Christian Education Pays in Souls

Pastor E. Dwe, evangelist in the Delta Section of the Burma Union approached some graduates of the Burma Bible Seminary.

"Have any of you men ever visited the village of Kazinngu (Ka Sin U)?"

"Yes," replied one, "it can be reached only by boat or canoe and the people there are all Buddhist. Why do you ask?"

"I would like to conduct evangelistic meetings there. Christianity has never been introduced in Kazinngu so it would be a real challenge. But I would like your help."

When the evangelistic team was made up, five out of the eight members were products of the Burma Bible Seminary—the only educational institution that we have been permitted to keep in Burma, and a very important one for the success of our work in that country.

It was a happy surprise to the enthusiastic team to find such a large crowd of interested people. On several occasions the attendance reached the 1,000 mark. But even the average of 400 was a large group for an all-Buddhist village.

At the close of the meetings, 23 souls took their stand for the Lord Jesus and were baptized. Many additional people desired to hear more about our sin pardoning Saviour since such a thought was entirely new to them.

Among those baptized was a young man of 22, who had studied to the 10th Standard (12th grade). He was immediately disowned and sent from home. Another one, 18 years old, was also sent from home the same day. In spite of difficulty, the gospel of Christ has the power to save.

1. In a dormitory, furniture hardly exists. 2. Work, including washing dishes after meals, is mostly done on the floor. 3. A kundali (hoe) does the work, but it is hard on the back. 4. Harvesting of wheat is done without machines.

Six of the 23 baptized expressed their desire to study in our regular schools, but since we cannot operate regular schools in Burma, they look forward to the time when they can attend the Burma Bible Seminary. Four of these are now attending a government school, and living in our hos-

Adventist Publishers Display at National Convention

United Publishers (UP) is a brand-new name, representing the Adventist publishing houses to non-Adventist religious book stores. UP recently attended the 23rd annual Christian Booksellers Association convention in Cincinnati, Ohio, in an effort to place Adventist publications in the thousands of Christian bookstores in North America. Over 150 publishers displayed at the convention.

UP's 600-square-foot booth received a great deal of favorable attention. "I was told more than once that our's was one of the most attractive booths at the convention," Paul Turpel from Pacific Press said. Vegetarian Cookery, My Two Worlds, God Spoke Tibetan and other best sellers were on display. Many orders were received for these and other Adventist publications. United Publishers also featured albums by Paul Johnson, the Wedgwood and other Chapel/Bridge recording artists.

The Wedgwood was enthusiastically received in their three live performances during the convention. After a concert featuring many groups, a woman came to

Literature Evangelist Training School Planned for Oct. 16-19

Everywhere in fall departmental meetings there is talk about Mission '73.

Recently in session at Union headquarters, Elder E. E. Cleveland (General Conference director of Mission '73) said, "The emphasis is personal witnessing. Let's not wait till we're completely prepared, till we're properly dressed, till everything is just right. The greatest thing most of us need is a vision."

Your opportunity for total involvement in 1973 can be a reality. Plan to attend the Literature Evangelist Training School. This will be held at Mountain View in the Pacific Press Auditorium, October 16-19.

For complete information, write to Pacific Union Publishing Department, A. R. Reiswig, Box 146, Glendale, California 91209.

ASI—AN ORGANIZATION OF QUALITY AND PURPOSE

The Association of Privately owned Seventh-day Adventist Services Industries is not a small organization or a big one. It's an organization of quality and purpose.

Began in 1947 under the sponsorship of the General Conference, ASI has grown through the years until its present membership of 245. One third of the membership is within the Pacific Union. These 245 members operate institutions and businesses which employ 9,000 people. There are 84 nursing homes and 38 sanitariums. These institutions employ 6,000 people and operate 2,000 more beds than our denominationally operated institutions.

While at one time ASI was dominated mostly by nursing homes, there are now over 40 services and industries plus medical and dental centers which make ASI one of the most cosmopolitan organizations in existence. It fills a specific need in reaching people, a need which cannot be reached in any other way.

The late F. D. Nichol once said, "If ASI had not been born, we would have had to create it."

SO YOU WILL KNOW...

The annual Review campaign began September 9 and will run through October 7. During this period, our church paper is available for $8.50 per year. The regular price is $9.95. Other periodicals are also available.

In the country of Zaire, West Africa, 11 different religious groups, comprised of 123,844 members in 205 churches, are asking for membership in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. This figure includes children. Many are already observing the Sabbath, practicing baptism by immersion and abstaining from the use of tobacco, alcohol and unclean foods.

Thursday, September 7, a group met in the Union Conference office to give thorough consideration to and to lay plans for MISSION '73. Leading the meeting were three of our leaders from the General Conference—Elders M. T. Battle, E. E. Cleveland and N. C. Wilson. It is the plan to have evangelistic meetings in all of our churches during the year 1973. These meetings will be preceded by seed sowing and witnessing so that by the start of the meetings a good number will be ready to study the truths held by our church. Meetings will proceed under the general title of "Reach Out for Life," which was the theme in 1972. In addition to this general title, we will identify our program here in the Pacific Union as "Your Key to Real Happiness." A recent survey indicates that a large majority of people find "Happiness" to be their prime goal. Literature for distribution and advertising materials are being prepared on a uniform basis in order to keep the cost to a minimum. Elders John Osborn and Donald Gray are leading the planning for the Union.

"Be of Good Cheer..."

Elder Kegley is replacing Elder Arnold Storz who accepted a call to the Brewster, Washington, Church.

Philadelphian Church Sponsors a Laymen's Congress

The Philadelphian Church of San Francisco, under the leadership of the lay activities department, is sponsoring a Laymen's Congress. It will be held October 20-22. The theme, "Follow Me," is taken from John 12:22. Meetings will be held as follows:

Friday, October 20—7:15 p.m.
Sabbath, October 21—9:15 a.m., Sabbath school
Sabbath, October 21—11 a.m. Divine worship
Sabbath, October 21—4:15 p.m.
Sunday, October 22—10:11:30 a.m.

All services will be conducted by laymen and women. We are expecting representatives from Nevada, Arizona, Utah and California. Here are some reasons why you should make plans to attend:

Young People Involve Themselves in Youth Evangelism

The Lord has surely blessed the youth program in Central California thus far in 1972—and in particular during the past summer.

Scores of young people were involved in youth evangelism in a variety of opportunities such as: Camp Wawona, Branch Sabbath School, Youth Program, student colporteur and assisting with the youth program in their local church.

We thank God for evidence of His leading in seeing many victories for Christ as a result of our summer "Youth for Youth" program.

Youth department items of interest are:

- YOUTH LEADERS' WEEKEND—September 29 to October 1 at Camp Wawona. This is for all church members who are interested in promoting the youth work. We welcome in particular all MV officers, Pathfinder staff members, Sabbath school leaders, and academy and junior academy representatives. The cost for the entire weekend is only $12, and we hope to have all churches in Central represented.

Dr. Ansel Bristol Will Speak at the Cambrian Park Church

Dr. Ansel Bristol, pastor of the Sunnyvale Church, will be the featured speaker at the Cambrian Park Church, on Friday evening, September 29, at 7:30.

Ansel Bristol

He will show color slide pictures taken during his recent trips to Palestine. His message is entitled "Walking Where Jesus Walked."

Virginia McConnehey, soprano, will sing, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," and Gil Esclara, bass, will sing "The Holy City." Both songs will be illustrated with color slides.

On October 6, Elder Day Day and youth from the Los Altos Church will present the program.

On October 13 and 20, Miss Mary Walsh, of the Pacific Union Conference lay activities department, will be the speaker. Each program begins at 7:30 p.m.

thing this new contraption was! Imagine turning a few dials and picking up a voice from the airways!

In the years since that first beginning, radio has truly revolutionized human life in all parts of planet earth. Much of it for good, but far too often these mysterious voices are not uplifting.

Satan was very quick to seize this new media to break down and destroy much that was good and noble. His success in this all to well in evidence about us.

Thank God, however, for the foresight and faith of Adventist leaders, who early saw the value of radio! God inspired Elder H. M. S. Richards, then a dynamic young evangelist, to use radio to multiply his evangelistic potential. Almost singlehandedly, but with a great measure of faith, he and a few others began radio evangelism.

The small trickle of truth has now become a great river encircling the globe, by this still-wonderful means of radio.

The Voice of Prophecy is the main arm of this great evangelistic thrust. Working against great odds they are continuing to advance the cause of truth to untold thousands. Only eternity will reveal the great host of the redeemed who found their Saviour first over radio!

Those who believe in The Voice of Prophecy and radio evangelism will again have an opportunity of sharing in this great venture for Christ. Our annual Voice of Prophecy Offering will be taken in all churches on Sabbath, October 14. The question you must ask is, "How much shall I sacrifice for this cause?" The answer is between you and God. Pray about it and give more than ever before, for the needs

- ✓ To be spiritually re-charged and rejuvenated.
- ✓ To hear from, learn from, see and meet other laymen.
- ✓ To talk with dedicated men, women and youth who want to see God's work finished and be prepared to meet Him.
- ✓ To share views and exchange thoughts regarding the work.
- ✓ To have a wonderful fellowship with one another in a spiritual as well as social way, and then return home fired up to do a greater work for the Lord.

Homes of many of the Philadelphian members will be open to many who will make a request. A motel/hotel information sheet is also available upon request. Social activities, sightseeing, tours and recreation activities are being planned for Saturday night and Sunday. Monday is a holiday for many people.

Annual Ministerial Retreat Held at Pine Springs Ranch

The annual Ministerial Retreat was held at Pine Springs Ranch from August 27 to 30. In attendance were the pastors, Bible instructors, church administrators and members of their families.

Each day started with inspirational messages by Elder Gordon S. Balharrie, dean of the School of Theology of Walla Walla College. These were followed by group prayer bands that were held out in the open.

Group prayer bands met in the great out-of-doors.

A course in "Leadership" was given by Dr. Vernon H. Koenig of Loma Linda University. Other speakers were Dr. V. N. Olsen of Loma Linda University, Elder W. J. Blacker, president of the Pacific Union Conference, and Elder Melvin L. Lukens, conference president.

Time was also spent in discussion of evangelism for the coming year and other conference business.

Witnessing by a Church Member Wins One to Christ

Three people were recently baptized into the Mira Loma Church. One, Mrs. Juanita Landau, was converted because the pastor decided not to hold the church service one Sabbath. Instead, Pastor Dan Savino gave the members as many copies of the Signs of the Times as they could carry and sent them out into the community to witness rather than worship.

At one door, Elder Boehrig met Mrs. Landau. Recalling their meeting, Mrs. Landau says, "It was just as if I had been waiting for him." She was ready for the meeting because she had been reading Seventh-day Adventist literature while taking her husband to the doctor. After her husband's death, she didn't make an immediate move to contact the Adventists in her area. Then when Elder Boehrig came to her door, she knew she had read and heard the Truth and decided to take the final steps for baptism.

Wanda and Walt Wiley were the other two who were baptized with Mrs. Landau. Wanda's grandmother had been an Adventist, and Wanda had gone to church with her Adventist girl friends. While at work one day, Wanda took a message for a fellow employee from the Corona pastor, Elder Cowan. When Wanda learned who he was, she expressed her desire for Bible studies. Pastor Cowan immediately contacted Pastor Savino of Mira Loma where the Wileys lived. Soon both Wanda and her husband, Walt, were ready for baptism.

The Mira Loma Church members are extremely happy to accept these new members won to Christ because of His love for them.

Southeastern Is Sponsoring Eight Half-hour TV Programs

We have launched into our fall television schedule and we are happy to report that we are presently sponsoring eight, 30-minute programs of Adventist television in southern California.

This does not include the Quiet Hour's telecast "Search" which has been on for four weeks this month. An unfortunate circumstance kept them from signing a longer contract. They are at present seeking a new time.

We are dependent on our fellow believers to advertise these telecasts and to invite their friends to view them. Please help distribute the invitations that have been sent to your church.

Bible House Wants Your Old Books No Longer Being Used

Don't throw away your old books if you are moving or cleaning house. Bring those old books to the Adventist Bible House. We'll redistribute them.

Our plan:

- We attach a small price tag, may 25, 50 or 75 cents, depending on size and condition.
- The books are put on the bargain table.
- The new owner is pleased at his discovery.
- It helps the Bible House draw traffic.
- You are satisfied at knowing what is happening to your books.

Sorry we cannot promise to reimburse you. The selling price is only sufficient to cover clerking and handling costs. Southeastern California Book and Bible House, 9731 Magnolia, or Box 7584, Riverside, California 92503.

Recorder Deadline

Local conferences must mail copy to the RECORDER office by their office closing time Thursday afternoon each week. Any material you may wish to submit for publication should be in your conference office by noon Wednesday of any given week. This will give the folk in your conference office time to process the material and prepare it for publication. All copy must be submitted to your conference office—news stories, articles, announcements, advertisements, and obituaries.

Thank you for your cooperation with this plan.

Our purpose is to demonstrate that a wholesome lifestyle includes physical recreation. The effort and expense are worthwhile when the young people especially are convinced of the value of a "re-creating" way of life. We will continue to develop our community service program."

On a recent Sabbath evening, appropriate services were held in the sanctuary to close the Sabbath. With the summer coming to a close, a special program was held that evening called "Saturday Night at Azure Hills."

Over 150 youngsters and adults came out to enjoy the volleyball games, tennis, swimming, shuffleboard, tether ball, swings and ping pong. Grandmothers, who were unable to participate themselves, received joy from watching others play.

David Larson, coordinator of youth activities, stated that there was more activity this year than last year.

Many families have taken advantage of the daily swim schedule. Swimming classes and a life-saving course have also been taught. Swimming will continue on Saturday nights as long as the weather permits.

Bible Burial Service Is Held for 20 Old, Worn-out Bibles

Recently a senior member of the Banning Church phoned Pastor Gary Case saying she had a very old Bible that she had worn out by use.

Realizing that such Bibles should be disposed of by burning or burying, she wondered if her Bible might be buried beneath the new Sabbath school rooms being constructed.

The other members of the congregation were invited to bring their worn-out Bibles to be buried. Subsequently, a Bible burial service was held on Sabbath afternoon, and 20, old, fragile, yellow-paged Bibles were brought.

Instead of burning old, worn-out Bibles, the Banning Church buried them as a foundation for a new Sabbath school addition. L-r, George Evans, Jr., Pastor Gary Case and Roy Goff.

Having given their readers a sure foundation in Spiritual things, these Bibles were wrapped and laid in a cross shaped grave symbolizing that the Church is built upon the Word of God.

Language Students Accept Mission Appointments

Following in the footsteps of many La Sierra language majors, seven French language students are under appointment to go to the mission field before the end of the year. They have been prepared for mission service both by studying language at La Sierra and living in a French-speaking country.

Three of the students—Pierre Ramseier, Doug Robertson and Tina Krochak—will be working at Gitwe College in Rwanda, Africa.

Pierre finished his master's degree in French literature last month and will be teaching French literature and civilization. A native of Switzerland, Pierre came to La Sierra for graduate study. He has worked as French teacher at Union Springs Academy in New York. Pierre, his wife, Janet, who is a nurse, and two children left for Gitwe this month.

Doug Robertson is going to Gitwe as a student missionary with duties in the secondary school. Doug is a 1972 graduate of the College of Arts and Sciences with a major in French. He replaces another La

FRED ANDERSON FILLS POST ON THE LLU LIBRARY STAFF

Mr. Fred Anderson has joined the library staff of Loma Linda University, coming from the University of Nebraska where he held the position of financial-aid advisor. He will be working in the department of public services on the La Sierra campus and also pursuing studies for a degree in librarianship at the University of Southern California.

Originally from Greenville, South Carolina, Mr. Anderson attended Oakwood College, City College of New York, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Nebraska with a major in history.

Anderson has also held positions as marketing representative for IBM, resident advisor for the Lincoln (Nebraska) Job Corps, an associate with the Omaha Urban League, and was the first Black to serve as bailiff for Douglas County Courts, Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. Anderson has always had a desire to contribute to denominational work, especially on the college campus. "I have an interest in young people in college because their idealism matches mine," he stated.

He is married to the former Janice Elizabeth Gardner of New York City. They have one daughter, Stacey Suzette, 2 years old.

CORRECTION: In the recent "Trust Officers Meet for Classes in Trust Services" article, it states that the instruction was by LLU and the Pacific Union Conference Association. It should state that the course work was directed by LLU and the Union Conference Association secretaries.

Sierra student missionary—Lauren Buller.

Tina Krochak is the only one of these new missionaries who did not study at the Seminaire Adventiste in Collonges, France. Tina is Canadian and has taught French for two years in government schools. Just shortly before coming to the United States in the summer of 1971, she became an Adventist and decided to continue her schooling at La Sierra. In June, Tina received her master's degree in secondary education with an emphasis in French. She will be girls' dean at Gitwe.

Also in French-speaking Africa, at Kivoga College in Burundi, John Hoyt will teach science and math. John and his wife, Carolyn, graduated from Loma Linda University in 1969. John was a French major while Carolyn majored in German and minored in French.

On the other side of the world, Marianne Davis will be teaching elementary school in Tahiti, French Polynesia. Marianne is looking forward to this experience, for since graduation in 1969, she has taught on the elementary level and is anticipating an opportunity to use the French which she speaks fluently.

The only French major not going to a French-speaking country at this time is James Bourgeois. Jim will be principal of a newly established high school on Grenada, an island of the West Indies. His wife, Shirley, will be the school nurse.

"Because of their interest in foreign countries and their extensive language training, many language majors go into mission service," explains Dr. Margarete Hilts, chairman of the modern languages department. "We are very proud that our students can help to take the message of Christ to the world. After all, this is the goal of Seventh-day Adventist education."

APPLICATIONS SET RECORD

Applications to programs on the La Sierra campus have reached an all-time high, reports Dr. Robert L. Osmunson, associate dean of admissions and director of recruitment on the La Sierra campus. Latest figures show applications at 2,514, topping the previous high of last year's 2,431.

Dr. Osmunson is particularly glad to report that a significant amount of increase has been noted in La Sierra's freshman applications.

Maui Camp Meeting Features Elder Reinhold Tilstra

The weekend of September 8 and 9 was camp meeting time on Maui. Pastor Oliver Stimpson of the Kahului church and Pastor Stan Caylor of the Lahaina church made arrangements for the use of the Episcopal campgrounds at Camp Pacus, midway between Kahului and Lahaina. There was a spirit of expectation as the sun went down Friday evening.

Featured speaker was Elder Reinhold Tilstra, pastor of the Grass Valley Church in the Northern California Conference, and newly appointed pastor of the Carmichael Church in Sacramento. Pastor Tilstra brought stirring and helpful studies from the work of Revelation.

Highlight of the Sabbath was the baptism of Michael and Tamara Conlan. Immediately following the church service, we gathered at the beach to witness this happy service.

Craig Klatt, Adventist Book Center manager, conducted a well-patronized book sale on Saturday evening.

The weekend was a rich blessing for all in attendance.

Total Enrollment—985 Children

16 Churches Hold Vacation Bible Schools

Another chapter in VBS evangelism is being written in the history of the Advent movement in Hawaii. Sixteen of our 20 churches participated, or 80 percent of the churches held Vacation Bible Schools.

There was a total enrollment of 985 students; 664 of these students were from non-Adventist homes, or nearly 68 percent of the total attendance. In no other form of evangelism do we touch so many non-Adventist people.

The most inspiring part of the chapter is that 27 of the non-Adventist students were interested in church school; 14 went to JMV camp, 41 became members of the Pathfinders; 12 were enrolled in Bible courses; 14 sets of parents became interested, and three have been baptized as a result of VBS. Seventy-nine are in attendance at Sabbath school.

Not untypical of VBS experiences is the report from Pastor Ken Friesen from Molokai: "On the Friday following VBS graduation, I held a Bible study in the home of a lady who had sent several children to VBS. I had been studying with her for several weeks prior to VBS. We were having prayer at the end of the study. She was praying, and in a tearful voice thanked God that two of her grandchildren had found interest in studying the Bible.

"Afterward she told Penny and me that her two grandchildren who were staying with her for a while, had not received religious training in their own home, but had been reading the Bibles they had received at Vacation Bible School."

And the last chapter of 1972 VBS evangelism has not been written. Follow-up work will produce thrilling results. Our VBS leaders and assistants are to be commended for their willingness to serve. There are some rewards now, but there will be greater rewards in the kingdom.
