Review and Herald Is Heartbeat of the Church

"The good old Review," as W. A. Spicer of sainted memory used to call it, is the continuing heart rhythm of the remnant church. Thank God we do not have nor do we need two.

For one thing, it reminds us all that we are very much together in Jesus, and also together on His errands of message and mercy.

For another, it is a printed "in depth" expression of Adventism at work for God around the world, giving that unmistakable certain sound, the equivalent of "The Remnant Call."

Very likely there will be no Review in heaven, although it may very well have its kingdom counterpart, or successor.

If you know a "remnanter" who for some reason or excuse is "getting along" without the Review, will you covenant with God to set about to see to it that he gets a free subscription which will prove to him that he really can't? This could be your finest hour.

Efficient Journalism

Why? Because:

The Review has it. Here is the finest in scholarship. It is good looking, easy to read, well worth reading. And you will have difficulty trying to recall the last time you saw a misspelled word.

The Review says it. Not because it is the voice of the "leading brethren," who are men like the rest of us, but because it squares, and consistently, with the heart-line of the message to which we all subscribe.

The Review does it. It gets around over the face of this orb, and keeps us in touch with the rest of the family near and far.

The Review will do it. And you and those for whom you subscribe will be the beneficiaries, as it has kept on doing it with such a flare for so long.

Is Family

The Review is not infallible, of course, nor does it claim to be. But it is family—your family—and you need it, not to keep in step, though that is wonderfully important and also rewarding in too many ways to list here, most of which you can sense without the listing, but just because you have elected to go with this movement, and for God.

Good Investment

As we go a-marching through Immanuel's land to fairer worlds on high we must press ever together in worship and fellowship. So, give the Review a try, will you? Free, if you must (your church has ways and means to meet this need), or on a contributing basis if you will and can.

You will get every dime of it back, and more, in that soft warm glow of satisfaction which come from the assurance that you are all the way in, and that this includes your church family paper, for better every time, and never for worse.

Not as a substitute for God, or the Bible, or the church, or the pastor, but always an indispensable assistant for your membership awareness and involvement, and also that good feeling that comes unbidden every time you say, "This is my church, and I am glad."

Let us salute the "Good Old Review," my Review and yours.

DONALD F. HAYNES,
Minister of Evangelism,
Glendale Church.

Trans-Africa Looks to You on This Thirteenth Sabbath

On the Thirteenth Sabbath, September 24, Trans-Africa looks to all of us to provide funds for the building up of its college at Solusi. You have heard about this great division from various ones, and undoubtedly must be impressed with the opportunities and challenges in this great continent.

The report which Elder Robert Pierson brought at the General Conference session was an inspiration, and could only leave one with the impression that every dollar that has been spent by our general mission board in Africa has brought forth much fruit for the kingdom of God.

Let us help continue the good work that has been started. There are thousands of youth who wish to be trained for mission service. They are praying for this college. I hope you will help to answer the prayers of these dear people, and not leave them disappointed. Let us help them with a generous overflow offering.

Won't you do all you can to help them? Thank you.

ALVIN G. MUNSON, Treasurer,
Pacific Union Conference.

Union Medical Cadet Corps Training Camp Held at Soquel

About 120 young men from throughout the Pacific Union Conference gave up their "civilian life" for eight days from August 24 through 31, at a Medical Cadet Corps camp held at the Central California Conference camp meeting grounds at Soquel.

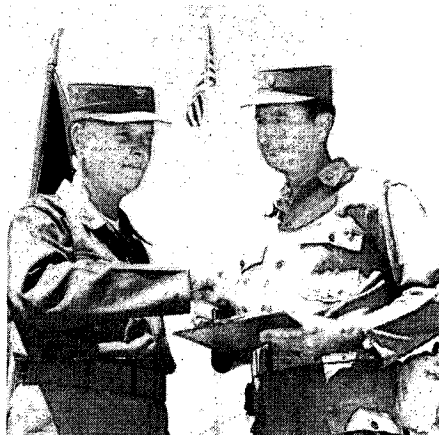

From 6 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. the young cadets, dressed in regulation Army fatigue uniforms, followed a rigorous military-into the military service if they are drafted. A down-to-earth discussion of problems the Seventh-day Adventist can be expected to face in military service took up a number of the character guidance classes of the camp. And spiritual encouragement for those attending was provided by two camp chaplains.

The camp drew unusual public attention due to much anti-war demonstrations now taking place in America. Newspapers, radio and television stations, and magazines sent representatives to the camp to record the activities. Among the news representatives present at the camp were:

Newsweek magazine, the New York Times, San Francisco Examiner, San Jose Mercury, Santa Cruz Sentinel, KRON-TV and KPIX-TV, San Francisco; KCRA-TV and KOVR-TV, Sacramento; KNBC-TV, Los Angeles; KSBW-TV, Salinas; KNTV, San Jose; KGO Radio, San Francisco. News of the camp was also sent to the hometown newspapers of each cadet attending; and a free-lance writer was on hand to record the activities for large magazines in Europe.

HERBERT FORD, Secretary,
Public Relations Department.

like day under the direction of a corps of 20 officers headed by Medical Cadet Corps Major Harry Garlick, associate youth activities director of the Pacific Union.

Hours of close-order drill, calisthenics, Red Cross first-aid training, and character guidance kept the cadets busy. Inspections, the traditional KP (kitchen police), retreat formations, and "gig" details for those who failed to observe strict military discipline made the days for one young man "a dog-trot all day long."

Purpose of the rugged training was to prepare those attending the camp to be better Christians once they are inducted Medical cadets participate in calisthenics during recent eight-day camp at Soquel. Daily program included a fifty-minute period of exercises under trained instructors.

Welcome to the Islands

In recent months worker changes in the Island field have taken place in Hawaii. Good men have gone, and good men have come.

Brother and Sister George R. Thayer responded to the call of Hawaii to come and enter into ministerial service on the Island of Kauai, replacing the Mayberry family. They were accompanied by Sister Thayer's mother who will be visiting them in the Islands.

Brother Thayer has given evidence of being a real missionary worker and soul winner in the Oregon Conference. His wife is a registered nurse. We feel confident that the membership on the Island of Kauai will appreciate this new addition to the ministerial staff of Hawaii.

Hawaiian Mission

New Pastor for the Honolulu Central Church Arrives

The ranks of the Seventh-day Adventist ministry in Hawaii were further strengthened by the coming of Elder Don Mulvihill and his family to Hawaii to assume the responsibility of pastoring the Central church.

Elder and Sister Mulvihill are seasoned, experienced, and capable workers. Having served in Southern California, his most recent assignment was the Crescenta-Canada church. His warmth of personality and strength as a sincere personal worker will be a real blessing to the Central church.

As he enters upon the responsibility of spiritual shepherding and guiding of the large congregation made up of people of many backgrounds, we want to wish Elder Mulvihill heaven's choicest and richest blessings. The Mulvihills will endear themselves to our friendly people of Hawaii very quickly, and we want to extend them the fondest aloha of the "paradise of the Pacific" as they enter upon a thrilling and, we are confident, fruitful ministry.

On behalf of Elder and Sister Mulvihill and their son, we would like to bespeak an interest in the prayers of our people in Hawaii.

A. G. STREIFLING.

A New Branch Sabbath School

"I have the love of Jesus, love of Jesus, down in my heart."

As this song echoed through the recreation hall at the Palolo low-income housing area, curious children began to come inside to see what was happening. After they were ushered to their seats and the program was begun, there were 56 children and 16 adults present. This was the birth of a "new baby" of the Kaimuki Seventh-day Adventist church.

Mission Workers Return to Service on the Mainland

At six o'clock, August 10, Elder and Sister D. C. Mayberry, their children, and Elder and Sister C. C. Cantwell left the fair shores of Hawaii aboard the S.S. President Cleveland, bound for the mainland.

Having completed more than five years of service in the Islands, the Mayberry family have endeared themselves to the people here. Their musical talent, personal charm, and sweet disposition have made them loved and respected.

Elder and Sister Cantwell, though officially retired, came to Hawaii and spent one year teaching in our mission school at Kapaa, Kauai. During this year they both made a real contribution to our work.

As Elder and Sister Mayberry have responded to a call to the Nevada-Utah Conference, and Elder and Sister Cantwell return to southern California to reside, we wish both of these families God's continued and richest blessings.

A. G. STREIFLING.

Elder and Mrs. Mayberry with two of their three sons and Elder and Mrs. Cantwell.

This branch Sabbath school is the outgrowth of a very successful vacation Bible school program concluded two weeks previously under the capable leadership of Mrs. Lydia Hong. For many months she prepared for the success of this program by bringing several of these children to Sabbath school each week.

Because of the large number of non-Adventist members who attended the vacation Bible school, the church decided that something definite should be done to follow up the interest. The primary objective of this branch Sabbath school is to establish a point of interest or contact with the parents of the children who attend. Already this objective has been partially achieved, as three parents have recently started Bible studies.

It is hoped that in the future this area will be used as a springboard for definite soul winning activity resulting in many families taking their stand for the truth.

The Kaimuki church has started out with faith in the promise of Isaiah 55:11 which says: "... my word ... shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it."

VARNER J. LEGGITT, Pastor.

Why Came We Here?

"That which God purposed to do for the world through Israel, the chosen nation, He will finally accomplish through His church on earth today."—Prophets and Kings, pp. 713-714.

It is through His people that God purposes to diffuse to the world His light. Through their lives and their witness, He purposes to show that His "law is perfect, converting the soul." Through their compassion, mercy, and lovingkindness He purposes to let the whole world know that God is love.

Through the centuries God has been at work . . . leading His people, loving them, caring for them. They are His witnesses. By life and by word they are to testify of Him . . . that He is good, and that His goodness endureth forever.

Why came we here? Surely God has His purposes for us each one. To find and to fulfill His purpose is our individual privilege. And as a church we are to know and fulfill His purposes. Each one is to live under a sense of mission.

During the month of September, our Northern California Conference pastors will be giving emphasis in their Sabbath sermons and prayer meeting studies to "Renewing Within Us the Sense of Mission." May the Holy Spirit bless us especially during this time, that our vision of God's purposes for us individually and as a church shall be renewed.

JAMES E. CHASE, President,
Northern California Conference.

Voice of Prophecy and Faith for Today Interest Report

Radio and television are two great mediums of soul winning. In our conference we have just completed three major efforts—in Redding, in Crescent City, and in the Lodi area—in a follow-up of the daily Voice of Prophecy interests and also Faith for Today. According to the report, 69 baptisms have resulted in Northern California from these programs.

Plans are being laid to continue these tremendous soul winning activities, and we look forward to greater soul winning in the future. All of this is made possible by your liberal offerings, and we ask you to continue to pray and give that the Lord might bless in these endeavors. You will be interested to know that Northern California has for several years contributed more funds to these programs than any other conference in the world. This indicates a deep and sincere interest in these soul winning programs, and we wish to thank you for your devotion to God's cause as the offerings are taken again this year.

Radio and television are a tremendously expensive means of reaching the non-Adventists, but through your generous offerings we are able to extend these mediums, covering more area and reaching more souls.

Of special interest at this time is the attempt of the Voice of Prophecy to reach the "night owl" audience from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m. We feel this is a forgotten audience and one that would respond to the broadcasts.

The Faith for Today program is being accepted widely in television circles. Its interesting format and the fact that it is being produced in color are making it accepted by stations which are putting it on the air free of charge. The Lord has blessed this program through the years, and we invite you to continue to support our television program, Faith for Today.

Remember the dates for the offerings—
Voice of Prophecy - - - October 8, 1966
Faith for Today - - - February, 1967

Word has also been received that radio station KUHM, 1580, in Santa Rosa is now carrying the Sunday broadcast of the Voice of Prophecy at 12 noon. We invite all those in Santa Rosa and the surrounding area to dial 1580 on Sundays.

Parochial School Denied Use of Buses in West Sacramento

At the request of D. E. Leamon, pastor of the Oak Park and West Sacramento churches, I accompanied him to a public hearing of the Washington District School Board which met for discussion on a request made by the Roman Catholic Parochial School of West Sacramento to allow its students to be transported by public school bus.

The hearing room was completely filled, and approximately 15 Seventh-day Adventist laymen whose children would be affected by this ruling were present to voice their opposition. Brother Weir, of the West Sacramento group, gave a very quiet but forceful opinion expressing his objection to this request on the basis of our stand in the separation of church and state, and also his strong feeling that public schools should not be required to serve parochial schools.

The Washington District School Board representatives heard several witnesses. One was Dr. E. D. Giddens, director of POAU, Americans United, of the Los Angeles area. It was interesting to note that many non-Seventh-day Adventists expressed their opinions forcefully, opposing the idea of parochial school children riding public school buses. It was a lively discussion, and after approximately two and a half hours, the vote was taken and the Washington School District voted to deny the request of the Roman Catholic church in the area.

We feel this was a definite defeat of another attempt to break down the wall of separation of church and state. The entire group felt relieved when the action of denial took place.

We will see more of this type of activity, and we should be prepared to register our opinions as laymen by standing to our feet and expressing our views at the grass roots level where it is most effective. We counsel and encourage every individual Christian to know what he believes and to be willing to defend his beliefs before school boards, legislative committees, labor unions, and other organizations where attacks are being made upon personal and church freedoms.

Your religious liberty department stands ready to assist you in any of these areas. We would appreciate being kept informed by church members where issues of this nature arise on the local level.

Alice Princess at Stockton Market and E Church

The thrilling story of Alice Princess Siwundhla will be told by Alice Princess and her family at the Market and E Streets Seventh-day Adventist church in Stockton on Sabbath, September 24.

Alice Princess will speak at the morning church service at 11, at the Missionary Volunteer program at 5:15, and at 7:15 p.m., the motion picture "This Is Your Life," produced by Ralph Edwards, will be shown.

Those in Northern California who have not heard Alice tell of her experience nor seen the film will not want to miss this event. Plan to be at Market and E—September 24!

The Education Corner . . .

Freedom Is "Ought"

Dr. Ashley Montague on the Mike Douglas TV program, August 30, stated: "Democratic freedom is the right to do what you ought and not what you want."

The "want" capacities of human nature are largely selfish. The "ought" raises the selfish to "self-less!"

To the Christian the "want" is, by God's grace, to submerge itself within the "ought" so that they become one.

Northern California has 6,238 youth of elementary and high school age; total attending Seventh-day Adventist schools is 3,961 (as of June 1966). To the parents and churches of the 37 percent not in attendance in God's required place of education, an appeal to a wedding between "ought" and "want" by all is proffered.

Seventh-day Adventist youth's eternal freedom is at the crossroads of "ought" and "want" to be like . . . Jesus. Our job is to provide the climate for the right answers.

Baptisms Result From the Neighborhood Bible Clubs

Many of our Sabbath schools in Southern are finding a new and meaningful ministry in working for children in housing areas scattered throughout metropolitan Los Angeles.

One of these successful Neighborhood Bible clubs is held every Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. James Reddick and Mrs. Irene Groomer. They hold their Bible Club at the Aliso Village housing project. About 35 children gather each Sunday afternoon in the yard between the buildings.

Over sixty baptisms have already resulted from the Neighborhood Bible Club and branch Sabbath school programs this past year. Many more baptisms are anticipated as the programs grow in scope.

It Is Written TV Program to Begin New Broadcast Series

The It Is Written television series returns to the air this fall in Southeastern California, reaching the greater population areas within and surrounding Los Angeles.

Primarily Orange County and the western side of Riverside and San Bernardino Counties will be reached in this joint thrust with the Southern California Conference. The program will be aired on 39 successive subject evenings beginning September 18, at 8:30 over KCOP-TV, channel 13.

But the It Is Written program is only a tool in the conference-wide program of Go Tell Thy Friends evangelism and cannot be successful without the aid and cooperation of all church members in the areas reached by the television station.

As in the two previous series in which Southeastern cooperated it will be necessary to call upon church members to help take Bible lessons to interested viewers and others will be needed to help answer telephone requests for literature. Now before this program begins, we appeal to all members to do three things: (1) Make a soul-winning commitment through personal dedication, (2) Pray for the success of the program in reaching the honest in heart, and (3) Shortly before the telecast begins join the rest of the church in a thorough penetration of the area with an appealing announcement of the program.

This area penetration includes every possible specific contact with former members, relatives, literature contacts and friends and neighbors. The telephone should be used liberally during this time.

Supporting these personal contacts will be newspaper advertising on television pages and promotion by the station itself. Before the first telecast Elder Vandeman will make two personal appearances in Southeastern. You are invited to attend either the meeting at the San Bernardino Orange Show Grounds September 16 at 7 p.m.; or attend the meeting at the Canvas Cathedral, west 1900 block on Lincoln, Anaheim, September 17 at 5:30 p.m.

Monday, Sept. 12, Fullerton Church
Imperial County Federation—
Tuesday, Sept. 13, El Centro Church

At these very important federation meetings a special welfare project will be introduced. Each Health and Welfare society is urged to have a good delegation at the federation meeting in its area.

Offering for Calexico Mission School to Be Sabbath

Some 300 children from Mexicali and Calexico enrolled during the recent registration week will be able to learn of the Advent truth as taught in daily classes at Calexico Mission School as a result of the offering to be received in Southeastern's churches September 17.

Classes began as usual following Labor Day in anticipation of the offering to be received in support of the school.

During the summer a library has been prepared and a new floor completed. This new facility concentrates library materials and provides attractive study area.

Last June 80 students were graduated from special English classes and grades eight and ten.

Following the close of school two baptisms were conducted at the Calexico church. Of the eight baptized there were children and adults from both Calexico and Mexicali, several of whom had come to the faith through the school. During the past year a special Bible class for eight girls was conducted. This summer six continued their study while working at Newbury Park Academy.

We need both your prayers and your contributions for the success of our mission school in Calexico.

Westminster Church Holds Vacation Bible School

The Westminster church had another overflowing vacation Bible school that brought happiness and the love of Jesus to more than 150 boys and girls.

The daily activities included singing, stories, and Bible lessons from the lives of some of the great men and women of the Scriptures. A new feature this year was the Ukulele Band.

Some of the Bible school staff were Bunnie Turner, Pansy Barron, Barbara Blount, and Thelma Mickelson.

Children attending the Westminster vacation Bible school learned to play ukuleles in a class directed by Henry Barron.

A New Church Company to Be Organized September 17

A new church company will be organized at Lakeside near El Cajon September 17, in services at the Lakeside Community Presbyterian church, 9908 Channel Road.

Some 22 families including more than 50 adults and children are anticipated as charter members for the opening service when Elder John Osborn, conference president, will be the speaker.

"Preparation has been underway since early this year for the organization. It began when it was evident that the membership of the El Cajon church had reached the maximum and that many members, enough for a new company, lived in the Lakeside area," revealed the pastor, Elder Kenneth Livesay.

Rather than begin an expansion project in El Cajon, the congregation decided that more work could be done for the Lord by establishing another congregation. "Enthusiasm for the project has been good from the start," Elder Livesay remarked.

Pastor Robert Cowan and his family have already moved from Arlington to Lakeside to join the new company and complete plans for the organization.

Visitors are invited to attend the special services Sabbath morning, September 17.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE

Summer School Graduation at PUC

On the evening of August 18 Pacific Union College graduated 103 students. Of this number 24 received a Master of Arts degree, 22 a Bachelor of Arts degree, 19 a Bachelor of Science degree, and 38 nurses completed requirements for the Associate of Science in the field of nursing and are now eligible for the State Board examinations.

The graduation exercises were held in Irwin Hall. With the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" played by Lowell Smith at the organ the seniors marched down the aisle to receive their merited degrees. After the invocation by Dr. Donald M. Warren, director of the summer quarter, Dr. Leslie Hardinge gave the address entitled "Your Point of View."

The class was presented by Dr. Wilbert M. Schneider, academic dean; and the conferring of degrees was done by President F. O. Rittenhouse, assisted by Dr. E. C. Walter, registrar, and Miss Blooma Woodard of the nursing department. Dr. Elton Wallace, class sponsor, offered the benediction.

Two PUC Faculty Members Retire

Two Pacific Union College faculty members have reached the time of retirement from active service. Both have spent many years in responsible denominational posts, and both have made a number of positive contributions to denominational endeavors.

Contrary to the term "retirement," both men are looking forward to still more positive activities to further the work of the church.

Dr. Robert Woods was graduated from Berrien Springs, Michigan, with a baccalaureate degree and with many predictions of intellectual success. There followed a graduation from the University of Ohio with a Masters degree in Education; then another from the Chicago University where he received the Doctorate in Physics.

Dr. Woods taught at Atlantic Union College and also at Harvard University. He served as president of Union College and of La Sierra College. For twelve years he served Loma Linda University, supervising research, and teaching.

Dr. Woods and his wife have lived at Pacific Union College for the past two years. His efforts as head of the physics department are greatly appreciated.

At the present time Dr. Woods has traveled to our sister college in Puerto Rico where he is the acting administrator of this college for the Antillian Union. He hopes while there to build an accreditable physics department, as well as to aid in establishing a modern, well equipped training college. This college will serve the more than 500 students now in attendance and will make possible accommodations for some 1,500 students who desire to attend.

Elder William Hyde has been with the Pacific Union College department of religion since 1946. His background of mission and administrative leadership has helped to strengthen this department throughout the years.

Elder and Mrs. Hyde spent some twenty years in Africa prior to their coming to Pacific Union College. During those years he not only served as an executive in mission work, but also founded the Advent Press and built and directed a training school for national workers.

Elder Hyde is now retiring from the full teaching load, but with his retirement has accepted the temporary responsibility of being chairman of the religion department during the interim of Elder Robert Olson's leave of absence.

Elder Hyde states that present plans and policies of the department will remain unchanged. The student participation program will continue to expand with more branch Sabbath schools; more student pastors will assist neighboring churches with evangelistic meetings and visitation.

Student Pastors Gain Experience

Pacific Union College religion department is making a contribution in service to several churches in the Northern California Conference. At the present time there are three active student pastors and the coming school year will see two or three more. The student, or associate pastor, works in cooperation with the local church pastor and under the sponsorship of the college religion department. Elder Carl Coffman supervises and directs in the pastoral duties of each group, and Elder Leo Van Dolson directs in evangelistic activities involving students from the college.

The Calistoga church has benefited from the help of student pastors for several years. Gerald Haeger, Don Lane, and others have contributed to the progress there. During this summer Dale Ratzlaff has been carrying the pastoral responsibilities, which he will continue during the coming winter.

The Middletown church group is served in similar capacity by Mr. Ronald Warpole. During the coming school year Mr. Warpole will continue to care for the pastoral responsibilities, which at the present time include a full schedule of Bible studies. With the help of students from the college the Middletown church sponsors a weekly Story Hour attended by approximately 25 non-Adventist children.

The Mill Valley group is a new addition to Northern California churches. As a direct result of PUC missionary activities, the Mill Valley group is now entering the first phase of organization. Students from the college found nearly thirty interested persons in their house-to-house visitation program last spring, and these interests are being nurtured by Mr. Charles Klatt, who is now acting as student pastor. Mr. Klatt is taking up the duties that Lloyd Munson carried previously.

Another expansion of the student pastor experience is expected to take place this fall. The Napa area, under the direction of Elder C. M. Mellor, will give experience to several students, who will in turn benefit the local church with the efforts in pastoral visitation and in evangelism.

Today's Food Announces Plans for Holiday Special

A special color number of Today's Food is being planned for the holidays with added pages and extra features.

In addition to unusual recipes for both home use and for entertaining company, there will be a feature article with up-to-the minute pictures on "Shopping and Dining Behind the Iron Curtain," giving recipes for delicious borsch and "black" bread.

Healthful nutrition pointers will include tips for "Our Starving Teenagers"; and a report on a recent scientific study completed by Loma Linda University using human "guinea pigs" for the first time to prove the value of a vegetable-protein menu.

Questions answered will include: "Is rhubarb poisonous?" "How you can substitute for vinegar in recipes?" and "U.S. Food and Drug Administration facts on the rumor about lard in peanut butter."

These and many other outstanding features will be included in the winter issue of the quarterly publication sponsored by the Pacific Union Association.

Readers of Today's Food may reserve their holiday special and insure being on the mailing list during 1967 by sending in their contribution of $1 now. The one contribution will cover the cost of both the special winter number and all 1967 issues, and should be sent direct to Today's Food, Circulation Department, Riverside, California 92505.

Because so many nonmembers of our church are subscribers, it will be helpful if you indicate that you are a Seventh-day Adventist when you send in your name.

Detroit Is Meeting Place for Adventist Hospital Group

The annual meeting of the Seventh-day Adventist Hospital Association was held in Detroit, Michigan, in conjunction with the pre-session of the General Conference. Attendance at these meetings included administrative representation from over 50 denominational hospitals across the United States. Representatives also attended from denominational institutions from other parts of the world.

Meetings included sessions for hospital administrators and their assistants; a special section for hospital chaplains and also for directors of nursing services. The combined group of hospital representatives also met with the General Conference medical department.

During the business session of the Hospital Association officers were elected for the coming year to carry on the business of the organization. Erwin J. Remboldt, administrator of the Glendale Adventist Hospital and White Memorial Medical Center, was elected president for the 1966-67 year.

Charles H. Snyder, administrator of Feather River Sanitarium and Hospital, Paradise, California, was elected secretary-treasurer. A. C. Larson, retired hospital administrator, was re-elected executive secretary.

The objectives of the Seventh-day Adventist Hospital Association have been the strengthening and advancement of Seventh-day Adventist hospitals in the North American Division in all aspects of their endeavors.

Impressive Book for Present and Potential Church Leaders

When Robert H. Pierson wrote the new Pacific Press book So You Want to Be a Leader!, he was president of the Trans-Africa Division. Just one week after release of the new volume, Seventh-day Adventists elected him to their highest post of leadership.

Elder Pierson wrote So You Want to Be a Leader! for the benefit of all leaders and potential leaders within the denomination. An estimated 150,000 people fill leadership positions in the churches alone,
