Millions Without Christ

Mexico, with its teeming millions, needs Christ. There are only five churches with a combined membership of a little better than one thousand in all of Mexico City. Six million inhabitants need to know Jesus and His love. Our members there are doing what they can, but they long to do a greater work for the Master. Old and young are dedicating their lives to Christian service to help finish the work of God in their city so that Jesus can soon return. Pancho's experience is typical of their dedication to a finished work.

When Pancho was sixteen years of age he learned of our mission school and had a great yearning and desire to learn to read so that he could teach others a better way of life. When he and his cousin arrived at the school they were told that the school was overcrowded already, but finally after much persuasion they were permitted to stay. Pancho and his cousin truly felt that this was a miracle of God. They were willing to live in an attic with sixty companions and have classes on an open porch where often the rain beat in and the damp wind chilled them to the bone, but Pancho and his cousin knew that this was where God wanted them.

Pancho completed his education and began working for the Lord. Soon thrilling reports started to come in, telling of interested families with whom he was studying. He told of a minister of another denomination who was singing in his choir, and who joined his baptismal class. He told of young people who were coming to church because of his interest in them. Now he and other members of the churches in that city are thrilled with the thought that their neighbors to the north are willing to give liberally on June 29 so that Mexico City will have ten, fifteen,—yes, maybe even twenty more evangelistic centers to give the gospel of hope and salvation to those who sit in darkness.

Thank you for your sacrificial gift on this Thirteenth Sabbath, June 29.

HELMUTH C. RETZER, Secretary, Sabbath School Department. Pacific Union Conference.

Youth Congress Appreciation

Just what are the results of a Youth Congress such as was held in Long Beach in April? The question of the end results of such tremendous expense, the hundreds of hours of preparation and organization by the leaders, the schools, and the youth who took part has, without doubt, crossed many minds. For the encouragement of those who have so expended themselves in the recent congress and who have perhaps wondered if it was really worth it, we would like to bring just one letter from the many received in the MV Department office of the Pacific Union Conference:

Dear Elder Brockett:

The Missionary Volunteer Society officers and delegates to the recent Pacific Union Conference Youth Congress wish to express to you and the other leaders their sincere appreciation for the Youth Congress held in Long Beach. We know that along with your regular responsibilities many extra hours of work and planning went into such a program.

Our youth leaders and members of the MV Society have testified many times of the inspiration they received from attending the congress. The messages in word and song did much to help us rededicate our lives to fuller Christian service.

We, the members of the Downey-Florence MV Department, feel privileged to be a part of the Pacific Union Conference youth membership and to have you and your associates as our union youth leaders. We thank you for all your help in our behalf and especially for making possible our recent Youth Congress.

(Signed by Clyde A. Morris, MV Society leader, and the delegates from the Downey-Florence church.)

Our prayer is that the youth whose lives were touched by the congress will continue to grow into full Christian maturity and that they may continue to learn that to be like the Master those lives must be dedicated to full Christian service.

HAZEL DIRKSEN, Secretary to Elder Brockett, MV Department, Pacific Union Conference.

Sing With the Voice of Prophecy Quartet!

Here's your chance to sing with the Voice of Prophecy Quartet. The quartet members have reserved time to be with the Fine Arts Camp this year in active participation. One of the high lights of the camp will be the privilege of singing with these excellent musicians whose voices are loved in Adventist homes around the world. Their camp meeting circuit ends just in time to permit them to join us at Rio Lindo for this summer's camp.

The happiest ten days of the summer will begin at Rio Lindo August 4 when violins and trumpets, bass drums and bassoons, soprano voices and basses from five western states arrive at Rio Lindo Academy for the 1963 Fine Arts Camp. The excellent staff; the large rehearsal rooms, and other facilities will help make this the best camp ever.

Don't forget to bring your swim suits, for along with other recreation there will be time for swimming.

Reservations are coming in. Please get yours in early to make sure of space. Applications or requests for application blanks should be mailed to the Fine Arts Camp, P.O. Box 146, Glendale, California. Ten dollars should accompany your application.

W. O. BALDWIN, Assoc. Secy., Department of Education, Pacific Union Conference.

Public Relations Growth

The Public Relations report for the first quarter of 1963 is the best yet. During this time more than 3,000 stories about the message and the mission of the church were printed in newspapers throughout the Pacific Union. These were illustrated by more than 725 pictures. News of the church was featured more than 300 times on radio and television outlets.

There is also a growing awareness of the wider aspects of Public Relations as well: such as the number of Five-Day Plan classes being conducted, the Seventh-day Adventist book display at the University of Arizona, the Barstow church hosting the "Church Musicians Guild" in which several organizations participated, the Alhambra church in formal ceremony receiving one of the Los Angeles "County Beautiful" awards in recognition of the outstanding qualities of their church, and so it goes.

We appreciate the work of the 355 church PR secretaries, the pastors, and total member participation in trying to keep the true image of the church before a growing community.

J. O. IVERSEN, Secretary, Public Relations Department, Pacific Union Conference.

Mountain View Union Academy Music Department

The musical groups at Mountain View Union Academy have had a very busy season presenting programs to various churches and organizations. These programs are the result of Christian education in music

The Mountain View Union Academy choir consisting of 44 voices presented various programs, including a Christmas program and then a spring program of secular music. The choir presented the worship hour at the San Jose Central church and the Mountain View church. This group also prepared a 15-minute radio broadcast used over station KEEN in San Jose on May 26. Perhaps the experience that was enjoyed the most by the young people was the trip to the Pacific Union Youth Congress in Long Beach in which they participated by singing two numbers.

This year a new organization was started, the Ladies Glee Club, which has 43 members. The young ladies have presented programs at Burlingame, Mountain View, and the academy.

The organization that has done much in the way of promotion and public relations for the academy is the Royalaires, a select group of 26 voices. A total of 16 sacred programs were given by this group in the following places: San Jose Spanish church, Los Gatos, Palo Alto, Los Altos, Redwood City, Burlingame, Mountain View Japanese, Campbell, and San Francisco. This group also provided the music for the Adventist Hour telecast in Burlingame on June 1. The Royalaires were the guests of the Mountain View Rotary Club for dinner and then provided a program of Christmas music. The same program was given for the Mountain View Ladies Club. Other programs were presented at Soquel for the Pathfinder Leaders Convention and the Regional MV meeting in San Jose. The Royalaires also appeared at camp meeting.

The final music program was presented on Sunday evening, May 26, under the direction of Mr. Earl B. Johnson, vocal and choral instructor, and Mr. William A. Baker, instrumental and band instructor.

Another very active group on the campus has been the academy band. This group has presented numerous Saturday night programs, appeared at the Band

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA

Festival in Stockton, and played at the ground-breaking ceremony for the new wing on Doctors Hospital in San Jose. The brass sextet of select members has appeared with the Royalaires at each of their programs.

The piano department, under the direction of Mrs. Linda Anderson, has done much to instill interest in the keyboard. The piano students excelled in the festival held at Monterey Bay Academy. The organ students are under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Falconer and participated in the organ festival held at Lodi.

The school year has drawn to a close and the students interested in the field of music are looking forward to next year and the blessings they will gain socially and spiritually.

E. B. Johnson, Public Relations Director.

Cooking School at the Feather River Sanitarium and Hospital

On Monday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m., a large group of people gathered in the Educational Building of the Feather River Sanitarium to attend the opening meeting of a cooking school conducted by Mrs. May Wright, the director of food service at the Feather River Sanitarium. She was assisted by Miss Catherine Gearing, the director of nursing service.

The cooking classes covered a nineweek period, meeting each Monday night, and were of interest to all. Men, women, young people, and children attended. There were informative lectures, unique demonstrations, and interesting door prizes given to those holding the "lucky numbers" drawn each night.

The interest in this cooking school remained at a very high peak right up to the conclusion of the final meeting which was a potluck dinner exemplifying the health principles which were taught during this cooking school. The purpose was to again direct men and women back to God's original diet for His people.

Some of the topics presented were: A healthful breakfast, food deficiency as related to major diseases, balancing the diet, protein foods, simple desserts, the child and good nutrition, bread, lunches, main dishes, salads, and soups.

These classes were sponsored by the Educational Department of the Feather River Sanitarium and Hospital in connection with the Paradise Seventh-day Adventist church. This was presented as a community service in the interest of better health, and many from the community attended.

A. G. STREIFLING, Chaplain, Feather River Sanitarium.

Efforts in Redding End With Baptism

Two adults and nine students of the Redding area recently pledged their dedication to the service of God and to the doctrines of the church. The two adults joined in the baptismal services which culminated the efforts held by Elder Chester Westphal and Elder J. O. Iversen. Elder Westphal conducted the study classes at the church school. Those baptized were Brother Frank Tentor and his wife, Cecelia. The students were Lillian Gibbs, Sherry Ochs, Ken Hurd, Tim Davis, James Echelberry, Richard Flemming, Terry Nevis, Rick Gregory, and Jill

Rio Lindo Academy News

Echoes, was presented to the students May 13 at a joint worship that was supposedly being called because Elder Becker was on campus. Elder Becker's opening remarks were interrupted by the sound of a loud gong. Editor Larry Will and Associate Editor Kay Reiswig marched onto the stage and presented the first book to a very surprised conference president. The dedication reads as follows:

Because of his interest in and devotion to Christian education . . . Because of his foresight in preparing for the need of another academy in Northern California . . .

Because of his perseverance in working toward the completion of this school Because of his determination to provide only the best for our Adventist youth And especially because of his confidence in us . . . We, the Student Body of Rio Lindo Academy, gratefully dedicate this first yearbook to Elder Carl Becker.

- ► A Northern California Conference colporteur rally was held on the campus June 9 and 10. The rally was chiefly a training program for students who would be working in the field this summer.
- The next newsworthy event to take place here will be Fine Arts Camp to be held August 4 to 14.
- With the exception of a few boys who are staying by to work on the grounds and the farm, the campus seems almost deserted. Many of the teachers have enrolled in summer school. Two teachers are working toward their doctorate degrees: Mr. E. F. Judy, band master, is at Boston University; and Mr. William Haynes, choral director, is at Stanford University. Gerald Hetzer, instructor in industrial arts, is at Oregon State University; Leslie Bietz, dean of boys, and Jean Bietz, girls physical education director, are at Pacific Union College; Oliver Furman, instructor in biology and agriculture, is at University of Colorado; Helen Willhelm, instructor in secretarial science, is at Colorado State College; Beverly Paulson, dean of girls, Jessie Pluhovoy, associate dean of girls, and Elder Marvin Seibel are attending Andrews University; Howard O. Hardcastle, instructor in English and Spanish, is at the University of Mexico in Mexico City.

News From the Richmond School

James Arrabito, age 12 and in Brother Ralph Segoria's seventh grade class this past school year, won one of the first prizes in the Contra Costa County Dental Health Contest. Many paro-chial schools took part in the contest, as well as the public schools. Of the numerous posters submitted from the many large schools in the county, we were happy that the small Richmond Seventh - day Adventist school had their entry selected as one of the first prizes, and proud of James.

Thanks to Brother Segoria and Sister Mary Geddes for the fine work they are doing in the Richmond school.

Music at Foothills Union School

The 99 members of Mrs. Lester Quade's singing group of the Foothills Union School were presented in a sacred concert June 1 in the Sanitarium, California, church. It was a vesper service which opened with several of the grand old hymns of the church played by the school band under the baton of their teacherdirector, Alden W. Follett.

All of the singers were in a processional led by Mrs. Quade and their accompanist, Lorna Darnell, eighth grade student. The singers were in red-and-white or black-andwhite vestments, according to their particular choir, or in black and white skirts and blouses or trousers and shirts.

In the choral group are the 20 members of the Cherub Choir (first and second grade students), 30 members of the Junior Choir (third and fourth grade students), and 49 members of the Youth Choir (grades five to eight). From among the Youth Choir is a Treble Choir and from among the Treble Choir members there is a Triple Trio.

The Triple Trip of the Foothills Union School, Sanitarium, has been very generous in singing for the St. Helena church and for the Sanitarium church. Pictured are, left to right: Lorna Darnell, Shirley Fox, Karen Tucker, Sharon Unruh, Coralee Saulsbury, Sharon Baldwin, Ruth Carter, Carol Reinke, and Susan Brown. The Triple Trio has been very generous in giving sacred concerts in the Sanitarium and St. Helena areas and during this spring were heard in the guest parlor of the St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital, in the Sanitarium Sabbath morning worship, in the Sanitarium Sabbath School, and in the St. Helena Sabbath School. This is their first year and their talent and willingness have been very much appreciated.

MARGARET GREENE, Director, Public Relations, St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital.

News Note

A nutrition class was conducted in the Lodi Elementary School and was taught by a local nutrition instructor, Mrs. Hazel Lombardi. The class enrollment was 16.

June 3 Ceremony Launches Ontario School Construction

Shovels were wielded by Elder John Osborn, conference president; Elder Harry Schneider, secretary-treasurer; Attorney Harold Lance, building committee chairman; Mr. Harold Martin, Ontario city manager; and Pastor Ansel L. Bristol at the ground-breaking ceremony marking the start of construction on the new Ontario church school Monday, June 3.

The new school, scheduled for occupancy this fall, will house four classrooms, office, workrooms, sick room, kitchen, storage, and restrooms. It is located at 1722 East 8th Street in Ontario between Baker and Vineyard avenues. The nine-acre piece has been master planned to provide space for day academy facilities as needed. Plenty of playground and activity area has been provided.

Ontario has operated a two-teacher school for many years, but this fall there will be three teachers in the new elementary plant—Miss Beth Spenst in grades 1 to 3, Miss Donna Fuller handling grades 4 to 6, and Mr. Lloyd Fox serving as principal and teacher of grades 7 and 8.

The school site is located in the center

The school site is located in the center of a rapidly-developing area surrounded by a growing community of moderate priced homes. The new Ontario Seventh-day Adventist church, located scarcely more than a mile away, is a beautiful and fully-equipped sanctuary.

With the start of a new school year in an expanded teaching facility still over two months away, there is yet time to enroll additional students before the fall semester. Should you be interested in further information write the Ontario SDA Church, 856 North Sultana, Ontario, California, or call YUkon 4-6255 or 982-0076.

ANSEL L. BRISTOL, Pastor, Ontario Church.

The Loma Linda Hill church is sponsoring a Summer Junior Choir School, June 17 to July 11, under the direction of Dr. Oliver Beltz. Class sessions are held daily from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the church, located on the Sanitarium and Hospital grounds in Loma Linda.

Elsinore's new health and welfare center is functioning as a community health education center. The first project planned was a school of health and nutrition at which most of the students were non-Seventh-day Adventist community members. Mrs. Pearl Comstock led the group in demonstrations and discusions on physiology, healthful living, and balanced diet. In addition, students became acquainted with the Dorcas welfare work carried on by the church.

Preliminary sketch of Ontario's new elementary school to be completed before September.

1963 Legislation Claims Attention

The 1963 session of the California Legislature has been a very active one with a total of 5,548 Senate and Assembly bills and resolutions submitted for consideration so far. Studying bills, attending committees, and handling the thousands of letters arriving each day are only a few of the demanding assignments of the legislator, who is to be commended for a difficult job well done.

A number of new bills have been introduced this session which interest Seventhday Adventists-particularly the Sunday closing bills known as Senate Bill 845 and Assembly Bills 2893 and 82. The senate bill had wide support from the merchants and clerks in stores now closed on Sunday. One senator reported receiving 12,000 letters. Only 1,000 of these were opposed to the bill. Yet this senator was willing to vote in favor of the principle of religious freedom. We thank God for the many evidences that His Spirit is speaking to California leaders. Senate Bill 845 was withdrawn just a few days before it was to be considered by the Committee on Business and Professions. While a number of non-Adventist persons and organizations now take credit for the demise of the Sunday closing bill, I know that God is giving his people a little longer to preach the message freely. Through these bills several have learned of Seventh-day Adventists and the principles of religious freedom for the first time.

Tribute was paid to nine couples celebrating golden wedding anniversaries in a special ceremony at the San Diego Broadway church Sabbath, May 25. Boutonnieres, corsages, select music, and a special message from Pastor M. L. Lukens honored Dr. and Mrs. Charles Giddings, Mr. and Mrs. Defoe Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ledington, Mr. and Mrs. William Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Huguley, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koons, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coleman.

Elder W. S. Jesske, corresponding secretary for the Voice of Prophecy, recently visited Southeastern to demonstrate the latest table-top and mounted VOP literature display racks. These attractive and effective devices, plus radio logs and Bible school enrollment cards for all ages, are now available through the conference Radio-Television Department.

Bible Back to Sabbath School

There is nothing more calculated to strengthen the intellect than the study of the Scriptures. No other book is so potent to elevate the thoughts, to give vigor to the faculties, as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible. If God's word were studied as it should be, men would have a breadth of mind, a nobility of character, and a stability of purpose rarely seen in these times."—Steps to Christ, p. 90.
"Let the student keep his Bible always with him."-Education, p. 191.

These two quotations fully emphasize the value of the Bible spiritually and even value in its presence, or carrying it, especially to Sabbath School where it is opened, studied, and understood corporately in a fuller sense.

The example of bringing the Bible to Sabbath School is wholesome to all. Let us encourage each other in a-

Change to Greatness

On a recent Sabbath, members of the Pomona church witnessed the baptism of a family whose background constitutes one of those stories that always thrill hearts when told.

The Baliant family lived in Hungary. In that country, Mrs. Baliant became interested in Seventh-day Adventism, studied, and was baptized. The family left Hungary for Yugoslavia after the bloody 1956 revolution. Soon they were able to come to the United States.

Mrs. Baliant began attending the Alhambra church when the family came to America. Elder R. J. Winders, pastor of the church at that time, introduced the family to Elder Gabriel Varga of The Voice of Prophecy's Hungarian department. Elder Varga began to teach other members of the family about Seventh-day Adventism.

All members of the family except Mr. Baliant were interested in the new concepts of truth presented by Elder Varga. A slave to tobacco and alcoholic beverages, Mr. Baliant, although present at the Bi-ble study sessions, did not respond. After his children were baptized, however, a change came over Mr. Baliant. Recently he conquered the habit of smoking and on Sabbath, May 11, was baptized by Elder Walter Rea in the Pomona church. Six members of the eight-member Baliant family are now Seventh-day Adventists.

Sometimes We Find Them

Every day at the White Memorial Hospital we're looking for somebody. And it isn't the easiest thing to find them always, since we don't know whom we're looking for until we've found them.

Take for instance the other Sabbath morning when I hurried through the hospital rooms to remind the patients of the church services to be broadcast in a few

There she sat in bed-the woman I'd been looking for-reading Love Unlimited.

"Do you have a copy of this I could buy?" she asked me.

I got her the book and gave it to her since she was leaving soon and it was the Sabbath.

A few weeks later she stopped me in the clinic. After greeting me she said, "Do you have any Bible classes I might attend?" What she really meant was a Sabbath School. I assured her that we have and would call her at home to let her know where the nearest one was.

Then I signed her up for a year's sub-scription to the Signs. Her eagerness was so great that I mentioned Vacation Bible School for her boys.

Still wanting more, she said, "What else?" I told her about Elder Vandeman's meetings the following night. "I'll be there," she replied. We talked on. Then I suggested that she might enjoy the course "Take His Word." "That's just what I want," came her response.

As we visited, she told me that all her life she had hunted a church to join. She had visited many churches but none of them satisfied her. She had come to the White Memorial Hospital for 24 hours and read Love Unlimited. As she read it, she felt impressed that any church that could produce a book like that was the church she wished to attend.

Yes, here was one more person for whom we were looking. It's always inspiring to discover who they are.

Baptism in Huntington Park

Mrs. Bessie Bennett and her daughter, Mrs. Millie Bailey, are the first fruits of the current campaign being conducted in the Huntington Park church by Elders C. L. Duffield and Gery P. Friesen in the follow-up of the It Is Written meetings.

Mrs. Bennett was ordained to the ministry in the Pilgrim Holiness Church in 1929 at Sanford, Indiana. For the next 28 years she did evangelistic work throughout the union, but was most active in the East. She spent a number of years in Florida raising up several churches there. After holding the position of missionary president and several other heavy responsibilities, she retired from active duty be-cause of her health in 1954, but preached often in the Pilgrim Holiness church on Walnut Street in Long Beach.

Mrs. Bennett and her daughter, Mrs. Bailey, were the first to respond to the call to join the church, the first time the invitation was given. They are both thrilled with the privilege of understanding God's will for them in these last days. They were among the first six to be taken into fellowship on Saturday night, June 1. Two more baptisms are planned in which a total of 15 will be welcomed into the church.

GERY P. FRIESEN.

"A Kind, Courteous Christian . . ."

The wind blows freely as to best techniques, best books, best supplementary materials, best physical facilities, best audio-visual materials, etc., to make education click.

When the storm passes and honest eval-uation reigns, the fact that irrespective of any one technique much in learning response depends upon the teacher and the magic quality of empathy he creates with his students. The friendlier and warmer the communication climate, the more learning seems to take place.

Realizing the implication of such an hypothesis and taking at face value the simple yet forceful statement of Ellen G. White in Gospel Workers, page 122, that "A kind, courteous Christian is the most powerful argument that can be produced in favor of Christianity," the school faculty of Santa Monica Junior Academy under the direction of its principal, Mr. Wallace Minder, developed a Christian Courtesy Program this past school year.

At a recent Home and School program it was the privilege of the writer to be present to view the distribution of the Christian Courtesy awards. It was interesting to note that not only by judge evaluation, but also by popular acclaim of the student body that Christian courtesy has its positive effect and can be a positive influence without respect to age or grade level, and that its potency is not dependent upon intellectual capacity, but on personal integrity and Christian devotion.

Such a program is one of the bonuses of Christian Education that all Seventhday Adventist schools, churches, and homes could give more concerted heed! Congratulations to Santa Monica Junior Academy for again reminding us of the practicality of what it means to be educated in a spiritual flavor.

HAWAIIAN MISSION

New Mission Treasurer

We live in a world of kaleidoscopic changes-this we well know. Hawaii is no exception. The work of God is steadily going on, for which we are most grateful. Workers, however, come and go. They come, lend their energy and strength to the work, and all too soon many are called to other fields, or to wider areas of service. Hawaii is grateful for the outstanding workers who have served in years gone by.

At the time of the recent constituency meetings, Brother Orville Butler, who had served wisely and well as secretary-treasurer of the Hawaiian Mission for five years, accepted a call to serve in the Arizona Conference. Hawaii misses Brother and Sister Butler very much.

To fill the post of secretary-treasurer for the Hawaiian Mission, the Pacific Union Conference Committee has appointed Brother Mun On Chang. Brother Chang has worked in the Hawaiian Mission office as accountant for 11 years, and knows the work well.

Brother Chang is an island man, having been born in Hilo, Hawaii. He completed his secondary schooling at the Hilo High School and was graduated from La Sierra College in 1949 with a B.A. in Business Administration. His wife, Rosalind, is a graduate nurse, having received her training at Paradise Valley Sanitarium and Hospital. Brother and Sister Chang have two sons, Ivan and Eric, and live in Honolulu.

It is a privilege and a pleasure to welcome Brother Chang to the heavy responsibilities his new position will bring. He can be assured, however, that as he accepts these wider and more important duties of secretary-treasurer, he has the prayers and support of his fellow workers in the office and the field, along with the support of the laymen in Hawaii.

Central Dorcas Society

For many months now things have been humming in the Dorcas room of the Central church in Honolulu. New paint and wallpaper have been applied to the walls, tables retopped and painted, cupboards varnished and relined, new sewing machines purchased, and a general program of remodeling have made the Dorcas room both beautiful and utilitarian. Sister Fraxedes Cardenas and her staff are to be commended for the splendid job they have Sabbath, June 1, an open house was held at which all the members of the Central church were invited to tour this "new" Dorcas Welfare room.

The ladies of the Dorcas Society seem inspired in the work they are doing. The welfare report of the recent quarter indicates 298 articles of clothing given away, $178 donated to welfare, 49 food baskets given away, 385 hours of health and welfare services, 388 persons helped. In cash these services would have an estimated value of $1,256.75.

Surely the Lord blesses the faithful labors of our modern Dorcas ladies even as He blessed the first Dorcas of so many years ago.

> PHILIP KNOCHE, Pastor, Central Church.

"Five Days to Freedom"

Elder Philip Knoche, the pastor of Honolulu Central church, in responding to inquiries recently by a newspaper reporter as to the possibilities of conducting a Five-Day No Smoking clinic in this area, has become actively engaged in a strong temperance program. After the initial interest became apparent, Pastor Knoche called together a committee of the local pastors and the mission temperance secretary to study and plan for carrying on this Stop Smoking Clinic in this large city. The plan was presented to the Mission Committee and approval was given for funds to carry on the program that was outlined.

The Mabel Smythe Auditorium was secured for the first Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking beginning on May 26 and continuing through Thursday night, May 30. The Mabel Smythe Auditorium is well known in this area for medical meetings and other types of meetings held there. This certainly helped in the excellent reception of our meetings.

Elder Knoche led in the program with Dr. Gardiner and Dr. Geoffrey, both of Castle Memorial Hospital, assisting him in the presentations. He was also assisted by Clarence Kohler, the pastor of the Kaimuki church; Robert Nomi, the pastor of the Japanese church; and Lavern Peterson, the mission temperance secretary.

Two lady reporters from two large newspapers in the city were present for the entire series, and excellent reports of the meetings appeared in both the morning and evening papers during the five-day session. A member from the State House of Representatives also attended the series and expressed his appreciation for the real public service that was being offered by the Seventh-day Adventists. Forty-three people completed the Five-Day Plan and threefourths of them were successful in casting aside the habit.

Both the State Health Department and the American Cancer Society were quite interested in the program that was presented. Also, as a result of the publicity that was given, Pastor Knoche was contacted by KTRG, Channel 13, in Honolulu and asked to present the entire series on television. Prior to this, Radio Station KNDI had given two 15-minute broadcasts free to advertise the meetings in the Mabel Smythe Auditorium. Elders Knoche and Peterson prepared the radio broadcasts for both these sessions. Final arrangements were completed with the television station and resulted in the "Five Days to Freedom" being presented every Wednesday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock for six weeks, starting

NEVADA -UTAH

I Was There!

It is always a privilege to be present and get into the spirit of a meeting. I was at the annual Bishop district meeting June 7 and 8. The excellent meetings, the warm hospitality and friendliness of the pastor and members, the worshipful atmosphere of the Bishop church building, and the restful, cushioned pews all contributed to an outstanding meeting.

Two churches, Bishop and Lone Pine, make up the entire district in this vast area. Not a large attendance could be expected but visitors from across the Sierra helped to fill the church nicely.

Elder H. K. Christman, the beloved veteran manager of the Circulation Department of the Signs of the Times, deeply stirred and warmed the hearts af all at the Friday night and Sabbath morning worship services. Present from the Pacific Union were Elder D. E. Dirksen, Elder Helmuth Retzer, and Dr. W. H. Shephard. Brother A. M. Running of the Pacific Press Book Department also attended as well as the Nevada-Utah Conference officers.

We could not help but think of the words of the song, "Where every prospect pleases, and only man is vile," as we reveled

June 5. To date, Dr. Walter Quisenberry, director of the Hawaii State Department of Health, and Dr. Robert Chung from Kailua have assisted with the telecast. Those who have not had the privilege of viewing this may still see the closing presentations of the program on Channel 13, Wednesdays at 8 p.m.

We feel that the results of these meetings have been well worth the effort and expense involved. To the present time at least 30 individuals have been helped to quit smoking; contacts with prominent individuals who have expressed their appreciation personally have been very rewarding; we have received more favorable publicity for the church and hospital and the entire program in the last few weeks than we would normally receive in a long time. Also, all of this has been free. We have received other requests for the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking and the pastors that are involved in this program are looking forward to conducting subsequent series in different areas of the city, including their own respective church districts. We certainly thank the Lord for His goodness to us in blessing the entire program.

Won't you add your prayers to ours that the contacts and impressions that have been and will be made will result in souls in the kingdom?

of each boy gave a biographical sketch of her son. Both boys spoke on "What Grade School Has Meant to Me" in regard to its relative importance to their future.

A solo, "The Holy City," was sung by Doris Mayfield as a feature of the program. The graduation address was given by Pastor Robert Dale. His topic was "The Seven Lamps of Wisdom.'

The class of '63 chose as its motto "To Lay Aside Every Weight" and its aim "To Persevere in Life's Race," paraphrasing Hebrews 12:1.

After a prayer of dedication, diplomas were presented to the young men grad-uates by the principal. The boys received congratulations at a reception given in their honor following the program.

Arizona News

Elders Robert M. Whitsett and Charles F. Cook have completed a short series of evangelistic meetings in Tucson. The interest was good all the way through, with the attendance increasing every evening. Nine people were baptized at the first baptism, and a number of individuals are looking forward to baptism at a later date. Elder Cook is continuing to follow up the interest that was started through this series. Your prayers are solicited for the continuation of this work in Tucson.

✓ Vacation Bible Schools are in full swing around the conference. These short series of child evangelism meetings generally don't end with a baptism, yet they do plant seeds of truth in the hearts of boys and girls that will bear fruit in years to come. It is still not too late to plan a Vacation Bible School for your church.

Highlighting the Sabbath service at the Phoenix Central church on June 8, 32 babies were dedicated to the Lord. Elder Glenn Fillman, pastor of the church, built his sermon around the thought that Christian parents, when dedicating their children to the Lord, have an even greater responsibility in training their children in the home. The dedication signifies the desire of the parents to have their children follow in the ways of the Lord. The outcome of this dedication rests with the parents as they maintain Christian standards and a Christian life in the home.

The parents, with their children, were called to the front of the church to participate in the dedication service. The impressiveness of the service, as these young couples with their babies crowded the front of the church, gave pause for consideration in the hearts of those remaining in their pews as to how well they had upheld the standard of truth in their homes.

being laid for a 30-pupil, two-teacher church school. Conditions have hardly been ideal, with grades one to six meeting in the Sabbath School rooms.

In spite of all hinderances and problems in getting started, a wonderful school year was completed. All facilities, including brand new desks, were very adequate, and the most important part was the spiritual atmosphere and influence on the children and resulting influence on the church as a whole. Plans are being formulated for a school building to be finished by fall.

The Lord has greatly blessed the handful of determined members who first started the Branch Sabbath School about eight years ago, until now a church of one hundred members meets every Sabbath in its new building.

Year Abroad

Culminating a highly successful year of study at the Seminaire Adventiste in Collonges-sous-Saleve, France, the La Sierra College Year Abroad group performed brilliantly on the Alliance Francaise examinations. Of the five who attempted the examinations, all passed. One of the Year Abroad group, Mr. Dennis Pardee, passed the second degree for the Diplome Superieur. Mr. Leslie Ferguson, Mr. Charles T. Smith, Mrs. John T. Hamilton, and Mr. Tom Hamilton passed the first degree examinations.

Seventeen students have been booked for passage to Europe for study during the academic year 1963-64. The second La Sierra College Year Abroad program will follow essentially the same scheme of study and travel as did the first; however, no students have been enrolled without at least one year of college French or the equivalent. Also, touring begins with two weeks spent in Central Europe prior to the opening of school. Bookings were completed on June 10. Anyone desiring to join the Year Abroad program at this time should write at once to the academic dean so as to claim priority in case of a cancellation or the availability of additional space at a later date.

The total expense for the entire program, from New York to France and return to New York, has been cut to $1,395, including the tours and school expenses. A deposit of $200 should accompany the application.

"A Time to Worship God . . . "

How better could we worship God than by singing and playing of His great love for us at the Fine Arts Camp, August 4 to 14, at beautiful Rio Lindo Academy?

The spiritual activities at the camp will be under the direction of Mr. Wayne Thurber, camp chaplain. His interest in and knowledge of music should help make this camp eleven days of spiritual refreshing as well as fun and instruction.

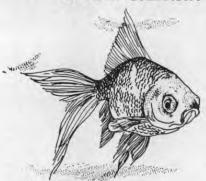

The art students will be reminded of a God of beauty as they draw and paint pictures of some of the beautiful scenery surrounding the academy. The blending of skilled instruments and finely trained voices will certainly be a "joyful noise unto to Lord."

Plan now to attend the Fine Arts Camp, August 4 to 14. Write to Fine Arts Camp, Box 146, Glendale 5, California.

Make of your life a happy song and help keep it nourished with recorded song treasures. The 1963 Chapel Records camp meeting releases will enhance the spirit of happiness in your life during those pleasurable listening moments you spend in your home, either in meditative solitude or in sharing with others.

The new King's Heralds Quartet accentuates a positive heaven-bound delight through their interpretations of the everloved Negro Spirituals, carefully chosen from the old and new—the fast and slow—the sad and joyful. Most of the songs in "That Great Gettin'-up Morning" (LP 5070, ST 070) are in brand-new arrangements heard for the first time on recent world-wide Voice of Prophecy broadcasts. "Choose Ye" (LP 5055, ST 055), an album that will help keep memorable camp meeting experiences alive during the tomorrows following, has been recorded by the newly-formed Faith for Today Quartet. The title song was composed by Arthur R. Haynor, Michigan's 1962 Layman of the Year. The harmonious rendition of Mr. Haynor's composition and eleven other well-chosen selections will add more happy notes to the song of your life.

To sing along! This adds to a happy experience. "Children's Sacred Sing-a-Long" (LP 7003), by the Roy Naden Singers of Australia, was designed with a special appeal to children. The 24 lively tunes on this 12-inch, longplay record will kindle the heart of any listener, young or old, with the inspiration to "Sing Along Life's Pathway."

The quartet records are available in both the monophonic and stereophonic. The recording for children comes only in monophonic. All three albums are handled through your local Book and Bible House. Inquire about tapes also.
