Million Dollar Offering --- What Answer Shall We Give?

Humanity Appeals to Us—Will You Help?

They are hungry, they are sick, they are cold and helpless, they are destitute and in need, they cry to us for help! They—our neighbors around the world—are needing food, clothing, shelter, and medical help; but more than these physical needs they need a saving knowledge of the gospel of Jesus Christ and His love. They need a loving, sympathetic hand extended to them now by every disciple of Christ.

From all parts of the world millions of men, women, and little children have been left destitute, helpless, sick, hungry, and enslaved; they cry out to us for help. What shall our answer be? We, the privileged Christian people of the world living in this land of abundance, are their last hope. Shall we turn a deaf ear to their appeal? Shall we turn our backs on them now? Shall we spend the money that is so desperately needed to finish the cause of God on our own selfish de luxe living?

To most of us living in this privileged land the following questions may sound foolish: Did you go to bed hungry last night? Do you have enough clothing to keep you warm? Did you put your own children to bed with tearful faces and without any food? Can you read and write? Do you possess a Bible of your own?

If you were to take a poll of the people of the earth, putting to each these questions, you would find the appalling fact that one-half of the people of the earth go to bed hungry every night—one-half of the people are undernourished; over one-half of the people of the world can neither read nor write; over one-half of the people of the globe have never had medical care of any kind. Countless others have never felt the satisfaction of knowing a personal Saviour. They are not acquainted with Christ the blessed Redeemer.

Shall we refuse to extend to them a helping hand? Shall we refuse to give at this time before it is too late? Shall we sit in our comfortable church pews and sing, "All to Jesus I surrender, I surrender all," and then go out and refuse to live a life of self-denial, and say in our hearts that it costs too much lately to be a Christian?

The great underprivileged masses of humanity are the ones who are seething with discontent and are easily swayed by the false philosophies of our day which threaten our Christian way of life.

These poor suffering human beings are the ones which present the greatest challenge to the Christian peoples of the earth. We know that you will not fail. Deep in the heart of every Christian the cry for help finds an immediate and sympathetic response. Our people everywhere who recognize the universal fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man are uniting together to bring to the people of our time that which they need most, the gospel of the second coming of Jesus Christ.

As we respond to the voice of the Infinite inviting us "to lighten another's load," "restore the dreams of an aching heart," "give a failure a brand new start," we are measuring our souls by the final test of the Master, who gave us the infallible test of true Christianity when He said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these . . . ye have done it unto me."

"Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: for I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me."—Matthew 25:34-36.

The greatest need of the world today is for a living demonstration of practical self-sacrificing Christianity. If we fail humanity at this critical hour what answer shall we give? If we shall fail to put forth a helping hand at this late hour in human history, fearful and alarming will be the consequences.

The colleges, academies, and elementary schools throughout the Pacific Union will join with the church at large in meeting its quota of this tremendous and needed offering. It may mean a sacrifice to some of our youth, but that has been the story of our youth throughout our denominational history.

Shall we not unite with our Seventh-day Adventist brethren around the world in a Million Dollar Offering to provide food for the hungry in body, in mind, and in soul.

"Only one life, 'twill soon be past;
Only what's done for Christ will last."

Seventh-grade pupils of Miss Gail Knight's room at Glendale Union Academy Elementary School are participating in the Million Dollar Offering. In addition to filling their money folders, they have turned over their complete MV offerings to this project.

A Letter From Jill

Recently two very appealing letters came to the Pacific Union Conference Department of Education, which I think should touch the hearts of our people here in the Pacific Union as we share them with you. The first one is from a little fourth grade church school girl. She said:

Dear Elder Rasmussen:

Can you please find us a teacher for our church school? I have always gone to church school but my mother said that our church school would have to be closed next year because no teacher would come to our school and teach us to love Jesus. If you find a teacher, we promise to be good and obey and love her if she will come. We all want to go to our little church school but we can't if there is no teacher. Please won't you help us? Isn't there a teacher anywhere who will come? (Signed) Jill

Dear friends, this simple letter from this little girl eloquently places before all of us the major problem that faces us in our educational work. Truly the harvest is ripe but the laborers are few. We have the children; we have the school buildings and classrooms; the parents are ready to pay their tuition; the churches have the budgets; but we do not have enough professionally-qualified, dedicated elementary teachers to fill the needs of our rapidly-expanding educational work.

Another letter came from the chairman of one of our church school boards. He said:

Dear Elder Rasmussen:

Last night our church school board held a special prayer meeting, at which meeting we held up before the Lord our need for a primary teacher for the first four grades in our two-teacher church school. We have had a

Activity Pictures for Teachers of Tiny Tots

For a long time teachers and leaders of cradle roll and kindergarten divisions have been wishing for activity pictures to use in their Sabbath School work.

Today this wish has become a reality, for the Pacific Press has put out a beautiful set of 24 "Activity Pictures for Teachers of Tiny Tots" at the request of the Sabbath School Department.

These pictures are in three-color and depict boys and girls performing kind deeds, as well as engaging in many activities so often talked about in Sabbath School. These pictures will have many uses in Sabbath Schools, Branch Sabbath Schools, and Vacation Bible Schools. They are 11 inches by 14 inches in size.

The entire set costs only $1.95. They are sold only in sets. Sales tax should be added where necessary, and a 25-cent mailing charge when mailed outside the United States. Order through your Book and Bible House.

church school in this place for over twenty years, but unless we can find a teacher for this coming year we will have to close the school. We have looked everywhere for a teacher. Our conference superintendent told us that he has been unable to find a qualified teacher. Surely, Elder Rasmussen, there must be some qualified consecrated individuals who would be willing to come and teach these sixteen precious children next year. Can you help us? Sincerely yours.

In the same mail we received a letter from one of our conference superintendents stating that a number of schools in his conference would not open next year unless they could find some more teachers. We want to share this serious problem with all of our young people and church members in the Pacific Union Conference. We cannot help but feel that there are enough qualified, self-sacrificing people within this great union conference who will answer the Macedonian call coming from our own church school mission field, "Come over and help us!" What answer shall we give if we fail to provide for the lambs of the flock that are in our church schools?

If you have the personal and professional qualifications and have the love of Christ and His little ones in your heart, perhaps you can provide the answer to these letters.

Education Department,
Pacific Union Conference.

Academy Day at Newbury Park

When a youth first walks onto the campus of Newbury Park Academy, what does he see—a cool oasis set against the rolling hills that ring Conejo Valley, a convenient arrangement of modern buildings and recreational facilities, or a place to form ideals and standards that will last an eternity?

On April 23 Newbury Park Academy played host to 210 eighth-grade students from 19 Southern California elementary schools. What did they see as they came up Newbury's double drive and entered its spacious administration building for the first time? In seven hours they could not hope to inspect every classroom or talk to every staff member or meet every student, but they could see the variety of intellectual opportunities and sense the friendly Newbury family spirit that is known across the country.

Academy Day, 1962, was filled with many recreational opportunities, of course: swimming, tennis, basketball, baseball, and roller skating. But the morning program in the chapel showed the visitors what is most important at a school—the work of the teaching staff. Demonstrations included French and Spanish conversations, the repair of a small tractor, the mixing of chemicals, the use of a giant slide rule, and the presenting of Youth's Instructor Pen League awards.

If you had been one of the visitors for Academy Day, you probably would have wanted to see even more than this. The brief devotional given by Elder D. K. Griffith, pastor and Bible teacher, would only have made you curious about all the religious activities of the campus.

The academy board, under the leadership of Elder Cree Sandefur, our conference president, and L. W. Roth, Newbury Park Academy principal, has brought together a staff of consecrated Seventh-day Adventist men and women who are able to provide an ennobling atmosphere in which youth may learn and grow and work.

Both present and prospective students are beginning now to lay their plans to attend Newbury Park Academy next year. Usually the first consideration is work, for the academy provides approximately $12,000 a month in student labor. According to F. F. Dupper, assistant business manager, summer work is available at the broomshop, dairy, farm, garage, woodshop, poultry, cafeteria, laundry, and maintenance departments. The average rate for summer work is $1 an hour, but broomshop workers can earn as much as $2 an hour doing piecemeal work.

Newbury Park Academy provides a continual and consistent spiritual climate. Here the maturing influences of dormitory life help boys and girls become responsible, unselfish men and women. Withal, Newbury Park Academy is a school of God's own planting, providing according to His plan a program that is balanced intellectually, physically, socially, and spiritually.

News from San Fernando Valley Academy

Have you ever tried something different and experienced a warm glow of satisfaction afterward? Here at San Fernando Valley Academy we are still enjoying the afterglow of our youth working for the youth.

It all began in March when our young people with their sponsors organized a two-day Youth Crusade. It was a valley-wide program, including all the eight churches in our constituency. The students were the speakers, provided the special music, and made the appeal for reconsecration. It was truly an inspiration to see our future men and women in action for Christ.

However, this was only the beginning. Several of our young people have gone to various churches in the area and have given excellent reasons for their faith.

This spring, during our Week of Prayer, our young people led in the daily talks which were presented to the student body. Mr. Walter Marshall, our Bible instructor, and the seminar group planned an interesting program for the week, using student and faculty talent.

The spirit and cooperation among the students was heart-warming. In the elementary section, sixth grade baptismal candidates willingly testified of their love for Christ before the other students there.

It is a good thing to see our youth giving reasons for their faith, thereby encouraging other young people to take their stand for Christ. But how hard it is sometimes to see Christian men and women, future workers in the cause of God, in their effervescence of youth. How often do we lose this vision when confronted with these active, growing boys and girls? It is said that General Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, instructed his workers who went to the slums to salvage souls to survey the faces of the hearers and imagine them redeemed and purified; then, in the glory of that vision to present the gospel of Christ to them. This does make a difference. Therefore, let us study the young people in our schools to discover their talents, their aspirations for the future. Let us stimulate their imagination by presenting challenges of service and giving them opportunity of saying forcibly and with conviction, "These Things We Believe!"

A Look Ahead

Mr. Dean Loganbill of Walla Walla College will join the staff next year as an instructor in academy English and foreign language.

Miss Ellen Lehtonen will come from the Santa Monica elementary school to teach second grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson will join the academy staff, he to teach vocational arts and she as counselor and teacher of commercial subjects.

Pre-registration for all elementary students began May 15 and will continue until June 15. All students presently enrolled should pre-register as soon as possible. After June 15 all new students may register until the grades are filled. Academy registration will be on August 30.

Biology at Cedar Falls

The vast panorama presented by the natural world around us can be the most fascinating source of excitement imaginable. To the curious, each day becomes a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

This summer some of you will have the chance to consider the interesting habits of animals in their natural homes at the Co-ed Arts Camp to be held August 13 to 24 at Cedar Falls Camp. The peculiar ways in which the fish, reptiles, birds, and mammals are adapted for life will be studied.

The largest group, and also the most variable, are the insects. The opportunity to learn how to collect, mount, and preserve insects will be afforded each academy girl and boy who chooses to study biology at Cedar Falls this summer. Here's the chance to have fun while you're learning! If you do not have an application, please contact the MV Department.

Knox Lectures Continue

Elder Phillip Knox is continuing his series of lectures at the Los Angeles Central church, 650 West 21st Street, Los Angeles. Meetings are being held Sabbath mornings at 10:45 and Sunday nights at 7:30. We have enjoyed having a very good attendance with an approximately 40 per cent non-Adventist audience. We would encourage those having friends in Los Angeles to write to them telling them of these illustrated lectures. It is our prayer that we might see a good harvest of souls as a result of this evangelistic endeavor in greater Los Angeles.

MERWIN JONES, Pastor.

News Notes

Is rehabilitation the answer to the problem of alcoholism? With slightly over one per cent of the known 5,000,000 alcoholics in the nation having been helped in some cases and less than one per cent in others, rehabilitation has become as much of a failure as prohibition in solving the problem of alcoholism, according to an article in the March-April Listen.

Arizona Pathfinder Fair

Early on the morning of April 29, activity was evident at the Family Center Auditorium in Phoenix. This was the date for the first state-wide Pathfinder Fair to be held in Arizona. By 10 a.m. 10 of the 14 clubs in the state had reported in and were feverishly working on their booths.

Booths were judged at 11:30 and interesting events and contests made up the afternoon program. The Tempe club exhibited and demonstrated odd bicycles; the Phoenix Union club demonstrated some horsemanship on two Palominos; and a Sunnyslope Pathfinder launched a miniature rocket after proper count-down procedures and a misfire or two.

First award for total points accumulated pre-fair and fair went to the Glendale club—Mrs. Irene Hall, director; second award to Thunderbird club—Mrs. Reubin Martin, director; third award to Phoenix Union—Roger Bierwagen, director.

The Tempe club, directed by Mr. Howard Shumway, won the most points at the fair, but because of a shortage of pre-fair points they ranked in fourth place.

Much enthusiasm was engendered and already plans are being discussed for next year's fair.

Arizona JMV's Recognized

The accompanying pictures show three groups of boys and girls that recently received awards and JMV insignia to which they were entitled.

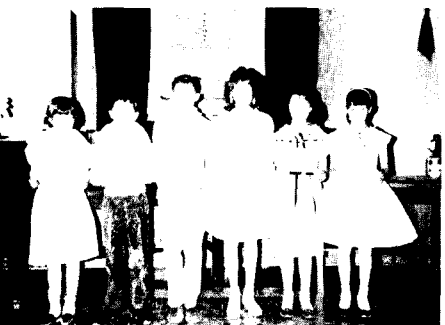

The Flagstaff group demonstrated various skills and accomplishments around a campfire circle with the temperature not far above freezing. The Thunderbird Elementary School group did the same thing in an air-cooled school room with temperatures around 100 degrees outside.

Oahu Pathfinder Festival

The Hawaiian Mission Academy Medical Cadet Corps Color Guard followed by the Royal Hawaiian Band led the Seventh Annual Oahu Pathfinder Fair and Hobby Show Parade down Kalakaua Avenue between Diamond Head and Waikiki Beach on Sunday, May 6, in one of the outstanding Pathfinder events of the year. Ten clubs on the Island of Oahu were represented in the parade by marching units and floats. The parade, fair, and hobby show were held on the Diamond Head end of Kapiolani Park just off Waikiki in Honolulu. An almost-capacity crowd was on hand from the beginning of the festivities in the morning at 10:45 until the closing event at 4:30 in the afternoon.

During the lunch hour following the parade, food was served to those present by the Pathfinder clubs in different booths that were erected in a circle in the park. While most of the folk were enjoying the special items available from the food booths, the judges were inspecting the booths and checking working demonstrations that were in operation from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

One of the most impressive events of the day was the special Investiture of 14 Master Guides just following the noon hour. At 1:30 p.m. the exhibitions and demonstrations started. The different clubs participated in precision marching followed by contests in pup tent pitching, knot tying, and "launching the Sputnik." A little after four o'clock the awards were passed out to the various clubs, and the "All Pau" signal was given.

AIEO PATHFINDER CLUB

Pictured above is the booth exhibit of the Aieo Pathfinder Club that helped to make them one of the top ranking clubs in the Seventh Annual Oahu Pathfinder Fair and Hobby Show. Each of the Pathfinder clubs represented had outstanding booth displays featuring the crafts and the work of the Pathfinders during the past year. It was a real inspiration to all who attended to see the work that these youngsters have been doing under the leadership of capable directors and counselors. The three top ranking clubs in the day's activities were Waimanalo, Kaimuki, and Kaneohe.

Kailua Church News

Scaffolds, paints, brushes, and men were the order of the day at the Kailua church on the windward side. Several Sunday mornings a dozen men with Brother Packard Hino, chairman of the decorating committee, came to dust, scrape, and lay canvas for the assault. Mr. Larry Yoshizumi, an experienced painter, helped mix the paints for the painters.

When the task was over, the inside sanctuary tile walls were magically transformed into a light green, the woodwork and trimmings in darker green, and the ceiling in white. The lighting fixtures were given a thorough rub-down and sandpapering and sprayed with silver by Brother Dalles Carr. To help supply energy were Sisters Mary Guthrie and Fawn Brown with their refreshments.

It has been over ten years since the original paint was put on. The church was first organized in 1945, with 19 charter members under Elder Robert Nomi, now pastor of the Honolulu Japanese church, when Kailua was just a little town. Today there are over 8,000 homes with the population soaring over 35,000. The church has a seating capacity of 160. Elder Richard D. Clement is now shepherding the flock.

Under the pioneer work of Mrs. Robert Nomi in 1945, the Kailua mission church school was started with 15 students. Now we have over 125 youngsters—many non-Adventists—who are learning of Christ from Godly teachers.

The Kailua church members, one hundred strong, are dedicated to the task of helping to finish the gospel work in Hawaii. May the church be a beacon light in the community of Kailua.

Assistant Pastor.

The Fields Are White, Ready to Harvest

Baptisms? Two! Bible studies? Ten families involved and 18 more waiting for studies to begin! Who says that Seventh-day Adventist literature does not win souls? And what pastor would not be delighted to have the colporteur working in his area produce results like these.

Yes, these are the immediate results of my contacts among about 150 families in the Modesto area who have purchased and paid for books sold to them by our colporteurs. About three months ago the Central California Conference set me to the task of contacting these families, to discover their interest in Bible truth as they have found it in our books. It is a pleasure to report that only eight families in all these contacts indicate that they are not interested in reading additional Adventist literature. This leaves a high percentage of those visited who have no prejudice, and who are interested in further study of our doctrines. My work involves no selling but is, in reality, the equivalent of a pastoral call, distinctly spiritual in its appeal, and with a prayer offered in every home where circumstances permit.

On my first visit I leave a loan copy of one of our truth-filled books, with the assurance that I shall return to pick it up and replace it with another. By making a series of properly-spaced visits of this nature, it is possible to gain the confidence of these families and, as indicated, begin Bible studies in the home through the services of our able Bible instructor, Miss Viola Brooks. Her warm friendliness disarms any possible prejudice and opens the doors of hearts to receive all of the truths of the Bible. At the close of one such study one family said, "Miss Brooks, just suppose we had gone to the grave without knowing these Bible truths—how terrible that would have been!" We see the working of the Holy Spirit as we water and harvest the seed sown by faithful colporteurs.

In one home, as I presented the loan copy of the book to be left in the home, the lady went to her purse and drew out $40 to be used to buy additional books to be loaned to others, like herself, who are searching for Bible truth. This was her way of sharing her new-found faith. She is now a baptized member of the church. I am sure that as these interests are followed up there will be a harvest of souls for Christ. Think of what our literature is doing in seed-sowing! The fields are white, ready to harvest, as the work I am assigned to do illustrates. Every colporteur can take courage as he looks to the harvest, when more than a thousand will accept the message in one day, tracing their first knowledge of the truth to the literature placed in their hands by our faithful literature evangelists.

Our visitation will continue among these colporteur contacts, and when the summer vacations are over we expect to launch a major drive in personal evangelism among these and other interested families.

Field Service Representative.

"My Heart Sang"

W. J. Nordgren, who recently joined the literature evangelist forces in Utah, tells the following interesting story. He is working in the Monument Valley area.

"I've had an experience which is as thrilling as any I could imagine. On Wednesday afternoon I approached a trailer. The woman was just leaving but asked me to return the following day. She returned just as I was leaving the house next door so I asked her if I could see her then and she agreed.

"After entering and being seated I started my canvass for the Bible Story. I got about half way through Book I when she stopped me saying, 'Why this is just what we've been looking for. My husband likes to read to the children at night. How much is the set?'

"I made a short canvass as I explained the combination offer with Life and Health and gave the price. She said, 'I'll take it. How do I pay for it?'

"I explained the cash plan and time payment. She accepted time payment and offered $10 down. I wrote out the contract but as she signed she explained that she had only four dollars in cash and asked me to return for the rest when her husband was home.

"Later when I returned her husband invited me in and asked me to be seated saying, 'Let me see the books.' The pause was nearly audible as he looked at them. Then he said, 'Yes, we want these books. I was raised on them.' Then he asked, 'You're an Adventist from Goulding's Hospital [as our mission hospital is often referred to after the name of the donor of the land tract], aren't you?'

"Yes, I am, and my wife is a nurse there."

"I went to Enterprise Academy in Kansas. I was raised an Adventist," he continued. 'But I went to the oil fields and then—! Well, you know how it goes.'

"I do know," I replied, for I had been raised an Adventist, then went to the Army—! Then he paid the deposit. His wife who had been reared in Catholicism signed for the Bible correspondence course and he offered to study it with her.

"We had prayer and I left. My heart sang all the way home. He wants to come home. Please pray for this family for he wants to bring all of them with him to the kingdom. Nothing could ever be as rewarding as this."

Sierra Associated MV Club

Beautiful Moles Campground, near Dog Valley in California, was the scene of the April meeting of the Sierra Associated MV Club, held on April 21 and 22. It was good to see all six of the area churches represented among the 150 who answered the roll call. A short hike brought us to a quiet hillside grove where an impressive singspiration was held.

At the Sabbath evening devotional, Elder Keslake told about the many lessons that can be learned from the palm tree. As darkness came on and supper was served, the group felt they would almost freeze while eating the outdoor potluck supper. But they were soon warmed up as they watched two fine nature films at the Reno church a little later.

After an overnight campout—all but two of the group slept in camp bunks at the school—we enjoyed some of the best pancakes ever cooked, thanks to the Hornings. The Sunday crystal hunt which followed was not a great success but all had a good time and some good crystals were found.

Perhaps the most important event of the weekend was the reorganization of the nature club. There were a number who turned in their names but many others have indicated that they also want to join the nature club. Therefore, we are printing an application blank and a brief outline of the requirements.

1. Members must be at least 14 years of age, and church members.
2. Dues will be $2 per family and this will include a year's subscription to The Naturalist and all other club publications.
3. Fill in the form below and send with $2 to: Philip A. Lewis, 1440 Bresson Avenue, Reno, Nevada.

News Notes

✓ Sabbath, May 5, was a high day for members of the Bishop, California, church. Five persons who had been studying with Miss Dorothy Perkins, a faithful lay member, were baptized into the church. These are the first fruits of a Bible study group meeting at Laws, California, during the winter and spring months.

Indian Creek Camp Meeting Philo, June 14 to 17

A beautiful redwood grove bounding the Indian Creek at Philo, 35 miles northwest of Cloverdale on State Highway 128, awaits you. Here you will find rest for your body and refreshment for your soul. Leaders and speakers have been chosen to attract and interest every member of your family. The meetings will be conducted from Thursday evening, June 14, through Sunday noon, June 17.

Remember that each family is to provide for their own needs with regard to tent, cots, bedding, chairs, table, camp stove, and food. No open fires will be permitted for food preparation and no electric or sewage hook-ups will be available for trailers. There will be a camping charge of $1 per night for each tent or trailer.

For several Sundays the pastors and laymen of our churches in Sonoma, Mendocino, Marin, and Lake counties have been preparing the grounds for this encampment. It is our prayer that a great number of our families in this area will plan to partake of this spiritual feast in this beautiful grove kindly made available to us by Paul Marsh, M.D., of Ukiah.

Lay Nutrition Instruction in Northern

It was our privilege to have the services of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Vollmer in Northern during the month of April. They had three classes, one beginning in the Bay Area April 8, another in the Sacramento area beginning April 15, and closing with a class in the Fortuna area the week of April 22.

Each of these classes has produced a number of instructors who are most anxious to begin classes in their own churches. At least one class is already in progress with several more beginning soon.

The aim and purpose of these classes is to present to our people and their friends a more healthful way of life. We are told that we must present our bodies "a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

We feel very fortunate to have been able to secure the services of Dr. and Mrs. Vollmer to train instructors to lead in their communities. We wish for the Vollmers heaven's rich blessings as they continue their labors of teaching others a better way of life.

W. B. BRISTOW, Secretary,

Covelo Church Organized

When the Covelo members were formally organized into a church on Sabbath, April 28, this new church became the ninety-second in the Northern California Conference. The organization service was conducted by Elder E. A. Schmidt, secretary-treasurer of the conference, assisted by Brother Frank Cook, manager of the Book and Bible House.

Covelo lies in the midst of a fertile valley in the northern section of Mendocino County, 30 miles eastward from Highway 101. Several families wanting to leave the large cities have established themselves on small holdings of one to ten acres each and are growing nice gardens. The charter membership of this new church is 32, and there are a few others who have already arranged to have their membership transferred to Covelo.

It isn't always that a church is organized and a church building program is undertaken immediately, but such is the case at Covelo. The present meeting house—a church school—is crowded to the limit of its capacity when all come together as they did on Sabbath, April 28. Hence larger quarters are imperative. There is a good missionary field in this area, and the prayers of God's people are solicited in behalf of this new church and its sacred responsibilities.

JOSEPH PHILLIPS, Pastor.

Spiritual Blessings at Lodi Academy

Wonderful have been the blessings of the Lord upon Lodi Academy's effort to provide a rich, full, and fruitful spiritual program for its students. Many are the young men and women whose lives have not only been slightly molded, but whose viewpoints, attitudes, and dispositions have been dramatically changed.

Young people reared in the midst of sin and darkness have found their God and surrendered to Him while here this year. Youth brought up in Seventh-day Adventist homes but who had failed to gain an understanding of or appreciation for a close walk with God have discerned the joy of dedication to a personal Saviour.

To observe spiritual growth and development is indeed satisfying. To hear the young people of the church as they meet in prayer bands and otherwise thank their God for Christian schools and Christian parents and express their desire to give their lives to His service wherever He calls them is gratifying and inspiring.

As we observe the applications coming in for next school year, it seems evident that Lodi Academy will again have a large student body of excellent quality.

Lodi Academy is desirous of serving the educational and spiritual needs of the youth of the church. If in any way we can be of help to you in your desire to carry out the Lord's will concerning the education of your boy or girl, please feel free to communicate with us.

VERNON H. KOENIG, Principal,
Lodi Academy.

Investment Grows for the Boosters

Once again we have been reminded that Investment goals will come to the one who works for them. Following is a report from Petaluma's pastor, Robert Heisler, explaining how one member boosts his Investment goal by bringing visitors to Sabbath School.

"Brother George Miller, one of the many faithful members of the Petaluma Sabbath School, has developed a plan for Investment which is proving to be a great blessing. He has pledged to give one dollar to Investment for each non-Adventist child or adult who becomes a member of the Petaluma Sabbath School during 1962.

"Not only the church, but Brother Miller himself is responding wholeheartedly to this project. Each Sabbath morning, Brother and Sister Miller bring as many as 18 children to Sabbath School. The Millers have found that their Rambler station wagon is no longer large enough

Redding Has 28 Qualified Lay Workers

Miss Mary Walsh, Bible instructor from Glendale, recently spent two weeks in the Redding area conducting classes for lay members. Twenty-eight certificates were issued to those fulfilling the requirements. The studies were on subjects of vital importance to all church members. Meetings were held every night with two meetings on Sabbaths. Practical instruction included how to meet and visit interested people, how to interest backsliders in returning to the fold, how to inspire others to go forward in lay missionary work, and how to study and give Bible instruction to friends and neighbors.

Miss Walsh's visit and help was greatly appreciated by the members of the Redding church.

to transport the many children in their neighborhood who are longing to go to Sabbath School, and, therefore, have recently purchased a Volkswagen bus to enable them to bring more prospective members to Sabbath School.

"As a result of the children's interest in Sabbath School, some of their parents have become interested, are coming to Sabbath School, and are taking Bible studies.

"This Investment project is serving wonderfully two purposes. The Investment dollars for members enrolling in Sabbath School are working to win souls in the mission fields, while new members in the local Sabbath School are constantly a source for building up the church.

"To date 22 members have been added to the Petaluma Sabbath School as a result of this soul-winning Investment project."

Following is an inside story which helps explain the Investment victory for 1961 at the St. Helena Sanitarium church.

"Included in the $4,385.28 which the St. Helena Sanitarium church turned in for Investment during 1961 was a tidy sum raised by Investment dinners.

"Miss Minnie Dauphinee and her sister, Miss Carrie Dauphinee, gave a series of these dinners at their home near the Sanitarium church and were able to turn more than $100 into the Investment fund.

"The plan is very simple: A hostess invests the cost of the food, prepares and serves it, and the guests pay $1 each—all of which is turned in as Investment.

"Earlier this year, seven girls in the Junior Division at Sabbath School held an Investment dinner. They served a delightful buffet supper and were able to turn in $32 from their 32 guests.

"Mrs. Hollis Cox is Investment chairman for this year and has some interesting plans including a Country Store where 'Investors' may sell their food and fancyware, flowers, vegetables, and plants, plus 'white elephants' and other items for Investment."

Let's continue to remember Investment. It will bring blessing to each one who participates. It will bless world missions. It will bless the Sabbath School.

Sabbath School Department.

THE MILLION DOLLAR OFFERING

"What's five dollars when you are buying groceries?" was the observation of a housewife with whom I was discussing the limited purchasing power of the inflated dollar in 1939. When a comparison is made between the dollar value then and now, we realize immediately how little we can buy today for our money.

What's a million dollars when you are supporting world missions? This sounds like a huge sum of money. If you were to take a million one-dollar bills and lay them end to end they would reach about from Los Angeles to Bakersfield. This is not very far, when Seventh-day Adventists are covering the globe. Spread a million dollars among 13 world divisions of our church, and then subdivide each allotment among the local mission stations and institutions. By this time each portion amounts to very little.

When our denominational leaders ask us to contribute a Million Dollar Offering to be presented at our world session in San Francisco July 28, they are not asking us to do too much. A million sounds like a huge sum. Actually it is within the possibility of the Pacific Union Conference alone to raise this amount. Sharpen your pencil and do a little figuring with me. If each of the 80,000 members in our churches were to give only $12.50 this union would have a million dollars to present. But we only have been asked to raise a little more than one-quarter of this amount—$275,000. Certainly we would not wish to do less than this.

How can we share in this accomplishment? There have been made available through each local church special Million Dollar Offering folders. They have coin slots for 16 quarters and 33 dimes. When filled each will total $7.30. We spend our dimes and quarters for many purposes. They are dropped in pop machines, candy dispensers, etc. If during the next two months before the Million Dollar Offering is taken on July 14, we decide to place them in the folder instead, it will be a far

Summer Choir School

The schools and churches in and about Loma Linda will have the unique experience of having a Choir School in their midst this summer. This school will run from June 17 to July 13 and will be held at the Loma Linda Union Academy in three daily sessions as follows: Grades 5 to 8 in the forenoon; grades 1 to 4 in the afternoon; and grades 9 to 12 in the evening. The evening session may be taken for one-half unit academic credit.

The content of each course will be centered around the musical needs of the church, such as note reading, ear training, diction, hymnology, choir materials, and procedures.

The work will be in the immediate charge and direction of Dr. Oliver S. Beltz and Mr. Albert Mayes, Jr.—men who are devoting their lives to the building of musical perceptions and standards both in and outside of the church.

A brochure giving all details of the work may be had by addressing the Loma Linda Union Academy, Loma Linda, California. It is the purpose of the Summer Choir School to lay firm foundations in the minds of the children and youth in the basic elements in the music of the church.

better investment both for ourselves and the Cause of God.

Place a coin folder on the kitchen table or the bedroom dresser as a constant reminder of the pleasure of giving to the Cause of Christ. To the child of God giving is not a chore; it is a joy. Only those who learn to give sacrificially, cheerfully, and willingly gain the zest and joy that Christian living alone can bring. Daniel K. Pearsons is reported to have said in 1909, "I am having more fun than any other millionaire alive. Let other rich men go in for automobiles and steam yachts. I have discovered, after endowing forty-seven colleges in twenty-four states, that giving is the most exquisite of mundane delights."

By the time he was 91 he had given away practically all that he possessed for the benefit of others. Shortly after this he gave his home to his town to be converted into a library, and retired to a sanitarium where he died about a year later, a poor man. Yet not poor, he had become a millionaire in the truest sense of the word, for he had deposited his millions in the bank of heaven.

Only a few in our church are millionaires. Most of us are wage earners with limited incomes. We do not have a million dollars to give, but we can contribute toward a Million Dollar Offering. We did it for the General Conference Session in 1958; we can do it again. Some will be able to give large sums. God has especially prospered them and He expects their loyalty. Others will use the savings folder. Let each share according to his ability in the Million Dollar Offering July 14.

JOHN W. OSBORN, President.

Paradise Valley School of Nutrition

A school of Health and Nutrition is being conducted at the Paradise Valley church with good attendance and interest. Miss Veda Sue Marsh and Miss Ellen Wilson, the instructors, are inspiring many to improve their cooking and living habits and to bring their bodies as living sacrifices to the Lord. Whole families are invited to attend and even boys and girls are experimenting with the recipes.

Pine Springs Ranch

Workmen have been streaming to Pine Springs Ranch for Sunday work bees to aid in the development of this new campsite. The workmen have been helping to build 20 camper cabins as well as other essential buildings that will be needed for the opening of the first session at Pine Springs Ranch June 24.

The 320-acre ranch has been proclaimed by workmen and others visiting the site as a most ideal location for camping and nature activities.

A conference-wide offering will be taken on Sabbath, June 23, to aid in the development of Pine Springs Ranch.

Youth planning to camp at the ranch this summer should get their applications to the conference MV Department immediately.

W. D. BLEHM, Secretary,
MV Department.

Workmen from throughout the conference swarmed at Pine Springs Ranch building five camper cabins each Sunday for four consecutive Sundays.

Brother Ray Hobson (right) is shown directing the construction of the ranch cabins. Brother Hobson and Carrall Davis from the Vista church acted as general supervisors for the cabin construction.

One of the five cabins built on one Sunday by volunteer labor. The cabins are 16 feet wide, 22 feet long, and will house from eight to ten campers, along with a counselor.

What Do Seventh-day Adventists Believe?

The Needles church, under the direction of its pastor, E. L. Johnson, prepared 36 advertisements for insertion as a series in the local paper. They have proven to be an effective means of calling the readers' attention to the truths of God's Word and of pointing out beliefs which we hold in common with other churches. "We believe," says Pastor Johnson, "that this is working to break down prejudice and prepare minds for literature and a future evangelistic campaign."

M. V. JACOBSON.

Suggested Health Topics for Evangelistic Meetings

1. The reason for the health message. Why Seventh-day Adventists are so concerned about health should be presented at the beginning of the series. As Jesus is presented to the people, the means by which they may hear His voice clearer should be made known.

2. We are fearfully and wonderfully made. The way God made us—an understanding of anatomy and physiology as God's natural law and simple obedience to those laws—should be presented as a great blessing.

3. The first home God made for man shows his concern for their health, welfare, and happiness. Harmonious living is the way to happiness today also—a balance between rest and exercise, sleep and work. Regularity in living is essential.

4. The meaning of temperance in all things. Tobacco, alcohol, narcotics.

5. Temperance in diet. A balanced diet. Simple food demonstrations would be in place.

6. Sanctification and health.

7. The problem of illness. Ministry of Healing.

8. Our world-wide work of health evangelism.

We need to study how to best present the health message to the people, so it will have the effect it was designed to have, for "The influences that are associated with health reform will commend it to the judgment of all who want light; and they will advance step by step to receive the special truths for this time. Thus truth and righteousness will meet together." Testimonies, vol. 6, p. 379.

RUTH BERGLUND, Director,

News in Brief

✓ The Victorville church is now in the midst of a fund-raising campaign for their new church. If possible, they hope to have a church large enough to seat 300 persons in anticipation of the rapid growth of the area.

✓ Seven cars with about 30 young people and 12 adults accompanied two truck loads of furniture, clothing, etc., on its way to our people in Ensenada as a gift from our people in the La Mesa church. Pastor Xavier Ponce of the Mexican church came to La Mesa to guide the caravan. The needed gifts were very much appreciated, reports Elder Stanley West.

✓ Most San Diego churches had guest speakers on May 5, when MV and Temperance leaders were present for a large youth rally Sabbath afternoon and the union-wide temperance contest at Gompers Auditorium in the evening. Harry Garlick spoke at North Park; Max Torkelsen, of Arizona, at La Mesa; Miller Brockett at San Diego 31st Street church; Ellsworth Reile, of Southern, at Paradise Valley; J. S. MacIntosh, of Central California, at Vista; and Walter Blehm at the Chula Vista church.

✓ On Sunday night, May 5, Elder J. L. Shuler preached his ninth consecutive sermon in Blythe. At the close of his service 25 non-Seventh-day Adventists filled out decision cards expressing their desire to be a part of God's remnant church. Two baptismal services were planned for May 10 and 12 at our church in Blythe where the workers hoped to see most of these 25 persons baptized.

Data Processing Laboratory

Constant effort is being put forth to keep our Data Processing Laboratory completely modern, according to Dr. I. R. Neilsen. The Bendix G-15, the heart of the DPL, is particularly well adapted to keeping pace with the latest advances because of its ability to accept attachments and its capability for expansion. Recently, Dr. Neilsen pointed out, our system was converted from numeric to alpha-numeric in order to take advantage of the new ALGOL language algebraic compiler which is now available. This is an extremely advanced computer language. We have recently added magnetic tape units in order to expand the computer memory and a graph-plotting attachment, built by California Computer Corporation, which is one of the most modern machines of its kind.

While attending the Space Age Engineering Convention sponsored by many government agencies at the Cow Palace in San Francisco recently, Dr. Neilsen noted that the Bendix G-15 was the computer exhibited there in the context of this very modern and rapidly-developing space-age program. It is of interest, Dr. Neilsen pointed out, that the Army Corps of Engineers with many types of computers to Seventeen crippled children from the Chas. Whitten school in Oakland were guests of the Men of Grainger on Easter Sunday at Pacific Union College. For the handicapped youth it was a bright experience to get into the country, and for the men's organization planning the day's outing was heart-warming and rewarding.

Reunion

Paradise Valley School of Nursing reunion will be Sunday, June 3, at Kate Lindsay Hall, Loma Linda, California, from 1 to 5 p.m. The Class of 1930 will be honored. There will be a program and refreshments. Old-timers are invited to contact:

choose from in Sacramento make weekly trips to PUC to rent time on our Bendix G-15 because they feel that it is ideally suited to the solution of their problems. "We feel that the G-15 was an especially fortunate choice. It is a machine with an extremely versatile command structure," Dr. Neilsen said, "and a broad range of logical as well as computational capabilities."

PUC Records for Radio Programs

Recordings of the PUC A Cappella Choir, Chorale, Wind Sinfonietta, and the Madrigal Singers have recently been made for use in radio programs over a number of northern and central California stations. Study is being given to the possibility of pressing records from some of these recordings if there is sufficient demand.

A series of thirteen fifteen-minute programs of sacred music from the A Cappella Choir entitled "Psalms From the Campus" will be supplied to KVON in Napa very soon. This station covers a large portion of the Bay Area.

Lewis Wilson, senior student who is directing production and recording, and Edwin Karlow, a freshman student who is the sound engineer, state that recordings of this type and quality have not been made at Pacific Union College previously because adequate equipment was not available. In addition to excellent equipment which the Speech Department of the college now owns, other pieces of excellent quality have been borrowed from other sources to make the recordings of first-class quality. Edwin Karlow has had extensive experience in recording for records.

Write — Inform — Sponsor

Right now there is a bill in Washington to provide that cigarettes sold in interstate commerce shall be packaged and marked so as to show the nicotine content and the tar content of the cigarettes in each package. This bill was introduced in the House of Representatives on March 26. It is HR 10910 and has been referred to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

We believe that every Adventist is interested in seeing this bill enacted; therefore, we would encourage every member to write to his United States Congressman or Senator from his district urging the passage of this bill. A list of the United States Senators for the states in the Pacific Union will be found in this issue of the RECORDER.

Side Light in the Field of Alcohol

The lead article in the Saturday Evening Post, January 27, 1962 was entitled

"Alcoholism: Housewife's Secret Sickness." This article points out that field workers in various states have discovered that there are probably more than one million American women who are victims of alcoholism. Most of these alcoholics remain hidden, and for every one that is known nine are unknown. Since World War II the number has increased dramatically. Alcoholics Anonymous, an organization to help alcoholics, is now treating just as many women as men.

TV Program "Press Conference," March 11, 1962

"In Los Angeles one drunk is arrested every three and one-half minutes, and four out of five are males. About 25 to 40 per cent of the Los Angeles Police Budget goes for the arrest and processing of drunks.

"Skid Row drunks account for less than 10 per cent of the drinking problem in the city. It costs about $40 to arrest and process a drunk, but it costs only about $30 per month to treat them in an alcoholic clinic. Since drinking involves law enforcement, courts, family life, social services, employment, we would be far ahead on this problem if we would set up a city-wide clinic for the treatment of as many drunks as feasible."

Home Beer Bar

From Hollywood comes news of the new home "beer bar." Says the article: "It's fun to press on the taps and see fresh foaming beer flow smoothly into your glass. Parties really liven up when your guests can personally come to the beer bar and draw their own beer fresh from the tap. The money you save on beer alone will pay for your home 'beer bar.'" And think how handy it will be for the teen-agers and kiddies.

Ann Landers

In the current May-June issue of Listen Magazine, Ann Landers, who was recently interviewed by Francis Soper, editor of Listen, answers 24 important questions concerning teen-agers and drink. All members of the ATS will be receiving a copy of this issue. Others may be obtained through the conference Book and Bible House.

The Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism

The Institute of Scientific Studies will be held in Seattle, Washington, August 6 to 16. The conferences are interested in sponsoring some key individuals to the institute. The names of such persons should be sent to the Temperance Department of the union or local conference office.

Newsweek, March 19, 1962

This issue has an important article giving the recent action of London's Royal College of Physicians, one of the most powerful, conservative colleges in the world.

In a 70-page report entitled Smoking and Health, the society issued an unequivocal indictment of cigarettes. For those interested in obtaining a copy of this the cost is $1 and it may be ordered from the Pitman Publishing Corporation and the address is 2 West 45th Street, New York 36, New York.

Consumers Bulletin, May 1962

In this publication on page 30 is an article entitled, "Lead and Arsenic in Smoking Tobacco." The article points out that these two poisons are present in all well-known brands of tobacco and can be very damaging to the human body.

Listen Sponsorships

Listen Magazine carries vital facts and information and should be sponsored by Adventist churches to doctors, clergymen, public school teachers, libraries, barber shops, and beauty parlors. Listen sponsorship rates are $1 a subscription and

Elder Venden's Story

Recently, in the La Sierra College church, we heard Elder D. E. Venden tell a very interesting story of a woman who attended his meetings some years ago in New York City. In her childhood days in Boston her mother had purchased a copy of The Great Controversy from a colporteur. It was one of the early editions and contained many pictures. The little girl was much impressed by the animal pictures illustrating some of the prophecies. The impressions were never forgotten, and when the mother died and the home things were distributed among the members of the family, she chose to keep the book written by Sister White.

In time this woman married and with her family moved to New York City. One of the announcements of the Venden meetings was left at her home. It mentioned the prophetic lectures being given in one of the theaters and was illustrated by an animal given in a prophecy, one which the woman had seen in her old book and now recalled to her mind. She spoke to her grown daughter about the meetings advertised, and together they attended. And together they accepted the message and joined our people. Such was the fruit of the influence of the old copy of The Great Controversy and its pictures and contents. This sister, by the way, was a real help financially to Elder Fagal in getting his Faith for Today television program started in New York City. How true it is that God works in "wondrous ways" to lead individuals into the lighted way!

ERNEST LLOYD.

Pacific Union College Sets a Fine Example

Student members of this American Temperance Society Chapter have organized a team to go into high schools in St. Helena, Napa, and Calistoga. So far, they have presented their program to several hundred high school students. Their program includes an oration, the film "Up in Smoke," and a special feature by the college tumbling team.
