Pacific Press Finds New Channels for Distributing Adventist Books

In its continuing efforts to communicate the gospel to the public through trade books and records, the Pacific Press has recently hired Warren Gough, a young marketing executive from the GTE-Sylvania Corporation.

Gough (pronounced Goff), a Seventh-day Adventist layman and resident of Sunnyvale, California, comes to the Press to serve as full-time salesman to contact non-Adventist retail outlets with Seventh-day Adventist books and records. In addition to book shops, music stores and libraries, these may include such sales outlets as racks or sales areas in department stores, airports, bus and train terminals, newsstands, drugstores, discount houses and supermarkets.

Gough received his bachelor of arts degree from Pacific Union College in physics with a minor in mathematics. Since graduation, he has taken specialized post-graduate courses in law, computer science, business administration, product marketing and marketing accounting. At GTE-Sylvania, he served in several positions relating to the marketing of communications equipment for law-enforcement agencies. At the time he made his decision to join Pacific Press, he held the position of technical marketing specialist.

In accepting the Press' offer, Gough took a reduction in income. Why did he do it? "Two years ago," he says, "I made the decision to go wherever God calls me." He feels that the Lord has been leading him in the same direction. He has been leading the Press—toward communicating the gospel in this new way. For a long time he has been wanting to involve himself in a cause with a higher reason for existence than the profit motive. "What kind of price," he asks, "can you put on a soul?"

For several years the Pacific Press has been concerned with developing new ways to reach non-Adventists through trade books. Trade books are distinguished from subscription books (which colporteurs sell) and from textbooks basically in the way in which they are sold—through bookstores and other outlets.

"As far as Chapel Records is concerned," says Earl Johnson, assistant manager of Chapel Records, a department of the Pacific Press, "Warren Gough will be our salesman here in the three western states."

In marketing Adventists' records to non-Adventists, Johnson has been sending complimentary records to radio stations that play Christian music throughout the nation. This creates a public demand for the records among those who listen to these stations. He also sends direct-mail ads on these records to stores which sell Christian records and places ads in such journals as the Christian Bookseller, the CBA Journal and Christian Life.

Warren Gough

Gough's job, then, will be to make sure the stores are stocked with the new records that come out, and the "backlist" records for which there is a continuing demand. He will also be responsible for placing advertising kits in the stores.

SO YOU WILL KNOW

FASTING AND PRAYER. Sabbath, January 5, was chosen as a day of fasting and prayer. The blessing to your life from such an experience is entirely dependent upon you. It cannot be contested that the church body has a spiritual need, that the shackles of Laodicean lukewarmness must be broken, that the church's failure is a composite of individual failures, that we should have been in the kingdom of heaven long ago. Power within the church begins with the work of the Spirit within the individual heart. Each of us must personally experience the revival and that is what can be accomplished by a day of fasting and prayer. No one can give the experience to us vicariously. God has promised that through prayer and submission it is ours. He will not fail us.

Thus, a day of prayer and fasting is not a time of penance. It is to be that glorious experience of yielding all that we are and have to our Creator, inviting His possession of our hearts. He, in turn, fills us with His Spirit.

ARIZONA BAPTISM. Before the close of the year, the Arizona Conference passed the 500 mark in baptisms. This is a significant achievement for a conference the size of Arizona.

"It is our duty to do all in our power to avert the threatened danger. We should endeavor to disarm prejudice by placing ourselves in a proper light before the people. Eerie Chants, Frenzied Dances Greeted SM's Slow, eerie chants, somber processions and frenzied dances greeted La Sierra Campus student missionaries Dan and Patti Wister.

It all began during a Christmas vacation when Dan and Patti left their teaching assignment at the English Language School in Jakarta, Indonesia, and traveled with six student missionaries to the hinterland, where spirit cults and brutal traditions still survive.

"One small light in a very dark place," said Dan in discussing the project. "It seems difficult to believe that thousands of people live in that remote area, with only a primitive schoolroom to use in spreading the gospel."

It was while working on this project that the Wisters met a native governor, the Chalmer. He extended an invitation to attend—as guests of honor—the long-awaited burial feast for his late father, the last king of Toradja.

The Chalmer's father had been by Toradja standards, a great king; his reign was liberal and he distinguished himself with wealth and a concourse of 100 wives. But more than this, he was the last king who would ever rule this untamed land. With annexation of the Celebes by the Indonesian government, the tribal line had come to an end. The government allowed existing kings and chieftains to continue, but barred any further succession to the throne. So when the King of Toradja died, a tradition died with him. When he was buried, their history was laid to rest.

The king had been dead seven years before his last feast, his mummified corpse lying in state in a specially constructed house while his impoverished subjects worked to accumulate a herd of 150 caribou and 200 swine—to sacrifice in honor of their deceased leader. When the quota was finally complete, nearly every inhabitant of the district trekked to the funeral village.

"The devil was very near in Toradjanland," the Wisters tell their classmates back on campus. "You could feel the evil spirits at work—we wanted to leave but there was no place to go," Patti recalls.

Next morning the Wisters followed their host, the Chalmer, as he led the procession to his father's final resting place—a tomb carved in a rock in the mountain side.

For Dan and Patti Wister, the king in the rock tomb in Toradjanland, left a permanent impression.

Following graduation, the Wisters plan to return to this mission field as permanent missionaries and tell those in Toradjanland about another King—once buried in a rock tomb.

Unlike the Chalmer's father, their King does not sleep. He is alive and coming soon.

A manikin, which will be placed in front of the tomb to scare away evil spirits, awaits the procession which will carry the dead king to his final resting place high on the face of a cliff.

San Jose Spanish Church

Investment Victory Day Highlights Projects

December 1 was Investment Victory Day at the San Jose Spanish church.

The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion. On the baby grand piano was an arranged display of candles—the Investment project of Elder G. H. Friedrich, the Conference Sabbath school secretary.

Covering the Sabbath school pulpit was a shawl. On a small table was a cornucopia full of fruits and vegetables, a plate of persimmons, a chocolate cake, two papier mache turtles and a bowl of walnuts. The idea was supplied by Lillian Sanchez, our most able superintendent and a native of Costa Rica. On Investment Sabbath, the churches in Costa Rica are tastefully decorated with investment projects.

Mrs. Lilia Bendrell, our pastor's wife, was crowned 1973 queen of Investment. A "diamonds and rubies" and velvet crown was placed on her head and a velvet cape on her shoulders. She was handed a lighted candle to hold as a scepter.

Twelve people who worked for Investment were asked to come forward and give a short talk on their project; each was handed a candle which they lit from the queen's. The 13 represented the 13 world-wide divisions of our work. The lights were then turned off and the hymn "Spread the Light of Jesus" (translated literally) was sung by the congregation. Mrs. Bendrell brought in a total of $129. Runnerup was Mrs. Julia Rodriguez with a total of $109.

Participation was close to 100% when taking into consideration that although everybody did not have individual projects, everybody cooperated by either attending investment functions or buying each other's wares.

Investment functions held were a pancake breakfast, Saturday night volleyball socials with food on sale, and an investment formal banquet. Talents were passed out, multiplied and returned. Aida Figueroa, who received $5 and who asked a friend to teach her how to crochet, made shawls and returned $50.

Since investment money is still being turned in, the total will approach $1,500.

Visalia Plans Three-part Series on the Work of the Holy Spirit

Elder L. Calvin Osborn, pastor of the Arlington Seventh-day Adventist Church, will present a three-part series on the work of the Holy Spirit in the Christian's life for the next Guest Forum at the Visalia Seventh-day Adventist church, January 11 and 12.

Elder Osborn begins the series on Friday evening at 7:30 with "How To Be Saved" (the Holy Spirit and the New Birth). On Sabbath at 11 a.m. he will speak on "How To Be Ready" (the early and latter rain). His concluding message is "How To Be Perfect" at 3:30 Sabbath afternoon.

Elder Osborn was previously the pastor of the La Sierra Church, and for a brief time was an instructor of religion at La Sierra College. His messages will ring very clearly with righteousness by faith.

Members are urged to bring their friends and neighbors to hear these important messages. The Visalia Seventh-day Adventist church is located at 1310 South Woodland Drive.

How Would You Like To Be an Evangelistic "Tramp"?

How would you like to be an evangelistic "tramp"? The thought occurred to our ministerial department that there may be laymen who are financially free who could give as much as one or two months a year, or more, to tramp around with our evangelists and do personal work in the homes of those who attend our evangelistic meetings.

A particular opportunity presents itself, beginning on January 26 in the Palm Springs area. George Vandeman will be holding a series of meetings there, to be followed by John Rhodes, ministerial department secretary. In this series there are literally hundreds of It Is Written names to be visited in the area, and Elder Vandeman will create more interests than our professional force can visit.

24 Receive Baptismal Rites

Early in May, 1973, the pastor of the Indio Spanish church then, Elder Jose Angel Fuentes, was leaving the church to continue his graduate studies. This marked the end of a three-year period in which, through the pulpit and the local radio, he had a baptism at Lake Calhoun in which 10 people joined the church.

When Elder Gilberto Bustamante assumed the pastorate, it seemed convenient to prepare the field for a new harvest. Under the direction of God and with the willing help of the church, a series of evangelistic meetings lasting five weeks were held during which God manifested His power.

At the end of this campaign, 14 persons were baptized and 10 remained in preparation for the next baptism. Among the recently baptized are Mrs. Jose Quijano, his wife, and their son, Roy. Brother Quijano was a

We would so much appreciate those who would be willing to come down and spend a month to six week in the Palm Springs area on and after the date of January 26 and throughout the series of meetings. They would work under the instruction of the conference staff assigned to these meetings, visiting the people who attend.

We believe, in faith, that there are scores of individuals or couples who are active, semi-retired, and financially self-supporting and would enjoy giving their time in this type of missionary endeavor in the pleasant work of winning souls. There is no better way in which they can serve the Lord. There is particular need for those who have motor homes or commodious house trailers movable from area to area.

militant for many years in the Pentecostal church. He was a professor of theology in one of their colleges and later became a minister for the last seven years.

He was invited to come to Coachella from Central America. In Coachella, three miles south of Indio, he was in charge of a Pentecostal church. At that time the former pastor of the church, Elder Fuentes, won his friendship and trust and initiated Brother Quijano into the complete truth. Pastor Bustamante had the privilege of ending the indoctrination that Elder Fuentes started. Brother Quijano's plans are to enroll in Montemorelos University, Mexico, and to serve God as an Adventist minister.

In this way, the Indio Spanish Church with the help of God made possible the addition of 24 precious souls to the spiritual family of God during 1973.

Nothing Day

January 16 is National Nothing Day. Its purpose is to provide Americans with one day when they can just sit without celebrating, observing or honoring anything.

If you are a personable individual, in good health and interested in giving your time in the Palm Springs effort and/or other evangelistic efforts during the coming year, write to Elder John D. Accommodations Grow During First Year of Dental Clinic

House-to-house calls by the church pastor and the faith of some 11 dentists started a free dental clinic one year ago. Through efforts of Elder Wai Chow Leong and Dr. Ernest Chan, the Chinese community of Los Angeles now knows there is a church that cares about their oral health.

Less than 12 months ago, Chinese Community Free Clinic consisted of two completely equipped operatories (including two high-speed air-driven handpieces), four x-ray units, two additional chairs and a spacious waiting room. All this is housed on the property of our Los Angeles Chinese church at 3000 Ramona Road in Alhambra.

Over 100 attended the open house and saw Mr. Tran Phong present a check for $1,000 to help offset the expense of the new undertaking. The clinic opened for business the next day with Dr. Su, Dr. Kam and Dr. Chan reporting for duty.

Drs. James and Julian Tsai, assisted by their sister, Julia, work as a team during the extraction of a tooth.

Mrs. Su and Mrs. Chan were the receptionist and assistant respectively. What a blessing it has now become!

At a Christmas banquet to honor its growth, over 200 guests heard a progress report and thanked God for the long-range vision of the pastor and dentists in our Los Angeles Chinese Church.

THE HERITAGE SINGERS, USA, in their third concert season, will appear nightly from January 18 to February 17 at 7 o'clock in the Glendale Civic Auditorium.

Their new sound in religious music has elicited warm response throughout the country. This appearance is in connection with the New Life Crusade with Jere Webb as speaker. The auditorium is located at 1401 N. Verdugo Road. In two and one-half years, the 18-voice group has traveled some 100,000 miles and given over 200 concerts. Their 10 stereo albums are best sellers on the Chapel Records label.

Simi Valley Adventist Hospital

Diet and Nutrition Series Begins

Simi Valley Adventist Hospital has added something new—a series of two-hour demonstrations/displays on diet and nutrition.

The "Holiday Food Festival"—a display of vegetarian entrees made from items available at local supermarkets—brought 80 people from the community in anticipation of something new for the holidays.

Visitors sampled the tasty entrees and were provided recipes which included the protein content and cost factor of each. On each table behind the entrees were the ingredients as they were purchased at the local supermarket.

Applications for the It's Your World of Good Food correspondence course and the It's Your World vegetarian cookbook were also available. Mrs. Amy Sherrard, health educator at the hospital, and Mrs. Erma Landis, dietitian, were present for consultation.

Among the series on diet and nutrition planned for 1974 are "The Bread Basket," "The Salad Bar" and "Your Sweet Tooth."

Amy Sherrard, health director, left, Dietitian Erma Landis, center, and Mary Iversen, Volunteer director, worked together in planning the "Holiday Food Festival"—one in a continuing series on diet and nutrition.

After 18 Months of Litigation

Camarillo Receives OK for Construction

Construction on the proposed Camarillo church has been postponed by legal litigation for over 18 months. However, it appears that the 188 members of this six-year-old congregation are going to be able to build at last!

Last week, the Court of Appeals ruled in favor of the church's request for permission to build. This modified a previous Writ of Supersedeas and granted an exclusion for the church from an environmental lawsuit which technically did not directly involve the church.

Religious Liberty Rally Will Feature E. Syme

London born Dr. E. D. Syme, a professor of history and religion at Pacific Union College, will be the speaker at our Religious Liberty Rally on January 12.

The 3 p.m. meeting in the Hall of Liberty at Forest Lawn (North Hollywood) will open with the showing of the film "Many Voices of Freedom."

At 3:30 the Glendale Academy band will present a short, lively concert and Elder Armand Johnson of La Crescenta will sing to set the mood for the meeting.

Elder Syme came to the United States in 1952. He spent time as a teacher of Bible and history at Southwest Junior Academy in Texas, and the Washington D.C. area during the years thereafter.

He holds a Ph.D. degree in history from the American University in the District of Columbia, and is the author of a book on the Adventist concept regarding the relationship of church and state. The book is on the press and is due to come out in a few months.

Dr. Syme worked as an evangelist in England and New York state before stepping into the classroom 20 years ago.

100th Emergency Box Delivered

Mrs. Estella Gomez, director of Community Services at our East Los Angeles church, reports the delivery of the 100th emergency food box to a needy family in the East Los Angeles-Montebello communities.

The Emergency Food Box Program began over a year ago in cooperation with the Belvedere Family Services section of the Department of Social Services. Families who have an emergency need for food are referred on a one-time basis to our East Los Angeles church. A box filled with staples of food and kept at the church is presented to each family in exchange for their referral slip.

San Gabriel Hosts Hydroponics Fair

Editor's note: This is being printed in the hope that you will receive your RECORDER on or before January 13.

The 'magic' of modern gardening, designed to cut your working time to minutes a day and eliminate poor soil, insect, weather and disease problems, can all be yours.

By attending the Hydroponics Fair to be held at our San Gabriel Academy Sunday, January 13, you'll be shown how. The doors of the school auditorium (8827 E. Broadway) will open at 7 p.m.

Hydroponics—simply defined as the growing of plants in a solution of nutrients necessary for plant growth rather than directly in soil—allows one to produce an abundance of gourmet fruits and vegetables in minimum space . . . even if you've never gardened before.

Advanced-sale tickets (only $2.50) are available now at the Academy office, Southern California Conference office and numerous garden supply houses in the area. Proceeds will go to the sponsoring school's 7th- and 8th-grade class to finance its hydroponics gardening setup.

Author and Consultant Raymond Bridwell—a popular lecturer on this method of home gardening—will speak. Equipment displays and suppliers will be on hand for the amateur as well as the experienced gardener.

As a pioneer in hydroponic techniques and an international consultant with 30 years experience, Mr. Bridwell is now working with Jacob Mittleider in his "Gardens of the World" program at Loma Linda University.

Mr. Bridwell's book Hydroponic Gardening, written in simple language, is widely recommended for the beginner by many state agricultural departments, universities and suppliers.

Pastor Lonnie Melashenko, showing relief over the Court of Appeals judgment made recently, tours the site where construction of his congregation's new church is expected to begin early this year.

Southern Accepts 2X Challenge

Since J. N. Andrews left America as our first foreign missionary, thousands more have gone making Adventist missions "big business"—morally as well as financially.

One hundred and four years ago, the first Sabbath School Missions Offering was given by our young church amounting to $25. Last year approximately $18 million was given.

Dollar devaluation and inflation in 1973 brought a grave crisis to our mission program. Now we face 1974 and its needs. Increased giving is required just to "hold the line." Africa is ripe for harvesting 100,000 new converts. India is stirring. Vast unentered areas such as Tibet and Afghanistan call out to "come over and help us."

The challenge sounded by our leaders in annual council urged every Sabbath school member to give 2X more than we did last year. Southern California gave $634,000 to missions in 1972. Your Sabbath school superintendents voted unanimously, and your conference committee confirmed it, to ask our Sabbath schools to give $1,268,000 for missions in 1974. That's a lot of money—over a million—but it is still less than 3% of our tithable income. We can do it! We'll be doing more than that before the work is finished.

Van Nuys Dedicates New Organ in Honor of R. M. Whitsett

The Van Nuys Church's new Rodgers "900" organ was dedicated to the memory of Elder Robert M. Whitsett on October 20. Elder Whitsett was the much-loved pastor of the church from October, 1967, until his death in March of 1972.

The organ—one of the largest church instruments manufactured by the Rodgers Organ Company—has 11 channels of sound. Three of these make up the antiphonal organ located in the balcony. It has three keyboards and over 100 drawknobs. Installation was made by the Burbank Music House under the direction of Mr. Phil Wickstrom and Dr. Robert Tall.

Brad Braley gave the dedicatory concert and Elder Richard Wertz addressed the congregation.

Surgeon Accepts Call to Africa. Dr. and Mrs. James Jay and their children, Jacki, Jon and Jeff, will be leaving Lynwood this January for Nigeria, West Africa.

Dr. Jay will serve as medical director and surgeon for our hospital at Ile-Ife. Their term of service will be approximately two and a half years. For three years they worked in our hospital at Bangkok, Phuket, and Haad Yai, Thailand. Mrs. Jay, who was born in Thailand, speaks the Thai language fluently. Both are graduates of Upper Columbia Academy and Walla Walla College. Dr. Jay, a Loma Linda graduate, completed a four-year residency in surgery at the White Memorial Medical Center last June.

R. J. Roy Begins Pastorship of Lake Havasu City Church

Elder R. J. Roy of Parker has taken over the pastorship of the Lake Havasu City Church.

For the past two years, Elder Roy has served as caretaker for Cottonwood Lane, a Southern California Conference youth camp, and also pastored the Parker, Arizona, Church. Because of its proximity to Parker, the Lake Havasu Church has been transferred from the Kingman district to the Parker district.

The church is growing rapidly. An eight-grade school was established this year. Under the direction of Paul M. Lane, the school is making a good impact on the church and community. Several non-Adventist families have placed their children in the school there this year.

ABC Offered Holiday Sales Via Their Van

During November and December, the Adventist Book Center traveled over 2,500 miles and held holiday book sales in 15 churches, according to Ross Lauterbach, manager.

The purchase of a 1974 Dodge maxivan is enabling the Center to more effectively serve the Arizona churches. This year, $8,200 in out-of-store holiday sales have been realized, compared to $5,000 last year.

The ABC is a service organization. If you haven't visited the Center recently, do so soon. You will find over 1,000 book titles published by the denomination, a wide variety of Bibles, records, tapes, vegetarian foods, felt visual aids and gift items.

The DeSoto Street Tutorial Reading Program—a nationally known and proven method—is expected to help 80% of the students within six weeks. Standardized tests given every six to eight weeks assess each pupil's progress.

Pacific Union College

Church Begins Final Building Stage

Construction has started on the final stages of the two-million dollar Pacific Union College Seventh-day Adventist Church worship center in Angwin.

According to Arthur Escobar, pastor, the final section of the church complex will house the administrative offices, junior and earliten division rooms, a 250-seat youth worship chapel and a multipurpose reception center.

Escobar says construction and landscaping costs for the final section will run approximately $700,000. The main sanctuary, which seats 2,000 people, and the children's division rooms were finished in January of 1968 at a cost of $1.2 million.

Since the church building program started in 1964, church members have contributed more than $700,000 towards church development, according to Escobar. On the final stages, the local Northern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists will provide $175,000 towards the costs and the remainder will come from Angwin Church members.

"Our church members are tremendous givers and we will continue to build as funds come in from our congregation," he says. The church has organized a building commission to supply guidance and direction to the entire construction program for the worship center.

Dudley Galusha, from Calistoga, is the contractor and Johnson, Gimlinger and Associates are architects for the project, Escobar says.

Three Undertake First Solo Flights

Helena Black, instructor in physical education, and two Rio Lindo students, Don Crow and Corey Wheeler, joined the wingless birds of America when they recently took their first solo airplane flights at the Healdsburg airport.

Flight instructor, Vern Wheeler, was pleased to hang their shirt tails with the many others flying from the beams of his gymnasium office as a reminder of their solo flights.

The versatile Wheeler, who holds private, commercial, instructor and instrument ratings, is noted for another kind of flying, namely as a trampolinist. He and his son, Corey, have transferred rolls, flips, twists and turns from the canvas of a trampoline to their Cessna 150.

The elder Wheeler is a member of the Civil Air Patrol, Flight Squadron 42, of Santa Rosa. Corey, Miss Black and eight other young people are cadets in a campus-sponsored flight squadron.

The members of the CAP Flight Squadron are refurbishing a campus quonset for squadron headquarters. The building will be a navigation and survival center.

Displays and slides of plant foods, such as mushrooms that are edible in the western portion of the U.S., will be in their collection. The young people will be instructed in ways of identifying poisonous plants as well.

The course comprises aviation-related activity and orientation into Civil Air Patrol, Christian leadership, rocketry, Vern Wheeler recently clipped Don Crow's shirt tail following his first solo flight. Corey Wheeler, Vern's son, and Helena Black celebrated with him, for they too recently gave up their shirt tails—a tradition with Mr. Wheeler.

WHO SAYS INVESTMENT ISN'T FUN! This group of energetic teens and adults of the Sacramento Central earliten division have made it happen. Under the leadership of Gerry Lammerding, Investment leader, they averaged over $5 each for a total of over $150. With a promised outing, they really "dug in" and "put out," says Gerry. One member gave half of a bad debt which was $50.

A pleasant night of miniature golf, super slide, go-carts and refreshments were the prizes for all. The owner of Fantasia Golf provided the facilities free when told this was an Investment outing.

Hawaiian Mission Launches Program for '74 Called FAITH

Members young and old in the Hawaiian Mission will be launching a Mission '74 emphasis called FAITH. This stands for Find An Individual To Help.

The whole concept is "a strategy of love" . . . love in action. The apostle John reminds us, "let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth." John 3:18. We are also told in Rev. 18:1 of the time when "the earth was lightened with His [God's] glory."

According to COL 415-416, this glory is the character of God. The distilled essence of the character of God is love, . . . and love acts . . . love helps. Jesus "went about doing good" and this is what FAITH is all about.

Every church member in Hawaii will receive a printed copy of the last chapters of Christ's Object Lessons, entitled, "To Meet the Bridegroom." Here is the basis and motivation for loving and helping people.

A brochure is being prepared to be taken to every door in the State. It is entitled, "May We Be of Help?" Under "Health Related Services," "Social and Community Services" and "Spiritual Services," ways are listed in which Seventh-day Adventists are ready and willing to help.

Plans are being laid for a broad range of ways in which we can reach out in love to our communities, both as individuals and in special group efforts. It is our purpose to let the Sun of Righteousness "shine forth in good works" COL 416. We want to help anybody, everybody, at any time, or in any situation. We wish to give glory to God by being like Him and letting Him love through our minds and hearts, and serve with our hands, and go on errands of mercy with our feet.

And we wish to do this all the time, and all with a view to helping people find Jesus and this message, and yet loving and helping, regardless. After all, if "Christ is Christianity," and Christ "went about doing good," then genuine Christianity is going around loving people and helping them LIKE JESUS DID.

Lay Activities Secy.

Four Receive Baptismal Rites

Elder Victor Inoue has been giving Mrs. Usa Hokama Bible studies twice weekly for three months. Before Elder Inoue could ask her, she herself asked Elder Harold Kono for baptism.

It was the providence of God that her son, Elder Shinsei Hokama, who spent one month in Japan doing evangelism with his three sons, arrived just in time to baptize his mother. It was very touching to witness a son baptize his mother.

Diane Tollefsen's decision to be baptized came after attending The Voice of Prophecy New Life Crusade at the Waikiki Shell. Her mother has been a big influence in her decision to follow God's way.

Mrs. Margaret Lawson's decision came when someone in the church called and invited her to Elder Venden's meetings in March. Her greatest desire now is to follow the example that Jesus has set for us. To attain purity and holiness of character. With God's help she wants to do her part to be a blessing to others and to draw many souls to Christ. She solicits the prayers of all and she wants to be ready when Jesus comes.

Toru Takara is only 13 years old, and his decision came after studying the Bible with Elder Inoue. Elder Inoue stated that he will continue the study of the Bible even after baptism.

Elder Kono reviewed the baptismal vows with Mrs. Usa Hokama, Hokama, Diane Tollefsen, Mrs. Margaret Lawson and Toru Takara.

850 Attend Christmas Party

On a Sunday afternoon, December 23, 850 Navajo's from the area surrounding the Monument Valley Adventist Hospital came to the Mission for an annual Christmas party in Mason Hall.

The old Navajo trails that used to run through the many miles of the reservation have now given way to roads traveled by modern pickups. This meant that the parking area around the Monument Valley Adventist Hospital was covered with these vehicles which are now so much a part of the lifestyle of the Navajo.

The Navajo people love to come to this special Christmas party as was evidenced by this large attendance, for it is at this Christmas party that Elder Tom Holiday, a Seventh-day Adventist Navajo pastor, relates the story of the birth of Christ in a manger in Bethlehem.

Our entire Mission family meets for this important event of the year and in the spirit of good will young and old alike are remembered. The children receive toys and a bag of Christmas goodies. The adults receive a bag made up of apples, oranges, candy and peanuts. Usually an appropriate film for the season is shown as was the case again this year.

Those of us who are a part of Monument Valley would like for our main contributors to know that we consider it a privilege to join with you in this important event. Naturally the Monument Valley Adventist Hospital would not be able to do this enlarged missionary ministry were it not for your help. You would have been thrilled if you could have been here to witness the smiles and words of appreciation on the part of a grateful group of Navajos.

May your New Year be happier because you shared in this blessing.

Ogden Aaby, Bus. Mgr.

Church Officers' Meeting To Be Held

A special church officers' meeting will be held in Las Vegas on Sabbath afternoon, January 26, in the auditorium of Las Vegas Junior Academy.

This meeting will serve the churches of the entire Las Vegas area and it is hoped that all the church officers from that vicinity can be well represented.

This meeting has purposely been planned after the beginning of the new year so the new church officers will already have entered upon their duties and will be somewhat acquainted with their new responsibilities. In this way the help given will be able to meet the need of each office a little more fully.

It is planned for the men from the Conference office to give special attention to the different areas of church responsibility. Hopefully some help will be extended to every church officer, as it is planned to divide the group into different sections where specialized instruction will be given.

On Sabbath morning, Elder

Marshall Chase, secretary-treasurer, will be speaking in the Las Vegas Tenth Street church. Elder Streiffing will be speaking at the Las Vegas Highland Square church and one of the other departmental men will speak at the Boulder City church.

While the meeting is called for church officers, it should be emphasized that everyone is invited to this important gathering. Church officers need information and instruction; so do the church members. One nev-

Evangelistic Series Begins

Evangelistic meetings will be conducted by Elder G. D. O'Brien, Conference evangelist of the Nevada-Utah Conference, in Price, Utah. Begun Saturday night, January 12, the series will continue each night except Tuesday and Thursday nights until February 2. The meetings will be held in the Adventist church, 280 East First South Street, Price.

through the year by the leader, Mrs. Art Wilson. She is often contacted by public officials for help in needy cases and her response is immediate and willing.

The church is responding to the increasing needs for mission funds, needs created by devaluation and inflation. The local mission funds show a fine increase in 1973 over 1972. Ingathering reached double the goal in 1972, but more than double the basic goal for 1973.

During Alumni Homecoming

Three-day Graduate Seminar Coming

Floy C. Pepper, well known educator and co-author of the book, Maintaining Sanity in the Classroom, will be the instructor for a three-day graduate seminar to be held during Alumni Homecoming '74.

The seminar, entitled "Behavioral Modification EDEC 647," will be open to 20 post-baccalaureate students. School of Education alumni will be given first preference; however, others may apply. All alumni and area teachers will be invited to attend an afternoon lecture by Mrs. Pepper. Her subject will be "Sanity in the Classroom."

The introduction of graduate-level coursework at the time of homecoming is an important first step in making continuing education an ongoing function in which alumni can participate," says Harley Boehm S.E. '67, president of the School of Education Alumni Association.

Floy Pepper is well known in educational circles for her work in the application of behavioral modification principles among children of varying ages and backgrounds. A former high school home economics teacher, Mrs. Pepper is presently coordinator of the program for emotionally handicapped children for the Multnomah County Education District in Portland, Oregon, and a teacher at Portland State University.

The seminar begins Wednesday, February 20. Fee for the two-unit graduate course is $20.

For complete information and application, write: Dean, School of Education, La Sierra Campus, Loma Linda University, Riverside, CA 92505.

"Saturday Review-World" Editor To Speak

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review-World, will speak on the La Sierra Campus on Thursday, February 7.

He appears as one of the guest speakers for the University Lecture Series. The series is co-sponsored by Loma Linda University and the University of Redlands.

Mr. Cousins has served in a variety of editorial positions. His published works include, The Last Defense in a Nuclear Age, The Religious Beliefs of the Founding Fathers and Talks with Nehru.

His career includes that of book critic, literary editor and managing editor of the Saturday Review-World. Norman Cousins' subject for his La Sierra Campus address is "World Report."

Mr. Cousins' qualifications for commenting on international affairs include tours in Japan, Ceylon and India on behalf of the U.S. government, co-chairmanship of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, and service on numerous fact-finding committees for various levels of government.

Norman Cousins' lecture will be presented in the Alumni Pavilion at 8 p.m., Thursday, February 7. The community is invited with no admission charge.

Second "Index" Volume Is Ready

The second volume of the Index to Seventh-day Adventist Periodicals is filling a need for every Adventist, especially ministers, teachers, editors and laymen who find that keeping informed is part of their job.

Every month, approximately 70 magazines and journals are published by Seventh-day Adventists in North America. Every year over 8,300 articles are written by Seventh-day Adventists for their church publications.

Until recently, keeping tabs on these articles was a full-time job, and finding an article of interest a month or a year later was all but impossible.

Now the Seventh-day Adventist Periodical Index keeps track of those articles for you, indexing them by author and subject and presenting the compilation in two paperback volumes each year.

When you've found an article of interest listed in the Index and want a copy, the publishers will mail you a reproduced copy at a minimal charge.

The 150-page Index is printed twice per year, and a cumulative index is published every two years. The list of publications indexed includes the official organs of all world divisions, the union conferences in North America and some institutional and departmental publications.

Thirty periodicals are indexed comprehensively (including such publications as the Adventist Home, Adventist Layman, Insight, Ministry, Review and Herald, Signs of the Times, and These Times), and another 27 publications are indexed selectively. In all, about 60 publications are indexed, including three foreign language church publications, and articles about Seventh-day Adventists as they appear in major non-denominational periodicals.

The two-volume Index is available to individuals at $9.50 per year, and to institutions (churches, academy libraries, conference offices and hospitals) for $25 per year. For information, write Loma Linda University Library, Riverside, CA 92505.

Ingathering Surpasses Goal

The reports that came to the Conference office on December 31 indicated that we have surpassed our Ingathering goal. Yes, the largest amount ever to be raised in one campaign has been brought in.

Our special thanks to the total membership and our workers who cooperated so faithfully and stayed by until the note of victory could be sung before the year closed.

It is thrilling to see how the different communities responded to the appeals. In Las Vegas, one contributor gave $1,000. Others gave $500, $100, or other amounts. All were most important.

More homes are reached with our literature in this annual campaign than in any other single missionary endeavor our church engages in. Some congregations accepted as their goal to contact every home in the community.

What were the results?

Twice as much was received as ever before in those communities. Hopefully, the many Ingathering leaflets left in these homes will find in the hearts of the readers a responsive chord, and eventually the readers will place their hearts where they have already placed their treasure.

A. G. Streiffing.

Carson City Feels God's Blessings

The year 1973 was a banner year for the message in Carson City. God has wonderfully blessed throughout the year.

As a result of Mission '73, four were baptized. Two series of meetings were held during the year—one in April and one in October. There are continuing studies being conducted with interests advanced by the meetings and we look forward to additional baptisms.

Religious Liberty Week Begins the 19th

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY emphasis week begins January 19.

This year, as we consider the liberties that we still hold, the theme of the emphasis is "Liberty: A Magazine of Excellence for an Age of Uncertainty."

Liberty recently received "The Award of Merit" from the Associated Christian Press, a highly prized award.

The emphasis is on our liberties. Let's make sure that our award-winning Liberty magazine will be used through America in 1974.

Plan now for your own Liberty emphasis this month and the "thought leaders" in your area who should have this magazine.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST elementary, secondary, and collegiate schools are all open for new terms this month. If your boy or girl, teen-agers, or as a youth yourself you are not now receiving a Christian education, plan now to enroll. Meanwhile, read these counsels available at your Adventist Book Center.

Home Study Institute Needs Books!

Home Study Institute, located at World Headquarters in Washington, D.C., is the extension division of Seventh-day Adventist schools all around the world.

Because its students are scattered over the globe, HSI must be equipped to offer many kinds of special services. Often elementary and secondary students are living in isolated areas where no library facilities are available. HSI maintains as extensive a lending library as possible.

Many church members have in their homes books which could be of great value to HSI students. Colorful, sturdy, non-fiction books meeting the standards for Seventh-day Adventist education are the type needed.

Children of missionaries are especially dependent upon the HSI library. Deprived of contacts with a resident school, missionary children look forward eagerly to the books which they borrow from this institution.

If you have any books which you think would be suitable, we urge you to send them to Home Study Institute, Takoma Park, Washington, D.C. 20012. Please mark the package, "For Library."

A missionary child will be grateful for your generosity.
