World Stewardship Day December 18, 1971

J. O. Cunningham
Union Stewardship
Education Director

Sabbath, December 18, a sacred day near the end of the calendar year of 1971, has been set aside as World Stewardship Day. This has been done to provide opportunity for each individual in the family of God to check his account with the Bank of Heaven.

"... Keep a faithful account with your Creator. Realize fully the importance of being just with His who has divine foreknowledge. Let everyone search his heart diligently. Let his look up his accounts, and find out how he stands as related to God. He who gave His only begotten Son to die for you, has made a covenant with you. . . . God calls upon His human agents to be true to the contract He has made with them."—CS 74, 75.

God has very carefully and wisely planned an uncomplicated system of tithe and offerings as a means of character development. "God planned the system of beneficence in order that man might become like his Creator."—Ibid. 15.

"Those who would gain the blessing of sanctification must first learn the meaning of self-sacrifice."—AA 560.

With earth's closing scenes flashing daily before our eyes, we should welcome the opportunity to rededicate our time, talent and treasure to God and His work on earth.

JAMES O. CUNNINGTON.

Mission '72

Our greatest responsibility as stewards is to find our personal work in sharing the grace of God.

"As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another as good stewards of the manifold grace of God." 1 Peter 9:10.

Stewards of the grace of God. The opportunity is here to share Divine Power with our fellow men. What a challenge! What a privilege!

Mission '72 is an organized effort to unite ministry and laity in an every-member-evangelistic thrust. There is strength in working together. Our greatest strength, however, is the power of God in our hearts.

J. O. CUNNINGTON.

Alma McKibbin Celebrates 100th Birthday Soon

On Friday, November 26, Mrs. Alma E. McKibbin, pioneer Adventist educator and textbook author, will celebrate her 100th birthday. All of Mrs. McKibbin's teaching career has been in California since the day in 1889 when she arrived at Healdsburg College from Colorado. She was graduated from that school 81 years ago when Healdsburg was the only Adventist college in existence with the exception of Battle Creek.

Not long after graduation, Mrs. McKibbin started the first church school in southern California in the San Pasqual Valley. Later she was the first teacher in the Santa Ana church school.

In 1898 she returned to Healdsburg, first teaching in the church school there, later in the College. When Healdsburg College was closed down, and later moved to Howell Mountain near St. Helena, being renamed Pacific Union College, Mrs. McKibbin joined the faculty there.

Retiring from PUC in 1921, she moved to Mountain View, and soon thereafter began teaching in the academy, continuing until her final retirement. She has been a member of the Mountain View Church for 50 years.

In the early 1900's she began the writing of Bible textbooks for our church schools and academies. An entire series of these books was published by the Pacific Press. The texts soon were used throughout the United States, also in many countries overseas.

For two years now Mrs. McKibbin has been a guest in the Pleasant Hill Convalescent Home, 22590 Voss Ave., Cupertino, CA. 95014 (near Mountain View). Those who may wish to do so may send 100-year greeting cards to Mrs. McKibbin at that address.

VIETNAM SIGNS PRESS PRODUCES 10,000 BOOKS A MONTH

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Seventh-day Adventist publishing house in Vietnam is producing some 10,000 books a month—on just one offset press, reports W. A. Higgins, associate secretary of the church's publishing department here.

"The demand for these books in Vietnam is so great," reports Richard McKee of the denomination's Southeast Asia Union, "that the publishing house is unable to meet the requests."

With about 90 nationals working in the country, the shelves of the Vietnam Signs Press in Saigon are often left bare. "They go all over the country, sometimes even across battle lines," says Higgins.

Although the press has been running double shifts to keep up production, things are looking better with the help of a new binder so books can be bound by machine rather than by hand. And a new press is on order.

The Vietnam Signs Press publishes religious, health, and children's books in the Vietnamese languages, with the most popular book being Steps to Christ, a 153-page paperback written by Adventist author Ellen White in 1892. Reportedly Steps to Christ is published in 100 different languages and continues to be a top seller coming off Adventist presses.

The Seventh-day Adventist Church has 16 churches and over 2,000 members in Vietnam.

SO YOU WILL KNOW...

On October 30 it was my joy to worship with the Yuba City members in their new church. Also visiting with them on that day were members from the Gridley Church. Yuba City's beautiful new structure fully represents the total work of the church. We appreciate not only what Yuba City members have done in their area to provide so adequately for the extension of the influence of the church, but also what is being done in numerous places throughout the Pacific Union Conference.

Word from Hawaii indicates that work on the new mission office building is progressing. Those of you who visit Honolulu will not have difficulty in finding the Hawaiian Mission office, for it is on a very prominent street that runs between Honolulu and the windward side of the island. Construction on Northern California's office is also moving along well, and it is hoped that the transfer from the old facility can be made sometime in February, 1972. Both of these offices are greatly needed.

On November 2 the Church-State Council met in the Union office in Glendale. This is the group that gives attention to matters that relate to our religious freedoms. Three of our professional men were present—Commissioner Rolland Truman made arrangements for those in his court to be assigned to other duties for the day; Attorney Robert Peterson left his busy law practice; and W. E. Brower, who is connected with Pacific Telephone, was able to be present. We were fortunate that W. Melvin Adams, an associate in the Religious Liberty Department of the General Conference, could be with us and bring us up-to-date on matters that are very vital to this phase of the work.

In Congress at this time is an amendment to the constitution which would make it possible for prayers of a nondenominational nature to be offered in the public school system. The amendment is very brief, but it has far-reaching influences. One prominent member of Congress who voted against such provisions on two previous occasions now states that, in desperation, a favorable vote is going to be recorded in the hope that this might in some way help to reverse the trends in our country.

Thoughts which Attorney Peterson presented in a paper entitled "What's Happening to Freedom?" were freely discussed.

Some time ago there was a little notice in the RECORDER regarding the possibility of placing Navajo children in Seventh-day Adventist homes where they might be provided for and also be given a Christian education. We now learn that there are 48 of these children and youth in Seventh-day Adventist homes during this school year. This is a mission field in itself.

Some statistics encourage us and others are a matter of great concern. The September 30 report from our Sabbath School Department indicates that the Sabbath school membership is 91,458 and that the average attendance is 69,412. When we consider that this represents all who are in attendance at the Sabbath school or all who are members, and these totals take us all the way from the cradle roll division through the senior division, we become concerned because the church membership is about 110,000. Immediately we can see that many of our members are not enjoying the activities of the Sabbath school.

In the main auditorium of the Glendale Adventist Hospital a special community program was conducted under the name of "4 Dimensional Key to Alcoholism." Teaming up in presenting this material were L. A. Senseman, M.D., a psychiatrist who has been specializing in the treatment of alcoholics, and Ernest Steed, executive secretary of the International Commission for the Prevention of Alcoholism. We appreciate this outreach by health and temperance personnel, and we hope such programs will be fostered in other parts of the Union as well.

The president of our mission in Peru has written that their pastor-pilot has returned to the United States in order to educate his children. They are now without a replacement. They are looking for an ordained minister who is a pilot of 400 flying hours and IFR experience. It would be very good if he is also a mechanic. They have three planes—a Cessna 180 and two PA-18 Pipers. If any of our readers are interested in responding to this need, please feel free to contact me.

"Be of good cheer. . . ."

New Pediatric Intensive Care Unit at White Memorial

White Memorial Medical Center, Los Angeles, recently opened its new pediatric intensive care unit which joins forces with the two other special care units, Intensive Care and Coronary Care, in providing specialized medical services for the acutely ill child.

The pediatric intensive care unit was specifically designed to provide exceptionally close supervision and monitoring by the physicians and specially trained nurses caring for the patient. The nurses assigned to this unit have had extensive preparation and are constantly participating in educational programs, keeping informed on the newest methods, procedures and equipment employed in the care of the pediatric patient.

The Medical Center provides this specialized service for many surrounding hospitals which do not have the necessary technical equipment and training. The unit is equipped with monitoring devices that constantly record the vital signs of the heart, respiration and blood pressure on a twenty-four-hour basis.

The normal newborn baby and the premature infant can be cared for in specialized nurseries, but the acutely ill newborn infant or child is sent to the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit for the specialized treatment necessary to sustain life.

WALLACE J. LIGHTHALL, Director, Development & Public Relations.

Josephine Edwards at Santa Paula

Josephine Cunningham Edwards will fill two weekend speaking appointments at the Santa Paula Church November 19 and 20. Friday evening she will speak on the subject "The Second Mile." She will also tell the story of "Janton Henry Mambala" which is a powerful temperance lecture.

Mrs. Edwards now makes her home in College Place, Washington. She spends much of her time writing religious books, traveling and lecturing. She has just authored her thirtieth book.

The Santa Paula Church is located at 316 Ventura Street.

GLENN GOFFAR, Pastor,
Santa Paula Church.

VOP Rally in Pasadena, Nov. 20

A Voice of Prophecy Rally will be held Sabbath afternoon, November 20, at 2:30 in the Pasadena SDA Church located at 1280 E. Washington Boulevard in Pasadena. Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr. and VOP staff will present a very inspirational program you will not want to miss. Sabbath will be closed with a musical program by the Voice of Prophecy musicians. Bring your friends and neighbors to this outstanding program.

B. MICHAEL BLAINE, Pastor,
Pasadena Church.

La Crescenta Church Makes Positive VOP Contribution

Christ once told His disciples: "If ye love me, keep my commandments." Likewise, a possible application may be: If you love the remnant church, let your actions speak louder than your words!

La Crescenta Church members (390) and students of the Crescenta Valley School did indeed let their actions speak well during the recent annual Voice of Prophecy offering appeal.

They realized the Voice of Prophecy, proclaiming the good news that Christ our King is coming very soon, has a potential of 61,000,000 listeners. Considering the dynamic radio messages providing soul-winning opportunities, the students were moved to action.

On Sabbath, October 9, 1971, the Voice of Prophecy offering from La Crescenta amounted to $686.11, making a total of over $900 contributed so far this year.

Desiring to make a positive contribution to the youth Wayout Program, the 116 Crescenta Valley students, sacrificing and saving their funds, presented a check in the amount of $231.71.

We in La Crescenta praise God for our church, a fine Christian school, and such a tremendous organization as the Voice of Prophecy, reaching out into all the world.

ROBERT E. JONES, PR Secy.

Crescenta Valley students present their check for $231.71 to Eddie Pullen of the Voice of Prophecy.

Concert on Hollywood Church's New Conn Organ, November 20

The Hollywood Church has been selected by the Conn Organ Corporation to receive a Conn Custom Electronic-Pipe Organ, the first of its kind to be built and installed in a church. The three-manual, draw-knob console has been placed in the Hollywood church temporarily, as a courtesy to the church and to the Conn Organ Company. With the use of transistorized electronic pipes, the organ music is projected throughout the sanctuary in exactly the same manner and with the same effect as wind-blown pipes.

On Sabbath afternoon, November 20 at 4:00, Brad Braley will give an organ concert in the Hollywood Church at Hollywood Boulevard and Van Ness Avenue. You are invited to hear this exciting new instrument.

EDMUND JONES, Pastor,
Hollywood Church.

Ted Jones Director of Inner City Services

Elder Ted T. Jones has joined the staff of the Central California Conference as director of Inner City Services and associate secretary of the Lay Activities Department. He will also conduct an occasional evangelistic series in connection with his Inner City work.

Elder Jones attended Oakwood and Union colleges, and graduated from the Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C. He has just returned from three years in Indonesia where he served as secretary of the Ministerial and Stewardship departments and as director of the Evangelistic Center in Djakarta. Later he was in the East Indonesian Union where he directed the Ministerial, Stewardship and Temperance departments.

He held many evangelistic series in Indonesia. More than 700 people were baptized as a result of these efforts.

Elder Jones and his family are well known in Central California, for before going to Indonesia he served here as a ministerial intern and then pastored the San Jose Ephesus Church, the Menlo Park Church, and the Bakersfield Southside Church.

The Jones family consists also of Mrs. Esther Jones and four children: Ted T. III, 11; Randy, 10; Jeffrey, 7; and Janelle, 4.

The conference administration extends a warm welcome to the Joneses and is confident that the constituency will appreciate Elder Jones' ministry as he travels about the conference.

Samoan Branch Sabbath School in San Francisco

Although the entire service was in the Samoan language, the radiance and dedication seen in the faces of the worshipers spoke of the love of God and their sincere desire to witness of His grace.

The leaders of the Samoan Branch Sabbath School in San Francisco, members of the Tabernacle Church in that city, felt a burden for the Samoan people in San Francisco and formed this branch school.

Services are in the Samoan language. For a visiting speaker, Brother Teti Fale-togo translates into Samoan.

The writer visited the little group recently and was surprised at the large number present. Every seat was filled.

Our Samoan believers are a dedicated group, striving to hasten the coming of Jesus by literature distribution, visiting, hospital singing bands, and in every other way possible. Each year they go all-out in Ingathering; God has richly blessed.

Pray for these dear Samoan people who are so anxious to kindle the love of God in human hearts in the darkness of San Francisco.

B. W. MATTISON, Director,
Public Relations Department.

"I Have Something I Want You To Have . . ."

"I have something that I want you to have," said a new convert. Then she put a bottle of little yellow sleeping capsules in Elder R. A. Rentfro's hand, adding, "I won't need these any longer. I'd planned to use them to take my life, but you have brought me new life."

This was the testimony of a lovely Hungarian woman after her baptism into the San Francisco Central Church on October 30.

Thus far, 55 have joined the church by baptism or profession of faith as a result of the evangelistic meetings held in San Francisco by Elder Rentfro. Ten were baptized November 13. More are studying in preparation for baptism.

Elder Rentfro reports that he never has worked with so many different languages.

He has "new appreciation for our foreign-language publishing work after this experience."

One lady was baptized after reading the truth in her new Bible and several of our books, all printed in Hungarian. She has introduced a friend to this literature; now he is studying a Hungarian Bible course.

The mother of one of the famous Don Cossack singers is studying our literature, printed in Russian.

The Italian-born wife of a United States soldier came to the meetings, but also read the truth in our books printed in Italian. She was baptized on October 30.

A woman born in Ur of the Chaldees studied and accepted the truth. Now she is hoping for her Armenian husband to join her in the church.

Lay Training Bears Fruit

Many letters and telephone calls to the office have brought us a great deal of encouragement from our laymen. At this writing the department has sponsored the lay training programs in forty-five churches including the Loma Linda Medical School and two lay congresses this year. We felt that we should share with you some of the things that brought rejoicing and reason to praise the Lord.

One lady wrote, "On Tuesday night I shared the witnessing pamphlet with a high school girl in the neighborhood with whom I had been studying the Go Tell lessons. I was overwhelmed when she invited Jesus Christ into her life and asked Him to forgive her for her sins. What a thrilling experience it was! She was baptized on Sabbath, May 22."

A pastor who is taking the laymen with him on his calls writes, "Each Tuesday morning I am conducting a class in the art of giving Bible studies, then in the afternoon my wife and I are taking the laymen into the homes for on-the-job training. In retrospect I wish that this had been my program throughout my ministry. I am sure it would have blessed the churches more."

A professional man who attended the witnessing training related how he is sharing the good news about Jesus Christ in his office. He stated that almost every day he has the opportunity to share the joy he has in Christ.

A lady who attended the lay congress wrote to share her experience. "A friend of mine in the church went with me door to door right across the street from our church and it was there that we had a divine appointment. In that very block a lady was longing to know the Lord Jesus Christ and as she invited Him into her life she wept for joy. I am happy to tell you that she is attending the meetings in our church that we are conducting at the present time."

One pastor is training twelve members of his congregation each week. These lay teams are going with the pastor. They are finding many interests in their city. Ten persons were baptized on one Sabbath recently because of the witnessing and training program of the modern disciples.

Many of our pastors are taking the laymen with them to visit the interests that they have from their church. Three weeks ago we sponsored the training program in one church. A young mother who recently became a Christian led her mother to Christ the following day and is now praising the Lord for the marvelous victories in her life and is enjoying the great spiritual truths that we believe. It was a blessing to see this young mother rejoice in the fact that she had been used of the Holy Spirit to introduce her mother to Jesus Christ.

There is a revival among many of our youth and adults at the present time. God's Spirit is moving upon the hearts of people everywhere. Perhaps the words of the apostle Paul in the Living Letters best describes the experience of many people, "So everywhere we go we talk about Christ to all who will listen, warning them and teaching them as well as we know how. We want to be able to present each one to God, perfect because of what Christ has done for each of them. This is my work, and I can do it only because Christ's mighty energy is at work within me."—Col. 1:28, 29.

Wouldn't it be a good experience to share the training with a friend of yours?

Laymen's Activities.

New Bible House Invoicing Clerk

Our Spanish-American brethren will want to get acquainted with our newest employee, Mrs. Flory Ruiz. She holds the position of invoicing clerk and speaks Spanish fluently.

In two weeks she is already showing skill in this important work. Having previously worked in Southern California Bible House, she understands the job and is accurate. Recently she has worked as office manager for a doctor in Riverside. She also helped at the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles. Her previous experience includes office work in Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Guatemala.

She knows our Spanish books, tracts and music, and we'll be asking her to translate Spanish letters both to and from our office. She will be a real asset as a clerk and also as a sales lady with bilingual ability. If you have any questions, please call for her at the counter.

REMEMBER CALEXICO MISSION SCHOOL ON NOVEMBER 27

Daily Bible study and prayer with the 175 students of the Calexico Mission School has a positive influence for good in the lives of those who come to us from our neighboring country. Last year, 10 of our best students left Calexico Mission School to continue studies at San Pasqual Academy. They caught a vision of service and are preparing themselves.

Besides regularly scheduled chapels and Bible classes, 32 students are enrolled in an extracurricular Bible study class which prepares for church membership.

The seven students baptized so far this year, the opportunity to influence the lives of so many young people, and the thrill of seeing 10 graduates from this school in one year go on to prepare for service are good reasons for the continued support of your Mission School at Calexico.

On November 27 a special offering will be received in all of our churches for additional worthy students to attend "our mission school." Give thankfully at this season of the year.

M. L. FEHRENBACH, Principal,
Calexico Mission School.

47 BELIEVERS WERE WON THROUGH SUMMER CAMPAIGN IN PERRIS

Spanish-speaking group which now meets together in Perris.

During the summer campaign in Perris in which Elders Arthur Bushnell and Dave Taylor teamed together, God blessed with the results of 47 precious souls received into the remnant church. There were in that number eight Spanish believers who, along with several others in the surrounding area, have banded together to form a strong working group for the Spanish speaking believers in Perris.

There is promise of much growth. Those leading out are laymen and a dedicated laywoman, a sister from Umipeg, who came to Perris to assist with the Spanish interests. Thank God for our willing laymen.

ARTHUR BUSHNELL, Evangelist.

"Search for Truth" Meetings in San Diego Broadway Church

Sixteen baptisms resulted from the "Search for Truth" evangelistic crusade which was conducted in the San Diego Broadway Church. Several other persons are presently preparing for baptism also.

L. E. Tucker, Southeastern California Conference evangelist and associate speaker of "The Quiet Hour" radio broadcast, was the evangelist. The originator of "The Quiet Hour" program, J. L. Tucker, assisted his son in many of the meetings. Mrs. L. E. Tucker and Wayne Hooper helped with the singing.

Services were held four nights a week, Wednesday through Saturday, and at the Sabbath morning worship hour from September 22 through October 23. Excellent support was given by the laymen of Broadway and the San Diego area churches. The offerings were exceptional.

The evangelistic outreach of this series cannot be evaluated in figures. Many people, non-Adventists and Adventists alike, continually expressed their deep appreciation for the clear exposition of the Word of God. The nightly messages with true Adventist ring were delivered with simplicity, understanding, beauty and power.

We are very grateful to God for the "Search for Truth" meetings and for the success which attended them. The results have been a great encouragement to the Broadway congregation.

STEPHEN PAULLY, Pastor.

Santa Ana Leadership Techniques

Church leadership techniques and guidelines for the laymen of the churches of Orange County will be taught by Vernon Koenig, Ph.D. of Loma Linda University, beginning Sabbath afternoon, November 6, in the Santa Ana Church, 1314 North Broadway, Santa Ana, California.

This special course, based on the success programs and methods of business and personnel management adapted to the special goals and needs of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be held for six Sabbath afternoons in two-hour class sessions. Dates are: November 6, 13, and 20; December 4, 11, and 18. All lay elders, deacons, deaconesses, Sabbath School leaders, youth leaders, and any other church lay leaders are invited to attend and take advantage of one of the most important opportunities to learn leadership qualities made available to the churches of Orange county.

E. W. VOYLES, Pastor,
Santa Ana Church.

St. Helena Hospital and Community Ship 180 Sheets to Sister Institution, Iligan Adventist Hospital

St. Helena Hospital and Health Center's sister institution, Iligan Adventist Hospital in the Philippines, will soon receive a shipment of 180 sheets plus pillowcases and medical supplies because of the generosity of employees at St. Helena, the Elmhaven Church Welfare Center, and local business and community friends.

Administrator Clarence A. Miller served in an advisory capacity to Adventist hospitals in the Far East prior to his return to the States in 1970 and is acquainted with Iligan Adventist Hospital. A letter he received early in October from Dr. Willis Dick, director of the 100-bed hospital, disclosed that on one day their total of 35 sheets had been used for their 35 in-patients that day.

Elder Ejler E. Jensen, chairman of the Iligan committee and a missionary in the Far East from 1948 to 1969, spread word of Iligan's need, and in three weeks' time a sufficient supply of linens and cash for medical supply purchases had come in.

VBS News from Northern California Conference

An evangelistic crusade with 6,388 persons attending, 3,764 of whom are non-members, would indeed be big news.

We thank God for 1,707 loyal workers in 78 Vacation Bible Schools who made this good news possible for Northern California. May we share some high lights from the field?

The Alturas District conducted three schools—Canby, Cedarville, and Alturas. Seventy parents and children crowded into the fire hall at Canby (population 500) for graduation. This is a first for Seventh-day Adventists. Only two of the children were from Adventist homes.

Many of our VBS crafts were on display at the Modoc County Fair; several won ribbons. Thank you, Pastor and Mrs. Ernest Toppenberg, for a wonderful job.

Probably the hottest (!) VBS was held in Anderson. Katherine Jennings, leader, reports that 65 children enrolled in 110-degree temperature the first morning of the school. A large number of parents attended the graduation in spite of the heat.

Sonoma's VBS got on the "ecology bandwagon," with Pastor William Hull as the bus driver. They visited the city park at the Sonoma Plaza with paper sacks; the advancing army of VBS children swept the area clean.

The Lincoln Church conducted two schools, with 63 children enrolled—62 of whom were from non-Adventist homes. Sister Don Shade, the leader, writes, "Our VBS in the evening was a huge success. We had a non-Adventist in charge of the crafts. There will be Bible studies to follow."

Lincoln also held a VBS in Sheridan.

In Orland, 33 children received graduation certificates. Sister Carolyn Sinton, leader, writes, "We were just delighted at how hard and persistent work can win souls for the new world to come."

Covelo reports 29 children coming from Round Valley. "Most of the churches, both Protestant and Catholic, were represented. Plans are already being considered for a bigger and better VBS next year," declared the leader, Barbara Utecht.

"I like the lessons best of all," volunteered a non-Adventist junior boy in the Petaluma Vacation Bible School. A good representation of parents was present at the closing exercises. Thank you, Judy Baker, for a good job.

Mrs. Liz Wendt, director, reports 153 enrolled at our Fortuna VBS. The young people of the Fortuna Church canvassed the town, going from door-to-door, inviting the children to attend. On graduation night, Pastor James Pogue challenged the children and the parents to have a deeper faith in the God of Creation, the theme for VBS, 1971.

Conference President Announces Administrative Changes

When Elder Dick Barron, director of Health Services for Northern California, accepted a call to the Lake Union some time ago, our Conference Committee gave careful attention to the work of Health Services and ASI. The committee felt that we must find a man who has had experience in the temperance work, who has been able to work successfully with young people for young people, and who has a vision of carrying on a stronger Health Services work than ever.

for Elder Edwards God's blessings as he heads up this new work.

Succeeding Elder Edwards as Missionary Volunteer Secretary of this conference will be Elder Clayton Farwell who has been serving as the associate for the past year. The Conference Committee felt Brother Farwell has had a successful experience in communicating with young people the great truths of the Scriptures and Spirit of Prophecy, the mission of the Church, and has related well in dealing with young people and their problems. We welcome Elder Farwell to this new and important responsibility as Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the Northern California Conference. Here again we believe the Conference Committee has made a splendid choice.

Elder Clayton Farwell, Director, Youth Activities Department.

The Northern California Conference Committee finally decided the man we were looking for is right in our field now—Elder Charles Edwards, who has been serving so successfully as Missionary Volunteer Secretary. Already Elder Edwards has entered into this work with an enthusiasm and a vision that is most commendable. The official transfer from the MV Department to the Health Services and ASI departments took place November 1. We wish Elder Charles Edwards, Director of Health Services and ASI.

"Two weeks before the opening day of our VBS in Miranda, we learned that four other churches in the area had decided to use the same dates. Some of our members said, 'We'd just as well give up the VBS plans this year, as there are not enough children in the area to support five simultaneous schools.'" But Esther Trusty, our VBS leader, said, "This is God's work. We must go ahead in faith."

"Forty-one children were registered, only eight of whom came from Adventist homes. This year proved to be the best and most responsive VBS we've ever had."

Congratulations, Sister Trusty and Pastor Robert Green.

Speaking of the Paradise VBS, one visitor said, "I was very much impressed with the caliber of the school and your fine program, and I was especially impressed with the friendliness of your people." Another parent declared, "We would like to have our children go to your church school." A little girl said, "I want to be an Adventist when I grow up."

We wish we had space to record scores of thrilling stories coming from the field about VBS-1971. We say, "Thank you!" to every helper and we assure you that God will bring about a glorious final harvest.

CHARLES H. BETZ, Secy., Sabbath School Dept.

Donald W. McKay, left, of Faith for Today discusses TELENOTES with Winston R. Preston, center, of Cleveland, Tennessee, and Jerry Heinrich of Atlanta, Georgia, during their recent visit to the telecast offices. Mr. Preston is chairman of the Faith for Today advisory board and has devoted much time to studying finance, evangelism, public relations and program development.

Irwin Dulan, Associate Director, Youth Activities Department.

Brother Irwin Dulan has been requested to become the associate in the Missionary Volunteer Department. He has worked in the Sacramento area with Elder Warren Neal in the Capitol City Church since his return from the Seminary. He is currently assisting Elder C. J. Williams of the Market and E Church in Stockton as evangelistic meetings are being conducted.

Brother Dulan will join Brother Farwell in the MV Department some time before the end of the year.

Let us remember the brethren mentioned above in our prayers as they fulfill the responsibilities to which they have been chosen.

JAMES E. CHASE, President.

ARIZONA CHURCHES RAISE $17,000 FOR INVESTMENT

Sabbath school investment is big business. It involves the greatest partner any of us can have. In fact, He invites us to invest with Him.

Many of the Sabbath schools in the Arizona Conference have used this means to raise ever-increasing amounts for the mission program. One of the more successful is the Tucson Mountain Avenue church. Investment Leader Fred Pearson has led the church to a record achievement. As of September 18, they had raised $2,232.85 in partnership with God. On that day reports were received from each department of the Sabbath school and were recorded in the form of simulated $10 bills forming a goal chart in front of the church.

As the total grew, the sign was completed, leaving only exclamation marks to be added. If all of our Sabbath schools would prove the Lord by investing with Him there would be more funds for the mission program of the church, and local finances would improve too.

Another Arizona church showing a remarkable Investment program is the Safford church. This group of 75 members has raised more than $3,000 for Investment. Mrs. N. O. Dahlsten has led this Sabbath school to an achievement of more than $40 per member.

These and other outstanding efforts have led the Conference to almost $17,000 for the first nine months of the year. All of this just proves that God is a good partner with whom to invest.

J. W. BASSHAM, Secretary,
Sabbath School Department.

MILLION DOLLAR CLUB MEMBERS ATTEND LITERATURE EVANGELIST RALLY

The Arizona publishing department sponsored a literature evangelist rally in Tucson November 1 and these five men, along with one other member, Gary Racobs, not present, have accounted for over $100,000 in sales for the Arizona Conference thus far in 1971. Also, to this date, 23 souls have been baptized as a result of the work of these soldiers of the cross.

Only eternity will tell the complete results of dedicated men who sow beside all waters. May God send us many more like these. There isn't one spot on earth where they are not needed.

STEVE MORGAN, Secretary,
Publishing Department.

Lake Havasu City Members Build Church

One year ago, on October 31, 1970, church services were begun in Lake Havasu City. At that time, the group of 10 members were organized into a Conference company.

Recently the accompanying picture was taken and reveals some of the progress that has been made in the intervening period. A little over 2½ acres of land overlooking the lake were purchased. The land, valued at $111,000, was bought for $11,000 with an 18-month building period clause.

The church construction began about the middle of September and has been progressing nicely. Much of the labor has been donated by church members in Havasu, Kingman, and Parker.

The group asks the prayers of fellow believers as this task is carried to completion.

JEFFREY K. WILSON, Pastor,
Kingman-Havasu District.

... HAWAII

Aloha Week at Hawaiian Mission Elementary School

On stage at McKeague Hall, located on the campus of Hawaiian Mission Academy, a huge white plumeria-bedecked aloha aptly conveyed the warm Hawaiian greeting to parents and friends who had gathered to watch the annual Aloha Week program staged by the Hawaiian Mission Elementary School on the night of October 19.

Excitement ran high as the children, looking very much like an old-fashioned flower garden, with the boys in their brightly-colored aloha shirts and the girls in gaily-flowered muu muus, some with garlands on their heads, took their places in the foreground of the auditorium on each side of the waiting audience.

The program opened with the band, under the baton of Mr. David Holder, playing a lively Hawaiian medley. Then followed the program of well-planned numbers by the various grades, illustrating many of the Hawaiian sports and games, the theme of the 1971 Aloha Week. Hawaii, with its many cultures, presents a great variety of sports activities.

Aloha Week, unique to the Hawaiian Islands, always includes a procession that brings on stage the king of the islands and his royal court, climaxing with the crowning of the queen. At Hawaiian Mission Elementary School it has become a tradition that the king and queen with their court be chosen from the second grade.

As the Aina Aloha Singers sang the beautiful songs of the Hawaiian Islands, and May Lynne Beltran, program narrator, explained the flowers and colors of the eight main islands, the king, portrayed by Norris Katada, accompanied by his kahili bearers, led the royal procession. The queen, who was next in the procession, was followed by the eight island princesses, each accompanied by the bearer of a bright feathered kahili, a sign of royalty.

After each member of the royal court had assumed his rightful position on stage, Queen Marla Naluai, last of the three Naluai queens that began in 1965 with the crowning of the older sister, Melodie, was crowned. It was fitting, therefore, that Grandfather Naluai was present to crown the lovely young queen with a tiara and bend low to bestow the aloha kiss. What with Kristian Naluai in kindergarten this year, there may be a Naluai king in the future!

Now the royal court was regally assembled on stage, though a bit restless due to their young age, so the audience joined the choral group in their singing of "Aloha Oe."

We are grateful for the dedicated teachers at Hawaiian Mission Elementary School, and to each we express a big Hawaiian mahalo for patiently preparing the children for such a delightful evening. And, a special mahalo to Ross Hiatt, one of the 7th-8th-grade teachers, for organizing an Aloha Week program that will long be remembered by all who attended.

PAUL KRAVIG, Principal.

Waimanalo Pathfinders Find Happiness in Sharing

"Happiness is sharing!" This motto, often seen on posters, certainly describes the activity enjoyed by the Waimanalo Pathfinder Club on the evening of October 30.

Two hundred seventy cans of food gathered, $4.75 cash, 2 cars, 1½ hours time, and the plus factor of 10 Pathfinders with four adult leaders—combine these ingredients to make a profitable and happy adventure for Christ in their "Share Instead of Scare" activity for Halloween.

Following their community-sharing activity, the Pathfinders gathered at Mr. Mun On Chang's home for an enjoyable evening social with homemade ice cream.

H.M.S. RICHARDS says...

"While favoring a closely translated text for careful doctrinal studies, and not accepting all of Dr. Taylor's renditions, I believe that THE LIVING BIBLE is by far the most interesting of the modern paraphrasing of the Scriptures of the English language. It will stir up a great deal of interest in the Word of God and will lead to much further study. Best of all it emphasizes the true deity and atoning sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ and holds Him up as the only hope of the world."

"In this book I have read the age-abiding truths of the Scriptures with renewed interest and inspiration, as though coming to me direct from God."

LA SIERRA CAMPUS

OF LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY

Junior Dietetics Major Awarded National Scholarships

James C. Rose, junior dietetics major at La Sierra, has been awarded two national scholarships worth up to $4,000. Mr. Rose received the Campbell Soup Company Undergraduate Scholarship and the National Restaurant Foundation's H. J. Heinz Senior College Scholarship Award.

Two $1,000 Campbell scholarships and five $1,500 Heinz awards are given annually in the United States. "Loma Linda University is pleased with the quality of our students in the consumer related sciences programs," says Mary P. Byers, chairman of the department. "We are particularly proud of Mr. Rose's achievement."

Both awards are given for high scholastic achievement, outstanding dietetic skills and financial need. The Campbell recipients must be juniors in college. Each scholarship may be renewed during the student's senior year, if he keeps a high scholastic average.

The Heinz award is given over a three-year period. Students must work in food service management each summer. For each summer of work the student receives another $500.

"Loma Linda University has over 116 majors in consumer related sciences," says Mrs. Byers. Programs offered in the department include two-year programs in food service supervision for the training of chefs, bakers and supervisors, and a nutrition care service for the training of dietary technicians; four-year programs in dietetics and food administration are also offered within the department.

For information about the Consumer Related Sciences Department, write: Loma Linda University, Department of Consumer Related Sciences, Riverside, California 92505.

Christmas Candlelight Concert to Feature Carols and Anthems

A new touch will be added to the traditional Candlelight Concert to be presented by Loma Linda University's Department of Music on December 3 and 4.

"We want to create a warm and cheerful spirit of Christmas," says Bjorn Keyn, associate professor of music and program director. This year's Candlelight Concert will feature a number of carols and anthems rather than a concentration on a series of large-scale works. Considerable emphasis will be put on congregational participation in the carol singing, together with large choral and instrumental ensembles.

The program will feature the combined musical forces of both campuses. Taking part will be the University Church Choir, directed by Bailey Gillespie, associate dean of the School of Dentistry, and the Loma Linda University Choir and Chamber Singers, directed by Bjorn Keyn. Instrumental music will be played by the University Orchestra and the Loma Linda Brass Society. Also participating will be the Delta Mu Chorale of the La Sierra Academy, directed by Cheryl Wear.

The concert will include two performances to be given December 3 at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. at the La Sierra Adventist Candlelight Concert director Bjorn Keyn.

Church. For these two performances, free reserved tickets may be obtained by calling the music department at 689-4321, extension 229. Tickets will be mailed or may be picked up at the La Sierra campus.

A third performance will be given December 4 at 4:30 p.m. in the Loma Linda University Church, Loma Linda campus. No reservations are necessary for this performance.

Speech Rehabilitation Center Opens November 8

La Sierra campus Speech, Language and Rehabilitation Center opened to patients November 8, according to Dr. Brian J. Jacques, chairman of the department of communications.

The new facility includes six specially constructed speech therapy rooms including one for group therapy, and audiology testing center, waiting room and receptionist offices. The center is equipped with two-way mirrors for observation and wiring for audio and television monitoring. The facilities are serving patients in the Riverside, Corona and Norco areas as well as campus students, says Dr. Kenneth R. Lutz, associate professor of speech, and director of the facility.

"The new clinical facility is the first of three phases of development leading to an active graduate program. Enrollment in the undergraduate program in Communication Sciences has reached a record high this year. Consideration is now being given to the establishment of a program in education for the deaf because of the urgent need for teachers of the auditorily handicapped," says Dr. Jacques.

To date, seven students have received the Master of Science degree from the University. "Graduates from our masters' program have shown a real interest in advances in the department and are entering fully into the planning phases of our expanding program," says Dr. Lutz.

Course work in the School of Allied Health Professions is required, thus providing a well-integrated, multi-disciplinary approach to the training program in communication sciences.

YO SOY FELIZ!

En la hermosa voz de tres consagradas jóvenes adventistas, las hermanas Ramos, resuenan en este álbum los ecos inspiradores de trece himnos—con agradables variaciones—que elevan el espíritu cerca de Dios y le permiten renovar los ideales espirituales. Con los retoques maestros de las mismas cantoras, himnos como "Hay un mundo feliz más allá," "Gran gozo hay en mi alma hoy," "Un canto de libertad," y otros, llenan el corazón de emoción y rodean a quien escucha de la dulce atmósfera celestial. YO SOY FELIZ—un disco estereofónico compatible—puede conseguirse en la agencia de publicaciones de su campo—por medio de su iglesia—por sólo $5.

VOP Prophetic Guidance Course

With the continuing growth of the Seventh-day Adventist family, it is vitally important that each member be acquainted with the world heritage given to the Adventist Church through the gift of prophecy in the writings of Ellen G. White.

To help every member understand more fully the role of the guidance of the prophetic gift in the development and continuing activities of our church, The Voice of Prophecy is offering the Prophetic Guidance Course free to any of our church members.

This course will give you an understanding of a great deal of denominational history. It will confirm our faith in the divine origin of this movement. Remember, this course is free.

Your pastor has enrollment blanks, or you can write directly to The Voice of Prophecy, P.O. Box 55, Los Angeles, California 90053, and request they enroll you in this course.

You will notice as you study that the roots of Adventism are deep in the fold of divine guidance and we have nothing to fear for the future except as we forget the leading of the Lord in the past.
