"The Patriarch of Howell Mountain" Passes to His Rest

By ROGER W. COON

Director of College Relations, Pacific Union College

Pacific Union College said "goodbye" October 16 to one of its pioneers who was known affectionately by many of his students as "The Patriarch of Howell Mountain."

The funeral service of the late Dr. Noah Ernest Paulin was held that Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the dimly-lit recital hall of the new million-dollar music center on the Angwin campus which bears his name.

The white-haired founder of the PUC music department had passed to his rest three days earlier as a result of a mild stroke at the age of 91.

Dr. Paulin was born July 7, 1878, in Upper Sandusky, Ohio. His early love for music led him to formal training at Findlay College in that State where he studied from 1898 to 1901.

Dr. Noah E. Paulin.

During the first two years following graduation the young musician joined a popular group of 60, known as the Henry Minstrels, as its orchestra conductor; and they performed in many American cities across the land.

In 1905 the Paulin family moved to Santa Barbara, California; and Noah, now 27, took graduate courses in music at the former Santa Barbara State Teachers' College, now a campus of the University of California. He established a music studio in that city, teaching there from 1905 to 1914.

While there, in 1909, Dr. Paulin became deeply interested in the message of Seventh-day Adventists as a result of attending evangelistic services conducted by Elder Stewart Kime, brother of the late Mrs. Guy F. Wolfkill. Through the labors of the former, he was subsequently baptized.

He considered this spiritual discovery the most important event of his life, according to his former pastor, Elder Arthur J. Escobar, who was also a former student.

Rejoicing in the great advent truth, he began, in 1910, to play his violin at camp meetings and other general church gatherings of our people throughout southern California.

Invited by Prof. C. Walter Irwin, then president of Pacific Union College, to establish a music department on the campus only recently relocated at Angwin from Healdsburg, Noah E. Paulin came in 1914 with his violin, music, and a few personal possessions to begin his new work for the church he loved so much.

In 1917 he was united with Miss Mary Louise Plunkett of Escondido, California, in a marriage which would continue 52 years until the passing of Mrs. Paulin last August 20.

Invited to PUC

Their home for more than half a century, the old Colusa house, was for his first three bachelor years on campus his music studio. Then, to make room for his bride, the studio was relocated in Granger Hall; and still later, in 1932, it was moved to the first of the two buildings on campus which successively have borne his name.

As Willeta Bolinger, a former colleague, once remarked, "Noah E. Paulin not only built the music department at Pacific Union College; for many years he was the music department." He himself was often fond of observing, "I have played in and played out every college president since C. Walter Irwin with my violin."

His years of service were fruitful ones as he led the college band, the orchestra, the Sabbath school orchestra, and various ensemble groups. He taught music theory classes and gave instruction upon his favorite instrument, the violin.

The first Paulin Hall (now the Student Center) was in time outgrown; and in April 1966 a new, modern music center was dedicated—the first building of the "new" PUC—and the name was transferred to perpetuate the memory of this doughty pioneer.

Honorary Doctorate

On June 9, 1968, Pacific Union College granted its first doctorate, an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts degree, to Noah E. Paulin, whose name on this mountaintop epitomizes excellence in creative artistry and fidelity in dedicated service.

On this occasion he was cited by President Floyd O. Rittenhouse for his "unswerving dedication to the highest standards of musical excellence, faithful adherence to Christian principles, penetrating insight into the wellsprings of human conduct, consistency, dependability, unflinching kindness, scholarly tastes and ideals, persistence and patience in difficulty, and

PHYSICIAN URGENTLY NEEDED IN FAR EASTERN DIVISION

The Far Eastern Division urgently needs the help of a relief physician for nine months beginning March 1, 1970, through November 30, 1970. One man could fill this need or three physicians could divide the time and each go for a three-month period. The needs are in Bangkok, Haad Yai, and Bhuket, Thailand.

Should you be able to provide such assistance this coming year please contact William Wagner, M.D., at the General Conference Department of Health, Loma Linda University.

The Voice of Prophecy Needs Names of Coin, Stamp Dealers

The Voice of Prophecy is very interested in receiving the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of Seventh-day Adventist coin and stamp dealers in the Pacific Union Conference. There are times when we need professional counsel on coin and stamp collections. Your kindness in communicating this information to the undersigned would be very helpful. Thank you.

an unflinching and delicious sense of humor."

After 51 years living in the same bungalow, Noah and Mary Paulin moved from the Colusa home on the Angwin campus to the Crystal Springs home on the grounds of the St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital in 1968.

At the memorial service October 16, Barbara Tonsberg played the familiar, simple gospel melodies so beloved by this unpretentious musician upon the Casavant organ as more than 200 former colleagues, students, and neighbors from Angwin and St. Helena arrived for the last rites of his church.

Elder Ervin L. Sorensen, former associate pastor of the College Church of which Dr. and Mrs. Paulin were members who is now a PUC religion department professor, read the Scripture lesson from Psalm 23, offered a brief prayer, and then sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Dr. Guy F. Wolfkill, professor emeritus of education and one of only two living former faculty members who remember Dr. Paulin's arrival at Angwin in 1914, read the formal obituary, to which he added his own personal testimony:

"In his 55 years of life on this moun-

The Adventist Student Press Association Meets at Andrews

Thirty editors, writers, and sponsors of Seventh-day Adventist college newspapers met at Andrews University October 23 to 26 for the first annual convention of the Seventh-day Adventist Student Press Association.

Ten of the twelve Adventist colleges in North America were represented at the convention.

Early sessions centered on the mechanics of newspaper production, with such topics as news gathering and editing, editorial and feature writing, advertising layout and design, and newspaper photography, makeup, and printing being discussed.

The ten Adventist college newspapers were represented by students and sponsors at the convention of the Seventh-day Adventist Student Press Association held October 23 to 26 at Andrews University.

Three lectures the last day dealt with the philosophy of college journalism. Dr. Richard Hammill, president of Andrews University, explained "What the Administration Expects of the Student Newspaper"; Eric Anderson, editor of the student newspaper at Andrews, discussed "What the Student Newspaper Expects of the Administration"; and Don Yost, associate editor of the Review and Herald, presented "What the Church Expects of the Student Newspaper."

The Adventist Student Press Association, formed last May, was organized to promote the solidarity and professionalism of Seventh-day Adventist student journalists, according to Malcolm Russell, president of the association, and one of the editors of the student paper at Columbia Union College, Washington, D.C.

Medical-Ministerial Fellowship folk attending Sabbath services in the ballroom of the Del Coronado Hotel.

Ministers Chorus, under the direction of D. Lorne Jones, provides special music for the church service at the Medical-Ministerial Fellowship.

Eleven Hundred Attend Medical-Ministerial Fellowship

Over 1,100 were in attendance at Southern's Medical-Ministerial Fellowship over the weekend of November 14 to 16. The session was held at the historic Del Coronado Hotel just across the bay from San Diego.

Elder Neal Wilson, vice president of the General Conference, gave the keynote message when he spoke on the theme of the fellowship, "To Whom Much Is Given."

Elders H. M. S. Richards, Helmuth C. Retzer, Neal Wilson, and Leslie Hardinge, principal speakers, talk together.

During the Sabbath School Dr. Albert Whiting of Loma Linda University gave the mission story and told of his experience in "Biafra Today." Dr. Leslie Hardinge of Pacific Union College taught the Sabbath School lesson.

Veteran radio broadcaster, H. M. S. Richards of The Voice of Prophecy, preached during the worship hour and challenged the fellowship with his sermon "The Mantle of Elijah." Elder Richards is completing forty years of broadcasting.

Two panels moderated by Dr. Gus H. Hoehn and Dr. Albert F. Brown dealt with the important subjects of "Help Stamp Out Evolution" and "The Team Approach to Soul Winning."

The Ministers Chorus sang during the worship hour and also presented a vesper program. Throughout the session sacred music was presented by a number of the ministers and medical personnel attending the Fellowship.

During the fellowship hour on Saturday evening the gymnastic team from the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University was featured. Elder Herman L. Kibble, pastor of the Altadena Church, served as master of ceremonies.

The fellowship was concluded on Sunday morning when Elder Neal Wilson spoke on the subject of "Creationism."

Gus Hoehn, M.D., leads in the panel discussion "Help Stamp Out Evolution."

British Evangelist Lacey to Serve the San Diego Area

An evangelist to serve primarily in the San Diego area has been called to begin working in that area in 1970.

Kenneth Lacey

Elder Kenneth Lacey will arrive in Southeastern in December, having served in the Montana Conference for the past one and a half years.

Born and raised in England, Elder Lacey received a degree in the theology from Newbold Missionary College in 1941. He served in pastoral and evangelistic work in the British Isles until 1964 when he was called to the British Columbia Conference. He remained there until coming to Montana to serve as conference evangelist. He was ordained to the gospel ministry in Watford, England, in 1946.

During his work in England, he was resident speaker at London's New Gallery Centre for more than three years and was the first British worker to baptize more than one hundred souls in one year in the British Isles.

Elder Lacey and his wife, Monica, have four children—Michael, Robin, Beverley, and Stephen.

We are confident that the evangelistic program of our conference will profit from this addition to the worker staff.

JOHN W. OSBORN, President.

Special Hours for Holidays at the Book and Bible House

The Southeastern California Book and Bible House will be open the first three Sundays in December, the seventh, fourteenth, and twenty-first, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Loma Linda Book Shop, our branch store in Loma Linda, is always open on Sunday. Keep this in mind for other times of the year when you may need to obtain some article from the Book and Bible House.

The Loma Linda Book Shop is located at 11114 Anderson. Look for the big "Book and Bible House" sign.

Shop early while the good selection of merchandise lasts.

Several Southeastern Worker Appointments Made Recently

Several worker appointments were made recently and these workers are now serving in their various locations.

Three ministerial interns have returned from Andrews University to serve churches. Roland Bainer is assisting at Redlands, Gary Gifford is at Paradise Valley, and David Yates is at the San Diego 31st Street Church.

Elder Robert Hirst, who is taking additional studies in public health at Loma Linda, is serving part time as pastor of the Mira Loma Church.

Sidney Rittenhouse has been appointed administrator at the University Church in Loma Linda. Elder W. H. Mattison, who is on furlough from India, is serving as an interim pastor for the University Church while Elder James Mershon completes work for a Bachelor of Divinity degree at Andrews University.

Pastor Carlos Malan is currently assisting Spanish-speaking congregations in Fullerton and Santa Ana. Grey Banta is serving the Elsinore and Perris congregations, having served for several years as English and Bible teacher at Loma Linda Academy. He has also taught at other schools.

May the Lord bless these men as they serve Him in their posts of labor.

JOHN W. OSBORN, President.

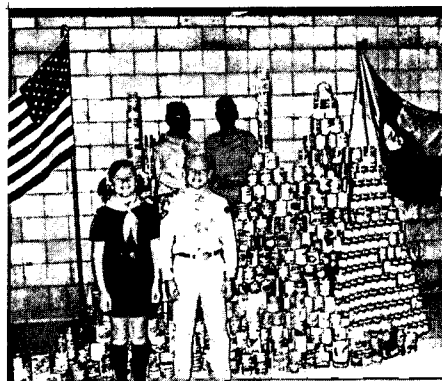

Yucaipa Valley Pathfinders Find Joy in Helping Others

Yucaipa Valley Pathfinders went out the evening before Halloween with a surge of enthusiasm born of the joy of doing something for others as they went from door to door asking for canned goods instead of treats for themselves.

Thirty-seven young people of the Yucaipa and Calimesa churches joined in collecting over 125 cans which will eventually reach the Indian reservations to help ease hunger which might otherwise be great this winter.

A tired group of youngsters came back to their club room with another practical lesson learned in "Christianity in Action."

Pathfinder Camporee Is Held at Hidden Valley Ranch

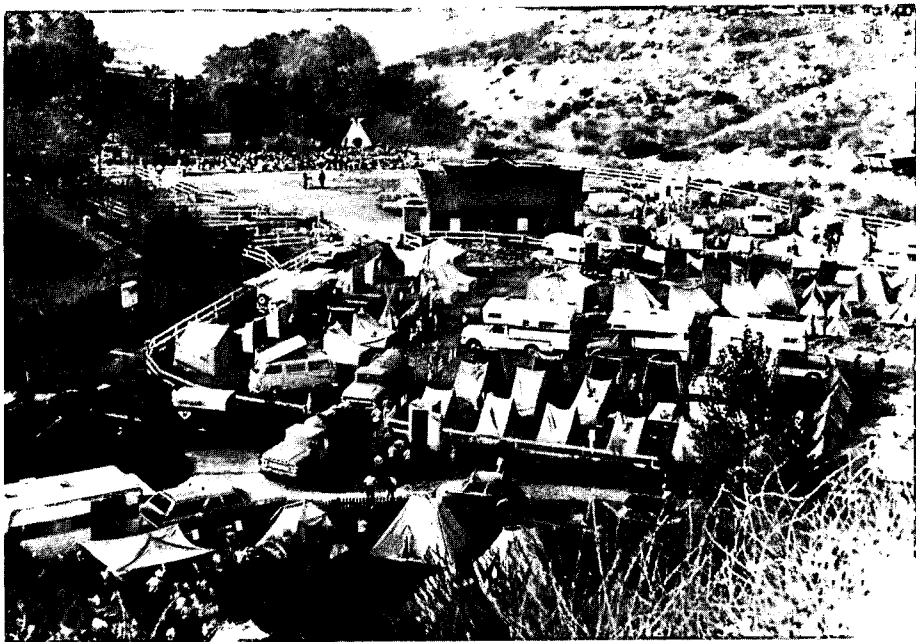

Before sundown Friday evening, October 24, Rupperts' Hidden Valley Ranch near Redlands was flooded with Pathfinders. Coming in buses, cars, campers, and trucks, 43 clubs pitched their camps beside a little lake and on the surrounding hills.

Including the staff and counselors as well as Pathfinders there were 1,538 persons who attended this camporee. It was one of the biggest and most enthusiastically received camporees held in Southeastern California Conference.

One of the most significant points of the camporee was a visit by United States Congressman Jerry Pettis who spoke to the assembly at the beginning of the Sabbath morning service. He and his wife made a special visit to the Mentone club's

FIRST YEAR OF OCCUPANCY FOR PARADISE VALLEY MANOR

The Paradise Valley Manor, a home for elderly members, completed its first year of occupancy at the beginning of November. It has maintained about 50 guests throughout this year. There has been only a small change in occupancy during the year.

At present there is no waiting list for couples, but there is a waiting list for single occupancy rooms. There is an anticipated opening for couples during the next few months.

The Manor has become an accepted community within National City and the residents may be frequently seen going about the city.

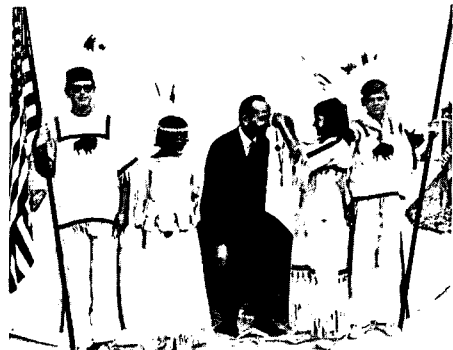

Many of our residents have expressed appreciation for the fine facility the Southeastern California Conference has provided for senior citizen members. The management has been able to assist many residents in their financial arrangements in order that they may live at the Manor.

Anyone who wishes to receive further information about securing residence at the Manor may write to the manager: Mr. Alvin Britt, 2575 East Eighth, National City, California 92050. Phone 714 474-6311, Ext. 424.

camp to review selected members in Indian costume.

The camporee had originally been scheduled to be held near Big Bear Lake, but because of threatening weather it was held at the Redlands location.

Friday evening's program featured an Indian pageant written by Betty Davenport of Long Beach. Elder Harry Garlick, Mentone Pathfinders give Congressman Jerry Pettis an Indian welcome as he visits their club during the recent Pathfinder Camporee near Redlands.

Pacific Union associate MV secretary, spoke at the worship hour Sabbath morning. Sabbath School was presented by the Loma Linda club.

The afternoon MV program conducted by Elder Dave Taylor featured a giant crossword puzzle about Bible characters, places, and events. That evening there was an Indian costume contest for the boys, girls, and counselors. Each club submitted an entry for an artistically decorated canoe paddle contest. To conclude the evening there was a film which also continued the weekend theme about the American Indians.

Full inspection of the camp Sunday morning was followed by authentic Indian games and contests. Several clubs had designed their whole weekend's activities around the theme and even housed their members in teepees. The Oceanside club brought along a large totem pole made especially for the event!

The weekend was concluded with a challenge to the Pathfinders for an effective Christian witness.

Sabbath School Department Reports Items of Interest

Teacher Training: Elder W. J. Harris reports that 19 certificates were awarded to those who completed the Teachers Training Course at Lodi Fairmont, and that 12 completed the course at the Orland Church. We appreciate the splendid contribution that Elder Harris is making to the Sabbath School work of our conference. Churches wishing to secure the services of Elder Harris should contact the Sabbath School Department.

Sabbath School Outreach: At the present time there are 27 Branch Sabbath Schools, Neighborhood Bible Clubs, and Story Hours in operation. The newest addition in Sabbath School Outreach comes from the Pittsburg Church where a Branch Sabbath School has just begun. Brother and Sister Charles Temple are coordinating our Branch Sabbath School program from the Pacific Union College Church. So far five Branch Sabbath Schools have been launched. Last year before school was out 20 Branch Sabbath Schools were being conducted from the college. We are hoping to double that figure this year.

Tapes: Long playing tapes featuring Dr. Leslie Hardinge of Pacific Union College, covering the First Quarter of 1970 Sabbath School lessons, will be available at the Bay Area and Napa area workshops December 6 and 13. These are recommended for teachers meetings. Cost is $2.50.

Appreciation: We would like to express sincere appreciation to our loyal Sabbath School teachers and officers in Northern California. As 1969 draws to a close, we thank God for past accomplishments, but our eyes are on higher horizons for 1970.

C. H. BERTZ, Secretary,
Sabbath School Department.

"Messiah" to Be Presented at Ukiah Church December 7

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented by the 70-voice Mendocino County Chorus under the direction of Esther T. Munroe on Sunday, December 7, 4 p.m., at the Ukiah Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1390 Laws Avenue.

Soloists will be James Kempster, tenor, and Sharon Sage, contralto, of Pacific Union College; Shirley Ann Monroe, soprano; and Ralph Gates, bass.

Accompaniment will be played by William Mintner, organist of the Pasadena Seventh-day Adventist Church; Ziegfried Schultze, well-known European concert pianist; and symphony solo flutist, Monti Grutzmacker of Pasadena.

Admission will be free and an offering will be taken.

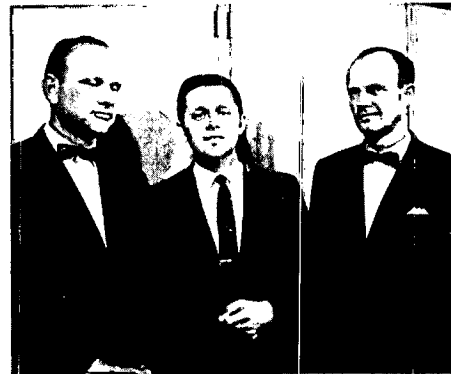

SHIRLEY ANN MUNROE,
PR Secy., Ukiah Church.

J. B. CURRIER RETURNS TO NEVADA-UTAH CONFERENCE

Elder J. B. Currier is returning to the Nevada-Utah Conference where he was a successful pastor-evangelist for ten years.

He was district leader in the Salt Lake City area for six years.

Since leaving this conference Elder Currier has pastored churches in Garden Grove, Merced, and Madera, California, and other churches in Arizona.

Elder and Mrs. Currier have accepted a call to the Moab-Price District in Utah and their furniture has been moved to the parsonage in Moab where they will make their home the first of December after the conclusion of an evangelistic meeting in Arizona.

The Curriers have many friends in the Nevada-Utah Conference and we are delighted that they are returning.

D. E. DIRKSEN, President.

Elder and Mrs. J. B. Currier; he is the new pastor for the Moab-Price District.

Winnemucca Holds Nutrition and Food Preparation Classes

An average of ten persons each evening attended the Nutrition and Food Preparation classes November 10 to 12 sponsored for the Winnemucca community by the local Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Mrs. Lois Stewart came from Carson City to lecture for two of the classes. The last evening's program was presented by two of the local members, Mrs. Helen Reed and Mrs. Linda MacCarty.

Mrs. Lois Stewart of Carson City, Nevada, spent two days with the Winnemucca, Nevada, group in their Nutrition and Food Preparation classes.

The non-Adventists who attended the three classes, as well as the local church members, appreciated the valuable information and the delicious samples that were served each evening. The classes were held in the lounge of the new Humboldt County Library.

We pray that more will be done to bring the "good news of healthful living" to our communities and that these programs will be productive.

MRS. LINDA MACCARTY, PR Secy., Winnemucca Company.

"Treats for Needy" Program Appreciated by Reno Mother

"Last night a little boy knocked on my door and offered me a paper sack with some literature tucked inside. He explained he was collecting canned goods for the needy.

"After reading your letter and request for food for our poorer neighbors, I really felt very enthusiastic about your program. For years I have condemned parents for permitting their children to bang on doors and demand treats at Halloween. I have never bought Halloween treats to hand out and will not permit my four children to go around demanding such treats from others. . . .

"So, may I tell you how very pleased I am that this Halloween some children somewhere are doing something constructive to help their neighbors. I do hope your program will be a huge success and that you will continue your good work for a long time to come.

Most sincerely,

"P.S. I don't usually write letters like this, but I really felt I had to compliment you and encourage you to continue this program.

"P.P.S. Your sack will be on the door-step tonight ready to be picked up."

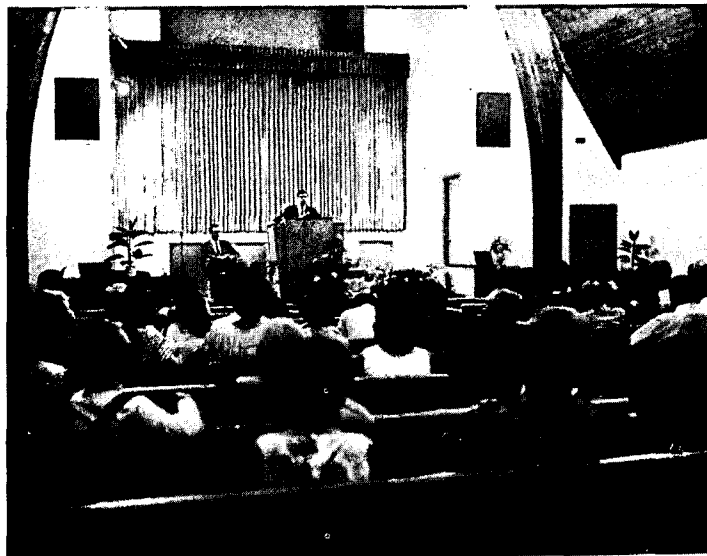

This beautifully written letter thrilled and inspired the children of Reno Junior Academy and the Sierra Gems Pathfinder Club who worked so diligently collecting food during their recent "Treats for the Needy" program. They wanted to share it with the other Pathfinder clubs and school groups in our conference and in the Pacific Union who also participated in the program.

Reports are not in yet from all the churches, but we have heard from several: three or four young people in the Truckee Company collected 88 cans; the Carson City School brought in about 1,100 cans; Susanville, 300 cans; and the Reno group collected nearly 1,600 cans. We feel this is a fine report, and we are anxious to hear what the other groups did.

The food, articles of clothing, and money collected will be used by the churches in their own particular projects. Some churches will make food baskets for poor families and give them out during the Holiday season, others will turn everything over to the local Doreas Welfare Society, and others will send everything to the Monument Valley Mission.

We want to thank the boys and girls for their enthusiasm in working for others. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Office Secretary.

Mission Development Fund Offering Sabbath, December 13

One of the very important offerings remaining in 1969 is the Mission Development Fund Offering on Sabbath, December 13. This is that special opportunity to do something in a big way to move the work of the Lord forward in our field.

Each year we receive more requests for building funds than we have funds available, so the appropriations must frequently be smaller than the request and the need. The Mission Development Fund which has been in operation in our field for several years has helped to provide a part of the answer to these needs.

Just remember as you think of this offering that we are currently building a

Lahaina Sets Ingathering Record; Japanese Church Nears Completion

✓ Lahaina, our newest church, has set an enviable record in the Ingathering. On November 6 when the pastors met in Honolulu to lay plans for the Ingathering Crusade, the pastor of this church, Elder Frank Michaelson, was privileged to announce that the Lahaina Church goal was already surpassed.

A deep expression of gratitude to our newest church showing this measure of courage and leadership!

✓ Progress continues at a very satisfactory pace as the new sanctuary of the Japanese Seventh-day Adventist Church nears completion. This beautiful new sanctuary, which will be air conditioned, will soon be ready for dedication. It has been built largely by volunteer workers, the members of the congregation and the pastor, Elder Harold Kono.

This fine new structure will serve the congregation very well and is a testimony to the determination of a willing, united membership to arise and build for the Lord.

new church sanctuary at Waianae. The Japanese Church is just being completed. Additional facilities are sorely needed in the form of Sabbath school rooms at the Wahiawa Church; Sabbath school rooms and a church school at Lahaina; Sabbath school rooms on Molokai; a new church sanctuary on west Kauai; and other needs. With the work growing, building needs will continue.

As you think of the close of the year, our appeal to all is, do something in a big way to help meet this need. This offering comes only twice a year. Many are regularly giving their dollar a month per member to build this fund; others are doing more; others what they are able. All is appreciated. We trust the offering on December 13 will be the best we have ever experienced in the Mission Development Fund.

Military Chaplains Are Feted at Honolulu's Outrigger Hotel

Twenty-two military chaplains representing almost as many different religious faiths were hosted by the Hawaiian Mission at their November 6 annual Chaplains Luncheon, which this year was held at the Outrigger Hotel in Honolulu. The neighbor island pastors were present with the pastors on Oahu and the mission officials as the military chaplains were feted.

Elder A. G. Streifling, president of the Hawaiian Mission, and Elder Marvin Seibel, educational secretary, were the speakers. Elder Seibel discussed the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking, using Smoking Sam to demonstrate the accumulation of tars and nicotine in the lungs through smoking. A number of favorable comments were made by the military chaplains, and some have indicated their interest in holding Five-Day Plans on military bases in Hawaii.

The annual Chaplains Luncheon affords an excellent opportunity for the Seventh-day Adventist Church to show its appreciation to the military chaplains for their ministry to men in uniform, and particularly for the fine help they are giving to Seventh-day Adventist men in uniform.

Mountain View Academy Has Developmental Reading Class

This school year Mountain View Union Academy is offering classes in developmental reading for the first time. Reading instruction at the secondary school level is a new concept, yet research in the field of education has shown that a student needs a planned reading program beyond the elementary grades.

"Reading is not a skill, but a composite of many skills learned through a developmental process," states Mrs. Bonnie Johnson, instructor in developmental reading and English.

During the first weeks of school the students participated in a diagnostic program by which reading strengths and weaknesses were inventoried.

Many methods are being used to assist the student in becoming an appreciative and discriminating reader. While receiving personal assistance from Mrs. Johnson, students work individually, in small groups, and with various mechanical teaching aids.

Although speed reading is not given prime importance, it is considered from the standpoint of efficient reading.

As well as giving aid with reading problems, Mrs. Johnson teaches the student to shift rates of reading speed in terms of the purposes for reading and to apply crit-

Arizona Welcomes Elder and Mrs. J. Ross James to Staff

The Arizona Conference is happy to welcome Elder and Mrs. J. Ross James to its working force. Elder James has accepted the leadership of the Nogales-Patagonia District.

Elder James was reared in New Zealand. He received his education in Pukekura, New Zealand, and at Avondale College and Sidney Sanitarium in Australia. He entered the ministry in 1915. In 1917 he went to the New Hebrides, and later to Papua, New Guinea. The years 1937 to 1948 were spent in pastoral and evangelistic work in Australia.

Elder and Mrs. J. Ross James.

In 1948 Elder James came to the United States where he associated with the St. Helena Sanitarium. Later he worked at the Loma Linda Hospital where he was at the time of his retirement.

In 1962 he responded to a call from the Florida Conference to do pastoral work. Elder and Mrs. James came to Arizona in August of this year.

Elder and Mrs. James attended ten camp meetings in Australia during the past year. During their visit among the islands of the South Seas they were privileged to take part in the dedication of a church. It was built as a memorial to him because he was the one who brought the message to the natives of the village.

Mrs. James, the former Myrtle Camp, is a graduate of Emanuel Missionary College, now Andrews University. She has served as a teacher, and for 20 years prior to her marriage was a Bible instructor in California.

We are most happy to have this dedicated couple in Arizona. They have already contributed much to the work in our conference.

The desired outcome of the course is to enable each student to use his potential in both study-reading and leisure-reading and to help him avoid the frustrations which accompany inefficient reading methods.

Ingathering Season Presents Opportunities for Christians

The Ingathering season is with us again! We have the opportunity of going to the homes and businesses in our area to tell about our work. Permission is still being granted for this purpose although every year brings more restrictions.

This campaign will be successful to just the degree of enthusiastic support given by the members. The cooperation of every member will make the work easier. Dependence upon God will make it far more productive.

We should determine to enlist every member of the church in the program. This will be a great deal easier for a short campaign than for a long one. However, let's not cover our territory so rapidly that we miss homes.

As we go from home to home, let's be constantly alert for those in need of physical help. Be sure to write the name and address down and report it to the pastor. There will be many homes where spiritual help is needed and the people willing to accept it. These folk should be reported to the pastor also. If we are sensitive to the needs of those whom we contact, then we can expect God's greatest blessings to accompany our efforts.

"To all who are about to take up special missionary work with the paper prepared for use in the Harvest Ingathering campaign, I would say: Be diligent in your efforts; live under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Add daily to your Christian experience."—Counsels on Stewardship, p. 169.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE

Three New Members Named to College Board of Trustees

Eighty-seven years of "male superiority" in the governing of Pacific Union College were swept under the rug November 12 when the 20-"man" Board of Trustees voted to add two women among three newly-appointed members at its annual autumn session on the Angwin campus.

Appointed to fill vacancies expiring in 1971 were: Mrs. Dorothy M. Schnell of Sacramento, Dr. Earla G. Aagaard of Ukiah, and Dr. William H. Abildgaard of Los Altos Hills.

Mrs. Dorothy Schnell

Mrs. Schnell retired last September 30 as chief of the Bureau of Homemaking Education, California State Department of Education, after nearly 19 years' service in that post in Sacramento.

Previously she had spent nine years as assistant professor of home economics at the University of California, Santa Barbara, where she was in charge of the teacher-education program of that department.

A convert to Seventh-day Adventism as a result of a stay at the St. Helena Sanitarium and Hospital as a patient, Mrs. Schnell earned her Bachelor's degree at Kansas State College and an M.S. in home economics education at the University of Minnesota. She took advanced graduate studies at both the University of Minnesota and Stanford University.

Before going to Santa Barbara, she taught at North Dakota State College of Agriculture and Texas Women's University; and she also served as a research assistant in home economics education at the University of Minnesota.

In all, her career in educational work spans 41 years of distinguished service in four states. She is a member of ten professional organizations, and has held numerous executive positions in a number of them.

Dr. Earla Aagaard, a practicing psychiatrist, was born in Java and reared in Penang of missionary parents. She earned her B.A. at PUC in 1942, and her M.D. at Loma Linda University in 1946, following which she served an internship at the Los Angeles General Hospital and completed a psychiatric residency at Mendocino State Hospital and Langley Porter Clinic in 1954.

Her husband, Dr. Carl M. Aagaard, Ukiah pathologist, is also a PUC alumnus.

Dr. Abildgaard, who took one year of his premedical curriculum at PUC, received his M.D. from Loma Linda University in 1952.

No longer active in the practice of medicine, he is today president of Abildgaard Laboratories in Mountain View. His wife, the former Alviria Westphal, earned her B.A. at PUC in 1947; and their daughter, Karen, is currently enrolled at their alma mater.

Dr. Abildgaard is an elder in the Palo Alto Seventh-day Adventist Church; a member of the Board of Counselors of Loma Linda University; a member of the boards of Mountain View and Monterey Bay academies and the Central California Conference Executive Committee, and the chairman of the Master Planning Commission of Mountain View Academy, which recently won an architectural award for excellence in its new building.

He also serves as chairman of the board of Doctors General Hospital, San Jose; and is a member of the board of San Jose Hospital and Medical Center.

Actions Taken by Board of Trustees in Autumn Session

In other actions, the Board of Trustees of Pacific Union College, meeting in Angwin for the annual two-day autumn session November 11 and 12:

—Voted to complete immediately an air-conditioned classroom in the upper floor of the new two-story audio-visual annex to the college library. The structure will also house the campus mail and Xerox-mimeograph reproduction services.

—Voted to grant doctoral study leave during 1970-71 to Carlyle Manous, assistant professor of music; Richard Voth, instructor in business administration; and Howard O. Hardcastle, assistant professor of English and academic administrative assistant.

—Adopted a new vacation policy for faculty and staff which provides a total of four weeks annual vacation after 15 years' service to the denomination. Time taken during between-term breaks throughout the year would be included in the total vacation period.

—Voted to purchase two new Heidelberg offset presses and a new folding machine for the College Press.

—Voted to purchase $9,000 worth of stereo transmitting equipment for Radio Station KANG-FM, the expense being shared equally by the college, the PUC Church, the Northern California Conference, and from contributions from interested private parties.

—Voted to approve a sabbatical leave for the summer of 1970 for Dorothy A. Ferren; associate professor of library science, to set up a library at the Bugema Missionary College at Namulonge near

Passing of Dr. Noah E. Paulin

I was a participant in many personal conversations and many group conversations; and I attended scores of faculty meetings with this man. And I never once heard him speak one unkind word of criticism against anybody or anything in all these years."

Representing the Board of Trustees, and President Rittenhouse (who was in Washington, D.C., attending the Autumn Council of the General Conference), academic dean Dr. John W. Cassell delivered a touching and fitting tribute.

In his funeral sermon Elder Escobar also recognized this man who, he said, believed music to be a universal language, who believed it could change lives and make life beautiful.

Music His Life

"Music was not merely his profession," the pastor added, "it was his life. His goal was to make people happy through music."

"He read his Bible through nearly 60 times; and his life was the exemplification of the truths it taught. There was no weakness in this man—he never hurled a baton at students in his orchestra—nor were there angry words. He was a man of modesty, humility, yet a man of courage."

Music for the service was provided by Evelyn Wallace, who sang "Face to Face"; and by Orval Peterson of the Sacramento City School System to whom the aged musician had willed his violin, his most treasured possession.

Playing upon this instrument, Mr. Peterson performed a favorite Paulin selection, "Tears." During his lifetime, Dr. Paulin was reputed to have a repertoire of 150 compositions which he could play from memory upon a moment's notice.

At the conclusion of the memorial service Dr. Paulin lay in state in the foyer of the music center which bears his name while former colleagues, students, and friends quietly filed past to pay their last respects.

Nearby, hanging upon the wall of the recital hall, was a large oil portrait of the beloved musician and his violin, painted by Earl D. Williams, a long-time friend, which was dedicated on May 3, 1969, in a ceremony attended by the Paulins.

Interment followed at St. Helena cemetery.

Pallbearers were Elder William Hilliard, Prof. Linton G. Sevrens, Dr. Elton H. Wallace, Prof. Joe Maniscalco, Mr. Jack Sherman, and Dr. Cecil Woods.

Dr. Paulin's position, as music department head, was taken by another at the time of his retirement in 1944. But his place on Howell Mountain—and in the hearts of countless hundreds of his former

WHY NOT GIVE ADVENTIST BOOKS THIS CHRISTMAS?

For Christmas, why not give choice Seventh-day Adventist books? They come in many sizes, prices, and kinds—even books for those who don't like to read!

How's that again? Books for people who don't read? Exactly. There's the beautiful volume My Father's World with gorgeous nature photography by Herschel Wheeler and a minimum of reading, now priced at only $2. There's the book Wonders of Creation, by Harold W. Clark, so popular that 16,000 copies have already been sold. This beautiful book is illustrated with numerous photographs from nature, including many color plates. And have you seen Perilous Paradise, on Adventist missions in stone-age New Guinea, with over 150 pictures (many in full color) by professional photographer Eric Were of Australia?

The Seventh-day Adventist Commentary, for anyone who doesn't already have it, is a first-class Christmas gift. Then there's the three-volume Comprehensive Index to the Writings of Ellen G. White, a gift of lifelong usefulness, bound in durable blue buckram. There's the three-volume 1844 set by Dr. Jerome Clark, telling of the social, religious, and intellectual upheavals at the time the Advent movement began. Also, have you seen the four-volume Origin and History of Seventh-day Adventists by the late Arthur W. Spalding? Review the history of your church.

An Ellen G. White volume or set is always a good gift. You might give a new paperback Conflict set, with its bright symbolic art so eagerly accepted by our younger Adventists.

For young people and older ones who love excitement and adventure, there are best-selling hardbacks for only $3 to $4 a copy—Alice Princess, Comes the Whirlwind, The Unlikeliest Hero, The Seventh Escape, and No Guns on Their Shoulders.

If you want an inexpensive gift in the $1.65 range, why not give a copy of a good biography like Invincible Irishman (Percy T. Magan), I Changed Gods (Marie Hirschmann), or China Doctor (Dr. Harry Miller)?

For the studious, there's the "reference series" with nine different titles in very attractive bindings. They vary in price from $2.95 to $5.95. The newest is Music and Worship by Dr. Hannum, for $3.95.

Need we add that a Bible or Church Hymnal is always an appreciated Christmas gift?

If you live near a Book and Bible House, hurry over. If you're too far away, that's why Uncle Sam hires postmen—to speed your order to your Book and Bible House and hustle back with your books.
