Reservist Problems

Seventh-day Adventists in the reserves get along very well when they have a knowledge of the regulations written for the protection of those with religious convictions. A full and frank discussion with their chaplain and commanding officer concerning their personal beliefs as they might apply to their military duties is very helpful.

One situation that frequently arises is that since his last period of active duty the Seventh-day Adventist has changed his conscientious belief on the bearing of arms. One who has become a noncombatant in belief may request an assignment as such in any of the United States military forces. The regulations for all the military forces are printed in the National Service Organization leaflet NSO 1-c, which may be obtained from the Missionary Volunteer secretary at any conference office. Reservists who have experienced such a change of belief would do well to get this leaflet immediately and submit a written request to their reserve unit for noncombatant assignment at the time of their next active duty. If further information on this situation is needed, the conference MV secretary can get the answers.

Another situation would be when a reservist has begun to keep the seventh-day Sabbath since his last active duty. The regulations governing Sabbath observance in all United States military forces are printed in leaflet NSO-7, which may be obtained from the same source as NSO 1-c. If it is the reservist's intention to observe the Sabbath, when he is recalled to active duty he should make this fact known to his reserve unit. Information on how to proceed in this situation can also be secured from the conference Missionary Volunteer secretary.

A situation that is coming into prominence for Seventh-day Adventists is a change of the scheduling of reserve training to one weekend a month rather than one night a month. Present plans in the Army call for almost all units to be so scheduled in the near future. The belief of the reservist in observing the Sabbath from sundown Friday to sundown Saturday should be discussed with the chaplain and the commanding officer, and a request entered for relief of duty contrary to the reservist's conscientious belief.

If the training time remaining is not sufficient to remain in the unit, then the reservist should request assignment to a unit that would meet at a different time; or, if that cannot be done, request assignment to a control group because of conflicts at time of scheduled training. Those wishing further information on this should contact the conference MV secretary.

Questions on other situations of reservists and problems in the military service brought about by their conscientious beliefs can be referred to the conference Missionary Volunteer secretary.

More Signs Means More Souls

Allow me to share with you three short, gripping sentences which speak volumes: "The Signs is terrific and full of deep spiritual insight. Please accept our compliments on a terrific magazine. As a result of reading it and taking the Bible course, I am soon to be baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church."

The old saying is still true today: "More Signs means more souls."

You can still send Signs to your relatives through your local Book and Bible House.

Youth Need "Listen"

One day when Christ was on earth His reputation was being discussed. Someone in the crowd inquired, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?"

Because of its reputation some today ask this same question about Las Vegas, Nevada. A thrilling and heart warming story, however, is developing in this busy entertainment city that reveals the concern of businessmen and the influence of our temperance journal, Listen.

Three years ago a special projects committee of the Kiwanis Club became concerned about the problem of juvenile delinquency and narcotics addiction in Las Vegas.

Wanting to inform young people with the scientific facts necessary to make a wise choice regarding narcotics, the club membership accepted a plan proposed by its special projects committee and recommended by Judge David Zenoff, justice of the Nevada State Supreme Court, club president.

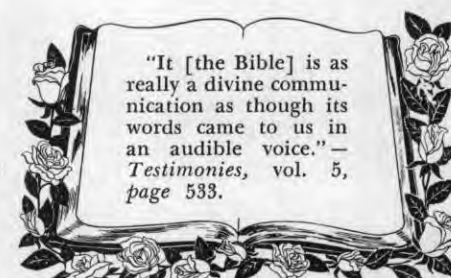

The formal launching of the project saw high school principals in the area attending, plus radio, television, newspaper, and news wire service representatives. On hand were two officials from Listen magazine. Now this youth education project has reached out to junior and senior high schools in Las Vegas, North Las Vegas, Henderson, Boulder City, Woverton, and Bunkerville, Nevada.

The six point, Kiwanis sponsored narcotics education program has included: (1) Listen magazine sent to high school classrooms; (2) teaching guides used by teachers in presenting scientific facts and key points in Listen magazine articles; (3) educational films; (4) instructional lectures on guidance; (5) special materials relating to narcotics, alcohol, and cigarette problems; and (6) panel discussions on narcotics, alcohol, and tobacco problems conducted before school assemblies.

J. T. LaVoie, Las Vegas police sergeant in charge of the Las Vegas juvenile division, states that he feels the Kiwanis project has been a significant help in educating youth in the area about narcotics problems.

Walter Long, principal of the Las Vegas High School, has stated: "A survey of our health teachers gives a unanimous vote in favor of the Listen magazine. The health teachers all feel that the magazine has no peer in its field."

Dr. David Sands, assistant superintendent of education for Las Vegas, asserts: "With its appealing format, Listen magazine is ideal for high school youth. So many times materials for this age level

"It [the Bible] is as really a divine communication as though its words came to us in an audible voice." — Testimonies, vol. 5, page 533.

New Press in Operation at the Mountain View Plant

The Pacific Press Publishing Association has taken another giant step toward expanded production.

A new $325,000 Miehle four color offset press went into full production in October at the publishing house headquarters, Mountain View, California.

The new press is expected to double the speed of production, turning out up to 6,500 sheets an hour. It will take over printing most full color books having a production run of more than 10,000 copies such as the ten volume Bible Story series and Your Bible and You, Golden Treasury of Bible Stories, and The Desire of Ages.

Two offset presses doing two color jobs will continue printing less widely circulated books, periodicals, and religious and health pamphlets. The two color presses have been in operation since the publishing house began changing from letterpress to offset printing about 1955.

The advantage of a four color press over the two color process is that it eliminates running colored pages twice through the press in order to produce four color books. With the new press, four color production is possible in just one press run. Red, blue, yellow, and black are the colors combined on the press to turn out full color work.

The Pacific Press, the West Coast publisher of Seventh-day Adventist literature, was organized in 1875 at the urging of Ellen G. White.

are dry or not appealing to youth. Not so with Listen magazine."

W. J. Bietz, principal of Western High School, Las Vegas, has said: "The Western High School appreciates the Listen magazine project. Our health classes utilize the magazine in many of their daily programs."

Students, too, have been enthusiastic. Roger Wilson, a student at Basic High School, says: "Listen magazine is one of the most interesting I have ever read. It presents scientific facts in an appealing way. I now have the information I need to make right choices in life."

G. Vern Albright, chairman of the Las Vegas youth projects committee in 1964-1965, asserts that he feels the youth slant of Listen magazine makes it one of the very finest in its field. "There is no other publication quite like it," says Mr. Albright, a Las Vegas lawyer.

In your community are high school youth who need the same help young people in Las Vegas are receiving. If folk who are not Seventh-day Adventists have this interest in young people of their community, how much more ought we to see that young people receive this publication.

You can help by contacting local service club officials about the possibility of their sponsoring such a project in their city, or arranging for your church or MV society

Arizona Pathfinder Fair at Thunderbird Draws Large Crowd

What a day! Thirteen clubs and scores of people found this year's Pathfinder Fair to be an excellent display of cooperation, participation, and sportsmanship. Thunderbird Academy campus was the site for the activities. Elder Miller Brockett, Pacific Union MV secretary, was our guest and chairman of the judges.

Airplane rides for those who had never flown. . . . Sky-divers who jumped every hour throughout the day. . . . Model airplane flying exhibition. . . . Food. . . . Fun. . . . Contests. . . . Entertainment. . . . All held everyone's interest for the day.

The club displays were excellent and the participation of each club was outstanding. You, as directors, have something going that you can be proud of.

Tucson Spanish and Huachuca City were listed as "honorable mention" clubs due to their recent organization. East Mesa, which is also a new club, came in with a third place cup. Verde Valley, Phoenix Central, Glendale, and Beacon Light were second place winners. We had five "Sweepstakes Clubs" which were well over the top: Camelback, Tucson Mountain Avenue, Thunderbird, Tempe, and Mountain View.

The Arizona Conference Missionary Volunteer department wishes to extend a million "bouquets" to all who helped in this conference wide event.

Purchase of Manoa Property for Japanese Central Church

"Adventists Purchase Old Jackson College" was the title in bold print of the newspaper article which appeared in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin dated October 14, 1965. At a public auction held at the front of the Judiciary Building in Honolulu the day before, the Japanese church group was the successful bidder for the choice Manoa Valley site.

Observers speculated that this property would be sold to real estate agents who sought it for a subdivision and were surprised to see the church acquire it for $129,000. This foreclosure sale ended the 16 year history of the defunct Jackson College, operated by a group of Baptist ministers.

Members of the Japanese church are overjoyed with this property and feel the Lord has led in a very definite way. For over 15 years the members have engaged in a fund raising campaign to build a sanctuary in which to worship. They are presently meeting in the auditorium of the Hawaiian Mission Elementary School on Makiki Street.

Several years ago property was acquired on School Street in the Kalihi area on which to build a church. Members began several times to carry this project through, but somehow or other things never materialized.

Jackson College was the former residence of the well known Montague Cooke family and is located at 2655 Manoa Road, Honolulu. The building lends itself very nicely to a sanctuary at the right with Sabbath school classrooms surrounding a glass covered court area. With some renovating, the present site can readily be used to serve the purpose for which it was acquired.

Seventy-fifth Anniversary Celebration in Santa Barbara

The Santa Barbara church will celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of its founding in that city on November 12 and 13.

The program commemorating three quarters of a century of Adventist activity will start at 7:30 on Friday evening by honoring those persons who grew up in this city and then continued on, devoting their lives to denominational work in the fields of teaching, missions, medicine, and ministerial labors around the world.

The worship service on the Sabbath will start at 9:30 a.m. with the regular Sabbath school, and continue with a talk by Elder H. M. S. Richards and sacred music by Del Delker and Brad Braley.

There will be a fellowship lunch following the worship service in Manning Park, Montecito, at 1:30 p.m. to which all visitors and guests are invited.

Returning to the church at 4:30 p.m., the audience will hear a concert of fine music furnished for the occasion by the music department of the University of California at Santa Barbara and by other musical groups and individuals enlisted for this event from the musicians of the city. Elder Cree Sandefur, president of the Southern California Conference, and Pastor Erling Calkins will speak at this meeting.

Following the concert refreshments will be served at 6 p.m. in the lovely patio included in the sanctuary complex.

At 7 p.m. an historical program will be given in the main auditorium by members of the congregation, dressed in the style of those early years and lending the oldtime flavor to the program through re-enactment of episodes drawn from the old church records. All the former ministers of this church will be honored during this event and have been invited to attend in person or send tape recordings from their posts wherever they may be.

Former members of this congregation and their friends are cordially invited to attend these meetings and participate in our recognition of the past. The church is located at 425 Arroyo Road, off Hollister at Aubay, in Santa Barbara.

Lost and Found

Articles lost at Pine Springs Ranch Summer camps may be claimed at the conference office week days from 8 to 5 o'clock or Friday from 8 to 2. Articles will be disposed of if not claimed by November 15.

William Hatch at the Orange County youth convocation at Black Mountain inspired the teenagers with his words on sharing their faith.

Sabbath afternoon found most everyone terrified at the sight of the rattlesnakes that were used for the nature talk by Earl Allen. Later that afternoon they caught a non-captive rattlesnake in the camping area.

After the evening meeting all enjoyed a lively campfire and songfest.

Elders C. F. Phillips, W. C. Hatch, and W. E. Dopp were the speakers for the Sunday meetings.

The weekend was climaxed by a lively rodeo at Pine Springs Ranch.

Students gave thanks to the person who made this wonderful weekend possible.

Oldest Continuously Operated Church School in the West

The original building of the San Pasqual church school, right, was built in 1899 and used until 1945. The second building, not shown, was used for the next five years. The third building used for the church school since 1950 is located on the left. On November 7 the latest addition, center, will be dedicated during home-coming ceremonies.

The San Pasqual Church School in the San Pasqual Valley, which stretches about five miles between Escondido and Ramona, California, is the oldest continuously operated church school west of the Mississippi. We are very proud of our heritage and thank God for His blessings upon this school and for the teachers and alumni who have dedicated their services and are giving their lives for the great cause and principles for which this school was founded.

William Potts, who lived in the valley, had gone to Santa Ana to harvest walnuts. While in that area he discovered that the group of Seventh-day Adventists there were operating a small church school. He thought this was a splendid idea and planned to present it to his group at home.

When the home folk were told of the plan, they did not receive it so eagerly. It seemed utterly impossible to finance such a big undertaking. However, Brother Potts was determined, realizing that this was according to God's will, and stated that if he received no cooperation or interest from this group at home he would move his family to Santa Ana where his children could attend church school. After discussing the problem, he and Lawrence Johnson, a carpenter, decided to accept the challenge and to build a schoolhouse themselves.

In the two year interim, from about 1896 to 1898, before the building could be completed, Henry Johnson, who was a brother of Lawrence, conducted school in his own home with Mrs. Alma McKibbin as pioneer teacher. In this small way Christian education made its appearance in San Pasqual Valley and this school was destined to become the only one to operate continuously to the present.

The following year, 1899, faith and works were put into action when Lawrence Johnson and William Potts finished the building. When school was opened that year, Miss Eliza Elwell was the teacher with seven pupils of whom four are still living.

We are proud to have as a member of the San Pasqual Academy church Miss Jessie Johnson, who was a pupil in this first school when it was taught in the home of her father, Henry Johnson. For two years there were three pupils, Jessie, her twin brother Roy, and Ina Marchus.

Through the years four different buildings have been erected. The latest one was built this last summer. All four buildings are still on the property, the last one to be dedicated on November 7. We are extending a cordial invitation to all former teachers, students, and their friends to attend this home-coming event. The program will begin at 10 a.m.

Bring a picnic lunch if you wish, or if you would rather eat at the cafeteria, please notify us no later than November 1. We will be unable to furnish your meal without an advance reservation and $1.25 cash for each person. Eat a good breakfast, for the cafeteria will not be available for these special guests until 1:30 p.m.

If you wish to purchase your dinner at the cafeteria, please cut this portion out and mail not later than November 1.

Calexico Student Furthers Education in Montemorelos

Enrique Loera, a 21 year old student and member of another faith in Mexico, was invited by the writer to enter the upcoming local temperance oratorical contest at the Calexico Mission School.

Enrique Loera

His answer was "No," as he had no experience in public speaking. Furthermore, he was not interested in the temperance program.

Ten days before the program he presented a well prepared paper about drinking. He was all ready for the contest. The day of the contest arrived and Enrique won second place.

After the school year he noticed he had a persistent cough. The doctor said he had tuberculosis. So Enrique went to a sanatorium near his home town in Mexico and in a few months had recuperated.

While at the mission school he had learned about the Bible and Adventist doctrines. He decided to join the church "because God had healed me and was with me during my sickness."

Enrique had compared other evangelical churches in Mexico but none, he said,

Thirty-seven laymen of the East Oakland church attended the ten hour training course from October 6 to 9. Pastor Amundson with the Missionary Council is planning a strong soul winning program.

Plans have been laid to gather interests for the file during November and December, survey the interests in January, and conduct the "Five Week Every Member Bible Study Plan" during February and March of 1966.

Now is the time for every church missionary council to study plans for the Bible Evangelism Crusade beginning February 5, 1966. Throughout all the year we should work for Christ, but this is a special program to involve every member in a person-to-person, face-to-face soul winning experience.

"The work of God in this earth can never be finished until the men and women comprising our church membership rally to the work, and unite their efforts with those of ministers and church officers."—Gospel Workers, pages 351, 352.

Our members are loyal. Many of our laymen give Bible studies regularly, but the Bible Evangelism Crusade is a time to involve every member. This experience is needed for the sake of blessing others and saving our own souls.

"Hundreds of men and women now idle could do acceptable service. By carrying the truth into the homes of their friends and neighbors, they could do a great work for the Master."—Christian Service, page 67.

Child Evangelism in Pleasant Hill

One thing that impresses Mrs. Helen Peters about her home on 148 Sylvia Drive in Pleasant Hill is the number of children who play up and down the streets and live in the neighborhood. "What can I do for these boys and girls?" she thought, "to introduce them to the Saviour that I know."

It was these thoughts that planted in the mind the seeds that now have grown into a Neighborhood Bible Class that meets once a week in Sister Peters' home. In the accompanying picture you will see the smiling faces of the boys and girls in the neighborhood who are getting their introduction to the beautiful story of Jesus which Mrs. Peters knows so well.

Boys and girls who attend the Neighborhood Bible Club conducted by Mrs. Helen Peters.

How thankful we are for Sabbath school evangelism all around the circle of Northern California.

Hayward Church Has Lay Leadership Training Class

Laymen of the Hayward church, under the direction of Pastor W. R. Foulston and Bible Instructor Stella Petersen, have just completed the ten hour Lay Leadership Course. Classes were taught by Einar Haugen, W. L. Hesselstine, J. B. Church, and Pastor Foulston.

Plans are now in the making to involve every member of the Hayward church during the Bible Evangelism Crusade in February and March of 1966. Elder Foulston stated, "The spirit of enthusiasm must continue until the entire church is involved in service for Christ."

There is a wonderful spirit throughout the entire conference. Every church is working and organizing for an all out "Every Member Bible Evangelism Program" during February and March of 1966. We must gather interest through visitation. Work and pray now for greater things in the future.

Sabbath School Visitors Day Blessings at Paradise

The doors of the Seventh-day Adventist church in Paradise swung wide in welcome on Sabbath School Visitors Day, October 9. In response to 300 specially printed folders, 71 visitors registered for Sabbath school. When we consider the visitors to the children's divisions we are confident in reporting that 71 from the community who were not Seventh-day Adventists came to share the blessings of Sabbath school on October 9.

Sabbath School Visitors Day was observed all over the Northern California Conference this year. We were all made happy with this branch of Sabbath school evangelism.

Junior and Senior Pathfinder Camporees Held Last Month

The weekends of October 8 to 10 and 15 to 17 saw the Junior and Senior Pathfinder Clubs of the Northern California Conference in camporees at Bidwell Park in Chico and at the Diamond National Lumber Company Campground near Sterling, respectively.

For the past year and a half our conference has been experimenting with junior and senior clubs with age divisions of 10 to 12 in the junior clubs and 13 to 15 in the senior clubs. Under this division the club programs are adjusted to the interests of the age group with resulting growth of 100 percent for combined club membership following division.

The Bidwell Park and Diamond National Camporees brought a total of 1,116 Pathfinders and leaders together for thrilling weekends of spiritual and recreational activities. Guest speaker for the Junior Camporee was Elder Harry Garlick of the Pacific Union Conference MV Department.

We feel the camporees have added much to the spiritual growth of our Pathfinders.

J. H. HARRIS.

Tent pitching and striking was one of the exciting Sunday morning field events for the Junior Club Camporee.

Singled out and honored among the Senior Club Camporee Pathfinders were Byron and Janis Roth of the Walmar Club, sponsored by the Martinez and Pleasant Hill churches, who were saluted for being the Pathfinders with the largest number of MV honors.

News From Armona Academy

NEW STAFF. Mr. Robert Gladden and Miss Betty Van Arsdale are new staff members at Armona Union Academy this fall. The constituency and staff members wish to welcome them to the community.

Robert Gladden, our seventh and eighth grade home room teacher, is also teaching Bible Doctrines and physical education in the academy. Mr. Gladden graduated from Pacific Union College in June of 1965 with a B.A. degree in religion. His minors are in Bible and physical education.

Miss Betty Van Arsdale comes to us from Laurelwood Academy where she was dean of girls. She is teaching home economics and English. Miss Van Arsdale received her B.S. degree in English, with minors in home economics and history, from Emmanuel Missionary College in 1960. She comes to us with twelve years of experience in teaching.

Another new teacher at Armona Union Academy this year is Betty Van Arsdale, who teaches home economics and English.

We feel fortunate to have these two dedicated people added to our staff. It is teachers like these who help make Armona Union Academy the "Miracle School."

NEW INTER-COMMUNICATION SYSTEM. Thanks to the Home and School and the La Hi Club for the new inter-communication system that has been installed at Armona Union Academy. There are several who helped make this improvement possible. Special thanks go to Mrs. Elaine Murphey who worked hard on this project.

We would also like to extend thanks to Dr. Cliff Vance who, with the help of Mr. Warren Minder, Mr. Dick Hayden and Mr. Clifford Clendenen, installed the system for us.

HOME AND SCHOOL. The Home and School Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Eva Bridwell, has been very active this year. Money has already been raised for new drapes for the windows of our auditorium-chapel. These will add a great deal of beauty to the new look our chapel has acquired. The new walnut paneling across the front and stage makes the chapel a wonderful place to worship.

We are all looking forward to the Home and School Auction on Saturday night, November 13. This is a big night at Armona Union Academy and all our friends are welcome to visit us.

Kailua Musical and Social Events Enjoyed

With the waves lapping and cool tropical breezes blowing and a full moon in all its glory, what more beautiful and inspiring evening for a "Singspiration?" Kailua Seventh-day Adventist church members enjoyed an evening of singspiration at Kailua Beach with a good attendance. Under the auspices of the Missionary Volunteer Society, this has been an enlightening phase of our society activities.

Mr. Keith Rhodes and Mr. James Wilmot are doing a marvelous job in leading

Assistance Given Across the Border by La Mesa Members

On a recent Sabbath morning three car loads of La Mesa church members and a truck filled with clothing and small household articles journeyed to Ensenada, Mexico, to attend services at that church and later to unload the truck at their Dorcas warehouse.

Felix Cortez, the young pastor who cares for both the Ensenada and the Tecate churches, delivered an enthusiastic plea to parents to enroll their children in our own schools. Elder Cortez is soon to assist in an evangelistic effort on the Island of Cedros, a three days' voyage by boat from Ensenada. Two La Mesa ladies of Spanish origin, Mercedes Sarra and Marcelina Nunez, acted as interpreters for later conversations with the pastor and church members.

An unexpected surprise was the presence at the church services of W. E. Murray, a vice president of the General Conference, who was vacationing with his family. Elder Murray had been a missionary to Mexico in 1946.

Helping hands from the La Mesa group will reach across the border whenever possible to give the Ensenada congregation the assistance they need. Other readers are invited to do likewise.

in the singing and ukulele playing at these singspirations.

Recently the Aiea Seventh-day Adventist church MV Society was invited to join with Kailua's MV Society. An interesting program under the leadership of Mr. Hugh Winn, choir director at Aiea church, was presented. Showing of nature slides taken by Mr. Shigeru Kobashigawa was done with background organ and piano music provided by Miss Geraldine Hall. Mr. Winn narrated with the choir blending voices and solos rendered by Mrs. Ruth Imthurn and Jerry Dill. Each one was inspired by the beauty and grandeur of God's handiwork as shown in the slides. A potluck supper ensued and an evening of relaxation with volleyball, basketball, and tennis at the Kailua Playground.

A surprise for the evening was the presence of Elder and Mrs. Marvin Seibel and family. Elder Seibel is the new Hawaiian Mission MV and education secretary.

MRS. CLARA CHUNG,
MV Leader,
Kailua Church.

Music Faculty in Recent Recital

The La Sierra College department of music presented its faculty in recital Saturday night, October 23, in Hole Memorial Auditorium at eight o'clock to an appreciative audience. High lights of the program included the duo-piano work of Doctors Beach and Craw, and Joann Robbins in "Bachianas Brasileiras, No. 5" assisted by a cello ensemble with Prof. Alfred Walters conducting. The department is indebted to the kindness of the department of music of the University of Southern California for sending six cellists to join with La Sierra College cellists, Jeanna Hartzell and Phyllis Walters.

Other participating members of the music faculty were Mr. Eugene Nash, trombone, accompanied by Mrs. Nash at the piano, and Mr. Moses Chalmers, baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Chalmers at the piano. Professor Walters also appeared later in the program as violin soloist, accompanied by Doctor Craw at the piano.

Nevada-Utah Welcomes the L. E. Davidson Family

It is our pleasure to extend a warm welcome to Elder Lawrence Davidson, his wife Bernice, and their three children, Russell, Cynthia, and Sylvia, to the Nevada-Utah Conference.

Elder Davidson has already assumed the leadership of the Salt Lake City church and is laying definite plans for future evangelism within the city.

Following graduation in 1945 from Pacific Union College, Elder Davidson began his work in the Arizona Conference. In 1953 he accepted a call to the Hawaiian Mission as pastor-evangelist and in 1955 was asked to be the home missionary and Sabbath school secretary of that field. After serving nearly two terms in the Hawaiian Mission, he returned to the mainland in 1961. For the past three and a half years he has labored in the Central California Conference as director of laymen's activities.

We are indeed happy to have these dedicated workers join the Nevada-Utah working force.

HELMUTH C. RETZER, President.

Nevada-Utah

2000 — 6-66

"No Problems—Only Challenges"

"We have no problems—only challenges," the words of President H. C. Retzer at the opening service of the annual Ministerial Council of the Nevada-Utah Conference truly depicted the spirit of the working force of the field. A deep feeling of devotion and urgency pervaded throughout the entire meeting held in the Reno church October 11 to 13.

During four services Elder Eric C. Ward, evangelist of the Southeastern California Conference, outlined his plan of blueprint evangelism, Operation Friendship. The pastors voted to accept this plan and use it throughout the conference in months to come. At a conference committee meeting at the close of the council official action was taken to strive to cover the entire field with Operation Friendship.

Our hearts were stirred by the practical messages by Elders R. R. Bietz and G. N. Banks of the Pacific Union Conference and of Elder W. T. Hyde of the Bible department of Pacific Union College on the preparation for receiving of the Holy Spirit and the outpouring of the latter rain.

Four panel discussions on the conducting of worship services and pastoral activities were held, all under the direction of the ministers of the conference. The entire council dealt with the grass root needs, aims, and challenges of the pastor and the laymen in view of the evangelistic urgency of probation's closing hours.

Reports indicated that great progress is being made in all departments of this conference. No one could feel other than that days of great advance are ahead for this field as a united, consecrated ministry force ahead.

E. F. FINCK, PR Secretary.
