After 45 Years

The Voice of Prophecy Ministries Continue

By H. M. S. Richards and H. M. S. Richards, Jr.

For 45 years now the great prophetic and doctrinal principles of our message have been proclaimed by The Voice of Prophecy.

God has blessed mightily in the giving of gospel tidings since the program began on KGER in Long Beach, where 13 half-hour time slots were paid for with $200 that came in as gifts—mostly in the form of discarded jewelry.

Since then, God has unfailingly blessed. At one time the bank account was down to $1.30, but the Lord always provided enough so that the broadcast could continue.

Christ has said plainly The Word Must Go Out. To every nation, kindred, tongue, and people, the glad tidings of the everlasting gospel are to go. The three angels' messages are to be proclaimed with power to the ends of the earth.

Today the gospel story is broadcast across North America and around the world over more than 1,700 stations. There are more than 700 stations broadcasting in North America alone, and still the message grows!

The past year has seen remarkable advances. The "Aware" radio - spot ministry has already resulted in more than $2,000,000 worth of public-service time being given free to The Voice of Prophecy. Half the stations in the U.S. and Canada have carried one or more of the new spots aimed at the secular man. Since the project began, responses have averaged more than 1,000 per month! And they are reaching an audience that likely would not listen to longer religious programming.

The Way Out youth ministry has been featured on college and university campuses with excellent results. High Way Scenes and material on youth hangups have been welcomed by youth seeking to find themselves.

What a thrill it has been to see the radio ministry grow! But, friend, this never would have happened without your help and interest, your prayers and financial support.

The work was begun in sacrifice and will be finished in sacrifice. Now is the time for His people to do everything they can to see that the Word grees out!

The Voice of Prophecy must add coverage over large stations not now available because of lack of money. Countless smaller stations that blanket rural areas across North America should also carry The Voice of Prophecy.

You see, $10 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 20,250 radio homes, $20 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 253,500 radio homes. $50 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 1,125,000 radio homes. $100 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 4,500,000 radio homes. $250 purchases one broadcast on a station reaching 4,500,000 radio homes.

If every member were to give generously, how the work would go forward! Some will want to give $45—one dollar for every year the VOP has been on the air! Some, of course, can give much more than that. Make the matter one of special prayer. Ask God to guide, won't you?

Remember, on the 45th anniversary of The Voice of Prophecy radio broadcasting. The Word Must Go Outl Now is the time for all of us to sacrifice and strive together for the finishing of the work.

Thank you for remembering God's special work on October 11, Voice of Prophecy Offering Day!

A goal of $10,000 set for The Voice of Prophecy and Amazing Facts radio programs during 1975 by the International Philosda Club, an organization of Seventh-day Adventist single adults, has been surpassed, according to Floyd Miller, reelected president of the group.

At the National Convention held Labor Day weekend, $3,405 was raised for these projects. Philosda plans for 1976 call for continued radioevangelism support and emphasis on spiritual development.

During the convention, held near Hot Springs, Arkansas, 200 people were present, representing 27 states from California to Florida plus Newfoundland and the British Isles. Guests for the weekend included Charles Martin of the General Conference youth department; Alva Appel of the Columbia Union; Olive and Brad Braley of The Voice of Prophecy; and Jim Herman of the Arkansas - Louisiana Conference. Also present was Fred Lowry, the famous blind whistler.

SUA 'Young Believers' Perform

Story and Photos by David Roth

Combining a patriotic theme with songs about Jesus Christ, a group of 20 Sacramento youth witnessed to over 10,000 people attending the California State Fair from August 22 to September 8.

The group, known as the Young Believers of Sacramento Union Academy, performed 13 times during the course of the fair together with the Epsilonaires, a gymnastic team, also of SHA

"The reaction of those who witnessed our performances at the fair was tremendous!" said Linda Neal, the Young Believers' enthusiastic music director. "We successfully showed fairgoers that there are still many of today's youth who love the Lord and believe in healthy bodies gained through an active physical-fitness program."

Because of the Young Believers' popular stage appearances at last year's Cal Expo, fair officials invited the group back this summer, giving them first choice of performance times and dates. A representative of the fair's main office commented to Doreen Vaughn, gymnastics coach, "SUA had the best program on the fair's stage this year."

An important part of the group's Cal Expo outreach ministry centered around red-white-and-blue cards entitled "We Believe." These cards, passed out to each person viewing the music and gymnastic # Inspiration Says...

"In this age, when pleasing fables are drifting upon the surface and attracting the mind, truth presented in an easy style, backed up with a few strong proofs, is better than to search and bring forth an overwhelming array of evidence; for the point then does not stand so distinct in many minds as before the objections and evidences were brought before them. With many, assertions will go further than long arguments."

Yavapines Pool, Museum Assured

Although summer is over and the Camp Yavapines season is now history, the camp improvement program is shifting into high gear.

Display cabinets in the new museum building are being completed and soon the museum curator, Elder E. Frank Sherrill, will begin arranging and identifying the Indian artifacts, rocks and insects to be displayed.

Enthusiastically approved by the conference committee last month, the swimming pool project for camp is moving forward.

Partial financing has been secured for the olympic-size pool and a successful "Operation Splash" campaign will bring in the balance.

Pathfinders, church school and summer camp youngsters are urged to go all out to make the pool a reality. Construction is slated to begin early next spring.

TASKFORCE VOLUNTEERS, STEVE ZELLER AND HAMILTON AVILA, both theology students from the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University, man a free-literature booth on the mall at Arizona State University.

The booth is a part of the witnessing thrust of the newly organized Adventist Student Koinonia on campus.

At the National Public Health Convention in Chicago this month Seventh-day Adventists will be occupying 28 per cent of floor display space. The total represented there is 20,000 square feet-a far cry from the original 10x10-foot booth in San Francisco about three years ago.

Congratulations to Health

Laspe Returns As Supervisor

Joining the education department of the Arizona Conference is Mrs. Forestyn J. Laspe. She will be serving as elementary supervisor the 20 church schools across the conference.

Working with Elder Ed Clifford, superindent of educa-

Forestyn Laspe tion, is nothing new for Mrs. Laspe. After teaching at Simi Valley and at Newbury Park Elementary California, she taught at Glenview Junior Academy, was elementary supervisor and secretary in the education depart-ment for three years and for the past three years has taught at Camelback-Thunderbird Elementary.

Forestyn and her husband, Charles, a consulting engineer, are members of the Phoenix Camelback Church. They are the parents of five children: Candice Battrell, Loma Linda; Mrs. Ruth Carsner, San Diego; and 19-year-old triplets -William, a student missionary to Korea; Charles and Forrest, both students on the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda Univer-

A forthcoming Maranatha project will build the new Kona, Hawaii, church. Memberships are currently being taken in Maranatha where, according to Director John Freeman, "the pay isn't great but retirement benefits are out of this world!"

Kaneohe Members, Guests Make News

Working together in community service work at the Kaneohe church is a unique motherdaughter combination. Among the assistants to Mrs. Joyce Makaena is her mother, Mrs. Marie Kaluhiwa, who has done this type of work for six years.

Marie Kaluhiwa and Joyce Makaena are the mother-daughter team for community services.

It was the influence of a mother that led to Mrs. Makaena's taking Bible studies and being baptized six years ago. Both mother and daughter feel that the Adventist message is the most wonderful message that they were always in need of in their lives. Now they feel that nothing could be better than serving the Lord in community services work.

Baptized recently were Kawika Smith and Mrs. Edwina Tanaka. Kawika is a sophomore at Hawaiian . Mission . Academy. Mrs. Tanaka, a cousin to Ka-wika, decided to have her children dedicated to the Lord. This led to her decision for Bible studies with Pastor Don Driver and her baptism into church membership.

Missionaries, who were former members of the Kaneohe Church but are now serving in the Far Eastern Division, visited their friends recently. El-der and Mrs. Robert Grady came from Singapore, and El-der and Mrs. Arthur Bell from Bangkok, Thailand.

Elementary Students Take 'Hands-on' History

The smell of smoke hangs in the air heavily, reminding those who have been on the mainland in autumn of burning leaves or of sitting by the fireside during the cool crispness of early winter camping in the mountains. On our school campus the unusual odor has its source in a unique project being carried on by an eighth grade United States history class at Hawaiian Mission Elementary School under the direction of Miss Linn Uechi, teacher.

Several of the boys have constructed a stone oven on the school grounds, to help the stuvisualize some of primitive experiences of the early settlers of the continental United States—to "put them-selves in the shoes" of the first inhabitants of our country. Walking into the classroom one hears the noise as the students try various implements to pound dry corn into meal so that cornbread can be baked in the stone oven.

Other projects tried included hand-dipped candles, a timeconsuming task as each layer of wax must harden before the candle can be again dipped into the melted wax.

A group of girls are trying their hand at making stamps with original designs carved into a clay-like material with small metal knives. The base of the stamp is a small wooden block which will be pressed into melted or soft wax, forming an impression. These seals may be used on letter envelopes, lending personality of the individ-

Some students have constructed models of the clapboard houses found in the New England states, only instead of hand-cut boards, these modern builders are using popsickle sticks. The finished products are very realistic.

Literature Evangelists Display Publications

The publishing department was happy to acquire booth space at the California State Fair in Sacramento August 22-September 9.

This is just one way to keep the attractive publications Adventist presses produce before the public.

As various leaders of the department and literature evangelists took turns manning the booth, they were inspired and encouraged to hear: "Oh, I have those books already" or "Our children have really enjoyed our

Sonoma 5-Day Plan Draws 42 Persons

The Sonoma Church recently finished their largest and most successful Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking.

Principal instructor for the classes was Charles G. Edwards, Northern's health services director. Sonoma dentist Richard Wong assisted in the health presentations. Florence Wam-pler and Ellen Hunter, R.N., cared for registrations and admittance.

The presentations by Elder Edwards were very well re-ceived, and all who attended seemed enthusiastic about the program. On the final night 16 of the 23 in attendance vowed they had completely overcome the smoking habit.

Of course, each contact is followed up to supply more books or to get referrals to relatives and friends.

Fair-goers were invited to sign up for a daily drawing for a free book. All names registered became potential contacts for literature evangelists, and hundreds were received. Many persons enrolled in Voice of Prophecy courses. Every person received a post card which could be sent in requesting more information.

Volunteer Workers Will Train

Volunteer gospel workers will meet again in the conference office at Pleasant Hill October 5 and in the Carmichael church near Sacramento October 12both 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Two very important volunteer gospel workers' meetings were conducted August 31 in Pleasant Hill and September 7 in Sacramento. Almost 200 persons have been accepted as fulltime Bible workers who will: (1) work under the supervision of the district pastor, (2) report monthly both to the pastors and to the conference lay activities department, and (3) become a part of an organized volunteer worker force.

In order to do this full time, each person must have recommendations, agree to work at least 20 hours per month in person-to-person evangelism and cooperate with the reporting program of the conference.

If you would like to join these lay Bible workers, please contact your pastor and have him submit your name to the conference lay activities depart-

We believe this work will open tremendous doors of service. If God is calling you, please respond now.

J. B. Church, Director, Lay Activities Dept.

At a recent meeting of the Leoni Meadows Development Committee, special emphasis was given to the most rapid development possible for our Leoni Meadows Adventist Retreat.

The immediate needs require much more money than has presently been raised. This is for construction of: (1) a road into the property as required by the county, (2) rest rooms and other buildings so limited camp use can proceed, and (3) a dam to bring the lake into reality.

To date no contracts have been let. In order to develop the Retreat at minimal cost we invite you to suggest names of persons who can give competent service as architects, building superintendents. contractors.

Giese Will Head Retreat Volunteers

The conference executive committee has invited realtor Herb Giese of the Willits

Church to co-ordinate volunteer labor and loans or donations of equipment for the construction of Leoni Meadows Adventist Retreat.

Herb Giese We deed happy he has accepted this invitation. Brother Giese will give his time without remuneration.

TO APPEAR AT BELLFLOWER—"The One Way Singers," through song and personal testimony, will open their 1975-76 concert season at 8 p.m., October 10, in the Bellflower church. They will also appear October 11 and 18 at 7 p.m. in the Covina church; 7:30 p.m. at Vallejo Drive, October 24; and 5 p.m. on October 25 at the Ventura church.

Directed by Calvin Knipschild, "The One Way Singers" are available two weekends a month for this type of musical ministry. Because the 13 members hold regular jobs in the Los Angeles area, concerts are mainly in Southern, Southeastern, and Central California but are not limited to these conferences.

Information about scheduling a program in your church can be obtained by writing The One Way Singers, P.O. Box 8174, San Marino, CA 91108.

Theme Is 'Eating for Better Living'

An "Eating for Better Livvegetarian buffet was held Sunday evening, August 10, at the Claremont Women's Club in connection with the recent Better Living Seminar held there. Pastor Terry Cassingham and a host of fine Adventist physicians, dentists and hospital chaplains conducted it.

Maxine Sampson and June Lewis, who organized the buffet, asked a number of ladies in the North Hills Company to prepare selective dishes. Mrs. Lewis, who manages the Worthington Foods distributorship in Montclair, provided a sample selection of meatless products. These, along with recipes, were given as door prizes.

An eloquent, extemporaneous speech, given by a guest who was once assistant to the president of Pomona College, highlighted the evening. He praised the sense of community concern of the North Hills group, underlining the effectiveness of the Seminar and the delectable quality of the vegetarian cook-

In a Nutshell

EAST LOS ANGELES SERIES-The King's Heralds, Del Delker, Bob Edwards and Russian Basso Joe Melashenko (the speaker's father), will be featured during the "Revelation Crusade" at 700 South Hoefner starting October 11. A report on the six-week tour which took Elders Joe and George Melashenko deep inside Russia will be related bit by bit during the first week only. Meetings will convene nightly at 7:30 and last only one hour.

COOKING CLUB FORMED-When the El Rio Spanish Church opened its doors for its first cooking school, 101 ladies-including 35 nonmembers—enrolled. The average nightly attendance held at 80 as Pastor Jorge Basaez and Dr. Edwin O. Lowe, aided by their wives, teamed up to present the material and demonstrate different dishes. Dr. Philip Chen, soy bean specialist, and Julio Vélez helped also. A cooking-class club that meets monthly is an outgrowth of the session.

MUSICAL TREAT-The Pioneer Singers will underscore the musical heritage of the Advent movement when they appear in the Glendale Vallejo Drive church, Sabbath, October 11 at 4 p.m. This unique program will go back to the great second advent awakening when many eminent preachers stirred their hearers with expositions of "time-telling" prophecies. Songs written and sung then reflected the fervor of the advent hope. They will perform in period costumes under the direction of Pastor Roy Brandstater.

Update ... from the president

Adventist schools have opened in Southern California with enrollment up. Although all the reports are not in, it looks as if there will be an appreciable increase in enrollment this year over last. We are thankful that so many Adevntists and some non-Adventists appreciate the value of Christian education.

Adventures in Faith offering, in connection with the General Conference session, has now totaled over $113,000. Thank you for your part in this special gift.

The health department reports six people baptized last quarter as a result of Five-Day Plans. Five-Day Plans conducted or yet scheduled this year total 148.

New pastoral assignments have been made as follows: Ed Johnson is the new pastor of the Hawthorne Church; Lewis Gray, returning from the Seminary, is the new associate pastor at Eagle Rock; William De Shay has accepted the pastorate of the Normandie Avenue Church; Steve Gomes is serving as assistant at Alhambra; Jon Vannoy is the new assistant at Bellflower. Please pray for each of these pastors in their responsibilities and for every minister and worker as we unite our talents and our energies for God's assignment to us in the Southern California Conference.

At the Conference Committee meeting September 23, Elder Antonio Arteaga was elected to serve as Spanish secretary, replacing Elder Carlos Ayala. At the same meeting clearance was given the Carson Spanish Church to organize branch Sabbath schools at San Pedro and Paramount. The Hollywood company has recently been officially organized.

The Ventura County convocation will convene October 17 and 18 at Newbury Park Academy.

The Sylmar church has been completely renovated since the earthquake and will be officially dedicated on Sabbath, November 1, at 3 p.m.

The large evangelistic campaign on the corner of Western and 104th has just been concluded and the tent taken down. To date, 187 believers have been baptized and the Conference Committee has authorized the formation of a new company with Pastor James Merideth as its leader.

We invite your continued prayers for the growth of the work in the Southern California Conference and for God's Spirit to inspire every member and conference employee to be a winner of souls for Christ.

Lester Carney will hold a series in the Al Bahr Temple in Clairement November 7 to December 14. Because the Clairemont Church is so small, it will take the cooperation of all the members in that area to fill this large auditorium.

During the month of November, Elder Everett Duncan, assisted by others from Faith For Today, will be conducting meetings in the Chula Vista area. The churches in the southern part of San Diego County will join in this series.

Currently under way is a series by Elder Kenneth Lacey in the San Diego North Park church. These meetings will conclude on November 1.

Also in progress is a series by Elder Ben George in his own church in Paradise Valley. This series will conclude October 11.

Elder Manuel Nestares, pastor of the San Diego Spanish Church, is also conducting a series in his church, which will end on November 30.

Elder Merrill Enright will begin a series shortly in the Lakeside church.

November 1-30, all churches in the San Diego north-county area will join in supporting a YouthCARE series, with Walter Ring as the evangelist, to be held in the Escondido church. This is a Union Conference youth group with the Youth-CARE singers.

Nearing conclusion is a series by Juan Anglada in the Perris Spanish church.

Also ongoing is a series by Elder L. B. Baker in a large tent at 16th and Muscott in San Bernardino. On opening night there was standing room only.

Beginning on October 5 and concluding December 14 will be a health series in the Azure Hills church directed by Reuben Hubbard of the Loma Linda University School of Health. Students from the School of Health will be cooperating in these meetings. Elder John Rhodes will be conducting a bilingual, archaeological series called "From Bible Paths to Bible Truths," in the Orange church. Spanishspeaking people in the area will have a special translation arrangement for them, with earphones. This series will begin October 18 and go through November 8.

William Calkins, pastor of the Lucerne Valley Church, will be conducting his own meetings in that desert community.

Elder C. L. Duffield, retired evangelist from the Arizona Conference, has been invited to conduct meetings in the Norco church during October.

El Centro

John Anderson, pastor of the El Centro Church, will be hold-ing meetings from October 17 through November 9. He will be assisted by Ray Nelson, pastor of the Brawley Church.

Ervin Sorensen plans a series of meetings to be held in the Sunnymead church this fall.

Elder Kenneth Lacey will be conducting meetings in the Indio church from November 8 to December 13. It is hoped that all the churches in the Coachella Valley will join.

Elder Kenneth Livesay, conference lay activities secretary, will be conducting a brief series in the Needles church October Riverside

Looking forward in evangelism, one of the greatest thrusts for 1976 will be the new "Come Alive" telecast with Elder Roy Naden and the Heritage Sing-ers. They will also be conducting a series in the Riverside church during April and May.

The other large series for 1976, which will involve both North and South Counties of San Diego, will be the meetings held in the Al Bahr Temple in Clairemont with H. M. S. Richards, Jr. as speaker and Curtis Bradford as singing evangelist. There will be occasional soloists and visits from the King's Heralds Quartet of The Voice of Prophecy.

It is our hope that members who have friends or prospects living in any area of the conference will send any names and addresses immediately to the Ministerial Department. These will be forwarded to the appropriate pastors, so personal invitations may be sent.

'Search' Premieres October 8

Pastor L. E. Tucker-speaker for the SEARCH telecast, an evangelistic arm of "The Quiet Hour"-has just completed the first phase of a new TV series.

Video-taped in Canada for re-lease there as well as in the US, this new series of 26 programs features informal dialogue in a living-room setting. With his wife Alma, LaVerne tells stories to children, interviews doctors, and searches the Scrip-tures with Canadian couples.

Although each program contains important Bible truth, they are linked to related human-interest topics such as health and the home.

The Quiet Hour began its television ministry in 1949. Since that time thousands of letters have been received from those blessed by its ministry. Many have accepted Christ as their Saviour and been bap-

Wawona Summer Camps Attendance Increases

The 1975 camping season at Wawona proved to be the second year of increased enrollment with an attendance of 1,508 campers, excluding staff.

Boys and girls enjoyed funfilled days swimming, horseback riding, archery, gold panning, nature activities, speed-boat riding, water skiing, canoeing, craft classes, hiking, campfires, Indian Village, Covered Wagon Camp, camp councils and worships.

All camp activities were conducted with the specific purpose of giving the camper a spiritual experience surrounded with a happy, fun-filled and enjoyable time. Through our rotating program, the camper was enabled to participate in all activities at least once during his week of camp and twice a day during free time if he so desired.

The 1976 program promises to be even more exciting than ever. Why not begin to plan now for next summer at Camp Wawona in beautiful Yosemite National Park.

Micelis' Investments Bring $1750 to Missions

"God is first in everything" is not just a phrase to Elizabeth Miceli. It's her way of life. Her belief shows each week in her faithful attendance at Sabbath school and church services. Mrs. Miceli is also a leader in the Sabbath School Investment offering each year. In 1974 she turned in more than $2,000 to help with God's work.

She is an accomplished seamstress, working for a large department store in San Mateo. Her first pay check went into the Investment fund. She also does sewing for individuals for Investment, and gives the interest earned each year by her savings account.

Elizabeth's husband Mike is equally enthusiastic when it comes to investing in the future. His efforts last year came to a "little over $500." He contributes overtime pay and also gives the first paycheck after he receives a raise.

Another worker in the family is their son Joey. A student at the Burlingame Adventist School, he earned $250 for Investment in spare-time work projects.

Living-Giving Are Inseparable Says R. Fenn in San Francisco

"The art of living is not mastered until we master the art of giving," says Pastor Richard Lee Fenn.

"That's what this three-part series is all about. Maybe we could put living and giving together and call it 'gliving.' The trouble is, a word like that gets attention only momentarily and then we're back in the same old rut."

The Palo Alto pastor is talking about a series of three sermons he'll be presenting at the San Francisco Central church, 2889 California Street, Friday and Sabbath, October 10-11.

CONTACT Is Called Weekly in Palo Alto

CONTACT is a new kind of prayer meeting that just might make the traditional Wednesday evening service the ongoing evangelistic program of the year.

Starting Wednesday, October 8, Adventists in Palo Alto and surrounding communities can bring their friends and loved ones to an informal, seminarstyle meeting featuring study assignments from the Bible and Patriarchs and Prophets, topical presentations and discussions, and small prayer circles.

Palo Altans have felt a need for a continuing Bible-teaching program for the public as well as for themselves. Why not make Wednesday night the night for such activity? The church lights are on anyway. Why not come up with a program that will appeal to the public as well as to the faithful few who come to prayer meeting no matter what's happening? they wondered.

Contact with God

The series' title suggests contact with God in study and prayer, as well as contact with man in personal fellowship.

The first three months of CONTACT will take attendees through the first three sections of Ellen White's Patriarchs and Prophets. As time goes on, CONTACTers will finish that book and take up Prophets and Kings, The Desire of Ages, The Acts of the Apostles, and The Great Controversy.

Topics for the initial month of CONTACT:

October 8: "Good and Bad-Why?"

October 15: "Fiat Lux"

October 22: "The Fall and Rise of Man"

October 29: "The Sons of Adam"

CONTACT takes place at the Palo Alto Seventh-day Adventist Church, 786 Channing Avenue, Palo Alto, each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Interested readers may phone (415) 327-8545 for more information about CONTACT.

"Giving is one of the most personal of human functions. Even when our giving is sacrificial it must be satisfying. Living givers who have discovered the satisfactions of personal participation in the cause of Christ can move on and on in Christian growth. They become giving livers."

Pastor Fenn presented "The Art of Giving" series in Palo Alto early this year as his church moved into a unique program of planned giving. Last spring he went to the Woodside Church in Sacramento with the series.

Art of Giving

San Francisco Central Pastor W. Armour Potter is inviting all to find out if their money is really where their faith is by attending "The Art of Giving." The schedule is:

Friday, October 10, 7:30 p.m.: "The Mature Emotion"

Sabbath, October 11,

11 a.m.: "Myself" 3 p.m.: "Where My Heart Is"

Thanks, from the ABC DeLeons Open

We want each of you to know how much we appreciated the warm response to the recent camp meeting. It was a joy for the ABC staff to have a chance to meet many of our customers personally.

The Lord truly blesses the printed page and will continue to do so until the work is finished. The book, Bible and record sales came to the grand total of $151.302.

Thanks again for your loyal support.

Now's the Time— To Join Pathfinders

With the beginning of the new school term, most Pathfinder clubs renew the exciting and thrilling activities most enjoyed by boys and girls ages 10-15—such as crafts, field trips, camping, sharing their faith, Pathfinder Fair and Camporee.

For a wise investment in the future as well as the present, sign up your child as a Pathfinder. Your club director will be happy to make arrangements for an induction service and open the doors to a fabulous new experience for your child in the world of Pathfindering.

DeLeons Open Delano School

A happy air pervaded the Delano Adventist school early this month when this reporter called to find out how things were shaping up for the 1975-76 school year.

Even as I talked with Principal Domingo DeLeon, the telephone rang. Two more students were asking for admittance.

School opened with 23 students, a figure which shortly rose to 28. Grades 1 to 8 are in full operation with students coming from as far north as Earlimart and as far west as Wasco.

Principal DeLeon and his wife, Basilia, are no strangers to Delano. He has 27 years of teaching experience, along with a B.A. in social science and elementary education.

In answer to the question as to what special projects he might inaugurate in the near future, Mr. DeLeon said he is very interested in young people's clubs and hopes to move in that direction in Delano. He is presently coordinator for all Pathfinder clubs in the Delano District.

These clubs not only play and work together, but participate in community services.

One of the happy experiences for any pastor is the dedication of new little folk in the church family.

This scene takes place at Modesto Central about once a quarter. It provides an ideal occasion for the pastor to discuss the home and child training. When such is the practice, those couples who bring their children are aware of the type of dedication this means for them, and the responsibility to provide a Christian environment in the home.

In this particular dedication service is a young couple who first came to the church through its Family Counseling Service and later attended a

Gilroy Celebrates Centennial

Sabbath, August 30, was a day of double blessings as the Gilroy Church celebrated 100 years on the pathway leading to the eternal City of God. Many former members and friends thrilled to the tales of how pioneer preachers jogged along wagon tracks where modern highways now lie.

The challenge "beyond the hundred" was brought with special emphasis by the Holy Spirit as our conference president, Earl W. Amundson, presented it at the 11 o'clock hour.

We were inspired by the report of the world movement of God's remnant, which was delineated by Elder D. W. Hunter, associate secretary of the General Conference.

A bonus added to the day was the participation of former pastors and their wives. In anticipation we could thrill to the final celebration, reunion, and victory day that will be rolled into one excitement-packed program that only restructured people will be able to appreciate. What an opportunity to belong to such a group.

Church Officers' Meetings Set

Approaching the final months of the year, we are thinking of church elections in the various churches and the annual church officers' meetings.

Present plans call for these meetings in various sections of the conference as follows:

Salt Lake City-Sabbath afternoon, November 15.

Reno Church-Sabbath afternoon, December 20.

Las Vegas-Sabbath after noon, January 17.

In addition, it is planned to hold smaller sessions for church officers in other parts of the field as schedules and time will permit.

I strongly urge all out-going officers as well as all new officers and all church members who possibly can to attend these meetings. Every effort will be put forth to make them helpful to every area of the work of the church. The entire staff from the local conference office will be present, and assistance will come from the union conference as well.

Newsnotes

 ✓ The Conference Executive Committee met in Reno on Sunday, October 5. A long agenda was studied and many actions were taken. These covered the areas of finances, education, evangelism, buildings, calls for workers, and plans for the work in the field in general. You will be reading about some workers who will be leaving our field and others who will be coming in the near future. The next Conference Committee meeting is scheduled for Sunday, November 23.

 ✓ The Monument Valley Mission Hospital board met on October 1. The board is comprised of some of the members at Monument Valley, some officers of the Pacific Union Conference, laymen from our field, local conference officers, the Arizona Conference president, and representatives from Loma Linda University.

Our medical institution and the dental clinic continue to serve a real need in that area of Navajoland. Many new improvements were noticed.

Many friends from within and without the church respond to supply the needs at Monument Valley in a regular way. For this we are most grateful.

Nevada-Utah Conference

Wills, trust agreements and an-nuities should be made in favor of legal association rather than the conference. For more informa-tion, write to Charles Snyder at the above address.

Please mark these dates on your calendar and definitely plan to set this time aside. And please-let nothing interfere with your being present as we prepare for an outstanding year for 1976.

As you are approached to assume responsibilities in your church we trust you will be willing to help carry the burdens, and joys of the advancing work will be yours. Your talents are needed, and you need the benefit that comes from serving your church. The church officers' meetings are planned to help you serve more effectively.

Monument Valley Prepares for Christmas

Monument Valley is now ready and anxious to receive Christmas gifts from our members throughout the Pacific Union in preparation for the annual Christmas party that is held for the folk at Navajoland. Each year hundreds of people come for this special annual celebration. At that time the story of the birth at Bethlehem is related in word and picture.

Anyone having toys which are no longer used or that can be spared may make them available at this time.

Address: Monument Valley Mission Hospital, Monument Valley, UT 84536.

If it is convenient to leave these toys at the Nevada-Utah Conference office in Reno, 1095 East Taylor Street, arrange-ments will be made for them to be taken to Monument Valley before this annual event which brings so much happiness to many of the children in that part of the world.

Thank you in advance for all you have done and are doing for Monument Valley.

Transcultural Nursing Is New Night Course

A course in transcultural nursing will be offered by Loma Linda University School of Nursing beginning Monday, October 6, according to L. Frances Pride, Ph.D., associate dean of the graduate program for the School of Nursing.

The course is designed for registered nurses interested in studying the effect of culture on beliefs about health and on health behavior both in the United States and abroad. Ethnic minorities of the United States are included. The consideration and understanding necessary to bring about change toward more healthful behavior through nursing is the emphasis.

Instructor for the course will be Ruth M. White, Dr.P.H., professor of nursing. The class hours are 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Further information may be obtained from Dr. White at extension 2601.

Better-trained Student Missionaries Sent

sionaries leaving the La Sierra Campus isn't the largest group being sent from an Adventist institution this year, but thanks to a strenuous program of selection and orientation, they are among the best prepared.

"We aren't trying to see who can send out the most," says Dan Wister, 1974-75 coordina-tor of student missions at La Sierra, "Our goal is to send out the most highly qualified."

In keeping with that policy, selection procedures involve not one, but three clearance committees. Of the 75 applicants petitioning for a studentmissions position this year, only 30 were accepted.

But if the selection procedures are stringent, the orientation processes are even more so. Not only must the future student missionary study the culture and language of the country he has been assigned, but he also must take a comprehensive course in missions orientation as well.

The result? Better-trained workers to fill growing needs

Other student missionaries who have recently left for their year of service include: Mike Arct to Brazil, Sandy Arct to Taiwan, Royce Bailey to Kenya, Ted Burgdorff to Ecuador, Pam Harding to Djarkata, and Kenneth Schmidt to Kenya.

Going to New Guinea are Sam Catalon and Ken Lombard while Elizabeth Salazar will work in Jamaica.

Susan Fuss has left for the Far Eastern Division while Mexico has welcomed Gary Gilbert and Steve Treible.

Two New Men Added to Music Faculty

Two new faculty members, both nearing completion of their doctoral work, have joined the music department this year.

Robert Uthe, assistant pro-fessor, comes from Andrews University, and will have responsibility for the band, orchestra, and private lessons in the brasses. trombone player himself, Uthe will also be organizing a trombone

Robert Uthe choir. Because of the Bicentennial, Uthe plans to pick mainly American compositions for the programs his organizations will be giving both on campus and on tour.

Another project Uthe hopes he and musical organizations under his direction will be actively involved in is helping Montemorelos University, a sister Adventist institution in Nuevo Leon, Mexico. The music department there is working to obtain a badly needed threemanual Rodgers organ for use in both teaching and for church services.

Doctor of Arts

A graduate of San Diego State and the University of Montana, Uthe is currently working on a doctor of arts degree in conducting at Ball State University in Indiana. Before joining Andrews University's faculty, he taught in the Pacific Union at San Fernando and Glendale academies.

Professional Training

The two men join a faculty very interested in professional training and competence, according to Dr. H. Allen Craw, chairman. To mention just a few examples: the department's organ teacher, Donald Vaughn, is nearly finished with his doctoral degree in performance from the University of Southern California; the principal strings teacher, Claire Hodgkins, is also assistant to the world-famous Jascha Heifetz; piano teacher Anita N. Olsen, herself the holder of two professional certificates (in teaching and as concert pianist from Royal Academy of Music and Trinity College of Music), consistently enters her students in area competions where they do well; and the department's primary voice teacher, Joann Robbins, was the denom-ination's first woman teacher to receive a doctorate in voice performance.

Various Degrees

The department offers degrees in various areas. Those interested primarily in liberal arts work for the B.A. degree while those wanting emphasis in applied music take the bachelor of music degree. Bachelor of music degrees can be in performance, teaching, or church music. There is also a program, in cooperation with the School of Education, for an M.A. degree in the teaching of music.

In addition to its programs for majors and minors, the department gives private lessons for about 150 students each quarter. These range from organ to the recorder, from cello to guitar.
