Give for Liberty

"Things are tightening up." Again and again this remark is heard where friends of religious liberty are brought together. And things are tightening up. We can see the lines drawn already for the fulfillment of the thirteenth chapter of Revelation and those remarkable closing chapters of Great Controversy. Sunday laws, restrictions upon our colporteurs, difficulties in naturalization of Adventists, are increasing problems. And across the gulf which has been separating the force of persecution hands are uniting for the final attacks upon the truth of God.

The religious liberty offering will be received Sabbath, January 21. Please give. LIBERTY: A Magazine of Religious Freedom must reach men of influence increasingly to impress its message of freedom upon their minds. Your offering will provide the means for this.

Literature-Evangelist Request

Our literature evangelists are experiencing an ever-increasing amount of interference in their labor of love and sacrifice from the rapidly spreading so-called Green River laws. While these laws have been adjudged unconstitutional in some instances, they have been upheld in other judicial decisions.

The 1955 Autumn Council responded to an earnest plea for these workers as passed on through the General Conference Publishing Advisory Council and voted: "WHEREAS, Our literature evangelists, as well as Ingathering workers, are meeting increased interference from Green River ordinances, and similar laws in their house-to-house visitation, We recommend, That our churches be urged to place LIBERTY with all public officials, leading lawyers, and educators."

Brethren and sisters, let this become a personal responsibility. Send Liberty to all local, municipal, county, and state officials, making sure the officials of our many smaller villages and towns are not over-looked. Then give a further offering for the conference Liberty fund to provide for lawyers, educators, national leaders, United Nation officials, public libraries, etc.

"Plenty of Time" in Death Row

"I am due to go the first of February. Could you please double my lessons?" requested a convict on death row when he returned his first completed lessons in the Faith for Today Bible Course. "I have plenty of time and would really like to finish my course before I meet God," he added.

Where other than on death row can people be found with "plenty of time"? With so many distractions, with life so complicated, the average person often fights a losing battle for time to study God's word. But on death row each day follows another in a dreary march to eternity—unless one has the Bible Course to study, that is.

Six lessons were rushed to the student in death row in an effort to help him beat his deadline. "I have given my heart to the Lord," he wrote back. "I am truly sorry for my sins, for they are many. Certainly God is just and my deep sorrow is not finding Him sooner."

Best of all, this converted convict has also discovered that he had time to do active missionary work. And where is his mission field? On death row, of course. He has enrolled two of his fellow inmates in the Bible Course and they too are studying, hoping to finish before eternity catches up with them.

God grant that His children who walk the earth free may be as faithful in personal devotions and missionary endeavor as these inmates of death row.

Have You Enrolled?

Perhaps you have heard about the new Chapel Record Club, but have you heard that more than one thousand have already enrolled as charter members in the club? This fine response to the recent announcement of the plan helps to prove that Adventist families are interested in having music in their homes and melody in their hearts.

sweet messages of gospel song can bring to any home! "Often by words of holy song are unsealed in the soul the springs of penitence and faith, of hope and love and joy." "With a song, Jesus in His earthly life met temptation. Often when sharp, stinging words were spoken, often when the atmosphere about Him was heavy with gloom, with dissatisfaction, distrust, or oppressive fear, was heard His song of faith and holy cheer." Education, pp. 162, 166.

Projects—Thirteenth Sabbath Overflow Offering

This quarter the attention of our Sabbath school members throughout the world is to be directed to the islands of the South Pacific. This area constitutes some of the most promising territory for soul-winning.

In New Guinea are to be found large tribes of primitive people who, up to this time, have had little or no contact with the white man, or with the outside world. These primitive tribes are described as being friendly, and now await the gospel message.

The Thirteenth Sabbath Offering Overflow is to be devoted to two specific projects—the enlargement and development of the Coral Sea Union Training School and a hospital in the New Hebrides.

It was in 1947 that a school was established in the Central Highlands of New Guinea, equipped with a tent and a budget of £75. A little later a Thirteenth Sabbath Offering enabled most of the present building to be erected. For a number of years the school functioned for a limited area of the Central Highlands. Now it has become the training school for the entire Coral Sea Union Mission. For this purpose it must be greatly enlarged, and additional equipment must be supplied. The school is situated so that the students can cultivate the land and grow food for themselves as well as certain cash crops. A sawmill is operated by

Reaching Out FOR The Gospel

From east, west, north, south, from the Arctic, the Arabian desert, and islands of the sea, a TV conscious world is reaching out for the gospel.

Adventists are responding to this challenge with Faith For Today, better now than ever with its newly filmed TV series.

The TV industry, recognizing the value of Faith For Today, provides three quarters of a million dollars in free air time, annually. Only God could devise this TV financial miracle.

RESULTS: New fields pioneered • Prejudice allayed • Thousands studying the Bible • New members in the churches • Increased Ingathering.

THE CHURCH'S PART: Provide means to produce the telecasts • Forward films to ever expanding network • Foster follow-up-books, literature, correspondence, and Faith For Today Bible School.

Little Frisky Squirrel

Frisky is a little squirrel who lives in the woods. He is a lively little fellow and jumps about and plays all day long. He has bright sharp eyes, little pointed ears, and a big bushy tail. His teeth are strong and sharp for he does a great deal of gnawing. Some squirrels have reddish brown coats, some black coats, some have gray coats, and some have brown coats with yellow stripes. Our Frisky is gray.

When he was a baby he was not as long as your little finger, but soon he grew bigger. He had to learn to climb a tree just as you had to learn to walk. He was awkward when he first tried to climb, but mother squirrel was very patient with him. She taught him a little more each day until at last he could scamper up and down the tree as fast as she could. He also learned to jump from one limb of a tree to another.

Little Frisky's cousin the flying squirrel has some skin between his front and back legs that helps him sail through the air like a bird. He and his brothers like to play follow-the-leader up the tree, out into the air, and back to the tree trunk again without ever touching the ground. They like to play this game over and over again. Their bushy little tails help to guide them through the air. The flying squirrel does not come out of his home very much in the daytime. He hunts his food at night.

Once in a while the mother flying squirrel takes her little baby with her. Sometimes she carries him in her mouth and sometimes she carries him on her back. When she carries him on her back, he puts his front feet around her neck and holds on tight as she makes a big flying jump with him.

rel are very busy all summer and fall gathering nuts and acorns to hide away for winter. Some of the nuts and acorns are stored away in an old hollow tree. Some are put in a hole in the ground and buried. Others are hidden around the roots of trees. How do the little squirrels know that winter is coming? How do they know that food will be hard to find then? It is God who has taught them to hide their food away. He also teaches them how to find it again in the winter time. Isn't God good to teach the little squirrels how to live?

How long will it last? That depends on you! Less than a month ago a mayor in one of our Southeastern cities tried to convince his city council that they should not grant the request of the church to go caroling on the streets. The same council had refused two previous requests. The pastor of the church and I met with the city council. After about twenty minutes' discussion of the principles involved, the city council granted the permission this year. We thank God for this and other city councils that will uphold the religious liberty principles that we hold so dear.

If we could lift the curtain and see what the old devil has up his sleeve, I'm sure we would be surprised at what lies ahead.

We must keep religious liberty before every lawmaker in our land. We must prepare the minds of our political leaders, our police force, and our neighbors to be tolerant to minority groups.

I recently visited with a very powerful and influential man in our area. I spent two hours and twenty minutes in his office. He knows why we keep the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath. He knows who the beast and the false prophet are. He knows the state of the dead and the change of the Sabbath. He heard it all read from his own Bible that he had in his library. However, just as I left he said to me, "Mr. Scully, don't you believe the majority is always right?"

This is a very dangerous way of life. I am personally going to see that this man receives the Liberty magazine this year. He needs it; so do thousands of other influential men in our conference. We have no funds but those you give to use in this work.

"Satan will excite indignation against the humble minority who conscientiously refuse to accept popular customs and traditions. Men of position and reputation will join with the lawless and the vile to take counsel against the people of God. Wealth, genius, education, will combine to cover them with contempt. Persecuting rulers, ministers, and church members will conspire against them. With voice and pen, by boasts, threats, and ridicule, they will seek to overthrow their faith. By false representations and angry appeals, they will stir up the passions of the people. Not having a 'Thus saith the Scriptures' to bring against the advocates of the Bible Sabbath, they will resort to oppressive enactments to supply the lack. To secure popularity and patronage, legislators will yield to the demand for a Sunday law. . . . On this battlefield comes the last great conflict of the controversy between truth and error." Vol. 5, pp. 450, 451.

Won't you sit down right now and make up a list of persons in your community who must and should receive Liberty this year. Each sponsored subscription to the Book and Bible House costs you only 65 cents. We need thousands of new subscriptions in our conference.

The offering taken on January 21 will renew the subscriptions we are sending through this office and help to send material to our legislators at Sacramento.

Our goal for our Religious Liberty Offering is $1.25 per church member.

Let's plan now to make the offering on January 21 the largest in the history of our religious liberty work. All receipted offerings are deductible from your income tax.

Our liberties will last longer and fewer mayors will try to stop our work if we keep men informed. This is a most important work, as all other activities will stop when our religious liberties come to an end. J. V. SCULLY.

A Report From the San Pasqual Academy

So many visitors who come on our campus for the first time exclaim, "My, what a wonderful lay-out!" or "I have heard of San Pasqual but never believed it was this nice," or "What a beautiful setting for a school!" These statements are not overdone, but rather portray a setting that is appropriate for the tempted youth of these critical times. Much appreciation is in order, and credit is due those who had the vision, the energy and the funds to bring into being San Pasqual Academy.

The present academy board, under the leadership of its chairman, Elder R. C. Baker, is settled in its purpose to do all within its power to enlarge its services to the youth of the Southeastern California Conference. A most significant step was taken in September when the board voted to establish a book bindery as a means of providing greater work opportunities for young people who desire to obtain a Christian education. Mr. Clifton Calkins has responded to the call of our board and is making earnest preparations to get the machinery arranged for operations. We should be ready for our first work about the fifteenth of January.

It is a pleasure to report a healthy growth in the development of our dairy. Under the careful management of Mr. Marion Grecian it has attained a stature that has won the respect of milk producers in San Diego County. The most eloquent expression of public confidence was the enlargement of our quota to supply Grade A milk at premium prices. This has meant a great deal to the financial success of the dairy. As one observes the boys getting into their chores at milking time, one has a deep feeling of respect for their efforts to get an education and a confidence that a little more firmness of character is being woven into their beings.

Our agricultural operations include a poultry house of 3,500 birds under the direction of Mr. Orval Rong, who also supervises the work of the lemon, orange and avocado orchards; and the field crops and machinery care under the direction of Mr. Alvin Johnson. To Mr. Glenn Houck, the farm manager and his department heads is due an expression of gratitude for the anxious thoughts, long hours and hard work they have expended to bring about the betterment which we see.

There is room for a few students for the second semester which opens January 23. For information write: San Pasqual Academy, Route 1 Box 890, Escondido, California.

Loma Linda Teen-age Club at Work

"You should have seen them! Five youngsters in one bed, only a ragged bedspread for covering, holes in the windows, barefooted children! There are thirteen of them besides the mother and dad!" Thus ran the report brought to the Loma Linda "Trail Blazers," the teen-age youth club, by the two representatives they had sent to gather information about the family they had decided to help for Christmas. And the enthusiasm didn't end there! Suggestions came flying from every direction—"Dick, can you go to the Dorcas leader with me tomorrow to see if they can help us?" asked Donna. "Sure I can, and I think maybe I could talk the boss of the grocery store out of some food," answered Dick. "I have a doll bed that would be just perfect for the little four-year old to play with," put in another member. "My brother is getting a new bicycle for Christmas—maybe I could talk him into letting us have the old one for that 11-year-old boy," suggested a fourth club member. "Can we find some blankets?" put in Glenda. "Will Mr. Unger dress up as Santa Claus for the kids?" questioned another.

And so went the questions they asked and plans they laid that night. Nor did their fervor die with the end of that evening. A few nights later they gathered the shoes, shoe polish, irons, needle and thread, and a huge stack of clothes—not to mention the boxes of food! There were Dick, and Donna, and Glenda, and Delores and Dianne—and many others had sent things to be packed up to help make one family's Christmas a little happier.

And then what a wonderful climax! Most of the fifteen or twenty members were on hand early on Christmas Eve to join in the fun of delivering their gifts. They have proved that there is a real joy in giving "unto the least of these."

Twentieth Century Coercion

Tyranny was never to raise its ugly head in America—and tyranny is an ugly word. As citizens we resist political tyranny with all that we have in us—we will spend our fortunes, we will send our sons and daughters away to die on the field of battle to free us from political tyranny, and that price has been paid many times on the battlefield, even in our lifetime.

There is another kind of tyranny even more prevalent and more sinister, because it exploits the health of young men and women—actually it is the sort of tyranny that takes life by drug addiction brought on by the exploiters. In political tyranny the rulers serve their selfish desires by taking advantage and seizing power over the lives of the citizens—the peddlers of nicotine poison carry on a nefarious tyranny in selling the cigarettes to the youth, which increase the prospect of lung cancer, and the cigarette companies do it unchallenged.

Our children are constantly under the lash of the tyranny of custom which imposes on them by repetition, by cajolery, by persuasion, that they take up the tobacco habit. And it is true that our children have an inborn tendency to imitate those who are older and to follow their advice, both in word and deed.

Nicotine is a deadly poison and the bottle that contains nicotine must have a skull and crossbones on it in plain sight, and it must be labeled with the word "poison." Cigarettes contain much nicotine, as well as other harmful ingredients.

Truth taught in our homes would tend to neutralize normally the effect of gossip and false notions regarding tobacco, but the problem is more complicated. We have the radio with its manufactured monotony and the television with its fickle flickerings and billboards and magazines with their brazen effrontery, bringing into the public places and our homes the falsehoods regarding cigarettes and tobacco. Thus our children are not free from the forces of tyranny which would enslave them, shortening their lives and making it necessary for them to live their lives outside the church membership.

The Temperance department of the Southeastern California Conference is anxious to help the parents and children. We have the picture, "One in 20,000"—we have the pamphlet, Alert, the magazine, Listen.

Progress in Hollywood

Last October, the Hollywood church embarked upon the greatest single venture in its history! Plans were laid for the building of a larger church, a parking lot, and a school for our children. Members of the church quickly stepped forward and accepted the responsibility of putting those plans into action. Almost before we knew it, initial gifts had mounted up the financial scale to the dizzy height of $100,000. We then held a Loyalty Dinner. Never, in the memory of our oldest members, has there been a turnout like that. Speeches were made, plans were outlined, and enthusiasm ran high. The success of this Loyalty Dinner can best be attested to by the fact that when the canvassers had completed their work, they had received a total of $170,000 in cash and pledges.

We are going forward in Hollywood.

Typical of the many Christmas trees decorated with missions funds in Southern California Conference churches during the recent Christmas season is this one at Florence-Downey church being observed by two youngsters who helped trim it. Members of the church brought many cans of food and other gifts for their community's needy at special services on December 17. A large share of the food was contributed by students at Black Fox Military School—a school which caters to children of wealthy parents who do not normally realize the need of less fortunate children. Through the influence of a Florence-Downey church member who is an official at the school the students contributed the major part of the church's large Christmas giving program.

"The Prince of Peace"

"The Prince of Peace," the ageless story of Christ from the manger to His third coming, was presented by the Aiea church for the church land fund.

Using excerpts from the Biblical and Spirit of prophecy records, narration and music depicted the details of Christ's life. Programs were held at the Aiea and Central churches on December 21 and 23 respectively.

The Aiea 24-voice choir blended their voices to sing "To Us a Child of Hope Is Born," "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "We Three Kings," "The Old Rugged Cross," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Christ Arose." Guests Elder and Mrs. Earl Wright brought inspirational Christmas medley on their marimba; Mrs. Charles Hanson, soprano, sang the ever-sacred "Cantique de Noel"; Mel Beglau played "Open the Gates of the Temple" on his trumpet with his wife accompanying him on the piano; Elder Ernest Broder, tenor, sang "The Stranger of Galilee" and with his wife sang "There Was One Who Was Willing"; and Kenneth Ortiz, tenor, concluded with, "Holy City" and "The Lord's Prayer." The scene of the cross was drawn in chalk by William Villegas.

Accompanying pianist was Mrs. Earl Wright. In charge of the rheostat lighting and colored slides were Elder Hideo Oshita, Gordon Oshita, and Elder Lester Bennett. Decorations were planned by Esther Kobashigawa. The welcome was given by Mrs. Winifred Oshita. Ushers were Mrs. Alice Okihiro, Mr. Sipai Tupua, and Mr. Mariano Tabali.

"Ten a Month Club" Activities

At a laymen's institute on the island of Maui, John Montero heard of the idea of setting a goal to enroll ten people every month in the Voice of Prophecy Bible Correspondence course. That was during October of 1955. This week one of the members wrote that Brother Montero had enrolled over 100 in the Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course.

How many people have you enrolled in the Voice of Prophecy correspondence course? It is a very important form of missionary work and takes only a minimum amount of effort on your part.

After the student is enrolled, the Voice of Prophecy office does the mailing and correcting of lessons. All you are asked to do is to enroll the individual and encourage him to complete the course. Why not take up this type of missionary work and set a personal goal of "ten a month" enrolled in the Bible correspondence course?

Aiea Voice of Prophecy Graduation

In May 1955 the young people of the Aiea church started some meetings in a little quonset hut in the community. These continued every Sunday night, with attendance ranging from 35 to 80 until December 11.

The S.A.V.E. picture studies based on the Shuler Home Bible Course, evangelistic films, and pictures on the Life of Paul were used in connection with the meetings.

A small group successfully completed one or more courses in Bible study and a Voice of Prophecy graduation was conducted on the closing night, December 11. Elder L. E. Davidson, of the mission Radio and Television department, gave the graduation address. Those graduating were Mr. and Mrs. Kanuha, Mr. George Kama, Mrs. Helen Ejercito, Mrs. Solofefilor Tupua, Mrs. Nora Wataoka, and Miss Laverne Avilla.

Three have been baptized and joined the Aiea church, two couples and a man are attending Sabbath services, and there are others receiving Bible studies in their homes.

Let Us Be Sober and Vigilant

Recent death tolls should startle us into the realization that death is riding the highways of this country and that we as members of the remnant church have a great work to do in helping to put an end to the death, misery, broken homes, divorce and tragedy we see on every hand brought about by the terrible demon Alcohol. We here in the Temperance department of your conference are grateful for the forward steps taken over our nation in 1955 to help stem the tide that is sweeping literally millions to Christless graves. May we be helped to realize that there are today 141,733 more liquor-selling places than houses of worship in the U.S.; that during 1954 11,266 illicit stills were seized in our country; that 65% of all the inmates in San Quentin are there because of alcohol: that there are 4,000,000 known alcoholics in the U.S.; that there were 90,000,000 barrels of beer produced in 1954; that 40,000 lives yearly are lost as a result of alcohol; that over this past (1955) Christmas week end 609 lives were taken on the highways of our nation, and the majority of them as a result of drink.

Today, after 20 years of repeal, we find that more than 25% of the United States by area is now dry or bans hard liquor. Governor Shivers of Texas has signed a dry law forbidding possession of liquor at any school stadium or field in Texas. There are 3,547 weekly papers in the United States that refuse liquor ads. In one area of Pennsylvania the dry forces won two special referendums blocking beer and liquor sales in the northern part of the state by a 4-1 vote. Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota has ordered all state officials to end drinking and partying with people they are to regulate. Our hat's off to Texas with its 141 dry counties. On the remaining counties the liquor control board of the state is really putting teeth in the liquor control laws. All around the circle there is an awakening and there is a definite trend in many states of the union for a return to local option and control. The dry forces have definitely turned the corner and are on the way back.

The California Local Self-Government League has presented a local veto measure for the state ballot for 1956 which (if passed) will bring to each local community a voice in the granting of liquor licenses for the community. This is a great step in the right direction. Many of the leading religious bodies of this state are joining in this great crusade. Without a doubt in a short time every one of our churches will be called upon to help in getting this on the 1956 ballot. Let us appeal to every member of Northern California to rally to the hour by voice, pen and vote; as well as joining in a tangible way the American Temperance Society

MV Convention

Delegates from the MV societies and Pathfinder clubs are scheduled to meet in the Hotel Leamington at Oakland, February 3-5, for their annual convention. A concentrated program of instruction is being planned for the weekend meeting, with many of the sessions for the two groups conducted separately.

Sam Campbell Programs

It has been arranged for this popular "Philosopher of the Forest" to conduct another series of programs in Northern California. There has been a change in his original schedule. The appointments now are as follows:

February 1, Chico
February 2, Sacramento
February 4, Oakland
February 6, Placerville
February 7, Santa Rosa

Pathfinder Snow Trip

Over the week end of December 31, the Pinehills Pathfinder club (Auburn-Meadow Vista), under the direction of Donoven Olson, went to our Pinecrest

Camp. They made their headquarters in a cabin purchased a year or two ago, and reported a good time in several feet of snow.

MV Week

MV leaders throughout the conference are beginning to make plans for our annual MV Week of Prayer, scheduled March 10-17.

Dorcas Welfare at Work

Christmas was made a happy occasion in Phoenix for many families who would not have enjoyed a good dinner had it not been for the splendid work done by the Dorcas ladies. Mrs. Mae Wallen, our Central Federation leader, with the help of Mrs. Jay Kleinert, Phoenix Central Dorcas leader and the ladies of the Glendale, Phoenix Central and Southside churches worked several days gathering and packing food baskets and clothing. Twelve families were found during our Ingathering caroling and twenty-three were "adopted families" whose names were received from the Republic and Gazette newspapers. Eighteen Indian families were helped also.

Although Mrs. Alfred Oeltjen, the

These two trucks, loaded with more than eight tons of warm clothing, bedding and canned foods from the St. Helena Sanitarium, Angwin and St. Helena Dorcas societies, were on hand at Yuba City by the time the flood-sufferers could get into their homes to see what needed to be replaced.

State Federation Dorcas leader, has been very ill, she was able to help by using her telephone to garner in food and supplies.

In addition to the work done through the Federated Dorcas, several churches within the Federation had special projects of their own. The Southside church helped with twelve more baskets to needy families and the Phoenix Central reported that nineteen families were given food and clothing through their Dorcas. In all eighty-five food baskets were distributed. All reports are not in at present, but the Christmas spirit reached out from all our churches in this area to the less fortunate ones.

Brother Wm. Gleason and Brother Harold Fisher from the Southside church gathered potatoes, citrus fruit and other staples and distributed them to about sixty more families among the Indian families of the Fort McDowell area.

The Dorcas ladies of the Tucson English church conducted a sale of fancy work and other gift items in front of a large department store on a main street in the city. Mrs. Skadsheim, the Dorcas leader and her group of workers were indeed happy when the day's receipts were counted and $120 was added to their Dorcas funds, to be used for the many needy of that area.

Members of the Cottonwood church have been giving help to a widow and her granddaughter and now these people are also receiving spiritual food in the form of Bible studies, given by Mrs. Margaret Putnam.

Produce grown by Brother Milton Mundall on his farm near Cottonwood was also added to food baskets given to needy families by the Flagstaff church.

A Warning

The recent flood came as a great surprise to many and serves as a warning to Seventh-day Adventist workers in the welfare cause. We discovered that at best we are still ill prepared to meet a real emergency. We did what we could and much good was accomplished and many people were helped.

One truck load of shoes, clothing and bedding went from the warehouse at

Check for $9,500 handed to Brother W. F. Van Atta (left) by Elder Stanley Hiten (center), pastor, and Mr. D. W. Kane (right), church treasurer, of the Central church in San Francisco. This is the In-gathering check to the conference, showing the over-the-Minuteman standing of the Central church, and the very fine work of the members under the leadership of the pastor. Over $5,000 was brought in by the caroling bands.

Watsonville, by permission of the General Conference. This load amounted to 13,000 pounds.

One truck load of bedding was made up among the churches of the peninsula area, not including San Francisco. The San Francisco churches were counseled to send what they had available directly, which they did. Another load or two came out of the San Joaquin Valley. Our people are liberal, you should see the many good mattresses and boxes of brand new quilts that were sent. There were also blankets, sheets, and other items.

Now, "a word to the wise!" Let us bestir ourselves and redouble our efforts and step up the tempo in the attempt to greatly improve our facilities, build better Welfare Centers and enroll more willing workers so that in the event another emergency arises we will be better prepared to cope with the problem.

D. N. REINER, H.M. Secy.

Watsonville Effort

From the opening subject, "The Impending Crash of Nations," to the closing appeal sermon, "The Man in the Middle," evangelist Don Duncan unfolded the wonderful truths of salvation to an attentive and interested audience through a series of 34 meetings. The Watsonville church responded loyally to the task of coming each evening, and bringing their friends. The attendance was constant for the entire series, the last night being the best attended meeting of them all.

Most of the sermons were illustrated effectively with "black light" which helped not only with the interest during the presentation, but stamped the main points of the lecture on the minds of the people as they went home to think about what they had heard.

On Sunday and Wednesday nights, an appropriate sound film was shown before the song service began and on Friday night a "Bible Marking" class was held during the same period for the purpose of review and to present more of the practical aspects of the truths presented. The song service included music from Monterey Bay Academy, under the direction of Moses Chalmers. Many of the congregational songs were illustrated with kodachrome slides and sung from the screen.

One week before the meetings closed, a baptism was held in the Watsonville church with eight candidates publicly declaring their belief in this wonderful message. Several others are definitely planning to be baptized in the next baptism and some are in the valley of decision—for whom we are praying and with whom we are studying. One young man attributes his change of attitude toward the church to the first social of our "Over 20" club. These recreational socials help to break down prejudice in the minds of the non-Adventist young people who attend them.

All of the regular meetings were held in the Women's Club Auditorium, one block from the main street of town.

The evangelistic company included: Elder Don E. Duncan, evangelist; Wayne Griffith, singing evangelist; Jean Duncan, organist; Mary Vornholt, pianist; Barbara Griffith, head usher; and a number of young ladies of the church to assist in ushering. The ushers were prompt, cheerful and reliable—which added much to the pleasant atmosphere of the meeting. Two Pathfinders, Bill Schilling and Danny Pinkney took care of the stage lights.

We are thankful to the Lord for this measure of success and look to Him for greater blessings in the future for the work in Watsonville, "For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations." Psalm 100:5.

Meet Sam Campbell and All Your Friends

Sam Campbell, "The Philosopher of the Forest," is again paying Central California a visit. He is bringing with him three very beautiful and interesting color motion pictures, "Animals of the North Woods," "North Country, Land of the Voyageur," and "Hawaii." All of these pictures contain episodes of frolic with Sam's many animal friends.

You'll see all of your MV Book Club friends from "Inky" to "Loony Coon." Sam Campbell's nature books will be on sale and personally autographed. By all means make "Sam Campbell Night" a family night and meet Sam and his wife, Ginny, personally.

Governor's Traffic Committee Appeals for Safe Driving on the Highways

Here Are a Few Reasons just received from W. A. Huggins, executive secretary for the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee.

For the One Month of December 1954

1. There were 351 traffic deaths, 100 more than the monthly average.
2. Nearly 11,000 persons were injured in traffic that month, 2,000 more than the monthly average.

3. 18,203 traffic accidents occurred, or 3,087 more than the monthly average.
4. 30 more pedestrians were killed than the average of 59.
5. 258 more pedestrians were injured than the usual 910.

During the Year 1954

6. One of every five fatal accidents involved at least one driver who had been drinking liquor. In rural areas this same ratio prevailed.
7. Every fifth pedestrian killed had been drinking liquor.
8. Every fifth traffic accident involved at least one drinking driver.
9. More than one in five violations in fatal accidents were committed by drivers who had been drinking.

Every year the holidays pile up more traffic deaths than any other like periods. Mr. Huggins closes his letter with this personal appeal;

"The answer lies with each individual highway user, for safe speeds, sobriety and common sense will do much to reduce these appalling tolls."

Let us as Seventh-day Adventists individually pledge that we will be the school. It is situated about seven miles distant, at an altitude of 7,200 feet.

In addition to elementary and secondary education, it is hoped that we will soon be able to provide training courses that will fit our young people for work as ministers and teachers. The present enrollment is 140, but with our growing work in New Guinea this number will experience a sharp rise within the next few years. The future development of our work in this vast area depends upon adequately trained native workers who are able to live and toil amid the mountains and the jungles of that territory. We believe our people will sense the tremendous importance of building up this school, and will give liberally upon the Thirteenth Sabbath, March 31.

The New Hebrides is a scattered group of approximately 80 islands stretching over 450 miles. These islands are populated by upwards of 140,000 natives.

The New Hebrides constitutes the last heathen stronghold in the Central Pacific Union Mission territory. Here we find the home of the Big Nambas. Perhaps no place in the Pacific has taken a greater sacrifice of missionary life than have these islands. The baptized membership has more than doubled during the past five years. At the present

SATISFYING

For tempting entree variety
try this recipe —

2 cups unbleached flour or whole wheat pastry flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk or water
10 LOMA LINDA Linketts, drained

Make pastry from the first 4 ingredients using the standard methods for pastry. Roll to $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick, cut in 4 inch squares and lay Linkett cornerwise on each square. Roll up and fasten by moistening the edges of the dough and pinching together. Bake on baking sheet in a 425° oven for 15 minutes. May be served with white sauce (add drop or so of yellow coloring) with chapped parsley for garnish.

Loma Linda Linketts may be grilled, or prepared in any way that suits the taste—especially suited for picnics and outings. You will find them superb eating at any meal.

Scholarship Grants

The Standard Oil Company of California has awarded to Pacific Union College two scholarship grants of $400 each. President R. W. Fowler has just announced. Mr. G. J. Wyllie, manager of the Marketing Department, with three other Standard Oil officials came to Angwin and personally gave information to the president regarding this gift. Amounts given are to apply on scholarships during the 1956-57 school year, and a faculty committee will choose students to receive them on the basis of "leadership, scholarship, and need."

It is understood that similar grants are being made by the Standard Oil Company to about forty colleges in all.

Gift to Library

Through a grant made the Association of College and Reference Libraries, Chicago, by the United States Steel Foundation, Inc., a gift of $150 is coming to the P.U.C. Library. The Association explains that funds were available to make grants to less than 20 per cent of the 400 applicants, and that in deciding which institutions should receive grants, "the committee sought indication that even a small grant would materially assist the educational program of the college."

820 Students Now Enrolled

Thirty-four new students have registered at Pacific Union College for the winter quarter which officially opened January 4. This brings the overall enrollment to 820, a larger number than a year ago. Although several students were involved in losses from floods during the Christmas recess, they are back at P.U.C.

Student Devotion Week

Annual Student Week of Devotion, sponsored by the religious activities committee of the Student Association, opened Sunday, January 15, with the theme "One Step Nearer." Last year it was voted by the college faculty that the student spiritual emphasis week be given the same priority as the annual fall and spring weeks of prayer.

A total of 22 student speakers will address their fellow classmates at 11 worship services, two students to speak at each of the two daily meetings. Student prayer bands are to be held before the daily chapel services. Don Williams, religious vice president of the Student Association, is the general co-ordinator of the week.

Teaching at C.M.E.

Joseph Fallon, associate professor of biology at P.U.C., is now teaching at the College of Medical Evangelist's School of Preventive Medicine. He will remain at C.M.E. for the winter and spring quarters.

"Polished Brass" Appear

Faculty and staff of P.U.C. teamed up to present a Saturday night program on January 14, entitled "Polished Brass." Co-ordinated through Mrs. M. E. Mathisen, secretary to President R. W. Fowler, the program featured readings and musical numbers presented in talent search format.

Senior Class Elects Officers

In its organization, the senior class of 1956 has elected as its officers: president, Harold Burden; vice president, Elaine Boyd; secretary, Beverly Ann Woods; treasurer, Charles Wical; pastor, Lee Pancoast; sponsor, Elder A. Graham Maxwell.

Help Flood Victims

On Sunday, January 8, seventy-five P.U.C. students gave faithful service in Yuba City, helping people in the rehabilitation of their homes. Leaving the college at 6:30 a.m., the fifty young men and twenty-five young women went in cars to Yuba City and worked until five o'clock in the afternoon. They helped shovel out mud, wash furniture, scrub floors, clean cupboards, and in other ways assisted and encouraged families, many of whom have lost practically all that they possess.

Band Concert

The 50-member P.U.C. Concert Band will present its first full concert of the year Saturday night, January 21, at 8 o'clock, in Irwin Hall. Under the direction of A. W. Rowe, the band has an entirely new repertoire. Admission is free.

Sponsor Desired

Word has been received from a young couple in Amsterdam who desire to come to the United States to make their home. They are Seventh-day Adventists, having accepted the truth during the late war. They were born in the former Netherlands Indies and when Java capitulated they became prisoners of war. After the war they were compelled to seek repatriation in Holland.

In order to come to the United States they must find some responsible party that will serve as sponsor and they hope to find a Seventh-day Adventist willing to do so. They have no children. They are willing to do any work that will leave them free on Sabbath and make it possible for them to earn a living.

The name of the brother is Alfred William Kolmus. He states he is a bookkeeper, motor-fitter and driver, with a knowledge of English, German, French and Malay. His wife is a qualified secretary, has been a correspondence clerk and stenographer, using English, German, French and Malay; and has a knowledge of several card-index systems.

Any reader interested in helping this young couple to come to America may write for a copy of the letter that was received by Elder C. L. Bauer. Address him at the Pacific Union Conference, Box 146, Glendale, Calif.

Thirteenth Sabbath Projects

time we have 967 members meeting in 10 organized churches. There are also 1515 Sabbath school members attending 43 Sabbath schools.

For years our workers have hoped and prayed for the establishment of some kind of medical institution that would serve this large island group. The real need is for a well-equipped central hospital, with a doctor in charge, who would be able to give supervision to dispensaries which might be established in adjacent areas, and which would be manned by trained nurses, the wives of some of our workers.

Unfortunately, building costs in the New Hebrides are high. In order to establish such a hospital considerable means will have to be forthcoming. We know that all of our Sabbath school members will bear this important project on their hearts, and give willingly on the Thirteenth Sabbath.
