"An Enemy Hath Done This"

Tremendous loss has come to the cause of God as another stalwart has fallen in battle. Elder R. L. Benton, after having spent some fifty years in active duty in the cause of God, quietly passed away on Thursday morning, October 31, at the Glendale Sanitarium.

R. L. Benton

Elder Benton has served as pastor, evangelist, conference president, union conference president, and more recently as secretary of the Department of Religious Liberty and Temperance here in the Pacific Union Conference.

Like Stephen of old, he was a man "full of faith and power." He loved truth; he hated evil. He championed justice and liberty, and strongly resisted tyranny over the minds of men. He did not fear the battle so long as principle was involved.

There remains for him just one more victory, assured through his Lord on that glorious resurrection morning. A more detailed obituary will follow in a later issue of the RECORDER.

F. W. SCHNEPPER, President.

Week of Sacrifice Offering

November 23 has been set aside as the date for taking the annual Week of Sacrifice Offering for the year 1957. This offering is one of our most important mission offerings.

Last year a total of $298,459.23 was added to the treasury of the Lord and we are grateful to all who had a part in making this possible. With ever-expanding needs and inflationary trends there is always the urgency for an increase in our giving.

As you give consideration to the contribution and sacrifice you will make for the offering this year may God's spirit guide you and stir your heart and enable you to give generously for the advancement of His cause.

F. W. SCHNEPPER.

A Weekly Visitor

If you are not receiving the weekly visits of the Review and Herald, then you are certainly missing something. You are missing the inspiration that comes from reading the reports of the progress of the Advent message in all parts of the world field. You are missing the help that comes to an individual from reading the articles on various church doctrines and other phases of our daily Christian living. You are missing the brief notes of interest that tell in a few words about interesting events in various union conferences of the North American Division and also reports from various world fields from time to time.

You may attend church and hear interesting reports from missionaries who have given many years of service in overseas lands. However, you cannot possibly keep up with the advance being made by God's church unless you are a regular reader of the Review and Herald.

If you have not had this inspiration previously, start receiving it now by placing your order for the Review and Herald with your local church missionary secretary.

F. W. SCHNEPPER.

Food for the Korean Orphans

Again the General Conference Relief Commission has authorized the shipment of up to 30,000 pounds of dried fruit, powdered milk, cereals, and groceries (no canned foods) for the needy orphans of Korea. Approximately two thousand of these children—the innocent victims of war—are being cared for in twelve orphanages in the Korean Union Mission. According to recent reports, the needs are very, very great. Help is needed.

Our people in California have generously and wholeheartedly contributed food to supply the needs of these little ones during the last few years. May we appeal to you to again have a part in this year's FOOD FOR KOREA campaign? Send your contributions of food to the World Welfare Service Depot, Box 191, Watsonville. If your contributions are delivered at your conference office, your Home Missionary secretary will have them sent to us for processing and repacking. It is hoped that a large shipment of food will be on its way to Korea before the end of November so that the shipment will arrive at its destination in time for Christmas.

Those who cannot send food may still have a part in this good Samaritan work by sending donations for the purchase of food. This will be sent to Korean Union Mission and there Dr. G. H. Rue and our missionaries will buy the most needed foods.

If you have clothing for the orphans or for the poor and needy in overseas

Pitcairn Island Story in National Geographic

Church members throughout the Pacific Union Conference will be interested in a story about Pitcairn Island scheduled for publication in the December, 1957, issue of National Geographic magazine. A National Geographic writer recently visited Pitcairn Island to get the story of how the Seventh-day Adventist faith brought new hope to the descendants of the "Bounty" mutineers.

This story is the result of long-range work done by Cecil Coffey, formerly of the General Conference Public Relations Bureau and now public relations director of the Florida Conference. More than two years ago Mr. Coffey contacted National Geographic with information which sold them on doing the Pitcairn story.

The story in National Geographic in December will reach more than two million subscribers throughout the nation. It can be obtained from almost any newsstand.

The 1958 Youth's Instructor Menu

What is this present generation coming to? The Youth's Instructor, of course! Here are some reasons why:

1. In 1958 The Youth's Instructor will deal even more helpfully with the real-life problems of young people. "At what age does boy-girl interest develop?" "When should dating begin?" "What about 'making out' (or 'petting,' as parents say)?" "How can you be sure when you've found the right life companion?" "Should the wife work?" "Is installment-plan-buying wise?" "How can I prepare to be a parent?" You will be interested in The Youth's Instructor's approach to these and related questions.

2. The editors have also scheduled a group of interest-snatching serials for 1958. For example, here are some sneak previews.

You remember a few things about Norman Wiles—that he was a pioneer missionary who faced the fierce cannibals of the New Hebrides, that he accomplished great things before his death at 28—now you can read the details of this life of high drama and dedication written by Alta Hilliard Christiansen.

More about Jeanie by Wilma Ross Westphal—as gay and venturesome as ever, Jeanie in her new series becomes a wife and a missionary. You will love her more than ever.

"Let the beauty of Jesus be seen in me" we sing. And sometimes it is good to remember that Jesus is to be loved as well as worshiped. Joe Engelkemier in his series of articles discusses the captivating personality of Jesus.

You will be caught up in the mood of the land of sun, and time, and sand as you read Fred J. Crump's account of a visit to Monument Valley. The mysterious shepherd-Indians of the southwest comprise a mission field that is startlingly near and needy. As you read, you will realize again what a beautiful experience it is to be the mutual friend who introduces a man to his God.

Nathaniel Krum interviews Charles Smull Longacre for The Youth's Instructor. The life of "Mr. Religious Liberty" as he has come to be called teaches much of "true Americanism" and true Christianity.

The reading menu for 1958 promises to be about the most satisfying in the history of The Youth's Instructor. You can't afford to miss a single issue!

Today's Food Magazine

Edited for S.D.A.'s Only

Typical of the many letters of commendation being received by Today's Food, our International Nutrition Research Foundation quarterly, is one received recently from a California reader who wrote:

"I want to tell you how much I appreciate your magazine. I think it is the best of the health periodicals. It goes straight to the point and gives the 'straight testimony.'"

We are thankful for all such friendly letters and cards of encouragement that come to us after each issue of the publication, but invariably there is a little p.s. at the bottom of these messages that continues to plague us. They read something like this:

"I just know my Uncle Bert would be much benefited by receiving Today's Food. Could you please add his name to your mailing list?"

Problems immediately arise: Is Uncle Bert a member of our church? If he is not, will he appreciate the many references to Ellen G. White which we use in the paper, and the general slant of this church publication? To forestall any misunderstanding on the part of unsuspecting Uncle Bert, we must write him, enclose a sample copy of Today's Food, and ask if he would like to receive the paper regularly.

If Uncle Bert's address is within one of the six unions in which Today's Food is being distributed to readers of the conference weekly paper, we must also inform him that if he is an S.D.A. he should ask his church clerk or local conference office to have his name placed on the conference mailing list.

More than 100,000 readers of Today's Food are being reached through the following union conferences: Pacific, North Pacific, Southwestern, Central, Southern, and Columbia. There are also several thousand non-S.D.A.'s who are receiving the paper, but each has been added to our special mailing list only at his own request.

If you have friends or relatives whom you believe would be interested and benefited by receiving Today's Food, send us their name only if they live outside the above union areas. It will be a great help, also, if you indicate whether or not they are S.D.A. church members.

All notices of change of address within the Pacific Union Conference should be sent directly to the PACIFIC UNION RECORDER, Box 36, Angwin, California.

FREDRIK W. EDWARDY, Editor,
Today's Food.

50,000 Bible Lessons a Month

For the first time in the history of Faith for Today more than 50,000 Bible lessons were graded in one month, and more than 1,000 were graduated from the Bible School.

Reaching the 50,000 mark in August is of interest as this vacation month is generally one when we least expect an increase. This high point was encouraging to the Faith for Today office staff as it again proves the increasing appeal of the telecast to the general public. It also points up Faith for Today's value in obtaining enrollees in the Bible School.

We anticipated a normal drop of applications in August. Certainly we did not expect to see the number of enrollees almost doubled. In 1956 we had 2,962 enrollees; this year it was 5,513. An 80 per cent gain in graduates was also noted.

Surely God is blessing your television program. The means which you have invested in Faith for Today are bringing results. Just think! For every 10 seconds in August a lesson was processed. This means receiving, grading, recording, answering questions, and mailing new lessons at the rate of six a minute. As these lessons go out in an ever-increasing flow, souls just naturally are added to the "conference of converts" which Faith for Today has been instrumental in bringing to the church.

Pray for our current students that they might accept God's message and receive a faith that will carry them through earth's last dark days into the glorious light of that better age soon to come.

Pure Religion—Visit

Two of the Nevada-Utah active and consistent soul winners are Brother and Sister Henry C. Glenn, members of the Salt Lake City Central church. Their conversion is traced through a thrilling chain of events to the day interest was kindled by a layman who knocked at their door several years ago. Just as soon as they received a knowledge of the truth, they were eager to share the message with others. Today, Sister Glenn is employed as a part-time Bible instructor. A few weeks ago three inmates of the Utah State Prison were baptized as a result of the work Brother Glenin has been doing at the prison for many months. Only eternity can measure the final results of that initial visit made years ago by the layman who knocked at the door of the Glenn home.

Did you turn down the invitation so earnestly made? Did you say to yourself, "No, not for me—this business is for someone else?" If you can say "No" to these two questions, then you are now helping to bring this prophetic statement to fruition: "Hundreds and thousands were seen visiting families, and opening before them the word of God." Vol. 9, p. 126. Are you included in this happy multitude?

November is the month for every church member to support the Fall Visitation Crusade, recommended and endorsed by your Seventh-day Adventist denomination. All members are urged to get in step and rally behind this God-given soul-winning work. Go fortified with prayer and armed with literature. No one can engage in this house-to-house work without results: "Whatever is to be done at His command, may be accomplished in His strength. All His biddings are enablings." C.O.L., p. 333.

Nevada-Utah News Items

All of the members of the Executive Committee of the conference met on the afternoon of October 17 to study the plans for the work of the conference for the months ahead. Among the many items considered were the plans presented by Dr. Barr for a new church school building which is most urgently needed in Provo. Mention was made of the fact that the members of the church had pledged nearly $10,000 for the school. Further study is being devoted to this worthy project.

Brother R. L. Wangerin stated that the Bible House was busy sending out two thousand of volume ten of the Bible Story. Most of these were books that had been ordered from our colporteurs who had taken orders for the complete set. Number ten of the Bible Story by Elder Arthur Maxwell completes the series on the Bible that has met with such phenomenal success in the field.

We regret to report that whereas at the close of the second quarter the membership of the Nevada-Utah Conference stood at 1,401, it now stands at 1,380. A number have moved their membership elsewhere while several others were dropped as missing. We hope that by the close of the year we can again report having passed the 1,400 mark.

The Life of a Girl

A Real, Live Program presented by
"Catina Clementia" Girls'
Club of Thunderbird Academy
Saturday night, November 23
8 o'clock Academy Auditorium
Admission, 25 and 50 cents
Family rate, $2

"The Life of a Girl," a portrayal depicting the life of a girl by music, narration, and pantomime, will be presented in the academy auditorium, Saturday night, November 23. The presentation is the annual benefit program of "Catina Clementia," the girls' club of Thunderbird Academy.

An all-girl cast will present the entire program. Music featuring organ, piano, vocal numbers, and marimbist Karen Perry is being directed by Mrs. Ivan Holmes. Director of stage construction William Nordrum, artist coordinator Roberta Whetstone, stage manager Kathleen Truex, and costume director Barbara Wall are preparing effective stage settings and costumes for each scene. Director of narration is Ivan Holmes.

"Little sisters of two dormitory girls, one coming from Prescott and two from Glendale, will have parts in two scenes," says club president Ann Treece whose parents will be coming from Texas to visit their daughter and see the program.

Proceeds from the program will be used for plants and furniture for the new entrance lobby to the girls' dormitory and for needed utensils in the new kitchenette.

Girls' Dormitory Improvements

The visitor to the Thunderbird Academy campus is aware of several outstanding changes that have taken place in the girls' dormitory since the close of the last school year. The entrance way has been enclosed with brick and glass, thus making a private hallway and enclosing the girls' parlor and the entrance to the dean's apartment. The dean's office has been relocated, making it more accessible to the girls. The three dormitories have been connected under one roof, providing space for two additional girls' rooms. One of the former rooms is being remodeled as a kitchenette for the girls. These improvements have been made possible by the generous contributions of several of the loyal constituents of Thunderbird Academy and are appreciated by the girls and their dean.

Mrs. C. B. Harris, dean of girls, and her husband, Elder C. B. Harris, Bible teacher and flight instructor, have occupied the dean's apartment since January, 1957, when Mrs. Harris arrived to take over the dean's responsibilities. Mrs. E. J. Anderson, also physical education instructor, is assistant dean of girls.

The 58 girls residing in the school home comprise the girls' club, which is named "Catina Clementia," meaning "The Golden Chain of Friendship."

The club officers for the first semester are: President, Ann Treece; Vice President, Sandy Dalzell; Secretary, Kathy Truex; Treasurer, Rose Christiansen; Parliamentarian, Roberta Whetstone; and Spiritual Vice President, Agnella Young. A constitution was adopted by the club at a recent meeting.

A joint meeting with the boys' club is planned for the first Tuesday evening of each month, each club alternating in providing the program.

A recent club activity was a novel scavenger hunt in which the girls were sent out on various "missions." Without the girls' knowing it, the club president had written to each of the mothers requesting them to send packages to her for their daughters. These packages were given to them at the various faculty homes at which they called.

A very important part of the girls' day is the study period in the evenings from 7:30 to 9:15. Study hall monitors this year are Rose Christiansen, Pat Marin, Audine Higgins, and Kathy Truex.

The highlights of the girls' day are the morning and evening worship periods in which spiritual values are stressed. Guests are invited to speak to the girls from time to time, and currently G. E. Smith, principal is presenting a series of talks to the girls on Wednesday evenings.

In addition to the dean's work, Mrs. Harris teaches two classes of typing with an enrollment of 17. She attended Pacific Union College this summer, taking several courses with the emphasis on dean's work. Her hobbies include music, especially the playing of the piano and the vibraharp. She and her husband share an interest in camping and outdoor activities.

G. E. SMITH, Principal.

News Notes

The Amateur Hour program, sponsored by the Associated Student Body, will be presented Saturday evening, November 16, at Thunderbird Academy. This program, composed entirely of student talent, promises to be one of the most interesting of the year.

Elder Henry T. Bergh, treasurer of the Arizona Conference, will be the speaker for the 11 o'clock service, Sabbath, November 16.

C.M.E. to Begin Survey

The Department of Preventive Medicine and Public Health of the College of Medical Evangelists is preparing to undertake a study among Seventh-day Adventists relative to disease and causes of death among us. This study is of urgent interest to medical research because of our health standards in respect to such things as tobacco and alcohol. The project is being supported by the National Institutes of Health.

In January, questionnaires will go to all California members. However, in a few days 500 homes in the Southeastern California Conference will receive an advance mailing of this questionnaire from C.M.E. This mailing is very important to the later development and success of this investigation. We ask for the cooperation and prompt reply of every recipient. Your questionnaire will be included in the subsequent January study.

The questionnaires are quite simple and all information will be kept confidential. This is an opportunity to help in an urgent research problem of vital interest to our neighbors.

The King's Male Chorus, a well-known group of Adventist men from the San Bernardino, Loma Linda, and Riverside area, will also highlight the Sabbath service.

This announcement is your invitation to spend the Sabbath with the Riverside church if you have ever had membership there. Elder St. John, who first pastored the church, has promised to be one of our guests. Plan now to enjoy fellowship with us for that day.

Remember also that the following Sunday night begins the Riverside Youth Effort in the Municipal Auditorium, 7th and Lemon streets. Hear the youth of the Riverside area witness for Christ and call after those who are not satisfied with their present Christian experience.

Pathfinders vs. Hunters

Friday afternoon, October 18, 450 Pathfinders and leaders moved into an area called Indian Flats. Arriving there, they found that deer hunting season was well under way and that two hunters had already claimed squatters rights to one of the large oak trees. However, this did not discourage the stouthearted Pathfinders, for they quickly took the surrounding area and held their ground firmly without any thought of withdrawing. It wasn't long until the hunters realized the situation they were in, but they were good sports and finally entered in by joining us at our campfire Saturday night. Needless to say, the hunters did not bag a deer and the Pathfinders were again victorious.

Indian Flats proved to be an ideal camporee site. There was plenty of area with huge live oak trees to shade the hundreds of pup tents and water was abundant.

Friday night as the sun went down flag lowering ceremonies were held, and after a quick supper the Pathfinders prepared for Friday night vespers. Elder Clark Smith, associate MV secretary of the union, was the speaker. Our meeting place was a beautiful outdoor church of smooth granite rock with a natural rock platform for the speaker with an area in front for a huge campfire. This Friday night meeting was a very inspiring and impressive time for the Pathfinders. The Sabbath school the next morning was held in the same area, however, as the sun was quite warm for church we moved to the shade under the oaks. Elder Smith had the church service also, and in counting those present we found that our number had grown to 500.

On Sabbath afternoon there were nature walks and a story hour. That evening the campfire period was filled with action and fun; there was so much shouting and singing that I am sure the deer were frightened so far away that the hunters in the area never found them.

Sunday morning was rather cold but the schedule went on as planned with outdoor events such as tent pitching, knot tying, axemanship, marching, etc. All in all everyone had a good time except the hunters who went away empty-handed. As the Pathfinders left they all had one thought in mind, "When is the next camporee?"

Hemet Meetings

The Hardy-Fletcher Evangelistic Team completed its 3-week series of meetings in Hemet, Sunday night, October 13. More than 30 persons made their decision to join God's remnant church. Fifteen of these have already been taken into church membership and the others are preparing for baptism soon. We praise God for the victories that were won. It was a real thrill to see several families take their stand together.

The support of our Hemet church members was outstandingly wonderful. They gave untiringly of their time and energies. Their constant, earnest prayers for the meetings, the interested, and the team were definitely answered as victories were won.

Elder D. B. Spaulding, the new pastor, moved into town the night of our opening meeting. He and his wife fitted their program to the demands of the meetings and became an important part of the team.

We solicit your prayers for those who took their stand during the meetings, and also for the team as we open another series in Indio.

King's Way Bible Series in Chula Vista

The King's Way Bible Series has just entered into the experience of the Psalmist as he writes in Psalm 126:6, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Elder Philip Knoche, speaker for the King's Way Series, and Elder Philip Dunham, musical director, have just completed the Chula Vista campaign, and there is not only rejoicing but there are sheaves also.

Because of the faithful support of the church members and the fine assistance of the pastor, Elder M. V. Barkhurst, there were 16 decisions for Christ, 14 baptisms, and 4 who are looking forward to baptism in the near future.

It is certainly worthy of notice that five persons were baptized because there were church members who were interested in souls and who accompanied these individuals to almost every meeting in the series. This only serves to validate the formula—sacrifice plus service equals souls.

Splendid help was given by Mrs. Margaret Davis who played the organ, Sam West and William Davis who ran the projector, and Mrs. Jerry Hockins and Mrs. Max Barkhurst who acted as hostesses. Mention could be made of many others whose help meant much to the success of the meetings.

The King's Way meetings in Chula Vista were a threefold blessing to the church. First, there was a fine addition of members to the church. Secondly, the members themselves were built up in the faith. Thirdly, tangible interest was left for the pastor and members to follow up.

PHILIP W. DUNHAM.

Around Southeastern

A new evangelist will be coming to Southeastern about the first of the year. Elder D. M. Neidigh from the Central California Conference has been called to this conference for evangelism. His first effort will be in Vista. Elder Hollis Anderson, pastor of our church there, is already laying the groundwork for the series of meetings which will probably begin in February of next year.

Temporary pastor at El Centro is Varner Leggitt, who recently returned from a year spent at the Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C. He was asked to move to El Centro because of the illness of Elder E. W. Storing. Recent reports bring the good news that Elder Storing has finally been released from the White Memorial Hospital, although he is staying in Los Angeles for a while so he can check with the doctors frequently until he has made a complete recovery.

New pastor at Newport Beach is Elder R. G. Mote, formerly of Redlands. Elder John Pelt, former pastor of the Ontario church, has been asked to serve as pastor at Redlands. Elder Pelt had been attending the Theological Seminary but was called back to California because of illness in his family.

Moving to Washington as pastor of the Bellingham church is Elder Ellsworth Wellman of the Fontana church. The Bellingham pastor, Elder H. D. Jeffries, will be moving to this conference and will serve as pastor of the Yucaipa church. This transfer will take place about the middle of November. New pastor of the Fontana church will be Elder M. V. Barkhurst, for several years pastor at Chula Vista. Elder L. E. Niermeyer, pastor of the Yucaipa church, will move to Chula Vista as pastor of our church there.

New chaplain for the Paradise Valley Sanitarium will be Elder S. O. Francisco, formerly assisting Elder Calvin Osborn in the La Sierra church.

Elder Kenneth Perry, for some years the chaplain at the sanitarium, is requesting a leave of absence so he can take graduate work at Stanford University. Elder Francisco will be instructor in Bible for the students of nursing at the sanitarium in addition to his duties as chaplain. New assistant pastor for the La Sierra church is Elder Hugh Williams, who has been pastor of the Mira Loma church for several years.

Northern California Conference placed a call for Elder E. J. Royer of the Arlington church several months ago, and he accepted the call and has already moved to Yuba City and taken up his duties as pastor of the church there. New pastor for Arlington is Elder L. W. Hallsted, for several years the pastor of the Broadway church in San Diego. Elder Hallsted has just moved to Arlington.

Blythe has also seen a change in pastors. Darrell Mayberry was transferred to Palm Springs to serve as pastor of the churches at Palm Springs and Indio; and Elder J. G. MacIntyre, for a number of years the Bible teacher at San Diego Academy, has moved to Blythe as pastor there.

A branch Sabbath school is being conducted at Big Bear Lake under the direction of the Loma Linda Hill church, reports Elder G. T. Dickinson, pastor. We have no church organization or company in that area, and it is hoped that enough interest can be developed so that a company can be organized at a later date.

Elder Neal Becker plans to hold a two-week evangelistic effort in San Bernardino, beginning Sunday night, November 17. These meetings, known as "The Health and Happiness Forum," will be held in the Municipal Auditorium each night except Saturday. Associated with Elder Becker as song leader will be Robert Zamora, senior ministerial student at La Sierra College.

On Sunday night, October 13, Elder R. E. Berry began a series of evangelistic meetings in the San Bernardino K Street church. It is hoped that a number of honest-hearted individuals will join the church as a result of these meetings.

On Sunday night, October 27, a series of meetings opened in the D.A.V. Hall at Twenty-nine Palms. Leading in these evangelistic meetings are Elder J. C. Michalenko, Elder G. T. Dickinson, and Jacob Mittleider, all of the Loma Linda Hill church. These public meetings will be held each Sunday night until Christmas.

Sabbath School Evangelism

Progress in effective Sabbath school evangelism took a sharp optimistic upswing in San Francisco recently when 50 present and prospective Sabbath school teachers received certificates indicating satisfactory completion of the General Conference Teachers' Training Course B. Representing most of the eight churches of the city, an average of 60 persons attended the five sessions of the intensive course. Members registered enthusiastic interest as Elder R. R. Breitigam, of the Pacific Union Conference Sabbath School department, led in the instruction and demonstrations, assisted by the writer. Much of the credit for the success of the training course is due to the vigorous promotion of Elder H. H. Hare, pastor of the Tabernacle church where sessions were held, and the sincere cooperation of the pastors and Sabbath school officers of the other San Francisco churches. We are confident that the teaching ministry of the churches of the area will be greatly enriched by the vital principles learned and re-emphasized in the training course.

Special Notice

All past, present, and prospective Sabbath school workers within the San Jose and Fresno areas will be happy to know that definite plans have been laid for special teachers' training courses to be conducted soon for them. Please note the following dates:

Gains in Yosemite

For 16 Sabbaths this past vacation season, May 25 to September 7, services were held for our members and visitors in the Valley of Yosemite National Park. The total attendance in the Sabbath schools was 2,171, an increase of 84 over the year before. This was an average of 135 per Sabbath. Only on the first and last Sabbaths were there less than 100 present, and on two Sabbaths the attendance passed the 200 mark.

Regular Sabbath school offerings (including the 13th Sabbath special on June 29 of $98.75) totaled $770.62, which was $158.71 more than last year. Birthday-thank offerings came to $71.20, a gain of $6.70 over the previous year.

Since it has been the practice in Yosemite to dedicate all offerings to missions, we also add the offerings given in our church services, which this year totaled $633.16, or $46.42 more than the year before.

Thus the grand total of all offerings for missions in 1957 amounted to $1,474.98, an increase over 1956 of $211.83. For these gains for mission lands we thank the Lord for the liberality of those who attended our services.

A highlight of our Sabbath services came on July 6 when Elder Wilbur Olson, on furlough from Lake Titicaca in South America, inspired us with his account of our work in that region, where we now have 110 schools and 9,900 baptized believers in 263 groups. That evening, and also the next Saturday night at the Village Chapel, Elder Olson showed kodachrome pictures of that mission field, again convincing us of the value of our missions and the need of our continued support.

During these three months, tenting in the Church Camp, we had visits with 30 ministers or leaders of various Protestant or Jewish churches, the most of whom camped there for only about a week. To these we gave copies of Listen, Life and Health, Signs of the Times, and These Times. Not all were acquainted with all of these magazines but all appreciated the attractiveness of our papers. We also loaned many of them Upton Sinclair's recent book on alcoholism, "The Cup of Fury," which helped us to stand with them in behalf of temperance.

Elder G. A. Haas of Merced put us in touch with two women employed in Yosemite by the Park Administration who had become interested in our message through his meetings in Mariposa. One was then working on Lesson 16 of the 20th Century Bible Course, the other was beginning the Faith Course of the Voice of Prophecy. With these we held seven studies, using the disc pictures and lessons of the 20th Century Course. Their interest was genuine, and we are keeping in touch with them.

These gains show that it pays to hold our services in Yosemite National Park and we believe similar services might be promoted in all the national parks of our country.

Lodi Academy News Notes

Eleven Lodi Academy seniors participated in the two-hour examination sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation of Evanston, Illinois. Some 300,000 seniors in 14,000 high schools were eligible to take this test, and the 7,500 with the highest score will enter the semi-finals. Those to take the semi-finals will be identified in December, and the actual winners will be announced May 1. The winners are provided with the funds they will need to attend the college of their choice; the amount is based on the individual's financial need. Average awards are about $650 a year. Those taking the tests were: Arlen Davidian, Placerville; Jack Bowyer, Tracy; Kenneth Ing and Terry Gilbert, Stockton; Kenneth Lund, Meadow Vista; Harriette McCart, Acampo; Jerry Heminger, Sacramento; and La Vene Preston, Nadine Ensminger, Darlene Grube, and Ellene Penner, Lodi.

William Murphy, voice instructor, has begun organization of a group to present the "Messiah" in December. The program will be a student and community function. Singers are invited from Lodi and the surrounding area. The group meets in the academy chapel every Tuesday evening, 6:15 to 7:15.

The Associated Student Body have elected as their officers for the first semester: President, Arlen Davidian of Placerville; Vice President, Nadine Ensminger of Lodi; Secretary, Sandra Loewen of Lodi; Treasurer, Terry Gilbert of Stockton; Pastor, Lowell Hagele of Lodi; and Parliamentarian, Gordon Mattison of Lodi.

One of the first duties of the new officers was to plan for the annual Fall Festival held in the gymnasium Monday evening, October 28. Booths were decorated and run by the various clubs and classes. Dart games, a basketball toss, various other games, and a food booth were arranged. The film, "Captain Courageous," was shown to close the evening.

The Medical Cadet Corps under the direction of L. E. Wolfe meets every Tuesday afternoon at the sound of "taps." Forty junior and senior boys go through their various drills in their neat uniforms. Mr. Wolfe is now taking a Red Cross First Aid refresher course in Stockton. He will teach the fundamentals of first aid in the M.C.C. course.

Wilbur Olson, former treasurer of the Lake Titicaca Mission in Peru, was the chapel speaker on October 7. He told some experiences of the students on the mission there. Fred Hunt, Chief of Police of Lodi, has spoken twice to the student body since the opening of school. Elder Vernon Furgason, pastor of the Fairfax church, gave the chapel program on October 18 and the vespers in the evening. His topic at vespers was "Why Are You Here?"

Other visitors to the campus recently were the board members for their annual fall meeting: Elders Carl Becker, E. A. Schmidt, J. J. Dollinger, Robert McPherson, B. A. Reile, and H. Retzer, and Dr. H. C. Graham.

Week of Prayer and Sacrifice Offering, November 23

Through the decades the Fall Week of Prayer has had a tremendous impact upon the members of the church. This year should be no exception. Realizing that we are living in the closing days of earth's history, we must place more-than-ordinary emphasis on the importance of heart preparation through fasting and prayer. There are many things we should pray for.

First of all, we should remember our own homes. Satan is determined to destroy the home. Then, too, we should pray for the church and its great program. We need to pray also for the multitudes of honest in heart who are still in other churches but who are longing for the light which we have.

Make plans now to lay aside as many of your ordinary duties as you can and give more-than-ordinary attention to spiritual things during this great week of prayer and fellowship. On Sabbath, November 23, let us come before the presence of the Lord with a sacrificial offering.

R. R. BIEZ, President.

Beware of Hypocrites!

Rather frequently certain individuals itinerate from conference to conference and church to church, promoting personal projects, pleading poverty, selling literature, and even bringing "new light." After careful investigation, however, it is apparent that most of these individuals have only one objective: namely, to get money from naive Seventh-day Adventists. Some of these individuals are not Adventists, never have been, and have no plans of ever accepting the message; however, they are very anxious to get into our churches, preach their "pet" sermons, and then after the service stand at the door to receive a "love offering." Usually these folk are professionals. They talk and look as pious as did the Pharisees when for pretense they offered long prayers while standing on the street corners.

Just the other day information came to my office to the effect that one of our believers gave several hundred dollars tithe to one of these men who represented a "worthwhile cause." Now there is great regret, for information has come that this man is not really one of us. He is one of these individuals who is all things to all men. When he is in a Baptist church, he is a dyed-in-the-wool Baptist. When he comes to an Adventist church, he finds it easy to shift into Adventism. If he could get into a Catholic church, he probably would have no compunctions to eulogize the pope.

The astonishing thing is not that such men are around but that so many Seventh-day Adventists are gullible enough to be "taken in" by these hypocrites. These unscrupulous solicitors were here a long time before our 20th century method of transportation. The only difference is that today they get around faster. Why do we give money to these individuals, not knowing what it will be used for? Most of the time the money is used only for the selfish purposes of the solicitor.

If individuals come to you with a "great cause" story, if they want to preach in your church, if they want to take a "love offering," and if they want to borrow money from you, why not call the conference headquarters, CItus 3-6231, and give us the name of the individual, his address, and the church where he is supposed to be a member? In a matter of a few minutes, without any expense to you, we can tell you whether such an individual is genuine or counterfeit.

Shrinking Yet Growing

Southern California's elementary and junior high schools opened with a total enrollment of 3,073 this fall as against 3,002 the preceding fall. What makes the picture interesting is that we have 26 schools this fall as against 29 the preceding year and 149 teachers as compared to 133 last year.

Three schools this fall, due to lack of bus service and shift of membership into areas now being served by our school buses, consolidated with other institutions. East Los Angeles youth are going to San Gabriel (some to Whittier); Ivy Avenue requested opportunity for its youth to go to San Gabriel; Norwalk is sending its youth to Bellflower. In each case, the consolidating is strengthening the educational program from an operational and service standpoint.

It is interesting to note that in the majority of the nearly 20 replacements necessary because of moving, marriage, illness, or sustentation, that certification and scholastic qualifications were improved by the addition of college graduates and those having a master's degree.

Three schools that have had a tremendous swell in enrollment are: San Fernando Valley Junior Academy, San Gabriel Junior Academy, and the White Memorial Junior Academy. The Conference Committee has given approval for the San Gabriel Junior Academy to offer the 11th grade next school year and develop expansion plans that will ultimate in an academy. San Fernando will be following in a similar pattern if present Seventh-day Adventist population trends continue.

A challenging analysis of our opening report is the fact that 801 of our total enrollment are members of the church; 649 pupils come from divided homes; and 687 pupils come from non-Adventist homes. What a glorious challenge for our teachers, school administrators, school boards, and Home and Schools. These youth represent backgrounds and environments that are favorable to the gospel by the fact of their confidence in our educational program which costs something.

May God give us one and all the Christian graces that will give us eyes that breathe love, arms that extend tenderness, feet that display a walk of confidence, and hearts tireless in the adventure of preparing boys and girls and homes for that wonderful diploma into life eternal.

J. F. KNIPSCHILD,
Educational Superintendent.

May I Share?

May I share with you a letter written personally to me? It so touched me that I could not think of keeping it to myself and I'm sure Elder Lind will not mind.

"Dear Brother Kott:

"This is a letter of a more personal character, and I wish you to treat it as such.

"Frequently we, as departmental secretaries, have to write to various ones in order to promote this or that object. However, I want to tell you how happy I was to receive your letter telling me how fully you are going forward in the task of promoting the 13th Sabbath overflow offering which will this quarter benefit four worthy projects designated by the Northern European Division.

"As a kind of 'by-the-way,' I wish to tell you that our lonely pioneer up in Greenland (the world's largest island) is right at this moment returning from a most strenuous journey to the very northernmost parts of that tremendous wilderness called Greenland. Sometimes it is difficult for us to picture our lonely pioneers because of the busy and interesting lives which we live. However, it is well to pause once in a while and consider those who are working under most rugged and strenuous conditions. I thought I would tell you that our good brother up in Greenland has a small Sabbath school already started and that the members of the Sabbath school have to face all sorts of hazardous journeys in order to 'be on time' for their little Sabbath school. At this time of the year constant darkness covers the great island. How happy we are for our lonely pioneer whose light acts as a beacon for souls still groping in eternal darkness.

"In closing, let me again tell you how much we in the Division office appreciate your constant interest in problems so far removed from you by distance, yet so close to you because of the tie that binds us together."

"Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) M. E. Lind,
Northern European Division."

I'm sure you now also share with me the burden for these people to whom we give our mission offerings regularly and in a very special way on this 13th Sabbath. By the way, it will be a Christmas 13th Sabbath. Let's truly plan a huge offering to Christ through the Sabbath school. In the meantime, let us continue to work on the systematic plan of three cents out of each income dollar to missions through the Sabbath school.

CLARENCE C. KOTT,
Sabbath School Secretary.

Our First Work

The gathering in of precious souls must be the unending privilege of God's people while on this earth. It may not be our only work, but it must be our first work. We might even say that in an indirect way the winning of hearts is to be the only work of the child of God. Whatever our vocation we must remember it is only a medium of reaching hearts with God's message. Our first work must be the finishing of His work.

Notice this precious promise from God's messenger. "If our people will go forth in faith, doing whatever they can to make a beginning, and laboring in Christ's lines, the way will be opened before them. If they will show the energy that is necessary in order to gain success, and the faith that goes forward unquestioningly in obedience to God's command, rich returns will be theirs. They must go as far and as fast as possible, with a determination to do the very things the Lord has said should be done. They must have push and earnest, unwavering faith." Evangelism, p. 19.

Note the outline of things needed for success:

a. With the use of "unwavering faith," "push," and "energy" "rich returns will be theirs." God has promised results if we will be diligent in our search for souls. We must ever remember that God loves the honest hearts for which we are searching even more than we. He will bring our lives in contact with theirs if we will follow the simple blueprint He has outlined.

b. If we will "make a beginning," He will see that the "way is opened before" us. We must advance. Sometimes the way may seem closed, but He will open the right way if we will only keep marching forward.

Here is a solemn challenge and thought. "At the present time there is not a thousandth part being done in working the cities that should be done, and what would be done if men and women would do their whole duty." Evangelism, p. 29. God expects a thousand times more of His church. Might He be expecting a thousand times more of you as an individual.

What may you do? Distribute Bible Correspondence Enrollment cards. Begin Bible studies with that neighbor, or friend. Distribute a series of literature in an area, and try to develop a series of Bible studies. Team up with other young people in public and personal Share-Your-Faith projects. Invite those in your community to evangelistic meetings; support the public evangelistic meetings with your presence each night. Be a devout Christian in all that you say and do each day.

CREE SANDEFUR, President.

Kailua District Leadership

Our cordial aloha is extended to Elder and Mrs. Paul Bornhauser and their family who have just returned from furlough on the mainland. Elder Bornhauser chose to use most of his furlough time in attendance at the Seminary. The Mission Committee extended his stay on the mainland a few weeks so that he might also have the privilege of working with Elder Fordyce Detamore in a large evangelistic meeting in Pennsylvania.

Elder Bornhauser has been asked to assume the leadership of our churches on the Windward side of Oahu, which include Kailua, Kaneohe, and Hauula. During the summer months Elder Hideo Oshita, Bible teacher at the academy, has given leadership to these churches. We greatly appreciate his

LA SIERRA COLLEGE

Teachers, Students Here for Education Program

The National Education Week program is being observed on the campus of La Sierra College. It began at 2:30 November 10 in the Education Center with a business meeting of the Adventist Teachers' Association of the South-eastern California Conference.

Of special interest to all teachers will be reports of the supervisors of the three districts in the Southeastern California Conference: Loma Linda, San Diego, and La Sierra. The organization of a journal or news bulletin for the A.T.A. will be discussed, and a date will be set for the annual A.T.A. meeting in Idyllwild next spring.

Also featured on the program will be Dr. Barnett of Occidental College, and Mr. William Vernon. Dr. Barnett will demonstrate the uses of a techistcope in teaching reading to the elementary grades. Mr. Vernon will show the advantages of the Stenotype machine in elementary teaching.

College Education Day is being observed today, November 11, by all students in teacher training. The object in mind is to popularize Christian education and to promote teacher recruitment among students.

The chapel program at 10:30 featured Dr. Godfrey T. Anderson, president of the College of Medical Evangelists. His topic was "Mortarboard versus Smorgasbord." After chapel an opportunity will be given for the educational superintendents from the various conferences to meet the education majors from their conferences.

The afternoon program will begin at 1:15 in the Education Center with the film "Texas in New York." Following this film, the All-Campus Student Ideation Conference, under the direction of Tom Zirkle, Teachers of Tomorrow club president, will take place in Hole Memorial Auditorium.

A reception for all teachers and students will be held in the lobby of the Education Center at 3 p.m., followed by career interviews with the various educational leaders at 3:30.

The highlight of the evening program will be a realistic presentation,

"Keepers of the Light," depicting the tremendous sacrifice of some of the pioneer teachers in the Pacific Union.

The faculty conclave on education will meet in the faculty lounge following the evening program. The topic of their discussion will be "The Case of the Lost Graduate," under the direction of Dr. George T. Simpson, head of the Division of Education at La Sierra College.

Educator Leaves 1,000 Volumes to College Library

A collection of books totaling approximately 1,000 volumes has been donated to the La Sierra College library by Mrs. O. A. Johnson of Loma Linda, according to Prof. D. Glenn Hilts, librarian.

The collection, which originally belonged to Mrs. Johnson's husband, a Seventh-day Adventist educator for many years, is made up of theology and religion books exclusively and contains many valuable source and reference books.

Included in the collection is the Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge, a Jewish encyclopedia; J. J. Ben-Ezra's The Coming of the Messiah in Glory and Majesty; and Wylie's History of Protestantism.

The collection also contains many Seventh-day Adventist books, including William Miller's lectures in printed form and a large number of very old Seventh-day Adventist tracts.

Professor Hilts states that the number of books in the La Sierra College library now totals approximately 47,000 volumes, marking a fine growth during the past few years.

World Traveler Will Show "New Egypt" in Lyceum Chapel

Willis Butler, world traveler, photographer, and lecturer, will present his latest film, "The New Egypt," during chapel period at La Sierra College on November 22. He is brought to the campus by the lyceum series.

Mr. Butler has been making motion pictures since 1940. During the past ten years he has been with his cameras through the United States, to Canada, Mexico, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Greece, Egypt, the Sudan, and Ethiopia. In 1955 he resigned from teaching at Northwestern University to expand his private film production and lecture activities.

work. Now that Brother Bornhauser is back in our field, he will be taking the full responsibility of leadership in that area. We feel confident that as he and the membership of those churches unite for the winning of souls for God's kingdom, the Lord's rich blessings will continue to be poured on the work in that district.

—O—

Kapaa Evangelistic Effort

We arrived on the Island of Kauai on September 4. It is a very beautiful island, being locally known as the Garden Island. The people are so friendly, including those not members of the church.

Sunday evening, October 6, Mission Evangelist Ralph Larson began a series of meetings in Kapaa, with the assistance of the writer. The meetings were held 22 consecutive nights. The attendance for the first Sunday night was 180. Astoundingly, the attendance increased, and on the second Friday night there were 240 present. The following Saturday night when the film "Martin Luther" was presented, the attendance jumped to 300. There was not sufficient room in the tent.

The meetings were held on a large grassy lot on the highway and main street of town. A large 35-foot false front provided the advertising for the lectures and motion pictures, with a changeable sign to announce the subject for each lecture. Four floodlights illuminated it at night so that passing motorists kept informed of what was taking place.

The two other churches on the island, Kalaheo and Kekaha, under the leadership of Elder George Kiyabu, gave excellent support to the meetings, driving 50 to 75 miles each night to attend and bring interested people.

The second Sabbath afternoon of the meetings fourteen persons came forward, indicating their desire to join with God's remnant church.

ROBERT BABCOCK, Pastor.
