Resolution on Spirit of Prophecy

[Following is a resolution that was voted at the General Conference session Friday, August 3, 1962.]

WHEREAS, The Lord through the Spirit of Prophecy has spoken to His church in these last days "to bring the minds of His people to His word" (Testimonies, vol. 5, p. 663); to impart to us a clearer understanding of future events and our mission and destiny as a people; to call attention to Bible "principles for the formation of correct habits of living" (Testimonies, vol. 5, pp. 663, 664); "for the comfort of His people" (Early Writings, p. 78); and to prepare us to meet the Lord, and

WHEREAS, The Spirit of Prophecy counsels have been given to build unity in God's church and to cause His people to "see eye to eye and be of the same mind" (Testimonies, vol. 3, p. 361); "to correct specious errors and to specify what is truth"—E. G. White letter 117, 1910; and to "confirm the faith of" His people "in the position they have taken" (Selected Messages, book 1, p. 41); and

WHEREAS, The experience of the years has taught us the wisdom of these counsels—wisdom that is sorely needed as we enter the last days of conflict, when the people preparing for the second advent of their Lord need the special guidance God has so graciously provided; therefore

Resolved, that we express to God our deep-felt gratitude for the gracious provisions He has made in the Spirit of Prophecy writings for the protection and guidance of His church and further

We recommend: 1. That church members throughout the world be urged to study carefully and give earnest heed to the Spirit of Prophecy counsels.

2. That they be encouraged to continue to build Spirit of Prophecy libraries in their homes that they might have at hand the wealth of counsel so vital in this hour.

3. That a special effort be made to encourage the purchase and use of E. G. White books that offer instruction in soul-winning work and guidance to the church in its last final effort to win men to God's kingdom.

4. That we call to the attention of Seventh-day Adventists, and especially new members, the sound knowledge concerning the Spirit of Prophecy which may be theirs as the result of pursuing courses of study, such as the Prophetic Guidance Correspondence Course, and that our pastors be encouraged to conduct Prophetic Guidance schools periodically in their local churches.

5. That pastors and church officers be encouraged to continue their observance of Spirit of Prophecy Sabbath each year, devoting the preaching hour of the Sabbath to a consideration of this theme.

6. That we earnestly urge our brethren in overseas areas:

a. To press forward with unabated zeal in the excellent work of translating and publishing the Spirit of Prophecy books in the languages of their constituencies;

b. To take full advantage of the newly designed "Spirit of Prophecy Book of the Year" plan which makes available to all English-reading members one basic E. G. White book each year at a greatly reduced price;

c. To participate heartily in the newly designed plan for making the English editions of the E. G. White books available to workers at prices within their purchasing power, capitalizing on the great potential of the English-reading ability of many of our overseas workers.

d. To promote Prophetic Guidance courses in their languages.

7. That church members in all lands be reminded that it is increasingly essential that the writings be studied in their proper context in the E. G. White books.

8. That we encourage workers and laity to avail themselves of the new three-volume Comprehensive Index to the Writings of Ellen G. White which will serve as a most valuable aid in the study of the Spirit of Prophecy counsels.

9. That the leaders of our publishing work, and literature evangelists throughout the world, be encouraged to undertake, with an increasing sense of the time in which we live, the ever-widening distribution of the subscription editions of the Spirit of Prophecy books that are designed to enlighten the world concerning the times in which we live, and the dramatic issues just before us.

Church Composed of Women

"Your church is composed mostly of women," the businessman remarked, and he meant it as a criticism. But the criticism lacks force when we face the facts. We recall that a considerable number of women followed Jesus in old Galilee, and ministered to Him regardless of opposition. The Apostle Paul gladly acknowledges the excellent help that women gave him.

Why should it be regarded as a sign of weakness that a majority of members and workers in the church are women? The large majority of the world's school teachers are women, but this is no reflection on the worth of education. Yes, the women outnumber the men in many churches, but the men far outnumber the women in the penitentiaries!

It is a part of God's plan that women share in the work of the church and its institutions both at home and in the mission fields. We have often been thankful for the records of good and able women in the Bible, and we are thankful for our godly and talented women in the church today. How splendidly they serve as Sabbath School officers and teachers, as workers in our Welfare and Dorcas service, and as leaders in other worthy activities! Blessings upon them—every one!

ERNEST LLOYD.

Be a Bible Instructor

Many willing workers at home and abroad have longed for greater power in presenting Bible truth. They realize that something more than factual knowledge is necessary. Convincing argument must have with it sincere persuasion if souls are to accept the doctrines. But sincerity without knowledge and skill is not sufficient.

Evangelism in public halls or in the church frequently presses into service many willing workers with limited preparation for or experience in Bible teaching. A new series of studies aims to assist the busy leaders of evangelistic teams by preparing talented church members for effective soul winning. Immediate application can be made of tested principles.

With such special training and experience prospective workers for part-time or full-time employment may be selected. After participation in several evangelistic series such workers may well be encouraged to take more advanced preparation in school. Conference officials recognize that investment in the right kind of workers returns generous dividends in souls won. Even larger returns will come when those standing idle in the market-place are inspired to serve.

This new course to train Bible instructors for conference and personal work has been in use just long enough to demonstrate its effectiveness. Its ten lessons are packed with essential Bible truths and soul-winning methods. Guidance by experienced leaders and simple tests of growth are provided.

Each of the studies supplies the student with pointed illustrations in question-and-answer form. The mastery of each lesson prepares the student for a Bible study on a special subject and illustrates how others can be given. Skillful handling of subject matter is developed.

The course is not intended to displace collegiate training for the ministry. Rather, it is for qualified laymen already experienced in giving Bible studies who desire to enrich their presentation with improved methods. Better foundation in personal experience and even more effective techniques are emphasized.

In this series of studies, prepared by Louise Kleuser, the leader of Bible instructors for many years in the Ministerial Association of the General Conference, are concentrated the methods, experience, and work patterns of an eminently successful soul winner. They form a veritable treasury for anyone who wishes to present Bible truth in an interesting and winning manner.

For further information concerning this inexpensive training course, write to the Ministerial Association of the General Conference, or to the Home Study Institute, both of Takoma Park, Washington 12, D.C. W. HOMER TEESDALE.

Good News From the San Bernardino Campaign

If you could have stepped into a side room of the San Bernardino Municipal Auditorium at 7:10 on a night when Elder J. L. Shuler was to preach, you would have seen a group of laymen on their knees, led by a minister earnestly pleading for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the meeting. This is new and different from the way we have worked before, yet so basic for success. In recent years five or six evangelistic campaigns have been conducted in this same auditorium by our men, but as far as we know this is the first time laymen prayer bands have been held preceding each meeting. These bands meet for 15 minutes every night before the song service.

God has answered these prayers by sending His Spirit upon the meetings. Here are some of the evidences. At the fourth meeting of the series 32 non-Adventists filled out decision cards indicating their acceptance of Jesus as a personal Saviour. At the eighth meeting, 19 non-Adventists decided to begin keeping the Sabbath.

On the second Thursday night, the lower floor was completely filled as the largest audience to date learned of "The Mark of the Beast." On this night the number of decisions by non-Adventists to keep the Sabbath swelled to 41.

On the second Saturday night the 17 essentials of our faith were presented as steps in walking with Jesus, and 57 non-Adventists indicated on cards their decision to accept each step and become Seventh-day Adventists. We are made to feel that "God is doing a quick work." With an open Bible in the preacher's hand and the Spirit of God sending that Word home to hearts, great things have been accomplished. A prospect of a good harvest is before us. To God be all the glory.

Announcing 1963 First Quarter Workshops

Attention: Sabbath School teachers, officers, pastors, others.

In an effort to improve the collective contribution of our Sabbath Schools, before the close of the year, six workshops featuring 1963 first quarter lesson helps and instruction will be conducted in strategic areas of the conference. Experienced Sabbath School workers who prepared the lesson helps will also instruct at the workshops. Workers in the several divisions will meet separately for specialized instruction.

In connection with the workshops a session, chairmanned by the conference secretary and planned for pastors and Sabbath School officers, superintendents, secretaries, extension division leaders, etc., will be held.

Adding to the interest and value of the workshops, there will be an extensive display of visual aids and other teaching materials. A complimentary copy of the lesson helps will be given to each one present.

One more point. There will be no lack of lesson helps, instruction, or teaching materials, but there is yet a need—His presence. Members are invited to pray and prepare their hearts that the workshops may be a great blessing and strength to the work of God.

The Unusual—A Vacation Bible School Report

One hundred and sixty bright-eyed, enthusiastic boys and girls enrolled in the Juniper Avenue Vacation Bible School from June 18 through 30. This was the fourth annual Bible School conducted by our church. Mrs. Marguerite Williams was the director again with the assistance of 26 teachers. It was the usual very good school—with three-fourths of the students from non-Adventist homes—except for one unusual thing.

The unusual thing was this: We decided to carry the Vacation Bible School right through Sabbath and close on Saturday night, June 30. Some of the teachers had doubts as to the working of the plan, thinking that the boys and girls might get out of hand on the Sabbath. But others including the leader were of good courage. The plan was to carry on the Vacation Bible School on Sabbath morning as usual with the exception of crafts and game time. These were left out and were not missed. The plan worked so well that even those who had been opposed were overjoyed with the success. On Sabbath morning at 8:45 150 boys and girls were in their places and we had a good song service and the regular opening exercises. By 9:20 the Giant billboards now join bus posters, bumper stickers, and placards to remind motorists that It Is Written is on XETV every Sunday at 4:30. students had left the main auditorium and retired to their rooms in preparation for the Thirteenth Sabbath program. After this they returned to the auditorium for the 11 a.m. worship service. The pastor directed them in some of their songs and told the story of "The Kindest Man That Ever Lived." They all sat with attention and were dismissed at 12 noon.

They all came back that night for closing exercises. More parents attended than we ever had before. It was a thrilling experience for the entire church as well as the students. Many are now attending our weekly Sabbath Bible School.

News Notes

✓ Elder R. F. Mattison, Missionary Volunteer and educational secretary of the Mexican Union, was the speaker during the recent Week of Devotion held at Calexico Mission School through the last week of October. The week was a milestone in the lives of many young people, with new decisions made for Christ.

✓ A freshly-painted kitchen, expanded administrative offices, increased campus paving, and a new shop building are among the improvements made this summer at Calexico Mission School. Continued expansion and farsighted leadership place Calexico high on the list of rapidly-developing educational plants in our conference.

✓ The San Bernardino County Heart Association has awarded a plaque to Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson, health education secretary of the Barstow church, for her outstanding service as local Heart Sunday chairman for the second consecutive year.

✓ Twenty-five conference leaders and two pastors attended the five-day Asilomar meetings. General sessions and group discussions assisted in the formulation of objectives for evangelism in 1963 as well as fresh, vigorous plans for closer coordination of church departments.

Marshall Hamilton and Dennis Wisdom, members of the Arlington Pathfinder Club, are symbolic of the hundreds of boys and girls throughout Southeastern whose enthusiastic support of "Operation Handclasp" awakened their communities to the necessity of aiding refugees fleeing Red China and helping Navajo Indians who face the winter with inadequate food supplies. All reports in show significant gains over previous years and point to the largest collection of food and clothing ever received, despite the fact that solicitation came at a time when Californians were being urged to keep canned goods on their shelves for use in case of nuclear attack.

Another School Year on the March

Southern California schools are in full swing with 152 full- and part-time teacher personnel in our 27 elementary and junior academy schools. Add to this the five academies with a staff of 307 and we have a total opening-day enrollment in our schools of 4,358. Since opening day a number of students have enrolled placing our over-all enrollment at the 4,500 mark.

With the tremendous transitions in the scientific, technological, social, cultural, and educational fields, plus the uneasy international situation, the urgency of professionally-qualified and spiritually-dedicated teacher personnel is imperative. With such personnel the environment will be provided to stabilize our youth with a faith to live by and an education to serve by and a church to stand loyally by.

For our teacher personnel in our schools this year we are deeply grateful. May the ties between the home and the school, under the influence of God's Holy Spirit, be drawn exceedingly close through open avenues of Christian communication, thus assuring the successful progress toward the goals and objectives for which Christian education has been established.

Through this school year you will be the recipient of information that we hope will be meaningful as to the program in our schools in all of its branches, thus communicating what it is so often easy for educators to do—take for granted that the constituency knows the whys and wherefores of the program they so loyally support.

Following is the comparative opening report of our schools for this school year.

Sears Opens Telephone Office for It Is Written

The first in a series of monthly offers inviting viewers to telephone to request a copy of Elder George Vandeman's book, Planet in Rebellion, will be made on the It Is Written telecast in Los Angeles and San Diego next Saturday night and Sunday, November 17 and 18.

Forty volunteer telephone operators in Los Angeles, in addition to groups of operators in Riverside and San Diego, will receive the calls for several hours after the telecast offer is made.

In Los Angeles, officials of Sears Roebuck and Company made available their Service Center facilities in Bell, California, for the telephone campaign. This generous gesture will save It Is Written thousands of dollars. Company officials have cooperated in every way to provide desk space, telephones, and switchboard operators for a very nominal service charge. This company has certainly demonstrated its good will, and is deserving of our deepest appreciation.

The telephone plan is expected to result, not only in placing Planet in Rebellion in thousands of homes, but also in making the "Take His Word" Bible study guides available to thousands of persons who may have neglected to write for the study pamphlets. Some of the finest interests have developed in other cities where It Is Written has been telecast as a result of this telephone plan.

We expect that the telephone lines will be crowded to capacity when the offer is made on the telecast. We urgently request our church members to leave the lines open for non-members to call. Church members may contact the It Is Written office during business hours at the conference office. Copies of Planet in Rebellion are available to them through the Book and Bible House. We sincerely appreciate the cooperation of our church members in refraining from calling or writing for "Take His Word," Planet in Rebellion, or other items offered on the telecast, so that the supplies which we have available may be sent to our non-Adventist viewers.

Christmas for the Navajos

October 31, 1962, when many youngsters were out collecting goodies for themselves, the Eagle Rock Pathfinder Club gathered at the church, and after praying and arming themselves with boxes labeled "Canned Food for the Navajos' Christmas," they scattered to all of the Eagle Rock area and happily knocked on doors and requested canned food. In almost every case the householders gladly went to their kitchen cupboards and brought out cans to help those so badly in need. Many were quite surprised to think that young people were so willing to do this kind of work, rather than to go "Trick or Treating" just for their own benefit.

A leaflet explaining the purpose of the work and advertising The Adventist Hour and It Is Written programs was handed to each person contacted. For those boys and girls who are inclined to think that by going out in a group like this they are missing out on the pleasures of gaining things for themselves, most of the group came back well supplied by people who, without being asked, gave them the same as they were giving to the "Trick or Treaters."

One especially interesting experience was related by one of the children. They met up with two boys who were enjoying the fun of "Trick or Treat," and who asked our Pathfinders what they were doing. On being told, they immediately emptied their sacks of candy, etc., into the box and said, "Here, give these to the Navajos too."

Upon our return to the church, cans were eagerly counted and rejoicing was in the air when we discovered a total of 700 cans of food. To finish off a truly delightful and profitable evening, refreshments were served to the very thirsty group.

"Five Day Plan"

The Reno church reports that plans are under way for conducting the "Five Day Plan to Stop Smoking." This series of lectures and therapy will be presented in the near future in one of the downtown hotels in Reno. In many cities these lectures have been a great blessing to people who earnestly desire to stop the smoking habit.

It is estimated that 40,000 people in the United States will die of lung cancer this year. Perhaps the benefit of these lectures will be the means of saving some sincere people from the dreadful disease of lung cancer.

Liberty Park Does It Again!

Vacation Bible School days at Liberty Park church in Salt Lake City were enjoyed by 75 children who met at the church from August 6 to 13 under the leadership of Mrs. Maxine Goins. The high lights of the session included Bible lessons, songs, and various delightful crafts. Many of the children who came from non-Adventist homes gained instruction and guidance which they had not received before.

The teachers who faithfully labored with the children each day were: Mrs. Yvonne Goins, Junior Division; Mrs. Florence Lawrence and Mrs. Genevive Romero, Primary Division; and Mrs. Oma Gordon and Mrs. Mildred Hawkins, Kindergarten Division. Brother A. R. Dulan assisted in different departments as needed.

The closing exercises were an inspiration to all who attended as all the children participated. It was a wonderful week and we trust the seed sown may some day bring a bountiful harvest.

Report From Phoenix Elementary School

What a thrill! On Wednesday, October 17, it was our privilege to present to our temperance secretary, Elder M. C. Torkelsen, a check for $75. Now, the amount itself is not as significant as the fact that it represents 100 per cent enrollment, by our students and faculty, in the American Temperance Society. The response to this worthy cause is typical of the fine spirit and cooperation ever present in our school. The 40 seventh and eighth grade students, with Heather Walter and Stephen Hartman as captains, were the first to reach 100 per cent after a dynamic three-day thrust. The entire school was in orbit within just five days. We are indeed proud of this achievement in a day when so many youth do not have a burden for the lost soul.

Our school is gradually taking on a new look. We are deeply indebted with gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Frazier for their endless contributions toward landscaping and beautifying our school plant.

The Phoenix Elementary School.

Soon we will have a lovely winter lawn and a row of palm trees to grace the parkway in front of our school. All of this is possible because the Fraziers believe in our school, and because they realize that this is a tangible way of giving to the cause of God. Recently a three-foot fence was installed around the front of our school in order to keep the lawn and beautiful flowers from unguided feet.

An important event of the school year was the very successful Home and School meeting on Saturday night, October 13, which was well planned by our leader, Mrs. Leo Hartman. The several hundred in attendance enjoyed a benefit supper and an entertaining film. The high light of the evening, however, was the naming of our spacious, new auditorium. Although the auditorium was completed several months ago, the committee had not decided upon a permanent name.

Mr. Gordon Williams made the presentation as he aptly gave a brief history of the honoree, Mrs. Ellen B. Fattebert. He told of her love for youth, her years (40) of longing and praying for such a building, her devotion to God's cause as a teacher (many years on our own campus), and for her never-failing spirit of youth which is blessed with the dignity of a true disciple of Christ. Thus, our auditorium will rapidly become known as the Fattebert Family Center.

We can say without hesitation that we have the very finest staff. Mrs. Friday, grades one and two, Miss Cunning, grades three and four, and Mrs. Roby, grades five and six, have many years of experience combined with a deep desire to fulfill the Lord's command, "Feed My lambs."

Our school board chairman, Mr. Conrad Riebow, and the other members of the board are making a strong contribution toward assuring a successful school year. Thanks to the guiding hand of our conference leaders, and the cooperation of our faithful patrons, we are operating in the black for the first time in many years.

Of a surety we can look forward to a year filled with many blessings. It is a rare opportunity, indeed, to be associated with 135 students who have pledged themselves to keep their bodies pure.

It is the deep desire of all our staff to be the daily example that will prepare our students for eternal learning at the feet of the Master Teacher.

Springerville Church Has Year of Progress

The Springerville Adventist church, located right at the edge of the White Mountains in eastern Arizona, has in the past year spent over $3,000 in church improvements. As we look back at the past year, what seemed an impossibility is a reality. The church has been completely redecorated inside, a new Baldwin organ and piano purchased, drapes for the windows, and a cloakroom added to the church school room. The ground has been landscaped, trees, lawn and flowers planted. A lumber mill donated lumber for the fence which surrounds the church property. A new highway opened right by the church; and the contractors gave us a full load of blacktop, so our parking lot and driveway is completely paved. This in itself amounted to over $1,000.

This small church of 20 members also carries on a church school. Wellington Matheson, the teacher, has a full load with 12 pupils in grades two to seven. The church school is well equipped, inside as well as outside. New swings, merry-go-round, monkey bars, and volleyball standards were added this year for playground equipment. The swings and merry-go-round were donated by Doctors LaMont Casey and Jim Bursey. As people drive by on highways 60 and 666, our church stands out in prominent view of all and is a fitting representation of our cause.

PAUL JOHNSON, Pastor.

"The teaching of the Bible has a vital bearing upon man's prosperity in all the relations of this life. It unfolds the principles that are the corner-stone of a nation's prosperity,—principles with which is bound up the well-being of society, and which are the safeguard of the family,—principles without which no man can attain usefulness, happiness, and honor in this life, or can hope to secure the future, immortal life. There is no position in life, no phase of human experience, for which the teaching of the Bible is not an essential preparation."—Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 599.

Mountain View Academy Week of Prayer

The Mountain View Union Academy had its fall Week of Prayer beginning October 15. The theme that was developed throughout the week was "God's Interest in the Whole Man." The thought of the week can best be summed up by the statement in the book Education:

True education means more than the pursuit of a certain course of study. It has to do with the whole being and the whole period of existence possible to man. . . . It is the harmonious development of the physical, mental, and spiritual powers.

We felt especially blessed by the presence of the Spirit of God as we came to realize more vividly that God is vitally concerned with our entire development. Even though we may be prone to overlook our physical needs in this busy age in which we live, yet God's plan for our lives encompasses even this area of living.

In the closing testimony service we were thrilled with the response of the students as they responded to the Holy Spirit as it moved among us. Many of the young people expressed a need for more of God's power in their lives to overcome the temptations that youth face today.

Let us remember all of our young people daily in our prayers that the allurements so cleverly contrived by the enemy of souls will not be able to separate our teen-agers from the love of this Truth.

Missionary Volunteer Department.

Week of Prayer at Armona Academy

"In Thine Hand to Make Great" was the theme of the Armona Academy Week of Prayer. It was held by this writer during the week of October 15 through 19 in the beautiful Armona church. Here were studied daily topics of vital concern to victorious living. Topics such as "How to Be Saved" and "How to Stay on Heaven's Road" were received by the youth with a seriousness unknown to most of their generation.

To see these earnest young Seventh-day Adventists responding to the promptings of the Holy Spirit and moving forward in dedication was indeed a thrill.

Following the academy's morning service, the children from the Armona elementary school came into the church for their Week of Prayer meetings. Grades one through four came first, followed by grades five through eight.

Certainly it was a joy to see the bright-eyed interest which these children displayed toward topics relative to their theme which was "What It Means to Be a Christian." Words cannot capture the enthusiasm of these children when they sang such songs as their theme song, "Would I Be Called a Christian?"

If words could fully describe the spirit of these schools, then your faith in the future of this movement would be strengthened as was mine. The dedication of these young people, their serious-mindedness, and their concern for spiritual depth speak to all and declare loudly the values of Christian education.

Pray that all of our youth will realize the lateness of the hour and the challenge of the time, and will arise to help finish the task entrusted to the generation of Time's Last Hour.

Castle Memorial Hospital Nears Completion

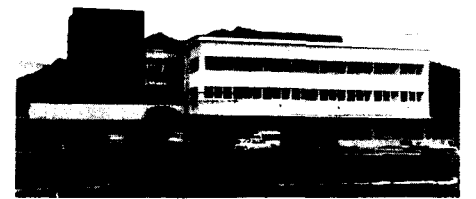

December 8, 1962, is the scheduled date of completion for Castle Memorial Hospital, one of the newer members of the Pacific Union hospital family. As the accompanying picture shows, nearly 90 per cent of the project is complete, with the work progressing according to plan. Much of the heavy equipment is being to care for their patients. Since this will be the only general hospital available on the windward side of Oahu, the opportunity to present our medical and health message to the surrounding community is unlimited. As the medical staff organizes in the near future we trust that all of the eligible physicians in the surrounding community will actively support the hospital.

It was a real privilege to have Elder R. R. Bietz tour the new hospital on a recent trip to the Islands; also, Mr. E. J. Remboldt, administrator of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Their good counsel was very much appreciated.

The hospital that has been planned to give our work in the Islands a greater impetus, increased stature, and long-range sound growth will soon be a reality. As the opening day approaches, we pray that Castle Memorial Hospital will fulfill the purpose for which it was established.

installed at the present time with many items scheduled to arrive as needed, in anticipation of opening day the first of the year.

It was hoped that the community would raise enough to equip the new hospital, but although the response has been good the total amount to date is not adequate. Just recently the Honolulu and local newspapers have given us good publicity, presenting the idea of making a donation in the form of a memorial to a loved one. This has received a good response and it is hoped that much of the needed equipment can be obtained in the near future. The Lord knows the need which exists and will impress the hearts of those who can help in the establishment of this new medical facility.

There is good indication that most of the local doctors are anxiously awaiting the opening of Castle Memorial Hospital

"This Bible course has given me wonderful ideas of knowing the Word of God. It also has improved me in my Sunday School and church duties. I'm grateful for all of it." (Hilo, Hawaii, Faith)

"These lessons have helped me to understand the Bible and our God so much more clearly, and I am so very grateful for having this opportunity. It has made me realize the things I must try to heed." (Kaneohe, Faith)

"It might seem strange, but I have never before wondered nor questioned the day of Sunday as being the Sabbath, until a few months ago when I began to wonder seriously the reason for Saturday worship. First I thought why, and how, did they have Saturday, not Sunday. After reading all the evidences I find it very surprising and find myself curious. I wondered if the calendar days are the same as at the beginning of time or somehow, somewhere, it was changed. I am now convinced that Saturday is the true Sabbath, but still am astonished that not all churches follow it." (Honolulu, Faith)

"In keeping the Sabbath day, do you just rest, or is there some form of worship that you do on Saturday? I've been raised that Sunday is the Sabbath day, but I know in the Commandments, the seventh day is Sabbath. You know, some people start the week with Monday and some on Sunday. I am not arguing with the Bible, for I believe as of now, I will surrender my life to God. I and my family want to make heaven our home." (Hickam AFB, Faith)

Faith for These Times Crusade

The evangelistic effort in Oakland is going forward with much success. All meetings, including Bible marking classes, are well attended. Evangelist Ratcliffe has given out more than 1,500 free Bibles to those present and over 50 per cent of these are non-Adventists.

Much paper work is involved in the processing of names. This is carried out by Mrs. Ratcliffe, who, with her efficient staff, carries on the necessary work of typing, duplicating, banking, and mailing.

Elder Carl Becker gives the ministers of the Oakland area further information on the necessary work in evangelism.

God's work, having many facets, needs the help of those willing to serve. Elder and Mrs. Ratcliffe have dedicated their lives to the service of God, and it is their sole purpose to go "and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Instructors for the Sanitarium School of Prayer.

Sanitarium School of Prayer

The number one feature of the Sanitarium church for the last six weeks has been a School of Prayer. Instructors for this project have been Elder and Mrs. T. G. Bunch, Miss Minnie Dauphinee, Elder C. M. Mellor, and Elder A. L. Ham.

The first session of the School of Prayer on October 3 emphasized our deep need for a more effective prayer life. The necessity for spiritual power in the individual and in the church has never been greater than it is at the present time. Our members feel unprepared for the mighty workings of God as will be seen in the outpouring of the "Latter Rain" and the "Loud Cry." The questions are arising in many minds everywhere, "How can I be ready? What can I do?"

"From the secret place of prayer came the power that shook the world in the Great Reformation."—The Great Controversy, p. 210. The power needed to finish the closing reformatory work will also come from secret prayer.

The first evening Elder Taylor G. Bunch, minister and author of deep thought and wide experience, spoke on "The Need of a Spiritual Revival." He told us that it is a very human characteristic to realize that the church needs a revival, but to forget that the only way a revival can come is for it to begin with individuals. This wonderful work will come only as the answer to individual and united prayers. As we examine ourselves in prayer, we will be able to see that only the Holy Spirit in our lives will be able to meet our spiritual needs.

On October 10 Miss Minnie Dauphinee, well known for her work as dean of women in our colleges, helped to bring out our need of preparation for prayer. We can enter the school of Christ where we can learn to pray as a little child.

On October 17, Mrs. T. G. Bunch spoke on "Types of Prayer—Reverence, Thanksgiving, Confession, Petition, and Commitment." This led us to examine our motives in prayer and to realize that even as Seventh-day Adventist Christians who have been praying for years, we must have a much deeper comprehension of communion with God. We need to "be still and know that I am God." Our concepts of God may be narrow and incomplete, but prayer will broaden them.

An interesting feature of this meeting was a question box. The faculty answered questions turned in during the preceding two weeks, such as: "I know we should persevere in prayer, but how can we know when we are pushing our will beyond God's will?"

Elder A. L. Ham taught our fourth class session on the topic, "How Prayer Is Answered, Conditions of Prayer, and Prayer for Healing." Often we wonder how God will fulfill His promise, "Ask, and ye shall receive." Does the answer depend on us, or wholly upon God? All receive a great blessing when the foundations that underlie prayers of petition are understood; and most important of all—surrender, full and complete.

Elder T. G. Bunch spoke on October 31 on "The Elements of Worship and Public Prayer. Family Worship Made Interesting." A panel discussion with audience participation followed on "Making Family Worship Interesting."

Elder C. M. Mellor on November 7 presented "Power Through Prayer Groups. How They Are Formed. The Sharing Plan." Another question-and-answer period at the close of the talk brought answers to personal problems.

The impact of the Sanitarium School of Prayer has made itself felt on this hillside. Attendance has varied from 300 to 450 at these mid-week services. It is hoped that this spirit will spread far and wide, and that others will join in the sincere desire, "Lord, teach us to pray."

"The public feeling is that manual labor is degrading, yet men may exert themselves as much as they choose at cricket, baseball, or in pugilistic contests, without being regarded as degraded. Satan is delighted when he sees human beings using their physical and mental powers in that which does not educate, which is not useful, which does not help them to be a blessing to those who need their help. While the youth are becoming expert in games that are of no real value to themselves or to others, Satan is playing the game of life for their souls, taking from them the talents that God has given them, and placing in their stead his own evil attributes. . . . and he is well pleased if he can set in operation games and theatrical performances that will so confuse the senses of the youth that God and heaven will be forgotten."

Dowell Martz Assists With Scientific Project

A significant scientific advance was achieved when Prof. Dowell Martz, of the Physics Department, as one of a four-man team assisted in measuring temperatures of the dark side of the moon, the planet Jupiter, and certain stars with infrared detectors sensitive in the 8-14 micron wave length regions October 28 to 30. Dr. Bruce Murray, research fellow in space physics at Cal Tech, requested the collaboration of Professor Martz in the project which was carried out at Mount Palomar using the 200-inch telescope there. Last summer the same team of scientists consisting of Professor Martz, Dr. Murray, Dr. Robert Wildey, astronomer from Cal Tech, and Mr. James Westphal, geophysicist from Cal Tech, proved the feasibility of the experiment by making measurements through a 20-inch telescope located at the 12,800 foot level on White Mountain, near Bishop, California. The observatory on White Mountain, which was built as a joint project by the Navy and Cal Tech for that particular purpose, is the highest observatory in the world.

Professor Martz began working with infrared detectors when he first went to the Naval Research Station at China Lake in 1953. He and Mr. Westphal adapted infrared detectors for field use and designed and built the necessary equipment for measuring star temperatures through telescopes.

Explaining the technical aspects of the experiments, Professor Martz stated that visible light waves begin at 0.4 of a micron and end at 0.7 of a micron. For some time scientists have desired to measure stellar bodies in the invisible longer wavelength range at 8-14 microns. Mr. Martz expressed great pleasure at having a part in making this possible for the first time. This opens a whole new region of the electromagnetic spectrum to astronomers to take its place along with visible and radio astronomy.

The infrared detector used will operate only at extremely low temperatures. It was necessary, therefore, to design and build special equipment using liquid hydrogen at 253 degrees below zero centigrade to cool the detector to as near absolute zero (minus 273 degrees centigrade) as possible. Using this equipment in connection with the 200-inch telescope, the team of scientists accurately measured the temperature of the dark side of the moon and several stars. The team will continue its work in this field according to Mr. Martz.

A letter from Dr. Harrison Brown of Cal Tech addressed to PUC's academie dean, M. E. Mathisen, expressed appreciation to Pacific Union College for the services of Prof. Dowell Martz in this scientific project.

Week of Prayer

Dr. M. G. Hardinge, professor and chairman, Department of Pharmacology, School of Medicine, Loma Linda University, was the guest speaker for the PUC fall Week of Prayer October 28 to November 3. Using a medical-scientific approach, Dr. Hardinge correlated the findings of modern science with the instructions and prophecies of the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy.

"The voice of eternity from creation to recreation" was the theme of the devotional talks. The students assembled at 9:20 each morning during the regular assembly periods and at 6:30 each evening during the regular worship periods. The morning convocations were followed by prayer bands.

"God gave man the ability to think, and make decisions for himself, thus, man has the privilege and responsibility of deciding his own destiny. The devil endeavors to blunt this God-given ability to make clear choices. Ill health, intemperance, and the use of harmful drugs and stimulants are all tools of the devil for this purpose," declared Dr. Hardinge. Though he has earned three doctorates (M.D., Doctor of Public Health, and Ph.D.), this educator feels that the wisdom of man is insignificant and completely untrustworthy. "Truth lies within the perimeters of God's revelation, principally in the Bible and the writings of Ellen G. White, and anything outside of these is mere human speculation," emphasized the speaker.

On Friday night at the close of the meeting held in the college gymnasium hundreds of students, faculty members and adults from the village responded to Dr. Hardinge's appeal to come forward and yield their wills completely to the Lord.

Elder Olson Has Week of Prayer Meetings

The Week of Prayer at Thunderbird Academy was conducted October 28 to November 3 by Elder Robert Olson, chairman of the Department of Religion at Pacific Union College. Elder Olson with his rich background of experience as a pastor, Bible instructor, and administrator both in the United States and in England is in great demand as a speaker for church services, weeks of prayer, graduation services, and other occasions.

Week of Prayer Services Conducted by Elder Millard

Pacific Union College dean of students, Alban W. Millard, was the guest speaker during the Week of Prayer at Modesto

Union Academy October 28 to November 3. Dean Millard is an ordained minister and has served the denomination in a variety of capacities. He has been a teacher in Seventh-day Adventist secondary schools, principal of two of them, educational superintendent and youth leader for the Hawaiian Mission, Bible teacher, pastor, and vice principal of Monterey Bay Academy, director of guidance and counseling at Pacific Union College, and now dean of students. He speaks on a wide range of subjects to service clubs, schools, Home and School associations, and churches.

Power Hour

The student-conducted Power Hour began during the first week of school and will continue throughout the year. The Power Hour is a 15-minute inspirational period consisting of song, prayer, and discussion held at 12:30 each day, Monday through Friday. Many students and faculty members who attend this meeting regularly state that it is truly a source of power as the name suggests.

Medical Missionary Work for All

"A storm is coming, relentless in its fury." Thus wrote Sister White. It is a familiar prophecy, but for all its familiarity, one that should be given deeper attention than heretofore. Although the above momentous words were written in the context of our needed heart's preparation, we might well apply them also to the training necessary to accomplish our final task effectively. This training has to do with medical skills.

The final triumph of our great message will be intimately associated with medical missionary work. This work will be done, not merely by a relatively small number of highly-trained physicians, health educators, and nurses, but by all members of the church.

Although "specialists" will always be needed, this in no wise removes God's demand for the performance of medical missionary service on the part of every member to the full extent of his personal ability. Medical missionaries on all levels of educational achievement, going from door to door, this is God's blueprint for the final triumph.

Jesus was primarily a house-to-house medical missionary. Herein lay His great success. His method will be revived by God's people in this late hour. No longer will the three phases of the total ministry be divided among various categories of workers. Each will go out to serve body, mind, and soul in one well-integrated individual ministry.

Christ's method alone will give true success in reaching the people. The Saviour mingled with men as one who desired their good. He showed His sympathy for them, ministered to their needs, and won their confidence. Then He bade them, "Follow Me."—Ministry of Healing, p. 143.

Permit me to quote a few more vital statements from Sister White.

The monotony of our service for God needs to be broken up. Every church-member should be engaged in some line of service for the Master. Some can not do so much as others [doctors, nurses, etc.], but every one should do his utmost to roll back the tide of disease and distress that is sweeping over our world. . . .

Every church should be a training-school for Christian workers. Its members should be taught . . . how best to help the poor and to care for the sick . . . There should be schools of health, cooking schools. . . . Ibid., p. 149.

Let our people show that they have a living interest in medical missionary work. Let them prepare themselves for usefulness by studying the books that have been written for our instruction in these lines.—Testimonies, vol. 7, p. 63.

The final quotation is especially significant.

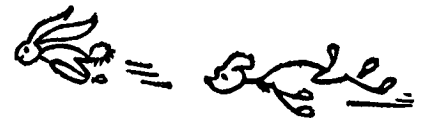

As religious aggression subverts the liberties of our nation, those who would stand for freedom of conscience will be placed in unfavorable positions. For their own sake they should, while they have the opportunity, become intelligent in regard to disease, its causes, prevention, and cure. All those who do this will find a field of labor anywhere. . . . The shortness of time demands an energy that has not been aroused among those who claim to believe the present truth.—Counsels on Health, p. 506. (Italics supplied in all quotations.)

God seems to appeal here to our self-interest. That religious aggression is imminent, there is no doubt. The "storm, relentless in its fury," will be the inevitable consequence. God is pleading with His people to study the laws of health, the nature, causes of disease and also its cures, so that we may be able to witness for Him when every other avenue will be cut off. This preparation should receive priority because the hour is so late.

Now is the time, before the storm breaks, to prepare to do the same work Christ did. "Health Guardian" courses from Loma Linda University combined with study of other church-sponsored courses in prevention and simple cures will provide the necessary training to do the prescribed medical missionary work.

R. L. KLINGBEIL.
