Fire Engine for Monument Valley Mission

A bright red fire engine recently delivered to the Monument Valley Seventh-day Adventist Mission, besides giving needed fire protection, will also mean a saving of $500 per year in fire insurance, reports Mr. Dean Lange who recently drove the engine to the mission from Los Angeles.

Mr. Lange is a fireman with the Los Angeles Fire Department. He worked with Loma Linda University School of Dentistry in outfitting the engine and while at Monument Valley gave the mission staff training in fire-fighting techniques.

The engine, a 1948 Mack, originally belonged to the Long Beach Fire Department. It was donated to the mission by Dr. Chester Moore, a Long Beach dentist, who had learned of the need from a speech given by Dr. Charles T. Smith, director of the Loma Linda University-sponsored Monument Valley dental care program, at a Long Beach dental convention. Doctor Smith mentioned the increase in the number of buildings at the mission and that there was no fire protection, except for hand extinguishers.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Doctor Moore told Doctor Smith that he had just purchased a piece of used fire apparatus from the Long Beach Fire Department. He said he would like it to be used at the Monument Valley Mission.

Through the combined cooperation of the Loma Linda School of Dentistry and the Pacific Union Conference, the necessary funds were raised to modify and equip the apparatus with hose and fittings. At the maintenance department of Loma Linda University the water tank capacity was increased from 250 gallons to 600 gallons, and the apparatus was painted and completely serviced.

The "new" engine was delivered to Los Angeles where Mr. Lange completed outfitting the apparatus. Then, on July 11, he drove the fire engine to the mission and presented it to Dr. J. Lloyd Mason.

Church Manual a Necessity for Leaders and Members

May I recommend to the pastors, church officers, and church members, for that matter, that they secure from their Book and Bible House the new 1967 edition of the Church Manual that was brought up to date by the church body in executive session at the last General Conference in 1966.

It is important for our church boards and church leadership; in carrying on our church work, to be guided by the counsel that this manual contains; and I hope that all concerned will be sure to obtain a copy of the new Church Manual. Please read and study it.

No Recorder September 18

Fifty issues comprise the year's volume of the PACIFIC UNION RECORDER; therefore, two issues are omitted each year. It has been decided that there will be no paper dated September 18, 1967. Your next issue will be dated September 25, 1967.

Bible Story Commercials on TV Bring a Good Response

TV plays its part in an endeavor to rapidly expand literature evangelism throughout the Pacific Union.

One-minute commercials in full color on the ten-volume Bible Story set are being telecast to millions of viewers. Offers of a free preview booklet on the Bible Story set, and also a free Bible, are creating good response.

Commercials are going out over KFMB-TV, San Diego; KNBC-TV (Channel 4), Los Angeles; KCOP (Channel 13), Los Angeles; KCRL, Reno; KORK, Las Vegas; and KERO, Bakersfield. Answering services are being used to take the calls that are coming in. Plans are developing for telecasts from Salt Lake City and also other key areas, such as San Francisco, Oakland, et cetera.

The finishing time is at hand. We must redeem the time and search out those interested in the things of God's Word.

There is a great need for resident literature evangelists in these areas mentioned, and also in several other places throughout the Pacific Union.

TV and other media of advertising help to prepare the people for our literature. You are needed to help us follow through. You are needed to make that presentation; to have that word of prayer; to sign up that enrollment in a Bible study course, that will mean the winning of souls for Christ's kingdom.

You can become a resident literature evangelist. Contact the publishing secretary of your conference to determine where you can serve. Do it TODAY!

Now Is the Time to Begin Work on the 1968 Budgets

It is not too early for pastors and church treasurers to begin working on the 1968 budgets. The various church boards should have these budgets under consideration during the months of October and November, and these should be approved by the church in business session before the new year begins.

This means that a lot of spadework needs to be done now in order to have an approved budget ready. This means, too, that many personal contacts need to be made so that the budget is well underwritten and fully supported.

In order for the church members to underwrite the expenses of the church, they must know the amounts of expense involved.

May I encourage all church officers concerned with the budget to begin early with its preparation. This is the only way to carry on church business efficiently.

September Is Prayer Month at Voice of Prophecy Office

The Voice of Prophecy has designated September as Prayer Month, in accordance with the invitation, "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near."—Isaiah 55:6. During this month there will be special prayer services for those requesting prayer, with daily vigilance by volunteer staff members who will read the requests and bow in prayer for a period each morning, noon, and evening.

This decision to set apart a specific month for prayer emphasis resulted from a discussion by the leaders of the religious radio broadcast concerning the problems in the world today which are facing many listeners to the Voice of Prophecy. These men decided that only by the grace of God can these burdens be lifted. God can bring spiritual comfort, as indicated by this letter from a formerly discouraged wife in Oregon:

"God answered your prayers for my husband. He was baptized this month!"

God can also bring physical healing, as He did in the case of a listener who wrote from New York:

"Thanks for your kind words and for the blessings you send me of Jesus. I'm sure all the prayers that the Voice of Prophecy had for me did a lot of good to make me better. Everyone here in the hospital thought I would never walk again, but now I walk all by myself. They call me 'the miracle.'"

God can bring joy to parents by touching the hearts of wayward or unthinking children, as a Missouri parent wrote:

"I hardly know how to put into words how much I thank you for your prayers in behalf of the young girl I wrote you about. Yes, God surely did know where she was! Before I received a letter from you I had heard from this dear girl. I know what it is like to shed tears of joy!"

Business problems are eased by the grace of God, as in the case of a young Oklahoma girl: "My mother wrote in to your office a while back for special prayer that I would be able to get a local job with Sabbaths off. I am happy to tell you that I have been working as a bookkeeper here at a hotel for about a month, and I do get Sabbaths off!"

"Have no anxiety about anything, but make all your wants known to God in prayer and entreaty, and with thanksgiving."—Philippians 4:6, Goodspeed.

Baptisms Result From Personal Evangelism in Fontana

Personal evangelism in the Fontana Juniper Avenue Church has been revitalized as a result of renewed efforts by leaders and members. Shortly after the beginning of this year, an intensive effort was started in a small area of North Fontana known to local residents as "The Tract."

"The Tract" was saturated with visitors from the local church on Sabbath afternoons who distributed with varying success lessons of the "Bible Speaks" home Bible course. Some of the members also returned to the homes where they had begun distributing the Family Bible Course lessons last year, and revived the interest of those who had failed to finish their courses.

After much walking, talking, prayer, and encouragement, it was announced by Elder David L. Taylor that there would be a graduation on June 10 for those who had completed their home study courses by that date. Forty-six diplomas were prepared, and more than half of those earning them were present at the Sabbath morning presentation.

That same afternoon, announcements of a revival to start the following week were distributed to the whole community. With the support of the K Street Church in nearby San Bernardino, as well as the Fontana congregation, Elder Harmon Brownlow, conference evangelist, spoke for the revival which saw a packed church each night of the intensive two-week campaign. Fervent appeals were regularly made, and the Spirit of God was felt by both members and visitors alike.

A young mother of five, whose sunny exterior had covered the stormy domestic life which her family suffered with an unconverted husband, rejoiced with her children when her husband became interested in attending the meetings, and finally gave his heart to the Lord.

Another older man, who had been a Mason for many years, had been visited by one of the members who had pleaded, prayed, and studied with him for over 12 years. He finally surrendered his Mason's ring and gave his heart to the Lord. Later he publicly announced his decision to his friends and neighbors at the church before the meetings had actually started.

When the two weeks were over, the pool at the Juniper Avenue Church was filled. Elder H. M. Barker of the K Street Church baptized 16 souls who decided to march under the banner of Prince Emmanuel, and Elder Taylor of the Fontana Church baptized 20. A large number of these were young people who had decided to start out with God.

Praying, preaching, pleading, and plain hard work were the basic ingredients for this success. But without the Holy Spirit, nothing could have been accomplished. The Juniper Avenue and K Street churches are thankful that all the ingredients were present for the gratifying results.

La Sierra Minister of Youth Goes to the New York Center

The La Sierra Church minister of youth, Elder Henry A. Barron, and his family left Southeastern California Conference August 31 to take up new responsibilities as director of the New York Center and co-ordinator of evangelism for the Greater New York Conference.

Henry A. Barron

Plans for the Center's future cover many phases of religious emphasis, and Elder Barron says it is the determination of the staff to follow the instruction laid down in Evangelism, page 13, "Here let a center for God's work be made, and let all that is done be a symbol of the work the Lord desires to see done in the world. . . . You are to make in New York a center for missionary effort, from which work can be carried forward successfully. The Lord desires this center to be a training school for workers, and nothing is to be allowed to interrupt the work."

Elder Barron said his new duties will include sponsoring a daily radio broadcast, printing a magazine, conducting summer Youth Leadership Training programs in conjunction with our colleges, teen rallies in New York parks, producing taped youth programs with color slides using music by the La Sierra Paramount Trio.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Doyle and daughter Kathy, Westminster, will be moving to the Center. Mr. Doyle, whom Elder Barron baptized at Westminster, is from Brooklyn and will be instructor of the Positive Living Clinic. Elman Folkenberg will conduct the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking and the new weight control program. Monthly special features will include such guests as Desmond Doss, the New York mayor, and leading evangelists.

Further plans include starting a businessmen's health food lunch service and a museum of artifacts from Adventist foreign missions around the world. As evangelism coordinator, Elder Barron will work with the pastors of all the conference churches, scheduling evangelists for reaping campaigns and gathering souls for Christ.

Elder and Mrs. Barron and their four children plan to live on Long Island, keeping an apartment at the Center for use during special campaigns.

Elder Barron is a native of the Arlington area of Riverside. His father is Dr. H. C. Barron, 4156-10th Street, Riverside. Elder Barron was graduated from La Sierra College in 1952. His wife is the former Pansy Strickland of Escondido. They spent nine and a half years in the Texas Conference in evangelism and pastoral work, going to Orange County five years ago, and back to La Sierra in 1966. Many will remember him for his messages in singing evangelism.

As La Sierra minister of youth, Elder Barron started monthly youth church services, sponsored youth teams, held a series of evangelistic meetings by the youth, and sponsored a summer missionary program. In the recreational area, besides camps and outings, he originated "Gym Nights" which will carry on under the direction of Kenny Roberts, a LLU student on the La Sierra campus.

Sabbath School Teaching—Joy to Teachers, Blessing to Class

About the time that Rome was burning and confusion seemed the order of the day, privation and perplexity was the lot of God's people. Peter wrote to the believers that it was time to "gird up the loins of your mind." (1 Peter 1:13) There is a similarity between the time of Peter's writing and our time today. Disorder and disruption now seem widespread throughout the land; war rages in many trouble spots of our world; problems and perplexity face the leaders of the nations, and hatred stalks the land.

In this distraught world live the Advent people, one of the few groups that still believe in and seek to obey the Holy Scriptures. The Bible is indeed our chart and compass.

Teachers of The Word stand Sabbath after Sabbath before their Sabbath school classes. The Sabbath school is a mighty factor in stabilizing the faith of God's people. Effective Bible teaching is so very important in strengthening the church in these days of confusion and frustration. Fortunately we have instruction for times like these. We are told, "The people of God are directed to the Scriptures as their safeguard" (Great Controversy, p. 593), and none but those who have this safeguard will be able to survive amidst the turmoil, hostility and agitation of this disturbed world. Teachers, teaching His Word, have a tremendous and a sacred responsibility.

You are a Sabbath school teacher? Splendid! You stand in a unique position to stem the tide of neglect and disregard of the Holy Scriptures. You lay a foundation for faith, you instill a deep regard for the Bible and its truths. You are one who encourages and urges the members of God's church to study daily the Word of God. Sabbath school lessons help God's people to be "men of the Book." The consecrated Sabbath school teacher can do much to encourage the daily study of the Word as presented through our wonderful Sabbath school lessons. Are you making that an important part of your teaching task? Does your teaching emphasize the place of the Bible in our daily lives?

Let us renew our vows of consecration and make our Sabbath school teaching conducive to faithful Bible study on the part of our class members. Let us strengthen the church to meet the holocaust of storm awaiting them. As Sabbath school teachers we need ever to remember that "the Sabbath school should be the place where through a living connection with God, men, women, youth and children . . . shall be a strength and blessing to the church."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 11.

What more important work could we possibly do than to stand as faithful sentinels, warning, strengthening, building the faith of those under our influence? Now, as never before, our Sabbath school teaching should help our members to "gird up the loins of their mind" and prepare them to meet the trying and complex issues of the day.

Our Sabbath School Teacher's Training Course is designed to increase your teaching efficiency, enabling you to stabilize the faith of your class members in the Scriptures of truth.

FORWARD PROGRAM Christian Stewardship

September 23 Is the Day You Will Receive a Special Gift

Ten thousand copies of the book Counsels on Stewardship will be distributed free of charge to the members of the Northern California Conference on Sabbath, September 23. This is a part of Stewardship Emphasis Week to be observed throughout the conference September 23 to 30.

These timely volumes have been made available through the courtesy of the Pacific Union Conference and the Northern California Conference. The books will serve as a study guide for a series of sermons in each church beginning September 23. The theme of the week will be "Stewardship Enriches Life." A suggested schedule for reading the book Counsels on Stewardship has been prepared by C. M. Mellor.

It is our profound conviction that the greatest need of our churches is a deeper and more intimate relationship with Christ through the understanding and practice of the stewardship of material things. Selfishness is eating away the very life blood of society, but God has provided a remedy for His people. "Continual giving starves covetousness to death."—Adventist Home, p. 370. "It should not be a lamented fact that there are increasing calls to give. . . . Many of God's people are in danger of being ensnared by worldliness and covetousness. They should understand that it is His mercy that multiplies the demands for their means. Objects that call benevolence into action must be placed before them or they cannot pattern after the character of the great Exemplar."—Counsels on Stewardship, pp. 14 and 15.

It is our sincere desire that this Week of Stewardship Emphasis will prove to be a rich blessing to the churches throughout Northern California. CHARLES H. BETZ.

Groundbreaking at Calistoga

Ground was broken for a new Seventh-day Adventist Church on the evening of August 16 in the beautiful little city of Calistoga, eight miles north of St. Helena.

Location of the new church building will be on an acre and a half property given by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Fowler, members of the local congregation. It is across from the County Fairgrounds with a frontage of 150 feet on Grant Street, and extending back to a grove of trees.

Cement blocks and stone will be the materials used for the walls of the church, and inside finish will be laminated wood. Seating capacity will be 250.

Elder Ervin L. Sorensen, pastor, directed in the groundbreaking ceremonies, held just after a social gathering and dinner enjoyed by church members in the grove on the new church property. Participating also in the services was Elder James E. Chase.

Aides, Orderlies Complete Course at Feather River Hospital

Twenty women and two men received certificates at recent ceremonies at the Feather River Sanitarium and Hospital as a result of successfully completing work as nurse's aides and orderlies.

The course, which demands 90 hours of theory and 45 hours of clinical practice in the hospital, is the only course of its kind approved and licensed by the State Department of Education north of Sacramento, and thus students from Willows, Durham, Oroville, Chico, Magalia, and Paradise were in attendance.

Seventeen physicians from the Paradise and Chico areas donated an hour of time to give lectures to the students. Catherine

Vacation Bible School Held in Alderpoint Community Church

A happy sequel to an invitation to preach and conduct a service on last Easter Sunday at Alderpoint, where we have no members yet, was a further invitation to direct a vacation Bible school at the same Community Church. Elder Mackintosh and his wife responded gladly.

Between 30 and 40 children attended regularly during the period July 10 to 14.

VBS at Alderpoint Community Church.

Women teachers and youth helpers of various churches willingly offered their services. The pupils were divided into classes from nursery to junior. Arts and crafts were also included.

A graduation service concluded the week's program on Friday evening, and a good number of parents and friends attended. A picnic with games and refreshments was held on Thursday evening.

It was remarked by some that nothing just like it had ever been held there before. Letters of appreciation have since been received from residents of the area.

Bible course enrollment cards were distributed and thus it is hoped that many permanent contacts have been made.

Welcome Given to New Workers

It is always a pleasure to welcome the influx of new workers into our conference. This week we would like to formally present three fine families who have recently joined our corps of conference workers. We hope that many of you will be able to meet and get personally acquainted with them. Others are on the way, and will be presented through the pages of the RECORDER soon.

E. R. WALDE.

New Publishing Secretary Comes From Nevada-Utah

Petro (Pete) H. Kamilos, who succeeded R. L. Vaughan last May as publishing secretary of the conference, comes from the Nevada-Utah Conference where he served in the same work for three years.

He was born in Lodi, attended Sacramento Junior College, and then served as a Marine in the Marianna Islands during the war. Prior to his conversion and acceptance of the Advent Message in 1954, he worked in produce and grocery business and was a night club manager for several years.

Immediately after his baptism he became a literature evangelist for six years, then served as assistant publishing secretary in Northern California and Illinois before accepting the Nevada-Utah call.

His wife, Lucille, is a native of Lompoc, California. There are three children: Eileen, Dennis and Russell.

P. H. Kamilos (right), new publishing secretary, greeted by the outgoing secretary, R. L. Vaughan, who recently accepted the same work in the Northern California Conference after six years of service in Central.

Richard White to Pastor in Monterey Peninsula District

New pastor of the Monterey Peninsula District is Richard C. White who recently accepted our invitation while serving as minister in Houston, Texas.

After he became a Christian and united with the Adventist Church in 1958 through faithful efforts by witnessing laymen, plus the Voice of Prophecy Bible Course, he entered the literature ministry in Southern California where he also served as assistant publishing secretary. He then attended Pacific Union College, graduating from the theology course in 1962. He was ordained in Texas last year.

Mariposa Church Pastor Is From Holbrook Mission School

Joining our worker corps in the Merced-Mariposa District to pastor the Mariposa Church are Elder and Mrs. R. L. Garber, who come to us from the Navajo Mission Church in Holbrook, Arizona, where he taught Bible and was associate pastor.

Elder Garber has served the denomination since his graduation from Emmanuel Missionary College (now Andrews University) in 1931. He has also attended the Theological Seminary, Loma Linda University, and Northern Arizona University.

The Garbers have given 14 years to African missions. He was for years director of the Katikamu Mission, Uganda, with 50 churches and 15 mission schools. He was ordained at Nairobi, Kenya Colony. He is also an author, having published a book for juniors.

His wife, Nellia Burman Garber, is a teacher, educated at Emmanuel Missionary College, La Sierra College, Northern Arizona University, and Union College. She has taught 28 years in our schools, and is also an author of numerous stories in our journals, and several books. Her latest is a JMV Book Club number for 1968: The Green-eyed Monster.

The Garbers will work as a husband-and-wife team in Mariposa, her assignment being with the church school there. Elder Robert C. McPherson, leader of the Merced-Mariposa District, will thus be able to give more attention to the newly-begun building program in Merced.

His previous experience includes eight years of sales and promotion work with a national publishing company and three years as Superior Court clerk in San Bernardino County. His father is a Methodist minister in Mira Loma, California.

Mrs. White was formerly Wanda Lee McMullen, a native of Redlands, California. She was educated in various schools, including La Sierra College. The Whites have three boys: Dale, 15, Daniel, 12, and Darrell, five.

ONE OF THE TWO HUNDRED AND TWELVE who signed up to take the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at the Santa Clara County Fair which just closed. A constantly revolving "Smoking Sam" and a continuous motion picture made the church booth a continuous attraction to the thousands of fair visitors. As far as we know, Central California leads the nation in fair booths with a total of ten. "Health Education for the Community" is the theme used in most displays this year.—PR Dept.

High Lights of the August 29 Conference Committee Meeting

The last committee meeting was held in beautiful Wawona Camp so that each member could see firsthand the fine improvements under way and to study future plans for this "haven of refuge" for our children.

These actions were taken: To approve three more evangelism series, by Roy Henneberg in Porterville, Charles Phelps in Morro Bay, H. B. Ramsey in Soquel.

It was also voted to organize a new church in Daly City where a thriving group has been meeting for some months.

Nucleus of the group will be our Filipino brethren there.

Feeling the need of a "Ministerial Internship Guide," a committee was selected to prepare such material.

Our conference was formally divided into eight distinct regions for better administration; these groups of churches to meet from time to time for evangelism rallies, planning sessions, orientation workshops, and other meetings.

Arizona

Follow-up Program After VBS Proves Successful in Arizona

Carol is only 12 years old. This in itself may not be important; however, this is an age when children go to vacation Bible school.

Carol first went to VBS about three years ago. She was invited to go by one of the younger members of the Verde Valley Sabbath school. Following VBS she started going to Sabbath school, and she went to junior camp, and again to VBS the following summer.

Her parents are not members of any church, but liked what Carol was learning and wanted to send her to our Seventh-day Adventist church school. This summer she attended VBS again. The important part of this story is that Carol was baptized this summer and is a member of the Verde Valley Seventh-day Adventist Church. This comes as a result of following up VBS interests.

A young lady in Flagstaff became acquainted with one of our church members in the area. She read some of the Bible Story books and became interested. Because she was interested in boys and girls, she was invited to participate in the VBS. She was amazed at what some of the boys and girls knew about the Bible. As she stated, "They knew more than I did and I felt embarrassed that I didn't know more about the Bible." Her interest grew. She received Bible studies and was recently baptized. She is now a member of the Flagstaff Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Elder F. W. Miller, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Patagonia, felt a need for following up the interests from their VBS. He used the "Go Tell" series of lessons and Bibles, contacting the parents of the children. He spoke to the parents of how much they appreciated having their children attend the VBS. He explained to them how the Bible Speaks lessons work and showed them the Bibles that would be theirs to keep when they had completed the series. Folk from this area are studying the Bible as a result of a good follow-up program on the part of the church.

These are a few of the success stories from VBS. The follow-up program, to be successful, needs planning, prayer, and action.

GERALD H. FRIEDRICH.

Hawaii Leads Entire Union in Sabbath School Offerings

No one can visit the churches in Hawaii without the keen realization that the spirit of missions is very much alive. This is demonstrated through Hawaii's leading the entire union in per capita Sabbath school offerings for the first six months of 1967.

This is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that in general our people in Hawaii still earn slightly less than those on the mainland. Nevertheless, through faithfulness in weekly Sabbath school offerings, Investment offerings, Birthday and Thank offerings, the love for our worldwide work is evident.

Special credit is due Elder Robert B. Grady, Jr., the Sabbath school secretary of the Hawaiian Mission, the faithful Sabbath school superintendents, Sabbath school officers, and our constituency as a whole, as together this work has moved forward.

Various means of evangelism through branch Sabbath schools, vacation Bible schools, the Bible classes, all are causing new people to become acquainted and to become friends of Adventist churches in Hawaii. As we look to the days of growth in store for Hawaii, we realize that the Sabbath schools will play an important role in winning and holding a membership in preparation for the coming of the Lord.

Hawaii Gives Outstanding Worker to Mission Service

Elder and Sister Warren Shultz, with daughters Julie and Wendy, left Hawaii Monday afternoon, August 28, en route to mission service in the South China Island Union Mission. The Shultz family will take up residence in Taipei, Taiwan, where Elder Shultz will serve as Sabbath school and lay activities secretary of this union.

Elder and Mrs. Warren Shultz, Julie and Wendy.

In Elder Shultz' returning to the Far Eastern Division, he is following in the mission tradition of the family, being a third-generation missionary. His grandfather went to the Orient following the turn of the century and gave many years of service there. Elder Shultz was born in northwest China and has always cherished a conviction that someday he should return to this land to serve the great cause of Adventism.

Elder Shultz and his family have given outstanding service in Hawaii during their tour of service here, and Hawaii is proud to think that it has been privileged to train another overseas worker and leader.

Pastor MacCarty is our ministerial intern who has just completed his first year at Andrews University after taking his studies at La Sierra College. Mrs. MacCarty, the former Linda McArthur, also attended La Sierra where she completed music and elementary education majors.

The MacCartys will spend one year in field work before returning to Andrews University where William will complete his Bachelor of Divinity requirements.

Salt Lake City VBS Is Thrill for the Children and Teachers

All adjectives used to describe the 1967 vacation Bible school held in the new Salt Lake City Central Church, June 19 to 29, were in the superlative degree. To name a few: It was the largest VBS ever held by our church; the greatest number of non-Adventists attended; the most efficient and largest number of leaders, teachers, and helpers made themselves available; the most beautiful crafts were made; and the highest enthusiasm was generated by both children and teachers.

The attendance for the first day consisted mainly of children from Adventist homes, but each day the enrollment increased. Most of the newcomers were from non-Adventist homes. Some of these children were the most active in recruiting new members. The first day's enrollment of 36 grew until there was a total of 81. The first week's average attendance was 44, while the second week's was 66. Of the 71 certificates awarded, over half were to children who had never attended an Adventist Church before.

Mrs. LaRie Taylor, associate leader in the Kindergarten Division, brought a group from the neighboring town of Kearns. The enthusiastic children invited so many friends she soon had to transfer to the school bus in order to get them all in.

All groups at least doubled the beginning enrollment, but the growth of the

Winnemucca Services Are Changed to Sabbath Morning

The Winnemucca Church wishes to announce that their time of meeting has been changed from three o'clock Sabbath afternoons to 10 a.m. on the Sabbaths. The location is still the same: Winnemucca Baptist Church, Fifth and Garrison streets. A welcome awaits any visitor who may be in the area.

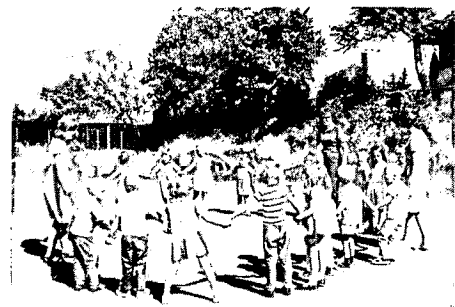

Mount Peale Climbed by the Young and "Young in Heart"

When the youth of the Moab Church decided to climb to the top of Mt. Peale, 13,089 feet high, in Southern Utah, there were four young folk they had not reckoned with. They were the "young in heart." One of the group was 63-year-old Mrs. Lucille Stocks who had climbed this peak 40 years ago. This time she didn't go quite all the way up. Others of these "youngsters" were beyond 40 and 50.

The climb to the top was made in one and a half hours by the faster climbers; the rest of the group arrived a half hour later. All were back in camp for lunch four hours after they started, and the "young in heart" had proved they weren't yet ready for the rocking chair.

As our church plans for such outings in nature it is our thought that great spiritual inspiration can be gained from these experiences. Psalm 30:7: "Thou hast made my mountain to stand strong." May characters that will "stand strong" be developed in our youth as they participate in these mountaintop adventures.

ALBERTA ROWE.

Arlene Reeder leads the children of the Kindergarten Division in a play period at the Salt Lake City Vacation Bible School.

Junior Division was the most spectacular. Of the 81 total membership, 41 were juniors!

The closing exercises, held Thursday evening, brought many of the parents from the surrounding neighborhood and other parts of the city. We feel that a lot of good will and lasting friendships were created and that next year will be even greater.

Southern California

Coming Season's Evangelism Features Faith for Today

Television evangelism in Southern California will be centered around the Faith for Today telecast during this coming television season. Starting on September 17 the book offer will be made along with a Los Angeles address.

We had been promised a prime evening time, but at the last moment we had to accept the former time, which is 12:30 p.m. on Sunday over Channel 13, KCOP-TV.

W. A. Fagal, speaker for the Faith for Today television program.

Handbills announcing the telecast, telephone booster kits, posters, and other promotional materials will be available in the churches at least two weeks before the opening telecast of the local series.

After a viewer writes or phones in for the book offer, he will be invited to enroll in "The Bible Says" course which will be offered with the gift Bible this year. This is a new set of study guides prepared for the General Conference by the Pacific Press.

The success of this localized venture of Faith for Today depends on the faithfulness of each member giving wide publicity to Faith for Today.

As another follow-up to the telecast, Pastor W. A. Fagal and his evangelistic team will conduct a three-week series of evangelistic meetings at the White Memorial Church from March 23 to April 13, 1968.

Tell every relative, neighbor, and friend about Faith for Today, Sundays at 12:30 p.m. on Channel 13, and invite them to watch.

S. A. YAKUSH, Secretary,
Radio-TV Department.

French University Recognizes PUC's Modern Language Department

The modern language department at Pacific Union College announces a newly-established link with the Sorbonne, University of Paris, which assures an academic acceptance of American French students to the "Alliance Francaise" in France.

The purpose of this international arrangement is to "facilitate the acceptance of foreigners in the French universities."

The "Alliance Francaise" is a worldwide cultural organization. It was founded in 1883 to facilitate cooperative measures between universities and colleges all over the world.

Pacific Union College is carrying on this "Alliance Francaise" through the Seventh-day Adventist college in France, "Seminare Adventiste de Collonges sous Saleve."

In the autumn quarter of 1967 the French section of the modern language department of PUC will introduce the teaching methods of this new system to students of the French language. The "Alliance Francaise" will be under the direction of Mrs. Doraine Buyck. Mrs. Buyck has worked with this system in the European colleges.

This newly-established link between Pacific Union College and the oldest international organization of French studies for foreigners will promote interest in the French language. The French language is used as an international cultural and diplomatic language; and its mastery is of great value to graduates whether in denominational work or not. There is a great need for denominational workers in many parts of the world where the French language is spoken.

Pacific Union College offers a major and a minor in French. Mr. Robert Buyck, assistant professor of French, holds degrees from the University of Nancy, and the University of Toulouse, France. Mrs. Doraine Buyck, an instructor in French, is a graduate of the Seminaire Adventiste, Collonges sous Saleve, France.

"Pacific Union College, as a member institution, participates in the Adventist Colleges Abroad program which permits American students to perfect their ability to use a foreign language and absorb a foreign culture while completing the customary undergraduate requirements for a baccalaureate degree in the regular four-year period."

Tower and Antenna Set Up for New FM Radio Station, KANG

Pacific Union College has just completed the tower and antenna setup for the new, high-powered FM radio station scheduled to be in full use by October 1, 1967. The new station will serve all of the Bay Area and will reach into the Sacramento Valley.

KANG at present has been operating on 10 watts of power and has been in use mainly on the college campus and in the Angwin community.

The new KANG will operate with an effective radiated power of 20,000 watts as licensed by the Federal Communications

The new KANG antenna is put into place.

Commission. It is owned by the college, is operated by the communications department under the chairmanship of Dr. Elton Wallace, and its technical engineering arrangements are under the supervision of Walter M. Bolinger of the physics department. Students will handle most of the programming and announcing.

On August 2 the 80-foot tower, carrying an additional 40 feet of antenna, was raised into position on the site of the equipment center high on the hill behind Irwin Hall.

Complete with lighting, antenna direction cables, and all necessary equipment, the huge, steel, free-standing tower was hoisted into position onto a base platform of 22 tons of cement. The actual placing in position was accomplished by PUC's maintenance department under the direction of Gerald Young.

Two students have spent many weeks assembling the steel tower. Stanley Bisel of the physics department and Lance Campbell of the communications department cleaned, assembled, and painted the pieces of surplus steel that now hold PUC's KANG antenna. The antenna has been tested and already the efficiency is greatly increased in the present station. With a complete hook-up of the 20,000-watt equipment the new KANG will be an effective means of communication in Northern California.

Doctor Wallace reports increased activity in regard to programming. There will be college campus news, agricultural weather reports, children's programs, as well as features for homemakers and area listeners.

Questions on II-S

Under the new law, no person who has requested and received a deferment for undergraduate study shall be eligible for an additional deferment, except in cases involving extreme hardship, graduate study, or employment necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest.

The following questions and answers were distributed by National Headquarters of Selective Service and reflect their interpretation of the provisions of the new law:

Question: What requirements must I meet to qualify for a II-S classification as an undergraduate college student?

Answer: You must file a written request with your local board for deferment as an undergraduate college student. Additionally, you must provide your local board each year with convincing evidence that you are continuing to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning.

Question: How does the Selective Service System define the phrase "satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction" when the deferment of undergraduate college students is being considered?

Answer: To be considered as "satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction," an undergraduate student who is taking a four-year course should earn 25 percent of the credits required for his baccalaureate degree at the end of his first academic year, 50 percent at the end of his second academic year, and 75 percent at the end of his third academic year. In the case of a baccalaureate degree for which five years of study are prescribed by the institution, a student should earn 20 percent each year of the total credits required for the degree.

Question: What is meant by a "student's academic year"?

Answer: In determining eligibility for classification in Class II-S (college student), a student's academic year should include the 12-month period following the beginning of his course of study.

Question: In regard to college student deferments, is a junior college considered an institution of higher learning?

Answer: Yes, if the credits given by the junior college are acceptable toward the granting of a baccalaureate degree by a college, university, or similar institution of learning.

Question: What are the limitations, if any, on how long a person can be deferred as an undergraduate college student?

Answer: A registrant can be deferred in Class II-S as an undergraduate college student until he satisfies the requirement for his baccalaureate degree if completed within the normal and specified time, fails to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction, or becomes 24 years of age, whichever occurs first.

Question: Will registrants who become fathers after the new selective service law becomes effective be deferred in Class III-A?

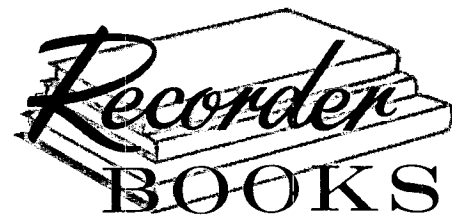

Answer: Every case is considered on an individual basis, hence an all-inclusive answer cannot be given. The only change made in eligibility requirements for deferment as a father (Class III-A) under the Military Selective Service Act of 1967, as compared with the former Universal Military Training and Service Act, is the addition of a restriction that registrants who are classified in Class II-S after the new Selective Service law went into effect (June 30, 1967) shall not be eligible for classification in Class III-A as fathers but may qualify on the basis of hardship to dependents.

New Books Released for the Lucky People—the Children

Children are about the luckiest people around this month. The array of new editions to brighten their bookshelves is exciting. The paperback format being used so extensively now by denominational publishers makes the prices attractive, too.

The tiniest tots will be fascinated by two new Pacific Press releases, I Found a Feather, and When You Open Your Bible, both by Paul Ricchiuti. Captivating illustrations by Howard Larkin lend a special charm to these two books for pre-schoolers.

Josephine Cunningham Edwards, without doubt one of the most prolific writers for young people, has added two new books to Pacific Press's Panda series.

Swift Arrow is an exciting tale of a young pioneer boy captured by marauding Indians. George Boylan remains with the tribe so long that he actually resembles an Indian. His fellow tribesmen give him an Indian name, an Indian bride, and do everything else imaginable to make a genuine brave out of the young paleface.

But George can't quite forget his early childhood, his kind Ma and Pa, and his home in Pennsylvania. He clings fiercely to his inner determination to return home, but as the conflict and tension increase, we begin to wonder if he will ever be successful.

Sibande is a collection of interesting vignettes about African life. Mrs. Edwards, who has spent a number of years in Africa herself, makes her background in the country's lore obvious in her stories.

Your juniors will enjoy both these books.

Just received some interesting information from several of our local conferences. They are planning extensive use of Seventh-day Adventists Today, A Report in Depth, edited by Bill Oliphant, in their upcoming Ingathering campaigns.

This Southern Publishing Association book is patterned after the popular National Observer "newsbook" series, and presents a concise, interesting picture of Seventh-day Adventist work around the world. The style is fast-paced, journalistic. The interpretative, "in depth" treatment of subject matter will impress any reader.

This book makes an excellent gift for Ingathering donors, particularly those business and civic leaders who are regular contributors to our yearly campaign. Some pastors are presenting copies of Seventh-day Adventists Today to people they baptize. Quantity prices are available from Southern Publishing Association.
