First VOP Bible Course Graduate Is Baptized

One of the features, when The Voice of Prophecy began nationwide broadcasting in 1942, was its offer of a free Bible correspondence course.

The Bible-study-by-mail idea had been brought to The Voice of Prophecy by Elder Fordyce W. Detamore, then a successful pastor in the Midwest, when he was invited to become associate speaker and manager.

In response to that first radio invitation, a large number of applications came in for the Bible course, and in the weeks that followed, enrollment in the plan grew. Finally came the day when Mrs. Bessie Detamore, pastor Detamore's mother, who had been asked to head the Bible-school work, sent out the first diploma to the first graduate of this the first Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course.

The name on that first diploma was "M. Zolnerzak." He was a soldier in the U.S. Army, and to mark this milestone in The of Prophecy from Evangelist Duane Corwin who holds crusades throughout the Central California Conference. "We have just baptized a Mr. M. Zolnerzak who says he is the first graduate of the first Voice of Prophecy Bible course," Evangelist Corwin's letter stated.

The unusual experience of Brother Zolnerzak should bring joy and courage to every person who has enrolled another in a Bible correspondence course, or invited someone to church, or given a piece of Christian literature to a friend.

Andrews Plans June Institute on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse

An Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse will be held at Andrews University School of Graduate Studies June 25-27. This is a cooperative effort of the National Committee for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse with the University.

The Institute not only deals with education towards prevention but also approaches the areas of treatment and rehabilitation. Individuals who are professionals in their field—representing all walks of life such as government, education, medical, social, religious, law enforcement and youth—will be participating in the program.

Contact your local conference health and temperance secretary for a brochure and registration form or write to Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI 49104.

Voice of Prophecy's history, his photograph and a brief article appeared in The Voice of Prophecy News.

After that, M. Zolnerzak, like many other graduates of The Voice of Prophecy's Bible courses, dropped out of sight. He did not enroll in another Bible course, as many do. He did not continue to write to The Voice of Prophecy, as some do. He became a "nonperson" as far as the Bible-school records were concerned.

But God never gives up on those in whose minds His truth has been planted. Though the years turned into decades following his graduation from the Bible course, M. Zolnerzak never quite forgot.

SO YOU WILL KNOW...

Monday, May 7, the Executive Committee of Pacific Union College Board met all day in the Dining Commons. Budgets for the first phase of the Science Complex and a Visual Arts Center were approved. Construction has begun on the science building, which is a project of the "Committee of 100." Initial reports from the committee that inspected the college recently are favorable. Applications for the 1973-74 school year are running ahead of a year ago.

May 8-10 the North American Division union presidents met at Loma Linda. Neal C. Wilson opened the meeting by reading the first three verses of the third chapter of Colossians from the Living New Testament. Verse 2 says, "Let heaven fill your thoughts; don't spend your time worrying about things down here." Good counsel. The agenda for the meeting covered 43 subjects from the question of a new church hymnal to plans for the 1975 General Conference Session; to the training of the ministry, to Bible conferences in 1974 and to a consideration of union papers.

A letter reached me from one of our faithful and loyal members regarding devaluation. I stated that if 300 people would each give $1,000, we would have our objective of $300,000. I did not want to infer that this would take care of the problem and that all should not participate. The writer refers to this fact, and I quote from the letter: "Why depend on just 300 people? Of course, even if that many people gave that amount, then the amounts given by the rest of us members could be a grand overflow; but should our churches look only to the 300 who might give that amount? The 'poor,' if you should call the rest of us 'poor,' also have a responsibility. Many are not so poor but can surely give half that amount or slightly less. What about the $100, $50, $25, $10, and $5 offerings that can be given by many? Serious thinking and planning can surely boost the grand offering of May 26. . . . I believe there is plenty of money among our members. I don't believe our believers are sacrificing as much as they should. Soon our money will do us no good." This good church member has given us something to think about.

Stewardship Secretary T. E. Unruh Announces His Retirement

Since 1963 Elder T. E. Unruh has given faithful service as stewardship secretary of our Conference. It is with a deep sense of regret that we announce that he will retire on June 15, the second time. However he does not intend to spend his remaining years in reflective idleness as some might do. His desire is to do some devotional writing and to take occasional speaking appointments.

T. E. Unruh

Elder Unruh's contribution to the cause of God has been great since his graduation from Emmanuel Missionary College in 1925. He devoted 15 years of service to our youth as a teacher, principal, dean of men and educational superintendent first in the Canadian Union Conference and in the Lake Union Conference.

He served three conferences as president, Wisconsin Conference from 1940 to 1947, the East Pennsylvania Conference from 1947 to 1960, and the Indiana Conference from 1960 to 1963.

His contributions of service to our Conference has been great in the 10 years he has been with us. He has served a three-fold task, that of developing a stewardship ministry, that of promoting and planning a retirement center at National City, and that of serving as a field representative of the Conference Association.

His personal counsel to workers and his spiritual presentations at workers' retreats did much to strengthen our workers. Other conferences have called upon his services for their camp meetings as well.

We are happy that Elder and Mrs. Unruh are remaining in our Conference as they will be relocating near the Azure Hills church. We wish for them the best of health and still look forward to their visits to our churches and office.

Brawley Spanish Church Continues Evangelistic Programs

Elder Daniel Riffel began full-time ministry at the Brawley Spanish Church the first of the year.

The first program in a series of programs was a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking. He was assisted by Dr. Harold Janetzko of the River Plate Sanitarium who is now located at the Loma Linda University Medical Center.

The meetings were held at a central community center, Hidalgo Hall, which is well known by the Spanish-speaking people. Thirty-five people enrolled for the plan and 25 were able to quit smoking.

The next part of the program included 12 lectures on home and family life. Eighty families were reached during this series.

During the Easter holidays, a special week called "Holy Week" brought out 180 persons for the meetings. Twenty-six families received Bibles as their attendance award. Eleven of these families are continuing to study and are also attending Sabbath services. It is hoped that the number of families studying right now will still increase, and that at the close of this year there will be a wonderful harvest of souls.

Due to the unavailability of scheduled speakers and some great problems in connection with our physical arrangements it was considered advisable that we cancel the Camp Meeting planned for June 20 to 23.

Ray A. Nelson Joins Santa Ana Broadway Church Staff

Pastor and Mrs. Ray A. Nelson have joined the staff at the Santa Ana Broadway Church where he will serve as associate pastor.

Pastor Nelson received his B.A. degree from Atlantic Union College, his B.D. degree from Andrews University and his M.S.P.H. degree from the School of Health of Loma Linda University.

He has served in the Arkansas-Louisiana and Greater New York conferences before coming to our conference. Mrs. Nelson is the former Valerie Kay Schneider. She received her Bachelor of Music Education from Andrews University.

We welcome this young couple to our pastoral staff.

Alicia Knight Returns from Student Missionary Post

For nine months, the students of the Seventh-day Adventist Secondary School Yele in Sierra Leone enjoyed the friendly companionship of Alicia Knight, a student missionary from Pacific Union College.

Alicia Knight

Miss Knight filled the capacity of music teacher to all classes, taught English literature and conducted the choir and other musical groups.

There were several students who showed great potential, and Miss Knight encouraged them by giving them private studies. Even though many of these had never seen or touched a piano before.

Transportation is a real problem there, but this did not discouraged the students from sharing their talents with others. Their first tour was a visit to the church in the village of Yele, where they sang in

THE LOMA LINDA ACADEMY CHOIR, under the able direction of Buz Starrett, has been performing the past few weeks a religious musical entitled "A Celebration of Hope." The lyrics were written by Paul Johnson and the music by Otis Skillings.

Audiences are thrilled by the happy performance of the singers. The listener participates in the joy expressed by the group within himself. One realizes anew that Christianity is a happy experience and that the "good news" fills the world with hope. It is truly a celebration.

The last two performances will be at the La Sierra Collegiate Sabbath school on May 12 and at Orangewood Academy on May 18.

Bygone Era Comes Alive during Ontario's Pioneer Day

How often we've heard the remark, "I should have been born a hundred years ago!"

Many of us yearn for what we've heard and read of America's past—days of togetherness, days of hard work, genuine pleasant days. It sounds good, so why not give our students contact with the rugged idealism of early America!

Culminating a unit of study on the westward movement, students of the Ontario Seventh-day Adventist School enjoyed Pioneer Day, April 12. With students and teachers dressed as pioneers (many even barefooted!) the day began with pioneer school-day activities. For worship, verses from Proverbs 15 were read and discussed, and early hymns were sung a cappella, followed by morning prayer and a short music class of singing old rounds.

Bible textbooks were used as "readers." Students addressed as "Miss" and "Mr." raised their hands and then stood beside their desks to answer questions. The day's writing lesson was based on the verses from Proverbs. Students were given actual problems from a pioneer textbook for arithmetic class. Other activities planned for the day included a demonstration on candle-dipping, a pioneer game, butter churning, cooking pudding and making sample quilt blocks.

Mothers prepared a tasty potluck luncheon of pioneer dishes such as baked beans, cornbread, potato salad, berries and apple pie. At school, the girls cooked vegetables and spread the table.

A special event of the day was a puppet show, "When Men Moved West," presented by the fifth and sixth graders for the students of grades 1-4. The children made paper mache puppets with costumes of material scraps. They also supplied props and backdrops for the puppet stage. Scripts written by the students were edited and compiled into a play by the teacher. The closing scene was of a lone pioneer with a guitar singing by the fire. The live music was performed by a guest.

Students were given the opportunity to develop concepts of a bygone era when the world seemed to move along a little more slowly, with time for enjoyment of the basic beauties of life.

Marshall Chase Leaves for Nevada-Utah Conference Post

It is with appreciation for excellent service that we say good-bye to Elder and Mrs. Marshall Chase as they leave the Arizona Conference to take up new responsibilities in Reno, Nevada, where he will become secretary-treasurer of the Nevada-Utah Conference.

Elder Chase is a ministerial graduate of Union College. He entered the ministry in Oklahoma, took additional training at the seminary and worked at Boulder Sanitarium and Hospital, Boulder, Colorado, in the business field.

From hospital work, he came to Arizona in 1967 to work in the treasury department. Two years ago, he became the associate secretary and stewardship secretary for our Conference. Active in pulpit and personal work, he was ordained to the gospel ministry last summer during camp meeting.

Elder and Mrs. Chase and 2-year-old Shonda will be missed by our constituency. We wish them much success and happiness in their new post, and happiness with their baby which is due the first part of June.

Jo Ann Davidson Directs Flagstaff Cooking School

Jo Ann Davidson, wife of our Flagstaff pastor, directed a four-day cooking school in that area recently. There was a short discussion each evening on nutrition, then two or three recipes were prepared in a demonstration. Those attending received samples of the food and copies of the recipes.

Class members were given daily reading assignments, as well as written work to complete. Those who completed their work were given the book, Common Sense Nutrition.

Flagstaff's local paper carried an article each evening describing the class and the program for the night. Because of interest that developed from the classes, the editor of the Woman's Page contacted Mrs. Davidson and asked if she could run an

ABC Realizes High Increase in Total Sales

The Lord has really blessed the Adventist Book Center during the past year with a total sales of $231,852.33, which is a $28,933.73 increase over the previous year.

The part that is most encouraging to each of us on the staff is that the largest increase was in books, with $10,517.96 more books purchased this year by the members of the Arizona Conference than in the previous year. Also, $6,685.98 more periodicals were purchased.

To us, this indicates a real desire on the part of the members to grow spiritually and to use the Church's literature in their missionary work.

One idea that has been initiated that has perhaps been the most beneficial to the constituency is to be open on Sunday. This was started in February, with hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the second Sunday of each month.

Another service that was expanded last fall was the book displays held in outlying churches of the conference. We were overwhelmed at the receptions given these displays and are looking forward to having them again this fall.

Your Adventist Book Center is here to serve you, and anytime you have a question for us, feel free to stop in, phone or write.

Ben Liebelt and R. L. Cone Meet with Executive Committee

Sunday, May 6, the Nevada-Utah Executive Committee met in Reno for a full committee meeting. We were pleased to have Elder Ben Liebelt of the General Conference Sabbath school department and Elder R. L. Cone, our Pacific Union treasurer, with us.

Also, since this was the spring meeting, Elder Howard Barron, our educational and MV secretary, met with us as the committee reviewed the educational programs within our conference.

The financial report presented by Elder G. C. Lashier was most encouraging and since inflation also takes its toll it was heartening to see that the Church income is gaining steadily. This is an indication of both faithfulness and liberality on the part of the people of God.

A call was voted for Elder Joe Carner to come to us from the Illinois Conference to serve as pastor in the Fallon District. Calls were also recorded for Elder N. S. McLeod, who will be leaving Las Vegas Highland Square Church to go to Seaside in Central California, and Brother Wilbur Claus, the principal of the Reno Junior Academy to go to Hawaii to serve as principal of Hawaiian Mission Academy.

Other changes in ministerial personnel are pending and will be announced later in these columns of the RECORDER.

The next Committee meeting will be held Friday, July 6, at 1 p.m. in connection with our Camp Meeting at Springville, Utah.

Interest Rises in Becoming ASI Members

More and more of our Seventh-day Adventist businessmen are showing a real interest in being members of the Association of Privately-owned Services and Industries—better known as the ASI.

This organization brings these private businessmen together to study ways and means of making their businesses or services to serve the Church more fully and effectively.

At the meeting held at Wawona in Central California recently, plans were laid for enlarging the membership of this fine organization to include many more. Within recent weeks, five people in our field have indicated a real desire to join. Some in our field have been members for several years.

If you are in private business and would like to belong to this Adventist fellowship, be sure to write to the ASI secretary so information can be sent to you.

Women's Auxiliary Raises $5,000 for New Equipment

The ladies of the Hanford Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary recently raised and donated $5,000 to the hospital for the purchase of new medical equipment.

During the past eight years, the "pink ladies" of the hospital have raised and contributed over $23,000 for new and sophisticated equipment serving all departments within the institution. The funds have been raised through sales at the hospital gift shop and through various community fund-raising projects.

Virgil Morris, hospital administrator, has indicated that this donation will be used for a number of needed pieces of equipment, with the most costly being a new anesthesia machine for the surgical suite, costing approximately $3,000.

Other uses will be for a new Clotek Coagulation Timer for the laboratory, a viewing and scanning camera for the nursery, plus other equipment items for use within the pulmonary-function laboratory and inhalation-therapy departments.

DID YOU DO YOUR BEST?

The Disaster and Famine Relief Offering was taken just a few days ago. You probably gave an offering for that most needy cause. You may even have given a little more than you usually do for a church offering. But did you really do your best?

You can still give to this to help lift the tragic needs that gnaw on men's lives all around the world. Read this little piece, and then next Sabbath put in that special something to help those who need so much.

Said one, "I planned an ultramodern home." But a Hungarian woman whispered, "I have no home at all."

Said another, "I dreamed of a country place for luxurious weekends." But a refugee child kept saying, "I have no country."

"I decided on a new cupboard right now"; but a child of Korea cried out, "I have no cup."

"I started to purchase a new kind of washing machine"; but a Polish woman said softly, "I have nothing to wash."

"I wanted a quick-freezing unit for storing quantities of food"; but across the water came the cry, "I have no food."

"I ordered a new car for the pleasure of my loved ones"; but a war orphan murmured, "I have no loved ones."—Adapted

Ceres Church Conducts Cooking Class

That vegetarian foods can be tasty as well as nutritious was demonstrated in a series of cooking classes geared especially for new members and friends in the community, and held in one of the Sabbath school rooms of the Ceres church.

A corps of helpers, including Mmes. Marvin Wilcox, William Gray, Ernest Bleakley and Conald Cowper, assisted nutritionist Mrs. Robert Wiedeman as she demonstrated the preparation of the dishes by means of a table and mirror.

Each session included a short, clever film strip on health shown by Mr. Lon Ferguson, an informative talk on a topic related to nutrition, the demonstration and opportunity for tasting. Comments overheard during the latter were most favorable.

On the final evening, an entire dinner was served and husbands invited. Dr. Helen Anspach presented to each one with perfect attendance a copy of the cookbook,

Regional Health Food Store Opens in Haight-Ashbury District

The newest addition to health evangelism is the Regional Health Food Store in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district. Sponsored by inner city services, the store is situated on a well-known street, at 1835 Haight, which is the home area for hundreds of drifting young people.

Many residents in the area and university students frequent the store in search of meat substitutes and supplements. A good variety of breads and pastries, made by Pacific Union College's bakery, is available at the store, plus eggs from the college poultry. Frozen, canned and dehydrated health foods from Loma Linda Foods and Worthington Foods are sold at the store.

Since man shall not live by bread alone, they also give away copies of Message and Signs magazines, plus small copies of Steps to Christ and Wayout papers. The customers appreciate the free literature and continue to patronize the business.

Managing the health food store is Mrs. Naty Liwag, wife of Elder R. R. Liwag, pastor of the San Francisco Filipino Church. Mrs. Alice Finney, who has been active in inner city work for several years in San Francisco, serves as her assistant on a voluntary basis.

It is our prayer that many people who are seeking a healthier way of life will "come to know Him, Whom to know is Life Eternal," through the ministry of this inner city project.

The Regional Health Food Store is staffed by, l-r: Mrs. Alice Finney, Elder Ted T. Jones and Mrs. Naty Liwag.

Sponsorships of Life & Health, Signs and Message will be appreciated by the management. The address is: Regional Health Food Store, 1835 Haight St., San Francisco, CA 94117.

Visitors are always given a cheery welcome at our store! If you haven't been there yet, please come! If you've already met us there, do come again.

Health Services Sponsors "Narcotics Education" Booth

The Association of California School Administrators held their convention on April 13-16 at the Civic Center in San Francisco.

Not wishing to pass up an opportunity for service, the Northern and Central California conferences collaborated in sponsoring an informational temperance booth in Brooks Hall. With the theme "Narcotics Education" and free literature for all who stopped by, the booth proved extremely popular. Over 1,200 Listen magazines, 400 These Times health issues and hundreds of other miscellaneous pieces of literature were given to the 4,500 school officials present.

This "Narcotics Education" project was also featured on a local television newscast. Chaplain Robert Burt and his wife, Jeanne, provided invaluable help in manning the booth and only time will reveal results of the contacts made.

"We should not work solely for our own people, but we should bestow labor also upon noble minds outside our ranks. We should be at the head of temperance reform." Temperance, p. 220.

San Francisco Tabernacle Church Plans Cooking School

A "Meatless Cooking School," sponsored by the San Francisco Tabernacle Church, will be held May 21, 22 and 23 at the Polish Club Hall, 3040 22nd Street.

Some of the topics to be discussed are: "Ways To Get an Adequate Protein Diet Without Meat," "Causes and a Remedy for the No. 1 Disease-Killer in the United States," "How To Beat the High Cost of Eating," and "Why Is Breakfast So Important?"

There will be a $5 registration fee for the course.

■ JOSEPHINE CUNNINGTON EDWARDS, missionary, writer, lecturer, but best known for her story telling, will speak in the Ceres church on Friday evening, June 1, at 7:30; Sabbath morning, June 2, at the 11 o'clock service; and Sabbath afternoon at 3:30.

Health Center Graduates 1,000th Stop-Smoking Participant

Exactly four years from the start of the Health Center Programs in April, 1969, the Health Center Programs division of St. Helena Hospital honored its 1,000th participant in the Stop-Smoking Program.

In a surprise ceremony, Mrs. Clark Runner of San Francisco was called to the head of her graduating "class" to receive a corsage, decorative glassware and a series of vegetarian cookbooks. The cookbooks were co-authored by Mrs. Patricia Black, St. Helena Hospital and Health Center therapeutic dietitian, and Mrs. Ruth Little Carey.

"The people here take a personal interest in your smoking problems," Mrs. Runner stated. She said she had never had such sincere help in trying to overcome her smoking habit previously and added, "I believe it has made the difference I needed to win out this time." Mrs. Runner had smoked for 34 years at close to 1½ packs of cigarettes per day. Her habit has cost her about $7,446 in money alone.

Under the direction of Alan J. Rice, director of Health Center Programs, the modest beginning in 1969 of six participants per month has grown to almost 60 per month. In 1970, Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia produced a report which indicated that the success rate of the Program was one of the highest in the nation.

Coming from as far away as foreign countries, participants have included professional people, Hollywood personalities and numerous San Francisco area businessmen and housewives. All have had a common goal—to find a solution to their smoking or weight-control problems. A cohesive spirit pervades each group of participants. The group of which Mr. and Mrs. Runner were members even wrote their own graduating song and serenaded everyone at the graduating exercise.

Fremont Church Members Plan for a Public Cooking School

A great interest was shown at the Fremont Church cooking school held during six days in April.

The pastor's wife, Mrs. Preston Wallace, and a registered nurse, Carol Dennis, conducted the classes with the help of many church members.

The classes were held primarily for the church members in preparation for a cooking school which will be held for the public starting June 4 at the Fremont Community Center.

People in this area who are anxious to learn how to cook economically without meat have requested recipes from our members. The Fremont Church hopes to fulfill this need.

Heritage Singers' Concert Packs Auditorium with 800

Many weeks ago, Pastor William Hull had a dream! It was one of those wide-awake dreams and it involved the Heritage Singers coming to Sonoma to sing.

Pastor Hull's dream came true on Saturday evening, April 28, when this soul-stirring group of Adventist singers packed the Veterans Memorial Auditorium with nearly 800 enthusiastic listeners.

Probably no Seventh-day Adventist event in Sonoma ever had better coverage through posters, radio, TV and word-of-mouth invitations. And certainly no Adventist event in Sonoma ever made as great a witness that Adventists believe in Jesus Christ and His soon return.

Pastor Hull tied this spirit-filled singing in with the "Key 73" program of the local churches to show them we are happy to join them in placing the Bible in every home. He also connected this gospel concert with the Bible studies and evangelistic effort that will begin in Sonoma on June 9.

We are sure that hundreds of people in Sonoma will never forget the music of the Heritage Singers and we are praying that many of these people will be in the Kingdom as a result of the witness of this group and the further witnessing of our Sonoma members.

Meat Prices Escalate Interest in Vegetarian Meals

Four, resourceful, non-Adventist housewives in Pleasant Hill were so distressed by the zooming price of meat that they decided to take action during the recent boycott.

After signing up 117 concerning housewives in their neighborhoods to join them in observing the meat boycott, they went on the tackle the problem of what to serve their hungry families in place of meat.

Contacting the Conference office, Dorothy Newgard, one of the housewives, learned that many tested meatless recipes were available at the Adventist Book Center. She was impressed with the variety of vegetarian cookbooks offered by the ABC and obtained from Bonner Allen, manager, a recipe for each day of the week for the newspaper.

The newspaper called about the ingredients in the recipes and where to obtain them, which led to distribution of free samples of meat substitutes in some of the larger supermarkets.

Partly because of the meat boycott and rising food prices, there has also been an enormous escalation of interest in cooking schools in various parts of the conference.

Keen interest is shown in learning ways of getting better meals for less money. Very large attendance of non-Adventist members has been noted at cooking schools in the Sacramento Central and Orangevale churches, also in Livermore, Willits, Hayward, Ukiah and Fremont.

CLEARLAKE HIGHLANDS CHURCH MEMBERS busily prepared used Christmas greeting cards for shipment to the Philippines. More than 125 pounds of cards were contributed by church members and residents of the Lower Lake area.

munity Service Award for his outstanding contribution in making the community of Fortuna and the Eel River Valley aware of the church's activities through his publication.

This plaque is only the second such award given in this conference. Prior to his accepting the award, Mr. O'Dell handed Lillian Williams (communications secretary) a note which read "Communication: A two-way street which you folk use well."

Pastor W. B. Bristow, Northern's communication director, thanked Mr. O'Dell publicly during the Sabbath worship service in the church just before presenting the plaque.

Richmond Church Conducts a Health Evangelism Experiment

An experiment has been under way in health evangelism in the Richmond Church.

Using members who had prepared themselves in health awareness as part of the team, the Richmond Church sponsored a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking in January. Seventy-two participants registered, and over 80% of those who completed the course stopped smoking.

In March, a second Five-Day Plan was conducted with 25 persons registering. Nineteen of these, however, were there because of the recommendation of their friends who had completed the January program, three from the American Cancer Society's recommendation and three from newspaper advertising. In the first plan, nearly 85% came as a result of newspaper advertising. In the March program, 96% of those who attended from the first night gave up smoking.

Every person present favored a follow-up meeting for the next two weeks, however, only 50% attended the meetings. The follow-up was announced as an effort to carry them through to a Five-Day Plan of Nutrition in April which would reinforce their resolution to stop smoking and help them in nutrition as well.

The Five-Day Plan of Nutrition was not a cooking school but a series of nutrition lectures and films and discussion presented with a similar format to the Five-Day Stop Smoking Plan. Twenty-one persons registered for the course and all but one completed the course.

The final meeting was a vegetarian dinner on Sunday afternoon at the church with over 26 attending, the majority of whom were non-Adventists from the Five-Day Plan of Nutrition. People were present from both the January and March Stop-Smoking Plans. Most of these have now enrolled in the "Good Food" nutrition course from The Voice of Prophecy.

These Plans have been conducted by Elder Gary Strunk, pastor of the Richmond Church, and Dr. Chester Wong of Berkeley.

Glendale Vallejo Drive Welcomes New Youth Pastor

Southern welcomes Ronald R. Doss as youth pastor of the Glendale Vallejo Drive Church. He and his wife, Donna Mae, with their two little girls, Rhonda Mae and Re-alene Dawn, are already settled and hard at work.

Ronald R. Doss

Pastor Doss, a graduate of Union College, holds a B.A. in theology. While attending college, Ronald spent the summer months as a colporteur. For one year, he served as colporteur intern in the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference. During the past three years, he has pastored in the Sidney, Nebraska, district.

He has led several singing groups whose main emphasis was on evangelism. One of these—The Wayout Singers for Christ—held two evangelistic series in the Nebraska Panhandle during the summer of 1970; three people were baptized as a result.

Pastor Doss was the speaker on a 30-minute weekly radio program—The Chapel Hour—heard over KIMB, Kimball. He also had a five-minute, Monday-through-Friday program—Focus—which was aired on KSID, Sidney.

Donna Mae (Smith) became Donald's June bride in 1970. She is also a Union College graduate and holds a B.S. degree in elementary education.

Let us pray that the Lord will continue to guide Pastor and Mrs. Doss and their little ones, as well as the youth of the Vallejo Drive Church, whom they have come to serve.

HAROLD L. CALKINS, President.

Eighth Graders Are Building a Man-powered Biplane

Forty-one eighth graders at San Gabriel—none related to the Wright Brothers—are building a man-powered airplane which they hope to fly this month.

This elementary school class project is a biplane—top wing span is 36 feet, the bottom, one, 30, and it has a 12-foot-long tail. The seven-and-a-half-foot-long propeller is housed in the middle of the fuselage.

David Zavas, age 14 and weighing 133 pounds, has been hand picked to peddle the 150-pound craft when the big day comes. If successful, he will be the first person in the United States to fly a man-powered airplane.

David's strict daily program of special foods, rigorous exercise and bed rest is designed to give him maximum leg power on the day of the event. The back-up pilot is 138-pound Mike Rieder.

Carlene Henriques, David Zavas and Gary Tsao, r, engineer for the project, gather around the unfinished cockpit.

Fourteen-year-old Carlene Henriques, who weighs 110 pounds, is likewise adhering to an equally disciplined program. Regardless of what David or Mike do, Carlene plans to take the controls and become the only girl in the world to attempt to fly an MPA.

From both medical findings and the dietary habits of successful athletes, the class has found that a vegetarian, high-carbohydrate diet is most suitable for developing the physical endurance necessary to put the plane in the air. The first 20 seconds are the most crucial.

Mr. Ted Bauer—one of 14 teachers at the 440-pupil school—involved his eighth graders last year in the building of a two-thirds-size space capsule. That craft, complete with beds, two-way radio, etc., simulated the moon shot one year ago. That project, as has this one, incorporated the usual subjects of learning—math, history, home economics and others.

Tentative date for a preliminary test flight is set for May 21 (weather permitting) on the playground of the school.

Owen Peterson Receives Jaycees Distinguished Service Award

Owen Peterson, a Sabbath school superintendent and the religious liberty secretary of the Rolling Hills Church, was the recipient of the Jaycees Distinguished Service Award as the outstanding young man of Torrance in 1972.

Peterson, the Torrance City prosecutor since June of 1971, is 28—the youngest man ever to hold this position. He is an instructor in business law at El Camino College and counsel for the City of Santa Monica's Personnel Board.

Owen, who was born in North Dakota and grew up on a farm there, received a Bachelor of Science degree from Union College in 1966. He obtained his Juris Doctorate from the School of Law at UCLA in 1969.

He is active as a volunteer in the Psychiatric Clinic at the County-USC Medical Center and Harbor General Hospital and with the Department of Correction.

Plan Now To Attend The One Nearest You

✓ A program to benefit Cedar Falls, entitled "First Spring Fling," will be given on Sunday, June 3. The 6-9 p.m. get-together—a formal affair and costing $10 per couple—will take place in Bateman Hall at 11331 Ernestine Avenue in Lynwood.

AT THE 54TH STREET CHURCH, DURING THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY, Glenn Coon's book—Path To The Heart—was used as the text in a series of studies for a laymen's training program. Many victories were won and a deeper consecration in the service of the Master was experienced.

Of the approximately 100 members who were next taught the "Amazing Facts Bible Course," 75 received a Certificate of Graduation on April 28th. The church was then organized into small units. Using the Block-Warden system, a door-to-door survey is being made as persons are enrolling in that course. More than 150 persons have been enrolled to date and we expect to enroll 500 more before the year closes.

On June 9, those who have taken the "Amazing Facts Bible Course" in the community will be invited to the Evangelistic meetings which will be conducted each Saturday, Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30. Bible prophecies will be taught. The public is invited to attend.

IN A NUTSHELL

✓ Big Week (April 27-May 6) for Literature Evangelists in Southern turned out to be a "Big" one. They got up so much momentum that they went almost $5,000 over the $40,000 goal they had set for themselves—$44,473.98. Fereh Rizk sold 65 Spirit of Prophecy books, Socorro Espana sold $1,300 worth on two Sundays and Edna Collins worked 139 hours (hardly stopping to eat) to lead the group in sales for men and women, and hours worked.

✓ The ministers and departmental personnel met on Thursday, May 9, to better unify the work of the Church in Southern. A special session of prayer opened the three-hour session which met in the Vallejo Drive church and climaxed with lunch. One highlight of the get-together was the personal testimony of four La Sierra students who, prior to coming to the school, were non-Adventists.

✓ Alerta went on Radio KALI, Los Angeles (1430 on the dial) April 30 (Monday) with a one-hour (7-8 p.m.) introduction to the program. Five-minute spots with various doctors are being played 10 times each day.

✓ The Pasadena Church will be having an Evangelistic thrust this summer. Names are being solicited for interested people in the Pasadena area. The names should be sent to Pastor Bob Wong, 8827 E. Broadway, San Gabriel, CA 91776.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE

Dr. Elden Chalmers Joins Behavioral Science Faculty

Dr. Elden M. Chalmers, chairman of the psychology department at Columbia Union College, has accepted an invitation to join the Pacific Union College behavioral science faculty as associate professor of psychology.

Elden M. Chalmers

With 20 years of service as a successful pastor-evangelist and 10 years as a classroom teacher and professional psychologist, Dr. Chalmers brings a unique and varied background to his new duties at PUC. His addition increases the behavioral science program to full strength and adds new depth to the department's offerings.

After completing ministerial training at PUC, he later attended George Peabody

College where he earned a B.S. degree in biology. He holds both the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in psychology from the University of Tennessee. Dr. Chalmers' doctoral specialty was experimental psychology, and he has also been certified to practice as a clinical psychologist.

Dr. Chalmers and his wife, Esther, who is also a PUC graduate, have two married children, Donna and Verlin. Father and son conducted the fall Week of Prayer at Walla Walla College in October—one of many such weeks of spiritual emphasis he has led as chairman of the psychology department.

According to Dr. Donald M. Warren, chairman of PUC's behavioral science department, Dr. Chalmers' extensive teaching experience and expertise will complement a wide range of courses, particularly in the areas of experimental psychology, statistics and research design.

Communications Department Begins New PR Media Major

Realizing the growing demand for professionally trained public relations personnel both inside and outside Adventist denominational circles, Pacific Union College's communications department has adopted a new academic major.

Termed "Public Relations Media," the new major will supplement the existing major in communications, with emphasis in broadcasting, journalism and speech pathology.

According to communications department chairman Dr. Paul Hawks, the new major was initiated after much study of the current needs for qualified public relations-oriented people. Starting in September, PUC will have the only major in public relations offered by any Adventist college or university, Hawks said.

"We welcome the forward move of PUC in offering a major in public relations media," comments Walter R. L. Scragg, director of the recently merged public relations and radio-television departments of the General Conference. "There is a continuing dearth of workers for the denomination trained in mass communication techniques and public relations. We believe that this new course offered by PUC will provide adequate background and academic training for anyone interested in a public relations career."

Next year, PR majors will be able to choose from among 36 lower- and upper-division courses geared towards a "rounded education" in the public relations field.

In addition to classes in public relations theory and practice, students may take classes as "Church-Oriented Communication," "Writing for Radio and Television," "Mass Communication and the Law" and "Institutional Public Relations." An emphasis, Hawks says, will be placed on practical, "learning experience" classes such as "Practicum in Communication"—supervised experience in public relations, journalism or broadcasting.

For more information regarding the new public relations media major, write: Dr. Paul Hawks, PUC, Angwin, CA 94508.

If You Speak Spanish, This May Be Important to You

Are you a Spanish-speaking student wanting a Christian education, and you need a way to help defray tuition expenses?

If so, Pacific Union College can help you.

A recent PUC Board of Trustees action approved the granting of 10 scholarships valued at $300 each to a limited number of Spanish-speaking students who enroll at PUC starting in September, 1973.

Under a new program initiated by the modern language department called the Bilingual/Cross-Cultural Program, a Spanish-speaking student in four years will be able to earn a B.A. or a B.S. degree in a wide variety of academic majors, and go on to earn a M.A. degree in his major area the fifth year.

In addition to the undergraduate and master's degrees, the five-year program will provide the student with California teaching credentials and the special Bilingual/Cross-Cultural credential, also awarded by the State of California.

According to Dr. Donaldo Thomann, chairman of the modern language department, bilingual teachers will be in much demand in the very near future. It is estimated, he said, that 100,000 bilingual teachers will be needed in the Southwest area alone to cope with the rising number of Spanish-speaking people.

"Our new Bilingual/Cross-Cultural Program is designed to help alleviate those needs," Thomann said. "We hope that the need, coupled with the scholarships we're offering, will provide the needed incentive

Civil Defense Disaster Van Receives Washing by HMA Students

Recently, students from the Hawaiian Mission Academy sophomore Bible class put their buckets and sponges where their mouths were. They proved once again that young people are not only idealistic but practical, as they washed the Civil Defense disaster van.

The lay activities secretary spoke to Roy Larson, Hawaiian Mission Academy Bible teacher and vice-principal, and he passed on the challenge to the class.

Water was applied liberally to both truck and students. The end result was a sparkling-clean mobile unit of which the County, the Mission and the students are justly proud.

The Civil Defense department of the County of Oahu has graciously entrusted this disaster van to the Hawaiian Mission for their use at any time of community need.
