from the Missions Extension campaign of 1951. May everyone be impressed and willing to share in this responsibility and blessing that the call for a publishing house in Indonesia may be answered.

V. T. ARMSTRONG,
President, Far Eastern Division.

Something New!

We are beginning something entirely new this week. The column following is entitled the Lay Preacher's Corner, and was planned primarily for him, but we believe it will be equally helpful to those who give Bible studies, to Sabbath school teachers, church and M.V. officers, and to all others who do any church, M.V., or Sabbath school work which calls for public speaking.

These suggestions—we could call them helps, we could call them lessons—were prepared by Elder William T. Hyde, of the faculty of the Department of Religion of Pacific Union College. Elder Hyde goes the "second mile" in his kind thought, he has offered to reply to any questions that are sent to him. His address is Angwin, Calif.

We would urge that these "Corners" be clipped and filed as they appear weekly. This one is the first of a cycle of six; to be followed by other groups dealing with various phases of preparation.

THE LAY PREACHER'S CORNER

I. How to Make a Start

In learning to swim, you do not dive in off the deep end. You begin by getting confidence in the buoyancy of the water, then turn to stroke practice and, finally, start to swim. In the same way, you can build up your confidence and practice different parts of the preaching art in small endeavors before launching into a full thirty-minute sermon.

Take the Review

The Sabbath school review is a good place to make a beginning. The subject is chosen for you, lots of material is provided, and you speak for only eight minutes. This means that you can start right away on the important task of selection.

Much of a speaker's success depends on the skill with which he selects his material. Not only does a broad background of knowledge give him confidence, but it is by the choice and arrangement of the various items that an effective talk is prepared. In this he is guided by a number of factors, the most important of which is probably the rule that everything which goes into the talk must play its part in accomplishing his purpose. It follows that the first step in selection is to determine just what is to be done. Is it to instruct? to encourage? to rebuke? to inspire to labor for Christ? Whatever it is, it must be clear in our minds before we can go on to prepare the materials we are to use.

WILLIAM T. HYDE.
