DO SOMETHING SPECIAL FOR OUR MISSION PROGRAM

The Sabbath School continues to be a significant part of our total church activity, and this is true for many reasons. As far as our boys and girls are concerned, it is in reality the church. As we grow older it becomes a center of Bible study. More than this, it prepares those in attendance for the worship service that follows immediately upon the conclusion of the Sabbath School. We cannot overemphasize the importance of the Sabbath School in the framework of church activity.

Many times we have mentioned, and we do not hesitate to do so again, that the Sabbath School is and should be mission oriented. Over the decades the Sabbath School has been the place where our mission opportunities have been kept before us. From the little children through to those of advanced age, all have been given the privilege of supporting financially our mission program. The heart of the advent message, as outlined by the Prophet John, is that the message is to go "to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people."

In reality those who stand at their posts of duty in different lands of earth are fulfilling this command that has been given to all of us. The responsibility is placed upon all either to go or to send and support those who fulfill this commitment for us. It becomes our pleasure and joy, not just our responsibility.

We are approaching another Thirteenth Sabbath. This is an opportunity to do something special for our mission program with the overflow beyond the normal budget going to the Far Eastern Division. Let us look forward to this day, and plan to do something special in proportion to the marvelous way in which the Lord has blessed us individually and collectively.

Our many thanks to you for loyally supporting the work of the church. May the Lord richly bless you as you plan for this sharing occasion.

"Life and Health" Has Much to Offer Regular Readers

Now that the children have settled into their back-to-school routine, a good breakfast is important, says the October issue of Life and Health. June Bishop, in her article entitled "How About Breakfast?" gives some advice that helps make poor-breakfast eaters sit up and take notice. Dr. Arthur L. Bietz, in the article "The Happy Family," tells how to develop a pleasant atmosphere in the family circle.

Don't miss these articles:

"A Nurse Has No Time for Tears," by Marylou Leng Blosser; the conclusion of "Meat Diet: Good or Bad?" by Dr. O. S. Parrett; "One-Visit Dentistry Without Discomfort," by Dr. Albert C. Koppel; and "Free Remedies," by Dr. J. DeWitt Fox.

The regular departments of Life and Health offer advice from a medical doctor, help for mothers, guidance for family problems, instruction in home nursing, and food facts.

Frequency Change for West Coast Radio Bible Study Group

Plans were made for a frequency change of the West Coast Amateur Radio Bible Study Group at the annual get-together of the group held the July 4 weekend at Wawona Camp in Yosemite National Park.

A new law enforced by the Federal Communications Commission prohibits general class amateur radio operators from operating on the segment of frequencies wherein lies the frequency used by the Bible Study Group for the past eleven years. So that as many as possible can join in the group, it was unanimously voted at the Sunday morning business meeting to change the frequency of the Bible Study Group to 3972 KHZ.

The Bible Study Group now will meet each morning at 6 o'clock local time on 3972 KHZ instead of the previous frequency of 3854 KHZ.

Forty-two "hams" with their families and guests checked in for the special weekend meeting, and a count of 125 was made on Sabbath morning, July 5. The lesson study was directed by Guy, W6ZTY, who for the past eleven years has faithfully directed the Bible Study Group on the air early each morning. Guest speaker Dr. Ira Baley, ZP5IT of Paraguay, centered his talk around the Scripture, "Ye are the salt of the earth."

To close this year's session, a new committee was elected to plan the 1970 meeting. Warm thanks are extended to those who helped plan this year's get-together, as well as to all who participated and attended, making it the largest yet.

BE SURE TO PARTICIPATE IN TESTIMONY COUNTDOWN

What? A man on the moon? Yes, we have placed a man on the moon.

Testimony Countdown! What's that? In this scientific age we are ever searching for ways to relate our closing message to the times. The White Estate has found a way to bring to our people the messages of the nine volumes of the Testimonies in a unique way. It is called Testimony Countdown.

All our pastors have been alerted to this new tool for teaching the important lessons contained in these special messages to the church. No doubt your pastor will be beginning this program in your church in September or October. It takes ten weeks, but it revolutionizes the prayer meeting.

In the Takoma Park Church, where the trial run was held, seats were at a premium every night and over 1,500 people gathered to hear the messages and to take the course. Many, after years of reading snatches here and there in these vital books, have expressed their appreciation for this program which introduced them for the first time to the historical setting of the volumes as well as the messages they contain for our time.

One young lady said to me, "I was reared in a Seventh-day Adventist home and had heard of Sister White and the testimonies all my life, but I did not know that they were really up to date for youth. These volumes and messages have opened up a whole new world of study for me."

When your pastor announces that the program is to begin in your church, may I urge you to avail yourself of the opportunity to discover God's gift to the church anew. Find out how these messages and counsels relate to your life and the problems each of us, as well as the church, faces in these times. You will be glad you did.

W. J. HACKETT, Chairman,
Spirit of Prophecy Committee.

EVANGELISM WILL MEET A GREAT NEED IN SAN RAFAEL

The city of San Rafael has no Seventh-day Adventist Church. The great need in this city of 36,706 population has been keenly felt by the conference and a beachhead has been established in the form of a Community Services Center. Elder Lester Bennett is leading at this center and has made some good contacts in the area.

The next phase in the plan begins September 13 in the form of an evangelistic series. Conference evangelist Elder Clifton Walter will be the speaker. The series will be held at the San Rafael Improvement Club, 5th and H streets. The meetings will convene Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, and Friday nights at 7:30. The opening night subject is "Social Revolt, Youth Rebellion, Religious Revolution, Anarchy! Why?" The color movie will be "The Misery of India."

The church members in the San Rafael area are urged to attend and bring a friend. This can be your part in bringing the gospel to this city.

Lakeside Community Hospital Opens a New Maternity Wing

On July 11 the Lakeside Community Hospital, Lakeport, California, officially opened its new and completely remodeled maternity wing.

This south wing of the hospital is modern, fully air-conditioned, and includes rooms for patients, a nursery, labor room, and delivery room. The delivery room has a new central oxygen supply and vacuum.

The nursery contains four bassinets and also a vestibule for examinations and for working with the newborn babies. It, too, contains a central oxygen supply and vacuum. This new maternity department is separated from the rest of the hospital by a special enclosure. Last year 128 babies were born at Lakeside Hospital.

Don Weaver of Alameda, California, and formerly of Ukiah, was the architect, and O. L. Dunken of Upper Lake, hospital engineer, was in charge of construction.

Further plans for remodeling in the future will be an enlarged surgery suite, enlarged kitchen and dining room, laboratory, X-ray, and office space.

Presently the Lakeside Community Hospital is a voluntary, non-profit hospital operating under the general non-profit laws of the State of California and is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

New Approach to Evangelism to Be Used in the Bay Area

Keys to Health and Happiness is a new approach to evangelism. This new method, proven successful, will be used in the Bay Area during the coming year.

Elder Reuben A. Hubbard and Elder Harold M. Keehnell, directors of the program, will hold meetings in Alameda, Vallejo, and Richmond. Alameda will be first, September 27 to December 6.

The format is entirely different. Designed to reach the multitudes, the program includes use of television, newspaper, radio, mail-outs, door-to-door work, and Five-Day Plans; Health Education Services for clubs, civic groups, and luncheon programs; and a series of health and Bible classes. It is an all-out assault to place the total message of Seventh-day Adventists before the community. Extensive ground work has already been done in Alameda under the direction of Elder Jack L. Bowlers, local pastor.

The evangelistic meetings are different, too. Instead of revival-style meetings and sermons, the meetings are conducted as classes. First is the health class under the direction of Elder Hubbard and Mrs. Rhoda Keehnell, R.N. Practical information is given on drug abuse, cancer, prevention of heart attacks, weight control, mental health, physical fitness, and kicking the tobacco habit.

The Bible classes follow, not as a sermon, but as discussion with audience participation. You have never seen anything like it. Elder Hubbard and Elder Keehnell are seated behind a table and present the class together in a discussion format. This has attracted favorable comment, even from those who are not religiously oriented. Lessons are handed out nightly on the subjects discussed in both health education and Bible education. The lessons are filled out at home and returned the next night. Visiting centers largely on those who miss a class, so that the instruction can be repeated and the prospect brought right along with the total program.

Keys to Health and Happiness centers its success upon two new evangelistic approaches: (1) a complete community survey of interest, follow-up, and enrollment in the adult education classes; and (2) conducting "classes" rather than evangelistic meetings. Larger segments of the public are thus attracted to attend.

If you live in the Bay Area, why not bring your non-Adventist friends to the series in Alameda and watch the Keys to Health and Happiness program in operation? It's new! It's different! The opening night is Saturday, September 27, in the Veterans Memorial Building in Alameda, on Central Avenue right across from Alameda High School, just off Park Street. The time—7 p.m. W. B. BRISTOW.

Kenneth Wilber Family Leaves Hawaii for the Mainland

Kenneth Wilber, who has served the Hawaiian Mission for more than five years as publishing department secretary, left the Islands recently to return to the mainland.

Mr. Wilber will be enrolling for school on the La Sierra campus of Loma Linda University to further his preparation for active field ministry. His years in the publishing work have given him special ability in approaching homes to place our books and publications, and this will greatly aid him in finding interested souls in the area he serves.

In addition to carrying his departmental leadership responsibilities, Mr. Wilber also spent a good measure of time during recent months in giving personal Bible studies to colporteur interests. It was his happy privilege to see a family, to whom he had given a series of Bible studies, baptized into the Kaneohe Church very shortly before his leaving.

The literature evangelists of the mission honored Mr. Wilber in a special way just prior to his leaving, by presenting him with a gift that will long remain in the Wilber home in memory of these fine co-workers.

Mr. Wilber will be remembered in Hawaii as a congenial, enthusiastic Christian. His wife and family were deeply interested in his work, and were loved by the constituency as a whole.

We wish this fine family the greatest of blessings as they look forward, first to a period of additional preparation, and then to a wider service in the cause of God.

A. G. STREIFLING.

Hawaiian Mission

New Hawaiian Mission Office Secretary Is Jean Perkins

Jean Perkins, who recently returned from the Far Eastern Division, began her work as an office secretary in the Hawaiian Mission on Monday, August 18. Miss Perkins comes to Hawaii eminently prepared and well equipped to serve through her years of employment in our denominational offices.

In the nine years that she spent in the Far Eastern Division she served as medical secretary at the Bangkok Sanitarium and

Jean Perkins

Hospital in Bangkok, Thailand, as well as spending one year as dean of girls at Far Eastern Academy in Singapore. She began her denominational work as a secretary in the medical department in the Northern California Conference. Later she transferred to the Voice of Prophecy where she edited the Voice of Prophecy news, and prior to going to the Orient she served at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital as a medical secretary.

Miss Perkins will be serving as secretary in the education, MV, and publishing departments. The constituents in the field will have much contact with her, and we are confident that each one will find meeting our new office secretary a pleasure.

We welcome Miss Perkins to this growing and happy family of workers privileged to serve here in the "crossroads of the Pacific"—beautiful Hawaii.

A. G. STREIFLING.

Taken by surprise, Mr. Wilber receives a remembrance from the literature evangelists of Hawaii.

Two Families Take Up Teaching Responsibilities in Hawaii

It is our happy privilege to introduce two new families to the members of the Hawaiian Mission.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buntain recently moved from Wasco, California, to Hilo, Hawaii, where Mrs. Buntain will teach grades one through four. If a special English program develops for Japanese-speaking young people, Mr. Buntain will then teach in this department.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buntain

The Buntains are both professional teachers of long standing. Mr. Buntain has taught for 34 years and Mrs. Buntain for 27 years. Their rich background and experience will certainly strengthen our educational program in the Hawaiian Islands.

We are also pleased to introduce Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Jorgensen as teachers to the friendly Island of Molokai. The Jorgensens come to us from Pacific Union College where Mr. Jorgensen was teaching in the agricultural department.

Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Jorgensen

After a number of years spent in our elementary schools, our academies and colleges on the mainland, they now come to Molokai. Mr. Jorgensen is to be our new principal and upper grade teacher. Aside from his busy schedule, he is interested in developing a wood-working program for the students of Molokai.

Both of these families have already won the hearts of our island folk as they have entered wholeheartedly into a busy schedule. We wish both the Buntains and the Jorgensens a hearty aloha and mahalo for coming to Hawaii. Won't you pray for these two new families as they enter upon the important task of training our young people here in Hawaii?

MARVIN M. SEIBEL,
Education Department.

New Workers Arrive in the Central California Conference

Among the new workers coming to our field during the summer and early fall months is the J. L. Edwards family. Elder Edwards is a graduate of Southern Missionary College, and has spent much of his service years in the education field. For the past five years he has been on the staff at Orangewood Academy in Garden Grove, Elder and Mrs. J. L. Edwards and their son, James L., Jr.

California. Elder Edwards, his wife, and their son, James LeRoy, Jr., moved to Oakdale in July where he will pastor our churches in Oakdale and Waterford. We know the people in the Oakdale area will benefit from the Edwards' ministry.

Elder Orvin M. Fillman and his family moved during mid-summer from West Palm Beach, Florida, to Watsonville to take over the responsibilities of the church there. His family includes his wife, Ruby, and three children: Tom, 18; Perdita Jean, 16; and Jere, 13. Elder Fillman is a graduate of Union College and served in the Minnesota, Wyoming, and Southern California conferences before going to Florida. Now we are very happy to welcome them back to the West Coast and the Central California Conference.

Elder and Mrs. Walter Streifling joined our staff of workers this month to pastor the church at San Luis Obispo. Elder Streifling is a native of Canada and received most of his education there. After graduating from Walla Walla College he returned to Canada to serve in the Alberta, Manitoba-Saskatchewan, Ontario-Quebec, and British Columbia conferences before going to the Oregon Conference to do pastoral work in the Portland, Oregon, area. His most recent assignment was pastoring the Montevilla Church in Portland.

We are happy to introduce these new workers to our constituency and wish them God's richest blessings as they take up their new responsibilities.

M. C. TORKELSEN, President.

Eric B. Hare Is High Light of Summer Camping at Wawona

Hiking, horseback riding, swimming, archery, nature and craft classes, exciting campfire programs, and delicious food have been enjoyed by the hundreds of campers attending Camp Wawona this summer.

The high light of our camping season was the presence of Elder Eric B. Hare, affectionately known as "Dr. Rabbit." It was our privilege to have Elder Hare with us for three weeks. His inspiration was felt by both campers and staff. It was evident in all in which he participated that he had a sincere love for the young people. Elder Hare was not only our camp pastor, but, in addition to this, each week he told a continued story, played "To the Colors" for flag raising and lowering, and yet found time for visiting with many of the campers and staff.

As usual, Mrs. Clara Wolfson Morris and Elder Wilbur Holbrook were with us for the entire summer. They have spent 41 and 26 summers at Wawona, respectively. Their interest and dedication to the camp program is appreciated more than words can express.

We also want to take this opportunity to thank our medical staff—Doctors Carty, Wileman, Yip, Barr, Zeismer, and Johnstone; and nurses, Mesdames Johnston, Pratt, Barr, Zeismer and Johnstone. Their contribution was a major factor in the success of the camp program.

Our staff this summer was the greatest! We certainly appreciated the dedication and hard work of each one to his particular area of duty.

We urge all constituent members of Central California to encourage the boys and girls and young people to attend Camp Wawona in 1970! At this time please accept our "thank you" for sending to us such wonderful boys and girls. May God richly bless each of your homes as you prepare His flock for His kingdom soon to come.

A King That Knew Not Joseph

Joseph was one of the greatest men of history. In the hands of God he was an instrument in a time of crisis to save two nations—Egypt and Israel. "To the ancient Egyptian nation God made Joseph a fountain of life. Through the integrity of Joseph the life of that whole people was preserved."—Acts of the Apostles, p. 13. It was the divine plan that through him Egypt and other nations should behold "an illustration of the goodness and beneficence of God, an illustration of the love of Christ."—Education, p. 57.

It was a sad day for both Israel and Egypt when "another king arose, which knew not Joseph."—Acts 7:18. It should never have happened. The character and deeds of this great man should have been faithfully repeated to the highest and lowliest from one generation to another.

The Israelites just plainly neglected to report the missionary work that God was doing through them as a nation. The neglect of Israel was in part responsible for the coming of a king in Egypt who was ignorant of Egypt's indebtedness to Joseph. How different the Exodus might have been if the Pharaoh had been kept informed about Joseph and his God!

Reporting our missionary work is a part of heaven's plan today. "A report is borne to heaven of every successful effort on our part to dispel the darkness and to spread abroad the knowledge of Christ. As the deed is recounted before the Father, joy thrills through all the heavenly host."—Acts of the Apostles, p. 154. Angels report to the Father in heaven. Will you be an angel on earth and report your missionary work to your church lay activities secretary?

FALL RADIO - TV PROGRAM TO BEGIN SEPTEMBER 15

September 15 marks a significant day in radio-television evangelism in our conference. On this day we will start our conference - sponsored fall program of sending the gospel past closed doors into the homes of the people by way of radio and television.

Many new programs will appear on the "It Is Written" TV series with Elder George Vandeman as speaker. This series can be seen each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 7:30 a.m. over Channel 9, KHJ-TV. This may seem like a strange hour to send out this series, but we have had an excellent response during the spring series. It is very difficult to have a choice of time when buying religious time.

On Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 a.m., KHJ-TV, Channel 9, will release "Paul Harvey Reads The Bible Story" as

G. E. Vandeman

Art Students Learn Dangers of Drugs by Making Posters

The Conejo Valley Elementary School has reason to be very happy with the way its students are learning the dangers of using alcohol, tobacco, and drugs.

Their art teacher, Mrs. Harry Van Pelt, thought of a unique way for them to learn of these hazards. Her art class produced 24 posters on temperance. As these posters were prepared, you can rest assured that the students had a real opportunity of coming face to face with the problems that arise in the use of these killers.

Temperance Department.

Earl Spaulding Succeeds King Hooper as Holbrook Principal

Recently it became necessary for King Hooper to resign as principal of the Navajo Mission School at Holbrook. Mr. Hooper had served at the school for the past five years, four of them as principal. However, due to deteriorating health, he was forced to give up his post. We pray God's richest blessings upon Mr. and Mrs. Hooper and their children as they leave our field.

To fill this important post, the board voted to call Earl Spaulding from the Missouri Conference. Mr. Spaulding has accepted the invitation and he and his family are already on the campus.

Mr. Spaulding graduated from La Sierra College in 1950 with a degree in Business Administration. He entered denominational service as cashier at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium. He since has served as accountant and teacher at Mount Pisgah Academy in North Carolina; principal of the Boulder, Colorado, Junior Academy; principal of the Kansas City, Missouri, Junior Academy; and the past two years as principal of Sunnyslope Academy, Centralia, Missouri. In 1965 he received his

Phoenix Area Youth Feel Well Repaid for Service Rendered

Service to fellow human beings is one of the great privileges of the Christian. When opportunity of service is presented we can never be certain whether it will be the last or not.

A little over a year ago the young people of the Phoenix area churches joined in building a home for an elderly Indian woman. Just exactly a year after Mrs. Nellie Quail moved into her new home she died. During most of her 87 years she lived without the conveniences most people take for granted. For years she had lived in an adobe house with no plumbing of any kind. Her new home had modern plumbing, including a bathtub, which was her pride and joy.

Only a year in her new home. All the work that went into it—was it worth the effort? Any young person who witnessed the deep appreciation in this elderly person knows that her last happy year repaid them for their effort. The demonstration of Christian concern and the satisfaction it brings is reward enough.

This lesson is one the whole church should learn. We should care enough to become totally involved in the whole church program. The world is dying for the lack of love, a love that involves people. When we help someone we never know whether this was our last opportunity. Just suppose Phoenix Seventh-day Adventist young people had waited until next year?

Master's degree in Secondary School Administration from the University of Colorado.

He and his wife, Martha, have two children: Cam, 16, will be a junior at Thunderbird Academy, and Kristy, 11, will be in the sixth grade at the Holbrook school.

We are very happy to have this lovely family join the working force in Arizona. We join our prayers for their successful service in this mission program.

Others joining the staff at Holbrook include Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Henderson from Gentry, Arkansas. Mr. Henderson will serve as the treasurer for the school, and his wife will be the dean of girls.

Mr. Laverne Roth from Riverside, California, has accepted the invitation to become the dean of boys at the school. Mr. David Rowland from Glendale, California, will be teaching grades five and six, and Mr. Hans Zwick from Loma Linda University will teach grades seven and eight.

We extend a hearty Arizona welcome to each of these individuals.

Also participating are Elder Harry Sackett of the Sunnyslope Church, Mr. Steve McPherson of the Prescott District, Mr. Jeff Wilson of the Tucson District, and Mr. Duane Lemons of the Glendale District. Their wives accompanied them and are participating in the classwork.

The school began September 6 and will run through September 27. The school consists of classes in evangelistic procedures, visitation with experienced personal workers, and taking part in a major evangelistic crusade.

Chaplain Receives a Unique Request From Marine Private

It is a unique experience for a chaplain to receive a request for Bible studies and eventual baptism into the church, particularly when the request comes from a Marine private who had gone through the greater part of his weapons training as a recruit.

But such was the case with Private Jose M. Valdez, Jr., who was baptized by Chaplain Harold Eslinger in the Vista Seventh-day Adventist Church on Sabbath, June 14.

Under the tutorship of his Seventh-day Adventist wife, the former Miss Linda Babcock of Los Angeles, Jose, who was reared a Roman Catholic, began studying the beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist faith. He early became convinced about the claims of the seventh-day Sabbath and the truth that the dead rest in their graves until the resurrection morning.

However, it was not until Jose was confronted with the rigors of military life and its objectives as realized in the Marine Corps that he began to seriously consider the real goals in life and his need to do and believe what God proclaimed in His Holy Word.

Learning that a Seventh-day Adventist Chaplain was at Camp Pendleton, Jose contacted Chaplain Eslinger expressing his desire to study deeper into the church's teachings and requested that he be examined and eventually baptized into its membership. "It was a pleasure to comply with such a request," remarks Chaplain Eslinger.

Jose was granted a non-combatant status and now awaits reassignment in his Military Occupational Specialty to an area of duty where he is best suited.

Already he has been subjected to harassment and ridicule by his drill instructors and fellow trainees. "I accept it as cheerfully as I can," says Jose, "and take advantage of every opportunity to tell others of my new-found faith."

Life Story of Dr. William M. Landeen Told in a New Book

A new book about the president emeritus of the former La Sierra College has been published by Southern Publishing Association, Nashville, Tennessee.

From Immigrant to Emissary, written by Doris Holt Haussler, wife of Loma Linda University professor of religion J. Cecil Haussler, relates the life story of Dr. William M. Landeen.

Currently professor of history at Loma Linda University, Dr. Landeen arrived in Canada at age 17 as an immigrant from Sweden. He took his undergraduate work at Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington, and received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Dr. Landeen served as president of Walla Walla College from 1933 to 1938; was drafted into the United States Army at the age of 53 and sent to Germany with the army of occupation where he coordinated the restoration of southern Germany's ruined educational system; was president of La Sierra College in 1960 for two years; and was asked to serve again as president in 1963 following the death of Dr. Fabian Meier.

The book is available at all local Book and Bible houses.

One Man's Search for Truth About God's Love and Justice

Lisha Rouse couldn't help wondering where the dead Indian's soul had gone. Somehow horse stealing didn't seem a sin terrible enough to roast a young fellow in hell for thousands of years, he felt.

In writing Montana Bullwhacker, a recent Destiny paperback by Pacific Press, C. C. Rouse confronts readers with the same uneasy question that shadowed 16-year-old Lisha Rouse—What happens after people die?

During the Civil War Lisha and his brother Elliot, a stern atheist, had driven their wagon north to the gold fields. Unsuccessful at placer mining in a camp ruled by outlaws, they turned to farming and freighting. Vigilante "justice" broke up the Plummer gang, but with each eruption of tragedy and violence the question of Divine justice re-echoed in Lisha's mind.

Captured by the Sioux, tied across an anthill to die of pain and thirst, he confronted God with his total helplessness. That night's experience led him in a new direction that, over the years, provided the answers.

More than a grandson's account of the breakthrough into Montana territory and the beginnings of Mount Ellis Academy, more than a frontier adventure spanning sixty years, Montana Bullwhacker might be termed a "doctrinal Western." It brings alive a man's search for truth about God's love and justice.

More than a thrilling story expertly told, this book meets a real need. It is actually being used in evangelism to present a convincing case for Bible truth on the state of man in death. About 5,000 copies a month are being sold.

You can buy the 128-page illustrated paperback for $1.65 at your Book and Bible House or order through your local church lay activities secretary.
