

Vatican Council Reports in Review

All of you have heard that there will convene in Rome on October 11 a great Vatican Council with the Pope presiding. There has not been such a council since 1870. Central to the Council will be a study of how to bring unity to Christendom; in other words, how to unite all churches with Rome.

The editors of the Review and Herald have just given me the thrilling news that they have arranged for one of our prominent workers in Europe, who has spent years in Italy, and speaks Italian fluently as well as French, German, and English to go to Rome in advance of the Council's opening and stay through the first few weeks. He has received press accreditation from the Vatican. Thus he will be close up against the great meeting and will provide a series of timely articles for the Review. These articles will deal not only with the news of what is happening but also with the prophetic import of it.

You will not wish to miss these articles, which will begin about the first issue in November. Don't let your subscription run out. Or if you haven't been a subscriber, give your church missionary secretary your subscription at once, asking that your subscription begin with the first issue in November. Remember, it takes some time for your subscription order to go on through your Bible House and then to the publishing house to be placed on the mailing list. Now is the time to subscribe when the $3.95 campaign price is on. The Review belongs in every home. It's hardly possible to be a well-informed Adventist without being a subscriber to the official organ of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

R. G. CAMPBELL, Manager, Periodical Department, Review & Herald Pub. Assn.

The chosen people of God in the days Christ had such a high and jealous gard for their beliefs that it virtually wholeheartedly. The first the Community Contact have plished and many of our n of Christ had such a high and jealous regard for their beliefs that it virtually destroyed all their freedom of action. They lived in continual dread and fear that by contact with others they might become defiled. Their narrow view encouraged egotism and intolerance.

When Jesus came He sought to break down this "we are better than thou" attitude. We are told in the book Desire of Ages that He reached the hearts of the people by contacting them on the streets, in the boats, in the synagogues, by the shores of the lakes, at the marriage feasts, and at their daily vocations. Unless the church members make contact with their friends and neighbors, they are not fulfilling the command and example of Jesus Christ.

During 1962 a concentrated effort has been made by every church in the Pacific Union Conference in a program known as Community Contact. Every department of the church supported this program

Interesting History

J. M. Nerness, the pastor of the Santa Cruz and Soquel churches in the Central California Conference, sent to the Pacific Union Conference office a report of church expense for the year 1906 as it appears in the early records of the Soquel church. It is interesting to know that the Soquel church was the first Seventh-day Adventist church organized south of San Francisco. The report is as follows:

April 1, 1906, janitor work$	1.50
May 9, for repairing the church fence	1.25
May 9, cleaning weeds around church	.50
June 30, janitor work	1.50
September 30, janitor work	1.50
September 30, postage stamps	.50
October 28, insurance	13.00
December 30, janitor work	1.50
December 30, oil
Total	21.75
Balance on hand$	2.48

Items of this nature are always of interest to the readers of the Recorder because they indicate the careful and faithful way in which the work of the church was handled in the early days.

wholeheartedly. The first two stages of Community Contact have been accomplished and many of our neighbors and friends have been visited, but now the time has come for Stage III. This time there should be an organized endeavor to again make a friendly visit to all of our neighbors. Not only should we visit them but we should also invite them to enroll in the Voice of Prophecy Bible Correspondence School. Full information about the details of this program has been sent to all the pastors and this information will be coming to the individual church members.

Community Contact should not be a spasmodic program. It should be something that we carry on throughout the entire year. If we are the light of the world then let us shine brightly all the time. However, on Sabbath, October 13, we have a special opportunity to go out on the highways and byways looking for "these other sheep."

Dentistry for Handicapped Taught at Loma Linda

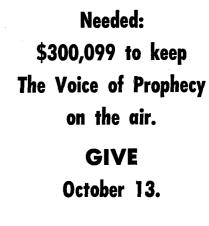

LOMA LINDA—An important part of the total health program of any child is professional dental care. The child afflicted with cerebral palsy or any other neuromuscular disorder, however, poses serious problems to the dentist which may make proper care extremely difficult.

Professional awareness of the problems in dentistry for the neuromuscularly handicapped and community concern for the welfare of those affected have resulted in the establishment in Loma Linda of a program to bring help to children with such handicaps. Loma Linda University has been selected by the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation to provide dentists with advanced training in the unique methods required for treatment of persons suffering from cerebral palsy or similar disorders.

The national organization, with the participation of the San Bernardino County chapter, has allocated $5,520 to assist the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry in setting up a post-doctoral fellowship for graduate dentists wishing to specialize in dentistry for the neuromuscularly handicapped.

First in West

The Loma Linda University program, leading to the Master of Science degree in two years, is reportedly the first of its kind on the West Coast. Until the first dentist began the specialized instruction at Loma Linda this summer, the westernmost school offering such a program under the auspices of the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation was the University of Kansas City. Three other dental schools-all still farther east-offer similar programs.

Currently enrolled in the program at Loma Linda is W. William Maddox, D.D.S., a 1962 graduate of the University's School of Dentistry. Among his instructors are specialists in rehabilitation, pathology, neurology, speech pathology, and anesthesiology, as well as dentistry.

Two Children's Centers

"The choice of Loma Linda University as the Western center for education in dentistry for the handicapped is a blessing to this area," stated Frank E. Voight, president of the United Cerebral Palsy Asso-ciation of San Bernardino County. "The University operates two centers for the care and treatment of cerebral palsied children. One, in Los Angeles, is supported by the Cerebral Palsy Association of Los Angeles County. The center at Loma Linda is supported by the San Bernardino County Cerebral Palsy Association, an agency of the Arrowhead United Fund. County residents who contribute to the association through the Arrowhead United Fund can now see an added bonus from their annual gifts," Mr. Voight added.

Summer Visitors

Literally thousands of visitors have enjoyed tours of the St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital this summer—particularly just before, during, and following the quadrennial session in San Francisco.

Most of the visitors came in private cars, but the Pacific Union College bus and the Gray Line Tours of San Francisco brought them in groups of approximately forty each. With Pacific Union College and Elmshaven on the same trip, we had only a half hour to show them around, so there was only time for a visit to the fifth floor of the original building and an unforgettable view of beautiful Napa Valley from the roof of the hospital wing.

"Be Ye Also Ready"

We are told "A storm is . . . coming, relentless in its fury;" and then the question is asked, "Are we prepared to meet it?" How can we be prepared to meet the crisis hour of coming days? We cannot depend on the advantages of this world such as wealth, or genius, or education.

We must have an experience in our own hearts. We need a consecration of heart and life to the service of God. Now is the time to put forth every effort in cooperation with God to be ready for whatever we may be called upon to meet. We want our children and other loved ones to be ready too.

With all the good things that God has given to help us be ready, I want to mention the very fine church paper The Review. The Adventist member who is not interested enough in God's church and its activities around the world to want to read the Review should realize that there is something wrong, and he needs to get interested. Now of course if he is interested in God's great program and organi-zation but feels that he cannot afford to take the Review, that is quite another matter; but right here I should like to mention that the price for a year's subscription to the Review has been greatly reduced. We are all grateful for this.

May I urge everyone to put forth renewed effort to get the Review coming to your home if it is not coming there now. It will help to tie you and your family to the church. The Review is one of the greatest agencies to unite the members, young and old, both doctrinally and organizationally, into one strong body that will withstand all the attacks of the enemy. It will help us all to be ready for the time of trouble and for the coming of Jesus. D. E. VENDEN, President.

Voice of Prophecy Offering – October 13

"The Sabbath is no problem to me, for it is now clear to me. I was Catholic and had never read a Bible.'

Such a testimony is of inestimable value in our search for souls. We can expect thousands of such letters before the glorious return of Christ.

But such letters are the result of the CONTINUAL weekly broadcasting of the Gospel Message by the Voice of Prophecy radio teàm.

If such testimonies are to continue coming to Box 55, Los Angeles, California, we must keep the Voice of Prophecy on the air.

To keep the Message on the air, we shall receive a $300,000 offering in the churches of North America on Sabbath, October 13. Let us PRAY and let us GIVE that the Message of Eternal Life may be heard by the teeming populations of our day.

ARTHUR J. ESCOBAR, Secy., Radio-TV Department.

A Teacher Needed

The conference has found it necessary to open one of our two-teacher schools in the San Joaquin Valley with a substitute teacher for grades 1 to 4. If anyone reading this knows of a qualified lady teacher, please contact the Department of Educa-tion of the Central California Conference, P.O. Bakersfield Central Vacation Bible School

Two hundred and forty children received certificates of recognition in closing ceremonies of the Vacation Bible School at the Bakersfield Central church.

Mrs. Veretta Kizziar, director, reported this enrollment was a record for the seven years of the school. Of the 240 registered, 100 were from Adventist homes and 140 were non-Adventists. Little Lorie Leach won a prize for bringing the most visitors-12 each day.

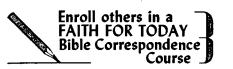

Mrs. Kizziar said the success was due to many factors. The first being a contact of every home in the vicinity with a handbill and a personal invitation. Posters were placed in all business houses such as grocery stores, beauty shops, etc., and also a large sign in front of the church. Next, the cooperation of 40 faithful voluntary workers including Pastor Calvin Sterling. Mrs. Robin Lindsey had charge of the primary class; Valeria Morch, kindergarten; and Marjorie West, the juniors. High light of the day was the demonstrations and stories of rocks and nature by I. C. Schneider.

Other crafts were taught by Mary Stewart with Ruth Teesdale, Ann Kizziar and Mrs. Hillman assisting. Mrs. Neva Bar-nard was in charge of the refreshments with the assistance of other teachers.

A follow-up five-point program is being carried out to the non-Adventist families which is hoped will build up the interest started in the school.

As "The Bible" was the theme of the school this year it is hoped many hearts of the young people were touched from what they learned.

LYNDALL KIZZIAR, PR Secy., Bakersfield Central Church.

Voice of Prophecy Offering

Remember the big awkward box with the horn on the top-the one that squeaked and squawked, and from whose big horn or speaker tinny music and unnatural voices came? Yes, that was radio-of a few years back.

Radio has come a long way since thentransistor, miniaturization, satellites, solar powered batteries. But to Seventh-day Adventists, radio has become a very vital instrument to carry God's last message of mercy and love to this last generation, in this the last hour of earth's history. No longer an experiment, or a novelty, radio is an accepted and most effective way of reaching the millions of earth.

We thank God for the foresight of our leaders who long ago began to use this wonderful instrument to the glory of God. With The Voice of Prophecy leading, the church has scores of voices and programs that belt this world with the third angel's message. Only in eternity will be realized the terrific impact for good-or for evil-that radio has made on this last generation of man.

The Voice of Prophecy, along with other programs, faces very real problems financially as it looks to the coming months. Our churches-yes, each of us as members -dare not fail to rally once again to the support of radio evangelism. Sabbath, October 13, is another opportunity to declare in a strong way our faith and support of this great endeavor. How? By planning for and giving a generous offering for The Voice of Prophecy radio work. Do "a little more than ever before!"

Adventist Member Receives Gold Medal Award

Henry C. Hua, a faithful member of the Kona Seventh-day Adventist church who is employed by the City of Refuge National Historical Park at Honaunau, Kona, Hawaii, recently went to Washington, D.C., to receive a gold medal for saving the lives of five men during a storm October 30 of last year.

Brother Hua was cited for bravery and quick thinking. When he saw the men adrift 200 yards off a rocky coast after their outrigger canoe capsized, he attached a heavy-duty outboard motor to his outrigger, placed aboard a can of gas, life preservers, and 200 feet of rope, and set out alone to save them. Upon reaching the men he threw a tow line and maneuvered his own and the submerged canoe, with the five men hanging onto it, back to safe waters.

Brother Hua was one of the 32 employees of the Interior Department to be honored at the Twenty-seventh Annual Honor Award Convocation. His was the only valor award for heroic action involving the risk of his own life. Under-Secretary of Interior James K. Carr made the presentation of the award. Brother Hua is the home missionary leader of the Kona church and is a recent convert to the church.

Youth Activities at Hauula

Mrs. Naomi Yamashiro, with the help of Elder and Mrs. Nomi and Brother and Sister Funai, took a group of teen-age youth camping at Hauula Beach Park over Labor Day week end. Approximately 60 campers in all pitched several large family tents and sufficient pup tents to take care of the rest of the group over the week end. Their time was occupied with cooking and eating, playing games, and Bible study and worship. Brother Charles Yoshida had the Sabbath services for them in the park, following which he and his family had potluck din-ner with the Hauula church. The young people returned to their homes Monday, not only relaxed, but greatly inspired with the excellent week end they had enjoyed just prior to school's starting.

The members of the Hauula church were busily engaged in the Pathfinder Counselors Training Course being con-ducted in the church during the same time the windward youth were camped at the Beach Park in Hauula. Seven of the members completed the 20-hour Pathfinder Counselors Training Course, which is necessary for the Master Guide requirements now. Two of the folk who took the course are already Master Guides, having completed their work before the new program was introduced two years ago. They are Mrs. Josephine Chang and Brother John Alapa. The other five working toward their Master Guide requirements are as follows: Beatrice Roberts, Ralph Roberts, Eva Alvarez, Daniel Alvarez, and Frank Chang. Classes were also conducted in Star Study and for the Knot honor, which are both included in the requirements for the Junior Leadership section of the Master Guide program. These folk are looking forward to being invested as Master Guides at the Youth Congress next year.

Voice of Prophecy Offering

Word sent out by the Voice of Prophecy reads:

"This year, the VOP offering goal-set for us by the General Conference-is no routine assignment. It is the largest single offering goal in our entire history-$300,-000, which comprises one-fifth of our 1963 budget! Therefore-it is not only a 'goal,' but an absolute 'must.'

"Should we fall short in October, either radio stations or Bible School work will have to be cut proportionately. We must not even think of failure. And the Lord has given abundant evidence in the past that only success is projected in His plans for The Voice of Prophecy and for the tens of thousands who work and pray and plan for its progress.

"Through all of next year this $300,-000 will help win precious souls to Christ. Some, from their abundance, will be able to give large amounts. To others, even small amounts will mean genuine sacrifice. But nearly all will give because they have faith in the power of radio to search out the sincere in heart, whether in mansion or in the humblest cabin."

May we say to those in the Northern California Conference that we appreciate what has been done in the past, and know you will do your share for 1963.

Have you received a blessing from The Voice of Prophecy? Are you truly grateful? Wouldn't you like to share this blessing with others, also? Your gift may be the means of winning someone for Christ. Will you help during this most important radio offering and insure the goal of $300,000 for 1963?

W. B. BRISTOW, Secretary, Radio-Television Department.

Rio Lindo Academy

Sunday, September 2, marked the opening ceremonies at Rio Lindo Academy. For the nearly 2,000 present it was in reality a dream come true. We wish it had been possible for every church member to have been here to share in the inspiration of seeing the doors of a new academy open to serve the youth of the church.

Classes began Tuesday, September 4, with an enrollment of 342. Even though the plant is not completely finished, a full program of class instruction started the very first day. In addition to class assignments the students are participating in an active work program.

The auditions have been completed for the 80-piece concert band and also for the 85-voice choir. In addition, the 55-voice concert choir to be known as the Lindaires has been organized and is already supplying special music for the church services. A girls chorus has been organized as well as other smaller groups. Thirty-nine have registered for private voice lessons. Besides having the regular band, a beginners band will be organized, a wind ensemble of 40 members, and a percussion class. Beginning the second semester a class in conducting will be offered. Twenty-seven students have registered for private instrumental lessons. Fifty-five have registered for piano and 25 for instruction in organ.

On Sabbath, September 8, the first church service was held on the campus. Elder Carl Becker was guest speaker for both the first vesper and church service.

It is indeed an inspiration for the faculty to work with such a congenial and happy group of students.

Please remember the work at Rio Lindo Academy in your prayers. W. T. WILL, Principal.

GC International Co-ed Camp at Pinecrest

General Conference not only included activities in San Francisco's Ćivic Auditorium and Cow Palace, but to 312 young people General Conference was also majestic mountains, a miniature train, nature study, Morning Watch beneath stately trees, boating, horseback riding, learning crafts – in short, it meant International Youth Camp at Northern California's Pinecrest Camp.

While their parents were busy shaping the future of the organization of the church for the next four years, these 9-to-16-yearold youngsters from 28 states and 31 countries spent an action-packed week in the High Sierra just to the southwest of Lake Tahoe.

The 40-acre camp is seemingly pinned to the near-vertical slopes of the mountains by towering pine trees which dwarfed the "small fry" who darted up and down the trails as though they were running on level ground. The echoing happy chatter of the young people gave testimony to the fact that they were having the time of their lives.

Seven buses transported the troop to the camp, which is situated near Echo Lake some 7,000 feet above San Francisco, which is 160 miles away. Although Pinecrest had housing for only about 250 children, the surplus population found accommodations in tents which supplemented the 25 cabins.

Unusual activities at Pinecrest could be found at every turn. Director Charles Seitz, MV secretary for the Northern California Conference, has developed his interest in railroading into a camp feature of which campers, young and old, never seem to tire. The miniature train, which travels two-thirds of a mile from the director's cottage, past the headquarters building and dining room, to the cabin area, and back, was the gift of another train enthusiast living nearby. The gen-uine steam engine develops about 90 pounds pressure and chugs along at about 10 miles an hour over rails that once were located in California gold mines.

Adding to the interest of the campfires are areas portraying typical Western scenes. When campfire was held at the Indian village, campers were given headbands with feathers and watched a program put on by "real" Indians against a background of two Sioux Indian tepees.

A tribe of "authentic" Indians lives near the camp, evening during the campfire program and one some of them put on an impromptu program and war dance. Despite the fierce expressions, war paint, and feathers, some of the Indians bore a slight resemblance to some of the camp counselors!

This is a picture of the entire group of campers present during the General Conference International Co-ed Camp. Counting campers and staff members there were about 380 present.

Here is a group of children from the Washington, D.C., area riding the ponies horses at Pinecrest. At present they are receiving a bit of instruction on riding from the "wrangler," Ray Bush.

The Pinecrest and Western Railroad has no problem with diminishing patronage. In fact, it could fill even more 'coaches" if they were availab its round trip of two-thirds of a mile through camp, it is always loaded with enthusiastic campers.

A circle of seven covered wagons added much to the enjoyment of the evening programs. After campers heard stories of the Old West, some of them spread out their bedrolls and slept in the covered wagons.

These youngsters, totaling about one-third of those in attendance at the International Youth Camp, came from outside the continental United States. Most of them have American parents who are missionaries overseas, but this was the first opportunity for many of them to get a close acquaintanceship with U.S. children and customs.

Southeastern Joins Adventist Hour Telecast

The Adventist Hour gained thousands of new viewers Sunday, September 23, as KTLA-TV cameras and engineers rolled into Southeastern conference territory to video tape the Loma Linda University church service. This was the first telecast to originate from Southeastern. More are to follow. Next Sabbath, September 29, the Loma Linda University church services will again be televised when Pastor Teel will speak on "A Drama in Four Acts." La Sierra church is slated to be next on October 20 and 27, and the San Bernardino church November 24 and December 1.

Elder John Osborn, chairman of Southeastern's Radio-TV committee, said, "I believe our investment in The Adventist Hour will strengthen our evangelistic endeavors in every way. The hands of our pastors in local communities will be strengthened, the thousands of people we have been unable to reach will know we are here and have a life-giving message

Pine Springs Ranch Makes History

An all-time high in summer camp attendance for the Southeastern California Conference was marked in the first year of operation of Pine Springs Ranch. There was a total of 883 junior youth in the five camp sessions this summer.

The Western ranch-type living met with enthusiasm from those who attended. Horseback riding, canoeing, and swimming in the beautiful new pool combined with nature study and physical fitness in an all-outdoor camping program. The outstanding staff of instructors and counselors made the summer an effective tool in inspiring youth to make decisions for Christ.

Some lost and found clothing and other articles are now at the conference office. Anyone still missing camper articles should contact the office before the close of 1962. W. D. BLEHM, Secretary,

Evangelistic Meetings Scheduled for San Bernardino

A union evangelistic campaign sponsored by the Colton, Fontana, Rialto, and San Bernardino churches will be held in the Civic Auditorium in San Bernardino from October 14 through November 11. Elder J. L. Shuler will lead in the meetings, assisted by a group of ten ministers.

These meetings will present a timely opportunity to our people in this area of our conference to bring their friends and neighbors to hear God's present truth. They are especially urged to bring those to whom they have given our books and periodicals and to whom they have given Bible studies.

If you have non-Adventist friends or relatives in this area to whom you would like to have special invitations sent, send the names and addresses immediately to Fenton E. Froom, 5629 Palomar Avenue, San Bernardino, California.

We shall be happy to have our people from the Loma Linda churches, Redlands, Mentone, Yucaipa, the Spanish churches, and the K Street church attend the meetings in the Civic Auditorium and bring their friends. All decisions secured in these meetings will be referred to the pastors in the area where the person resides.

FENTON E. FROOM, Pastor, San Bernardino Church.

for them that meets their needs." Commenting further he added, "For some time letters from interested viewers living in Southeastern territory have been a part of The Adventist Hour mail: we want to capitalize on this interest and use whatever avenues that seem wise in acquainting them further with our message."

We are happy that we can join The Adventist Hour telecast for the remaining part of this year and 1963.

All mail requests that come from Southern territory will be handled through the local Radio-TV Department.

Soul Winning at the San Bernardino K Street Church

Realizing that the statement, "Everyone who is added to the ranks by conversion is to be assigned his post of duty," is true, we here at K Street church are trying to follow this admonition from the Spirit of Prophecy by encouraging and training our newly-baptized members in the winning of souls. To this end the pastor of the church has conducted two Light Bearers training classes within the past two years, composed primarily of new members. Fourteen people successfully completed the course and all are engaged in giving Bible studies to friends and neighbors. Recently a family of three, a mother and her two children, were baptized as a result of the studies given by one of the members of the Light Bearers class, Brother William Joyner. Brother Joyner was baptized a little over a year ago. Other members will soon see fruit from their labors as this soul-saving work is continued in the church.

The K Street church also believes in the soul-saving possibilities of Vacation Bible School. Since our first school six years ago, we have baptized 12 precious souls. The 1962 Vacation Bible School was highly successful with an enrollment of 85. As a result of this school a lady and her two children have joined the baptismal class and are looking forward to baptism in the near future. Please continue to pray for us here at K Street church that the Lord will bless us as we work for Him.

R. E. BERRY, Pastor.

It is Written

An epochal date in the history of Southern was September 15, 1962. The hour, 7:30 p.m.; the event, launching the It Is Written telecast over channel 13. This joint venture with the Southeastern California Conference is the largest single evangelistic undertaking in the history of Adventism.

The response from the membership in Southern has been most heartwarming. The boys and girls, the youth, parents, institutional workers, pastors, doctors, teach-ers, colporteurs, and many, many others have prayed and worked unitedly to distribute hundreds of thousands of announcements. Thousands of telephone calls have been made. Neighbors and friends have been invited to view It Is Written. The bus company has contracted to use 200 placards for advertising. Without charge they added 100 placards to their advertising list! The releasing TV station advertised the program over seven radio stations without charge to us. There are so many evidences that the Lord is leading in a special way.

At camp meeting our membership gave and pledged $81,000 for this new evangelistic endeavor. That is a great deal of money. It will take all of this and more! There were many weekly and monthly pledges. These amounts should be turned in regularly to your church treasurer and labeled It Is Written. Thank you for your continued support.

The accomplishment of this new approach to evangelism is unlimited. If the 22,000 members and workers of Southern will continue to invite their friends, hand out prepared advertising, telephone, pray, and give, we will see a tremendous achievement in the winning of souls. The millions of spiritually needy hearts of our area de-serve our dedicated effort.

CREE SANDEFUR, President.

Huntington Park Welfare Center

As we travel about the conference we find that people do not know too much about our Welfare program, so we thought it would be nice to introduce our Welfare Centers to the readers of the RECORDER. In this article we are featuring Huntington Park.

The Huntington Park church has a three-room school house which makes an ideal Welfare Center, and the ladies are helping many families each week. The sewing group meets every Wednesday at the center, located at 6841 Newell Street, to make the clothes and bedding which is given out. Among the ladies are the three pictured here who are all over 80 years of age. The oldest one specializes in embroid-ery and turns out the most perfect work done by anyone in the society, while the others do excellent work on the electric sewing machines.

Miss Vienna Hamilton, the leader of the society, conducts a devotional and business meeting at 11:30 a.m. and any needy people who are in the building at that time are invited to attend.

The center has a large welfare room, sewing room, kitchen facilities, and a nice large assembly room and a reception hall. We congratulate the Huntington Park church and their pastor, Elder Milton Adams, for the good work they are doing in the Welfare Ministry.

MRS. MARIE MOORE, Clerk,

Adventist Hour Offering October 6

An offering to advance the soul-win-ning efforts of The Adventist Hour telecast will be taken on October 6 in all churches of the Southern California Conference. Many persons will find their way into the Advent Movement through the truth-filled messages pre-sented on The Adventist Hour from week to week. You are invited to extend the soul-winning potential of The Ad-ventist Hour through your generous gift on October 6.

HERBERT FORD, Secy., Public Relations Dept.

Three ladies active in the Huntington Park Welfare program are, from left to right: Blanche Mont gomery, Ina Hills, and Della Foltz. They are all over 80 years of age.

It Is Written Enters Third Successful Week

For the past two weeks, It Is Written has been aired throughout Southern California. Literally hundreds of thousands of homes have become acquainted with Elder George Vandeman, and through his messages with Bible truth.

Hundreds of those who have viewed the telecast have enrolled in Take His Word. These persons are learning the teachings of the Bible in a simple, appealing, and thorough way.

In our churches hundreds of laymen have begun a series of training classes to prepare to visit those who are studying Take His Word. Each Sabbath afternoon these church members meet with their pastors and study the most effective techniques for visiting the Bible students later during the campaign.

Each day at 12:10 p.m. is prayer hour for It Is Written in southern California. We urge every Seventh-day Adventist to join in earnest, intercessory prayer for those who view the telecast. This is the beginning of a mighty, expanding evangelistic crusade which will continue into next summer, and which will touch every area of southern California society.

We sincerely appreciate the cooperation of our constituency during the launching phase of It Is Written and appeal for your continued prayers, support, and earnest effort as the crusade moves toward its grand objective-making Christ's message known in all southern California.

PHILIP FOLLETT.

Because of the nature of these guides, we urgently appeal to our laymen to exercise these cautions regarding Take His Word enrollments:

Become an Expert

This is an age of experts; we are a nation of superlatives. It occurs to me that the greatest of the greatest is an earnest revival of daily Bible study in the home by the parents with the children around a family altar, worship center or communications focus.

Time now spent in less than good entertainment, less than wholesome gossip or chit-chat, less than wholesome reading -if this time were spent in a daily study of the Word of God, the God of the Word would become a real personal Friend, a Saviour, a Repairer of the breach, a Guide for our steps, a cure for divorce and juvenile delinquency and bring about His peace for which we now "fight," but for which we are yet unwilling to spend an hour or even a half hour daily.

It has been said that 15 minutes spent each day on any topic will in a few years make an expert of the reader. Let us revive daily Bible study and become "experts" in Ćhrist.

Glendale Sanitarium Church News

Recently joining the Glendale Sanitarium church pastoral staff are Elders Rubin Widmer and Roy Harris. Elder Widmer is an experienced pastor and teacher. He was head of the Bible Department at the West Indies College up to 1961 at which time he returned to continue work in the Theological Seminary at Andrews University, completing his requirements for the M.Th. degree last June. He will teach Bible in the School of Nursing and coordinate all departments of the church with special emphasis toward the spiritual and practical needs of members and non-members in the community. A systematic Bible educational program is being launched to strengthen our members in Christ and His Word; also, classes will be conducted relative to Bible principles and their relation to practical Christian living. The Widmers, with their two children, Myron and Elaine, are well received by members and friends of the Glendale Sanitarium church.

Elder and Mrs. Harris and son, Paul, are now settled in Glendale with Elder Harris leading and guiding all youth work in the Sanitarium church. Elder Harris comes with experience and success in his field. He finished the M.A. requirements at the Theological Seminary in 1958. He spoke in the new Vallejo Youth Chapel at the teen-age church service September 15 at 11 a.m. His subject for the teen-age church was "The Antiquated Advent."

The Glendale Sanitarium church has increased in spiritual assets with these two men and their families uniting with the church.

Beginning Wednesday evening, September 12, at 7:30, the pastor began a study of Romans and Galatians chapter by chapter. Those not of our faith are encouraged to attend and share in the teachings of these two inspired epistles by the Apostle Paul.

Soon the construction of the new sanctuary will begin. The Sanitarium church is within $30,000 of liquidating the firstphase construction cost of their new facilities—which has passed $300,000 includ-ing furnishings. We solicit the prayers of our spiritual relatives for the success of the Sanitarium church in this important center.

Take a Last Look!

Word came to the conference office recently that the first Seventh-day Adventist church erected in Nevada was to be demolished to make room for expansion of the adjacent professional office building. Immediately we wanted a last look at this structure packed with precious memories. This is one of the oldest church buildings in Reno and has been a landmark for many years.

Away back in 1878 Elder J. N. Loughborough held a tent meeting in Reno. The attendance was excellent, but only a few earnest souls accepted the message. On August 10, 1878, 21 believers were organized as a church.

Among the pioneers are the names of Cranston Allen, great-grandfather of Dr. Walter E. MacPherson of Loma Linda University, S. K. Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Ball, Mrs. Gilson, and "Auntie" Groom. No doubt there were many others whose names have disappeared from the only records now available.

Before the church was erected, a camp meeting was held in the orchard surrounding the lot which had been purchased. Mrs. W. S. MacPherson, mother of Dr. Walter MacPherson, tells of Sister White's attendance at that meeting. As Sister White sat in her rocking chair before her tent, Mrs. MacPherson, then a little girl, sat with other children on the ground while she told them stories.

In 1887 Brother Prosser, a well-to-do sheep man, gave $5,000 for the erection of the church, and in 1888 the building program began. The church was located on a lot purchased by Cranston Allen from Sister Gilson on what is now West 5th Street. The site was an orchard property on the northwest edge of Reno which was really little more than a village in those days. Cranston Allen and W. K. Ball were among the men who took a leading part in the construction work though "everybody helped who was able to," we are told.

Elder George Derrick preached the first sermon in the newly-dedicated church and served as pastor for a short time. A pleasant sound on Sabbath mornings was the ringing of the church bell, a gift of Cranston Allen. Not only did it sound the call to worship each Sabbath, but it rang for weddings and funerals as well. Now it hangs in the steeple of the new church at 1200 'Arlington Avenue and regularly tolls the call to worship. Long will it remain a tangible link with the past.

Precious are the recollections of the days of church school and worship services in this little church when various pioneer leaders directed the work there. Among the pastors who served the church in the early days were Elders J. A. Stevens, E. E. Farnsworth, George Truesdell, W. E. Westerhaut, C. F. Lickey, A. Field, and B. J. White.

During the school year 1904-05, Ella White, granddaughter of Mrs. E. G. White, was teacher in the church school which was conducted in a room built on the rear of the church. In the spring of 1905, shortly before the close of school, Mrs. White visited her granddaughter and spoke in the church one Sabbath.

Early in the century, a baptistry was built in the yard behind the church. It was several feet deep, lined with concrete, with steps leading down into the pool which was filled with water from a garden hose. After the baptistry had served its purpose for several years, the concrete cracked, dirt seeped in, and it was condemned. In 1924 it was filled in and used as part of the playground for the church school.

In the early days a picket fence enclosed the front yard of the church. A large wood-burning heater just inside the church was stoked from an ample wood box in the vestibule. It kept those sitting on the rear seats uncomfortably warm while those on the rostrum shivered. In summer the very high ceiling made it pleasantly cool for the worshipers on Sabbath mornings. In front of the church nearby an old hitching post still stands—a quiet reminder of those horse and buggy days.

Yes, take a last look! Soon this interesting landmark will be but a memory. But may it ever inspire the Lord's people to maintain the same spirit of love and devotion to the cause which was manifested in the life and work of those pioneers.

Two Elko Youth Leave for School

September not only brings the renewed ringing of the school bells, it also brings pleasures and sorrows as many of our young people leave for various academies and colleges.

Elko bids goodbye to two of its members this school year. They are Dean and Gerry Mack, sons of our first elder. Dean left Elko on Friday, August 31, to attend Gem State Academy near Caldwell, Idaho. He will be a sophomore there this year. He attended Elko High School last year. Dean has been working long hours this summer with a local church member. This has helped him greatly to meet his academy expenses.

Gerry Mack leaves Elko in September to attend school at Walla Walla College where he plans to enroll as a theology student. He graduated from Gem State Academy last June and has been canvassing in the area of Burns, Oregon, this summer. Although the final book work has not been completed, Gerry has done well and has earned a good share of his expenses for the coming year.

expenses for the coming year. We bid God's blessing on both of these young people as they train for the work God has prepared them to do.

It Is Written Offering September 29

This morning I was visiting with Mrs. Virginia Fillman who has charge of the It Is Written correspondence program. I, naturally, am interested in the progress of the work. Then I asked Mrs. Fillman, "What is your candid opinion of this program since you are working at the 'grass roots' interests?" And she replied, "This is one of the finest programs and interestgetters of its kind!"

Last year we had a tremendous response from our people in support of this wonderful television program. This year the program will be shown over station KPHO, Channel 5, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, beginning September 17.

A conference-wide offering is to be received in all of our churches this year on Sabbath, September 29, to assist with the expense of this program. May we invite all of our believers throughout Arizona to give a liberal offering. Thousands will be receiving the full message through these programs, and may we all share in the proclamation of the gospel.

D. C. BUTHERUS, President.

 BUCKEYE, ARIZONA, is becoming known for its fields of safflower, from which the all-important safflower oil is extracted. Recently a safflower oil festival was held in which the local Seventh-day Adventist church, under the direction of its pastor, James R. Davidson, participated. A booth was erected in one of the stores. In this booth they had on display health foods from Loma Linda Food Company and from the Worthington Food Company. Sample foods were prepared and handed to the many visitors. Over 1,200 pieces of literature on healthful living and proper diet were also given out during the three-day festival. Brother Davidson commented that their exhibit was well received and that ▶ Elder R. R. Bietz was present at the Conference Committee meeting held on September 11 in the conference office at Reno. There was a full attendance for the discussion of various items pertinent to the work of the church in this area.

▶ Elder Claude Miller, former pastor of the Reno church, and Mrs. Miller left Wednesday morning, September 11, by plane for San Francisco en route to Hong Kong. They plan a stop-over at Seoul, Korea, to visit their daughter and son-inlaw, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Wahlen. Elder Miller will soon assume his duties as president of the Hong Kong-Macao Mission. His address is: P.O. Box 310, Hong Kong.

Clapp, M.D. is at Zephyr Cove, Nevada, on the southeast shore of Lake Tahoe. K. W. Falconer, M.D., and Arrah C. Curry, M.D. are located in Reno, and Dr. Veryl C. Drury has established dental practice in Susanville, California. the public relations aspect of the booth was invaluable.

▶ THE HOLBROOK MISSION SCHOOL is looking forward to the day when they will be in their new church. It is now under construction. This will be the first time the mission school has had a separate building for their regular church services. Elder Daugherty, principal of the school and pastor of the church, feels that the spiritual life of the students will be greatly benefited with the opportunity of worshiping in a church that has been dedicated specifically for this purpose.

▶ THE Signs CRUSADE is now history in the Arizona Conference. Because of your loyal support and unselfish giving, we have been able to send 4,544 subscriptions to the residents of Arizona. May all of our members remember to pray for these families who will be receiving the Signs month by month that they might be led into the remnant church.

▶ THE IT IS WRITTEN program has started again in Phoenix. The first program was Monday, September 17, at 8 p.m. over KPHO-TV, Channel 5. We are very grateful that we can have this program again. Many people have come to a knowledge of the Truth as they have viewed the program in the past and taken the Bible study course.

► ELDER H. W. CARTER, pastor in Flagstaff, is studying with a family in Page, Arizona. Their first contact with this message was through the It Is Written program. Page is a town of trailers that provide a place to live for the workers on the Glen Canyon Dam being put across the Colorado River.

▶ ELDER EARL AMUNDSON has contacted interested families in Payson, Arizona, as a result of the It Is Written program. Not only does the program do a good job for us in the heavily populated areas, but also it reaches out on the fringes where we do not have any workers.

► ELDER CLIFF WALTER, conference evangelist, opened a series of evangelistic meetings in Show Low Saturday night, September 8. This is a small mountain town; however, 12 non-Adventists were present for the first meeting. Brother George Carambot and Elder Paul Johnson, local pastor, are assisting Elder Walter in this series of meetings. Your prayers will be appreciated on behalf of this evangelistic crusade.

и The Yuma church, under the direction of Elder Gordon McCrillis, pastor, has been in the process of remodeling an old garage at the back of their church. This remodeling job has made it possible for them to have respectable Sabbath School rooms for the Cradle Roll and Kindergarten divisions. This involved closing the wall where the large garage doors had been, sealing and insulating the interior, making two exits, adding three large windows, tiling the floor with asphalt tile, adding a double-draped partition with ceiling traverse rods, installing a cooler, and painting the building inside and out. The labor was all donated by church members, thus keeping the cost of this remodeling down to a very low price. Some of the best evangelistic prospects we have are the boys and girls in our Sabbath Schools. Surely we need to do everything we can to make their stay in Sabbath School interesting and worth while.

✓ THE YUMA CHURCH will be dedicating their new Welfare Center in the next two or three months.

Master of Arts in English Authorized at La Sierra

A Master of Arts degree in English is now offered at La Sierra College through its affiliation with Loma Linda University, announces Dr. Richard B. Lewis, academic dean of the college. The M.A. in English is the first authorization of a content major by the university under the new organization plan, Dr. Lewis states.

Dr. Merlin Neff, chairman of the Division of Language and Literature, will direct the new Master of Arts program in English at La Sierra College. Graduate courses will be taught by Dr. Thomas A. Little, Dr. Richard B. Lewis, Dr. Lawrence Mobley, and Dr. Neff.

Graduate courses for the degree of Master of Arts in the Teaching of English have been offered previously, but the new program will schedule 12 graduate seminars in English plus other advanced courses to provide students in the program with a broad selection of courses for intensive study. The seminars will be offered both semesters.

A special appropriation of library funds was recently voted for the purchase of a dozen additional scholarly journals in English and American literature and in philology, and hundreds of new books for student research. Research materials on microfilm and microcards and complete files of the standard journals in the field have been obtained.

The course work will be given on the La Sierra College campus beginning this semester. The Master of Arts degree in English will be awarded by Loma Linda University. This program is designed to prepare students for greater scholastic advancement, whereas the Master of Arts in Teaching is a preparation for a career in secondary teaching.

Speech Therapy Program Grows at La Sierra College

Helen Frenzel, who received her Bachelor of Arts degree in speech and elementary education at La Sierra College in June, has become the third La Sierra graduate to be awarded a scholarship for advanced study in speech pathology.

Miss Frenzel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Frenzel, of Glendale, California, received a $2,400 scholarship which she will use to obtain a Master of Arts in speech pathology and audiology at Denver University. She plans to become a teacher or clinical speech therapist. At La Sierra College she majored in speech and elementary education.

In 1960, John La-

Gourgue was awarded a $2,800 scholarship for

of Arts degree.

The Secretary General Conference SDA Takoma Park Washington 12 DC years, five students have graduated from the speech therapy curriculum at La Sierra College, Dr. W. Fletcher Tarr, head of the speech department, reports. Two of these are now engaged in speech rehabilitation in public schools, and the others are taking graduate work. Currently some 20 students at La Sierra are preparing for careers in speech therapy, the purpose of which is to help children and adults overcome such communications handicaps as stuttering, articulatory and voice defects, speech disturbances caused by cerebral palsy and cleft palate, and other causes.

At La Sierra College, which offers a complete curriculum toward the Bachelor's degree and California State certification for special education, students participate in laboratories for speech rehabilitation for emotionally disturbed children, the hard of hearing, tongue-thrust cases, and other patients, Dr. Tarr states.

There is a wide demand for people trained in this field, Dr. Tarr reports.

Freshman Receives Scholarship for Occupational Therapy Major

Jenny Ann Jacobs, a 1962 graduate of San Pasqual Academy entering La Sierra College as a freshman occupational therapy major, has been awarded a $2,000 scholarship by the National Foundation— March of Dimes.

Miss Jacobs, daughter of Mrs. Janet Jacobs, assistant director of Testing Services at the college, will spend her first two years at La Sierra and then transfer to Loma Linda University to complete her work. The scholarship, financed by public contributions to the March of Dimes, will be paid in four annual sums.

Afternoon Physics Classes Being Taught in Fall Term

Two upper division courses in physics are among the late afternoon classes being taught at La Sierra College this fall, states Dr. James Riggs, head of the Physics Department.

The courses are Atomic and Nuclear Physics and Theoretical Mechanics. Each provides three units of credit.

Atomic and Nuclear Physics meets from 4 to 4:50 on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons and Theoretical Mechanics from 5 to 5:50 the same afternoons. Prerequisites for these late afternoon classes are General Physics and Calculus, Dr. Riggs says.

For laboratory use by physics students, La Sierra College has a Nuclear-Chicago Subcritical Reactor supplied with $150,-000 worth of uranium on loan from the Atomic Energy Commission. The $15,000 reactor is licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission for use primarily in training physicists. It is the only reactor in the area.

Three Faculty Members Earn Summer Degrees

Two La Sierra College faculty members received Master's degrees from the University of Southern California during the summer.

Mrs. Barbara Reel Harsany, instructor in physical education, received the Master of Science degree in Education with a major in Physical Education. Her thesis

Many of the visitors studied and took pictures of items in Occupational Therapy which they will use for Dorcas sales or Pathfinder crafts.

Immediately after the General Conference Session was over, there were many medical directors and administrators from other SDA medical institutions. Within one 24-hour period, there were visitors from Skodsborg, Denmark; the Philippines; Stanborough Park, England; and Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Visitors are always welcome to visit the St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital, which will be observing its eighty-fifth birthday next June and has a whole book full of neighborly messages from Mrs. Ellen G. White who spent her last 15 years within view of its porches and lawns.

Mrs. Harsany obtained a B.S. at Walla Walla College and has been on the La Sierra faculty since 1959.

Mr. E. W. Nash received a Master of Music and wrote his thesis on "The Euphonium: Its History, Literature and Use in American Schools." He graduated from La Sierra College in 1953, spent two years with the 62nd Army Band and taught music at Monterey Bay Academy from 1955 to 1957. He has been a member of the LSC faculty since 1957.

In addition to the Master's degrees, a Bachelor of Arts was earned by Richard T. Orrison, assistant dean of men, at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia, during the summer.

If you missed getting your copies of the special records released at the General Conference Session in San Francisco you will be pleased to know that they are now included in the regular catalog listings.

The "San Francisco Review" (LP 5058, ST 058) is a commemorative album of inspiring musical memoirs taken from the forty-ninth session of the General Conference held in San Francisco July 26 to August 4, 1962. Artists recorded on this album are: the Seventh-day Adventist Symphonic Choir; the Faith for Today and the King's Heralds quartets; Kathleen Joyce, contralto from England; Del Delker, Voice of Prophecy contralto; and many other favorites who participated in some of the musical programs at the meetings.

"San Francisco Review" replaces the 1958 General Conference album listed as LP 5001 and which is no longer in stock. The new album is available in monophonic and stereophonic.

"Music Around the World" (LP 5059), the first of its kind, is thrilling its listeners! You will want to have this record for yourself and family, and to share with friends. Musical numbers were prepared especially for this album by Seventh-day Adventist laymen, students, and workers in various parts of the world under diverse circumstances and in several languages. Every church member should have this album in his library. It would also be a fine gift for people with an appreciation for ethnic music. This new type of record offers further inspiring evidence of how God's plan is being realized with people throughout the entire world. These hymns-sung in German, Spanish, Portuguese, Norwegian, Bantu, etc.-will speak to your heart with a depth of understanding which is born of the Spirit and knows no barriers. It is truly wonderful to know that the Lord so ably reaches into the souls of men within the different racial, language, and customs groups and brings them together into a united Christian brotherhood.

Your possession of one of these records will be an encouragement to the overseas brethren who worked so diligently—some under adverse circumstances — to provide their contribution for this album. We can express our appreciation by becoming happy owners of this representative recording. English version translations are included on a printed insert along with a biographical description of the groups participating.

Due to the varied circumstances under which each number was recorded, this album, "Music Around the World," is only available in the monophonic. It is a record of fine quality—musically and technically speaking.

Your orders for Chapel Records recordings will be promptly filled through your Book and Bible House.
